BULLDOGS AND TORNADOS BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

The Fulton Bulldogs and the Union City Golden Tornado battled to a scoreless tie here last Thursday night in the second engagement for this season. In the first half the Bulldogs outplayed the Tornado but were widely outplayed by the Tornado in the second half. Wagster drove over the ten, only to have it called back for an offside infraction. The Bulldogs stiffened and held on the four and then kicked out of danger, but late in the final quarter the Tornado again started to roll and only the whistle seemed to save the Bulldogs from defeat.

Leon Barron gave the greatest exhibition of sheer courage Thursday night seen here in a long time. He played the greater part of three quarters, although he suffered from an injured ankle, and every time he carried the ball he drove as hard as usual without regard to the pain in his ankle. Whitesell carried the brunt of the attack, with Jimmy Carter and Jack Adams filling in for Dick Meacham and Paul Rhodes. Meacham played the final quarter and made one or two good runs, although he, too, is still suffering with a sprained ankle.

The two teams battled on even terms for the first part of the game. The Bulldogs did not begin rolling until too late. With only a few minutes to go in the half they started a march which picked up three first downs, but after that they seemed unable to register any gain against the Tornado.

The Tornado is a much stronger team now than it was at the first of the season.

The Bulldogs played the Dresden Lions on the local field tonight.

VOTERS GO TO POLLS NEXT TUESDAY IN KENTUCKY STATE ELECTION

Voters in the State of Kentucky will go to the polls to elect a complete set of state officials. There has been a stiff campaign waged by both the Democrats and the Republicans. In addition to these two parties, the Prohibition party has candidates out for every office from the governor down.

Two amendments to the constitution of the State of Kentucky are offered for the approval or disapproval of the voters. These questions should be weighed well and voted upon by all eligible voters for they have a definite bearing on the kind of government the people shall have.

Constitutional Amendment No. 1 proposes to amend the law to provide workmen's compensation. Amendment No. 2 would provide and make possible the payment of more than $5,000, to remove all limits on salaries, compensation of state, county and municipal officials or employees. Too, it would authorize the General Assembly to decide such compensation, as well as to fix punishment for failure to carry out official duties.

Following are lists of the various offices and candidates, with Democratic, Republican and Prohibition nominees named in order:

For Governor—J. Lyter Donaldson (D); Simon S. Willis (R); Andrew Johnson (P).

For Lieutenant Governor—William H. May (D); Kenneth H. Tuggle; John W. Worthington (P).

TWO INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK HERE

A northbound freight train ran through a switch and crashed into the side of another freight, which had stopped to let it pass, near the Browder Crossing, last Thursday night around 7 o'clock. Nine cars and the engine were derailed and the north and south bound main lines considerably torn up.

Although delayed, traffic was not blocked, as the trains were derailed through the New Yards.

J. B. McHughes, chief engineer of Jackson, Tenn., suffered a broken leg and arm injuries, when he jumped from the cab of the engine.

Conductor Mayor was pitched back into the caboose when the crash occurred and considerably shaken up. Both were on the southbound train.

Engineer McHughes was carried to the Illinois Central Hospital in Paducah for treatment. The conductor was treated at a hospital here.

The southbound freight had pulled to a stop to allow passage of the other freight on an adjacent set of rails. The northbound train accidentally went through the switch and plowed into the front section of the other freight. Several cars were overturned by the impact. The accident occurred on the Mississippi Division.

DAY OF RECKONING APPROACHES

Whether you are a day laborer or President of the United States, you are going to witness in next few years either the destruction of private enterprise in our country, or you are going to see the curbing of what waste of public funds and correction of Federal taxation and spending methods which now threaten actual confiscation of the earnings and capital of many persons and industries.

The fact that we are in a desperate war makes it doubly essential to encourage thrift in public spending as well as in industrial and private life. It also makes it imperative that the government encourage the operation of private business as the mainstay of the tax revenue of the nation. But is government doing that today in its tax policy?

One of its principal arguments for back-breaking taxes is that they absorb excess purchasing power and thereby retard inflation. Therefore, the Administration's latest demand for $10,500,000,000 in new taxes seeks to boost the annual Federal tax revenue to nearly $50,000,000,000, approximately one-third of the national income.

Secretary Morgenthau states that four-fifths of all income goes to people earning less than $5,000 a year. This group receives $120,000,000,000 of the nation's $150,000,000,000 total income. It has the excess purchasing power which threatens inflation, but largely escapes taxation. How are the taxpayers who receive but one-fifth of the national income, $30,000,000,000, going to pay the bulk of a $50,000,000,000 annual tax bill?

The four-fifths group are employed largely by the one-fifth group. Hence, a tax policy which loads the latter group to a point of destruction, automatically destroys jobs of the four-fifths group. It is useless for the Administration to talk about taxation to curb inflation, and at the same time oppose a Federal sales tax to tap the $120,000,000,000 of income of the four-fifths group which has the great excess purchasing power.

It is time for all citizens to realize that if private industry is not permitted to retain sufficient profits to meet the demand for postwar readjustments and jobs, many private companies will face bankruptcy or government aid. The latter course will lead to higher taxes, nationalization of industry, and the end of private enterprise and employment.

TURN LOOSE THE WILDCATS

The people of the United States are being constantly told by Washington officials that they must get along with less and less gasoline, fuel oil, etc. For months experts in the oil industry have shown official Washington that our known oil reserves are being used much more rapidly than new reserves are being discovered, because official Washington, in the face of rising costs of production, refuses to grant crude oil price increases sufficient to encourage wildcatting for new oil supplies to replace dwindling reserves.

Commenting on the seriousness of the situation, the National Petroleum News says: "The need for oil is so critical that there should be a crusading campaign to discover and produce fresh supplies. The Administration is calling upon the people to crusade for rubber, to save their fats, to bring in scrap iron, to provide blood for transfusions. All these are futile if there isn't enough oil to carry on the war. A supply barely sufficient for military needs is of no value if essential needs are not taken care of, and there is a serious question whether we are not already cutting too far into essential civilian needs. It isn't a question of how much it costs to produce oil, it is a question of how to get a maximum number of wildcaters to risk the greatest amount of money in even the most fool places in the country to find oil. And that is horse sense for the regulators to consider. What good are regulators and price-fixers if their policies leave us with nothing to regulate or nothing to buy?

THE HAND IN YOUR POCKET

Even as we face present tax realities, and the enormous war cost, political pressure is being exerted to have the Federal government socialize medicine at a new annual cost of some $3,000,000,000—three times the amount that would be raised by a demoralizing 10 per cent increase in corporate income taxes now recommended. The reasoning that countenances such dissipation of the nation's resources seems too fantastic to be real.

THE EMPTY MILK BOTTLE

Dairy leaders have again been in Washington discussing effective means of keeping milk production up with increasing war demands. The Dairywomen's League Cooperative Association, of New York, again declared that subsidies would not be effective because they would lead to "use of government funds in such a way as to destroy our cherished institutions and our representative form of government."

To be relatively as high, milk in the New York milkshed would have to be raised 35 per cent to equal hogs; 25 per cent to equal other farm products in the United States; and 26 per cent to equal weekly earnings of industrial workers.

SPEAKING OF HEALTHBy DR. VICTOR G. HEISER Medical Consultant National Association of ManufacturersSKIN BURNS

Shortage of physicians, because of military and naval requirements, has resulted in difficult situations certain areas of the country. As was to be expected, physicians remaining out of service are meeting the calls upon them to the best of their ability, often at a severe sacrifice in rest and health. Many who had retired from practice have come back and are carrying heavy burdens in treatment of the sick and injured.

The physicians are doing their part—what about the public? Generally speaking they are measuring up excellently, taking care of minor ailments themselves, calling upon overworked physicians only when necessary or when an emergency arises.

A Common Emergency
In household, in factory, in the field and afloat, many men, women, and children suffer burns of greater or lesser extent. Such burns are medically classified as first, second, or third degree, depending on the severity, the depth to which they penetrate, and the area of the body involved. Major burns (second and third degree) require the services of a physician. There is some simple advice that can be given in the matter of first degree burns. Generally, a minor burn is apt to be healed in less than a week. It is necessary to know what to do when minor burns are suffered. First, the portion of the skin affected must be cleansed thoroughly, preferably with soap and water.

To the many people who like to open blisters that may form, the best advice is to leave them strictly alone. No not stick needles or pins into them, or try to cut them with penknives, scissors, or razor blades. Natural healing processes will take place if they are not molested and the unbroken skin will prevent infection.

Body's Self-Healing Powers

Vaseline with a bandage of dressing to cover the burned area should be applied. From that point on, at least in minor burns, rest the part is possible but do nothing else to it, aside from keeping it clean and protected from other abuse. Remember that the human body has great self-healing power.

If the burned area does not show signs of fairly quick healing, by all means consult a physician. Those employed in large industries are usually fortunate enough to have the plant physician or nurse give them the benefit of adequate first aid plus consultation when necessary. Take all burns seriously and when in doubt, seek professional advice.

A neglected burn may have serious consequences through infection, muscle destruction, contractions, and malformations. Act according to seasoned judgment and experience. In that way you will also help in the national war effort.

"THE CROSS OF CHRIST"

Galatians 6: 12-15

As we come to consider the cross of our Lord and Saviour, we are reminded that there is a sweeter purpose on earth to assemble for the purpose of worship, because at the cross we find ourselves on high ground elevated above the low plains of ordinary life to the nearness of our Father that so loved us that He gave His Son to suffer and die upon the cross.

In our text the great apostle Paul who could have gloried in many other things such as his accomplishments, placed the cross above everything else and said, "God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." Therefore, I feel that no time is wasted when we pause this day to look anew upon the cross and its significance.

This event as pictured in the gospel, no doubt, is familiar to everyone of you. As we begin to turn the pages and read the accounts, we behold a vast multitude greeting Jesus with shouts of "Hail Hosenah!" as He entered the city of Jerusalem coming from Bethany riding upon a colt. They waved before Him palm branches expressing their adoration of Him who came in the name of the Lord. Our hearts go out in appreciation as we behold this multitude and its attitude toward Jesus. But this scene is rapidly changed. In a few days, following the undermining activities of the Judaizers in falsely accusing Jesus, and in demanding His arrest and mock trials before the Tribunals that finally consented to His condemnation. He, no doubt, was followed by the same multitude hounding every step of the Son of God as He bore "His cross through the city, out through the gates and up Calvary's Mountain. This same group this time was hissing, scolding, ridiculing and shouting, "Away with Him. Let Him be crucified." I have often thought that there were those in this group who raised their once withered hands against Jesus who had made them whole. There were eyes looking upon Him that day that He had caused to see. Surely there were voices raised against Him that He had called from their state of dumbness, and there were ears listening to those heathenistic shouts and lending their support to the condemnation of Christ that had caused to hear. "But," you say, "Surely men would not be so forgetful and could never turn against Him who had so befriended them?" I ask you only to look about this city and behold the many whom Jesus has helped, sheltered, clothed and fed, yet they are using their influence, time and materials in opposition to Him through their lethargy and indifference, who merit His condemnation. The procession moved on until the place was reached and there they nailed Him to the cross which suspended Him between Heaven and earth to suffer untold agony as He bore the sins of the world and covered them with His blood.

As we stand this morning beholding this momentous, dynamic, and historical scene, our hearts cry (Continued on Page 3)

WESTERN KENTUCKY
TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.FOR A RAINY DAY

Saving for its own sake got a terrific jolt in 1939 when the carefully hoarded pennies vanished overnight. I wonder whether any of the old-timers whom I knew leather by the control of the grubs vestment in something useful and lasting outweighs mere hoards.

Pioneer and semi-pioneer life demanded saving much as does the war time we are now in. Consequently, our ancestors tried to keep for a rainy day everything that would keep. Most of this spirit was commendable, and it would be good for some of us to learn again from them. But the habit of saving becomes so fixed that often it was more of a disease than a healthful condition. People saved what was good and what was worthless with the same intense passion. Attics and storerooms became cluttered up with stuff that was less than worthless. Piles of old newspapers were carefully kept as valuable old furniture slightly out of repair. Sometimes I have seen the doctrine of saving a string or a scrap of paper carried so far that people were literally penny wise and pound foolish; they refused to throw away the worthless scrap but allowed priceless furniture to deteriorate. I knew one man who resented the use of stationary so much that he caused many a person to neglect his correspondence because of reminding people of the waste of paper. I have been in homes that were so cluttered up with savings of nothings that I could hardly find room to walk. That reminds me of the home in Michigan where I once saw on the walls of a small room all the calendars for the preceding ten years, fly specks and all.

Saving up money and property to provide for one's children seems to be as old-fashioned and often as comic as these useless economies. I have known many families where children were hampered by the lack of education and culture, not because the family exchequer was empty but because the father was saving up everything to leave the children when he died. It would be too much to list, even by name, the number of unfortunate quarrels over such property that I have known intimately. I can recall how modern it seemed when a middle-aged man declared that he had given his children, four in all, a college education and did not care whether he had anything to leave them in the way of dollars and cents when he died. His neighbors thought him very queer and often, behind his back, lamented that he had worked so hard that his boys and girls could have an education when the money could have been spent in buying more lands and houses. I have never heard those same children as compared with that of the ones whose fathers lived hard that the property might be large when the administrator took charge.

Thrift, such as was advocated by Franklin, was and is good; it is possible that we must come back to it as never before; but I would hate to see develop with it the old idea that the here and now are nothing, that everything must be in terms of what will be left in the will. Our children and we of the tag-end of the older generation have known what it was to re-elevate things in terms of education and travel, adjustment to a big world that our ancestors knew nothing about and even feared. It is highly doubtful whether we can find ourselves going back, even in poverty, to the philosophy that to give us a doubtful blessing later.

THE COMMON DEFENSE*A Lesson and a Warning

It is worth commenting upon the fact that many oppressed Gentiles in Nazi lands do not share in the anti-Semitism of the oppressors. In addition to many reports of a similar nature is the most recent report of all, vouched for by the United Nations Information Office, that Belgian patriots "held up a train from Malines carrying 1500 Jews to Poland" and "released the Jews from cattle trucks in which they were confined."

This is another instance wherein Gentiles in Nazi lands risked their lives to save Jews from torture and death, and it indicates that the people in Europe, who have seen what anti-Semitism really means, want none of it.

It would be well for us who value Christianity and the democracy of our country to take this lesson to heart. For, if we do, we shall reject anti-Semitism in the form of gossip, malicious slander, and unfounded charges against the Jews. It is pertinent to note that it was in this form that the Germans first experienced anti-Semitism—as did the Belgians, too, for that matter—at the hands of the Nazis, to be followed later by violence against the Jewish minority. The inference here clearly shows that violence, which every civilized man abhors, is but the final product of its preceding causes—gossip, malicious slander, and unfounded charges against the Jews—which every civilized man ought to abhor.

It would seem, then, that the experience of Europeans with anti-Semitism should serve both as a warning and a lesson for us in dealing with the same thing in America. The warning is that prejudice against the Jews finally leads to violence which destroys others as well as Jews. The lesson is that disaster, born of anti-Semitism, can be averted by people who will give meaning to Christ's commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

FEEN-A-MINT*From where I sit....

by Joe Marsh

All this talk about people over 40 being too old for a new job! Well, you ought to meet Pop Graham, the new foreman at the iron works. Pop must be over seventy—yet soon as the war broke out he started out on a brand new career.

"I reckon Uncle Sam can use me now," he says—and pitches in with both hands, making armor plate.

Yes, there's a lesson for the young folks in Pop Graham's spirit. And when the hard day's work is over, you'll find Pop relaxing and having a cool refreshing glass of beer.

From where I sit that's still another lesson we can learn from older people—moderation. Moderation in enjoying good beer...tolerance for others who enjoy this friendly, wholesome beverage of moderation.

Early trading with South America was marked with adventure of every description—hurricanes, pirates, yellow fever and revolutions.

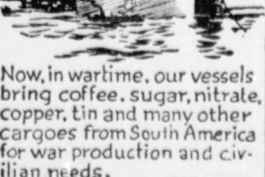

In 1808, Brazil opened her ports to shipping and the following year the first cargo of coffee from that country arrived in Salem, Mass.

America quickly became a coffee drinking nation. By 1860 we imported 46 million pounds from the port of Rio de Janeiro alone.

With world trade generally at a low ebb in the eighties, the cargoes of a newly-discovered rich fertilizer from the Chincha Islands, off Peru, proved a boon to the American Merchant Marine.

Now, in wartime, our vessels bring coffee, sugar, nitrate, copper, tin and many other cargoes from South America for war production and civilian needs.

out within us over and over, "Why should such an innocent man have to be so mal-treated and die for an ungrateful, sin-riddled, hell-smitten world?" He who knew no sin suffered the penalty of all sins! He who so willingly abdicated His throne, pulled from His shoulders His kingly robe, took from His brow the kingly crown, bade farewell to His Father and Heavenly associates, descended into this wicked earth to be born in a stable, to live an obedient life to His parents, and to endeavor to bring blessings and light into and upon this earth of poverty and darkness. Our souls cry out saying, "Why should He have to suffer so on the cross?" As we consider the infallible word of God, we find in the first place that the death of Jesus upon the tree was necessary in order to fulfill the law because the law called for an offering and man was not able to make an adequate offering for his sins. We see a trail of blood from the beginning of man's existence upon the earth throughout his history as he endeavored to make an offering to cover his sins; but all the blood spilled here were types and fore-shadows of the coming atonement that was to be wrought by the Messiah and were not in themselves complete, but were pointing to the reality for which they stood which was the cross of Christ. Therefore it was necessary for Him to suffer and die in order to meet the requirements of the law. God sent the cross into the world to fulfill the words of the prophets that through the ages had proclaimed the manner of His coming and type of death that He should die. They had told the people that He was to be born of a virgin, that He was to be rejected by His own, that He would be sold for the price of a slave and would die the death of a criminal. Knowing that every word of the Bible is true, it was necessary that these proclamations should be fulfilled. So Jesus was led as a lamb to the slaughter and refused to open His mouth when falsely accused and condemned. He heroically took upon Himself the cross that was His and so fulfilled the words of the prophets. We can rest assured that the many prophecies that are recorded in the word of God will be fulfilled exactly as God has said they would be even as Jesus upon the cross thoroughly and completely fulfilled the prophecy concerning His death. The cross is an everlasting memorial to Christ. It stands for Him in all ages declaring to the world that Jesus was the greatest man that ever lived, and, indeed, was God.

I remember visiting the capital city of our nation and beholding the huge monument that was erected to the father of our land, George Washington. While standing in the shadow of that huge monument it seemed to whisper into my ear saying, "I am a symbol of a man that stood for honesty and freedom, who stood so firmly for these human rights that he was willing to give his best to see them established. And thus it is when we stand beneath the old rugged cross. It begins to speak to us saying, 'I represent a man that so loved the world that He was willing to live and die that that world might be free from its sins, and, regardless of the foes that have arisen, it has continued to stand and to so speak.'

THOS. WILSON, Prop.
Fourth Street Fulton, Ky.

Today in the face of Communism and all other opposition to Christianity, the cross is standing and will continue to stand as an everlasting monument to Him that proved Himself a friend to man.

God planned the cross that it might become history's most vivid revelation. Man has been able to trace God by His foot-prints in the sands of time and in many ways he has been privileged to see God. We behold Him in the countless stars that smile down upon us from above! We can see Him in the green groves that decorate the earth! We behold Him in the towering mountains piled up until they seem to pierce the sky! We have seen Him in the conversion of the hardest of sinners! He can be seen in providence as He steers this universe toward a chosen end, but never, nor in any place, had God been better revealed than at the cross. He wanted us all to see Him as He is and as we gather to examine the cross, we meet God face to face and see Him at His very best. It is at the cross that we understand that God is sacrificial. So much so that He was willing to give His only begotten Son that this world might be redeemed from the clutches of death. God has made many sacrifices but none to compare with the offering of His only Child upon the tree. Many so called Christians today cannot rightfully claim to be children of God since they fail to manifest a kin spirit of sacrifice as God manifested at Calvary. It was God's supreme offering for our mistakes.

Many times before God had revealed that He hated sin, but nowhere as clearly as at Golgotha. It is here that we thoroughly understand that God loves the sinner, but despises his sin. He so hated sin that He freely allowed His own Son to spill the last drop of His blood that sin might be crushed and abolished from the lives of men. One glimpse of the cross would be sufficient to cause every follower of Christ to marshal and march to the great task of driving sin out. Instead, today many are allowing sin to come in and hamper the program of the Church and muffle the influence of Christianity. No man can look into the face of the cross without feeling and knowing in his heart that God hates sin.

Looking upon the cross one sees God as a great lover. We all know that true love acts and goes beyond mere words. The cross tells us that God had such a deep love for lost souls that He counted not the suffering and shame of the cross in comparison to the redemption of our lost souls. Our hearts cry out within us as we behold the cruel shame. Oh, how God must have loved the world! The expressed love assures us that Jesus is our best friend. That is why every Christian heart can sing "What a Friend we have in Jesus, all our sins and griefs to bear." I believe that if the Church loved the lost just one degree as much as God does, that every soul that is out of Jesus would be contacted about the matter of salvation, and if there ever was a period in the history of the world when the Church should manifest its love and concern it is today. The least we could do is to point the world to the cross and let it see for itself that there is at least One who cares. I am sure that one glimpse of God on the cross will prove to the world His love.

It is at the cross that we see the grace of God extended to all men everywhere and according to Ephesians 2: 8-9, "By grace we are saved." Indeed this grace is amazing. A poor, trembling sinner stands amazed before the cross that God should bestow upon him such a precious gift as salvation by grace. No wonder every Christian enjoys singing:

Amazing grace! How sweet the sound,

That saved a wretch like me!

I once was lost, but now am found,

Was blind, but now I see.

The cross reveals the concern of God. From the beginning of time God has revealed to every generation that He was concerned for it. He revealed this in the sending of the patriarchs to live and to teach His will. The lives and messages of the prophets reveal the concern of God. The Church in all of its activities tells us that God is concerned. The Holy Spirit and His working with us declares the concern of God. But the greatest expression of all is the cross. It tells us that God is concerned about all men to the extent that He was willing to take the penalty and die in their stead. This one thing causes many to wonder how so many of the followers of Jesus can look upon a crushed and bleeding world without expressing any concern whatsoever. Day after day they pass the multitudes that are astray and never one time mention Jesus to them. Let us resolve that we will so live and act as to show our concern for that which God willingly gave all to redeem.

The cross reveals God's estimation of a soul. Christ did not die for fame, publicity, or honor. He died for the benefit of others. Every drop of blood that was spilled and every pain that pierced His body was experienced and borne on behalf of your soul. Through Jesus that day, God was telling the world how valuable a soul was to Him. It was worth the richest price of Heaven, the prized jewel of God's family. When we compare this to the insignificant prices that Satan pays for the souls of men, we can see how God and Satan differ when it comes to estimating the value of a soul. Satan offers such insignificant prices as drinking, money, pleasure and the possibility of a few years of fame and, beyond this, a lonely death and an eternity in hell. While God willingly gave Heaven's best which called for separation from His Son. Let us always be reminded that God is not estimating an individual by what he possesses in the material realm nor by his intellectual, social nor political standing. But God is placing supreme value on his soul and one soul in the sight of God is just as valuable as any other soul.

The question is asked "what would it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?" God is saying in unmistakable language that a man's soul is more valuable to Him than all the world with its diamond mines, gold mines, oil fields, plantations, factories and everything else that it possesses. All these and many other pictures of God are seen in the cross and

I am convinced that no man can gaze upon the cross without falling upon his face before God, receiving His Son as a personal Saviour because the cross reveals the Saviour to be so wonderful that it would be impossible to reject Him.

The story is told of a ship at sea that had sprung a leak, whereby more water was entering the ship than was possible for the pumps to expel, so gradually the ship was sinking. The captain of the vessel called all of the crew and the passengers on deck and explained to

A SALUTE TO RAILROAD WORKERS FROM THE ARMY AND THE NAVY

THE UNDER SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
WASHINGTON

17 September 1943

Dear Mr. Pelley:

The War and Navy Departments would appreciate it if you would express to the men and women who work on America's railroads the gratitude of the Army and Navy for the splendid job they are doing.

Since the outbreak of war the railroads have hauled 76 million carloads of freight, most of it destined for battle fronts. Millions of fighting men have been transported to training camps and embarkation ports.

The Army and Navy realize that, to perform this big job, crews on trains, in shops, in yards, and along rights of way have had to work long and hard. To the men and women who have made this record movement of men and weapons possible, the Army and Navy are deeply grateful.

Keep up the good work -- for railroad work is war work, railroad service is vital to victory.

Sincerely yours,

NJVGA MEETING OPENED TO ALL YOUNG FARMERS

Wilbur Justi, acting president of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association, announced today that the organization's convention at Chicago, Dec. 10 and 11, will be open to all farm youth.

"Because of the increased importance of wartime vegetable production," Justi said, "young farmers of every state are invited to join with our members in early preparations for the 1944 food battle. It is estimated that boys and girls will produce about one-fourth of the country's food next year, and the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association offers to help many of them do this essential job still better."

The convention will emphasize more efficient methods of vegetable production and more streamlined routes of marketing in order to prevent waste of vital food. Climaxing this year's work and study in th scholarship competition among association members will be the distribution of awards totaling $6,000 provided by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Justi said. Crop judging, grading, and vegetable defect identification contests will be features of the two-day meeting.

Kentucky farm boys and girls can obtain additional information about the national convention from Professor Grant B. Snyder, Massachusetts State College, advisory chairman of the association.

TROOP MOVEMENT JOB EQUALS 42 WORLD TRIPS FOR EVERY PERSON IN FULTON COUNTY

Taking all of Fulton County's 15,413 people around the world in sleeping cars more than 42 times would be a tremendous undertaking, yet that is actually about the size of the troop movement job reported today by The Pullman Company.

Since Pearl Harbor, Pullman has carried about 14,000,000 troops a distance of more than 15 billion passenger miles in its sleeping cars, the company reports. These figures are said to cover mass military movements alone, and do not include the heavy travel of furloughed men and others.

Many of the boys from Fulton County, like servicemen from all parts of the country, are getting their first Pullman rides, according to George A. Kelly, vice president of the company. Now most of them are making six or seven trips by Pullman, as the intense training program of the armed forces necessitates that many move or more prior to embarkation for points abroad, he said. In addition, the Army and Navy believe in all the comfort possible for the members of the armed forces, he declared, and about two thirds of all military movements by rail are by Pullman sleeper.

Pullman is now carrying more than 800,000 troops every month in mass movements, it is revealed by

Mr. Kelly, who pointed out that in addition to this heavy and steadily increasing military passenger burden, civilian travel itself is also at a record-breaking level. He believes that Pullman's passenger-mile volume for 1943 may exceed the 1942 all-time high of 19 billion by 30 or more per cent.

"The military and civilian passenger burden of Pullman and the railroads today is so heavy," Kelly said "that there is unfortunately little margin left for some of the conveniences travelers enjoyed in peacetime. Service today is wartime service, and by their understanding and tolerance of this fact, travelers can help us greatly in the performance of our vital job."

Rev. Ponton Thanks Retonga For Relief

Widely Known Presbyterian Says He would Feel Ungrateful Not To Pass Word Of His Good Fortune On To Others. Tells Of His Case.

"Retonga proved even better than I had hoped and I would feel ungrateful not to pass the news of my good fortune on to others," declares Rev. Andrew Ponton, widely known Presbyterian minister, who resides on Route 2, Lynchburg, Va. During nearly half century of preaching the gospel, Rev. Ponton has served many Virginia churches and is one of the most beloved ministers in the state. Speaking of Retonga, Rev. Ponton states:

"I suffered so much distress from indigestion, loss of appetite, and nervousness that it was a great effort for me to preach a sermon or do anything else. What little nourishment I ate seemed to bring on gas and indigestion. My nerves were tight-strung, and persistent constipation forced me to take strong laxatives. I felt so rundown that I feared that I was nearing the end of my row.

"The relief Retonga brought me was both surprising and gratifying. I feel like eating again, the nervousness, constipation, and run-down feeling also are relieved, and I feel lots stronger. Retonga is far ahead of any medicine I have ever tried."

Retonga is intended to relieve such distress when due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Retonga may be obtained Drug Store. adv.

These words from Psalm 136 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, October 31, 1943, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "Everlasting Punishment." Included among the Scriptural selections will be "Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live;" (Isa. 55:3.)

WHY ADD TO 'CONFUSION'?

The problems of eating become daily more complicated. The Office of Price Administration plans to issue ration tokens before the first of the year.

William H. Albers, President of the Supermarket Institute, says that organization is definitely opposed to the scheme and that while "the idea has some advantages . . . its disadvantages far outweigh the desirable features. Because of wartime conditions, we are already overburdened with a multitude of problems. So far as I can determine, nobody in the industry favors this plan, but because somebody in Washington is taken by the idea, we and the consumers must prepare to adjust ourselves to a whole new ration procedure."

In states where sales tax tokens are now in use, consumers would carry such tokens, plus food tokens, point stamps and money, to buy a can of beans.

Many trade groups are expected to join in opposition to the token plan and consumer organizations will be enlisted to oppose this further complication in daily marketing.

The wooden dollars from carefully selected forest product sales make mighty good spending money.

As a result of their work in the Victory Farm Volunteers, many city youth will know just what Dad is talking about when he said he milked 12 cows before breakfast.

Ration points do not have to be given for long tongue of beef, brains and kidneys. These meat items are relatively low in cost, and high in food value and flavor.

Forest fires damage and weaken trees, making them easy prey for insects and wood rotting fungi.

To keep 'em flying, we must keep on buying—War Bonds and Stamps.

Carrying green and damp cotton to the gin can result in a loss of $4-$6 a bale to the grower.

Like Jack Spratt we should lick the platter clean so no food will be wasted and other people need not go hungry or suffer from want.

Farmers should apply as soon as possible for fertilizers needed next spring so as to give manufacturers and transportation agencies a longer period in which to make delivery.

For years, work in the cities attracted farm boys and girls, but now through the Victory Farm Volunteer program, many city boys and girls are finding how attractive farm work can be.

A recent survey indicates the average city housewife waste more than three-fourths of a pound of food for each individual every day. The highest waste is in perishable fruits and vegetables.

Thousands of youth from Tennessee cities working part time on farms to help solve the manpower shortage at harvest time, will have a better understanding of the cloth that goes in their clothes, the milk that in the bottle on the front porch each morning, and the vegetables that fill the cans on grocery store shelves.

One man said that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This was undigested food inside of him. He was headachy, swollen with gas, terribly constipated. He took ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared. Bowels regular now, gas and headaches gone.

These Are The Facts---This Is The Record

BE IT REMEMBERED:

It was the REPUBLICAN party which gave the State the notorious administration of "Flim Flam Flem" Sampson with its pardons, school textbooks and cement plants and its record of plunging Kentucky $6,000,000 deeper into debt.

It was the REPUBLICAN isolationist, John M. Robson, Kentucky's only GOP congressman, who voted against the Selective Service Act and for every isolationist measure that has come before Congress.

It was the REPUBLICAN Governor Edwin P. Morrow, who after declaring that the League of Nations was not an issue in his campaign for Governor, took the stump in 1920 to denounce and lead the campaign in the State against the League.

It was the REPUBLICAN party, state and national, which fought President Wilson's peace program and the League of Nations and is today threatening President Roosevelt's program for world peace.

It was the REPUBLICAN party which gave the Nation the Tea Pot Dome Scandal during the Harding administration which shook the very faith of the Nation in the integrity of its government.

It is the REPUBLICAN party which now offers the State its hand-picked candidate, Judge Simeon S. Willis, who owes his nomination without opposition to his party henchmen, Sampson, Robson twice-repudiated by Kentucky's electorate King Swope and the political trickster Robert H. Lucas.

"BY THEIR DEEDS SHALL YE KNOW THEM."

LEST WE FORGET:

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present Old Age Assistance Law under which monthly pensions are now being paid to more than 53,000 old persons in Kentucky.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which paid the huge State debt, amounting to more than $29,000,000, and has given the State a cash surplus of $11,000,000.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present Unemployment Compensation Law under which weekly benefits are paid jobless Kentucky workers. Kentucky's fund is the most solvent in the Nation.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which rehabilitated the long neglected State institutions and public buildings through expenditure of more than $4,500,000.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present Teachers Retirement Law and appropriated $650,000 a year to make it operate.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which sponsored the amendment and enacted the necessary legislation providing for an educational equalization fund for the benefit of the poorer counties.

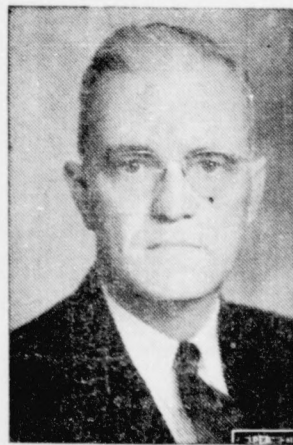

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present law for aid of the needy blind and dependent children.

It was a Democratic administration which gave the State its rural electrification program which has meant so much to the farm folk of Kentucky.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which sponsored the TVA Enabling Act which makes available electric power produced by the TVA for use in Kentucky.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which sponsored the Soil Conservation Act.

It was a DEMOCRATIC administration which gave the State its present modern system of high-type roads, rural highways and ferry-replacing bridges, many of which are now toll-free and others shortly to be so.

them the condition of the vessel stating that someone would have to sacrifice his life to stop the leak. After a long pause, a young sailor stepped forward and volunteered to make the sacrifice. Wrapping his arm in a blanket, he went down the steps into the hull of the ship beneath the water and placed his arm security in the leak, and the ship sailed on to port in safety. But upon arriving, the lifeless body of the young sailor was found beneath the water. Thus it was with this old world hopelessly lost, adrift at sea gradually sinking beneath the tempestuous waves that beat upon it utterly without hope in this world or the world beyond. Its life was being snuffed out by the dirty hand of sin. God seeing its pitiful plight, called all Heaven together and explained its condition, stating that someone would have to bear its burdens. Without a pause, Jesus stepped forward and volunteered and immediately came into this world of misery and death and gallantly faced the colossal task of providing a plan of salvation. He without a murmur went to the cross remedying the ills of the world and by the blood of Jesus Christ, it sails on and one day will anchor in the port of glory with all the passengers safe aboard who have accepted the sacrifice that Jesus made on the cross.

The cross was sent into the world to redeem. By Adam came death into the world and was visited upon all generations to follow. But by Jesus came life into the world and, by our faith in His redeeming act at Calvary, salvation is secured. Thus let us be reminded that works do not redeem, neither does hypocrisy. Be not deceived . . . Baptism can not and does not save. Neither does church membership redeem from sin. No man can buy salvation nor steal his way into life. God has one plan of salvation and that plan is by the cross. It redeems us from the power, penalty and clutches of sin and one day will redeem us from the presence of sin.

God sent forth the cross to conquer, and not to be conquered. Everywhere that the cross has been raised, it has been victorious. David Livingston raised it in the heart of darkest Africa and without a falter it triumphed. Cary raised it in India and we look back now and know that it was victorious. In our own land the early settlers believed in and presented the cross and through the years it has been victorious in our home land. Today amidst turmoil, the roar of cannons, the crumbling of kingdoms, and the march of huns, the cross stands victorious. Christians, be not afraid! The cross will triumph over all. It was on the cross that Jesus, for us, conquered temptation. We look at Him and say in our hearts, "Surely if Jesus can so gallantly die, at least we can surely live and when temptation comes and pounds upon our door and casts a shadow across our path and all the other alleys of escape are found closed, let us immediately go to the cross and temptation will flee away, because there Jesus overcame this enemy for us."

It was on the cross that Jesus conquered sin. He took its power and penalty off our shoulders and buried it deep beneath His blood. So today when it lifts its ugly head and frowns down upon us and walks the byways and lanes sending its victims to death in a most cruel manner, and as it rises up on various continents and waves its bloody sword at humanity, bringing havoc and misery everywhere it goes and endeavors to destroy salvation and decency, wrecking homes, educational institutions, blacking out all decent principles, and shakes its filthy, murderous fist in the faces of the Church of God, let us not become frightened and take on the defeatist attitude!

Let us look to the hilt from whence cometh our strength! Here stands the cross of Christ and we see anew this all important truth that Jesus on the cross conquered sin.

It was in Calvary's hill that Jesus robbed death of its power, putting asunder our last enemy. Jesus literally took death by the throat and pounded its vital heart strings until in weakness and exhaustion it lost its grasp and slumped in utter defeat. Since that day, when Christians come to walk down into the cold and chilly water of death feeling its cold clammy hand steal into his bosom and begin the process of separating the soul from the body, they can smile in its presence and tremble not as they walk through its door because Jesus has been there before us and has removed the fear, abolished the sting, and lighted up its dark chambers, warmed the water, and opened the way whereby death becomes God's doorway. Out of misery, sorrow, defeat, weariness, and sin into the presence of God where there is rest and eternal life. Had it not been for the cross of Christ death would not have been conquered for us.

It was not in His teachings, miracles, and perfect life that Jesus accomplished the task of defeating hell, but it was on the cross that He battered down the doors of hell, closed its mouth, took its power, removed its possibility for believers, shook its foundations to smithereens and left it hopelessly conquered for all those that are under the blood. That day, while Jesus gave up His life, old Satan stood and trembled, realizing that he was defeated and overcome, and that there was no possible way of escape; that the cross with its offering had utterly wrecked his plans, had taken away his power and left him conquered. Even the earth realized that Jesus was winning the greatest battle ever fought, because it revolted in sympathy for Jesus. The sun refused to shine, pulling a veil of darkness over its face shutting off the light thereby sending the hisses and scolders. The mountains reeled and staggered like drunken men. The valleys groaned with pain. The rocks were broken into pieces and rolled down the mountain side dashing themselves against the city wall. Dead men came out of their graves to walk the streets of Jerusalem in condemnation of the wicked crucifiers. All Heaven and earth joined together shouting the proclamation of the Son of God. He has won over all opposition. Hell is defeated. Man is redeemed and released from the shackles and prisons of sin. Oh, Church of the living God, why do you tremble? Why hesitate to launch out upon the gigantic program of God? Why retreat because of threats from the sources that already have been conquered? Marshal and march upon the battle field, and, so long as you hold up the cross and march underneath the blood-stained banner of the King of kings, every conflict will be characterized with victory.

The cross is the greatest blessing ever sent to this earth. Were it not for the cross many of the valuable contributions to the world of art would not have been realized. The cross has wonderfully blessed the world of music. The philosophical and historical world has reaped valuable profits from the cross of our Lord. It has and is blessing the world spiritually beyond expression. Therefore the cross is not tragical, but it is the way by which God bestows His unspeakable gift and richest treasure upon man.

The cross was established to give. It is the teaching of Christianity that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and God at the cross is practicing this great truth. Any sinner can come to the cross with an aching, burning, condemning conscience and, in accordance with the will of God, he will find a clean conscience. The fires of hell in condemnation sweep over him to leave him miserable and tormented with a burning conscience in his breast. The blood of Jesus Christ puts out the fire and blood cleanses the conscience and sends him away free from the ache and pain. It is at the cross that we find peace, peace with ourselves, peace with our fellow man, and peace with God.

We hear much today about war and there is hardly a place left in the world where peace is known, but if the principles of the cross were adopted by all nations, it would bring universal peace. Until the world bends its knees at the cross, there will be no lasting peace. We come to the cross to find hope beyond this world of gloom beyond the dark chambers of death. We can search every nook and corner of this world and will return hopeless and will never have the darkness dispelled and hope planted in our lives until we kneel at the cross where Jesus brought hope to the world. One day we will approach the gates of Heaven taking hold of the latch, we will shake the gate and a voice from within will say, "By what rights and privileges do you expect to gain admission into this Holy City of God? If we are able to say, 'We only expect to be admitted by what was done in our behalf on the cross, the gates will swing ajar and the voice will sound again saying, 'The cross gives you a right to enter. Come in and occupy your mansion prepared by the hand of God.' The cross as God's richest gift becomes our only means of relief and freedom and nowhere will you receive the gift of life except at the cross of our Lord. Of all ages, this age demands the loyalty of God's people to the cross, and if we prove ourselves we need not fear our enemy or the possibilities of failure.

The story is told of an army that was trapped in the mountains and after several days the besieging army sent up a committee to attempt to negotiate peace by asking the besieged to surrender. The commanding officer, when approached by the committee immediately called for one of his soldiers to come. When this soldier had arrived, he commanded him to leap off the cliff. Without one word this soldier plunged to his death on the rocks beneath. The commanding officer called for another soldier and upon his coming, the officer commanded that he draw his sword and fall upon it. Without questioning why, he immediately drew his sword and fell upon it. As his red blood drained from his body and trickled through the rocks about their feet, the officer addressed the committee saying, "Sirs, this is my answer. As long as my men are as loyal to me and my commands as these that you have seen, I will never surrender." And thus it was with the Christians of today. As long as we are loyal to God and his commands we need never surrender this world to the devil, but in the power of the cross can go forth and win the multitudes to salvation.

Not many years ago it was my privilege to visit New York City. While there, I availed myself of the opportunity of going out and looking into the face of the Statue of Liberty and while standing there looking upon it I was impressed by the truth of this great Statue as it stood with its hands holding high the beacon of light to those who were storm driven and ship wrecked as a gesture of welcome to the land of the free and the home of the brave. I immediately thought of the cross standing yonder upon Golgotha's Hill with its rays of light piercing the thick shadows of darkness of a sinful world to assist the ship-wrecked in reaching safety. It stands with arms stretched from the east to the west as a gesture of welcome to all that would come to the land where the soul is free and live through the ceaseless ages.

Amidst the mountains of obstacles and problems that confront the Church today and the work of Evangelism many have adopted the defeatist attitude and have said, "We can't." But the word can't is to be stricken out of the vocabulary of the Christian that depends upon the power of the cross.

The story is told of the great warrior Napoleon that desired to go down into Italy to make war. He sent out spies into the Alpine Mountains to explore and bring back a report on the possibility of his army crossing the mountains at that season of the year. On their return they reported saying, "Sir, it is impossible for the army to cross the mountains just now due to the snow and ice that make this venture dangerous." Napoleon stood erect and replied to this committee, "Can't! Can't can only be found in the dictionary of the fool." Turning to his army, he said, "Marshal, forward march!" Over the mountains he went and down into Italy fighting seventeen consecutive battles, each one marked with victory.

God from the cross today would speak to His Church saying, "Can't is only to be found in the dictionary of the fool. Marshal, forward march!" To follow His command would spell victory to the trembling soul that is hopelessly buried down by the hammers of sin. God would say from the cross, "Come unto me and I will give you rest." I assure you that in the cross of Christ you will find rest for your weariness, salvation for your soul which is eternal life. You can today resolve to come to the cross and be saved by the Grace of God.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY HAS ALL DAY SESSION

The Woman's Society Service met Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the church in a combined general meeting and Week of Prayer Service. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Warren Graham, vice chairman, presided over the business session. Reports from the various officers were given and Mrs. Dick Bard gave an interesting report on the Zone meeting held at Greenfield recently. Mrs. G. W. Dimmitt closed the morning session with prayer.

After luncheon the Week of Prayer program was given with Mrs. Warren Graham, leader in charge. She was assisted by Mrs. J. M. Dishman at the piano, Mrs. Eldridge Grymes, soloist, and Mrs. G. W. Dimmitt, Mrs. Louis Weak and Mrs. T. J. Kramer, taking part on the program, telling where the Week of Prayer money will go. Half the money will be used in China after the war to rebuild churches and hospitals. The other is to be used at home for different community centers. The program was very interesting and informative. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. T. J. Kramer.

VICTORY COMMUNITY CLUB

"Live in the now, not the future nor the past and be not to concern about the future, live so as to appreciate the past and live so as to be ready for the future," was part of the devotion given by Mrs. E. S. Scott, at the October meeting of the Victory Community Club. Only about three-fifths of the members attended with six visitors, Mrs. Bessie Clifton, Mrs. James, Mrs. Parks Wheeler, and daughter Lou Etta, Mrs. E. S. Scott and Mrs. Eph Dawes.

The president, Mrs. Taylor, gave a very clever idea to the club for taking up the reports. Mrs. Taylor purchased two small boxes with small partitions in them and labeled each partition with the name of the report and as the members arrive they drop their own individual saving time. In planning for a delegate to Farm and Home week, Mrs. Clara Jones started the drive with the price of a hen or its equivalent of one dollar and a half towards building a fund for this. The plans of a fall social for the club were begun and the place will be with Mrs. Herman Roberts in the month of November with Mrs. Cecil Burnette the program conductor in charge.

Mrs. Roberts gave a report on landscape and the substance of this was fall planting of trees and shrubs.

Miss Sullivan the assistant agent, was present at the meeting and she gave some suggestions on swollen doors and dresser drawers, warped ironing boards and closets, also a few ideas in synthetic beef steaks.

Mrs. Clara Jones gave an excellent lesson on clothing, clothes for 1943-44.

The club sang the song, "Believe me of all those endearing young charms" and then played a new game having lots of fun.

The hostess Mrs. Jim Dawes served refreshments and the club adjourned to meet in November for the first all day meeting of the year with Mrs. John Dawes.

Can You Picture KENTUCKY without Highways?

A strange place it would be—this state of ours—if our splendid 9,402 miles of network of improved highways suddenly ceased to exist.

A great many communities would be isolated; others would find it infinitely more difficult to carry on even the most ordinary daily activities—with no trucks on the move, no cars or buses taking workers to war plants and farms, soldiers to camp and home on furlough, business travelers to nearby communities, and children to school.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Kentucky can take pride in our share in this highway system.

As fellow citizens, the Greyhound Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of various taxes—but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve throughout the STATE.
