The Farm Front - -

BY J. HOMER MILLER

The Palma Methodist Church is landscaping its grounds this week. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky made the plans a short time ago. Look it over as you drive through Palma.

Roy Gregory had one of the outstanding corn demonstrations in the county this year. The field was in corn last year. A soil test was made. The entire field was fertilized with 200 pounds of 5-10-10 at planting time. The field, with the exception of 25 rows, was side dressed with about 100 pounds of actual nitrogen. The corn was planted about 12 inches apart. The 25 rows were trimmed to about 24 inches. The result was 107 bushels compared to 35 bushels, an increase of 72 bushels per acre for an investment of less than $10. Was it profitable?

Disk corn stalks this fall to reduce erosion during the winter. The stalks will reduce runoff and the fall of water. The stalks will also decay better during the winter.

The Gaston Fishers have landscaped their lawn this fall. The county and home agent assisted them with their landscape plan. They set a golden rain tree in the front yard. There are very few in the county.

Now is a good time to select trees and shrubs for your home. Select trees for color of leaves. You have a better selection than you will next spring. Hatler Morgan and Wavil Joseph are self feeding silage this winter. Hatler has beef cattle and Wavil has a dairy herd. This can solve a lot of labor during the year.

More than 300 soil tests have been made in the county this year. This is a big increase over previous years. We now have a soils testing lab in the county. Samples are easier taken now than later and they are just as accurate.

Workshop Held by Garden Club After Potluck Luncheon

The Town and Country Garden Club did dried flower arrangements in a workshop school held Tuesday after a potluck luncheon at the community building.

The hostesses were Mesdames W. D. Hawkins, J. Homer Hiller, Robert Redmon and Joe Pete Ely.

Ten arrangements were made. Mrs. W. W. Watt was first choice and Mrs. Henry Hardin Lovett was second choice when votes were cast.

Those attending, besides the hostesses, were Mesdames W. W. Watts, John C. Lovett, Henry Hardin Lovett, Genoa Gregory, Gania Wyatt, R. O. Vick, Herman Kanatzer, Louis Lilly, Roy Schmaus, Joe Coulter, Cliff Treas, Miss Mae Jones, and one visitor, Mrs. James Turner of Sledd Creek.

The tables where the guests ate were covered with white cloths and centered with horns of plenty and fall flowers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of our relatives, friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kind deeds extended us at the time of the death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Rudolph. We desire to thank the Filbeck-Cann Funeral Home for service, the donors of the beautiful flowers and the delicious food, the Unity quartet for songs, Drs. Miller and McClain for faithful service, the Revs. Alexander, Gurley and Young for words of comfort. May God bless each of you.

Children and grandchildren Mr. and Mrs. John Breezeel have returned from a vacation of a week in St. Augustine, Fla. They visited places enroute also.

Mrs. D. E. Booker of Louisville visited her daughter, Mrs. Joe Darnall, in Benton last week.

Mrs. Maud Price of Paducah visited with her sister, Miss Georgia Brandon, Friday night while Brandon Price attended a Bank of Marshall County directors' meeting in Benton.

First Grade Pupils Are Given Party By Jimmie Sue Mathis

Miss Jimmie Sue Mathis entertained children of the Benton School First Grade (Miss Georgia Brandon's room) with a Halloween party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Mathis, Friday night.

The children were served wieners, marshmallows and had pepsi-colas. They also had apples, candies and peanuts.

A contest was won by Becky Selwitz.

After they had finished with refreshments and play, they went to the home of Miss Brandon and visited a short while. Children attending the party were:

Christi Parrish, Jane, Ben and Jimmy Griffee, Eddie and Backy Selwitz, Cathy Jane West, Doris Faughn, J. B. Sledd, Martha Kay Faughn, Pamela Lynn Morris, Phyllis Darnell, Teri Thompson, Rieta, Judy and Lavana York, Lois Mae Faughn, Judy Reuhle, Patty Goodman, Dwain Holland, Kenny, Keith and Kay Vasseur, Dennis and Raymond Madison, Johnny Max Mathis and Jimmy Thompson.

Also present were Mesdames Dwight Vasseur, Harvey Selwitz, Arthur Darnell and Marvin West, Mr. and Mrs. Paul York, Mrs. Max Hayden.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON WILL OPEN THIS FRIDAY
FRANKFORT - The Kentucky waterfowl season will open Friday, Nov. 7, and will end Jan. 15. A good season will depend much on bad weather -- rainy and cold.

Western Kentucky is the state's best waterfowl hunting area. Best spots are the Ohio and Mississippi River bottoms from Owensboro to the Tennessee border, big Kentucky Lake, and the drainage sections of the Green and Kentucky Rivers.

Mrs. Art Masse and Baby Son Honored At St. Pius Party

Monday evening, Nov. 3, the assembly room of St. Pius 10th School was filled with friends honoring Mrs. Art Masse and her 4-week-old son, David Joseph. The room was decorated with blue and white streamers and a large table trimmed with blue and white paper held the many gifts for baby David.

Diaper and baby word scramble games were played and winners were Mrs. Ruth Spurlock, Mrs. Grace Kennedy and Mrs. Wanda Janiak. The serving table was covered with a lace tablecloth and centered on the table was a huge sheet cake decorated with blue and white and "Welcome Baby Masse" written across the center. Blue candles were on either end of the table with bowls of white mums.

Cake, coffee, tea and assorted mints and nuts were served to 28 ladies.

Hostesses were Mrs. Leroy Keeling, Mrs. Donna Jeans and Mrs. Marg Hafer.

Calvert Children Collect $69 During Halloween Visits

On Thursday evening, Oct. 30, children of the Calvert community went trick or treating for the less fortunate children of the world, UNICEF.

Approximately 55 children of all ages took part and $69.75 was collected. Leo Heldorn, Bill Smith and Richard Gill accompanied the children on their rounds and Mrs. Barbara Ferguson was in charge of collections.

After the collecting, the children met at the First Presbyterian Church and were treated with cider and donuts, with Mrs. June Morris in charge. Games were under the direction of Mrs. Laura Gill and Mrs. Deen Hestrom. The young people of the church decorated the assembly room with Halloween witches, skeletons and pumpkins.

Mrs. Dot Kunnecke, chairman, and her committee wishes to thank everyone who took part and donated so generously to help UNICEF.

Ed Bagdoyan flew to Dayton, Ohio, this week and was the 1,000th passenger on the Ozark Air Lines. He was presented a cigarette lighter by the airline.
