Everyman is looking for work in his own field. Pensions are being cut and taxes are increasing. Men are working harder than ever before. But, with the depression, they are not able to make a living. In the future, we must be prepared for such a situation. We must build up our industry and prepare for the future.

What will the postwar era be like? The shift of industrial interests will be very gradual. Well before the fighting has stopped, we will begin to shift our industries to the changed demands of the changed fighting area.

There will be a lot of fighting to do in the European war. It will be of short duration, and will be due more to the prime requisite in the Pacific war. The most likely "chance for" the world will be a very gradual one, changing from coal to natural gas, to many other things. The metal industries will be busy in domestic equipment. The steel industries will be busy making domestic equipment. The metal industries will be busy making domestic equipment. The steel industries will be busy making domestic equipment.

Mrs. Pines closed her regular appearance Sunday Sth and her house was closed Sunday afternoon for the funeral of Rob Taylor at Harrod Thursday night.

Everyone, both at the house and in the neighborhood, was greatly shocked to hear the news of the sudden death of Rob Taylor, a well-known and popular citizen of Harrod. He had been active in community affairs and was well liked by all who knew him.

Rob Taylor was born in Harrod, Kentucky, on November 15, 1910, and had lived there all his life. He was a natural leader and was respected for his integrity and honesty. He was a successful businessman and had been involved in many community projects.

Taylor was a member of the Harrod Masonic Lodge and the Harrod Lions Club. He was a good sport and enjoyed participating in local sports events.

Taylor was a devoted family man and his loss will be deeply felt by his family and friends. He leaves behind his wife, Sarah, and three children, John, Mary, and Jane.

The family requested that donations be made to the Harrod Community Center in his memory.

The weather was cool and overcast Sunday, providing a somber backdrop for the funeral and the family's reflections on the life of Rob Taylor.

The family would like to thank everyone for their support and condolences during this difficult time.

After a Century of Freedom

Before the war, most people had one hope for the future—"that the children would enjoy greater opportunities and live happier lives.

The history of this country is written in the pages of the American Constitution, and the future is left for such purposes after the tax bills are paid.

We are faced with a bewildering number of problems and challenge to be met. We must learn to live by principles, to think with our heads, to lead with our hearts, and to act with our hands.

Let us make the most of this time, for we are living in a world of great change and uncertainty.

LETTER FROM HOME

DEAR HIM:

...sent a letter a little later.
...her first letter was very pretty, and I decided to write to her mother, not that she was the one who needed it most, but that she had been most certainly by allowing those who returned home from the war to have a chance to return to civilian life.

We are thankful that we have had the opportunity to be part of this great American process, and we hope that our children will be able to continue it.

Yours truly,
...signed...
