Is a "Psycho" Loose in Fulton ?? Local Business Has Reason to Think So

About two weeks ago when Charles Killian went to work one morning he got the surprise of his life. He found cylinder oil spread all over the floor of the Coinette Laundry. After several hours of hard work he finally had the business open and going again.

Two days later when he came to work he found some one had plugged the drain in the rest room and opened the faucet. Water was all over the place. Once again, it was back to the mop for him. He called the City Police and they began checking the establishment periodically hoping to apprehend the culprit.

Then last week some one converted the gas clothes dryer to an air-conditioner, or something of that nature. When a quarter is dropped into the machine, the gas comes on, the fire lights up, but, the machine blows cold air on the clothes.

Saturday of last week Mr. Killian had to remove a hose from one of the machines and extract a rag jammed into the pipes in order to get a washer into operation.

Mr. Harry Myers, of Blytheville, Arkansas, manager of the Coinette Laundry and owner of a chain of laundries in other states, intends to add more machines to the local laundry and announces a grand opening this weekend. It is hoped that the "psycho" is caught soon before his fancy turns to the other business establishments in Fulton.

Fair Opens With Cool Weather, High Spirits

Shivering in weather much more to the liking of football players, several hundred people viewed the opening activities of the 1962 Ken-Tenn Fair Tuesday night at the Fulton Ballpark. The special attraction of the evening was the Tiny Tot Revue and a large crowd gathered to watch the youngsters.

This year's fair is even bigger and better than the 1961 edition, with more merchants' booths, more exhibits, more prizes and a larger midway. Several new attractions are being featured this year, also, including a Wild West Rodeo Friday and Saturday nights.

The first prizes were given won by Bobby Goodwin. Euwin away Tuesday night. Cashon-Wilson of Water Valley was the Grisham-Wright held a drawing lucky winner of the transister for a gift certificate which was radio given away by the Young Men's Business Club.

The first $100 Saving Bond went to Mrs. James Powers, a visitor here from New York City.

Most of the Merchants who have booths in the big tent are giving away nice prizes; several of these are holding drawing each night.

Dairy Cattle judging was held yesterday morning (Wednesday) with animals from Fulton, Hickman, Graves, and Obion Counties being shown.

The Beef Cattle will be judged Friday. Over $1000 in premium money will be awarded in the Livestock Division by the end of the week.

Last night, a special Junior Talent Show was held, and well-known TV performer "Cousin Tunny" and her daughter were on hand to help provide the fun.

Kid's Day lasted from 1 till 6 p. m. with children under the age of 15 getting in free and all rides were only ten cents throughout the afternoon. A large crowd of youngsters romped over the grounds and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Today (Thursday) is the big day for the farmers of the five-state area, for it's the special Rural Day at the Fair. Farmers are urged to come and bring their families to enjoy the day's events which include Horse Pulling and Mule Pulling Contests and a big Country Horse Show during the afternoon.

Tonight will feature a Square Dance, complete with Country Music Band and old-fashioned caller, and a Cakewalk will follow the dance.

The third $100 Savings Bond will be given away at approximately 9:00 p. m. and several other drawings will be held during the evening.

Friday's activities will include the opening of the Wild West Rodeo at about 8:00 p. m. The show, sponsored by Grady Archie, will feature some of the best riders and ropers on the Missouri Rodeo Circuit, and some of the meanest critters in the country to give them a ride for their money.

Local contestants are eligible to participate in the Brahma Bull Riding event and prizes will be awarded.

Saturday night will be the final night of the 1962 Fair and at approximately 10:00 p. m., the Jaycees will hold the drawing for the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 which has been on display here in Fulton for several weeks. 200,000 free tickets are being distributed by local merchants and may be picked up any time this week. There is no obligation to buy, just ask for the tickets.

There are many interesting displays in the Merchandise Exhibit Tent, but one of the most interesting is the one just outside the tent that is sponsored by the Twin Cities Development Association.

Handmade articles from all over Kentucky and Tennessee are on display and include items from Berea Industries and other well-known organizations. There are little dolls made from dried apples, corn shocks, and walnuts; cotton-bowl earrings from Miss Phillips; hand-carved figures from the Kentucky mountains; and many other interesting items.

which are sold all over the world. The Merchandise Tent itself is slightly larger than last year and contains an interesting variety of displays. One booth has the visitors can test his skill at pool. As a counterpoint to the pool table, a real one. In another, he can relax his weary bones in a big comfortable chair. From all corners, organ music delights the crowd and local musicians try to sell the crowd in an adjoining tent. (Continued on page four)

Tiny Tot Revue Opens Local Fair; Four Little "Majesties" Selected

Two charming little brunettes were selected as Queens of their separate divisions at the third annual Tiny Tot Revue held Tuesday night at the Ken-Tenn Fair. Two Kings were also chosen, but the little girls definitely stole the show in their fluffy little dresses and long curls.

Janice Marie Barber, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barber, was chosen as the Queen of the four and five-year-old group.

Selected as winner in the older group (six and seven-year-olds) was little Martha Shea Moon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moon.

The two division Kings were Steve Eason, age 4, son of Sgt. and Mrs. John Eason, and John Mark Austin, age 7, son of Mrs. Virginia Austin.

A large crowd was present to view the youngsters as they paraded in front of the judges. Although no special rehearsal was held, the children performed like veterans.

There were four little girls called back as finalists in the first division. Besides Miss Barber, they were Cindy Sue Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vyrion Mitchell, Lesli Kay Parton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Parton, and Vickie Sue James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward James.

Mike Hawks and Susan Hagan, last year's first division winners, crowned their successors, Steve and Janice Marie. The two older winners, Mark and Martha Shea, were crowned by Bill Gray and Jan. Betty, 1961 King and Queen of the second division.

Mrs. James Butts, president of the Fulton Jayettes who sponsored the program, presented prizes of Kid's Day tickets to the winners.

Twenty-six youngsters participated in the Revue with seventeen of these in the younger division.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Slaughter of Mayfield and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Manchester of Paducah.

The four little "majesties" reigned over all Kid's Day activities at the Fair yesterday (Wednesday) and appeared at the Junior Talent Show last night.

Suit Filed By Gurley Against Four Oil Firms In St. Louis

Lawyers for O. K. Gurley, father of Jimmy Gurley, filed suit for $299,999.99 in damages in St. Louis Friday. The Gurley youth, aged 15, was seriously burned in an accident on Lake Street May 18 and has been a patient in Memphis Baptist Hospital since that time.

The suit was filed against Illinois Waterways Company, Gasoline Transport Company, Pipeline Oil Company and Marine Petroleum Company.

Lawyers representing Mr. Gurley are Miles and Miles of Union City, and Listman and Bandy of East St. Louis, Illinois.

Gurley received third degree burns over 50 percent of his body in the accident which occurred near the Pipeline Service Station at the intersection of West State Line and Carr Streets.

A gasoline tanker truck was unloading gasoline into the underground tanks of the station. One of the tanks overflowed and gasoline spread quickly across the street.

Gurley was riding a motorcycle, going east on State Line when the vehicle hit the gasoline, slid from under him and a spark from the motor ignited the gasoline. He was thrown into the flaming fuel and his clothes caught fire.

He was taken to Hillview hospital for first aid, then rushed to Memphis. He was listed as being in "critical" condition for about three weeks and was given only a 50-50 chance of survival.

He is now slowly improving and skin grafts were started last week on his foot, leg and side. It will be approximately a week before doctors will know whether or not the skin grafts will take.

A minimum of three more weeks hospital care has been estimated for him if the skin grafts do work satisfactorily. He is able to be up in a wheelchair now.

Big, New Skating Rink opens in South Fulton Friday Night; Built by Raymond Clark

The new Happy Day Roller Rink

A brand new, ultra-modern roller rink, named the "Happy Day Skating Rink", opens Friday night in South Fulton on the Martin highway.

The rink, first permanent one in Fulton, will undoubtedly be an all-season favorite with skaters throughout this area, and it provides many reasons why it should:

A capacity for 250 skaters, seats for spectators, rest rooms, concession stand and specially-piped music that reaches every part of the floor from dozens of small speakers in the ceiling.

Built, owned and operated by Raymond Clark of South Fulton, the rink also features a new type of plastic-coated floor, specially designed for professional skating rinks.

The rink will be open seven days a week; a schedule will be found in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

This is Fair Week In Fulton; Y'all Come!

This week is Fair Week in Fulton and everyone is invited to come out and stay long. Welcome to the Fair!

Each year the Fair gets a little bigger and a little better, and each night this week something different is going on to entertain the whole family. On top of that, the Fair has always proven to be a good place to meet friends you haven't seen for a long time; a good place to take the children and grandchildren for an afternoon or evening of excitement they'll never forget; a good place to get out and laugh at yourself and others in case you've been cooped up all summer and have turned into an old grouch; a good place to go and see the exhibits of handiwork, the merchandise displays and a good place to relax.

And besides that, you can win handsome prizes. Ask any Fulton retail merchant for tickets.

Don't miss Fulton's big Fair this week. Bring the whole family.

Wyatt's Economic Development Program Cited as Bringing More "Firsts" For Kentucky

Kentucky's energetic Lieutenant-Governor Wilson Wyatt may not have the rip-roaring, shirttail-flying name-calling mob-pleasing tendencies that some Kentuckians seem to prefer in their political figures, but there is no doubt that he has amassed a record of achievement for Kentucky that has never before been equalled by any in his office.

Wyatt has worked persistently and thoughtfully on the economic development of Kentucky during his present term of office and the organization he has started has scored a "firstful of firsts" for the State that will go down in history, in years to come as a "turning point" in national recognition for Kentucky for future big-business development.

In the May 1962 edition of the Industrial Property Guide, a paper published in Cleveland, Ohio under the auspices of the Society of Industrial Realtors, Wyatt and his Economic Development program have been spotlighted for the rest of the Nation to see.

The paper points out nine fields in which Kentucky is "first among all the States":

1. "Personal income in Kentucky was up almost 8 per cent for 1961 over 1960, a growth 2 1-2 times the national average and above that of any of the other 49 states. This increase means nearly $400 million more in personal income for Kentuckians in 1961 than in 1960.

2. "Last year Kentucky was first among all the states in percentage increase in teachers' salaries. This is especially pleasing to me," notes Wyatt. "Since I have often said that education is the keystone of our new economic development program.

3. "Kentucky is the first state in the nation to take over control and licensing from the Atomic Energy Commission of atomic materials for peacetime uses. This provides a great incentive for nuclear-based industries to locate in Kentucky.

4. "Kentucky is the first and only state to offer all five of the governmental and private financing plans for new and expanding industry designed to meet every conceivable need.

5. Kentucky is the first state to win the Keep America Beautiful award for outstanding attention to beautification.

6. "Kentucky is first in the nation in the production of Burley tobacco—a crop which last season meant about a quarter of a billion dollars for our farmers. The 6 per cent increase authorized in the Burley quota the first part of this year should mean an additional $15 million dollars in the pockets of our tobacco farmers.

7. "Kentucky is first among all the states with an arts and crafts program which includes the unique Kentucky Guild Train, a rolling art gallery and crafts show. Recently the Guild Gallery, with a stock of more than $20,000 in handcraft items was opened in the Mall in Louisville. This is the 14th Guild affiliated shop the Kentucky Department of Commerce has assisted in opening in addition to the 22 State parks and approximately 36 other sources in Kentucky buying handcraft products in quantity.

8. Kentucky is first among all the states in the expansion of an already great parks system. The expenditure of some $20 million in new facilities will soon make the tourist business the number one dollar producer in the State's economy.

9. Kentucky is first in the country in modernization of its rivers and streams. For three years Kentucky has been at the top—and this is as it should be since Kentucky has more miles of navigable streams than any other state in the nation.

Wyatt says that "leadership has been needed to match the climate for bringing in new industry which has never in the entire history of our State been more favorable."

The Lieutenant Governor states that the recent award to Kentucky by the Society of Industrial Realtors for an outstanding economic development program, "an award which listed us as second in the nation in the effectiveness of this program, indicates the all-out effort the State administration is making to bring new business to Kentucky and expand existing businesses."

"Kentucky's new business climate," continues Wyatt, "was graphically demonstrated to a group of prominent industrialists in June by means of our Ohio River Valley Industrial Tour."

Designed to highlight the economic potential of the Ohio River, the three-day tour began at Ashland and covered the full length of the river to Paducah. Tour members travelled by rail, boat, plane and bus to inspect the many available industrial sites. They also had a first-hand look at the billion dollar program of modernization now underway on the navigation facilities of the Ohio River.

The updating of the navigation facilities of the 981-mile long Ohio River is expected to be completed by 1975. The recently opened McAlpine Lock in Louisville is the fourth 1,200 foot-long lock to be completed. The three others are at Markland, Greenup, and New Cumberland.

In all, 14 new lock and dam units will be built, and five others will be modernized. These will replace the old system of 46 small and antiquated locks and dams and guarantee a minimum navigation channel of 12 feet instead of the present nine feet.

"When this program is completed," points out Wyatt, "the locking time for a tow going from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Illinois, will be cut from 72 hours to 10 hours, a reduction in travel time of more than three days and two nights."

Wyatt states that the advantages of low-cost water transportation, low-cost coal-produced power and plentiful water for industrial purposes have resulted in $15 billion being poured into the Ohio Valley by industry in the past decade. "Yet," he emphasizes, "this is only a beginning compared to the progress we confidently expect to see in the Ohio Valley in the next decade."

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week a "sudden and extraordinary change in state policy" occurred in Kentucky. The quote is descriptive phrase is from Collins' "History of Kentucky" and refers to the resignation of Gov. Beriah Magoffin and his being succeeded by James F. Robinson.

Magoffin, a Southern sympathizer, had been elected in 1859 and thus was in office when the Civil War started. It was he who in response to a Washington call for troops from Kentucky telegraphed the famous reply: "I say emphatically, Kentucky will furnish no troops for the wicked purpose of subduing here sister Southern states." A few days later a committee representing both political parties issued a statement in which it said of Kentucky and the Federal Government's demand for troops: "She has refused to comply with it. And in that refusal she has acted as becomes her. We approve the response of the Executive of the Commonwealth."

Thus Gov. Magoffin at first had widespread popular support. The people later gave approval to his proclamation of neutrality, in which he warned both sides to keep their troops off Kentucky's soil. However, by August of 1862 the Union forces had a firm grip on the state, the military was controlling elections, the governor was help less in the hands of a hostile legislature and was under pressure to get out.

Magoffin, whom even his enemies respected for his high principles, for some time had wished to be relieved of his empty title, but he resolved not to quit unless he could choose a moderate and fair Union man as his successor. The lieutenant governor had died. Under the Constitution then in force, the speaker of the state senate would fill a vacancy in the governor's office if one occurred. John F. Fisk, who was speaker, was not acceptable to Magoffin.

The legislature had been called into special session by the governor. In accord with a plan that had been agreed upon, Fisk resigned as speaker. The senate chose as his successor James F. Robinson, a highly respected Union man who was acceptable to the governor. Magoffin then resigned; Robinson automatically became acting governor. Fisk was then re-elected to the speaker's post.

The new governor lived at Cardome, his plantation near Georgetown. He had been born in Scott County, son of a Revolutionary War officer, was a graduate of Transylvania University and a successful lawyer. Since he was to serve only the remainder of Magoffin's unexpired term, which would end in September of 1863, his administration would last only a little more than a year.

Adjutant General John W. Finnell reported that 41,703 Kentuckians had volunteered for service in the Union Army since the beginning of the war. No official figures on the number of Kentuckians in Confederate States service were available.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Here it is Fair Time again and the twin-cities have taken on an air of gaiety once more. You know, to view the fair as the regular visitor does you would think that everything was practically running itself, with little or no effort at all by anybody. But those poor Jaycees have been running around like chickens with their heads cut off for about three weeks now, making plans, changing plans, adding plans, and just plain working! The same goes for every other organization that has any thing to do with the fair.

Even the downtown merchants have gotten into this "hustle-bustle" act this past week. They were out decorating their booths as early as last Friday afternoon and some of them are really quite unique. In fact, the whole fair is, to sum it all up, Good!

Lots of places have fairs and lots of them are bigger than the Ken-Tenn Fair, but we doubt that anybody else works quite as hard for success as do our own folks here in Fulton.

If you haven't been out to the old Kitty League Ballpark this week to see the Fair, we urge you to do so now. On top of all the fun of an old-fashioned county fair, it's the best place we know of to renew old acquaintances, meet new people, and have friendly, unhurried conversations with everyone. Try it, it's Fun!

James Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Reed, is enjoying an interesting trip this month, as he is visiting on the island of Puerto Rico. The trip is connected with a seminar and survey of living conditions on the island and is sponsored by Florida Southern College where James will be a junior this fall.

James is making the trip with a fellow student and a Spanish professor. They flew to San Juan and are now traveling over the island by car, covering as much territory as possible in the three weeks they will be there. They plan to return to the States in early September.

Hostesses with Mrs. Harrison were Mrs. Edna Abel and Mrs. Leland Jewell.

The house was decorated throughout with summer flowers and a gift corsage was presented to Mrs. Jenkins by the hostesses. Pink and white ice cream and cake was served to the guests.

Miss Susan Stokes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jolley, is serving as counselor for a week at the Conference workshop camp for senior high students who are officers in the Methodist Youth Fellowship at Lakeshore Methodist Camp at Eva, Tennessee.

Mrs. John Platt, wife of the new Trinity Episcopal church minister, was honored by Mrs. Ward Johnson at a lovely luncheon at the Johnson home on Third Street last Wednesday.

The guest list included Mrs. Platt, Mrs. Hampton Lillard, Mrs. Earl Hefley, Mrs. J. L. Jones, Mrs. Jasper Vowell, Mrs. Mildred Anderson, Mrs. Bob Binford and the hostess.

Little Dee Ann Homra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Homra, was complimented at a delightful party Thursday at the City Park on her fifth birthday.

Using a circus theme, favors were given each guest and prizes were won by Andy Albritton, Chris Jones, and Teri Weeks.

Ice cream and cake were enjoyed by the 22 little guests.

Gail Bushart, Cindy Homra and Terry Smith assisted Mrs. Homra in entertaining the children.

Joe Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Johnson, is home this week for a short visit. He will return to the University of Tennessee August 31. He has been working for Ferry-Morse in Iowa, Illinois and several other areas during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robey and sons, David and Mark have returned from a vacation in Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. They visited the birth place of Eisenhower and saw the civil war battlefield in Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Those Little League "champs", the Orioles, were honored at a hamburger fry recently at the City Park.

Team manager, Woody Brown, was presented with a trophy by his team members.

Those present were Philip Maddox, Thomas Carrington, John Reed, Danny Pewitt, Mac Harrod, Ken Alexander, John Gungler, Norman Brown, Stephen Lee Bragg, Buddy Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James Pewitt and Cindy, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Myers and Nora, Millford Vincent and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dublin.

"Uncle Dan" Hastings, manager of the Cubs in the Little League, and admired by all the little boys of the league, was honored with a trophy from his team members following a hamburger supper at the Park recently.

The team, sponsored by Standard Oil Co., gave him the trophy as a complete surprise. He has been working with the Little League since it was organized nine years ago.

TURN ABOUT

Can't win... A proud young lady from Kentucky was trying to justify her state to a Texan. "In Kentucky," she said, "We have Fort Knox, where enough gold is stored to build a golden fence three feet high completely around Texas."

"Go ahead and build it," drawled the man from out yonder. "If I like it, I'll buy it."

Postal Officials Announce Plans For New Building

Plans to build a new post office in Fulton were announced recently by Postmaster General J. Edward Day in Washington. The new building will be located at Walnut and Lake Streets, the present site of the Earle Hotel.

The postal department now owns the site and will be reimbursed for the cost by the successful bidder.

When the new building is completed, postal space in the Federal Building will be released for other purposes. The building will be constructed under the Department's Lease Construction Program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise for needed postal buildings.

The Department's capital investment, Mr. Day said, will be limited to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal Government and the owner will pay local real estate taxes. Plans and specifications for the new building, as well as bidding forms and other pertinent data, will be made available to prospective bidders at an early date, at which time the Post Office Department will advertise for bids.

Editor Bans Protection Of Teen-agers In Police Court Cases

Fed up with the destructive antics of teen-agers in one of the wealthiest residential towns in California, Herbert H. McCormick, publisher of the San Marino (Calif.) Tribune, in a recent editorial, stated that hereafter all names of those over eighteen who reach the police blotter would be named in his newspaper. In addition, he said, any under eighteen would be named if they had a prior record with the San Marino police.

Ky. Farm Bureau Presents Plan For Reapportionment

The executive committee of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation announced that the organization favors a change in the state constitution prior to reapportionment of the Kentucky General Assembly.

Farm Bureau President Burl S. St. Clair, in announcing the organization's position, said, "Our members feel that complete reapportionment of both houses by population only would not be in the best interest of the people of Kentucky."

Citing recent action by the Federation's Board of Directors, St. Clair pointed out that any reapportionment of the General Assembly should be predicated upon many factors, including geographical location and specific interests of the people.

At a recent meeting of the organization's Board in Louisville, Federation directors suggested as a possible method of reapportioning that each county in Kentucky be represented by one elected representative and that the Senate be reapportioned on the basis of population.

Referring to the Constitution of the United States, St. Clair said, "The principal Farm Bureau suggests has proved over the years to be a stable form of government, representing area and population fairly."

Representation in the U. S. House of Representatives is based on population, but the Senate is composed of two individuals from each state.

At Kentucky Farm Bureau's annual convention in Lexington last fall, the voting delegates called for continued adequate representation for the rural areas in Kentucky's General Assembly.

"Any proposals to change present legislative districts must take this into account," St. Clair said.

This was when, as McCormick remarked in an editorial later, he decided he was "through."

He printed the names and addresses, held his breath and sat back to await reaction—cancellations, criticism and castigation from outraged parents. He got reaction, but not what he expected, according to a report in the California Publisher.

In addition to a number of letters, the paper received 50 phone calls soon after the story was printed.

Two callers objected; 48 "were most emphatic and laudatory in their comments."

In a follow-up editorial, McCormick said he was prompted into a change of long-standing policy because he knew that not only did naming names clear other youths, whose neighbors always suspected them when such incidents happen, but the guilty "hellions came right back bragging because they got away with it."

"From here on, if aberrant persons do not wish to see their names on the wrong side of the ledger, they should watch what they are doing. After all, law enforcement officers are paid to do their duty, and besides the police blotter is open to the press."

In addition to the unanticipated endorsement of so many San Marinos McCormick also picked up strong support from neighboring publisher Ralph T. Turner, Temple City Times.

Turner, in an editorial, said that "many editors will agree that it is about time" to abolish "this outmoded principle" that the "little bad boys should remain anonymous."

He told his readers about McCormick's eventual decision, commenting that "there are some pretty important people in San Marino."

"... we are encouraged to learn that public opinion believes newspapers should name names when undisciplined children go haywire," Turner concluded.

L. A. Whiting, Indiana city court judge, who punishes teenage offenders with head shavings, spankings, and clean-up jobs, said today he believes a whack in time cuts juvenile delinquents down in size.

Judge William Obermiller believes some teen-agers would prefer to go to jail because they regard jail as a status symbol. On the other hand, Obermiller said, "Accidents don't just happen. They are caused.—Drive Safely."

Obermiller believes his type of punishment helps parents regain authority in the home.

"So many kids today feel, 'I am the boss even at home.' When these kids come into court they have chips on their shoulders. When they leave, Mom and Dad are the bosses again."

Obermiller never orders a spanking unless parents give their permission. None of the parents of offenders have turned him down so far. A policeman or bailiff usually administers the spanking.

"I don't say that psychology shouldn't be used," he said. "In fact, my type of punishment is a form of applied psychology."

Obermiller said he will continue to spank and shave. Defendants who talk back to police are sent to a library to copy the U. S. Constitution in Jonghand.

Hotel, Cafe Pay Increase Is Delayed By Court

A scheduled increase in minimum wages for the hotel and restaurant industry will be withheld pending a review of the case.

Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs granted a temporary injunction halting the increase, which ranged up to 45 cents an hour. It was announced by the state Minimum Wage Board last June, to become effective Aug. 1.

Meigs granted the injunction on an appeal by the Kentucky Hotel and Restaurant Association. He ordered both sides to file briefs by Sept. 20.

The increase would make the minimum wage 75 cents an hour in cities of 20,000 or more and their fringe areas, compared to the present 30 to 45 cents.

In smaller cities, the minimum would range downward to 65 cents an hour.

Farm News, Meetings, Events

(Ed's note: the following information, supplied THE NEWS by the USDA, ASC, nearby County Agents and agricultural agencies will be of special interest to progressive farmers in the Kent-Tenn. area):

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation

The support price for 1962-crop wheat in Obion County will remain at $2.06 per bushel, unchanged from the "advance" support price announced earlier this year, Narvel Seals, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. Price-support rates for wheat stored in terminals are also unchanged.

The chairman explained that legislation requires that the final wheat support rate be determined on the basis of the wheat parity price as of the beginning of the Marketing year and of wheat supply relationships of the same date. Currently, wheat supply relationships indicate a support level at 75 percent of parity.

Since 75 percent of the July 1962 wheat parity price is less than the previously announced minimum national average support price of $2, the final support price will be the same as the minimum. (The final rate may be higher but not lower than the minimum price). The $2-per-bushel 1962 support price reflects 82.6 percent of the July 1962 wheat parity price.

To be eligible for support, wheat must have been produced in 1962 in a commercial wheat-producing area, and it must grade No. 3 or better or No. 4 or 5 on the grading factor of test weight only.

Farmers who planted within their 1962 farm allotment will be able to market their entire production without marketing quota penalty, but they will not be eligible for price support on their 1962 wheat unless they signed up and are participating in the 1962 wheat stabilization program.

Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service

The previously announced July 24 date for a referendum on 1963-crop wheat marketing quotas was cancelled in line with a joint Congressional resolution signed by the President on July 1, according to the announcement issued by Secretary of Agriculture Freeman. The joint resolution extended the final date for a wheat referendum on the 1963 crop through August 31.

The Secretary's announcement further states that no new referendum date has been set as yet, pending Congressional action on a new program for 1963 as indicated by the extension of time for holding the referendum.

Narvel Seals, Chairman, Obion County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, points out that permanent legislation provides for a referendum on a date not later than July 25 in years when wheat marketing quotas are proclaimed for the following year's crop.

As required by this legislation, the Agriculture Secretary late in June announced an acreage allotment of 55 million acres, proclaimed marketing quotas, and set the July 24 date (now cancelled) for a marketing quota referendum.

The 1963 wheat crop is the tenth successive crop for which marketing quotas have been proclaimed. Quotas were approved in each previous instance by substantially more than the required two-thirds favorable percentages of farmers voting. Votes have favored the quotas by percentages ranging from 73.3 percent (for the 1955 crop) to 87.4 percent (for 1957 and 1961 crops).

The price support rate for 1962-1963-crop oats in Obion County will be 73 cents per bushel for Grade No. 3 oats. Narvel Seals, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced. This is the same rate that was in effect for the 1961 oats crop.

The premiums are 1 cent per bushel for grade No. 2 or better, 1 cent for heavy test weight, and 2 cents for extra heavy test weight. Discounts are 1-cent per bushel for grade No. 4 on the basis of test weight only and 3 cents per bushel for garlicky oats.

The Chairman pointed out that participation in the 1962 feed grain program for corn, grain sorghum, or barley will not be a condition of eligibility for price support on 1962-crop oats. Participation in the 1961 feed grain program was required for 1961-crop oats price-support eligibility.

As in previous years, price support on 1962-crop oats will be carried out through farm-and-warehouse-stored loans and purchase agreements. Oats produced in violation of leases restricting production of surplus crops on federally-leased lands will not be eligible for price support in 1962.

FALL SEEDING TIME

The best pasture authorities in the area advocate summer fallowing of land in order to obtain the best results. In fact, most of them agree that it always pays to keep the land worked well during the summer months prior to all fall seedings regardless of whether you plan a permanent pasture or hay crops. In addition to well prepared seedbeds, where all noxious weeds and grasses are kept down, testing the soil is of paramount importance. This should be done in order to know just what nutrients should be added to the soil for the crop to be planted or seeded.

Research authorities now recommend more than ever, maximum amounts of fertilizer in order to make the most profit on each dollar invested. It is very important these days to get top production or make more dollars per acre in order to have a fair return for your efforts. This is becoming increasingly difficult as the difference between cost of production and income continue to narrow.

There seems to be more interest throughout the area in improved pasture and hay crops. More and more inquiries are being made at the County Agents offices and at the other points where information is obtained regarding procedures and plans for planting different types of grass and legumes for livestock production.

NOW is the time to make plans for the fall seeding. Have your fields tested and apply the agricultural limestone as soon as possible. Some benefit is realized this fall and winter from agricultural limestone applied within the next few weeks. The higher quality stone you buy and the finer it is ground, the faster it will become available. The agricultural limestone that is retained on a ten mesh screen, has no agricultural value, at least to this generation.

I was with Mr. Harold Miller, Soils Specialist for the University of Kentucky, last Thursday and he said that 'skirts' on agricultural limestone spreader trucks would give the farmers of Kentucky more valuable limestone that would become available now. Miller continued by saying that the dust you see in the air is the material that sweetens the soil for the next few months.

Pastures should be developed first then add livestock as needed. Much is lost by grazing too soon and overgrazing. The pasture plants are damaged as well as a loss in production.

Voter Drive To Get Underway Soon In State

A statewide voter registration drive will be staged by Kentucky Democrats during the week of August 27-31. Dee Huddleston, State Youth Chairman for the fall campaign, said the drive is intended to make sure every eligible citizen is qualified to vote in the November election.

"With Kentucky's 18-year-old voting law," Huddleston said, "there will be thousands of young people who will be able to vote for the first time in November if they are properly registered."

Any citizen who will be 18 years old by November 6 is eligible to register, but must do so by September 8—the date registration books will be closed until after the election.

Huddleston said Young Democratic Clubs throughout the state will participate in the drive.

Farm Workers Required To Pay Social Security

Employers of farm workers are required to file annual reports with the District Director of Internal Revenue and pay Social Security taxes on cash wages paid during the year 1962. This report is due in January, 1963, according to Charles M. Whitaker, District Manager of the Paducah Social Security Office.

Cash wages paid to a farm worker must be reported if he is paid $150 or more during the year. Cash wages of less than $150 must be reported if the employee works on 20 or more days in the year and is paid on a time basis (by the hour, day, week, or month). Complete and accurate reports are important because the amount of benefits is based on the wages credited to his account.

Employers of farm workers are required to file reports once a year. The employer deducts 3 1-8 percent social security taxes from the employee's wages and must also pay 3 1-8 percent on the total taxable wages paid in the year. This makes the employer responsible for paying the total 6 1-4 percent tax with the return. The deadline for filing 1962 reports is January 31, 1963. Although the reports are not due until next January, now is the time to make sure your records are being kept accurately.

Contact the District Director of Internal Revenue for any additional information about filing returns and paying social security taxes. For information concerning social security benefits, contact the Paducah Social Security Office.

Three Obion County Schools Integrated Peacefully Friday

Three formerly all-white Obion County Schools were integrated quietly Friday as thirty-one Negro students attended. Twenty Negroes attended Obion County Central High School at Troy, while eight entered Rives Elementary and three were at Obion West Elementary.

Six county schools held classes for a half a day Friday morning. The other schools opening were two elementary schools at Woodland Mills and another elementary school at Obion. No integration was involved at these schools.

"Two Aches And Pain" Win In Knoxville 4-H Talent Contest

Three young ladies from South Fulton, with the very unlikely-sounding names of "Two Aches and A Pain" captured top honors Friday in the Tennessee State 4-H Club Talent Show at Knoxville.

The girls, Judy Adams, Jean Neely and Teresa Pennington, charmed their way to victory with a delightful rendition of "Cotton Fields", complete with "cotton-picking" costume and comedy sketch.

The three joined early this spring and sang in the Junior High 4-H Contest at South Fulton Elementary School. Later, they won the Obion County title of Grand Champions and then took first place in the District contest at Henderson, Tennessee.

In the "Share The Fun" Festival at Knoxville, 4-H'ers from all over the state participated, but the three South Fulton girls walked off with the championship trophy.

The trophy will be on display at the South Fulton City Hall until the opening of school, at which time the girls will present it to the school.

All three girls will be freshmen this fall at South Fulton High School.

Teresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pennington. Jean's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Neely. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Adams.

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost.

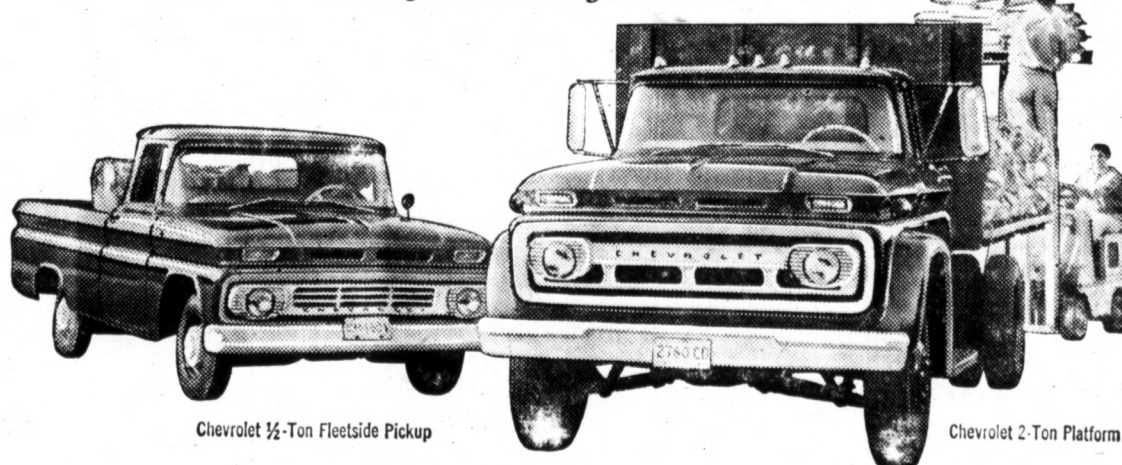

Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time. Come in and take full advantage of it!
