South Fulton's Coach Sees Winning Season

By GENE RUOFF, Sun-Democrat Staff Writer

South Fulton High School started its football season recently with a 26-12 loss to Dresden, Tenn.

The loss was something of a change for the school's new head coach, Roland Bell, for he was assistant coach last year with the championship team of Tennessee's Reelfoot Conference, Greenfield.

Bell inherited a 2-7-1 record from Coach Wayne Organ's one-year-stand last season, and he lost 16 of the club's 22 lettermen.

The new South Fulton mentor is about 6-2 and is a strapping 210-pounder. He is also probably the youngest head football coach in several states, as he is only 21 years old.

Bell started school early, mostly because of his size, he laughs, and this same size helped him become a five-year varsity football player.

He didn't play any football in college, because he was a little too busy attending Bethel College in the days and going to night school at Martin College. He did manage to get his degree in three years, however, and at the age of 20 he took his first coaching job at Greenfield last season.

A head coaching position is a big responsibility for a relative youngster like Bill, but he feels he can turn out a club that will better last season's record. He has one formula for this—solid basic football and lots of hard work.

The hard work part, he said, came as a shock to some of the players, and several quit the team the first day of practice. They are back, though, and most of the team is getting into pretty good shape.

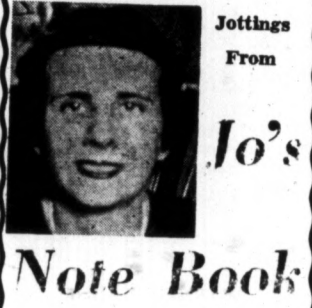

Bell says the main problem with his club is lack of experience. This really showed in the first game, he said, because the game was lost primarily on mistakes.

The South Fulton attack centers around a boy that Bell calls a "coach's dream," Gene Hardy, Hardy is a senior halfback, and

Note Book

I went down to the News office last Friday afternoon to catch up on some correspondence. An old friend of mine came in and visited for awhile. After he left I sat down at the typewriter and started writing Paul's obituary. I also made brief notes about my life for my historian to write. According to my friend our children can wait a little longer to live, so I left their obituary notices as the chore for some future editor of the News.

Vernon Owen was my visitor. Long ago I learned that Vernon is the world's greatest authority on two subjects, fishing and nutrition. Vernon got right enthusiastic about the necessity for a fish hatchery at Kentucky Lake, but all the while he was talking I could see that he was giving a good hard look to the circles under my eyes. At first casually, then with gusto. He then got on the nutrition bit. If possible, he is more informed on nutrition than on fishing. When he got through telling me how short my life was I almost decided to call up and apologize to everybody who reads the News for my erroneous appraisal of the best selling book "Calories Don't Count."

Since the review of the book appeared in the Dairy column Vernon thought Mary Nelle Wright wrote it. When I told him that I was the culprit Vernon said I had blood on my hands. For Dr. Tallor's book, says Vernon, is going to be the salvation of the world if more people could read it. He says this polysyllabic word can make people live to 140 if they adhered to its use long enough. I was all for Vernon until he said that. Imagine having to peck a type-writer for 91 more years. Ugh.

But Vernon isn't half as hepped on that hard to spell oil as he is on yogurt and the absence of salt from the diet. I have always thought that yogurt sounded like the name of a Russian dancer. As a food it sounds just about as palatable. But according to my good old friend Vernon, the medical profession would go out with the blacksmith if only President Kennedy had ordered people to eat (or drink) yogurt instead of milk. Ever since I was a little girl a bottle of milk and good health were synonymous in my thinking. Fresh air, fresh fruit, plenty of milk were advocated for the pink cheek look. But at this late age I've got to revise my thinking.

Vernon Owen, of course, is not the only outspoken advocate of proper nutrition for health. I've seen vitamin salespeople get just as enthusiastic. But Vernon is different. He can quote more facts and figures and actual incidents about the great benefits of yogurt and wheat germ consumption than you can digest with wheat on rye.

Fulton Students Prepare To Return To The Hall Of Ivy

By KAREN DUBLIN

A story elsewhere in this issue states that Fulton City High ranks No. 6 in the state as to percentage of graduates attending college. The class of 1962 is no exception. Of the 24 students who received their diplomas last May, 17 have made their plans to continue their education at some college or university.

Besides these "green freshmen", there are many others in the Fulton area who have managed to get through their first year or two of higher education and are returning to try for another year and 16 more precious hours of credit.

From the talk about town, everybody is very definitely ready to return to school. There was an old joke traveling around at Murray State last year that went: "College is a great institution—if you like being in an institution!" People joke about their dislike of college but if they get really serious about it, they will usually admit that they wouldn't take a million dollars for their college years.

As is usually the case, Murray State College is getting a regular flood of Fulton students. Of the 17 graduates in last year's class, 12 are entering Murray on September 16 to begin their freshman year. They are: Kay Morris, Wanda Cash, Judy Copeland, Warren Nanney, Danny Joe Robbins, Jim Burton, Gray (Butch) Sandling, Ladd Stokes, Kenneth Bradley, Tommy Joe Reed, Jimmy Wright and Danny Carver.

The other '62 graduates and their prospective schools are: Linda Whitnel, Lindenwood College; Bill Leneave, University of Cincinnati; Joyce Owens, Memphis State University; Cleta Boggs, UTMB; Alice Jo Leggett, Lambuth College.

Of the 1961 graduating class over 30 students went on to college. Some dropped out after the first semester and a few more have decided not to return after completion of their first year, but still, a healthy proportion of those who started are planning to continue for at least one more year.

Returning to the University of Kentucky for their second year are Lynn Bushart, Tommy Carney, Jimmy Cheatham, Bill Burnette, Carl Hurst, and Ophelia Speight.

Others who will be upper classmen at UK are Susan Bushart, Nancy Bushart, Gary Williamson, Mary Ann Bennett and George Ray Gunter.

The University of Tennessee at Knoxville is getting four of the city's top students who are in their final year of college. Joe Johnson, Ruth Louise Butts and Charles Huddleston are seniors this fall and Billy Mac Morris is working on his doctorate degree there.

Returning to Murray this fall are Philip Andrews, Wallace Shankle, Judy Burton, Roland Carter, Bobby Hyland, Donnie Bennett, Jean Burnette, Merrell Davis, Judy (Wolberton) Gooch, Jimmy Williams, Wayne Anderson, Bill Wade, Larry Sullivan, Charles Rice, Johnny and Judy (Moore) Jones, Lynn Newton, Chan (Covington) Lannom, Jimmy Green, Tena Bone, Jim Bushart, Bobby Powell, Martha Herring, Joan Carter, and possibly others whom we were unable to contact.

Susan Stokes and James Reed will be traveling back to sunny Florida this fall. Susan will be a sophomore and James will be a junior at Florida Southern.

Hal Warren and Mike Callahan will return to their studies at Memphis State and Mike Walker will continue work at the University of Tennessee, Martin Branch. Philip Jeffress will enter for his final year at Union University

First Dose of Sabin Vaccine For Polio To Be Given Here On Sunday, October 7

Sunday, October 7th has been designated as the date for "Operation Sabin Vaccine" in Fulton County. The project to immunize all persons age three months and over against polio is a joint effort of the United States Public Health Service and the American Medical Association. The medical societies of Fulton and many counties are undertaking the effort to administer the Sabin vaccine to all persons even though they have been immunized with the older Salk Polio vaccine. Hickman County has also specified October 7 as the date when the mass immunization program will be administered.

Dr. Bob Peterson, president of the Fulton County Medical Society, announced that representatives of sugar and eaten. Three doses of the vaccine must be taken for effective immunization, Dr. Peterson said. The second dose will be administered on November fourth.

Sewell Factory Workers Vote Again To Reject Clothing Workers Union

Bremen, Ga. — Workers in the Sewell Manufacturing Co., manufacturer of men's and boys' clothing, in a National Labor Relations Board election again have rejected the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union. The vote in the three plants at Bremen and Temple was 921 to 345 against union membership.

It was the second balloting on membership in the clothing workers union. In the first election last year the Sewell clothing workers defeated the proposal by the same three to one margin.

The union had charged that unfair tactics were used by the company in influencing votes against the union. The NLRB had then ordered a second election which was held Friday.

With Courage, With Strategy Mahan Plants Flag On Mount NinthiGreeni

Labor Day and Flag Day were observed simultaneously at the Fulton Country Club on Monday. The Flag Day observance was a little out of season, but sometimes handicaps delay even the best intentions. It was such "handicaps" that provided a great deal of fun for 30 lady golfers who participated in the Handicap Flag Tournament sponsored by the club for the holiday.

A golf handicap is some kind of mathematical hocus-pocus that gives the "dubbing" golfers the same advantage for winning as it does the "long-knocking experts." The golfers were required to design a flag to mark the spot where all their good intentions failed. The fairways, and greens of the eighth and ninth holes looked something like Flanders Field, without the poppies. Such banners as "Here's Where I Busted," "Call the Red Cross," and others dotted the placid, grassy stretches of earth where fell the mighty golfers.

Only Martha Mahan and Margaret Hall approached the pinnacle of Mount NinthiGreeni. Martha, like the stalwart Marines of Iwo Jima, placed her banner in the cup of number nine green

Local Residents And Burnettes Have Heyday At Recent Obion County Fair

It was the Obion County Fair, but Fulton County pretty well swept the honors in the Dairy and Beef Shows and in many of the other exhibitions on the Fairgrounds last week.

And not only did Fulton County dominate the Dairy Show picture, but also the name on most of the championship lists was Burnette! Ruth Ann, Bill, Don, Ward, and Jean all had a heyday at the Fair with their prize Jerseys.

Ruth Ann Burnette showed the Senior Champion and the Grand Champion Jerseys and Billy Burnette showed the Junior Champion and Reserve Champion Jerseys.

Other local results were: Junior Heifer Calves: Linda Collier, Don Burnette, Ruth Ann Burnette; Senior Heifer Calves: Billy Burnette, Tommy Powell, Don Burnette, Linda Collier; Junior Yearling Heifers: Billy Burnette (first and second), Linda Collier (third and fourth); Senior Yearling Heifers: Billy Burnette, Linda Collier (second and third), Ruth Ann Burnette.

Also: Two Year Old Cows: Tommy Powell; Cows Four-Years-Old and Older: Don Burnette, Linda Collier, Billy Burnette, Ward Burnette, Don Burnette; Products of Dam: Billy Burnette, Linda Collier; Products of Sire: Billy Burnette (first and second), Linda Collier.

Hoyt Barnett Resigns Office As Representative

Hoyt Barnett, has tendered his resignation as representative from Fulton and Hickman counties to Governor Bert T. Combs. Dated August 30, 1962, Mr. Barnett expressed his deep pleasure to the Governor for having served with him in the 1962 General Assembly.

Mr. Barnett, a former Hickman groceryman, was elected to his first term last year, defeating Robert Lee Bolin of Clinton by more than 1800 votes. An executive order from the Governor's office was filed with the Secretary of State's office last Friday, declaring the position as representative from the two counties vacant. Governor Combs has stated that if a special session of the General Assembly is called to reapportion the State's legislative districts a special election will be called to name Mr. Barnett's successor.

Mr. Barnett could not be reached for comment on Wednesday, but he is expected to join the State Department of Commerce as a liaison officer for 22 Western Kentucky counties. Mr. Barnett will probably be stationed at Bowling Green or Madisonville. Jim Nutter, Commissioner of Commerce informed the News.

"It is being processed now," Lindsey said, "and we are proud to have paid the premium price for the choice cattle because we feel our customers deserve the best that money can buy."

Planning Commission Projects Development And Progress of City Of Fulton on 20-Year Basis

This week, a neatly prepared booklet, entitled the "Land Use Plan of the City of Fulton, Kentucky" was distributed to interested citizens. The comprehensive booklet was prepared by the Fulton Planning Commission and is the tenth planning study completed to date. In the weeks, months and years to come many of you will be reading more and more about the general plan for the expansion and development of our city and we thought it would be of value to you to reprint the basic concepts of the land use plan for the City of Fulton.

Here it is:

"The City of Fulton has now reached a stage in its overall physical development where it is now necessary to determine the future land use Pattern for the urban area. In order to understand exactly what the future land use plan is and where it fits into the overall physical planning program, a definition of the General Plan should be made. In the complete City planning program the ultimate goal is the formulation of a General Plan for the Fulton urban area.

"The General Plan may be defined as a long range, comprehensive and general physical design of a community. For the most part, the Plan is developed for a period of twenty years (1960-80). During this period, the Plan should be reviewed and amended as the changing needs of the City require. The General Plan consists basically of three elements: A Major Street Plan, a Community Facilities Plan and a Land Use Plan. Since the Planning Commission adopts the General Plan, the Plan is considered a policy statement of the City concerning the future long range physical development of the community.

"In the process of formulating the General Plan, we must divide the overall Plan into sections so that all the elements of the Plan may be studied more thoroughly.

"The Land Use Plan, then, is simply a specialized study of one of the elements of the General Plan. It is a proposed long range plan for the living and working areas of the City. By living and working areas are meant residential, commercial and industrial land use. Not only are living and working areas termed as land use but so are streets and community facilities. Since the major streets and community facilities are studied in separate General Plan reports they have not been included in the Land Use Plan.

"The Land Use Plan is a very important section of the General Plan as it deals with a major part of urban activity. However, the Land Use Plan is important for other reasons. The plan expresses community goals which are held by the residents of the community in terms of physical design. The Land Use Plan will determine what land should be used for residential, commercial, and industrial use in the future. The Plan will determine in what direction the Zoning Ordinance should be pointed as a means of carrying out the General Plan. Also the Land Use Plan will be the basis for determining future community facilities and a major circulation system.

"It should be pointed out that one of the most difficult tasks in city planning is that of predicting future physical development twenty (20) years from the present. It is not always possible to predict accurately as to what the city will be like, but it is possible to make an educated prediction - one based on facts and trends. But, even this prediction is not always completely accurate. For this reason, it is necessary for the people of Fulton to take an active interest in their city so that changes in existing conditions or values of the people may be re-expressed in the Land Use Plan and in the final overall document - the General Plan. Therefore, based on past experience, cities have found that even if physical planning predictions are not completely accurate, the fact that the city has a statement on physical development policy is far better than having no policy.

STATEMENT OF GOALS

The Land Use Plan is to be based on a set of community objectives or goals which are considered to be desirable for future physical growth. These goals are as follows:

1. Provide the City of Fulton with living and working areas which are aesthetically and functionally desirable places in which to live and work.
2. Provide the City of Fulton with a land use pattern which will allow for adequate industrial and commercial activity to serve the needs of its citizens.
3. Create a single major commerce center which will be a desirable place in which to shop and where congestion will be minimized.
4. Encourage future industrial development in order to stimulate the economic base of the City.
5. Develop the Fulton urban area in terms of a self-contained community.

I wish that we could describe to you the sadness in the eyes of hundreds of people we meet as they speak of the coveted high school diplomas they did not receive . . .

Good job opportunities will go first to those of you who finish school. You will be given applications to fill out. You will be instructed to draw a ring around the number of the last grade you completed. See that the number is at least "12". College training is, of course, better yet!!!

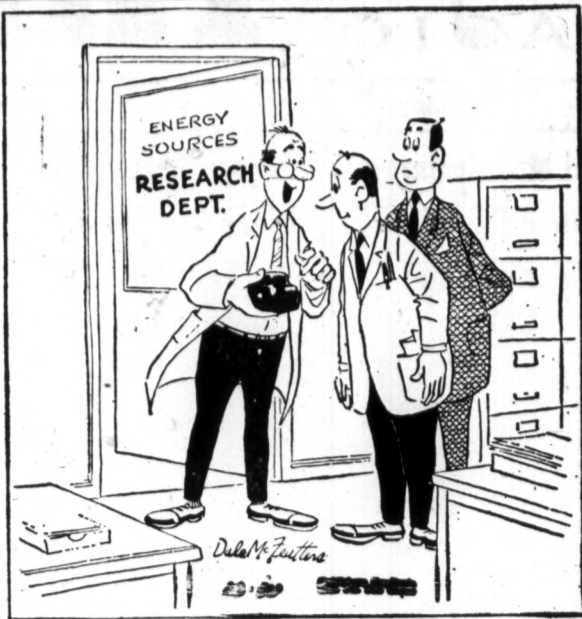

New machinery and automation processes are completely changing the industrial world as we now know it. Competition for jobs will quickly weed away bright, capable young men and women who have everything—but education!!! Apprenticeship training even now is often reserved for those with high school educations or more . . .

That high school diploma is not important to you just because of the history, the algebra, the geography you study . . . Just as participation in sports trains your body, GOING TO SCHOOL TRAINS YOU TO USE YOUR MIND—TEACHES YOU HOW TO THINK!!! This is mighty good exercise. It has never hurt anyone. Most adults could stand more of this training!!!

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week a Confederate force under Major Gen. E. Kirby Smith, having come up out of Tennessee and marched swiftly through mountainous Southeastern Kentucky, suddenly broke into the Bluegrass Region and at the Battle of Richmond virtually destroyed Union Major Gen. William Nelson's Army of Kentucky, the only sizeable Federal body of troops that had been in a position to defend Lexington, Louisville and Cincinnati.

Nelson was not at his Richmond headquarters when the approach of the Confederate troops was heralded on August 29 by skirmishing between Union outposts and the advance guard of Kirby Smith's army, which occurred about halfway between Richmond and the village of Kingston, a few miles south of the county seat.

In Nelson's absence the senior Federal officer was Brig. Gen. Mahlon D. Manson, who only sixteen months before had been a captain in the Tenth Indiana. After eight days as a captain, he had been promoted major; fifteen days after that he was a full colonel, having skipped over the grade of lieutenant colonel. He had been a general officer since the previous March.

Nelson said he had ordered Manson to avoid a fight and fall back. Instead, the Indianan marched out from Richmond to attack the invading Confederates and by 6 a. m. on August 30 had brought on a fight which proved disastrous to his mostly green and untried soldiers.

By the time Gen. Nelson reached the battlefield, the situation was past retrieving. He had come 52 miles on horseback. In view of the fact that the 6-foot, 4-inch Mason County native weighed 300 pounds, it is scarcely surprising to read in contemporary accounts of his desperate ride that he had to change horses frequently.

Just south of Richmond, and within sight of the town, Nelson met his retreating troops and managed to rally some of them by extreme measures, "even cutting down with his sword an officer who called to his men to scatter and run." He got them to make a brief stand, but the Confederate cavalry had already gained their rear, and they soon broke and ran. Nelson was fighting on, twice wounded and almost surrounded by the enemy, when one of his officers, Major Green Clay, rode alongside, seized his horse's bridle and saved Nelson's life by leading him away.

Of the Union troops, 206 had been killed, 844 wounded and 4,303 taken prisoner. Gen. Horatio Wright, Union department commander, said in his official report that the Federal force "was utterly broken up, and after all the exertions that could be made to collect the stragglers, only some 800 or 900 could be found. The remainder . . . were killed, captured, or scattered over the country." The victorious Kirby Smith had lost only 78 killed, 372 wounded, and one missing.

DEFENSE COMMUNICATIONS AND YOUR TELEPHONE COMPANY. If this country is ever attacked by enemy planes or missiles, a few minutes' warning could mean the difference between national disaster and survival. Fortunately, we have a warning system, which, in case of attack, sends out an alert over nationwide telephone and teletypewriter networks . . . which the Bell System helped build, equip or connect. In the crucial hours following an attack, Bell System circuits would carry defense communications by special routing to prevent service interruptions. This communications system is unmatched anywhere in the world and is one of America's great strengths.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Dear Diary:

This has been a week when many interesting little stories have occupied our interest. Seems as though if you engage in a conversation with anybody for very long you'll hear some kind of news that's printable and enjoyable.

Take for instance the story that Mary Arrington and her daughter Linda drove to Savannah, Georgia recently to bid farewell to Navyman Carl, who is probably on the high seas this very minute en route to Scotland. Mary and Linda started out at two a. m. on the day of their departure and drove for 17 hours until they got to their destination. The family had a wonderful week-end together and visited many of the huge ships in port with the now experienced Carl as their guide. Coming home Linda and Mary broke the trip with a stopover along the way, with many wonderful memories of their last visit with Carl until next Spring.

It was nice to have a short, grocery-store visit with former Fultonian Jennings Kearby who, with his family, was home to visit with friends and relatives over the Labor Day week-end. Jennings reports that he is now connected with the legal department of the Army Engineers with headquarters in Louisville and keeps a close contact with everything in Fulton and the surrounding area. Jennings formerly practiced law in Fulton and was at one time representative from Fulton and Hickman counties.

Attorney Charlie Fields is one of those real "thoughty" guys. Last week he visited his friend Ed Neely, a patient in the Hill-view Hospital, and brought him a beautifully "decorated" bunch of flowers. It was not until Ed opened the bouquet that he found they were of the wild growing variety. The incident brought a good laugh to Ed and all concerned so the little prank was therapeutic, if not deliciously scented.

Ruth Caldwell Wright took off for Norfolk, Va. Tuesday morning to join Navy Officer husband Don Wright who will be arriving in these United States sometime this week-end. Don has been stationed in Iceland for the past four months and his next tour will be on the mainland for a nice long spell. Ruth had an amazing experience last Saturday while visiting with her in-laws Mary Nelle and Doc Wright. The three of them were sitting in the den of the Wright home when a tele-

Miss Judy Browning, Allen Singleton Wed In Quiet Ceremony Here Monday

In a ceremony marked by beauty and simplicity, Miss Judy Browning and Julius Allen Singleton were wed Monday, September 3, in the parlor of the First Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Browning, 514 Third Street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Singleton, Idalou, Texas.

The 1:30 P. M. ceremony was performed before the immediate families by the Rev. William T. Barnes, pastor of the Church.

Mrs. Leonora Bushart, pianist, played "Traumerei" and "Romance" preceding the ceremony, and during the exchange of vows she played Meditation (Bach-Gounod). The traditional Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin (Wagner) and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were used for the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white peau de soie, which featured a square neckline and brief sleeves. Her bell shaped skirt was accented at the waist by a single duchess rose. A matching duchess silk rose with a circular veil served as her headpiece.

Miss Mary Ann Bennett was the bride's only attendant. She wore a beige silk brocade dress with cape sleeves and sheath skirt.

vision show called "The Story of Annapolis" came on the screen. Since Don is a Naval Academy graduate they stopped everything and watched the show. Can't you imagine their surprise (understatement) when the story unfolded about the various studies taught at Annapolis and one of the cadets shown in the class was none other than Don. There was no mistaking his identity for he was shown not once, but twice in full view. The Wrights said that Don had told them about the show being filmed about four years ago, but the family had never seen it. Late is better than never, and let's more fun.

We hope that by the time this column reaches you that little Renee Hill will be well on her way to recovery. Renee, Exie and

For traveling, Mrs. Singleton wore a green dress of light-weight wool with black accessories.

The bride was graduated from Fulton High School and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Lambuth College, Jackson, Tennessee. At Lambuth she was class officer, a class favorite and a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Mr. Singleton was graduated from Idalou High School. He received his Bachelor's degree from Texas Technological College at Lubbock, Texas, and his Master's degree from Sul Ross State College, Alpine, Texas. He is an alumni of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, and a member of the Southern Political Science Association.

Upon returning from their wedding trip, the couple will establish their home at Natchitoches, Louisiana, where Mr. Singleton will serve as an instructor in the Social Science Department at Northwestern State College.

William Hill's granddaughter was hit by an automobile while the youngster was riding on her bicycle. Painfully, but not seriously hurt, the youngster had a mighty close call.

Good ole family reunions have occurred in Fulton here of late. Vernon and Norma Owen had their two children, little Norma and Rice and their spouses home for the holidays. Norma, as you know is now Mrs. Carlisle Davis and lives in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Rice and his lovely wife Barbara are living in Biloxi, Mississippi where Rice is an officer at Keesler Field.

And Harry and Marian Murphy had their two children Cissy (Hatfield) and Billy home recently. Three generations of kinfolks (grandparents, children and grandchildren) enjoyed the gathering with one absence to mar the event. Cissy's husband, Gene, is in far off Japan serving with the Army, but surely he was there in spirit.

Fulton's huge, lady golfing contingent will be interested in knowing that Mrs. Ed Fritts has been named president of the Union City Ladies Golf Association. Others elected are: 1st vice president, Mrs. Bob Williams; 2nd vice president, Mrs. A. J. Luther; secretary, Mrs. Bedford Dunavant; treasurer, Mrs. James Rippey Sr.; and reporter, Mrs. Tom Cowden.

Millions of Americans eat margarine to save money. They prefer butter, but it's "the higher-priced spread." Not, however, because butter's scarce. U. S. Department of Agriculture has 280 million pounds of surplus butter in storage—enough to give a pound and half to every American.

Instead of giving it to Americans, the government is donating 200 million pounds to other countries. To keep it from spoiling, money will be spent to process it into butter oil. So consider this: You pay for the price-support program. You pay for storage. You pay for shipping and giving it away to consumers of another country. And, here at home, you pay more for butter at the store, or do without.

Carlos and Kathryn Lannon and the Kelly girls of Frankfort and Lexington were visitors in Western Kentucky this week-end. Carlos and Kathryn joined Elise and Julius Falkoff of Hickman on a house-boat visit on Kentucky Lake while Judy and Bobby Kelly visited with Mozelle Travis, Mildred Whipple and her son Jimmy, Helen Stone and other Hickman folks who have those lovely homes on Kentucky Lake. Joy and Fred Stokes, Jr. and their children Sandra and Cubb were also guests at the Whipple cottage for the holiday week-end, so it seems that everybody had a visiting good time.

Governor and Mrs. Bert Combs and their daughter Lois also enjoyed the Kentucky Lake area for the holiday week-end. The Governor was bitten by a "virus bug" recently that prevented his participating in the dedication of the new lodge at Pennyrile State Park at Dawson Springs. The family drove to Kentucky Dam and was planning a visit in Fulton, but the bad weather Monday and a previous commitment in Dawson Springs Tuesday had the hostess issuing a "rain check" for a later date.

Mrs. Hester Peoples, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Durr and Stephen of Cedar Rapids were week-end visitors of the J. C. Olives and the Lester Browns.

Kentucky Dairy Princess In National Contest

Miss Marinell Myers, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Myers, Lynn Grove, Ky., leaves September 9 for Chicago to compete for the title of American Dairy Princess, the dairy industry's highest honor. She is Kentucky's hope for winning the 8th Annual National American Dairy Princess title.

Miss Myers and 31 other state finalists represent some 30,000 young women who have sought the title this year. The Kentucky princess is experienced in milking cows and is a lovely testimonial to the value of milk and other dairy foods in the diet.

Miss Myers is a graduate of Murray State College with a Major in Home Economics. She plans to enter the Home Demonstration field in Extension this Fall. She was selected as Kentucky Dairy Princess in February of this year.

Around and About Our Town

By Baby Nohler

A cheery Good Morning to everyone!

Our town is undergoing many changes. Soon the Fulton Hotel, one of our oldest landmarks, will have passed into history and a modernistic Post Office will be built in its place.

We are looking forward with great anticipation to the building of the rest home that will be across from Hillview Hospital. It will be a great asset to the city of Fulton.

Our deepest sympathy and prayers go out to Mrs. Bob Harris whose mother passed away last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Bowen was a faithful Christian and as long as her health would permit, she was always in her place in church. We loved Mrs. Bowen and she will be greatly missed.

Sorry Mrs. Willie Hall has had a light attack of pneumonia but glad she is better at this time.

Mrs. Erith Nall really had a good time at the picnic of the ladies Bible Class of the C. P. Church which was held in the City Park last Monday night.

Mrs. Mary Ette Norman is a very happy mother this week as she has her son Harold of Midletown home for a visit.

Mrs. Bertha Letcher and Mrs. Byrda Garvey spent last weekend in St. Louis.

Mrs. Louis Holly and Mrs. Edith Nall called on Mrs. J. C. Reese in the Walnut Grove Community last Friday morning. They brought back a big mess of turnip greens. Yum-yum, I know they were delicious.

Mrs. Ralph Smith's father Mr.

Boncers of McKenzie, underwent surgery at the Obion County Hospital last Tuesday. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Taylor and Mrs. Edith Nall had as their supper guests last Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Kimble and their sons Larry Dean and Gayle. Larry leaves this Monday night for Clovis, New Mexico. From there he will leave in a few days for England where he will remain for three years. Larry was a graduate of the 1960 graduating class of South Fulton High School.

We wish for him and safe and pleasant trip.

Mrs. Fred Brady called on Mrs. Susie Hillman last Saturday morning. Mrs. Hillman is one of our shut-ins but is able to be back home again.

Mrs. C. B. Connell visited with Mrs. Edith Nall last Saturday afternoon.

Billie Joe Draughn left last week after having spent twelve wonderful days in Fulton visiting her mother Mignon and his grandmother Mrs. Charles Oliver and

Grigsby-Wallace Vows Pledged In Texas Wedding

Of wide interest in this area is the marriage of Miss Nelda Faye Grigsby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Grigsby, Longview, Texas, and James Earl (Jimmy) Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Broadrick, Longview, Texas, and formerly of Fulton.

The vows were solemnized Saturday, August 18, in the Wesley Methodist Church in Longview with Robert O. Feather, Dallas, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was radiant in her wedding gown fashioned of peau de ange lace and silk organza. Her veil was of white French illusion falling from a Queens crown studded with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations and pale yellow roses tied with white satin ribbons.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Don Elrod, matron of honor, and Mrs. Richard Lucas and Miss Jan Hinkle, bridesmaids. They were attired in identical costumes of maize silk organza over taffeta. They wore head-pieces of softly crushed maize organza and carried cascade designed bouquets of yellow spider mums and bronze pom pom chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom was attended by her grandfather, Harvey M. Pewitt of Fulton, as his best man. Ushers were Lee Gresham, Bill Bolger, Jimmie Grigsby, Jim Cross and Bill Head.

The couple are now at home at 7102 Pipeline Road in Fort Worth, Texas.

Miss Hamilton Is Bride Of Chapman Burnett

Miss Judy Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. James Judy Hamilton and the late Mr. Hamilton of Georgetown, and Mr. Chapman O'Neill Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry Burnett of Mayfield, were married September 1 in Georgetown at the First Christian Church.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a classic gown of ivory peau de sole with sculptured bodice, semi-belted skirt and court train. She wore an antique ivory Brussels lace veil and carried white roses and stephanotis on a Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. James H. Armstrong of Georgetown. Other Bridal attendants were Mrs. Will Howe Frisoe of Mayfield, Mrs. William Snyder of Lexington, Mrs. William Shively of Somerset and Miss Peggy Brumleve of Lexington.

They wore identically-styled floor length dresses of apricot par-fait taffeta and short old fashioned capes of contrasting velvet. Flat taffeta bows were worn in their hair. They carried muffs of autumn flowers.

Mr. Joseph Henry Burnett of Mayfield served his son as best man. Ushers included Mr. Ben Oldham of Georgetown, Carl Taylor of Mt. Vernon, Illinois, Preston White of Lexington and Dan Sharp of Mayfield.

The couple will reside in Lexington following their wedding trip.

"Annual Day" To Feature Fashion Show

The Annual Day Program of the Fulton County Home Makers will be presented at the First Methodist Church, Hickman, Ky., September 11, 1962. Registration will begin at 10:00 A. M. The Rev. Loyal Hartman will give the devotional. Followed by roll call.

The delegates to the National Conference of Federated Home makers Clubs, held in Lexington, Ky. August 12 through 16, will have a "gab fest" about their experiences. Mrs. W. B. McLeod, County Home Agent, will make her report. The ladies of the church will serve the lunch.

In the afternoon there will be a fashion show. Cottons for all occasions, featuring the newest fabric finishes and the latest McCall' patterns, will be presented.

The fashion collection, "Cavalade of Cottons, 1962," is made available as a loan service co-sponsored by the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tennessee, and the Pattern Division of McCall Corporation, New York City.

Round-the-clock apparel ranges from housecoat to formal and includes several styles for children. Thirteen well-known American fabric houses are represented by cottons—summer sheers to winter corduroys—washable, wrinkle-resistant and easy-to-care-for.

The fabric and fashion story of 1962 is highlighted by color notes such as the patriotic red, white and blue look in gingham and sports cottons, the sundrenched citrus shades in prints, and neutral tones of toast, beige, camel, black and white for town and travel.

Patterns follow designers' choice of the soft silhouette for suits, coats, and dresses. A short, demi-fitted jacket is the shape that tops skirts as well as dresses. Both

Spirit Of Togetherness Binds Residents Of West State Line After Labor Day Fun

Nobody can say that a spirit of togetherness doesn't exist among the people on West State Line Road these days. There have been several new families moving in out in that area and the folks decided that they didn't know each other very well and something should be done about it.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milam, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hawks and Mike, Miss Susan Byars, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Easley, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Olive, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Olive, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dale Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hardy.

Diary

A group of relatives and friends delightfully surprised Loyd Wilds Monday at his home in Dukedom with a lovely birthday dinner. It was held in honor of his 65th birthday.

The guests arrived bearing food and gifts for the honored guest and a very happy occasion was celebrated by all.

The Welfare Workers Home Demonstration Club picnic was held at the new Travelers Inn Restaurant August 22 with twelve members present.

The officers of the club received lovely gifts and corsages for their past year's service.

Fulton lost several fine families last week when the Kentucky Utilities families who were still living here moved to Clinton. Those who made the move were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mullins and children Diane and Doug; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrow and son, Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Smith.

Kellena Durbin, Gertrude Murphy, Virginia Workman and Mary Alice Coleman, members of the Fulton Business and Professional Woman's Club, attended the hat sale at the Cabana Club in Paducah last week. The sale was sponsored by the Paducah B. and P. W.

Vernon said that five years ago I started killing Paul. (Some people may cite an earlier figure since he's lived with me nearly 23 years.) This calculated homicide (or is it husbandicide) started when Paul was over forty and I failed to change his diet from meat and potatoes to black-strap molasses, yogurt, wheat, germ, kelp and roschips.

That last ingredient I don't know about. I'm an old girdle advocate myself. Vernon proves his nutrition theory by pointing to Oak Ridge, Tenn., "the home of the Ph. D's" he says. Yogurt and other nutritional foods are eaten with gusto in that atomic energy city. This statistic might prove that Vernon's diet is good for the body and the mind. Seems to me that SOMEBODY ought to start marketing this yogurt on a large scale. Vernon makes his own, he says. Drinks it even before it becomes full scale yogurt.

But until the ingredient becomes a product in the mass consumption department it'll be "Arsenic and poor Paul," at our house.

Fulton City, County Schools Rank High In Graduates, College Goers

A six-year turned study just completed on the holding power and whereabouts of recent graduates of all Kentucky high schools shows Fulton County high schools ranked above the state average in terms of low-average drop-outs.

The study, made by the research division of the State Department of Education, shows that of 190 students who entered the ninth grade during the 1957 school year, 129 of them, or 67.9 per cent, were graduated from high school in 1961.

The state average is 61.4 per cent and the average for both public and non-public schools is 63 percent.

The study also shows that these same schools were above the state average in the percentage of 1961 graduates who entered college.

Of the students who were graduated in 1961, 55, or 42.6 per cent, entered college during the fall of 1961. The state average was 36.7 per cent.

The Fulton City School District ranked 11th in the state in percentage of students graduating from high school. Of the 57 ninth grade students in 1957, 47 graduated in 1961 for a percentage of 82.5.

That same district ranked 6th in the state in the number of students attending college for at least one year. Of the 47 who graduated in 1961, 32 went on to a college or university to make a percentage of 68.1.

reason for this is that the be-hemoths are inveterate souvenir snatchers and if their trunks were not occupied they would snatch ladies pocketbooks, hats, canes or anything else within reach.

Circus people call all elephants "Bulls" although most of the beasts appearing with circuses today are females. Male elephants are too unpredictable for safe contact with crowds.

One hour before each performance of the A. G. Kelly and Miller Bros. Circus at 1:30 and 7:00 p. m. the giant traveling menagerie containing the herd of elephants will be open. In addition to the elephants over 200 rare and wild animals will be on display. The big circus performances will start at 3:30 and 8:00 p. m. and consist of many new and novel acts.

The circus is being sponsored here by the Fulton Shrine Club. Tickets for area youngsters were bought by Fulton merchants earlier this summer, thus providing circus entertainment for many children who would not otherwise be able to attend.

Bulldogs Win First Game Of Season; Rated Ninth In Kentucky This Week

The Fulton High School Bulldogs were rated Number Nine in the state in the first Litkenhous ratings in the Louisville Courier-Journal this week. This high rating came on the heels of the Bulldogs' 6-0 victory over the ever-strong Mayfield Cardinals at Mayfield Saturday night.

This was only the fifth time that the Bulldogs had beaten Mayfield since the series began in 1922.

Coach Chester Caddas' team scored the game's lone touchdown in the second quarter when quarterback Johnny Covington carried the ball over from the one-yard line to climax a drive of 67 yards.

Terry Beadles passed to Covington for the extra point on a fake-kick play, but officials ruled that the former's knee was touching the ground when he received the snap from center and the point was nullified.

The Cardinals never seriously threatened the Fulton team during any portion of the game.

The Bulldogs travel to Sharon, Tennessee, Friday night for their second game of the season.

in Jackson, Tennessee. Sandra Williams, who received her coveted cap in ceremonies last spring, will be in her second year of nursing training at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis this fall.

And so, the Halls of Ivy will soon be teeming with students once more—a good many of these from our own small but educated town of Fulton. It's possible that we've missed someone in our list of returnees. We'd like to hear from them if possible so as to give credit where credit is due.

Hunting Season Looks Like Best Ever Says Fish And Wildlife Department

With early indications of a bumper crop of most game birds and animals, Kentucky nimrods are anticipating one of the best over-all hunting seasons in recent years, according to the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Already the squirrel hunters have found a good crop of bushy-tails and the supply of doves, season for which opened on Sept. 1, indicates good shooting for this game bird in many sections of Kentucky.

Field surveys from Kentucky biologists and conservation officers, and reports from farmers and sportsmen indicate the rabbit crop should far exceed that of last year, while the quail population is improved over the 1961 season. Department personnel point out that the breeding season for these species was exceedingly good this year and that the reproduction has been good. With favorable weather conditions continuing, the supply of quail and rabbits should be highly favorable on the opening of the season on Nov. 15.

The deer herd in Kentucky has increased from year to year and additional counties have been opened to both gun and archery hunters each season. The achery

Dog Damages Paid Farmers In County

Fulton County property owners have received a $564.30 share of the $37,218.63 reimbursement that has been made to Kentucky property owners for losses due to dogs, Agriculture Commissioner Emerson Beauchamp announced here today.

Payments were for losses occurring between July 1, 1961, and June 30, 1962. Beauchamp declared that payments have been made on the basis of the full, current market value of the animals destroyed or injured. These latest indemnities bring to $330,397.81 the total amount of payments that have been made from the State Livestock Fund since it was started eight years ago. He explained that these payments were made from the State Livestock Fund that is accumulated from the sale of dog licenses.

In order for a claim to be valid, Beauchamp said, three conditions must be met: 1. The ownership of the dog or dogs causing the damage must be unknown. 2. The county where the loss occurs must be in compliance with the dog law through the sale of licenses and the operation of a dog pound. 3. The owner sustaining the loss must not own or harbor any unlicensed dogs.

Kentucky To Present 59th Annual State Fair For Nine-Days Of Fun

Kentucky puts its proudest fair forward Friday, Sept. 7, opening the 59th annual exhibition of the State Fair for a nine-day run with the spotlight on a much-discussed "out front" arrangement.

Spread across the front areas of the Coliseum and Exposition Wings in easier-to-see locations will be miles of farm equipment, military "hardware", the civic and Olyson Shows midways, entertainment zones, rest and picnic areas, and dozens of exciting exhibits.

Visitors coming through the entrances in front will be amazed by the dramatic change in the Fair's "face". Patrons will be greeted by thousands of flashing lights, bubbling fountains, music and pageantry. Wind-whipped flags and banners and the feel and sounds of Kentucky's biggest annual show in motion.

Jamming every inch of indoor space will be the pride of Kentucky's fields and gardens. One of the largest livestock shows ever held in the State Fair will be on view when judging begins Monday, Sept. 10. Entries in the Youth Departments and the open classes are expected to reach record totals and the Livestock Wing is certain to overflow.

Fair-goers are promised some type of activity every hour throughout the nine day exposition, beginning with Governor's Day on Sept. 7, and ending with the important championship stakes night at the Horse Show on Sept. 15.

Sandwiched in between these two events will be three days of championship Rodeo action, starting the rough and tough stock of Tommy Steiner, point-happy cowboys from across the nation, and "Big Boss" and "Ben Cartwright" of the TV Bonanza show. The Rodeo runs through Sept. 9 with 3:30 and 8:00 PM shows the first two days, and 3:30 PM only on September 9.

Starting their week-long run on opening day will be the two big variety shows featuring the Union Barrack-Ades and the Blue Grass Belles. Both shows will be staged free of charge from 7 to 8 PM and 8 to 9 PM in the East Exposition Wing. The shows also are set for 2 and 3 PM shows on Sun. Sept. 9.

Each day free shows will be presented in a new rest and amusement area around the center circle in front of giant Freedom Hall. There will be daily band concerts, choral groups and radio-television shows on this stage with plentiful seating for foot-weary Fair-goers.

State Handicapped Helped Through Rehabilitation

A record-breaking 1,776 mentally and physically handicapped Kentuckians were rehabilitated during the past fiscal year by the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services of the Kentucky Department of Education.

Ben F. Coffman, director of the bureau, said this figure is a 20 per cent increase over the 1,475 persons rehabilitated in 1960-61.

The bureau does not classify a person as rehabilitated until he is fully employed. Coffman said many of those rehabilitated had previously been receiving relief payments.

In Fulton County six persons were rehabilitated and 28 cases served by the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services.

CLEAN CONDITIONS!

Scientists build satellites under sterile conditions that suggest a hospital operating room. Before assembling the electronic messengers, they scrub hands like doctors and vacuum clean their shoes. Even a smudgy thumbprint on a vital part of a satellite could cause contamination and weaken its resistance to the hazards of space.

Ouida Jewell In Top Group Of Sales Force

Ouida Jewell, National Investors representative for Fulton County, was in seventh place in the state upon entering the third and final phase of a three-months contest being conducted by her company.

The second phase of the contest ended with the top eleven representatives in close-running for the number-one spot.

The top two winners of the first phase were awarded money; the second phase winners, stock in the company; and the Number One Representative in the state at the close of the contest will receive a new car.

Out of one hundred and twenty-one representatives over Kentucky, only the top twenty are eligible to participate in the final phase of the contest for the car.

Miss Jewell is listed among the "Buzin' Dozen" and has been listed among the "Top Ten for the Week" much of the time since she has been with National Investors Life Insurance Company of Kentucky, of which Harry Lee Waterfield, former Lt. Governor, is president.

Miss Jewell asks that those planning to take a Charter Contract, to contact her within the next few days as she will leave on vacation on Sept. 15.

and the third dose on December 12th. The Health Center in Fulton and Cary Elementary School have been designated as the two stations for administering the vaccine. Stations for administering the vaccine in Hickman will be announced later.

Dr. Peterson estimated that approximately 8000 persons will take the vaccine in Fulton County. Administering the Sabin vaccine is another effort to stamp out the danger of polio, greatly halted by the discovery of the Salk vaccine several years ago.

The response to the mass immunization program in other communities in the Nation has been highly successful. Persons of all ages have received the first dose on a voluntary basis.

Dr. Peterson has invited neighboring communities and counties in which the vaccine will not be given to participate in the Fulton County project. At a later date a registration blank will be printed in the News asking parents to register themselves and other members of the family before the date of the mass immunization in order to expedite the program.

Those persons receiving the vaccine will be asked to contribute 25 cents, however no person will be refused the vaccine for lack of funds.
