SGT. ROBERT H. HAMPTON WRITES HOME

Feb. 4, 1944

Dear Elizabeth:—

I have been away on a three day pass, I made the trip by plane to Recife, which is about 200 miles. It was a fairly enjoyable trip and I enjoyed the plane ride as much as anything. It was also nice to get away from the hospital for awhile.

Recife, with a population of 300,000 is a much better city than Natal. It has a few neon lights, lots of street cars and a few pretty women.

The USO has a nice club there and the center of attraction for me was the soda fountain, the first I had seen since leaving the U. S. I like to have overdone the thing by drinking too many coca colas.

There is a coca cola plant at Rio, but we rarely get any here.

I thought of you on your birthday, February 2nd. That also is the anniversary of our arrival at this base. The boys used that as an excuse to celebrate and had about 100 girls from Natal come out. (They were what you might call the cream of the crop—some very beautiful) with two orchestras, Brazilian and Army. We put on a dance which turned out to be a very good party. Everyone seemed to have a good time. Most of the girl's fathers and mothers came along. That is a custom down here among the better class, any way it was a good neighborly party.

I am saving most of my celebrating for the time when this war is over. That sure will be a great day. I believe it should be over in Europe this year and everything with Japan should be settled some time in 1946.

Mona Massey was here several days ago and sang several songs at the show one night. She sure has a good voice.

Hope it is not too cold there and the Hickman hills are not too slippery.

Love, from your brother,
Sgt. Robert H. Hampton

CITY SCHOOL TEACHERS TO RECEIVE INCREASE IN WAGES

Teachers of the Fulton City schools will receive an increase in their wages of $11.09, beginning last September. Supt. Lewis was informed that the school district would receive a check for $3,104.92 for the increase in teachers salaries and the substitute's salary is also included in the increase.

Each teacher will receive the six months increase in one check and the checks will probably arrive some time next week, and from now on the increase will be added to the monthly checks.

Y. M. C. HAS BUSINESS MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

The Young Men's Business Club held its regular dinner meeting Tuesday night. Twenty-seven members were present at the meeting. A delicious fish supper was served by W. J. Coulter, owner of the Coffee Shop. The chairman of the entertainment committee was Vernon Owen. An important business meeting was taken up in the Rationing office after the supper.

A discussion of the Waste Paper drive was held and a committee was appointed to call on all business firms of Fulton to save their waste paper. The Y. M. C. will also sponsor the drive with the assistance of the Boy and Girl Scouts of Fulton.

Cpl. Guy Fry, a member of the club was present at the meeting and made an interesting talk, which was enjoyed by the members of the club.

SGT. ROPER HENRY HERO IN PACIFIC

Marine 1st Sgt. Roper Henry of Hickman, Route 4, jumped in the middle of burning ammunition and smothered spreading flames when bomb fragments ripped into a pile of artillery shells, starting a fire during an enemy air raid.

While the Jap planes were pressing the attack and bombs were still falling 1st Sgt. Henry left the protection of his foxhole to deal with the fire. He kicked the burning shells aside and put out the flames in the loose powder by scooping up dirt with his hands. He was only slightly burned.

His commanding officer credited 1st Sergeant Henry's courageous action with saving a vital supply of ammunition and the prevention of possible casualties by extinguishing the fire before any of the ammunition exploded.

Sgt. Henry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henry of near Cayce and a brother of Mrs. Murrell Williams. He has served with the Marine Corps overseas for the past three years and was in the Guadalcanal campaign and also at Bougainville. He is a graduate of the Cayce High School.

DEATHS

G. W. HALL

G. W. Hall, age 88, died Tuesday morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John T. Edwards, in Memphis, after an extended illness. Funeral services were held from the First Baptist church in Martin, Wednesday at 3 p.m., by his pastor, Dr. H. H. Boston, and interment followed in East Side cemetery in Martin. W. W. Jones & Sons were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Hall was born at Mt. Peila on Nov. 15, 1855, and was a retired merchant, having spent a number of years in the mercantile business. He was a deacon in the First Baptist church for more than 50 years. He married Miss Sallie I. Freeman, and to this union were born five children. One son, John, and his companion, preceded him in death. After a fall, he was removed to Memphis where he underwent an operation and treatment.

He is survived by two sons, Frank and George Hall, both of Martin, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. John T. Edwards and Mrs. Neva H. Savage, both of Memphis; five grandchildren; two great grandchildren; two brothers, H. E. Hall of Indianapolis, Ind., and Rev. Albert S. Hall of Texas. He was a cousin of the late Hon. Frank Hall of Fulton.

A PAIR OF SPRING SOCKS

MAYFIELD BEATS FULTON FOR THE SECOND TIME

For the second time this season the Mayfield Cardinals ran over the Fulton Bulldogs on the Card's floor Tuesday night with a final score of 46 to 23. In the first quarter the Cardinals led 9 to 8, and after that the defense of the Bulldogs wilted and the Cards ran the score up heavily. Davis led the scoring for the Cards with twelve points, and Parham, Forrest and Barron tied at five points each for the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs play their final game here tonight when the powerful Clinton team comes to the local floor. In an earlier game in the season the Clinton team beat the Bulldogs.

FULTON RED CROSS NEEDS WORKERS IN BIG PROGRAM HERE

After being out of work for several weeks because of a lack of materials, the Fulton Chapter of the American Red Cross has again resumed activity of several worthy projects, and workers, sewers and knitters are needed to complete this program, according to Mrs. Hazel Scruggs, executive secretary.

Large assignments have been made in surgical dressings and local help is vital to the success of the program. Mrs. E. H. Knighton succeeds Mrs. Maxwell McDade as chairman of this phase of the work. Mrs. McDade has done a splendid job as chairman since she took over this job about a year ago. She will serve as assistant to Mrs. Knighton.

Large assignments of surgical dressings are now ready for shipment as follows: 99,000 4x4s, 21,000 4x8s, 30,000 2x2s for a total of 150,600 dressings.

The new assignment in surgical dressings consists of 2x2s, 4x4s, 4x8s and absorbent pads. Mrs. Raymond Lynch was chairman of the work Tuesday, assisted by Mrs. E. H. Knighton. Wednesday, Mrs. Guy Gingles, chairman, Mrs. Abe Jolley vice chairman; Thursday, Mrs. Ronald Jones and Mrs. Joe H. Friday, Mrs. Ward McClellan and Mrs. Joe Armstrong. This work is being done in the new Carr Institute building, between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m. Many more workers are needed, and anyone who can aid in this war effort is requested to contact one of the chairmen. No night classes at the present time due to heating difficulties. But morning classes will be announced soon.

The new sewing assignment has begun with Mrs. Ernest Fall, chairman, each Wednesday from 1 until 3 p. m. at the post office. The assignment consists of hospital comfort articles for the Army and Navy hospitals and consists of the following items: 200 bedside bags, 100 bedpan covers, 144 housewives, 200 kit bags, 100 bedroom mules. Any one who can help please contact Mrs. Fall.

The knitting project consists of a large amount of Army drab yarn which is to be made into sleeveless sweaters and helmets. Those who can knit contact Mrs. Annie Moore, chairman, or phone 58.

BULLDOGS DEFEAT HICKMAN WILDCATS

Playing in fine form, the Fulton Bulldogs obtained revenge for an early season defeat, by winning a close game 39 to 3.

Jimmy Lansden did a topnotch job of guarding big Carl Hall of Hickman, who scored 21 points against Fulton in the game played here early in the season. Meanwhile he managed to turn in 11 points for his team, to tie with Forrest for high scoring record.

Every member of the team was on his toes, and the victory was due to the fine teamwork of the entire squad.

Lineup—
Hickman, 33
G—Hurt, 10
G—Stokes, 1
C—Hall, 6
F—Forsythe, 7
F—Dotson, 4

In the preliminary game the Hickman Kittens defeated the Bulldogs 22 to 21, which was a bitterly contested tilt throughout.

W. W. Jones Ambulance

Mrs. Jack Fuqua was carried back to the Baptist hospital Sunday and was operated on Wednesday and is expected to have two more lung operations before her return home.

Mrs. W. A. Lenbeck and daughters were carried from the hospital to their home on Fonville Tuesday morning, and they are getting along well.

ROTARY CLUB IN ANNUAL LADIES PROGRAM HERE

Carr Institute was the scene of the Annual Ladies Night Program sponsored by the Fulton Rotary Club, when about seventy attended a fine dinner and program. Joe Davis, president, welcomed the many guests, and pointed out the value of civic clubs remaining active in these war times.

Rev. R. D. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist church, was chairman of the entertainment program, and he pushed it through with real zeal. His contest program kept those present on their toes, and moved the crowd about in such fashion as to bring all in contact with one another.

Rev. T. J. Scott led the community singing and he and his talented wife rendered several vocal numbers.

Herman Freeman, and his wife, were guests. Mr. Freeman who recently returned to the United States after extended overseas service, expressed his gratitude in being back in this country, and told of some of the horrors of war on the battlefronts in the South Pacific.

Members of the decoration committee did a splendid job in harmony with the season, following out the idea of Washington's birthday.

INFLATION, THE BOGEY MAN

"The threat of inflation is being used as a bogey man to induce a nation to accept social reform, regimentation, limitation of opportunity and incentive. Before the war ends, it will be used to hide social economic mistakes and to conceal from the public the sad state of economic affairs into which the nation has been thrown."

"Inflation comes when there is too much money and too few things to buy. High prices result from inflation—they are not the cause. Inflation is avoided, or remedied by increased production—not by regulation. To date, our government has done much to promote inflation, including propagandizing it, and nothing to prevent it."—F. H. Sexauer, President, Dairymen's League Cooperative Association of New York.

SAVE THE CHICKS

The loss of a baby chick a few hours old wouldn't seem to have any great bearing on our war effort, but the War Food Administration is concerned over the loss of baby chicks in shipping, as a result of suffocation, chilling, overheating, or mishandling. It is asking the cooperation of railroads, express and postal employees in more careful treatment of little chicks. Aside from the importance of giving all living things humane treatment, the practical necessity for doing so now is urgent.

If saving a baby chick is important in conserving the nation's resources, it is equally important to save all useful products and materials. Let others besides those handling baby chicks, take this lesson to heart and save time and materials wherever possible—it all goes into the grand total of production which is necessary to assure victory.

"Freedom of speech is the precious right of all persons. It is not lost because one becomes an employer of his fellowmen, nor should it be lost by an employee when he associates himself with a union."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A PLEA FOR BROTHERHOOD

By RUTH TAYLOR

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou will keep the United States in Thy holy protection; that Thou will incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large."

It is fitting that Washington's prayer after his inauguration should be the prayer with which we celebrate Brotherhood Week. Our nation was founded upon the principle which is the foundation of all monotheistic religions—the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man. We gave allegiance to this credo when we accepted as the cornerstone of this republic, the declaration that all men are created equal.

Consider the prayer of our first President. He prayed first for divine protection for the United States. Next for the willingness of Americans to submit themselves to the laws which they themselves should make, to the will of the majority, and lastly he prayed that they have brotherly affection and love for one another as fellow citizens.

Here was no mention of race, creed or color. Here were drawn none of the differentiating lines of the Old World. He prayed to the Father of all mankind that His children might recognize their kinship and display the spirit of brotherhood.

Our need for brotherhood is even greater today than it was when the republic was founded. If we are to survive as a nation, if we are to take our proper place in the world of nations, we must have brotherhood—not a condescending charity toward those whose ancestry, faith or work is different than ours, but a whole hearted acceptance of the kinship of all right thinking men, of the brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God. America is made up of all races and creeds, but Americans if honest, must respect individuals for what they are, regardless of color or creed.

This Is a Bicycle Built for TWO!

Cal Alley in Nashville Banner

The strength of brotherhood is the strength of love. If we as individuals cannot get along with our neighbors, how can we ever hope to live peaceably with other nations. Prejudices and bigotry are the subterfuge and the foundation of all wars.

The full expression of brotherhood is the Golden Rule which has never been surpassed as the most practical rule of life and as the only basis for peace on earth. As we celebrate the birthday of the Father to our country during Brotherhood Week, let us pause to pledge ourselves again to that Golden Rule of Life—"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets."

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Flour that has been enriched with certain vitamins and minerals is one of the good things to come out of this war period. In appearance and taste it does not differ from other flour, but the added vitamin B's have been found to keep nerves steady and prevent digestive disturbances, while the iron makes for good blood.

Patriotic millers have complied with the government's request that flour milled for home use be so treated, and as a result, the labels on their bags are stamped "Enriched." But because all millers have not done so, it is up to the homemakers to ask for and buy only flour that is so labeled. In most instances the cost is the same, while the food value is much greater.

er. Whole wheat flour does not need enrichment.

Cherry Upside-Down Cake

1-3 cup fat
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2-3 cup milk
1-3-4 cups enriched flour
2-1-2 teaspoons baking powder
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
Sift sugar and flour before measuring, then add salt and baking powder and sift again. Cream fat, add sugar gradually and beat until light and fluffy. Separate yolks from whites; beat yolks in to sugar mixture, then add flour and milk alternately, starting and ending with flour. Beat one minute. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and pour over cherry mixture.

CHERRY MIXTURE: Melt four tablespoons of butter in a cake and mix. On this arrange 2 cups of red cherries thoroughly drained and cover with cake batter. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 50 minutes or until done. Loosen cake from sides of pan and turn out at once. Serve fruit side up, hot or cold, with cream or whipped cream.

Menus: Baked fish, scalloped potatoes, harvard beets, combination vegetable salad, corn sticks and butter, and cherry upside-down cake.

SAFETYGRAMS

Recently, while driving with some friends I noticed that the driver of the car was exceeding the speed limit considerably, especially in view of wartime restrictions, and I called his attention to that fact.

In addition, I noticed that he was constantly taking his eyes off the road for just a few seconds to glance at me and emphasize some point in our conversation.

I asked him if he would drive blindfolded for just one second at 60 miles per hour. He said, "Are you crazy?" I replied, "No, I'm not, but that's what you have been doing right along."

At 60 miles per hour, your car travels 80.8 feet per second. With your eyes off the road for just one second, you are tempting Providence. It's a good way to die quickly—driving blindfolded at 60 miles per hour.

Keep your eyes on the road—you will live longer.

"A devotion to the concept that complicated matters of government must increasingly be done through administrative agencies, is misguided if it leads in any degree toward the totalitarian goal of uncontrolled authority in any agent of government." — Charles F. Short, Jr., Chicago attorney.

"The American people inherit an obsession that government itself is some sort of tyranny. Government only becomes a tyrant when the people abdicate their position as sovereign." — Miss Marguerite M. Wells, President, League of Women Voters.

Reports from over the State show that Tennessee farmers are determined to outdo themselves in food and feed production this year or "bust a gallus" trying.

WAR BONDS SAFER INVESTMENT THAN LAND SPECULATION

War Bonds as a weapon against a threatened land price boom have been recommended by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, who warns farmers against falling prey to speculators during this time of increased incomes.

"Demand deposits in representative country banks are about three times what they were five years ago," Secretary Wickard pointed out. Many farmers have been using their money to pay off debts, but others have surplus money and are wondering how to invest it wisely. Farm People over 40 years of age remember what happened when land prices took a disastrous slide downward after the land boom of the last war.

"Now I don't mean that a person who needs a farm shouldn't buy one, provided he doesn't burden himself, and ultimately his community, with land that is priced too high... taking into consideration the long-time worth of it."

"The purchase of War Bonds not only helps to speed the day of Victory by providing the weapons and materials for our fighters but it also gives the farmer a protective hedge against the future. We all know that the present rate of wartime production is causing wear and tear on the farm plant that will require repairs, and certain replacements of equipment, when the war is over. It is wise for the farmer to lay aside funds for those needs. Moreover, farmers will plant to replace or add to household equipment and housing facilities—and to improve their standard of living generally when production is reconverted to meet peacetime, civilian needs," the Secretary said.

Getting the Most from your Victory GardenSeed Supply Adequate for 1944 Victory Gardens

"Will there be seed enough to go around?" is again a vital question in the minds of the nation's Victory Gardeners as Uncle Sam asks for a substantial 1944 increase over the 21,000,000 vegetable gardens raised in the United States last season.

A confident answer comes from Ferry-Morse Seed Co., largest growers and distributors of garden seeds in the world.

"We are ready for a sizeable increase over last year's output of seeds for Victory Gardens," they declare, "in spite of tremendous weather handicaps and labor shortages."

Seed of some varieties of certain vegetables is still on the short side, but this is a situation which is bound to occur even in normal times. Wise and experienced gardeners, however, know that if the dealer does not have the variety he has been accustomed to getting, there is always another of equally excellent quality to take its place. Among the snap beans, for example, there are several round-podded varieties differing but little from each other in form and growing habits. All are stringless, and in flavor and texture it puzzles even the experts to tell them apart. The same is true of flat-podded bean varieties and of numerous varieties among other vegetables.

"Plant plenty, waste none" is a slogan which should be incorporated into every home gardener's thinking as he plans for his 1944 garden. While every Victory Gardener should grow as big a crop of vegetables as is practical to meet the needs of his family, buying more seeds than is necessary will be a definite detriment to the War Food Program. Any seeds left over from early plantings should be sown as repeat plantings or saved to sow in the fall garden. They should be stored in a dry place, such as a tight-covered fruit jar, until time to use.

As during the past successful season, Victory Gardeners will do well to confine their gardening efforts to the standard vegetables, especially those that can or store to good advantage. During 1943 approximately 4,300,000,000 jars of home canned vegetables and fruits were put up in this country. The government hopes that this figure will be surpassed in 1944. While the supply of vegetable seeds is sufficient for America's Victory Gardeners, wise and efficient use of them is of vast importance.

For the duration of the war, no matter how much food America produced, we will always need more. The ever-increasing demands for food will continue to exceed the supply.

MEN 35 TO 38 CAN ENLIST IN NAVY

"An urgent need for General Duty Officers has prompted the Navy to consider commission applications of exceptionally qualified men between the ages of 35 and 38," Lt. Cmdr. Hugh MacMillan, Officer in Charge of the St. Louis Office of Naval Officer Procurement, announced today. Heretofore, only men between 19 and 35 years of age were considered for General Duty commissions.

Commander MacMillan emphasized, however, that any man past 35 who wishes to be considered must be particularly outstanding and able to meet every other professional, physical and educational requirement for the General Duty classification. This includes at least two years' successful college work and five years' progressively successful business or professional experience.

Physically, a candidate must be of normal good health, with an acuity of 15-20 uncorrected vision in each eye.

Further information regarding applications for Navy commissions may be obtained at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, St. Louis Pacific Bldg., St. Louis 3, Missouri.

What about each of us as individuals? Are we refusing to pay outrageous prices for things we can do without? Are we refusing to squander another red cent? Are we putting every loose dime and dollar into War Bonds?

MESSAGE FROM THE FIGHTING FRONT

MANY a skilled mechanic at an Army outpost thinks back to days when he kept Greyhound's super coaches in superb running condition. Very often these men write their thoughts to those of us at Greyhound who are carrying on.

Almost without exception these scrapping technicians urge us to "keep 'em rolling until they get back." Thus we are given an added objective in the performance of our daily operations. We are keeping Greyhound buses rolling not only to move vital manpower to urgent wartime duty, but also to make certain that thousands of boys, now on leave of absence, can return to the kind of job they like, once their present task has been completed.

The Week In WPB

Of especial interest to housewives this week is the news that the War Production Board has authorized the manufacture of 400,000 pressure canners before July 1, provided that there will be no interference with war work.

The canners will be made in two sizes, one holding 7 one-quart glass jars and the other holding 14 one-quart jars. Up to 300,000 of the canners may be made in the smaller size, and up to 100,000 in the larger size.

Last year 339,000 pressure canners were delivered. All were war models, made of carbon steel instead of the customary aluminum. This year manufacturers are permitted to revert to the use of aluminum.

Civilians will have to wait awhile longer for elastic, the Office of the Rubber Director announced.

unexpected heavy demands by the Army for elastic and for synthetic rubber, neoprene, from which elastic is made, has caused the amounts for civilian use to be drastically curtailed. Neoprene is the type of synthetic rubber most easily processed into synthetic yarn and thread; it has, therefore, been the raw material earmarked for such articles as girdles, elastic tape, garters, and corsets. A conversion to another type of synthetic rubber, Buna-s, will now be necessary before civilians can hope for elastic products in quantity. Unless future demands curtailed the present supply of Buna-s, the yarn and thread industry should be able to produce civilian items after the problem of conversion have been solved.

Steps to provide more leather for infants, children's and misses' shoe uppers have been taken by the War Production Board. Eff-

So You Can't Buy Another Bond

Take a good look at this American soldier as he lies in the mud of Rendova Island in the Southwest Pacific, victim of a Jap air raid. It is not a pleasant scene, is it? When you are asked to buy an extra War Bond to Back the Attack think of this picture of your fellow American blasted by the concussion of a Jap bomb thousands of miles from home. Then brother, don't you think you will want to dig a little deeper to back up his comrades?

ANNUAL CONTEST AT MURRAY, MARCH 24-25

The week end of March 24 and 25 is the official date of the annual Speech and Music Festival to be held at Murray State, according to a statement made by M. O. Wraether of the extension department of the college.

W. B. Moser, debate coach at Murray High School and Representative to the Kentucky Legislature, will be in charge of the festival. Louis Clifton, director department of extension, University of Kentucky, is head of the statewide music and speech contests.

Representatives from eight counties west of the Tennessee River—Calloway, Graves, Fulton, Marshall, Hickman, Carlisle, Ballard, McCracken and one east—Trigg, have competed in former years.

The Murray Training School won the debate tournament last year with Hazel High School winning second place. Other contestants judged are: oratorical declamation, public discussion, interpretative reading, poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking, and radio speaking.

Music contests include: solos—tenor, baritone, bass, soprano, mezzo-soprano, and contralto. Vocal ensembles—a capella choir, mixed quartet, male quartet, and girls trio. Instrument ensembles—string trio, string quartet, miscellaneous string ensemble, woodwind quartet, miscellaneous woodwind quartet, brass quartet, and miscellaneous brass quartet. Solo instruments—piano (general), piano (boys), and other instruments.

PALESTINE HOME-MAKERS MEET

Mrs. C. B. Caldwell was hostess to the Palestine Homemakers Club Friday in an all day session. The demonstration of letting "Dry Suds do the Work," by Mrs. J. W. Lawrence and Mrs. Catherine Thompson was interesting and revealing. Mrs. Morgan Davidson gave a very interesting report of her trip to the Farm and Home convention at Lexington.

The Rocking Chair Tour, was given by Mrs. Homer Weather- spoon and the subject was Tunisia. The group was led in singing by Mrs. Ed Thompson and was taught a new game.

Eighteen members and three visitors, Mesdames Lon Brown, Joe Bazzell and Harry Murphy, enjoyed a delicious planned luncheon at the noon hour.

March meeting will be with Mrs. Gus Browder.

Fire in the woods kills timber, injures labor, stops industry, robs the community, increases the taxes, and worst of all, handicaps the war effort.

fective February 1, tanners were directed to set aside a given percentage of their monthly civilian production for this purpose. It is anticipated that this action will provide approximately 20 per cent more leather of this type than was consumed during 1943 in the manufacture of infants', children's, and misses' footwear.

On the farm front came encouraging news from several sources. There will be more horse collars to meet mounting agricultural demand. Production of stock items for poultry and stock farmers is going at the scheduled rate. Hopes were held out to these same farmers that feed costs might be cut through production of more stock feed mixers. A nation-wide farm survey is being undertaken by OCR to get detailed needs regarding farm supplies.

Here are some other brief bits of WPB news that will interest consumers:

Despite increases in more metals, tin is still in short supply. . . . Brass will not be available for making fountain pens and pencils. . . . The making of clocks and watches, at the present time, cannot be stepped up enough to meet existing needs. . . . The production of electric fans for civilians still hinges on the outcome of the war. . . . Makers of many glue products were asked to cut production 25 percent. That will affect such things as matches, books, furniture and pop bottles. . . . A few relaxations of restrictions on the use of iron and steel for various products means that there will be metal for automotive heaters, grease guns and pumps and 150 tons of low-grade steel wire will be available for cigarette lighters, motion picture projects and sound producing equipment. . . . The paper, pulp and containers situation continues to be serious. The set-up paper-boxes (holding shoes, candy, etc.) probably will be much plainer.

UNCLE JIM SAYS

Vegetable gardens are home-operated war plants.

If you expect the land to feed you, feed it.

A contour-furrow is the shortest distance between soil-saving and soil-waste.

It is estimated that enough food goes to waste on the average farm to feed one additional family.

The farmer who spends more time in thinking out his farm problems will spend less time in correcting blunders.

For enlightenment on agriculture's part in the all-out effort, ask your county agent for a copy of Publication 276, "A War Production Program for Tennessee Farms."

The milk asked for in the 1944 Tennessee goal, if poured into quart bottles, and the bottles put end to end would reach 51 times across the United States.

A recent Gallup Poll shows that last year 75 per cent of the people canned an average of 165 jars or cans of food, or a total of 4,100,000,000 cans or jars for the country.

In 1943, Tennessee 4-H Club members raised over a million chickens and 275,000 bushels of chicken products; canned over 385,000 jars of fruits and vegetables; fed 21,400 pigs, nearly 7,000 head of beef cattle and sheep, and over 3,000 head of dairy cattle.

To the People of this Community

YOU CAN AFFORD IT

You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds during this Fourth War Loan Drive.

Everyone in this community knows incomes are higher than ever before—that both workers and farmers have more cash than ever before. Every one knows that more than one member of hundreds of families are income earners—and everyone knows that increases in wages and salaries have far outstripped rising prices, and increased taxes. You can afford to buy Extra War Bonds.

As a matter of fact, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds. If you spend your money for needless, scarce goods, you are increasing prices. If you want to help win the war you can't afford NOT to buy War Bonds. If you want to help that boy in the service, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds and if you want a gift-edged investment for your own future security, you can't afford NOT to buy Extra War Bonds.

Don't just do the expected—buy All the Bonds you can.

Getting the Most from your Victory Garden

Thin the Garden Now

One of the best ways to thin the Victory Garden row is not to plant seeds too thickly! Sounds like a paradox, but it comes from experienced seedsmen in the largest seed firm in the world.

Carrot seeds are very small, and it is sometimes difficult to sow thinly enough so that the young plants do not crowd each other. In that case, according to Ferry-Morse Seed Co. specialists, it is best to thin them to stand about one inch apart when they are quite small. Grasp each plant near the base and pull gently so that the tops will not break off.

Unless they come up extremely thick, young radishes and green onions can be thinned by using them. The shape of the roots will be better, however, if the plants stand about an inch apart while still very small.

Each lumpy little pellet known as a "beet seed" is often two to four seeds, usually producing more than one plant. They should be sown at least 1½ to 2 inches apart. When the plants are four to five inches tall, every other one can be pulled for greens. If this is done at intervals while tops and roots are small, space will gradually be left for some of the roots to reach good size.

Sowing leaf lettuce seed sparsely helps to avoid the extra work of thinning the plants later. Even when fairly thick, some gardeners prefer to cut the larger, outer leaves instead of thinning, leaving the inner ones to grow. If you like to use each lettuce plant intact, thin to about two inches apart when small. Then, as they become big enough to use, pull up alternate plants, leaving the others to grow.

Dash beans should be planted two to four inches apart, and just enough seedlings removed from the row so that the remaining ones stand four to five inches apart. Beans usually produce more prolifically when the plants do not crowd each other.

Early turnips do better and grow more speedily to table size if they are given three or four inches in which to spread. It is important to help turnips grow to eating size quickly. Of course the thinnings make delicious greens when young and tender.

Their Needs Over There May Delay Your Getting Telephone Service Over Here

Telephone Switchboard in Dugout in New Guinea

Here at home we have restrictions on telephone service, so that our men at the front may have what they need in telephone equipment.

BECAUSE metals and other communication materials are so badly needed in war, it is becoming more and more difficult for the telephone company to fill service requests. In fact, facilities are now insufficient to meet the demands for service. So unless you qualify as an essential user—one whose telephone usage is essential to defense or public health, welfare or security—we regret that you may experience delay in getting service.

When facilities are available, they must be employed first for essential users. Then, from any facilities remaining, others will be served in their regular order. We will be glad to take your application for service, but a reasonable time may be required to determine if service can be furnished.

Everything possible is being done to lessen the effect of wartime restrictions on telephone service. And we look forward to the time when materials will be available, and we can again furnish the service you want when you want it.

Too Nervous To Eat, She Would Leave Table

Retonga Is Only Medicine
She Found That Brought
The Relief, States Owensboro Resident. Feels Bene Now.

Happy and grateful for the relief Retonga brought her, Mrs. Frank Stepp, Sr., well known resident of 1948 Hall St., Owensboro, Ky., is among the latest to come forward with a public endorsement of this noted medicine. In joining the thousands who have praised Retonga, Mrs. Stepp gratefully stated:

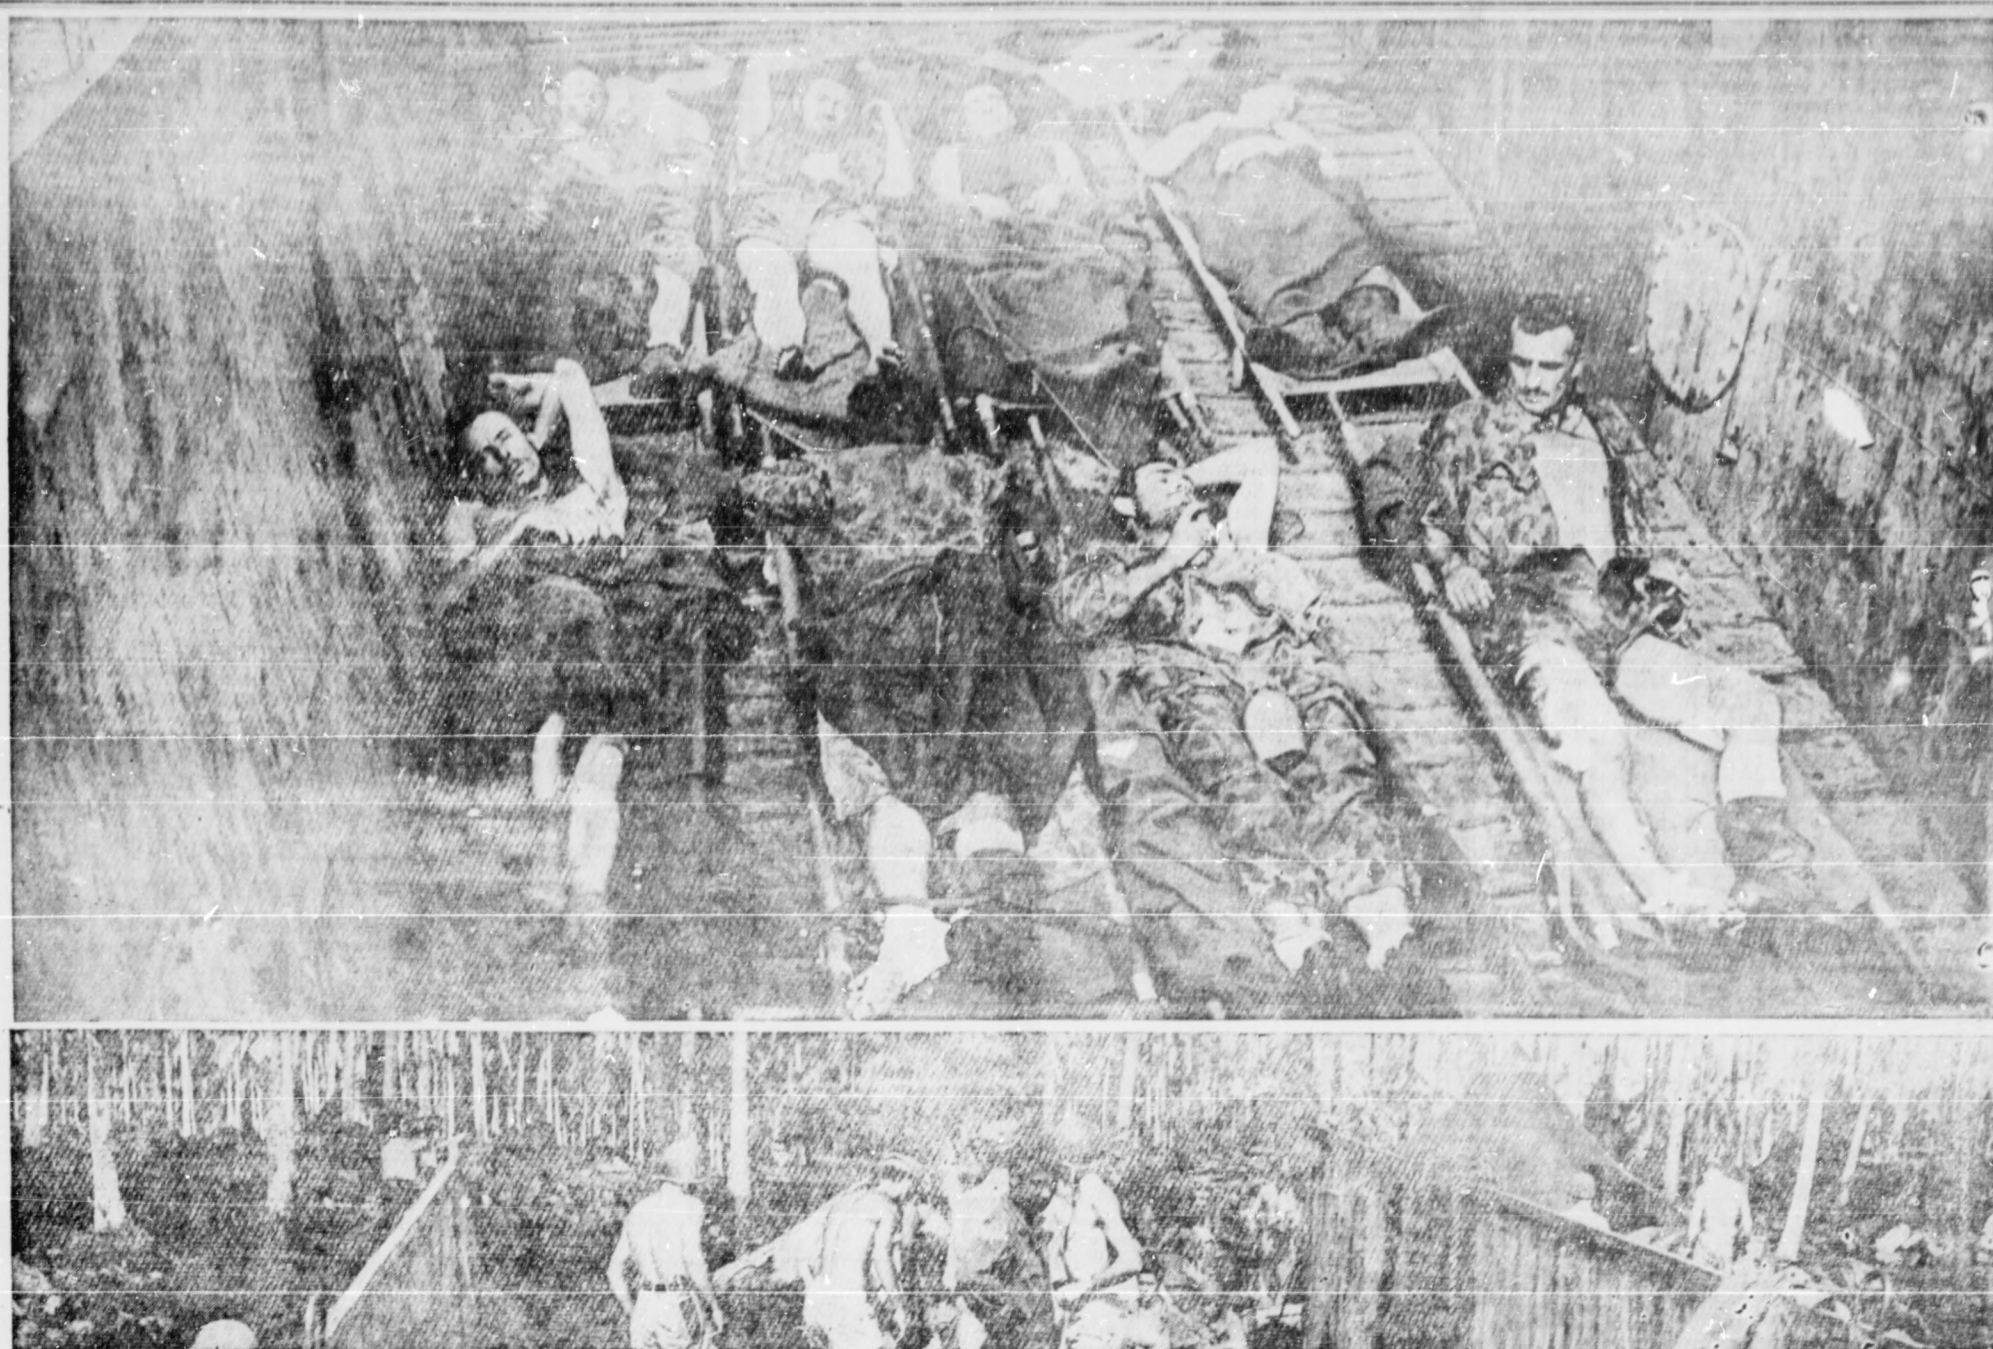

"For about seven years I scarcely ate a meal that did not torture me with acid indigestion. No matter how little I ate, I seemed to suffer just the same. At times I felt so nervous after eating a few bites I would have to leave the table. Often gas pressed up against my chest until I simply gasped for breath. I had to use laxatives for years; the muscles in my back felt sore, and it seemed to me I never got any sound sleep.

"Retonga is the only medicine I found that brought me relief. I eat hearty meals again, I sleep splendidly and get up feeling refreshed. The sluggish elimination and the sore muscles are relieved, and I feel good all the time. Retonga deserves all the credit I can give it."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and the loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store.

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD people say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

Yet it is ridiculous, when you think about it. Because today, with national income at an all-time record high... with people making more money than ever before... with less and less of things to spend money for... practically every one of us has extra dollars in his pocket.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond... above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources and check your expenditures, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200... or $300... or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either... yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds... the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

YOU CAN'T EAT RATION STAMPS

Many people, when they were handed War Ration Books, assumed that this was the first time they had been rationed. Food has always been rationed. Under the free economy of the horse-and-buggy days, more commonly known as the capitalistic system, price-rationed goods.

A freely fluctuating price mechanism was the pivotal and highly essential rationing device of a capitalistic economy. This system did not work perfectly, but it worked. Those who did not respond to its mandates were deemed socially undesirable and were prevented from interfering with society's best interests by the harsh process of bankruptcy. In one respect the system aristocratically has invoked a those who did not obey its mandates, but it did not deprive those it bankrupted of the opportunity to make a new start in life and continue to be productive.

An Automatic System

The price-rationing mechanism had the advantage that it was practically automatic and therefore every efficient. The system had the further advantage that in one sense it was costless. It did not require a large amount of human effort to regulate those who produced, distributed, and consumed.

The price-rationing mechanism did not solve the problem of inflation and deflation, nor did it presume to do so. In fact, the price system historically has invoked a certain amount of inflation as a stimulus to production and a deterrent to consumption in time of war.

Although the price-rationing system was ruthless, it did have definite standards of equity. The system rewarded men in proportion to their relative performance. In general the individual who produced the most received a higher income and if so disposed, could purchase more of the good things in life.

Two Ways of Rationing

Our national rationing policy is to substitute a frozen ceiling price and a book of tickets for the fluctuating price mechanism. There are striking contrasts between the two systems.

The regimented system does not work perfectly, but presumably it can be made to work. Where it has been used, it has proved ruthless and no discriminator of persons. Those who did not respond to its mandates were prevented from interfering with society's best interests by the simple process of turning them over to the firing squad, a cheap and efficient way of liquidating those who did not obey. In totalitarian states, under this system, if an individual makes a mistake, he does not have an opportunity to make a new start in life. Those who are liquidated cease to be productive.

Weakness of Tickets

The ticket system is not automatic and not efficient. Large amounts of human labor are required in central offices and scattered throughout the nation to supervise the production, distribution, and consumption of goods.

The ticket system was assumed to solve the problems of both inflation and deflation. It has not yet been demonstrated that this system of rationing will prevent inflation.

In its kindergarten stage the ticket system's test of equity is for all to share alike from the cradle to the grave. Each person, whether an infant, munition worker, farmer, bank clerk, bar tender, or octogenarian, receives title to the same amount of meat, sugar and canned pineapple. Either the baby and the octogenarian are overfed or the war worker is underfed or both. This measure of equity is a far cry from that established by price rationing. This test of equity has not and will not stand the test of time. It is already breaking down.

Black Markets

Under the present program of widespread price-fixing, there are two sets of prices, (1) market prices and (2) legal or ceiling prices. A black market is likely to exist when the supply and demand for a commodity are brought into equilibrium at a market price that is above the legal ceiling price.

Black markets take many forms. Some are large and some are small. Some are no more than short cuts around red tape and others are malicious. Some violations are committed unknowingly and others wilfully. Many of the activities are simple and some are intricate. With the present policy of fixing innumerable price ceilings, black-market operators breed faster than they can be caught.

People patronize black markets when they have an excess of purchasing power and when they feel that they have been treated inequitably.

Self Preservation

Retailers, wholesalers, and jobbers operate black markets as a means of self-preservation. Casualty rates in the distributive trade are high. If equitable prices are not fixed for each step in the distributive trade, black markets inevitably will spring up. The motive is economic survival.

To suppress black markets in food, it is necessary to have a high percentage of the people willing to report, accompanied by a real police force willing to enforce. One reasonably safe prediction which one might offer in these uncertain times is that John Q. Public is not likely to be a snoper reporting black-market operators.

CEILING PRICES COVER MOST FARM MACHINERY AUCTION SALES

Recognizing the fact that many farmers need to replace or add to their mechanical equipment in order to produce this year's expected record crop of foodstuff, the Louisville District Office of Price Administration pointed out today the importance of keeping prices of farm implements sold at auction in line.

Ceiling prices have been set for nine of the larger-type farm implements, which comprise about 60 per cent of the dollar volume of used farm machinery auction sales. Included are combines, corn binders, corn pickers, farm tractors (except crawler types), motor or tractor operated hay balers, hay loaders, manure spreaders, side delivery rakes, and combinations of these items with other equipment mounted thereon, when the combination is sold as a unit.

Maximum prices for these implements must not exceed 85 per cent of the original f. o. b. factory list price if less than one year old or 70 per cent if the machinery has been used one year or longer.

That prices for new farm machinery have been kept in line is indicated by figures from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics showing that since November, 1941, prices paid by farmers for implements other than tractors have risen only 7.6 per cent as compared with an increase of about 30 per cent for the comparable two-year period during the last war.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS

Your local merchant is still the man with one of the biggest headaches. He not only has to find merchandise despite shortages, but he must guard against any shoddy substitutes and he has the ticklish job of keeping his own sales going without encouraging needless spending and thereby encouraging inflation.

Right now, he's faced with two particularly difficult wartime problems. First, he's assembling your Easter wardrobe, and apparently, he has been able to do a good job. Our third wartime Easter parade will be as replete with novelty and color as ever, despite a lot of shortages. Wool suits will be featured, for wool is, next to metals, the most plentiful of the materials which were critical when we entered the war. Cotton dresses will be scarce. Plenty of novelty millinery in a wide range of styles—from the little "half-hats" that puzzle fashion-ignorant men to the more elaborate homburgs and high crowns. This year, the merchant gets a break because Easter is moderately late, falling on April 9.

Another problem for the retailer is the constant one of avoiding excess stocks of substitute merchandise. First test of what happens when the "ersatz" goods are replaced is coming now. Baby carriages of wood construction are now being replaced with metal frame ones—and stores are hard put to get rid of the wood models. The wise merchant is, therefore, sticking cautiously on "victory" models of any kind of merchandise.

'STREAMLINERS' 10TH ANNIVERSARY—Behind the bustle and hum of war work at the Chicago shops of Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company there was observed on February 12 the tenth anniversary of an event which has become highly significant for future travelers. Without interrupting for a moment the construction of patrol vessels for the Navy and major aircraft subassemblies for the Air Transport Command, marked its delivery, on February 12, 1934, to the Union Pacific Railroad of the country's first lightweight, streamlined train. This train, introducing high speed, safe, comfortable travel, pioneered a new era in rail transportation that will reach its fullest development after the war, according to most railroad executives, who in a survey recently said they were planning to buy great fleets of streamliners to compete with buses and airplanes for the post-war travel market.

THINGS TO COME—Radio telephones which passengers can use while trains are in motion. . . . Aspirin-sized tea tablets that can be used for either hot or cold tea. . . . Razors with plastic handles, zinc heads, as soon as civilian production is resumed. . . . A better quota for civilians in 1944 averaging a pound a month; in 1943 it was half a pound a month.

FROM MOSQUITOES TO NAZIS Cans which in pre-war years were used to package "ammunition" against mosquitoes and other insect disturbers of civilians' peace have proved the basis for a powerful military weapon, an anti-tank grenade with a four-fold use. Packing a punch heavy enough to cripple the enemy's big tanks, the grenade can also be used as a delayed-action land mine, a demolition charge, a mechanically detonated booby trap and a hand grenade. Small and light enough to be carried in a soldier's pocket, the grenade is rolling off production lines of an American Can Company plant in the east, and is expected to play a major role in the forthcoming invasion of Europe.

In shape and size the grenade is almost identical to the one-quart, flat rectangular-shaped insecticide can and was developed by Cane engineers at request of the Army, according to R. C. Taylor, vice-president. When loaded it weighs less than four pounds. The design of the grenade permits mass production on precision machinery, he reports, while its shape and compact structure require a minimum of storage and shipping space and facilitate handling in transit and in the field.

WOMEN FOREGO NEW CLOTHES FOR BONDS

Homemakers in Madison county were able to buy more war bonds and stamps because they patriotically used some of the clothing they had on hand in place of buying new. During the past few weeks, they saved a considerable amount of money when they refitted or re-trimmed 85 garments, repaired by tricky new methods 373 garments, made over 29 discarded suits and top coats, and reclaimed for service 99 other garments.

That there are quantities of material for spring costumes in old-style suits and coats stored away in attics and closets, was expressed by Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, clothing specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Because much of the ready-to-wear clothing is higher in price and lower in quality than formerly, homemakers will find it worth their time and effort to make use of good fabrics on hand, Miss Threlkeld told Madison county women.

Suits and topcoats of sons and brothers in the Armed Services provide a good source of wool, she said. If the articles cannot be used in their present state, the clothing specialist recommended that they be remade for some member of the family. Such a practice, she said, would help in the war effort, as it would reduce the demand for new materials.

CREOMULSION
For Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Farming is no less a business than banking—yet who would attempt to run a bank without records.

It is Penny-wise and pound-foolish to save on grease, oil, paint, and repair labor and have to buy new farm machinery.

The war has brought about important changes in the food situation. According to the present outlook, there will be for civilian use less of the following foods in 1944 than there was in 1943: dairy products, processed fruits and vegetables, meats and fish, potatoes and sugar.

Last year, 20 million Victory gardeners on our farms and in our cities, towns, and suburbs produced some 8 million tons of food. This is enough food to fill 160,000 freight cars, or 800 Liberty ships loaded with 10,000 tons each. It is 40 per cent of the total fresh vegetable production in the United States.

Wartime slogan for livestock raisers: "Keep 'em grazing." When starting baby chicks, remember it's the early bird that lays the high-priced eggs.

A lesson in farm mathematics—double the legume acreage and reduce the fertilizer and feed bills.

To announce the Tennessee goal of 97.1-2 million dozen eggs hens will spend over 33,330 hours in cackling.

MISS LILLIAN COOKE
WEDS WILLIAM CATE
SATURDAY EVENING

Miss Lillian Cooke, daughter of N. G. Cooke of this city became the bride of William R. Cate, United States Naval Reserve of Nashville, Tenn., in an impressive single ring ceremony, Saturday evening, Feb. 19, at eight o'clock with Reverend Kelsie Martin, pastor of the First Christian church officiating.

Baskets of mammoth white snapdragons and seven branched candelabra holding white cathedral tapers stood at the altar, which was massed with southern smilax and Woodwardia fern. In each window were white candles and smilax.

Mrs. Charles Gregory, vocalist and Mrs. Lloyd Emory of Paducah furnished the nuptial music. The traditional wedding march were used.

Miss Jane Alley, of Milan, Tenn., the maid of honor, wore a gown of Ciel blue, fashioned with a tight fitting satin bodice and a full net skirt trimmed with two satin bows. The sweetheart neckline was outlined with a net ruffle and the tight fitting sleeves were three quarter length. She wore a half hat of satin, edged with a net ruffle and carried betwixt roses with white freesia styled semi-colonial with garland of red roses.

Mrs. Edward E. Heer, the matron of honor, and Misses Clara Galtney of Corinth, Miss, Anna Marie Cate and Betty Bruce Cate, of Nashville, Tenn., sisters of the groom were the bridesmaids, and all wore Ciel blue dresses with matching half hats, identical to that of the maid of honor. The flower girl was little Miss Harriet Heer, daughter of the matron of honor, and she wore a Ciel blue frock fashioned similarly to those of the bridesmaids. Each carried bouquets of better-time roses, colonial style with garlands.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, styled with a drop shoulder marquisette yoke and a slender basque bodice, with long net sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full skirt ending in a long circular train, was gathered on each side with orange blossoms and there were tiny orange blossoms on each shoulder of the dress. From her calot of antique lace fell the fingertip veil of illusion, edged in wide antique lace matching the calot. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bridal bouquet of snow white roses and adiantum.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Syd Hailer of Nashville, Tenn., and the ushers were: Pfc. Ed Anderson of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Pfc. Lynwood Herrington of Georgia, Pfc. Tomie Zerfass of Nashville and Bill Galtney of Corinth, Miss.

The acolytes were Edwin Cook Rice, Jr., of Springfield, Mo., and David Galtney of Corinth.

The bride is a graduate of Fulton High School and Stephens College. She received her degree from Vanderbilt University at Nashville in 1943. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority.

The groom, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Cate of Nashville, is a graduate of West End High School and was graduated from Vanderbilt University.

The couple will make their home at 1600 Stokes Lane, Nashville.
