TROOPS GIVEN A ROUSING RECEPTION ON RETURN

Company L, Third Infantry, National Guards, of Murray, are at home. The company in charge of Capt. Clark and Lieut. Harry Walker arrived here Tuesday morning on the 9 o'clock train after an absence of about nine months, six of which were spent on the Mexican border near El Paso, Texas. The boys were all in fine health and a fit looking fighting bunch. The company completed the routine of mustering out of the federal service in Louisville Monday afternoon when they received their pay, and within a few hours had boarded a train for Murray.

Hundreds of persons were at the station to greet the returning soldiers, including all the pupils of the city school above the seventh grade, who marched to the train in a body. It was intended to give the boys a noisy welcome when the train arrived at the station but when the khaki clad warriors began to alight from the train tears of joy filled hundreds of eyes as the crowd witnessed wives greeting husbands, mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters embracing sons and brothers. The happy reunion took all the noise out of the welcome but it was a welcome of love and admiration and was beautiful in its silence.

After a delay of some several minutes the company with full equipment formed a line of march and proceeded to the armory followed by the hundreds of citizens who had gathered at the station. After reaching the armory and leaving their equipment the boys were given the liberty of the city and spent the time until 3 o'clock in the afternoon meeting friends and relating experiences.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the company marched to the City Cemetery, where, in the presence of hundreds of people, the simple but impressive military services at the grave of Lieut. Hale were held, and as taps were sounded and the flag lowered there were but few dry eyes in the large crowd. The orders of Adj. Gen. Ellis were read by Capt. Clark while Elder Motley delivered a short address.

A reception was tendered the boys at the court house Tuesday night, and despite the inclement weather the building was crowded throughout. Mr. J. G. Glasgow acted as toastmaster for the occasion and Elder Motley delivered the address of welcome. Capt. Clark responded. Many members of the company responded to toasts and the large crowd was delightfully entertained by the experiences related while on the border. The time was interspersed by singing various patriotic songs. At about 9:30 refreshments, consisting of punch, coffee and sandwiches, were served by the ladies of the city, while the soldier boys were decorated with bouquets of carnations in the national colors.

Refreshments in abundance were prepared and the large crowd was also served. The reception was Murray's welcome to the boys and it can be truthfully said it was one of the most generously participated in occasions ever given in the history of the town.

Wednesday most of the out of town members left for their homes. The company arrived here with forty-four members, of the number about twenty five live in this county.

FORMER CALLOWAY CITIZEN EXPRESSES HIS FRIENDSHIP

Mayfield, Ky., March 12, Mr. O. J. Jennings, Murray, Ky.

Kind Friend:—As you want to see a statement of what I owe you I will send you a check for $1, so that you won't stop the paper. Let it come on, for it is like a letter from home. I am always glad to get the Ledger so I can get the news up in old Calloway.

O. J. I hope you will win in the race for sheriff, and if I was up there you would get one more vote than you will get for I certainly would vote for you.

So please send on the Ledger to me, and hoping you success, I am as ever, Your friend, J. A. JONES.

(It makes a fellow feel good to learn that old friends do not forget you even though they are citizens of other places. When John was a citizen of Calloway down in old Liberty fifteen or more years ago, he would often come in and give us encouragement in our fights for the people by his kind words, and as for ourselves we are perfectly willing for him to come back to his old home to vote next August.)

We will grind on Wednesdays and Saturdays each week. "Murray Milling Company."

"Sugar is a Little off This Week"

How many of you fellows out in the "sticks" who have bought sugar the past few weeks have heard the expression that "sugar is a little off this week?" We will give a receipt for five years' subscription to every one who will come and tell us that he was told that "sugar was a little off" the last time he bought any "sweetenin' for his'n."

"Flour is a little off this week" is just as common expression. In fact, so common that you never hear it. The fellow who coined the expression, "that tobacco is a little off this week" is either one of three things—a fool, a liar or a thief, and we are more inclined to the belief that he is a combination of the last two. There never was a more contemptible expression in the world in the face of circumstances than "that tobacco is a little off this week," and its use serves only to frighten and intimidate the gullible into turning loose the product of their toil and sweat that speculators and gamblers might be enriched. You generally hear this expression used by fellows whose brains, if reduced to liquid form and squirted in a gnat's face wouldn't make him bat his eye, or if condensed to a hard substance would rattle around in his head like a dry pea in a tin wash tub. "Tobacco is a little off this week" is stock in trade with fellows who know about as much about market conditions as a sow pig knows about the use of a table napkin. Cut it out! Come clean with the people. Tell 'em that it is the purpose of the speculators and manipulators to get their farm product at a price just a little more respectable than stealing if possible. Why not whistle a new tune for a little while. Let "tobacco be a little ON this week." It's going to take that before these Calloway folks turn loose. There will be icicles in hell three feet long and six inches through before they turn it loose for nothing.

Unscrupulous speculators—a more appropriate way to express it, unscrupulous thieves—have seized upon present world conditions to rob and plunder at the cost of the consumer. Every commodity today is selling at ridiculously high prices, and when the commodity is in the hands of the producer the same conditions are urged to force the price to the lowest level possible. They tell a story on a half-witted fellow over at Fulton that illustrates very forcibly the state of mind of a few Calloway folks. This individual was a peddler and carried his wares about the country in a dilapidated two-wheeled cart. Out of sheer sympathy the boys in Fulton made up enough money to pay for a splendid new cart. A local blacksmith did the work and when completed and presented to the old peddler his joy knew no bounds. Within a few days he loaded in his wares and started for a day's trip in the country. Many friends greeted him, and his new cart attracted much attention.

Years previous to this time a horse belonging to this peddler ran away with him, overturning the buggy and throwing him out, resulting in slight injury but a big scare. Since the accident the old peddler refused to drive a horse and made all of his trips afoot. It is said that he often scared at objects along the roadside and would "shy" at them very much as did his old horse. Upon returning to Fulton after his first day out with his new cart he was coming along a stretch of thickly wooded road on a long hillside when a covey of quails flew up on the roadside within a few feet of him. Instead of dropping the shafts to his cart he started down the long hill at full speed with his cart. Quail often he would yell out, "Whooa," to himself and the next instant would rear at the bits he imagined he had in his mouth, but never slackened his speed until he ran full tilt into a telephone pole at the turn of the road on the outskirts of the city, completely wrecking his handsome new cart and scattering his goods in every direction. He came on into town, still frightened, and reported the runaway and complete destruction of the cart.

Boys, sit steady in the boat. There isn't going to be a runaway unless you act the part of the horse and do the running and wreck your own vehicle.

We want you tobacco growers to read the following article from the Grant County News and let it soak deep down into your "noodles." Some character of improved selling methods must come, and the loose floor, competitive system is gaining rapidly. The News says:

"Now that the tobacco season is practically at an end in this county it will be well for the tobacco growers to make a resolution that this year's crop will be sold on the floor of some loose leaf market by themselves and not to speculators. Last year's crop of tobacco in the county brought more than $700,000, probably $750,000, and the growers received about $550,000, the speculators getting the remainder. Two hundred thousand dollars in the hands of our farmers would have done much more good than it will in the hands of a few speculators."

Local market conditions show some improvements the past week. Some several loads sold on the street at fair prices considering quality.

The loose leaf sale this week was another good one and about 150,000 pounds of the weed were sold at fair prices considering quality. Trash lugs ranged from $8 to $9; medium lugs, $9 to $10.25, while leaf of common and medium grades sold from $10 to $12.25.

Reports reach the Ledger that a number of Mayfield buyers were in the county the past week offering $13 for leaf but did not find many crops on the market at that price. The bulk of the crops yet unsold are of the better grades and growers are still sticking.

The report from the Hopkinsville market shows a continued strong demand and better prices. The report in substance is as follows:

"The tobacco market this week is appreciably stronger in price than it has been for the past six weeks or so. Especially do the better grades of leaf and common lugs show more strength. The demand shows no sign of weakening and everything offered finds a ready sale. Prices this week have ranged from $9 to $16 per hundred according to grade, no fine tobacco being offered."

The weekly review of the market as reported by the Louisville papers has this to say:

"Prices on our market this week have shown a gradual strengthening tendency, each day being stronger than the previous, and prices today closed higher than at any time this year on all grades, running from good on down."

That don't sound like "tobacco is a little off this week," does it? "Fired leaf" on the Henderson markets the past week reached $14.25, while trash brought $9.

First Christian Church.

We were glad to note a decided increase in attendance in Sunday school last Sunday. We were delighted to have the pleasure of enrolling several new scholars. If we keep this up we will easily reach our special aim by Easter. Our superintendent will make an interesting announcement next Sunday concerning the winning class in the contest. Come and hear it.

Christianity's Message to the World" will be the subject of the morning sermon and the subject for the evening service will be "A Garden Scene." We hope to have special music at both services.

We had an excellent choir practice last Sunday afternoon preparatory to our Pre-Easter meeting which begins two weeks from Sunday. We hope even more of the singers will be present next Sunday afternoon promptly at 2:15.

We have only two more weeks to work in our Christian Endeavor contest and we should try to secure as many members as possible in that time. Remember, attendance counts too. Work for a big attendance Sunday night.

Our Pre-Easter meeting begins April 1 and we hope every member is making thorough preparation in heart and home and church and community for the success and blessing of this meeting. "All always welcome." E. B. Motley, Pastor.

CHOATE GIVEN 3 YEARS IN PRISON FOR MUTILATION

Mayfield, Ky., March 12.—A verdict of three years and four months in the penitentiary was brought in by the jury in the Byrd E. Choate case at 12:06 o'clock today, after about three hours' deliberation. Choate was placed in jail here Sunday. An appeal will be taken immediately by Choate's attorneys.

The verdict came after an all morning session of the jury. When noon came, the jury stood nine for conviction, one for acquittal and two held out for a less severe punishment. Three years and four months was the sentence decided on as a compromise.

It was thought the jury would bring in a verdict Sunday morning, but one member refused to consider the case on the Sabbath because of its being Lent. The case was placed in the jury's hands late Saturday.

The verdict today ended a long and bitterly fought trial in which attorneys put forth their best efforts. The case was the most sensational and unusual ever tried in Graves county. Neither Choate nor Campbell seemed moved by the decision. Campbell was seen on the streets today and was in good spirits.

Choate mutilated Henry Campbell near here last summer, following Campbell's alleged infidelity with Choate's wife. Choate on the stand Friday pleaded temporary insanity, a point which opposing lawyers vigorously assailed.

BIG JUDGMENTS REAPPROVED BY THE U. S. SUPREME COURT

Washington, D.C., March 12.—A writ of error against the Kentucky court of appeals in the suits of George Banks and Toy Henry vs. Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, was sustained by the supreme court, giving the two plaintiffs judgments for $16,500 and $13,500, respectively.

George Banks lost both hands while coupling cars on an N. C. & St. L. railroad train near Paris, Tenn., four years ago. He brought suit in the McCracken circuit court for damages and was awarded $22,000. From this judgment the railroad appealed, but the court of appeals at Frankfort sustained the judgment, though decreasing the amount of the damages to $16,500. This verdict was sustained by the supreme court of the United States.

Toy Henry was injured at Murray some three years ago and in the circuit court he secured a judgment for $13,500. This verdict was sustained at Frankfort and yesterday by the supreme court.

To both the verdicts will be added a 15 per cent penalty and six per cent interest, making both judgments total $36,000.

Toy Henry is a brother-in-law of Rob Lee, of this city, and a son-in-law of Tom Patterson, of near New Concord, Ky.

Saves Eggs

Royal Baking Powder makes it possible to produce appetizing and wholesome cakes, muffins, cornbread, etc., with fewer eggs than are usually required.

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced and excellent results obtained by using an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following tested recipe is a practical illustration:

SPONGE CAKE
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
2 eggs
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold water
2 teaspoon Savoring

DIRECTIONS—Beat sugar and water until syrupy, add eggs and beat until the mixture is stiff. Add together three times the flour, salt and baking powder, beat yokes of eggs until thick, add a little of a fine flour mixture and egg yolk alternately to whites of eggs mixture, stirring after each addition. Add 1/2 cup cold water and Savoring. Mix lightly and bake in moderate oven one hour.

The old method called for six eggs and no baking powder. Booklet of recipes which economize in eggs and other expensive ingredients mailed free. Address Royal Baking Powder Co., 225 William Street, New York.

FARM LOAN ACT.

V. Its Effect on Farm Tenancy.

By H. H. Wilson, Federal Loan Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Millions of American agriculturists have been greatly concerned over the remarkable increase in farm tenancy. Years ago when land was plentiful and cheap, tenancy was almost unknown. The man who wanted to farm simply went out and purchased cheap land or settled on government land. Practically all of the land was farmed by owners.

When the supply of cheap land became exhausted and most of the land occupied, there was no longer an outlet for the increasing number of landless farmers. Consequently those who wished to engage in the business were compelled to enter with those who already held title to the land. Farm land ownership now represents billions of dollars in land values which constitute a positive bar to the getting of farm homes by landless farmers.

The question is frequently asked, "If the farm loan act provides cheaper money for land purchase, will it not make it easier for some men to get credit, to monopolize land, to increase land values, make it harder for the tenant farmer, and perpetuate and broaden the tenant system?"

Only for Actual Farmers.
The answer is that the privilege of borrowing under the farm loan act is denied the landlord and the speculator. Furthermore, the size of the loans is limited to $10,000 to check the tendency toward too large farms and land monopoly.

So it will be seen that the farm loan act gives to the rich no additional advantage in buying land, but does give an added advantage to the landless farmer, and perpetuates and broadens the tenant system.

Honest Man.

Annie Burke of the Claypool hotel believes that Diogenes did not need a lantern to find the proverbial honest man. Burke discovered that individual when he received a letter from a man in Louisville, who, several days before, had been a guest at the Claypool.

In his letter the man explained that when he left the hotel he had procured what he thought was a pair of his overalls from his checkroom. He did not notice that they were not his until he got to Louisville. He then discovered, he said, that the shoes he had obtained were not his, but were a brand-new pair, and worth at least 50 cents more than his had been.

The guest said that he desired to do the square thing with the man who had taken his overalls, and offered to send the shoes back on receipt of the necessary postage. Burke said he supposed the other man had never noticed the mistake.—Louisville News.

PERIL IN HIGH TARIFF

HEAVY PROTECTION AFTER WAR WILL BE POLLY.

Manufacturers of America, if They Are Wise, Will Seek to Lower Protection Costs.

A Missouri manufacturer tells a New York Herald reporter that heavy protection will be needed, and there are substantial grounds of necessity that Japan could sell here, even if the tariff protection were 100 per cent.

No doubt, Japan has a wonderfully efficient manufacturing population, and the people are all industrious and thrifty. While it is true that wages in Japan have been steadily increasing for many years, and have gone upward considerably since the beginning of the war, they are yet far under American wage levels and always will be.

But how are we going to compete with Japan in the markets of the world if it requires 100 per cent protection to enable American manufacturers to overcome the advantage Japan enjoys in the lower cost of production?

Japan is at the highest tide of prosperity in the entire history of the empire. High prices here have driven Russia to buy much in Japan that she used to buy in the United States, and at the close of the war Japanese skill efficiency and lower cost of production will probably enable Japan to continue to hold much of the new business which has come from Russia since the present war brought complete reconstruction to the two countries.

Not only that, Japan is clearly headed for a greater commerce with China, and no doubt she will get much of the trade we have enjoyed heretofore.

Those who are demanding prohibitive tariffs to protect manufacturers after the war are doomed to encounter some and experience it, through the folly of the people, the protectionists are permitted to dictate another tariff bill. We are sure to find the rising cost of production fatal to the development of the world trade which many think within our reach.

If American becomes rampant again, the cost of production will go higher, because labor is going to demand still higher wages to compensate for the higher prices the protected industries are hoping to exact of American consumers.

If the manufacturers of this country are wise, they will seriously endeavor to lower the cost of production in the United States. Otherwise they will find their markets confined to this country, with the people angry because of the higher prices protection will compel them to pay.

New Fellow Citizens.

The passage of the bill conferring citizenship upon the people of Porto Rico has been described as another administrative success. It is true that the bill was one that the president particularly recommended for passage, but the law marks a success for the United States of America.

Porto Rico came to the United States as the result of a war. The island was conquered territory, but the people did not pass unwillingly under a yoke. They welcomed the American troops and were glad to accept the government and protection of this country because they saw in the flag a symbol of liberty and equal rights.

Ever since they have waited patiently the day when their confidence in the American people would be justified. This country could not have withheld citizenship from them without ingratitude and without repudiating the principles upon which the war with Spain was begun.

Cuba is free and the Porto Rican has attained the place he sought as a citizen of a free country. The country has yet to finish its work in the Philippines, but in those islands there has been uninterrupted progress toward the goal which was set. When their full fitness for self-government is achieved, it will be for them to decide what that government shall be.—St. Louis Republic.

Old Guard's Lack of Inroads.

We note that the former Bull Moose in the Republican party seem to have taken possession of the organization in Washington, writes William Allen White. "The story of the surrender of the Old Guard to the Moose denotes that the return of the president was a great triumph for the party in which the Progressives banded in and took the plunge from the battlements in the organization of the next house. We'd just naturally hate to belong to a crowd that had no more in it than to let a B. M. minority push aside veterans like Mann and Campbell and turn over their seniority to Lenroot and McComick. Anyhow, Jordan is a hard road to travel when you take the pullback end of the road. It is just easier to get on by going ahead than by pulling back."

Heads—She Lost.

The room was full of little girls in pink slips and pigtails. They sat in rows at wooden desks, as quiet as mice. (By the way, they provided a sweet-faced, dimpled, stern, vital. ## FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. She Knew Him.
"One night while you were away I heard a burglar. You should have seen me going downstairs three steps at a time."
"What? (who knows him)—Where was he, on the roof?"

If a self-made man brags about it there is something wrong with the job.

Sudden Death

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test your water and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout, or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night—take heed, before too late!

You can readily overcome such conditions and prolong life by taking the advice of a famous physician, which is "Keep the kidneys in good order, avoid too much meat, salt, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water and drive the acid out of the system by taking Anuric, in tablet form." You can obtain Anuric, double strength, at drug stores, by discovery of Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

C-J IS INDICTED BY HOPKINSVILLE JURY FOR LIBEL

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 13.—The grand jury completed its work Saturday afternoon and adjourned finally after a session of two weeks. Another batch of indictments, some of them of importance, brought the total to about 50. Two separate indictments growing out of the Courier-Journal's attack on Judge C. H. Bush were returned. One is against Claude W. Perry, state news editor of the Courier-Journal, and the other against the Courier-Journal Company, alleging that they criminally libeled Judge Bush. Mr. Perry is charged with "inducing" the Courier-Journal to publish an editorial criticizing Judge Bush in connection with the Lube Martin murder trial at Murray. The indictment against the Courier-Journal alleges that the intent and tenor of the editorial in question was to "disgrace and dishonor and injure" Judge Bush. Much correspondence followed the publication of the article in the Courier-Journal, which the paper refused to retract. In a letter written by Denny Smith, commonwealth's attorney, it was broadly intimated the courts would be resorted to.

The grand jury also returned a statement, signed by all members, in which they "express our fullest confidence in Judge Bush and our firm belief upon that occasion he conducted himself as a fearless, upright and honorable judge and that any reports to the contrary are false, malicious and libelous."

Notice.

Stubblefield, thence east about 100 yards on the line between the lands of Fannie Hendon and Mack Stubblefield, thence south about 200 yards across the land of Mack Stubblefield, thence east about 300 yards on the line between the lands of Ed Stubblefield and Mack Stubblefield, thence east about half a mile to the Pine Bluff and Paris road over the lands of Joe Montgomery, Dick Montgomery and Jess Meador. Said road is about 2 miles long and 30 feet wide and when said road runs on the line between any of the above land owners, then the land for same shall be taken 15 feet off of each adjacent land owner.

Petitioners pray that viewers shall be appointed by the court to view said road and required to report upon the advisability of establishing same. Said petition will be presented at the regular March, 1917, term of the Calloway County Court.

A Candidate for Re-election.

Judge Langston was in Hazel this week and while here visited the school and spoke to the students along the line of "Merit and Personal Worth." His talk was filled with inspiration which brought memory of his former school days at this place to all who heard him.

Mr. Langston was principal and teacher of the Hazel school four years just prior to his election as county judge and such visits by him are always appreciated, not only by the teachers and pupils, but by the entire citizenship of the town and community, remembering his splendid work done for all while teaching at this place, as well as the good record he made as county judge. It is stated that he will stand for re-election for the same office and that his formal announcement will be made in due time. Four years ago Hazel district gave him almost a solid vote.
