Watkins-Wilson Vows Have An Historic Setting

SOCIETY Merry- Go-Round

By Marjorie I. Ulen

Again... for the past week... conversations everywhere were concerned with the wedding of Miss Watkins and Mr. Wilson. The week ended on the wedding day. Time was when we longed to see and hear the ritual in our own. Today's young never pass an opportunity to surround their marriages with the traditions and pomp that augur for happiness ahead... and something to remember if the going gets tough! Suffice it to say... there's something about a wedding that takes even the cynics in our last wax sentimental!

IE CHANDLER RECEPTION

To begin the week of weddings and receptions... scores of fashionably dressed guests wended their way Sunday evening to the universal lounge for the lovely reception of beautiful Sarah McInney Chandler and her proud bridegroom, Horace. There the happy pair received the well-wishes and congratulations of their many friends and relatives amid gracious air-conditioned, beautifully decorated surroundings.

HE CONVENTION

Bluff City Funeral Directors are hosts to the State Convention of Tennessee Negro Funeral Directors Association Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Following their memorial service Sunday night at Greater White Church, the group was entertained with a Sunday night supper at the dining room of Orleans hotel. Plans for the convention, which will be held at the Bonjol Laboratory of Madison, Ark., at the spacious rooms of the Memphis Clubhouse. Following the day sessions, delegates were refreshed and invited to a well-stocked bar and cocktail fare from 6 to 8 o'clock. To round it off, the Fiesta Room of the hotel was the scene of a gay dancing party, which again was open to the members of the organization and their company. The tar casket company, with personnel Clifford Miller and Lester Snell were hosts to that affair. Wednesday found members of the association gathered at the University of Tennessee's Pathology auditorium at 3 o'clock for a lecture and demonstration by Charles Atwater. The final taste of Bluff City hospitality was in the way of a picnic staged at 7 o'clock that night at Culpepper - Simpson picnic ground out Horn Lake Road. Among officers of the association are N. J. Ford, resident of Bluff City Funeral Directors; Robert Martin of Nashville, state president; C. H. Rawls of Brownsville, 1st vice president and Taylor C. D. Hayes, chairman of the state board of directors.

More anent funeral directors' conventions concerns Harold I. Kipp and R. E. Woods of Southern Funeral Home's president and assistant manager respectively, who recently returned from the Ohio State Funeral Directors convention, where they were the only Negro representatives from the delegations of the southern states. This convention was held at swank Deshler-Hilton hotel at Columbus. A particularly interesting highlight the many educational, and social features of one outstanding member which drew as its guest speaker none other than famed columnist Drew Pearson. On the way up to Columbus, where they topped off at St. Louis where "Skip" picked up a trophy at a golf tournament. And to be sure he really in share for the forthcoming CSGA golf tourney here in July as this goes to press he's now in Decatur, Ill., participating in another tourney. Speaking of golf... just wend your way out to Sam Qualls Golf course any day... there you'll find scores of our golfers teeing off and working on their strokes in preparation for the much touted tournament. They have the very latest and best of golfing gear, if I may use such a loose term for those items that the men rate right next, if not with the family car!

EMOGENE'S REHEARSAL DINNER

After the rehearsal, the night prior to Gene's beautiful wedding, her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Collins were hosts at a beautiful dinner at their home on Clack Place. Enjoying the champagne that was bountiful throughout the whole evening buffet affair were the Fleming Polks, Ruth and Ted Beauchamp, Emma T. and O. B. Johnson, Addie Jones, Walterine and John Outlaw, John H. Sengstacke, president and publisher of Defender Publications who came from New York to participate as a groomsman Willard Bolden of Chicago and Mrs. Charles Cameron of Nutley, N. J. — out-of-town guests for the wedding, Augusta Cash, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Watkins, the bride's parents, her cousins... Henry Collins of Tallahassee, Fla.; Thomas Collins, Dorothea Collins, Poole of Springfield, Mass.; Grace Collins, Julia Collins (Tommy's spouse) and brother Lt. Thomas H. Watkins from his Air Force base in New York state, Martelle Trigg, Rosa Robinson, her aunt and yours truly.

Off to renowned halls of ivy... in quest of more education — that important phase of life one never completes... are Zernia Peacock, Evelyn Thomas Robertson, Velma Lois Jones and Gerry Polk, to Columbia U.; Dorothy Ewell (and scores of others, I haven't "picked up" on!) to Tennessee State U.; Elma Shaw to the U. of Illinois; Alma Booth to Vassar — by way of Cleveland and the Jack and Jill national confab, where she'll meet national prexy and sister-in-law Nell and then proceed to Philly together, before heading on to Poughkeepsie; Thomas Doggett to the U. of Minnesota and O'Farrell Nelson to Iowa.

MEETINGS
The J-U-G-S met with Gwen Nash at the Gay Hawk Thursday... where members and guests Velma Lois Jones (who left by plane later for N. Y.), Josephine Bridges, Sarah Chandler, Marjorie Bradford, Modena Georgia White, Meritt Ewell and Doris Williams were each gifted with lovely gift stationery by the hostess, and slices of Sarah's wedding cake from her reception. Winners at bridge were Marie and Sarah for the club and Carol for the guest.

St. Monica Sodality of St. Augustine Parish met recently in the church's recreation hall with Doris and Gwen Ingraham and Erma Lee Laws as hostess. The Sodality, composed of young women from St. Anthony and St. Augustine parishes includes the following members: Nina Brayon, Dorothy Cole, Doris Williams, Elmedia Steverson, Fannie Connors and Margaret Randolph.

JENNIE V'S WEDDING AND RECEPTION

As we've said before... the week began and ended on the wedding note... and to round out this massive of Memphis society, Jennie V. Woods and George Kirby were united in matrimony in a beautiful ceremony at Trinity MB church, Saturday afternoon, to which only Jennie's family and a few close friends were invited. Later many, many guests turned out to the wedding reception held at the Lelia Walker Clubhouse at 6 p.m. Full coverage of this wedding will be in the next issue of your TSD.

Miss Watkins Weds Editor Of Defender

By MARJORIE I. ULEN

Beneath majestic gothic arches and the magnificent classic beauty of historic St. Mary's Cathedral, Miss Emogene Annette Watkins pledged her vows to L. Alexander Wilson, Wednesday, June 6, in a ceremony of social significance throughout the South, North and East.

Miss Watkins is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Watkins of Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Wilson is the son of Mrs. James Wilson of Detroit, and the late Mr. Wilson, and the editor and general manager of the Tri-State Defender.

The formal ceremony, one of the major weddings of the year, took place at 6 p.m. with the Rev. St. Julian A. Simpkins, jr., rector of Emmanuel Episcopal church officiating. Nuptial music was furnished by William Brice, organist of the cathedral.

GIVEN BY FATHER

The vows were taken at the Chancel steps as is the custom, following the giving of the bride by her father. The bride and groom were led to the sanctuary gate by the priest, followed by the maid of honor and the best man. From this point, the ancient ritual of the church continued with the pledging of their troths each to the other. Then followed the blessing and giving of the ring, prayers for solidarity and the final blessing. Immediately following the blessing there was a sustained period of silence ending with the majestic strains of "O Perfect Love" pealing from the organ and individual meditative intercessions were offered in behalf of the newly joined couple.

On the beautiful altar of the cathedral gold vases held arrangements of white stock and baby's breath highlighted with fern against a background of white tapers in altar candelabra and cathedral candles. At the foot of the chancel, wrought iron stands held arrangements of white stock, baby's breath and short palms, forming a focal point for the impressive ceremony.

BRIDAL GOWN

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, Dr. Thomas H. Watkins, was exquisite and a vision of loveliness in an original gown by Ina of imported white chantilly lace, illusion and silk tulle. The lace bodice formed a quaint basque fashioned with miniature buttons at the back. The portrait neckline had natural lace scalloping on illusion and extended into long sleeves that buttoned from the elbows to the wrists with petal points over the hands. The voluminous tulle skirt was poised over Dior hoops and many, many crinolines and extended into a graceful train.

Her double tier veil of French illusion billowed from a queen's crown of pearls and sequins. She wore a pearl choker necklace and pearl earrings. The bridal bouquet was of Easter lilies.

WEDDING ATTENDANTS

Miss Marilyn Watkins, the bride's sister served as maid of honor. Mrs. Edward Poole of Springfield, Mass., the former Mrs. Dorothea Collins of Memphis, was matron of honor and a cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Grace Collins and Mrs. Thomas Collins, also cousins of the bride.

Their identical waltz-length after-five gowns were of French imported white organdy, embroidered in pink for the maid of honor and blue and orchid respectively for the two bridesmaids. The gowns were sleeveless and designed with deep V necklines front and back with iridescent sequins matching the colored embroidery of each gown. The full skirts were worn over crinoline petticoats. Their half bride's caps were of white iridescent sequins and pearls and featured short tulle veils matching the embroidery color of each gown. All wore wrist-length fingerless white tulle gloves. The maid of honor's bouquet was pink-sprayed giant daisies with matching satin bow. The other feminine attendants carried bouquets of carnations sprayed to match the embroidery of each gown with matching large satin bows. Their shoes were of matching pearlized kid and vinylite.

Seated just before the entrance of the bridal party, the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas H. Watkins, was stunning in a short formal sheath of perrinwinkle blue chantilly lace featuring a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The gown was trimmed throughout with matching blue iridescent sequins. She wore a hat of white sequins and her corsage was a white orchid.

O. Bernard Johnson served Mr. Wilson as best man. Groomsman were John H. Sengstacke, president and publisher of Defender Publications, Chicago; Lt. Thomas H. Watkins, jr., the bride's brother, and Thomas Collins, a cousin of the bride. Ushers were Henry Collins of Tallahassee, Fla.; Nabors, John R. Arnold, jr., J. A. McDaniels and Lewis O. Swinger. Little Janice Horne, the flower girl, wore a long dress of white embroidered organdy and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pink roses and baby's breath. She wore a circlet of pink roses on her head.

Among other out-of-town guests attending the brilliant wedding were Miss Willard O. Bolden of Chicago and Mrs. Charles Cameron of Nutley, N. J.

THE RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained hundreds of Memphis and Tri-State socialites at the home office of the Tri-State Defender at 236 S. Wellington st. Throughout the various reception rooms were mantle and floor decorations of Easter lilies, pink and blue sprayed giant daisies and gardenias. Mrs. C. S. Jones introduced guests to the receiving line which consisted of the bride's parents, the bride and groom, the maid and the matron of honor and the bridesmaids.

The bride's table was overlaid in white satin and centered by a magnificent separated four-tier wedding cake that was garlanded with silver trimmed white bells and pale pink and blue roses. The top tier of the cake had an open raised crown which held a cluster of gardenias. Silver candelsticks holding white tapers flanked the cake; and the table was garlanded with sprays of gardenias and pink and blue sprayed daisies.

Assisting at the reception were the following friends of the bride: Miss Margaret Bush, Miss Geraldine Diamond, Mrs. Ruby Gadison, Mrs. Bernice W. Williams, Miss Almazine Davis, Mrs. Fleming Polk Mrs. Marion B. Ford, Mrs. James E. Herndon, Miss Cora Lawrence, Mrs. C. C. Sawyer, Mrs. M. Iles Ulen Mrs. H. A. Gilliam, Miss Maggie McDowell Mrs. Evans L. Clements, Mrs. Juanita Brewster Poston, Mrs. B. F. Hooks, jr., Mrs. Arthur E. Horne, Mrs. Simon Howard, Miss Josephine Fields Mrs.

Algie Curry and Miss Willard O. Bolden.

Mrs. H. A. Gilliam poured bridal punch from a crystal bowl

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

The LITERARY ALCOVE

GREAT AMERICAN

Today I have been reading the autobiography of a great leader in education. The volume is entitled "Up From Slavery" and is the story of the career of Booker T. Washington. Mr. Washington states in his preface that his book is the culmination of a series of articles dealing with incidents in his life. These articles were published consecutively in the Outlook Magazine.

Most of Mr. Washington's time and strength were required for the executive work connected with the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute. However he also found moments in which to tell the story of his career.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Washington's life story is included by Bantam Books along with the great biographies of Henry VIII, Cleopatra, Henry Ford, J. P. Morgan, Benvenuto Cellini and Alexander the Great. The editor of "The Literary Alcove" is pleased to state that this volume is a unique contribution to 20th century autobiography.

Copies of "Up From Slavery" can be secured on newsstands in a Bantam 50 cent edition. This edition is published by Bantam Books, Inc., 25 W. 45th St., New York 36, N. Y.

Literary World presentations each week will indicate paths to happiness via Great and Beautiful Poems. In view of this objective the editor of the "Literary Alcove" will be interested in receiving poems by Contemporary Authors of Lyrical Creations in rhythm. Poetry manuscripts should be addressed to Dr. James A. Butler, Box 603, Holly Springs, Miss.

The Philosophical Design for Literary World presentations in the "Literary Alcove" will utilize precise derived from the World's Great Philosophies as indicated by the poets.

From Beulah May I have received the following poem:
I shall have lived today
If I have penned one glorious thought;
If I one kindly deed have wrought;
Seen sunshine pierce the grey;
I shall have lived today
If I have breathed one happy word;
Have calmed one heart by sorrow stirred;
Seen laughter holding sway.
I shall have lived today
If I but keep my spirit strong;
Keep note of gladness in my song —

M-Sgt. Paschall Feted On Return From Abroad

The lovely apartment of Miss Elizabeth Lewis of 1841 Keltner Circle, was the setting for an informal gathering of a few friends welcoming M-Sgt. Wm. Paschall, Sr., back state-side, after a tour of duty in the Far East which has covered the past two years.

The guests were served hors d'oeuvres and refreshments.

Bridge and other games were enjoyed until the M-Sgt. broke up the concentration with an impromptu recital of some of the musical numbers that have made him famous throughout the Far East as an entertainer.

M-Sgt. Paschall has been in the armed service thirteen years. After an extended leave with his family, he will be stationed at the Brooks Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, his original post of duty before going to the Far East.

IMPORTED COAT

The M-Sgt's wife, the former Miss Kathryn Bell, was personally in a Japanese Lounging coat, imported by her spouse, of black silk net over red and black embossed oriental silk fastened from neck to hem with white oriental fasteners.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Callian, Mr. and Mrs. George Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Frances M. Hassell, Lucius Bryant, Miss Jean Sturdivant, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McGraw, Elmer Henderson, Miss Georgia Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Mitchell.

Manufacturing gained 1,693 percent between 1869 and 1939 while at the same time the population of the U. S. was increased by 43 percent.

CHRISTENING — Maria and Rita Bradford were christened Sunday May 7, after the 11 a. m. mass at the St. Augustine parish by Father Casmas. DOROTHY DANDRIDGE

Dot Dandridge's Pix Talents Set For London Use

HOLLYWOOD — Word that Dorothy Dandridge will live part of each year in Europe in order to star in French and Italian films was brought here by Earl Mills, her personal manager, on his return from England.

Mills accompanied the actress to London for her record-breaking four-week engagement with European film producers to arrange her first motion picture vehicles abroad.

Miss Dandridge begins work on "The Short Cut" for producer Henri Bevald of Prima Films in August. The love story of an Italian army officer and a girl of an occupied country with location in Southern France.

Second film commitment on her schedule is with producer Roland

Girard of Film Cyclope Company to star in a screen adaptation of "Tamango," a short story by Prosper Merimee, who wrote the original "Carmen." Date of production of the 17th century sea epic will probably be early spring, according to Mills.

"The First Eve," a French Musical, is the third film on tap for the star of "Carmen Jones," and a number of Italian films are also being prepared for the future.

Twentieth Century-Fox still holds a contract with Miss Dandridge for one starring film a year and recently announced that she would be one of the stellar luminaries in the cast of "Island in the Sun."

this...is HOLLYWOOD

By HAZEL A. WASHINGTON

HOLLYWOOD — Last Thursday, was quite a night for us, as we attended the black tie dinner at the Beverly Hills Hotel, in honor of Dr. Sukarno, president of the Republic of Indonesia. Eric Johnson, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, was the host for an impressive gathering of Hollywood dignitaries as one could see anywhere.

A most interesting sight were the velvet pill box hats worn by the handsome men in the President's party. The hats were worn throughout the dinner, and a r e called "Pitji-Pitji" (pronounced Peachy-Peachy) and are symbols of Indonesia's independence.

Over two hundred persons heard Eric Johnson's introduction of Dr. Sukarno, and he revealed that Indonesia is the third largest Republic in the world, consisting of some 81,000,000 souls, many of them movie fans. The country itself, extends over one thousand miles, as a chain of islands, including the world famous Bali, and many more. But the biggest movie fan is Dr. Sukarno, who sees from three to five American movies a week. Boy, what the movie industry would be, if Americans attended that many per week.

The President spoke of Hollywood as being one of the great areas of the world, one of the best known, and one of the most influential. "The motion picture industry has shown the deprived, the underprivileged nations something of what is possible to a free people and has thus stimulated the

Amos 'N Andy Stars Will Tour Nation

HOLLYWOOD — (ANP) — The atical agent Ben C. Waller is negotiating with Amos and Andy (Spencer Williams and Alvin Childress) to handle a nationwide tour of personal appearances. There is a possibility that Lawyer Calhoun (Johnny Lee) may accompany the popular duo on the trek.

Waller, who recently opened offices in Chicago, has received a host of inquiries regarding the Amos and Andy since he revealed his plans.

NEW YORK — (ANP) — Returning home last week from their latest seven-month foreign tour—and a look behind the Iron Curtain—the "Porgy and Bess" players agreed that Soviets knew little about the life of the Negro in America.

Robert Breen, director and co-producer of the show, which has been intermittently touring the globe since 1952 with an all-Negro cast, said the Russians' idea of the American Negro "is 50 years behind the times."

Breen said persons behind the Iron Curtain seemed to be frantic for information on life in the United States.

Outdoor Showtime Spotlights Pair

Leon Claxton, 'Silas Green' Set For Runs

By HILDA SEE
ATLANTA, Ga. — Our trip here wasn't exactly for that purpose but we ran into quite a story about the plans for outdoor attractions for coming summer. A story that indicates the Harlem in Havana show produced by Leon Claxton and "Silas Green From New Orleans" the Wilber J. Jones starrer will return to the fairways and by ways late this month.

There are no better known shows in the land than this pair attractions, traveling as they do the nation over. Both major in music, comedy and song and a n d pretty girls, features that make any attraction.

In addition to the Silas Green and "Harlem In Havana" shows the under tent productions for this season will include the Irving C. Miller shows. Miller moved his production indoors for shots at

New York Apollo and other eastern houses last season but will return to the tent-touring-setup in 1956.

Both Harlem in Havana and "Silas Green" shows are national in scope, cast wise. Among the artists included in the casts are stars from Harlem, Hollywood and other show and movie centers. Beauty choruses as featured by both shows are made up of the best looking and shapeliest dancers that can be found in New York, California and even far away as Cuba. Yes, "Harlem in Havana" boasts of a number of Cuban-American artists who make the show a standout in dance, looks and talent.

Earlier reports had Larry Steele invading the one-nighter trail with his "Smart Affairs" b u t that plan has been abandoned. M a i n reason is t h a t Steele is listening to an offer that would take his show to Europe. Smart Affairs spent most of past season in Australia and success of t h a t jaunt has about induced Steele to try other over-the pond bookings.

CLAYTON TYSON and Pauline Conners, proved to be quite a team as they appeared with "Harlem In Havana" on its tour with Royal American shows. Pauline was one of several dancing dolls on the show that toured this country and Canada.

"HARLEM IN HAVANA," the Leon Claxton shows majored in beautiful girls and comedy last season and will repeat this year. There is no better comic than Al Jackson, shown here with pretty and talented Norma Talbert as they show stopped last season.

Youths Avoid Career In Music Because Pay Is Low, Expert Says

More music is heard in the United States today than at any other time in history but Chicago music educator Dr. Leon Stein complains that available musicians have decreased rapidly.

Dr. Stein, a member of the DePaul University Music faculty for 23 years, indicated that low wages are responsible for lack of interest in music as a profession. He said:

"Young people have declined to study the violin and other string instruments because they have realized their opportunities for supporting themselves with string music are slim indeed."

He pointed out that in Chicago alone, only three per cent of the 16,000 registered union musicians earn a full time salary through music. He also said there is less than one musician for each radio station in the country.

Dr. Stein asserted that some form of national, state or local subsidy "must eventually be forthcoming." The United States, he said, "is the only leading nation in the world which has no national subsidy of the arts."

Rock 'n' Roll Religious, Not Popular

Claim Answers Swat Aimed At Exponents

With certain sections of the country centering a strange attack on Rock 'N' Roll music it is only natural that certain exponents of the style should hit back. And hit back they did this week.

Answering charges by a Dixie politician that the style was a disgrace and ruining the morals of youth of the nation (Dixie that is) the guys who play the style most yelled "b a s h ." In addition the Rock 'N' Roll gents and ladies say the style is actually based on folk tunes and gospel singing and not the after dark stuff that Dixie claims.

They say there is nothing jazzy about the style. Rather it is a rock such as can be heard in religious fervored singing nation wide.

Another thing they point out is fact that many of the folk singers, non-sepia that is, feature the style with no claim to being jazz singers. They point out fact that barn dance singers of the type that Dixie loves lean more to Rock 'N' Roll than anything else.

The subject was brought up at a recent disc jockey convention and all members voted to ignore the ridiculous protests by Dixies. They agreed to eliminate a lot of lurid and distasteful lyrics from their programs but in formal wordings admitted that few if any of the things to be dropped were Rock 'N' Roll tunes.

ANN HENRY, sensational Chicago find will be in the cast when "New Faces of 1956" opens at the Barrymore theatre on Broadway Thursday.

Page Ethel Waters, Jack Johnson Ghost Writers; There Is Trouble

Call Concerns What Not To Put In Life Stories

By ROB ROY

When Ethel Waters permitted ghost writing of her life story, a thing called "His Eye Is On The Sparrow," she started something. It was just a short time later when a book on the life of Louis Armstrong hit the presses.

Today, there are a number such yarns being printed or readied for the presses that should make it final — that Sepians have stories to tell that are interesting books, if not movie wise. Among those being written is the life story of Sugar Ray Robinson, the middleweight champ and a d already "purchased" for a movie. Nat King Cole's book of his life is also being readied: Pearl Bailey has one coming up and the late Bojangles' story is believed to be about ready for the presses to turn on the manuscript wording.

things that might be told but are not as has been true of most of the life story books?

Like ex-President Harry Truman's the story of important people's lives make good books so far as sales are concerned. However again like Truman's the printed pages rarely if ever include the "closeted" things that sometime or another are discussed beyond the rumor stage.

Your correspondent has been familiar with the careers of several artists mentioned as subjects of life stories. Therefore he'll watch them closely for review purposes. While reviewing t h e books he'll use a big sheet of paper on one side and a small one on the other. Dollars to doughnuts the larger one will be filled

Gordon Jenkins, Satchmo 'Angel' To New Discery

In 1942 composer-arranger-conductor Gordon Jenkins made his first commercial recordings for Capitol Records. This week he signed a new contract with the same company calling for his services primarily as an album artist.

Jenkins is credited with t h e "discovery" of such talent as Karen Chandler, Janet Blair, The Weavers, the McGuire Sisters, and brought a new facet of the one and only Louis Armstrong to the fore by backing him up with strings and a large chorus.

Release Belafonte's Calypso Album As He Undergoes Operation

Harry Belafonte, generally recognized as a foremost singer of traditional songs, has recorded a new album, CALYPSO, a cross section of songs based on melodies of the English-speaking islands of the Caribbean.

Although only a man of 28 years of age, Belafonte's varied experience and sense of integrity have already provided him with a maturity necessary for an album of this type. The material here is not merely another presentation of island songs. They range from brassy gaiety to wistful sadness, and Belafonte keenly projects the irresistible rhythm of these West Indian people who always seem to have the ability to laugh at themselves.

News that the albums had been released for sale reached Belafonte as he entered a New York hospital for operation on his throat.

Slate Premiere Of Grace Kelly Pix With 'Satch'

HOLLYWOOD—"High Society" the last picture made by Grace Kelly before she left to wed Prince Rainier will be accompanied by the largest display of fireworks since "Trapeze" made its appearance.

MGM, assured that Louis Satchmo Armstrong, one of the stars in the film will be available for music for the big blow out; assured that Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby and others will attend is busy setting plans for the premiere colossal Grace Kelly, of course will not be available for the premiere but will discuss the party via long distance phone with those in attendance.

Oddly enough no city or theatre has been chosen for the premiere. New York is bidding, so are Los Angeles, Hollywood and Chicago

The Disc Parade

In "Your Tender Lips" THE CLOVERS have a strong side that should pull heavily in juke boxes and on the air. It has all the emotion and sentimentality that creates interest with the younger set of record buyers.

The flip-side LOVE, LOVE, LOVE has all the trappings of a gay nineties tune, with overtones of the roaring twenties. The old-time sound of the instrumental ensembles, plus a player-type piano, and the bassax flourishes, at the end of phrases, give this effort a decided twenties flavor.

My Chops Fine, Knees Knobby Is Satchmo's Reply

NEW YORK — Louis Armstrong, who is opening at Basin Street June 21, was asked if he'd wear the kilts presented to him during his Edinburgh appearance. Satchmo said he wouldn't wear the kilts in the Broadway jazz club. "My chops is fine," he said, "but my knees are knobby."

'New Faces' Takes Jump To Broadway This Week

NEW YORK — (INS) — The last two new productions of the 1955-56 Broadway season will open during the coming week.

One is Leonard Sillman's "New Faces of 1956," which will introduce to theatre-goers performers who Sillman and the show's backers hope will become the stars of tomorrow.

The other entry is "Shangri-La," the musical version of James Hilton's novel "Lost Horizon."

Among the new faces in "New Faces" first nighters will see is Chicagoan Ann Henry who rates the tops in mimic song and dance. Ann appeared in New Faces of 1955 for a brief period replacing Eartha Kitt who was absent for a week while filling a previous commitment in Buffalo, New York.

Sillman had auditioned M i s s Henry for possible understudy to Kitt but after seeing her work decided to keep her under cover so far as the east is concerned until this season Her appearance in Faces of 1955 was in San Francisco where the show was appearing on its cross country tour after the Broadway stay.

Listed below are some of the

"Janus" — Imogene Coca — Plymouth theatre — funny—available.

"Matchmaker" — Ruth Gordon — Royale theatre — unanimous raves — seats most nights.

"Middle Of The Night" — Edward G. Robinson — Anta theatre — moving performances — seats most nights.

"Mr. Wonderful" — Will Mastin Trio, Sammy Davis, Jr. — Broadway theatre — Davis wonderful, not show — available.

Daniels, Cole, Hartman With Names On Disc

NEWARK, N. J. — Regent Records, a subsidiary of Savoy Records, will market a number of LP's this season starting in July at the National Association of Music Merchants show.

Several jazz artists will be featured in company's new line. They include Nat Cole, Billy Daniels, Johnny Hartman, Johnny

Ruby Dee In '10 Feet Tall'

NEW YORK — (ANP) — When Ruby Dee is asked her occupation by strangers she tells them that she's a part-time actress and full-time mother. But with a wealth of experience in playing all types of TV, movie and radio roles, she is acknowledged to be one of the nation's top actresses.

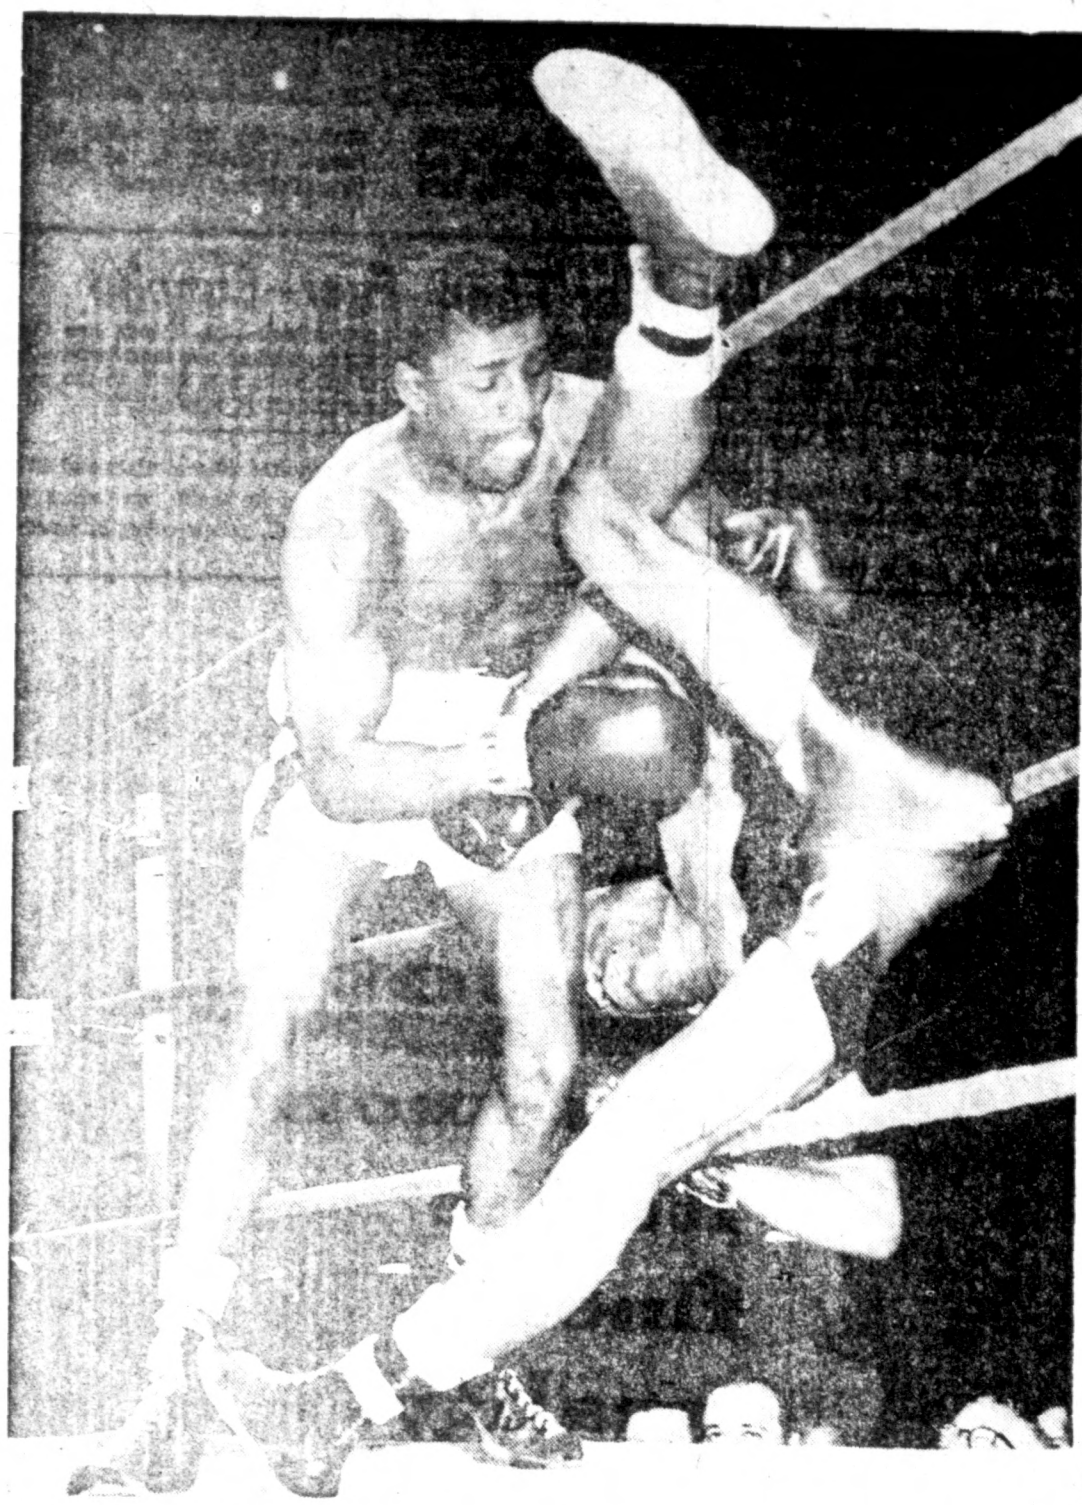

"When the Jonathan Production of "A Man Is Ten Feet Tall" is shown in the theatres sometime in September she will be seen in the role of Sidney Poitier's wife. The play, which was adapted from a TV script, was shot in New York City and several of the scenes are laid in Harlem.

Green and others on oldies. Then there will be a number of new names on the labels.

Rhodes Wins Open Qualifying

Bobby Boyd Wants Title Bout After Savage Win

By RUSS J. COWANS

Bobby Boyd, a fighter with a bright future, has had his eyes focused on the middleweight title held by Sugar Ray Robinson. In fact, Boyd has been eyeing the Robinson bauble for quite some time, and, at the same time, nursing a keen desire to possess it.

Last year Boyd, who launched his professional career in 1952, had a setback in his ambitious plans. He was defeated by Milo Savage, fighter from Salt Lake City, on April 18, 1955, in a 10-rounder in his first appearance in New York.

Following that defeat Bobby won nine straight bouts during the year, including wins over Gene Fullmer and George Johnson, both in Chicago rings. Earlier this year he defeated Eduardo Lause of Argentina, and Holly Mims, Baltimore veteran.

Last Wednesday night Boyd avenged the Savage defeat of 1955 by scoring a 10-round technical knockout over Milo before a crowd of 2,091 fans in Chicago stadium. The bout came to a quick end in the 10th, starting with a left jab by Boyd, followed by a hard right that landed flush on the jaw.

Savage went down, but arose on wobbly legs at the count of nine. Referee Joey White stopped the bout.

Boyd had Savage down for a count of three in the ninth. Boyd was able to land lefts and rights without return.

Boyd weighed 158 1/2 to 159 1/2 for Savage.

Savage put up a stirring battle for the first four rounds, but tumbled out of the ring in the fourth.

He later said he suffered a chest injury.

Bernie Glickman, Boyd's manager, in talking to reporters in the dressing room after the fight, said: "There's nobody left except Sugar Ray Robinson. We've licked all the top contenders."

Will Boyd get a shot at Robinson's title? That's a question fight fans are asking.

Robinson is seriously considering an offer of $150,000 to defend his title against Art Aragon in Los Angeles next September. If Robinson accepts the offer, then Boyd will have to wait until next year, although Glickman has offered Robinson $100,000 for a title bout.

PETE MUMFORD has been the sensation of the 1956 Negro American league season. The 25-year-old right-hander pitched a no-hitter against the Kansas City Monarchs in an exhibition game this spring. Mumford will pitch one of the games of the double-header in Grand Rapids, June 17. The Stars play the Kansas City Monarchs.

Tops A Crack Field In Chi Tournament

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Teddy Rhodes was not among the favorites to win the National open which opened here Thursday, June 14, and continues through June 16. Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff and perhaps Doug Ford will be the top favorites with the galleries.

But Teddy had his day last week. The Nashville pro won the qualifying medal in the Chicago District trials last Monday as he went around the courses at Medinah Country club in 140 strokes.

It was eight years ago that Rhodes became the first Negro to qualify for the National Open. It was over the same No. 3 course at Medinah that Rhodes played in the 1949 National Open. He failed to qualify for the final 36 holes.

It was also in 1949 that Rhodes, winner of the Joe Louis Invitational tournaments for five straight years, won his first United Golfers Association title, beating a crack field in Detroit. He held it through 1952, and did not defend the crown in Kansas City, Mo., in 1953.

Rhodes, who started as a caddy in Nashville, has been a pro since 1941. He has been instructor to Joe Louis, Ray Robinson, and other top athletes.

IRA MCKNIGHT is a newcomer to the Kansas City Monarchs lineup, but the catcher has caught the eye of Manager Jelly Taylor with his hitting and work behind the plate. McKnight will have his regular assignment when the Monarchs play the Detroit Stars in Grand Rapids, Mich., Sunday, July 17.

Stars, Monarchs Fight For Lead

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — The Kansas City Monarchs will play the Detroit Stars here Sunday, June 17 at 2:30 p.m., at Valley field.

Both teams, members of the Negro American league, are rated top contenders for this year's pennant. Kansas City is resting in first place with a 8-2 record while Detroit is close behind with a 6-4 mark.

STARS SPRING SURPRISE The Detroit club has been the big surprise of the league. Loaded with hard-hitting veterans, the Stars have forged into the No. 1 threat for the Monarchs and league officials are forecasting a rugged two-way battle between the two teams in the first half of the split season.

Outfielder Herm Green has been one of the main reasons Detroit is in the thick of the fight. Herm has blasted five home runs so far this season and leads the club in the RBI column with 14.

Besides being a heavy-hitter, Green has one of the best throwing arms in the circuit and Manager Ed Steele believes the youngster will be ready for major league competition at the conclusion of the season.

In 16 spring exhibition games and six loop encounters, Detroit has averaged 12 hits per contest.

LEADS LOOP HITTERS John Kennedy, shortstop, has been the sensation of the league with his long ball hitting. He is batting at a merry .381 clip and his six home runs have sparked the Monarchs into the No. 1 spot in the league.

Ira McKnight, stand-out catcher, has also been hitting in the clutch. He has connected for three home runs, two winning games in the last innings, and the right-handed power hitter is batting .347.

Oscar Cardenas, Mack Pride and Vernon Maddox have been the leading hurlers on the Monarchs staff. The trio have accounted for 11 wins so far and Manager Taylor is expecting at least 50 wins between the three before the season comes to an end.

Charley Powell Grid Star, Goes Back To Boxing

LOS ANGELES — Charley Powell is an athlete who has had the unique experience of choosing between two of the toughest careers in sports. Last week he ended his grid career to re-enter boxing for keeps, he announced.

The former San Francisco 49er football star quit boxing a year ago after being stopped by Detroit's Johnny Summerlin. He had been a good prospect in his brief career in pro boxing before running into hard luck.

In switching back to boxing, Powell stated:

"I'm back in the fight game for keeps. Although I gave up the ring when Johnny Summerlin stopped me a year ago and went back to football, there's no stopping me this time."

In his current ring campaign, Powell has two wins and a draw in three fights.

players this season claimed another victim. The New York Giants' Henry Thompson was hit on the head with a delivery of Tom Poholsky of the St. Louis Cardinals. Thompson was wearing a plastic helmet. Taken to a hospital in St. Louis, Thompson was found by doctors to be suffering a concussion. They ordered him to remain in the hospital for a "few days."

Returning the action after a long spell on the sidelines because of a leg injury was Vic Power of the Kansas City A's. Bobby Boyd is on Baltimore's disabled list and will not return to action until after the all-star game a month hence.

Tatum And Haynes Busy Preparing For 1956-57 Season For Magicians Trial Camps

SAND SPRINGS, Okla.—Reece (Goose) Tatum and Marques Haynes refuse to admit that it is baseball, not basketball, season. Although the co-owners of the Harlem Magicians decided not to play a year-around schedule, they are as busy as proverbial bees: 1) planning for next season, and 2) recounting and reappraising events of last season.

Here in Sand Springs, where Haynes maintains a home, the great stars totaled up the year and came up with these interesting figures:

The Magicians played 179 games in a season extending from Oct. 1 to the last third of April. They won 'em all!

They traveled 67,000 miles. They played in 45 states, skipping only Vermont, New Hampshire, and Arizona.

Evidently the fans and promoters liked the Magicians' show, for they already have been booked well into next March.

"The schedule for 1956-57," Haynes said, "looked much better than it did in mid-summer last year."

While the owners are busy with the 1956-57 schedule, other Magicians have scattered to all sections of the nation to pursue personal careers or to rest. For example, Van Phillips, the promising youngster from Arkansas, is playing baseball with the Detroit Stars of the Negro American league.

Boyd Buie, the one-armed star, operating a gasoline service station in Los Angeles.

"Most of the other boys," Tatum revealed, "are working. You know, when a tour ends, you sometimes feel that you want to quit until the next season begins. After a little while of doing nothing, you feel the need of a job or some occupation."

On being asked what was the most unusual thing that happened to the Magicians last season, Tatum said:

"Once we were scheduled for a fight out of Indianapolis, going to Hot Springs, Ark. The fight was cancelled at the last minute, which left us in a real tight spot. We had to make Hot Springs for a game. We solved the problem by hiring cabs. That was some cab ride — 650 miles!"

When Marques was asked what was the funniest thing that happened during the season, he said:

"Seeing Goose out on the basketball court, was the funniest thing I saw. Watching him, I felt just like the fans. He got funnier every night."

Fay SAYS

What Next?

MISTER GEORGE Jethro Ware, known in fight circles as Milo Savage and rated number five in Ring Magazine's latest ratings, didn't have what it takes to win last Wednesday night in the Chicago stadium. Bobby Boyd, 22-year-old Chicago Golden Gloves graduate, was winner in 27 seconds of the 10th and last round when Referee Joey White stopped the bout.

Mister George went out of the ring in the fourth after he had slipped. He again slipped in the ninth after being whaled by Boyd. He got up and was floored for a third count in that round and in the 10th a left and right sent him to the canvas and the referee stopped hostilities.

The victory gave Boyd his ninth straight win and now the Ring magazine's number two middleweight contender has an impressive record of 40 victories in 47 fights. One of his losses was to Savage (right name Ware) in April 1955 in St. Nicholas arena, New York City.

Boyd's manager now seeks a title fight with Sugar Ray Robinson, the champion. However, Robinson will next meet Art Aragon in Los Angeles' Olympic stadium for a $150,000 guarantee in a title defense bout. Ray needs the money to settle with Uncle Sam's income tax experts. Boyd may get a chance, if Ray wins, early next year in either Chicago or New York under the International Boxing club's promotion. The proposed Los Angeles bout is not under the IBC.

In the meantime, Harry Mendel, publicity director for Archie Moore, is hammering the type-writer demanding that Moore, who stopped Yolande Pompey in the 10th round of the world lightweight championship bout in London's Harringay arena, be given a chance at Marciano's empty throne. Moore, behind on points as the gong sounded on round eight swarmed all over the Trinidad fighter in the ninth and sent him to the canvas in the final round for counts of eight, nine and eight before the fight was stopped.

Moore, now 39, was 12 years older than his opponent but like "ol' Man River," he keeps on moving along. Maybe he can make it.

HERE'S ONE for the books. Stranger things may have happened in sport. Here it is: Loyola university of New Orleans wanted to rent the Pelican baseball park for a ball game. The park officials had practically decided to put their okay on the venture. Having set the date, the park people decided to ask Loyola who their opponents would be. Xavier university of the same city. Both schools are Catholic institutions. Loyola is white, Xavier is Negro.

The game never came off. Reason: Pelican stadium could not be rented for such an occasion. The Pelican folk wouldn't come right out and say it was because the game would be an interracial affair. The excuse for the turn-down was that "college teams would tear up the field and it would cost too much money to put it back in shape."

A recent check of the patronage at a league game at Pelican stadium revealed only four Negroes in the section "reserved for colored patrons." The brethren are waking up. No colored on the Pelican team. The seating arrangements as provided just doesn't "gee" with the brethren. No uniform boycott — just a plain boycott by the would-be Negro fans. Same as caused the Jim Crow section in the Sugar Bowl New Year's day game to be two-thirds empty.

ONE HAS TO be very careful what he says to writers. If you are to be quoted, then write it down saving a carbon. They probably won't use it then. Latest example: A well known sports figure, in answer to a national magazine writer's query, said "I have never sought (or words to that effect) to crash the white man's social world." The story quoted him as saying "I have never

Trial Camps To Be Held By The Sox

A tryout program for Chicago area youths will be conducted by the Chicago White Sox organization in 10 of the city's parks, June 25 through July 6, it was announced early this week.

The plan, conceived and under the supervision of Assistant Farm Director Jack Sheehan, is open to all boys between the ages of 16 and 22, and is a three-phase program, designed to uncover professional baseball talent in the Chicago area.

The first phase of the plan will consist purely of conducting tryouts at the parks. No instructions will be given.

However, those performing to the satisfaction of White Sox instructors will be invited to attend the Pale Hose Chicago area training camp at Shewbridge field, where they will receive expert instructions in all fundamentals.

Chief White Sox scout John Mostil and his assistants, Frank Parenti, Doug Minor and Walter Lasowski, will be in charge of the training camp at Shewbridge.

Top qualifiers from the training camp will be assembled on a team which will play games at Shewbridge field and Comiskey Park on days when the White Sox are out of town. Their opponents will be amateur and semi-pro teams in the city and suburbs.

Among the parks where the tryouts will be conducted, is Washington Park, in the heart of the southside. The White Sox will conduct tryouts at Washington Park, Thursday, June 28.

Tryouts will also be conducted at Bessemer, Trumbull, Palmer, Foster, Garfield, McKinley, Humbolt Portage and Horner parks.

sought to crash the white man's world."

One little word, either left out or added, in such an interview, may prove disastrous. Best to be careful. Only thing that saved this well known sports figure was the fact that all who know him know he was misquoted plus the fact that so many sport fans do not read the magazine in question.

Since Fred Long has gone back to Wiley college as coach, we can't get a word out of him. Fred's teams put Wiley on the map. He is out to repeat — that is "maybe" Boy, what a word that is if you don't produce.

Birdie High In Praise Of Robinson

NEW YORK — Birdie Tebbets, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, last week had high praises for his star rookie outfielder Frank Robinson, but said he plans to bring him along slowly to give him greater confidence in himself.

"I'm going to bring him along just as slowly as possible," Tebbets said. "Robinson's only 20 years old, he doesn't have much experience and there's no sense in rushing him."

"In other words, if he isn't going well and a (Robin) Roberts or a (Gene) Conley is going against us, I'll bench him. Why destroy his confidence? I've already benched him this season and I'll do it again if the situation warrants."

"I did the same thing with Wally Pate and it didn't hurt him a bit. The last time I benched Robinson it was only for one day and he came back and did a terrific job for us."

According to Tebbets the young outfielder from Oakland, Calif., has "all the earmarks of a future great."

Robinson has been praised for his great natural ability. He is one of the big reasons the Reds are in the running this season.

Newcombe Wins His Eighth Game; Robinson Hits 12th Home Run

Young Frankie Robinson, rookie outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds, is proving a strong hitter. He blasted his 12th home run, a 3-run wallop, to help give Brooks Lawrence his seventh pitching triumph without a defeat, a 7-to-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies at Cincinnati, Lawrence, continuing his remarkable comeback, is the only undefeated regular moundman in the majors.

Don Newcombe notched his eighth win of the season by beating the Milwaukee Braves 5 to 2.

Newk gave up the pair of tallies in the first inning when Henry Aaron of the Braves hoisted his seventh home run out of County Stadium in Milwaukee.

HIT STREAK BROKEN Roberto Clemente, sophomore outfielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, had a seven-game consecutive hit streak going but lost it Thursday. He had one of his best days of the season at the plate against the Chicago Cubs, a home run and three singles in four trips to the plate, as the Pirates won 8 to 2.

Al Smith, the Cleveland Indians' outfielder-infielder, displayed his versatility when he was called in to play third base in the Washington series. His defensive play was sparkling. His hitting also perked up. The Tribesman hitting safely in five straight games — three against Washington and two against the Baltimore Orioles.

Larry Doby, outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, was requested by Manager Marty Marion to doff the space type helmet he had been using at the plate. The head gear fitted over the lower part of his head and resembled a football helmet. At any rate, without it, Larry emerged from a slump in the Baltimore and Washington series, hitting timely. But Doby was still without his first home run of the 1956 season.

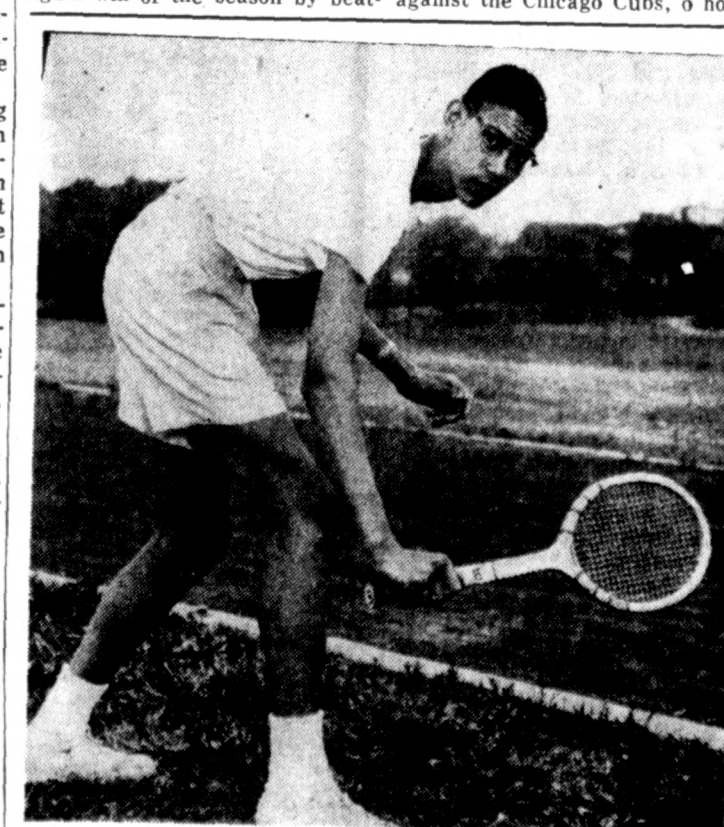

Clemente's hitting string has raised his average to .356, placing him fourth among the National league hitters. Billy Bruton, the Milwaukee centerfielder was tied for fifth, as of last Thursday, with a .330 mark.

Bruton remained the NL's leader in the triples with seven, followed by Willie Mays of the Giants, who has six. Mays added one more base theft to raise his lead to 12.

Cincy's Robinson was tied for third in runs scored with 34. Ernie Banks was in a three-way tie (with Frank Robinson and one other player) for fourth in home runs with 12. Newcombe is fifth in strikeouts among NL pitchers with 50.

In the American league, Hector Lopez of the Kansas City A's has scored 34 runs, good for fourth place in that department. His teammate, Harry Simpson, with 36 runs batted in, is third, behind Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

Musing: God created us with the power to reason. We have the power to choose the right way or the wrong way for our lives. So let us not forget that we are personally responsible for the future of our souls.

Dear Carlotta:
We are in financial distress at the present. There are things we want to do for the children, in fact we promised them. Should we tell the children about our money and finance problems?

Parents:
Dear Parents:
Yes, one woman with many years of experience recently wrote an article on this in a well known magazine. Children like to be trusted with a family problem. They feel important when they are allowed to share the family problems. Children should know that money doesn't grow on trees. It is something you have to work hard for. When you don't have money it is nothing to be ashamed of unless you are too lazy to work for it. When children know that parents are facing facts they respect their parents more. They will be willing to go without little pleasures to stretch the family's money. Children will learn, too, about the importance of borrowing and saving. It is better, too, to have it out in the open so the family can pull together to better their financial condition.

The JACKSON

SCENE

Miss Anna Lee

You really don't think we're trying to get back to winter again, do you? Its sure has seemed like it for a few days. Last Friday when the Semper Fidelis Council had their Old Fashion Bar-b-que which was to have been out of doors, the weather man changed the idea. Most everyone came clad in picnic attire but sweaters and top coats completed it. Even though the affair held at the lovely Atwater home on Lexington rd. had to be moved on the inside, everybody had a just too wonderful time. Members of the council made everybody welcome and that bar-b-que was delicious.

It's hard to begin to tell just who was there for the cool breeze didn't seem to keep anyone away. Among some I saw were the Sidne Perry, Howard Golden, here from Meharry Medical college, the Rex Currys, Dewey Gates, Jessie Davis, the McKis do you? Its sure has seemed like it for a few days. Last Friday (Chick) Alexander from Chicago, Jessie L. Brooks, the Ozell Byrds, the Otis Prices, William Bailey, Ida Jackson and brother, L. Sangster, M. Moore, the William Hays, Mesdames Pruett, Dobbins and Bonds and so many more. This lovely cool weather won't stay always though for by the time you read this it may be hot as blazes.

CITY TEACHER RETIRES

Mrs. A. C. Greer who has spent many of her precious years in the teaching profession in the Jackson City Schools retires this year. She was employed at South Jackson Elementary School. In addition to her teaching, she has many former students she instructed in music who are doing well in the field. She was honored with a dinner by the faculty of South Jackson school and presented with a token. At the Merry High school graduation she was presented a gift from the Jackson Colored Teachers' Association for her many years of service by Miss Darlene Hutson, city supervisor. She responded with a gracious acceptance.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hughes spent a week at Mr. Hughes' home in French Lick, Ind. before Mrs. Hughes departed for Tennessee State university for the summer session. Also at Tennessee State is Mrs. Mary L. Womack.

JACKS AND JILL VISIT DAIRY

Have you ever been to a dairy to see just how the milk you drink is bottled? It's a wonderful experience for children with milk being a special part of their diet. The Jack and Jill Mother's club made this experience possible for their children last Monday when they took them to the Hol-loway Dairy Products Company in Jackson. It was quite amusing for them to see that milk never touches the human hands in the process of purification and bottling. Through the year the Jack and Jill Mothers have provided enjoyment as well as educational experiences for their children.

Mrs. Cyril Porter will attend the National Jack and Jill Convention in Cleveland, Ohio this summer. Among the noted Jackson undertakers who attended the State Meeting of Undertakers which was held in Memphis last week were Earl M. Shaw and family, Charles L. Bledsoe and family and the A. C. Fords. It is reported that Memphis undertakers went all out to make the state association a grand meet.
