Miss Kentucky

MISS KENTUCKY—Three Murray State University coeds were among the top ten finalists in Saturday night's Miss Kentucky pageant. Toni Jayne Sparks, Miss Green River Valley, was fourth runner-up; Karen Gordon, Miss Paducah, was third runner-up; and Jane Marie Wagar, the only Murray contestant in the competition, was among the top ten finalists. Crowned as the new Miss Kentucky was Miss Lake Cumberland, Victoria Harned of Leitchfield. Miss Wagar, the 19-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wagar of Murray, performed a toe dance as her talent in the competition.

Reagan Makes Clean Sweep Of State GOP Committee Posts

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Ronald Reagan forces have made a clean sweep of all state Republican committee posts for the national convention despite vehement criticism from President Ford's camp that the move will harm the party.

To no one's great surprise, the Reagan backers took a total of 11 posts, including those on four committees which could have some impact on the national convention.

Time and again, the Ford elements tried vainly to balance the two mem-

Former Inmate Wants To 'Blow The Whistle'

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A former Kentucky State Penitentiary inmate says he wants to "blow the whistle" on the former prison warden and other officials regarding alleged wrongdoing at the prison.

Billy Truman (Crip) Delaney, 45, says he rose to power as the "No. 1 rat" at Eddyville and held sway over prison "hustles" and even carried out a murder "contract" for former Supt. Henry Cowan.

Delaney was paroled earlier this year from Eddyville, where he was serving two consecutive life sentences for murder and armed robbery. He was also given a 21-year sentence for manslaughter in the stabbing death of a fellow innmate.

Now living in Phoenix, Ariz., where he is "doing right," Delaney recently telephoned a Louisville newspaper (The Courier-Journal) to describe his life at Eddyville.

Cowan was fired as superintendent at the western Kentucky prison last month and is now an associate warden at Iowa State Prison.

Delaney said he took murder contracts from prison officials and knew of other such contracts taken by

He said he killed inmate inmate Paul Campisano, 26, with the knowledge and endorsement of prison officials after Campisano interfered with one of Delaney's profitable prison "hustles."

The "hustles," Delaney said, included selling clothes manufactured in the prison clothing plant to guards and prisoners and sharing the proceeds with Cowan. He said he also was involved in the "sale" of young prisoners as homosexual partners for other impates.

Delaney also said he and two prison officials took part in the sale of drugs to inmates.

Because of his special relationship with Cowan, Delaney said he had an annual income of $15,000 to $20,000 while in prison.

An investigative commission appointed by Gov. Julian Carroll conducted polygraph examinations on prisoners who alleged wrongdoing in the prison. Some of the tests indicated the prisoners were telling the truth.

However, Cowan and other prison officials also took polygraph examinations, which showed they were telling the truth when they denied involvement in some specific cases of alleged wrongdoing.

Reached in Iowa, Cowan said he knows nothing about Delaney's charges and added: "I'm no longer involved in corrections in the state of Kentucky."

Approximately ninety-five persons attended the first Calloway County Dairymen's Picnic held Saturday, June 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Murray State University Livestock and Exposition Center.

This event, sponsored by the Calloway County Ladies Auxiliary of the American Dairy Association, was an attempt to unite the dairymen, their families, and other members of the dairy industry in an effort to impress upon the consumer and themselves, just what the $21 billion dairy industry means to the entire nation, a spokesman said.

Miss Alene Paschall, First District Dairy Princess, presided at the gathering following the meal including homemade ice cream. She thanked the people who planned and organized the dairymen's get-together which included Jim Walston representing Ryan Milk Company, Bill Cherry, Ted Howard, and members of the Calloway County June Dairy Month Committee—Beverly Shelton, Darlene Paschall, Joyce Tidwell, Marilyn McKinner, dayle Katil Letterment

McKinney, and Katie Letterman.

Special guests that made contributions to the dairy industry who were introduced were Kieth Letterman, vice-president of First District ADAs; Mrs. Sam Howard of Mayfield, secretary-treasurer of First District ADAs; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myrick from the Paducah Division of Dairymen, Inc.; Carl Moore representing the Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

The highlight of the evening was a dairy speech given by Miss Sandra Stark, Calloway County Dairy Princess. Miss Paschall presented her a certificate and a check on behalf of the Calloway County June Dairy Month Committee and the American Dairy Association. Miss Stark will compete in the First District Dairy Princess contest at Mayfield this fall.

Over $16 Million Spent For Food In Local Area

For most Calloway County families, incomes were up in the past year and the rise was reflected in the amount of business done by local retail stores.

According to a new market report, consumer outlays for goods and services in the local area compared favorably with expenditures made in the previous year. To a considerable extent, however, inflation contributed to the increase in the dollar volume.

The findings are contained in a study just released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It shows just how much was spent locally and in other sections of the country for food, cars, clothing, furniture and general merchandise.

In Calloway County, a large part of the outlay was for food. Out of every dollar spent in local retail stores, approximately 19 cents went to supermarkets, bakeries, butcher shops, grocery stores, delicatessens and the like.

All in all, the sales volume in stores selling food for home preparation and consumption added up to a grand total of $16,028,000.

This was solely for take-home food. It does not include the amount spent in restaurants and in other eating and

Grant To Murray State Is Announced

WASHINGTON, D.C.—U.S. Congressman Carroll Hubbard today announced Murray State University will receive a Basic Grant of $3,930 from the College Library Resources Program of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The grant funds must be used to acquire academic library materials such as books, periodicals, magnetic tapes, phonograph records, audiovisual materials and other related library materials.

The FY 1976 Federal appropriation of $9,975,000 for this HEW program permitted a maximum funding level of $3,930 per eligible applicant. The U. S. Office of Education approved 2,560 Basic Grants.

rinking places.

If the expenditures were to be divided equally among the local population they would average out to $1,590 per household.

Stronger consumer buying was also in evidence in other local stores, the report shows.

Sales of automobiles, trailers, motorcycles, boats and other automotive equipment reached $22.356.000.

Department stores and other stores carrying general merchandise recorded a total of $8,167,000.

Apparel and specialty shops, including those selling hats, dresses, coats, shoes and other articles of clothing, had a gross of $3,482,000.

Furniture and home furnishings establishments accounted for $4,299,000.

In recent months there has been a further increase in business activity generally. Consumers, less worried about the economy, are spending more and saving less.

Senior Citizens To Give Program

"Happy Birthday America," a bicentennial program, will be presented at the Ellis Center at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 1, by the Senior Citizens and Golden-agers of Murray and Calloway County.

In addition to the "Swing and Sway" band performance, a variety program of musical numbers and skits will be presented by the two groups.

Verona Grogan, director of the senior citizens, extends an invitation to the public to attend. There will be no admission and complimentary refreshments will be served following the program, Mrs. Grogan said.

I picked a perfect flower this morning and as I looked at it, in its intricate beauty, I marvelled that one blossom could be so faultless. Every petal was complete, unspotted and flawless. This was a bulbous Begonia from my son's garden and I rarely have seen such a perfect blossom. I couldn't help but think of the beauty there is in all of nature's treasures. If we just stop and examine a flower, a leaf, a tree-we will find the same wholeness, com-pleteness, entirety. Nothing is left undone in nature. What a marvelous creation is ours.

Further proof of the beauty of nature was revealed to me when a wing of a Cicada wafted into my lap. I picked it up and closely examined it and I found a thing of exquisite splendor. The iridescent paper-thin covering was stretched over a network of hairlike braces that made a

Did you know there is a bill before both the House and Senate in Washington to make the Marigold our national flower? I have thought it was a good idea ever since Senator Everett Dirksen talked about it some time ago. There are many good reasons for this choice. One being that it is native to the American St., Murray, Mrs. Edna Continent and nowhere else in the world. . . It is hardy, it is easily obtained, it is colorful, is not susceptible to disease. It can be grown anywhere in the

Don't Show and You Won't Tempt

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from the young girl who had been used by her father for sexual pleasure, and I wondered if the girl's mother had provided tight fitting, revealing clothes for her beautiful daughter.

When in missionary work in Africa, my wife and I were at a roadside marketplace when a very shapely, young, scantily clad Belgian girl walked by. An African workman remarked to his companion, "Dimba tshe paka landja!" We knew the language; he said, "The entire body is right

If mothers and daughters conspire to draw the attentions of men to their beautiful young bodies, a few fathers cannot help but be overcome by the desires constantly aroused in their own homes. When God-fearing parents advocate modesty, they are not being prudish-they are being realistic and practical.

Your comment is true; the father is "sick." But there is a sickness in our society that may have contributed much to that father's malignancy.

JAMES STEVENSON, PASTOR WHITEHALL UNITED METHODIST CHURCH COLUMBUS, OHIO

DEAR VICTIM: I have, and I shall continue to do so. This problem is far more widespread than most people suspect.

DEAR ABBY: You read so much about unwed mothers who give up their children. Well, what about unwed fathers who would have given their right arm to raise the baby their mother didn't want?

I am the father of two children born out of wedlock, a boy and a girl, who were given up for adoption to strangers. These children were half mine, yet I had no say in the

By Estelle Spiceland June 12, 1976

Thanks to those I meet who say, "I look for your letters," for news is scarce.

I realize that many people have gone out from Concord though it is a tiny place.

And it seems that it is only at funeral homes that we meet former acquaintances, and may have been called to the Eternal Home.

On Rezoning Request

The failure of the Murray Common Council to either deny or grant a change of zoning request at its Thursday night meeting is regretable in itself but the method used to circumvent taking action is even

The Murray City Council is responsible only to the citizens of Murray-the people who elect the council and who expect to be served by the council.

The council had an opportunity to act Thursday night when a private citizen, Howard Brandon, requested the council to act on his request for rezoning a parcel of land he owns. We would assume that Brandon would have preferred the council to grant his request for rezoning but he did not specifically ask for that. He just asked the council to act-to either grant or deny the request-which has been pending some 21/2 years.

Instead of acting on Brandon's request, several council members suggested to him that if he would deed over the rightof-way enabling Glendale Road to be extended through to Ky. 121, the council might look favorably on his request.

Granted, we favor the extension of Glendale Road. And the city has been attempting for some time to obtain the rightof-way for the project.

But we must also agree with Mr. Brandon. The status of the road or the right-of-way should have no bearing on his request.

If the council deems the property in question not to be suitable for rezoning for commercial use, because of the lack of the road or for whatever reason, then it should deny the request for rezoning. It should not make approval of the request contingent upon the were killed in Beirut, Lebanon, as future of Glendale Road.

If, by the same token, the council members feel the property is suitable for commercial development at this time, it should grant the request.

Regardless of what action is taken on the request for rezoning, if the council feels it is in the public's best interest to extend Glendale Road, and if Mr. Brandon does not wish to sell the right-of-way, the council should then exercise its right of eminent domain and begin condemnation proceedings to obtain the property.

We are not saying whether the council should or should not grant the rezoning request. We just feel the council is shirking its duty when it adjourns a meeting rather than taking action on a specific request from

(And in this case we do not feel "taking it under advisement for further study" is an adequate excuse for the delay. Surely 21/2 years of study, and an on-site inspection by several council members in recent days would provide ample information for a decision to be made.)

Origin And Management Of Obesity

Not many years ago, fatness in infancy was regarded as a healthy, desirable state. Such obesity in the young child now is viewed with concern, if not with alarm.

This shift in attitude has come about because of the general belief that fatness in infancy and childhood often leads to adulty obesity, increases the chance of the development of diabetes mellitus and contributes to premature hardening of the ar-

In truth, the relationship between obesity in early life and fatness during adulthood is not established clearly. Fat cells created in infancy and childhood may not persist and inevitably produce adult obesity.

Life circumstances have effects on fatness. The poor generally have leaner children, and families with greater income usually have higher weights regardless of nationality or race. An exception is the American woman, who tends to be fatter if poor. Some women desire to fatten their infants but want to remain lean themselves.

Genetics is a factor. Fat parents have fat children. When both parents are fat or lean, the effects on the weight of their offspring are usually obvious.

Fat persons tend to mate with other fat persons, giving direction to further obesity via any existing genetic influence.

On the other hand, family eating habits have a profound and continuing effect on the fatness of children, increasing or lessening the influence of genetic factors. Fat pet owners are said to have obese pets.

Fatness has some benefits. Fat children often are dentally advanced, and they show increase in the non-fat masses of the body, such as muscles and skeleton. Obese boys and girls reach sexual maturity at earlier ages. If adult obesity is significantly related to excess of fat in infancy and childhood, prevention of fatness during early life merits at-

Q. Mrs. R. L. asks for comment about adding sugar to her baby's formula to assist in her trouble with constination.

A. Frankly, I don't think well of adding sugar to your infant's formula for any reason, including the one you gave. You failed to mention your baby's age, but the addition of vegetable to the diet would be preferable. Sugar may create an undesirable appeal for sweets and add unnecessary carbohydrates, even though sugar generally is a good

Superintendents have been busy drafting budgets that are due in the State Department of Education by July The State Revenue Department also gets involved in the school budget making process.

Property Valuation Administrators (PVAs) are sending their assssments to the Revenue Department. When the state certifies the assessments they are all sent to the Department of Education. The Education Department then sets the maximum levy (tax rate) each board of education may assess:

This year the local board of education will set the tax rate instead of taking it to Fiscal Court or City Government for approval. This change was made by the 1976 legislature. After these steps are completed, the superintendents then will begin preparing the working budget that is due to be sent to the Department of Education by September 1. The State Department of Education also tells local school boards the minimum salaries that must be paid their teachers. The beginning degree teacher must be paid a salary of $7,677 this fall. Salary increases were provided for all teachers in the governor's budget. The state also requires additional pay to teachers for each year during a 10year period for experience. They get a increment for each year of experience. Some local boards pay increments for more years than this, but this must come from local funds.

For example, a degree teacher from 0 to 3 years of experience will be paid a minimum of $8,313 this fall if the teacher has three years of experience. From 4 to 9 years, the teacher receives $9,513 as a minimum, and the teacher with 10 or more years of experience must be paid a minimum of $10,183.

Teachers with master degrees get higher pay. With three years of experience the minimum pay is $8,913, four to nine years is $10,083, and 10 years and over the minimum of $10,763.

Rank I teachers, those with a master's degree and 30 hours beyond this must be paid a minimum of $11,363 with 10 or more years of experience.

The governor's budget provides an average increase of $2,000 a year salary for the teachers over the next two years. This doesn't mean that every teacher will get the full $2,000 for the appropriation is per classroom unit, not by number of teachers. Band, art and some supervisory personnel are not classified as classroom units. Local boards must make up the difference from local funds if each teacher is to receive the full $2,000 over the next two

The budget also provides an additional $1,830 over the next two years for current operating expenses per classroom unit.

This isn't exactly the amount of increase in actuality for some school districts, for the governor provided additional funds last year for the fuel emergency when costs skyrocketed. But the budget does take care of this

Purcell Defeated In Southern Closed Finals

The "Dream Match" failed to materialize over the weekend at the Southern Closed Tennis Tournament in Mobile, Ala.

Mel Purcell made it to the finals but Mark Buechler of Louisville didn't.

Buechler lost 6-2 and 6-0 in the semifinals to Mark Shoptaugh of Baton Rouge, La., while Purcell won 7-5 and 6-1 over Arthur Anastapoulo of Charleston, S.C. But in the finals, Purcell also fell, losing 7-6 and 6-1 to Purcell and Buechler had met twice this year with the two friendly rivals splitting. Purcell and Buechler did get a little revenge though as they teamed to win the doubles crown. The unseeded duo of Kentuckians won 3-6, 6-3 and 6-4 over Andy Andrews of Raleigh, N.C., and Anastapoulo.

Purcell, who arrived back in Murray this weekend for the first time in several weeks, leaves today for California where he will be staying for several weeks to practice against strong competition.

'My doctor has me on a 1200 calorie diet. Does that give me enough nutritious foods?"

"Do I have to figure each food in several different waysto know what nutrients I'm getting? Or, is there an easier way to figure out a good eating

The answer to the question on frozen dinners would depend on the brand and the variety. Certainly, they would contain some nutritious foods. To find out, look at the Then check to see how the nutrient content of the TV dinner adds to the nutrients contributed by the other foods

As for 1200 calorie reducing regimes, it is possible to get a sufficient quantity of nutrients from food within that figure. Nutrition labeling can help you choose food while on a diet. Check the nutrition information panel for number of calories and nutrient content. Choose foods high in nutrients. When on a diet, it's very nutrients possible for calories consumed. It's estimated that if dieters cut 500 calories a day from their regular eating, they could lose about a pound

Nutrition information panels on food labels contain a of information: amounts of protein, carbohydrate and fat contained in a serving are listed in grams; amounts of proteins and seven vitamins and minerals are shown as percentages of the S. Recommended Daily Allowances (U.S. RDA). To see if you are getting an adequate daily supply of these nutrients, just add up the percentages for each nutrient contributed by the foods you eat during the day. Does it total 100 per cent?

That's a lot of figuring, you may say. Even with a calculator, most people will not have the desire to total their nutrient percentages each day. But you can use nutrition labeling to become familiar with the nutrients found in different foods and to compare the nutrient content of foods.

Nutrition labeling can help you choose a nutritionally sound diet. Another aid in choosing your daily diet is a general guide, the four food groups. In the milk group, two 8-ounce servings of milk daily are recommended for adults.

Other dairy foods may be substituted for part of the milk, such as one-half cup of yogurt for one half-cup of milk (or one-half cup of cottage cheese for one-third cup of milk; one-half cup of ice cream for one-fourth cup of milk). These substitutions are figured on a calcium basis.

The meat group includes meat, fish, poultry, eggs, dry beans and peas, nuts, with two daily servings recommended. If dry beans, peas or lentils, or peanut butter are substituted for animal protein foods, they should be used in greater quantity as well as being combined with an animal protein food. Cheese and milk are also good sources of high quality protein.

Four servings are recommended from the vegetablefruit group, with one-half cup being the usual serving size. One of those foods should be high in vitamin C. Be sure to include a vitamin A rich food every other day. In the bread cereal group, four daily servings are also recommended. A single slice of bread constitutes a serving; so does an ounce of dry or cooked cereal.

+Only if nutrients are added, or if nutritional claims are made for a product, is nutritional labeling required.

is a fruit favored by both gardener and gourmet and, like the white potato, is delicious about any way in which it is properly prepared.

Unfortunately, especially in Kentucky, this wonderful vegetable is heir to many ills and even though scientists have bred disease-resistant varieties, successful and satisfactory crops take some care. According to UK Extension plant pathologist John Hartman, there are four major diseases that attack this plant. Fungal in nature, they are early blight, late blight, Anthracnose and Septoria leaf spot. Each can cause serious, if not total, loss in quality and yield.

Early blight is the most common and destructive of the two blights. It can be recognized as target-shaped 1/4 to ½ inch dark brown spots on the leaves. Septoria spots are smaller with dark margins and gray centers.

Late blight occurs during cool, moist weather and is also very destructive to tomato plants. This fungus disease attacks fruits, leaves, and stems and can wipe out a tomato patch in short order. Anthracnose, primarily a fruit disease, can cause considerable damage to ripe tomatoes, even after harvest. Symptoms of this disease are small, round, sunken spots on the skin of the tomato. These same as that which caused the great Irish potato famine in the 1840's.

Cultural practices, says Hartman, can reduce losses resulting from these diseases. Crop rotation, use of diseasefree seed or transplants, weed eradication and use of proper amounts of fertilizer have been known to help control these diseases. Then there are fungicides like Captan, Maneb, Zineb, Bravo and others that are generally effective against these diseases. A fungicide that will lessen the severity of one disease will likely have the same effect on one or more of the others.

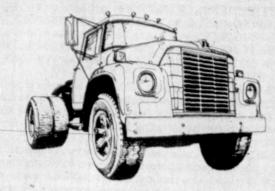

Once they start, these tomato diseases spread very rapidly. Therefore, to be on the safe side, it is often necessary to apply fungicides before any signs or symptoms of disease appear.

To lessen the danger of spreading fungal infection from plant to plant, never work among tomatoes when the foliage is wet. Also, there is some evidence to the effect that a virus disease (Mosaic), which attacks tobacco, will also attack tomatoes with very bad effects. This virus is sometimes present in manufactured tobacco, and gardeners will do well to wash their hands and refrain from using tobacco while staking, pruning or otherwise working among their tomato plants.

Carter Says He Believes Christians Mrs. Cunningham Is Should Disobey Laws Against Beliefs

Carter, Democrats' probable presidential nominee, says he believes Christians have a responsibility to disobey civil authorities when they believe that their governments act contrary to the laws of God.

Carter, a deacon in his local Baptist church, also said he thinks Christians should strive to respect civil authorities and prepared for the consequences if they do not obey them.

His comments came in a brief news conference following a Sunday school lesson about a teaching that Christians should respect and obey civil authorities because they are instituted by God.

Carter, who often speaks publicly of his religious convictions, did not give any examples of how his interpretation of the biblical text might apply to contemporary issues.

The former Georgia governor begins a four-day being excursion through eight cities today, combining fundraising activities with speeches to political groups.

Carter is scheduled to begin the tour in Asheville, N. C.

will also visit Milwaukee, New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Washington, Houston and Chicago.

Sunday, he cited a passage from the Book of Romans, King James version, which

Congress Expected To Approve Stopgap Tax Measure This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) -Congress is preparing a Bicentennial birthday gift for American taxpavers.

Both the House and Senate are expected to pass a stopgap measure this week preventing payroll withholding tax increase from taking effect on Wednesday when tax cuts enacted last year expire.

The stopgap measure is rushed through Congress because action on permanent, long-range legislation extending the cuts is nowhere near completion.

If withholding taxes were allowed to rise, it would mean measure on Friday. a $245 tax increase for a family of four earning $6,000 a the Pentagon to go ahead with year; a $204 hike for a couple earning $10,000; a $151 in-prototypes of the B1 bomber. crease for a single personearning $10,000: and $180 for a delay a production decision on typical four-member family earning $15,000.

GILBERTSVILLE, Ky.-A 60-year-old Louisville man was killed Saturday in a boating accident near the Goblers Knob campground on Kentucky Lake.

According to reports, Robert O. Brown, 60, Louisville, died of injuries he received when the boat he had fallen from ran over him. Brown was pulling his grandson, Timothy Wilder, Indianapolis, Ind., skiing when the accident occurred. According to reports, Brown was sitting on the side of the boat during a left turn when the boat struck a wave throwing him from the boat. The boat continued in a circle running over him. According to water enforcement officers, two couples from Owensboro pulled Brown from the water and started toward Kentucky Dam Marina. Brown died on the way to the marina from severe wounds to the head and arm caused by being struck by the outboard motor's propellor, officers reported. The accident occurred around 3:15 p.m.

Dr. Hainsworth, Dr. Robinson. Are Speakers For Luncheon

"Moral Education in the Public Schools" will be the topic for the address at this week's Wednesday luncheon program at the United Campus Ministery, 202 North 15th Street.

Tillman Named To Board Of Directors

Larry Tillman, owner of Murray Memorial Gardens, was elected to the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Cemetery Association at the meeting held at the Executive Inn; Louisville, Friday and Saturday, June 25 and 26.

Tillman was one of twelve members named to the board. Also named to the board was Melvin Staley, Woodlawn Memorial Gardens, Paducah. The other ten members are from other parts of the state.

Special seminars were held Friday with round table discussions being held and then table captains reporting back to the group on the new ideas for the cemetery owners to help the community. Tillman was elected as one of the ten table captains.

Saturday morning the ladies meeting round table discussions were held on how the wives can help in the business, and Mrs. Tillman was named as one of these captains.

The meeting was closed with the installation of new officers and the presentation of trophies to the tennis and golf winners at the meeting.

Tillman purchased the Murray Memorial Gardens in March 1975 after moving here from Olney, Ill., where he was manager of a cemetery there.

Appearing on the program will be Dr. Jerome Hainsworth, assistant dean of the College of Human Development and Learning, and Dr. Franklin Robinson, associate professor in the Philosophy Department. This is the second in a two part series of summer luncheon programs on issues in the public schools.
