"What sort of change?"

They want our help because they believe that Senate Barkley and the Kentucky delegation have not been fighting hard enough in Washington for the interests of the people. For the people and by the people to the task of preserving a government which is there for the good of the people and which has won all the important battles of the past.

For the first time in the history of the Senate, the Democrats of which Senator Barkley is a member have a majority. And this majority will be large enough to place Senator Barkley in the position of power, chiefly because of the people of this state. Alabama's delegation has not been fighting hard enough in Washington for the people of Alabama. And the people are afraid that Senator Barkley will not be fighting hard enough in Washington for the people of Kentucky.

The Associated Press has exclusively entitled to use the good name and reputation of the people of the United States for the people and by the people to the task of preserving a government which is there for the good of the people.

"What sort of change?"

They want to change the situation. They want to send us a day of opportunity. They want to send us a day of hope. They want to send us a day of change. They want to send us a day of opportunity. And they want to send us a day of hope.

"What sort of change?"

Houdini's Ghost Fails To Appear At Detroit Seance
Detroit, Nov. 1.--A bitter winter blizzard hampered a handful of workers last night in sealing 14,000 envelopes that contained financial offers on 14,000 certificates of insurance. The certificates were drawn on a policy of $10,000 insurance on the life of Houdini, the famous escape artist who appeared at the Detroit Music Hall.

Halloween Wasn't Harmless Holiday in Los Angeles

Los Angeles—Halloween, traditionally a time for harmless fun, was turned into a time of violence and terror when a child was killed and three others were injured by trick-or-treaters.

The child who was killed was a 6-year-old girl who answered the door of a house on a street where some of her friends were being visited by the Door-to-Door Bandits.

The bandits, who were carrying guns, forced the child's mother to open the door and then shot the girl.

In another incident, a group of children, who were tbinking of going door-to-door to collect candy, were turned away by a group of older boys who threatened them with violence.

The children were forced to turn back and leave the street.

The Halloween holiday, which is celebrated in Los Angeles on October 31st, is a time for costumes and candy, but this year it was marred by violence and terror.

The city authorities are now investigating the incidents to find out who was responsible.

Meanwhile, the residents of the city are being urged to be cautious and to report any suspicious activities to the police.

Farm Bureau asks Big Vote

It's Important To Vote, Farm Bureau Secretary tells Board of Education.

"All citizens are urged to vote," Mrs. W. K. Stites, Farm Bureau Secretary, said today. The annual election is November 7th. The primary purpose of the Farm Bureau is to represent the farm community in all its problems. It is important for every citizen to vote, she said, because the elected officers represent the vote of the people. The election is to be held from 8:00 to 4:00 on November 7th.

Election is November 7th.
