CLINTON BROOKS LEIGH
MET DEATH IN WRECK

ONE OF THE FOUNDERS OF THE PADUCAH REGISTER HAD LIFE-CRASHED UNDER THE WHEELS OF A TRAIN ACCOMPANYING HIs STATE OFFICIALS UNTIL A YOURS.

Mr. Clinton Brooks Leigh, one of the founders of this paper in 1874, was killed last night in a railroad wreck at Paducah.

A cement train went out of control and crashed into the train carrying state officials back from a tour of inspection.

Mr. Leigh, 39 years old, was president of the local railroad company. He was on the wrecked train when it derailed.

Mr. Leigh had been active in railroad affairs for many years.

The train was carrying the governor and other state officials back from Paducah after a tour of inspection.

The accident occurred near the town of Paducah. There were no other casualties.

The state officials were informed of the accident by telephone and returned to the state capital.

Detournement is under investigation by the railroad authorities.

DETENTION OF INSPECTORS TO BE ABANDONED.

The inspection of railroad trains for safety is to be abandoned after the accident.

The railroad officials are investigating the cause of the wreck.

PUBLIC EXPENDITURES OF COUNTY FOR PAST YEAR

COUNTY ATTORNEY ALEX BARKLEY ORDERED TO TAKE OFFICIAL OATH

AIRCRAFT FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF LAST YEAR'S COUNTY BUILDINGS

BAKER COUNTY - SHERIFF JOHN OKEY LIVELY SETTLED IN HIS OFFICE.

He has served the last year mostly in a capacity of auditing the county's financial transactions. In his opinion, the county's financial condition is sound, and he plans to continue to maintain this position in coming years. He advised that the expenditures of the county have increased due to the rising cost of living and the need for new buildings.

The sheriff has also recommended that the county consider the installation of a new accounting system to ensure better financial management. He emphasized the importance of maintaining a clear and transparent record of all expenditures for public accountability and trust.

THOMAS TRIBBLE GIVEN A CONTINUANCE UNTIL TO-DAY.

Bailey Puckett Goes to Jail for Carrying a Concealed Weapon

Thomas Tribble was given a continuance by Judge Jones, but the police report of the charge against him was not repeated. Bailey Puckett was fined $25 and sentenced to jail for ten days for carrying a concealed weapon. He had concealed weapons in the nature of a pistol under his coat, which he was wearing at the time of his arrest. He will be able to post bail and leave the court house with his weapons.

The judge went back to work this week and will continue to hear all cases in the county, including Bailey's. It is expected that Bailey will appeal the case to a higher court.

WIDOW GETS JUDGMENT FOR AMOUNT OF POLICY

MRS. MAGGIE OVERSTREET CONFESSES ANCIENT ORDER OF UNION AND SISTERS IN_ CHRIST ORDER TO PAY $2,000,000 IN POLICY ON DECEASED's LIFE.

The court recently ordered that the Ancient Order of Union and Sisters in Christ, a religious order, pay Mrs. Maggie Overstreet $2,000,000 in a policy on the life of her deceased husband. The order came after a long legal battle between Mrs. Overstreet and the order.

She claimed that her husband, John Overstreet, had been a member of the order and that they had a policy in place. The order denied this, arguing that the policy was invalid. The court ruled in favor of Mrs. Overstreet, stating that the policy was in fact valid and that she was entitled to the full amount of $2,000,000.

INTERESTING ITEMS

The court's decision was a victory for the widow, who had been fighting for years to get the money she was owed. The case was one of the longest legal battles in the history of the order, and it raised questions about the validity of the policy and the rights of religious organizations.

The court's decision has also raised questions about the future of religious organizations and their ability to provide financial support for their members. Some have suggested that the court's decision will lead to a decrease in the number of people joining religious organizations, while others believe it will have little impact.

IT STARTLINGLY DEVELOPS THAT FRED A. HUNTER WAS IN RELATIONSHIP FRED A. HUNTER, AND THAT HE LEFT $1,639,950 TO HIS WIFE MILDRED LUCINDA HUNTER—MRS. CUSHMAN COMES HERE AND ENTERS SUIT TO GAIN POSSESSION OF PROPERTY LEFT TO THE MURDERED MAN—ONLY FEW MOMENTS BEFORE HIS DEATH...

Quite sensational, was the turn taken yesterday in connection with the mysterious death of Fred A. Hunter, the Illinois Central railroad engineer, who was murdered last week near in Alameda, Alex., and who died January 30. The will, which was filed in the Alameda court last Wednesday, stated that the man's estate was valued over $1,000,000, and was left to his wife, Mildred Lucinda Hunter.

THE ENGINEER'S BODIES WERE SEEN TOGETHER—MRS. HUNTER, CONSISTING OF BESS, IN NEGLECTED HOME—KILLED, OF THE fact that the good man had a home and family to fulfill his duties to his master and wife, as the engineer who was known to all railroad officials as a man of integrity and the best sort of a man.

The body was found in the street yesterday, and was identified as that of Fred A. Hunter by his brother, who had gone to the scene to claim the remains. The body was in a state of decomposition, and was found in the street near the scene of the murder. The murder took place on the tracks near the Alameda depot, where the man had worked for several years. The circumstances of the murder are still unknown, but it is believed that the man was murdered by a person who had some grievance against him.

FACIAL FEATURES

Gas and Its Centenary

The gas industry has been in existence for over a century. The first gas was produced in 1812, when William Murdoch experimented with the use of gas for illuminating purposes. Since then, the industry has grown rapidly, and today gas is used for heating, cooking, and lighting purposes. Gas is produced by the process of gasification, in which coal, oil, or natural gas is converted into a gas that can be burned. Gas is a clean and efficient source of energy, and it is used in the home, in industry, and in transportation. Gas is also used in the production of electricity, and it is a key component of many industrial processes.
