THE MURRAY LEDGER.

VOL. 89, NO. 15

MURRAY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 5, 1917

$1.00 PER YEAR

POOLED TOBACCO WILL BE OFFERED HERE MONDAY 9.

Calloway growers who have expressed a willingness to sample their crops of tobacco and offer it for sale have been notified to be on hand at the Winchester & Roberts loose leaf warehouse early next Monday morning with good samples of the crops they have for sale. Every farmer in the county is asked to join in this sale and make it the most successful undertaking ever attempted in the county. Buyers of Murray, Hazel, Puryear, Mayfield, Paducah, Hopkinsville and Clarksville have been made acquainted with the fact that this sale is to be held and many are expected to attend. If possible every pound of unsold tobacco should be offered in this sale. Call up your neighbor and tell him about it, get samples to the sales place in plenty of time, be there for the sale, and don't forget that it will not cost you one cent, sale or no sale.

Reviewing the market for the week ending Thursday the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse in its weekly letter says:

The sales on our market for the week, including today, aggregated the small number of 22 hogsheads, made up of 17 hogsheads of burley and 5 hogsheads of dark tobacco, with $21 and $13.50 as the highest prices, respectively. The sales for the corresponding week last year were 645 hogsheads, including burley and dark, with $23 and $9 as the highest prices, respectively. The offerings were too small this week for a manipulation of change in values which might find expression under conditions of larger sales. However, the few hogsheads of common grade tobacco which appeared on the market this week sold at advanced prices over values heretofore current, and this increasing show of strength was applicable to both burley and dark. The market for the better grades of tobacco remains very firm, but without material recent value change.

"The reports for the growing crop are generally favorable. The transplanting was completed in good time, accompanied by weather conducive to a good stand and the crop is as far advanced as usual for the time of year. The tobacco growers for the next few months will be in the attitude of working, watching and waiting. The hoe and the plow will be familiar companions; the worm will be watched for and the weather conditions awaited with hope and anxiety. Be the outcome as it may as to yield and quality, yet the arduous labor of producing the tobacco crop will be attended by the consolation that the outlook for good prices is not only reasonable but flattering."

Official quotations of the Louisville Board of Trade revised by the Committee on Quotations up to June 29, 1917:

Dark—Common lugs, $10.50

to $10.75; medium lugs, $10.75 to $11.00; good lugs, $11.00 to $12.00; Common leaf, (short), $11.00 to $12.00; Common leaf, $11.50 to $12.00; medium leaf, $12.00 to $13.00; good leaf, $13 to $15.75.

France is Short on All Tobacco.

Paris, June 30.—There is a shortage of tobacco in France. It originated in decreased production and is being aggravated by increased consumption. The France crop of 1916 was 15,000 tons as compared with 25,000 tons in 1915.

Certain popular brands of cigarettes have been unobtainable in Paris for ten days. To smokers' complaints, the state tobacco monopoly officials reply that restriction in the use of tobacco is necessary.

France smokes about 6,000 tons of tobacco a month on the average, of which nearly 5,000 tons must now be imported under conditions that do not permit any assured regularity in receipts.

The increase in sales of cigarettes during the first four months of this year was 200,000,000 over 1916. This seems large until it is recalled that this quantity represents only forty cigarettes for each soldier, British and French, mobilized in France, to say nothing of the civilians.

Mayfield Tobacco Sales

H. P. Farris, auctioneer, sold several thousand pounds of tobacco Tuesday morning on the loose floor sales conducted by J. F. McClain. The leaf brought from $11 to $14 and the lugs from $9.50 to $10. — Mayfield Times.

Smoke House Burned.

The smoke house of Martin Baker, a colored man who lives on the farm of Will Mize near Glenwood Mill, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning about two o'clock. Six big middlings and a ham were in the smoke house, and when Baker got to it after the fire was discovered, he saw that the meat was gone. It was evident that some one had broken in at the rear of the smoke house and stolen the meat and then set fire to it to hide his theft. A blood hound was wired for from Paris, Tenn. The man with the dog reached the scene about 9:30, but as many people had been about the place after the fire no headway could be made in locating the path of the guilty party. — Cadiz Record.

RULES TO GUIDE LOCAL BOARDS ARE PUBLISHED

Washington, July 2.—Preparation for the mobilization of the first contingent of 625,000 troops of the new national army advanced another step today when President Wilson promulgated the regulations to govern exemptions from military service.

Local and appeal exemption boards already have been appointed and the issuance of the regulations will permit them to organize immediately and prepare for the concluding phases of the task of getting the men training for duty in France.

In the order in which they must come, there are three steps in the organization process of the national army as prescribed by Congress. They are registration, selection and exemption. The first step has been carried through and approximately 10,000,000 men between 21 and 31 years of age have been registered. The regulations issued today cover in detail the operation of the third step, exemption.

Information concerning the second step in the series, however, is still lacking and officials guarding closely the method by which selection is to be applied.

The exemption regulations announced that the boards will be advised of the selection process later, although none of the steps prescribed except the organization of the boards can be carried on until the selection machinery has finished the names of the men of whose fitness and desirability for army service the boards are to judge. There is one hint, however, as to how the selection machinery is to work.

The local boards are directed upon organization to take over from the registration precincts the cards and lists of the men registered on June 5, and as their first duty to provide a serial number for each registration card. This has given support to the belief that the selection is to be by number. Report were current recently that the selection drawing was to be made in Washington.

Presumably the process of selection will be announced only a short time before it is put in operation. When that will be is not known. September 1 has been the tentative date set for calling the 625,000 of the first contingent to the colors for training. Progress with construction of the sixteen divisional cantonments for the troops will govern that action, however. It is now believed there will be no serious delay.

Car Turns Over on State Highway.

When the automobile of Judge J. E. Robbins was turned over Friday night about 7 o'clock four miles south of the city on the state highway, most everyone in the car was more or less injured, but none seriously. In the car were Judge and Mrs. J. E. Robbins, Sadie and Will Robbins, children of Guy Robbins, and

Mrs. Bob Mahan and little son. The driver was Joe Myles, colored. They were coming toward Mayfield when the driver speeded up to pass the car containing A. L. Brand and son Usher, who slowed their car up to one side for the Robbins car to pass. In passing, the Robbins car got in to a rut on the side of the road, causing the machine to turn over. All of the occupants were pinned under the car and were unable to get out until Mr. Brand reached them and lifted the car. The party was brought to Mayfield by Mr. Brand and Allie Thomas, who also passed about that time. Mrs. Robbins suffered the worst injuries, and on account of having recently undergone a serious operation, may go rather hard with her. Dr. Fuller was called to attend her. Will, the five-year-old son of Guy Robbins, was bruised on the forehead. All others were only slightly bruised.

The high bank by the ravine where the car went over is all that prevented probable fatal injuries. — Mayfield Messenger.

Withdraws from Clerk's Race

Mr. Galen H. Windsor authorizes the Ledger to announce that he has withdrawn from the county court clerk's race. He takes this action because of the fact that he found it impossible to canvass the county since he announced, and that he was unable to return to Calloway from Arkansas where he has been teaching in time to permit a thorough campaign. Mr. Windsor is a splendid gentleman and has many friends to whom he expresses appreciation for favors shown him the past few weeks.

W. L. Fulton and family are the guests of relatives in Owensboro this week.

A STATEMENT AND CHALLENGE ISSUED BY CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

In issuing this statement to the people of Calloway county I do so with the firm conviction that every man believes in a fair fight and a square deal. Nothing more or less should satisfy any citizen, and any unfair attempt should be rebuffed in no uncertain tones, and because I do have faith that the people of this county will demand a free, fair fight I am making this public declaration.

In every county campaign held in Calloway for many years past the interest has largely been centered on the result in the sheriff's race. Indications are that this condition will prevail again this year. In all previous speaking campaigns the candidates for sheriff were each allotted from ten to twenty-five minutes, while this year only five minutes have been allowed each candidate, and thereby hangs a tale that must be told to the people.

A mass meeting of all the county candidates was held in the court house here last Friday, at which time dates, places and time allotment were fixed. Mr. E. P. Phillips presided over this meeting and a committee composed of one representative from each group of candidates for each county office was selected to recommend to the meeting a list of dates, places and time allotment.

When the eight announced candidates for sheriff retired to the vault room of the circuit clerk's office to select their member of the above named committee Mr. Joe Clark was elected to preside. Previous to his selection Mr. Will Jordan announced in a few brief remarks his withdrawal from the race and retired from the room. The name of O. J. Jennings was presented by Mr. Tom Hayden to represent the sheriff candidates on the committee. Immediately Mr. Dee Houston presented the name of Mr. Clint Drinkard, whereupon Jennings asked Mr. Hayden to withdraw his name, stating that seven gentlemen could certainly agree upon a committee representative without a contest. Mr. Drinkard was chosen and it was agreed and he was instructed to ask for an equal division of time with candidates for other important offices, not less than ten minutes, at the least.

After the selection of the committee the meeting was adjourned until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Promptly at that hour the chairman called the meeting to order and the committee's report was read in which the time allotted the candidates for sheriff was fixed at five minutes. After the report was properly before the body I offered an amendment asking that the time allotted the sheriff candidates be fixed at ten minutes instead of five. I not only ASKED but PLEADED and BEGGED for just FIVE MORE MINUTES, EVEN AGREED TO MAKE MY LITTLE SPEECH AFTER ALL CANDIDATES FOR ALL OFFICES HAD FINISHED EACH DAY. Twice the amendment was placed before the body and each time Mr. Dee

Houston, Mr. Clint Drinkard, Mr. Joe Clark and Mr. Felix Bailey voted against it, while Mr. Tom Hayden, Mr. Tom Jones and myself voted for it. On the floor of the mass meeting Houston, Drinkard, Clark and Bailey voted against ten minutes, while in conference it was UNANIMOUSLY agreed that we have not less than ten minutes, or an equal division of time with other candidates for important offices.

Do you folks of Calloway who like a fair fight think that fair? The candidates for sheriff and the candidates for jailer get the same amount of time.

I do not believe any man who is capable of filling the sheriff's office creditably can present himself intelligently to a Calloway audience in five minutes. I contend that large issues are at stake in the election of a sheriff this year, and I want the people to know where I stand on every single one of these issues, and in order that they might hear each man and gauge his ability, I hereby challenge Mr. Houston, Mr. Drinkard, Mr. Clark and Mr. Bailey to meet me in a joint debate of these questions before the people of this county. The only condition I name is that each man be allowed not less than thirty minutes. Places and dates can be arranged and the people will come. If these men believe in a fair fight they will meet me. If there is a yellow streak in their make up they will refuse. If this challenge is accepted I must receive notice, in writing, not later than noon Tuesday, July 10, 1917.

As much as Mr. Hayden and Mr. Jones voted for the ten minute time allotment I am taking it for granted that they are willing to join in this proposed speaking campaign, but if not they may consider themselves included in this challenge.

With a firm faith that every Calloway voter desires only fair play and a free fight—the only thing I am asking—my only complaint being against a combine to strangle, to which I will not submit.

Yours truly,
O. J. JENNINGS.
New Liquor Law

The Webb-Kenyon federal law went into effect in Kentucky Wednesday. Parties having liquor shipped here will find it a bit more difficult to obtain liquor in that upon receipt of a "wet" package the receiver must make oath that the liquor is for his personal use. The application of the law is the same as that of Kentucky with the addition that the receiver must make the necessary oath, which includes that he does not intend to sell the liquor and does not possess a government license. The law will have the effect of making the receiver a little more careful as to his statements regarding the use of the liquor, and one who swears falsely has the penitentiary staring him in the face for perjury.

DESERVES WELL OF HIS COUNTRY

Ever since the war opened the British admiralty has been more or less continuously under the fire of public criticism. If it was accused of being unduly aggressive in the early stage of the war and taking risks that were not justified by the results, it has latterly been just as insistently charged with too much inactivity.

When the crime of Sarajevo was committed there was one man in England who had an apt perception of its possible consequences before most people realized that great events were ahead. That man was Winston Churchill, then first lord of the admiralty.

The British fleet had been in home waters for great maneuvers, and Churchill, who had been an alarmist concerning the European outlook for a long time before the assassination of the Austrian archduke, exceeded his authority in his effort to prevent the demobilization of the fleet and to set it on an absolute war footing. He provisioned the fleet for war, made every disposition as if he had known war was ahead and took the personal responsibility. The event proved that he was a better guesser than the government of which he was a part, a far better guesser than the British public, who until the last hour declined to realize that war was inevitable.

At the time it was not so well appreciated as it was later that Churchill's forthrightness promptly saved his country from a greater disaster, even perhaps from an attempted German invasion. Today, although Churchill is forced out of the cabinet because of the misfortune of Antwerp and Gallipoli, the British public is regarding him almost as the man who saved Britain in the first crisis of the war.

GREAT ITALIAN STATESMAN

America, with her labor supply already affected by the cutting off of immigration from the European countries at war, must not look for a resumption of the flow of man power from abroad for some time after the end of hostilities, according to Francesco Saverio Nitti, a member of the Italian parliament, who visited this country as a member of the Italian war mission.

Doctor Nitti is the professor of economics in the University of Naples and was a member of the Salandra cabinet at the time Italy entered the war. As a member of that cabinet he created the labor councils throughout Italy for the purpose of developing co-operation between labor and the government. It was he who brought about the state monopoly of life insurance, so far as small policies are concerned, and he had much to do with the industrial mobilization of his country at the outset of the war. Upon his arrival in the United States he told Secretary Wilson of the department of labor, and the members of the Council of National Defense, all of the details of the very successful Italian method of getting the utmost military strength out of the population without impairing the industrial energy in work essential to the maintenance of the army and civil population.

HEAD OF ARMY SUPREME COURT

As provost marshal general, Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, was charged with the responsibility of registering all male persons in the United States and its territorial possessions between the ages of twenty-one and thirty years, inclusive, who are subject to military service under the selective draft law.

General Crowder was born in Missouri, April 11, 1859, and was appointed to the military academy at West Point from that state September 1, 1877. He first served in the cavalry and later attended the University of Missouri, where he received the degree of LL. B. in 1880, and in 1905 was appointed major and assigned to the office of the judge advocate general. February 15, 1911, he was appointed judge advocate general of the United States army. Upon the recent outbreak of hostilities with Germany Gen. Crowder was appointed provost marshal general. The judge advocate general's office is the supreme court of the army. The proceedings of every general court-martial have to be reviewed by this office before being submitted to the president for approval, and the final findings of the judge advocate general, with his recommendations, are submitted to the president of the United States, who usually approves the recommendations. If a prisoner wishes to appeal from the findings of the court, his appeal has to be made to the judge advocate general.

CHIEF OF BUREAU OF ORDNANCE

As chief of the bureau of ordnance, Brig. Gen. William Crozier is specially charged with the duty of procuring, by purchase or manufacture, and distributing the necessary ordnance and ordnance stores for the great armies which this country will send to the European theater of war.

In the past the annual expenditures of this bureau have been a few millions of dollars. With the United States entering the world war these expenditures took a sudden bound past the billion-dollar mark for the regular army, National Guard and the first increment of draft of 500,000 men.

General Crozier and his assistants made a survey of the munition plants manufacturing supplies for the other warring nations. The fact was developed that with a few minor changes the British (English) service rifle could be adapted to use the Springfield type of ammunition, the arsenal of the country have large stores of this rifle was approved by the secretary of war. He recommended the adoption of the French type of rifle, which recommendation was approved by the secretary of war and another difficulty was overcome.

The KITCHEN CABINET

In the development of flavor lies the secret of good cooking, and in the enjoyment of it the art of wholesome eating. — Henry Fine

USE MORE NUTS.

We have our nuts freshest and cheapest in the fall, but the peanut is like the poor "always with us," we may fall back on the plebeian ground nuts. Any nuts that are purchased should be carefully washed and dried before using, even when they have been handled under sanitary conditions as far as known; this is essential.

Those who are fortunate enough to have a hickory grove or even one or two trees to supply them with this delicious nut, no other need be desired. The black walnut too is another good-flavored nut and grows in various parts of the country.

Where one lives near a brook where watercress grows, a most refreshing and satisfying salad may be made, using watercress sprinkled with nuts of any kind, a little shredded onion and a French dressing.

Any plain ice cream is made more appetizing by a spoonful of fresh chopped nuts; a few nuts added to almost any cake filling improves it. They may be made into a loaf, being a good substitute for meat or served with fruit and gelatin, make a very pretty dessert.

Peanut Breakfast Muffins.—Take a cupful and a half of flour sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder, add an egg, a half teaspoonful of salt, and a cupful of milk. Beat well for five minutes; add two cupfuls of rolled oats and nuts and bake in a hot oven in gem pans. Other nuts may be substituted, but these are especially good.

Gingerbread is made quite elegant by sprinkling a half-cupful of chopped nuts over the top just as it goes into the oven.

Nuts and Cottage Cheese Salad.—Mix a half-cupful of chopped nuts of any kind, peanuts are good; add a little onion juice and cream to unseasoned Dutch cheese; season well with salt and paprika and mold in balls. Serve three rolled in chopped nuts to a guest of lettuce, passing a salad dressing to serve with it.

Nut Wafers.—Beat two eggs and add a cupful of brown sugar and a half cupful of nutmeats chopped fine and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered tins and bake in a slow oven until brown.

Nuts browned in a little butter and seasoned with a dash of cayenne and paprika with some salt, are a most dainty relish to serve at any meal.

Tomato and Nut Salad.—Scrub up the centers of six or seven tomatoes as needed, fill with nuts and cherries, and cover with a mayonnaise dressing. Place a ball of cheese on each and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Laugh: "I assure as well as mine To know this bliss of bliss beyond compare. Take up your head, And put the silver twinkle in your eye, And laugh and laugh! 'Tis time well spent, And all will catch your gleam in passing by."

DAINTY SUMMER DESSERTS.

Remove the center from a round of sponge cake, leaving the bottom and sides whole. Into this pour a strawberry gelatin jelly or any other desired flavor, and when it is cold and firm cover with sweetened and flavored whipped cream. Cut in wedge-shaped pieces when serving.

Almond Pudding.—Boil three-fourths of a cupful of sugar with one-fourth cupful of water to a thick syrup and set aside to cool. Rub two ounces of almond paste to a smooth batter with one-half cupful of cream, adding the cream gradually. Then add the beaten yolks of four eggs and the cooled syrup. Cook in a double boiler to a creamy consistency, stirring, while over the fire. Beat and cool, flavoring with a few drops of vanilla. Crumble six lady fingers and stir in, then fold into a cupful of cream that has been beaten stiff. Pour into a mold and chill thoroughly before serving.

Caramel Junket.—Put six tablespoonfuls of sugar into a saucepan and stir over the fire until it melts and becomes a rich brown, remove from the fire, add a few tablespoonfuls of milk and let stand until dissolved. To a quart of lukewarm milk add this caramel mixture and a junket tablet dissolved in a tablespoonful of water. Pour into cups or glasses and let stand in a warm place until the junket is set then place on ice until serving time.

Crunchy mush makes a most wholesome dessert and one which the children may eat with impunity. Boil a dish of hot mush and serve it with maple syrup.

Apple Pie With Cream Cheese.—Line a pie plate with pastry and fill with tart apple sauce which has been sifted. Bake without a top crust and when cold cover with a cupful of whipped cream to which has been added half a cream cheese pressed through a ricer.

THOSE AWFUL CRANIPS

Suggestions that may save Much Suffering

Mayville, Pa.—"For twelve years I suffered with terrible cramps. I would have to stay in bed several days every month. I tried all kinds of remedies and was treated by doctors, but my trouble continued until one day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others. I tried it and now I am never troubled with cramps and feel like a different woman. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly and I am recommending it to my friends who suffer as I did." — Mrs. George R. Naylor, Box 72, Mayville, Pa.

Young women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.

Psychology and the War. Prof. O. Stanley Hall of the Clark university, United States, places the subject of applied psychology on a high plane in relation to the war. He states:

"Whatever system has been employed, it is evident that applied psychology has produced results in this war which it was never possible to attain before. Men have endured more, they have shown more heroism and daring and have submitted to more punishment than in any previous war. No such slaughter would have been possible in former wars without provoking a panic. This has unquestionably been due to the system of psychological selection, not only for the various grades of service but for special activities within each grade. Our country may as well think of going to war without first-class military equipment as without a knowledge of applied psychology. The council of national defense seems to have recognized this; and the National Research council within that body will, I understand, contain representative psychologists."

She Understood. Certain members of the house party were describing the accidents that had happened to them during their respective careers. Adventures by flood, fire and field had all been well received, and Mr. Brown, eager for fame, thought it was his turn.

"Lyon know," he said, "I had a very painful experience once, I ran a confounded splinter quite half an inch long right under my finger-nail, don't you know?"

"Really, Mr. Brown," said a maiden of the party; "how did you do it?"

"Well," he said, "it happened like this."

As he spoke he unconsciously raised his hand and scratched his forehead.

"Oh! I see," she interrupted, sweetly; "how very careless of you!"

There are times when a man can't do his best, but there is no time when he can't do the best he can.

T. M. Jones lost of Carl to the Voters concern: This is to certify that T. M. Jones resigned as deputy sheriff and gave up his commission on his own accord and would not consent to do some work that I ask him to do, as his intentions were to handle tobacco at that time. (Signed)

W. A. Patterson, S. C. C. So fellow citizens, in conclusion, let me ask you to go to the polls on August 4th and cast your votes for me. Let the glad news ring out over this land and reach the ears of my wife and invalid daughter in the village of Lynn Grove that the dead is alive and the lost is found and that Tom Jones has been nominated sheriff of Calloway county Yours truly, T. M. Jones. Blood, Ky.

Owing to the health of my wife I am unable to see you all and talk to you personally regarding my race for sheriff of your county, therefore I take this method of addressing myself to you. The most of you know Tom Jones, having served this county 8 years as magistrate and six years as deputy sheriff, thus you will see that I have been your humble servant for fourteen long years. During those years I have met you. I have met you in your homes, met you on your farms, in fact, I have met you in all walks of life. Therefore I come to you now as no stranger. I am asking you for your help upon merit and qualification, and that alone. I am backed by no combine, ring or clique, bank or banker, but only am I appealing to the unbiased, untampered, free American to the toilers of this country, the bone and sinew of our land. Will you stand out and help me fight with this grey monster, monopoly and machine, that is now trying to dominate this country? They are trying as it were, to lead you as sheep, dumb before the shepherds and you open not your mouths. I have the utmost confidence and faith in my people. I believe you will be loyal. If after fourteen years of faithful service, after fourteen years of honest toil, may I not have the sheriff's office one time? If not, why not? I have always tried to do my duty and if any man will show me or tell you where I failed I will quit the race. This is the greatest effort of my life. I am fifty-three years old, old enough to be level headed, young enough to be brave and courageous, ambitious enough to do my duty. If you think so, let me again appeal to you for your help. You will hear all kinds of reports in order to mislead you and in order, if possible, to injure me in this race, it being circulated over the county that Patterson turned me off. Knowing or believing if it was so would be calculated to injure me. I want to say here and now that this is as false as false can be, and the gas that originated it knew it. In defense of myself I here with a steady hand from W. A. Patterson that I have in my possession, and reads as follows: To whom this may

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is failing, when strength is declining, the nerve system gives the alarm in the form of nervousness, dizziness, irritability and unless approached with strength to a brain tonic. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is the best. It is the blood and the blood feeds the nervous system. It is the whole animal response to its refreshment. It is free from alcohol.

All of the farmers in this community seem to be highly elated over the fact that they have some splendid crops. Thus far the rain seems to have fallen just when it was most needed and if nothing happens there will be some foodstuff raised to help along the great cause. Everyone seems to be doing his or her bit toward raising and saving something.

Community interests have been picking up here of late. If every one would put a hand in the game and do something for the betterment of the community in which they live we could make the humdrum life that some of us lead seem less monotonous.

Mr. L. W. Compton has been the capable chaperone of more than one interesting yachting party this summer.

Quite a party of east Calloway people went to Trigg county to an all day singing last Sunday. The party was composed of W. A. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. John Sellers; L. W. Compton and sons, J. W. and C. V., and daughter, Lillian; Miss Ruby Walker, Little Miss Allie Jackson, Adolphus Walker, W. B. and Miss Maida Walker.

Miss Hilda Holland left the past week for the north where she will take a summer course in music. She was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Randolph, of Murray.

Prof. J. W. Compton is spending a few weeks at home this summer.

To the Citizens of Calloway County

Having worked for the last three months in soliciting your vote and influence in my behalf, I find the political situation so unsettled that it makes the nomination a very doubtful point to be reached by me. This being so I have decided to take the advantage of the doubt by withdrawing my candidacy for the nomination, and therefore take this method of thanking my many friends who had pledged themselves to support me in my undertaking. I also thank those who were not situated to help me, for their many nice compliments. I feel as grateful to the people for the above mentioned as if I had continued and been nominated to the office of sheriff to which I aspired.

For the information of my many friends I feel it proper to say that I, perhaps, was more free to take advantage of the doubt in my case because of having offered to me the district management of West Kentucky for the State Mutual Life Insurance Company, Worcester, Mass.

With the warmest of feeling toward all of my opponents and the citizenship at large, I subscribe,

Third Regiment Nearly Filled.

Camp Stanley, Lexington, Ky. June 30. Judging by the number of recruits that are arriving in camp every day, within another week the Third Kentucky Infantry will be up to war strength. Company D, from Hopkinsville, and Company L, from Murray, have already enlisted their necessary 150 men, and Company A, from Bowling Green is not far behind, having enlisted 130 men to date.

Discipline is stricter now than it ever has been. Only ten men out of each company are allowed to leave camp the same day, and those few unfortunates who take French leave are forevermore sorry. The discipline of the Third has always been above the average National Guard regiment, and with Lieut. Col. Bassett acting as Summary Court Judge the boys know there will be no letup and they are rapidly rounding into good soldiers.

Plans are on foot for the organization of a regimental baseball league, and as several diamonds have been prepared, each company will soon have a team in the field. There are several ex-professionals in the regiment, besides any number of college players, and the Third will be able to organize a strong regimental team. Uniforms have been ordered by some of the companies, and one company, Company L, has already defeated two city teams at Bluegrass Park, near here.

It never rains here during the drill hours, but hardly ever misses a Sunday or a holiday, and some regimental wag said Col. Henry had made arrangements with the Lord that he would keep the boys in camp and make them behave if the Lord would not let it rain during drill hours and it looks that the wag hit it right.

A SLIGHT CHANGE

I have sold a half interest in my Tire and Accessory business to Charlie Bradley and will continue business at the same place and under the same name, and will endeavor to deal with the people in the future the same as we have in the past, with the exception of enlarging our business so as to be better prepared to extend more and better service.

We are putting in a line of tires and parts that we think, from my long years' experience in the tire business, to be better for your money than lots of goods that can easily be put off on you, and he recommended as first class stuff, yet you may get 'hit.'

We deal with the largest rubber factories in the world and can strictly STAND BEHIND our goods; not because they are large concerns, but because they BACK UP their word.

The people in and around Murray have stayed by me in the beginning and helped me to make a nice start, and I can only repay them by good treatment in business, and we will endeavor to continue business in this manner.

I thank you for the past and we ask you to kindly give us a call when we can be of service to you hereafter.

TEXAS MERCHANT GAINS 34 POUNDS

Quit Taking Tanlac 18 Months Ago—Still Retains Weight and Feels Fine.

SUFFERED TWENTY YEARS

John Crabtree Says the Money He Paid for Tanlac Was Best Investment He Ever Made in His Life.

"I have gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy life and good health after suffering twenty years," said John M. Crabtree, a general merchant at Five Mile Station A, Dallas, Texas. "I bought my first bottle nearly two years ago," continued Mr. Crabtree, "and it was the best investment I ever made in my life. I began to improve almost from the start and three bottles simply made me over into a new man. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since."

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months I had to live almost entirely on cereals. My stomach was full of gas and I suffered with awful headaches all the time. I was nervous and couldn't sleep. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and fell off in weight to one hundred and eighteen pounds."

"After using three bottles of Tanlac, I had increased in weight from one hundred and eighty-two pounds to one hundred and eighty-six pounds—an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone and I was feeling like a new man."

"Although it has been a year and a half since Tanlac relieved me of my awful catarrh trouble and indigestion, I still retain my increase in weight and feel simply fine all the time. I've been eating anything I want—in fact anything anybody else can—and sleeping like a child every night. Being made into a strong, healthy man after suffering as long as I did is enough to make me rejoice and I'm glad to endorse Tanlac because I know what it will do."

BREAD AS ECONOMICAL FOOD

Would Be Used More Extensively if Home-Baked Variety Was Always Good, Say Government Experts.

If home-baked bread were uniformly well made, it would be used more extensively than at present in place of more expensive foods, say specialists in the United States department of agriculture, and this would be a distinct economy. From the standpoint of nutrition it makes very little difference whether breadstuffs are served in the form of bread or in the form of breakfast cereals, side dishes with meat, or soups.

A man engaged in moderate muscular work can probably consume about three-fourths of a pound a day of breadstuffs in any one of these forms. This quantity is the equivalent of one pound of baked bread. As a matter of fact, however, it is not probable that in the average family this quantity is consumed and the deficiency is made up by the use of more expensive substances. Of course bread alone is not sufficient for the maintenance of health, but from both an economical and a hygienic point of view should be used more extensively than it usually is, declare the experts.

JUST MAKE A FRESH START

It is Only Way to Remedy Mistakes One Has Made as Past Cannot Be Lived Over Again.

Now and then a man pauses in take account of stock, and looks back reflectively over the course of his life to note the many places where he made the wrong turn or was shoved off the track by adverse circumstances. He says to himself, believing what he says, that if he could retrace his steps and take a fresh start, knowing what he knows now, he would not make such a mess of things again. He can pat his finger down on the very spot in the map of his life where he went wrong. There was a blurred place on the trail, where there was no trace of the footprint of any who passed that way and no mark of the woodman's ax upon a tree. It was for him alone to choose the way to take, and in his haste and fever to arrive he chose wrong, and has wandered ever since.

A man plays a game, or runs a race, or conducts a business, or marries, wife, or chooses a friend, or elects a calling, or forms a habit, and by and by the conviction is borne in upon him, like a growth weighing on the brain, that he was in error. Now it is too late to retrieve, says the Philadelphia Ledger. He must wear for the remainder of his days the millstone due to the wrong decision. What is he to do? He strangled his chance for better. He exchanged his birthright for pottage. It is of no avail to plead that he had had advisers, that he was misled, that he was the tool of environment, that a base heredity rose up to claim him and a latent taint in the blood broke out and wrought an irreparable mischief. The past is there, and its legend is deeply graven on his brow or seared by the brand of the iron that has entered into his soul. Can he go back? The years and the closed doors and the finished chapters tell him no.

But the forward look and the future provide him with a better way to take. When Mrs. Peterkin, in the story, had spelled her cup of coffee by putting salt in it and was trying to redeem the error by the neutralizing action of all sorts of chemicals, the lady from Philadelphia suggested that she make a fresh cup. Seeing that she can't go back, why not make a fresh start exactly where you are? Decision has a miraculous way of finding a standpoint of rock in the middle of a quicksand.

His Way of Application.

The policeman who was patrolling the street for the street car company, were discussing the rate of one Henry they had known.

"Yes, sir," said one, "Henry was found with two bottles of whisky on him last Sunday, and was taken to court."

The crowd stopped work to listen to the tale. The foreman was not in sight.

"Well, when he was taken up in court," the speaker continued, "Judge Deery fined him $10 and sent him off to the workhouse."

All the men glanced hastily around. "And Henry was there only two days and someone (it is always 'someone') up and made him a guard. Now Henry is working as a guard over the other prisoners and is getting good pay besides."

"But," mourned the youngest one of the crew, "if I had done that they would have kept me there all year."

"It's all in the way you apply for the job," said the narrator of the story.—Indianapolis News.

Crow Is Omnivorous.

In order to get a living in New England during the winter the crow has developed a catholic appetite, and persons who have made a study of the bird and its bill of fare say that the crow is omnivorous in the broadest sense of the word. In a pinch he will eat anything. The principal items on his bill of fare are beetles, spiders, worms, grasshoppers, moths, butterflies, caterpillars, bees, ants, wasps, flies, crabs, shrimps, snails, fish, toads, frogs, young chickens, wild birds and their eggs, carrion and all sorts of plants and grains, both wild and cultivated. Corn constitutes a large proportion of the principal grievances of the farmer against the crow. A bird with such a catholic taste in food is obviously well prepared to meet hard times and the high cost of living. The crow will kill and eat small snakes. He will eat small mammals up to the size of a cottontail rabbit.—Hartford Courant.

Simple Instructions.

Reginald bought an evening tie, and, wishing to be immaculate, asked the shop assistant to tell him the correct way to tie a bow.

"Well, sir," said the obliging assistant, "you hold the tie in your left hand and your collar in the other. Slip your neck in the collar and cross the left-hand end of the tie over the right with the left hand, striding the right and with the other hand. Then drop both ends, catching the left with the right and the other with the other. Reverse hands and pick up the loose end with the nearest hand. Pull this end through the loop with your ungloved hand and squeeze. You will find the bow tied, and all you have to do is to disentangle your hands."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Well Provided.

"I presume you ate fish every day?"

NEW METALS BEING SOUGHT

Manufacturers Looking for Substitutes for Those Now Used Because of Advance in Prices.

The recent advance in price of many of the more commonly used metals has led manufacturers to adopt or consider the adoption of various substitute metals or alloys for certain purposes. The advice of the bureau of standards has frequently been sought in this connection. An interesting field of investigation is opened up by such inquiries.

It appears that the metals traditionally and currently used for various articles are in many cases no better adapted for the purpose than others, and a slight difference in price would warrant a substitution. It is not usually possible, however, to suggest substitute metals, as there are many factors involving manufacturing peculiarities, durability and other physical and chemical properties that first have to be determined. "There is," says the bureau, "a very wide field of research here, which would undoubtedly repay manifold the efforts put upon it."—Scientific American.

War Spirit Contagious.

Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree was more than once placed in a perplexing position by the loss of members of his cast during his tour throughout Canada and the United States. No less than ten members enlisted, including two ladies for service in war hospitals. One humorous incident occurred after the engagement of a "deputy" in the United States. She was not very much interested in the war prior to her enlistment, but the talk behind the scenes among the company here so frequently as the loss of relatives at the front that she felt one night impelled to volunteer as a nurse, was eventually accepted, and her place had to be filled.

Smart Man.

After the supper party the host handed round a box of cigars with an expansive smile of the help-yourself-and-don't-mind-me variety.

"Lovely cigars, you know," he declared, offering the box to the first guest. "They were a present from my wife."

Gently, but none the less firmly, every man present swore that smoking would expand his heart to colossal proportions, or else that he had sworn off the weed for the duration, says London Ideas.

When they had all gone the host extracted a card from under the first layer of cigars: "From Uncle James."

"That little speech saved me that box," he mused. "Jolly smart where!"

Juice of Lemons!

How to Make Skin

White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sunburns, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful in smoothing rough, red hands. Adv.

The Reichsrath a Babel.

That parliament of Babel, the reichsrath, now engaged in playing an obscure part in the Austro-Hungarian peace hunt, is permitted to express its emotions in eight official languages—symbolic of the war of tongues raging in the empire itself. In the great vocal chorus the Slavonian may be said to have struck the strident top note, for the very word he has coined for himself expresses the belief that no man is a talker except himself. "Sjavan," in Old Slavonian, meant "to speak," and as the Slav understood no other speech, the others were naturally the dumb dogs.—London Daily Chronicle.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen.

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, douches and cooling syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

The Same Treepass.

A farmer, going over his land, caught an Irishman with his dog trespassing in a field, and threatened him with prosecution.

Returning, however, through the same field an hour later he was surprised to meet the Irishman to another part of it, and exclaimed angrily:

"What! Treepassing again?"

"No, no," answered Pat. "It's still the same treepass. Fair play, sorr!"

Taylor-Newman Debate.

Mayfield, Kentucky, July 2.—There will be a public oral debate between Rev. H. B. Taylor, of Murray, Ky., and Rev. T. C. Newman, of Marion, Ky., to take place at Sugar Grove, Ky., church, July 8, continuing for four days, two sessions each day of two hours each, from 9:30 in the forenoon to 11:30 and from 2:30 in the afternoon until 4:30 of each day, on the following propositions:

First—The holy scriptures teach that the Lord Jesus Christ did organize or establish a church during the days of his earthly ministry, and that church was a Missionary Baptist church.

Taylor affirms; Newman denies. Second—The holy scriptures teach that the Church of God set up in the family of Abraham spoken of as the Kingdom of God, or Kingdom of Heaven, or Kingdom of Israel, composed of believing parents and infant children, has been continued as the Church of Christ.

Newman affirms; Taylor denies. Third—The holy scriptures teach that the baptism of saved persons by immersion in water, upon the authority of a Missionary Baptist church, is the only scriptural baptism today.

Taylor affirms; Newman denies. Fourth—The holy scriptures teach that sprinkling or pouring of water on the forehead of a proper subject, by a proper administrator in the name of the Trinity, constitutes the proper mode of water baptism.

Newman affirms; Taylor denies. Salem Neighborhood News.

Card of Thanks.

To the neighbors and friends who helped us through that great struggle of sickness and death of our dear little darlings who are now at rest: We can't express our thanks great enough in words, and to our kind physician who did all that was in his power. We also want to extend thanks to those who strewed precious flowers so sweetly around our precious darlings. We thank them all from the depth of our hearts and to the ones who was so interested in making the sweet little angels' dresses. May God bless them all with a blessing that will enable them to see, in our sincere prayer. To the connections on both sides, their appearance and help will be greatly remembered in the great time to come, especially to the precious sister who took the place of the broken hearted mother and stayed till the very last. May God bless her and everyone, in our prayer. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Parker and children.

KENNETH MATHENY for County Court Clerk

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Murray evidence doubly proven.

W. H. Broach, ex-county assessor, Fourth & Poplar St., Murray, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills once in awhile and have always found the same good results. I have sometimes suffered from attacks of kidney trouble. This medicine has never failed to relieve me." (Statement given January 20, 1912.)

On November 2, 1916, Mr. Broach said: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills is still as good as ever. I have not used this remedy for some time, but wouldn't hesitate to do so, if I had any return of kidney trouble."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Broach has twice publicly recommended.—Foster-McMillan Co. Props., Buffalo, N.Y.

Entertained With Social

The Junior Sunbeam class, of Dexter, was entertained with a social Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Curd. Games and contests were the features of the evening and the contest prize was won by Miss Laurene Tarry.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in the class colors, yellow and green, where delightful refreshments were served. The kiddies reported a jolly time. The little guests were chaperoned by their teacher, Miss Cleo Dodd. Those present were Marie Arton, Marie Jones, Ruby Starks, Cora Pickett, Ruby Shoemaker, Elsie Card, Bonnie Barnhart, Hazel Tarry, Elizabeth Akers, Lola Lowry, Laurene Tarry, Edna Akers, Adell Peters, Harry Crosby, Lucie Matthews, Paul Clayton, Kelly Ross, McTarry, Glenn Card, Daniel Card, Earl Mathis, Edwin Peters and Fred Card.

Relieve ill effects profanity but profanity won't remove them. Doan's Catarrh is recommended for catarrh of the bladder, prostate, urethra, etc. at any drug store.

A mass meeting at the court house Tuesday evening decided unanimously to endorse the work and administration of the present council and their names will be the only names to appear on the ballot. The election of mayor and city judge does not come under this recommendation. The crowd was a large and representative one and it is their opinion that it is a bad idea to trade horses in the middle of a stream and while a number of the present members of the council felt that they were neglecting their own interests and had said they would not stand for re-election, they will bow to the expressed will of the meeting and accept the obligation. This was felt to be necessary as the present men are acquainted with the work on hand and can best carry out the present plans.

Galen Windsor, of Hazel, and Miss Willie McGehee were married last Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGehee, of Paris. The bride is a graduate of Groves High school, of that place and is very popular in her home town and wherever she is known. Mr. Windsor has been teaching in Arkansas and has been an aspirant for the office of county court clerk, and is well known throughout this county where he was raised.

It is not good poultry management to allow the fowls to range unrestricted with their chicks the first week. With such freedom the hen frequently takes her brood through wet grass, and as a result some are chilled and die, especially the weaker ones which are likely to be left behind.
