Amphitheater Drama First Draft Complete

The first draft of a play being prepared for presentation in Kenlake Amphitheater is ready for consideration by the West Kentucky Productions Association, which is engineering the amphitheater project.

Kermit Hunter, nationally known playwright who wrote "Unto These Hills" for presentation at Cherokee, N. C., said the draft will be in the hands of the association president, Max Hurt in a short time.

Dr. Hunter will arrive in Paducah on Saturday for a meeting with the members of the story and research committee of the drama association. Mrs. Hendon Wright is a member of the committee from the Fulton area.

The copy will be studied by a special research and review committee.

Hunter told United Press International here during the week end that he had injected famous Western Kentuckians into a general story dramatically portraying the area around the amphitheater which is under construction in Kentucky Lake State Park near Kenlake Hotel.

He mentioned Alben W. Barkley, Irvin S. Cobb and famed railroad engineer Casey Jones.

Hunter's plays have been seen by an estimated 3,000,000 persons.

"Unto these Hills" has been running for the past dozen years. The Kentucky play, Hunter's 21st outdoor production, will open next June.

Hunter, a West Virginia native who holds degrees from Ohio State University and the University of North Carolina, teaches English at Hollins College here.

His works include "Horn in the West" at Boone, N. C.; "Honey in the Rock" at Beckley, W. Va.; "Next Day in the Morning" at

Husband Of Fultonian Is Appointed To High Post

Dr. Lyndol Mitchell, assistant professor of theory at the Eastman School of Music, has been appointed director of the Chautauqua School of Music, succeeding Julius Huehn, also a faculty member at Eastern School, who resigned in November, 1960, because of ill health.

Dr. Mitchell received his bachelor-of-science degree in music education and instrumental music in 1948 from Western Kentucky State College, Bowling Green. He received his master-of-music degree in composition and his doctor-of-musical-arts degree at the Eastman School. He has been a member of its faculty since 1952.

Dr. Mitchell is married to the former Miriam Sue Cook of Fulton and the couple has four sons. Mrs. Mitchell is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Cook and the late

Mr. Cook.

Dr. Mitchell has written more than 25 compositions since his first work, "Dream Fantasy for Orchestra," in 1942. His works have been performed by many symphony orchestras. He has been choirmaster at Christ Episcopal Church in Rochester since 1952. He is a former horn player and band director.

Curtis W. Haug, vice-president in charge of program and education at Chautauqua, said of Dr. Mitchell's appointment:

"His background of experience and ability coupled with his pleasing personality and continuing professional growth and interest in the field of music education will do much to maintain and extend the standards and scope of this important area of Chautauqua's educational program."

Dawson Springs Lands Industry Employing 100

A plastics plant that will employ 100 persons will be built at Dawson Springs, Ky. by the Mental Specialty Co. of Cincinnati, Arnold Tietig, president of the company, has announced.

The plant will be on a 10-acre site on the east city limits and will be constructed by the city of Dawson Springs through a $300,000 revenue bond issue. A 25,000 square foot building will later be expanded to 100,000 square feet, according to present plans.

Property and operations here will be under the name of Mid-South Plastics, Inc., a Kentucky corporation.

Among products to be manufactured are plastic parts for refrigerators, plastic football helmets and other sporting goods and plastic boxes for various uses.

Eight County Units To Get $1800 Tax Refund

Eight governmental units in Fulton County will receive nearly $1800.00 in refunds from the Kentucky Department of Economic Security as a result of advance contributions made by the units to the Personnel Security Division for social security taxes. The refund to the eight units is part of the $290,000.00 in surplus funds accumulated from the collections from local government employees.

County of Fulton,	$321.34
Fulton County Board of Education,	125.38
Fulton City Board of Education,	61.97
City of Fulton,	419.97
City of Hickman,	246.49
Hickman Public Library,	4.62
Fulton County Board of Levee Commissioners,	11.03
Fulton Electric Plant Board	578.96

In addition, Combs stated, the 1963-64 fiscal year will mark the second year in a row that administrative costs of the Social Security program, to which the local units are required to contribute, will again be waived.

These costs, amounting to about $40,000 for the local units, were not charged for the first time in the 1962-63 year because of a built-up surplus in the fund, also administered by the Personnel Security Division.

Combs said these costs will continue to be waived on a year-to-year basis until the surplus is no longer sufficient to administer the program.

The $290,000 which will be refunded was collected over the past 12 years in accordance with a provision of the Kentucky statutes, Combs said.

The money was placed in a fund from which the State could draw should any unit fail to pay its taxes when due.

Hugh Fly Makes Known Plans For New Service

If you have been missing the friendly atmosphere and hospitality of the Derby Cafe these past few days, be patient for just a little while longer. Hugh Fly, owner of the popular restaurant said today that the shut-down was necessary in order to redecorate, remodel and make the change-over to their new type of restaurant.

For many months now the Flys have been making a sort of "survey" into the latest trend in food preparation and service, traveling to and making contacts with the most successful and popular modern restaurant service in the Mid-South. "After careful study, and in keeping with our policy of bringing to the Fulton area the best restaurant service in America, Ann and I decided to go ahead and bring the new service to Fulton," Mr. Fly told the News last week.

"For some time now there has been much speculation as to our future plans and I suppose the old saying that as long as people are talking about you they won't forget you is good," the long time restaurateur reflected. "This is the fourth time in the more than 16 years we have been in Fulton that we have changed our restaurant operation to give better service and I imagine we will keep on moving ahead when we feel our good friends are entitled to the best food service available," he added.

In a prepared statement to the News Mr. Fly said:

"We are gratified and flattered that so many people are interested in us and the Derby and appreciate the opportunity to explain what our plans are. I know all sorts of rumors have been floating around that we are closing for good, leaving town, etc. All of this is wrong!

"We have spent too many hard years work for anything like that and I certainly cannot afford to retire.

"We are cutting down and streamlining our operation. The reason we will be closed for a few days is to complete the new building and install new equipment. I do not think that this should take more than a few days and then we will be back in operation.

"We know that people today are mostly in a hurry and are asking for faster and faster service and this is what we will try to give them. We will serve a buffet or serve yourself style meal which is proving popular all over the country. Our dining area will not be as large as the present one but we should be able to handle a lot of people in a short time.

"We will serve a variety of foods: turkey, roast beef, ham, and of course, hamburger and hotdogs for the kids and feature our fried chicken. This new chicken fryer we bought some time ago is really something. I saw it at a restaurant show and just had to have one. Since we have installed it about three months ago, our fried chicken business has increased about four times. We cook chicken from raw to on your plate in six minutes and you see it cooked.

"There is no grease. People who cannot eat regular chicken at all can fill up on this without worrying. We will also suggest picking up a basket of chicken to go when

Kenlake Motel To Close For Winter Months

Although Kentucky State Parks had a record-breaking attendance in 1962 with 8 million visitors—over 2-1/2 times the population of Kentucky—four lodges closed January 1 and will open as soon as possible in the spring, the Kentucky Department of Parks has announced.

Parks Commissioner Edward V. Fox said that three new park lodges at Rough River, Lake Cumberland and Carter Caves parks along with Kenlake Hotel in Kentucky Lake State Park have been closed because present attendance does not justify their operation during this part of the year.

Fox explained that Kenlake Hotel, which has been kept open in the winter in past years, was closed because the new lodge at Kentucky Dam Village is adequately serving the Kentucky Lake area during the winter months.

Hold That Weight Down Attend Control Classes

Weight control classes, open to the public and free of charge, will begin at the Fulton Health Department on Monday, January 7. All persons interested are asked to call 819 and register for the classes.

Classes will be held on each Monday from January 7 through February 11 at 1:30 p. m. A state Department nutritionist will conduct the classes which are open to residents of Fulton, South Fulton and the surrounding area.

GOING UP!

The new five cent rate for first class letters goes into effect on January 7. After that date patrons must affix an additional penny stamp when using four cent stamps to send first class letters. It's the truth... because George Washington's picture is on the new stamp.

BETTER BELIEVE IT!

Despite all jokes to the contrary, Fulton Police Chief Duck Smith says many women are good drivers. He didn't go so far as to say that "most" women are good drivers, but he did "fess up a little bit, didn't he?"

NOT HALF BAD!

Principal Abe Martin at Fulton High School said that only two students were absent on Wednesday, the first day of school after the long holiday. He also said that one of the best puppet shows ever presented at the school was immensely enjoyed by the students.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

It's been so long since we touched the keys of this typewriter to record entries in this diary of doings, that we feel like we're writing history instead of news. Let's see now! Our last paper went to press on Saturday, December 22. That was last year. Here it is another year, so it becomes our duty to wind up the affairs of old 1962 with the last notes of interest of the wonderful, last days of the year.

Small dinner parties, dances, open houses and the round of gay events for visitors in town filled the calendar from morn till night. There were many holiday visitors we enjoyed during our longest respite from publishing since here we've been. Among those we enjoyed were Mr. and Mrs. English Clark, (Betty Weaks' parents) from Atlanta, Ga. who were here just for the few days around Christmas. They left right after Christmas and took little Caroline Weaks with them, to be brought home by the rest of the Weaks family, (Parks, Betty, Carmen and Marianna) who left last week-end and returned the early part of this week.

It was our pleasure to have the Clarks, Parks and Betty Weaks, Louise and Brooks Henderson and Richard Brann, a former Fultonian for a wonderful get-together during the holidays and before we could say "Merry Christmas" we heard some wonderful harmonizing and good piano playing come from our study. We couldn't imagine where the good music for the impromptu concert came from, but we soon learned that Richard "just happened" to have it along with him. We didn't dare join in the singing, but we did revel in the enjoyment that their performance gave us.

Richard Brann is a former Fultonian, as all of you "natives" know. We chided him some about his school days, for it seemed that many folks of all ages, around town went to school with him sometime or another. He is the son of Mrs. Ivy Brann, and has many kin folk in the Fulton area. Richard, or "Dick" as he is affectionately known had such a good time in Fulton that he made a short trip to Blytheville, Ark., ostensibly on his way home, and then decided to come back here for a longer stay. Everybody appreciated that, and so did he, for the longer he stayed the more of his old friends he was able to see.

Music brings to mind that Fulton had the pleasure last week-end of having in the midst of friends and family Mrs. Robert Whitnel, who is the former Eugenia Buxton of Memphis. In our Mississippi newspaper days we followed the interesting career of Mrs. Whitnel as an accomplished pianist. Mr. and Mrs. Whitnel drove to Dyersburg from Memphis Saturday and then came on to Fulton to visit with her husband's family here. They returned to their home early in the afternoon on Sunday.

The news is good out California way from Jack Snow. Jack's physician put him to bed during the holidays, but the latest is that he has promised to slow down and take care. That's good advice for all of us.

Nothing, but nothing makes Fulton any happier than a visit from Paul Durbin. We thought Paul was in the jungles of Vietnam somewhere, but he showed up at our Westwood Sunday afternoon with Margaret and Fred Honra for a toast to the New Year. Paul said he heard there would be a lot of parties around

Woman's Club To Hear Program Of Broadway Music

Members of the Murray Woman's Club will present a program of selections from Broadway Musicals at the general meeting of the Fulton Woman's Club on Friday, January 4, at 2:30 P. M. at the club home. The Music Department are hosts of the meeting with Mrs. Leonora Bushart, program leader. Members are urged to attend.

Mrs. James Rudy Albritton will be the narrator for the musical selections. Mesdames Glenn Doran, Jack Biggerstaff and Joe Dick will be soloists and Mrs. Richard Farrell will serve as accompanist. The Board of Directors will meet at 1:30 P. M. preceding the general meeting.

Members are reminded that this is the last month to pay dues before the penalty starts in February.

Do You Have A Pet Peeve? Here Are Reminders Of Things That Irk

WHAT'S YOUR PET PEEVE or "irkie?" All of us have them. Editor Avery Jenkins of The Rural Kentuckian magazine recently listed some of his pet peeves in the magazine, asking "We'd like to know why it is that—" to the following:

—just as you're ready to trade in your car the transmission develops a grinding noise.

—the town drunk waits until you're in conversation with important people to decide that you're his long-lost friend.

—your wife says "We got a lot of new bills today" when you have just finished telling her the funniest story you ever heard.

—when you finally accept the fourth invitation to visit a friend, who says you have a lot to talk about, it turns out that every program on television is his favorite.

—the highway patrolman stops you when you're out of state for driving 55 in a 50-mile-an-hour zone and he doesn't notice the residents of that state who go roaring by at 70.

—the man who owes you money and says he doesn't have a dime comes rolling out of the showroom in a new car the following week.

—the page from the newspaper bearing that interesting story you wanted to read is the one that your wife used to wrap the coffee grounds.

—you never bump into your wife in public until you get into a conversation with a former sweetheart.

—you work earnestly all day and when you act silly for a minute you find the boss is standing right behind you.

—the basketball player performs like a champion in every game, acquires a date with the school's beauty and being anxious to impress her—does so by missing a wide open lay-up shot that would have won the game.

—after a week of watching television that is only tolerable, on the night that a famous newsman is to report on a study he's taken six months to prepare the picture tube burns out.

—your children behave like little ladies and gentlemen all week and when the house is filled with visitors the little imps throw a fit and turn purple.

—after fussing and fuming over an electrical appliance until you're ready to lose your religion you find that it's not plugged in.

—a friend asks you to ride across town "for a few minutes" and then takes two hours to transact his business.

—the television sponsor doesn't realize that the greatest cause of headache is the television commercial.

—some women ever got the idea that being late for a social gathering is fashionable.

—department store clerks don't take a pleasure cruise once a year so they won't have to act like they're taking one when you want to buy something.

—dry cleaners can do a beautiful job of rearranging the grease spots on clothing, but can't find the chemical that removes the spots.

—sundown and payday are two things that more and more people are looking for these days.

Sometimes Uncle Sam Is Not So Careful With Our Tax Money; Read This Story And Tell Us

It won't be long now before America's wage earners will be getting forms from their employers revealing the tax bite that Uncle Sam has taken from the weekly pay check. Many an individual will look at the figure, no matter how large or small, and view the tax levy with various emotions.

While most of us will realize that government services must be paid for, we also wonder occasionally, if a lot of our money isn't going into the drain somewhere. In connection with the latter view, we thought you might be interested in a story we saw in one of the metropolitan newspapers recently about the fact that our good Uncle is sometimes not an impeccable custodian of our contributions.

The story in the newspaper speaks for itself. It deserves little or no comment from us. But if you're thinking what we're thinking . . . Here's the story:

Washington, Dec. 24 — The Government's fiscal watchdogs prowled into a lot of places this year to find out how the taxpayer's dollar was being spent—and misspent.

Altogether, the General Accounting Office discovered ways to save $114,000,000, but it acknowledged that millions more slipped down the drain anyway.

Among other things, the G. A. O.

charged that:

1. The Army bought enough fire trucks to burn, about 135 of which it didn't want and then couldn't give away. Even though the trucks cost $70,000 each, their brakes didn't work right so they couldn't be driven more than 10 miles an hour.

2. The Military Clothing Supply Agency at Philadelphia enthusiastically ordered 492,000 Air Force overcoats for $9,600,000 to take advantage of low prices. The trouble was, only 10,427 coats were needed.

3. The Pentagon spent $7,000,000 sending people overseas by commercial airlines while the Military Air Transport Service was going over with plenty of empty seats.

Perhaps the most sensational disclosure, however, was a charge against the Agriculture Department that it unknowingly had allowed a brothel and a nudist colony to operate on public land.

In a report to Congress, the G. A. O. said the house of prostitution operated in the Tonto National Forest in Arizona from early 1953 to December, 1957. The auditors said the nudist colony was in the Boise National Forest in Idaho.

The shocked G. A. O. said its study of forest lands indicated "many unpatented mining claims are apparently being used for purposes not related to mining."

These Resolutions Are Urgently Needed!

Urgently needed New Year's resolutions—Nikita Khrushchev: To retire from the overseas real estate business and keep his feet on the ground—inside his shoes.

John F. Kennedy: To take the "R" out of Cuba and put it back in prison.

Chief Justice Earl Warren: To smuggle a prayer for guidance into the next conference of the Supreme Court.

Fidel Castro: To search through those big crates of medicine and try to find a cure for whiskers.

Republican Chairman Bill Miller: To find an attractive candidate for '64 who has a good job to go back to.

Democratic Chairman John Bailey: To try to find a few big business contributors besides the rocking chair manufacturers.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Learn To Win By Losing

The following prayer was found in the pocket of an unknown Confederate soldier who died on the battlefield during the Civil War:

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve;

I was made weak, that I might learn humbly to obey.

I asked for health, that I might do greater things;

I was given infirmity, that I might do better things.

I asked for riches, that I might be happy;

I was given poverty, that I might be wise.

I asked for power, that I might have the praise of men;

I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God.

I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life;

I was given life, that I might enjoy all things.

STRICTLY BUSINESS by McFeatters

KNOW YOUR STATE GOVERNMENT

KENTUCKY LAKE AREA

"My gosh! That thing looks like a fattenin' hog."

The bug-eyed onlooker in bib overalls and high-top plow shoes stared at the huge catfish—almost 100 pounds—lying on the bank of the Tennessee River just below Kentucky Dam. His comment was appropriate.

It's also characteristic of the native enthusiasm and colloquial originality in rural Western Kentucky.

The fish, too, is characteristic—for it is the fishing attraction that lures thousands of ambitious anglers to mammoth Kentucky Lake above the dam each year. Rods and spinning reels, and, of course, the always reliable cane poles do double-duty from the famous crappie run in the spring through the celebrated "Fall Fishing Derby."

More dedicated fishermen have found catches remarkably good even during the winter months. Besides catfish and crappie, the biggest takes on the lake are largemouth and striped bass, bluegill, sauger, walleye, and rockfish. During recent years, night fishing has become more and more popular, too.

But fishing is only one of many activities that draw more than three million visitors annually to the two big parks on Kentucky Lake's western shore—Kentucky Dam Village State Park and Kentucky Lake State Park. Unlimited recreation, up-to-date facilities, fine food and contagious Kentucky hospitality make the area ideal for escape-minded vacationers.

Just minutes off the main highways, motorists can escape to the cool spray beneath the wind-strained sail of a sloop or to sun-warmed sand beaches. Or they can golf, picnic, water ski, ride horses, camp or just plain loaf.

Facilities include boat docks, bathhouses, gift and souvenir shops, coffee shops, picnic areas, swimming pools, children's playground, tent and trailer camping areas with central service buildings, golf courses, modern lodges, freshly remodeled cottages and attractive dining rooms with traditional foods at each park. Kentucky Dam Village also has an airport.

Traditional food in the Kentucky Lake area always means fried fish and hushpuppies. And, of course, other long-time Kentucky favorites—home cured ham, red-eye gravy, fried chicken, and shoo-fly pie!

Even with this wealth of native personality, natural resources, recreational development and long-standing tradition, there is more in the future for Western Kentucky.

By 1964 another big lake rivaling Kentucky Lake in size will be formed. When the $180 million dam now under construction on the Cumberland River is completed, the waters will climb the banks and creep into hollows and lowlands. Completion of the lake will make that area one of the unique sections in the world—for only two miles will separate the two giant man-made lakes at their closest points. A canal cut through this narrow neck of land will connect the lakes.

An area from six to 12 miles wide and 40 miles long between the two lakes is now under construction as a national recreation area. And another State park is planned on the shore of the new lake.

Fittingly, the lake and dam will be named for the late Vice President and U. S. Senator Alben Barkley, whose home was in nearby Paducah. Barkley—sage, statesman, politician and raconteur par excellence—is the most prominent figure ever from Western Kentucky.

He and another famous Paducahan, humorist Irvin S. Cobb, built reputations as great wits and story-tellers. And neither found it necessary to stray far from home to find interesting characters or interesting tales to tell. The rugged individualism, humor, curiosity and innate shrewdness of plain folks close to home was subject enough.

Vacationers who take the time to loaf a bit with the local people collect many a chuckle for the effort.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan and his Confederate cavalry division, operating in Kentucky behind enemy lines, had got into what appeared to be an almost hopeless situation.

Morgan had entered Ky. from Tennessee with 3900 officers and men. Of these, more than 200 men were mounted but not armed. They served as horse-holders wherever the armed troopers dismounted and fought on foot. When the division captured Elizabethtown, it had taken 600 Federal rifles, so all the Confederates were now armed, but of course they had suffered some losses.

At the end of last week's installment of this series, the raiders had barely managed to cross Rolling Fork River before 7000 pursuing Union soldiers could close with them. They had marched on to Bardstown and encamped, but the Federals meantime had got across the river and were not far behind them.

The next day the division marched out of Bardstown and by 3 p. m. had arrived at Springfield. Col. Adam Johnson with one regiment had advanced rapidly and attacked the enemy pickets in front of Lebanon so vigorously that the Federal commander there called to his aid a Union cavalry regiment from New Market, thus leaving a hole through which the Rebels rode without having to fight.

Lying squarely across Morgan's escape route to Tennessee was a Federal force of twice his strength at Lebanon. Another large Union force was marching from Glasgow to intercept him at Columbia if he succeeded in getting past Lebanon. Shortly before midnight of December 30, leaving fires burning and a few men to keep them burning all the rest of the night, the Rebels took a small, rarely used road that ran between Lebanon and St. Mary's. It was a dark, bitterly cold night; the horses stumbled along and their riders were worn out and half-frozen. Men who served in Morgan's cavalry throughout the war said afterward the night march around Lebanon was their worst experience.

By daylight the column had made good only eight miles, and was only two and a half miles from Lebanon. It marched on and by 1 p. m. on the 31st was at Muldraugh's Hill, on the road to Columbia. A little after dark it entered Campbellsville and found a Union commissary from which food was issued to the famished soldiers.

Early on January 1, 1863, the raiders left Campbellsville for Columbia. All that day they heard distant cannonading. Later it was learned that the nearest artillery firing had been at Murfreesboro, Tenn., 115 air miles away. The division got to Columbia at 3 p. m. ahead of the Union force that had been sent to intercept it there. It moved out before dark for another night march in bitter cold, arriving at Burkesville and crossing the Cumberland to comparative safety on January 2. Morgan had lost two killed, wounded, 64 missing—and had taken 1877 prisoners.

Sarah Lee Cathey, Donald Porter Married In Lovely Home Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Porter

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cathey was the scene of a beautiful and impressive wedding, when their daughter, Sarah Lee Cathey, pledged vows with Donald Wayne Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter of Union City, Tennessee.

Brother Harry Owens, minister of the Central Church of Christ officiated at the double ring ceremony on Sunday afternoon, December 23 at three o'clock in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends. "Always" and the traditional wedding song was play-ily Mrs. Mildred Jobe as the bride entered.

The bride was a picture of loveliness as she entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a ballerina length dress, the long fitted waist was of chantilly lace. She wore white lustre slippers. Her misty bouffant veil of tulle fell from a lace appliqued whimsy clip with seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis centered with a large white purple throated orchid.

Miss Linda Faye Watts was the maid of honor and only attendant.

Miss Watts wore a pale blue silk organza over taffeta dress. Her hat was a white net with tiny bows, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Charles Herbie Cathey, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Mrs. Cathey, mother of the bride wore a capri blue dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Porter, mother of the groom was attired in a royal blue wool dress, and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with an informal reception. Cake, punch, mints and nuts were served by Mrs. Bill Porter and Mrs. Winford Dailey, sister-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Suzanne Johnson, Debert Wood Wed In Beautiful Holiday Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wood

In an exquisite holiday setting Miss Suzanne Johnson became the bride of Debert Douglas Wood on Saturday afternoon the twenty-second of December. The impressive double ring ceremony was solemnized at four o'clock in the afternoon at the Water Walley, Kentucky Church of Christ with Brother John B. Hardeman of Obion, Tennessee officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Warren Johnson, of Water Valley and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Lester Wood of Fulton, Kentucky.

The altar of the church was decorated beautifully in white and pink. Centering the scene was a giant white flocked Christmas tree; matching smaller trees were at each side of the platform. White wrought iron candelabra holding tall pink candles formed a Gothic arch before the trees. Fastened to the candelabra were graceful arrangements of shell pink stock backed with emerald ferns. Groups of pink candles were in each window. The table in the entrance of the church held a tall white candelabra with pink candles. The reserved pews were marked with white wedding bells in which were clusters of pink rose buds.

Preceding the ceremony an a cappella choir from Dresden, Tennessee sang "At Dawning" — Cadman, "I Love You Truly" — Bond, "Whither Thou Goest, I Will Go" and "Because" De-Hardelot. They also sang the "Faithful and True" from Lohengrin—Wagner for the processional and recessional.

The beautiful young bride wore a handsome formal wedding gown, an Original by Milady Bridals in candle glow taffeta patterned in re-embroidered alencon lace and self cording with detachable train. Her three-tier veil of misty English illusion fell from a pill box of lace and seed pearls.

The bride carried a Colonial bouquet of stephanotis and fuschia roses nestled in illusion. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant—a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Robert Brown Van Doran, sister of the bride was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Martha Boyce Jones, Miss Nancy Bushart, Miss Carol McNeilly, and Mrs. Doris Smith. They wore identical frocks of Autumn Rose velvet designed with sweetheart necklines and short cap sleeves. The tea length skirts were fashioned with unpressed pleats at the front. A large flat bow was caught at the back waist-line. Their head-dresses were matching satin open crowned pill boxes with a puff of shell pink illusion at the back. Their satin pumps matched their dresses; they wore short white gloves. Each attendant wore a tiny diamond pendant—a gift of the bride. Their unusual bouquets were kissing—balls of pink tulle and satin ribbons with pink rose buds.

Mr. Wood served his son as best man. The ushers were Robert Brown Van Doran, Charles Binford, Gaylon Varden and Billy Don Cherry.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnson wore a striking dress of saffron lace and chiffon. The lace bodice was re-embroidered with narrow matching ribbon; the chiffon skirt was a sheath. Her hat was a turban of gold lame and taupe wool. She wore long gold gloves and her other accessories were gold. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

Miss Lacy Weds Mr. Van Hoosier In Lovely Ceremony At Liberty Church

In an impressive Christmas setting, Miss Betty Lacy and Robert Van Hoosier were married in the Liberty Baptist Church near Fulton, Kentucky with the Rev. Don Hancock performing the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with white mums and gladioli and greenery. The back was flanked by candelabra holding white tap-reception at the Fulton Country Club. The large mantle held tall pink tapers and a white bell with pink roses. At either side of the hearth was a stylized tree of pink and gold topped with a ball of pink satin ribbon with fuschia roses interspersed. The register table was covered with a cutwork cloth and held a tall wedding candle nestled in a net ruffle.

The reception table was draped with a floor length taffeta cloth covered with a floor length net cloth. Tall pink candles burned in branched silver candelabra placed at either side of the tiered pedestal wedding cake. The cake was topped with a cluster of white wedding bells. Clusters of net and lilies of the valley were caught at the corners of the table. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Harry L. Bushart, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. James Witherspoon, Miss Gertrude Murphy, Mrs. John Carl Jones, Mrs. Jerry Canter, Miss Sallie Williams, Miss Linda Witherspoon, Miss Elizabeth Casale, Miss Joy Lynn Jobe, Miss Jacquelyn Wood and Miss Johnnie Payne.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wood left for their wedding trip after which they will make their home in St. Louis, Missouri. For travelling Mrs. Wood wore a handsome West-al costume suit of peacock blue double knit wool.

The dress was designed along simple sheath lines. The tunic length coat featured a wide bone leather belt and a small stand up collar. Her elbow length kid gloves were bone/Her Mr. John Jr. satin hat matched her suit; the brim was stitched and the velvet band was ornamented with a peacock and emerald feather. Her accessories were black.

Following the ceremony—Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were hosts at a ers entwined with ivy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lacy of Fulton, Route 4. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Van Hoosier of Bristow, Indiana.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported chantilly lace, hand-clipped and fashioned over white slipper and fashioned over white slipper satin. The fitted bodice, which was fastened with tiny self-covered buttons featured a scalloped neckline. The floor-length skirt was clasped in front by lace roses. The back of the gown was fashioned with tiers which formed a chapel train. The long tapered sleeves came to points at the hands and were fastened with tiny self-covered buttons. Her tiered chapel-length veil of nylon illusion was caught to a hairband crown of pearls and crystal beads. Her bouquet was a cluster of white poinsettia, surrounded by stephanotis and white satin streamers which formed love knots holding red feathered carnations and tube roses.

Mrs. Bill Eddlemon of Jackson, Tenn. who served as matron of honor, was attired in a street length sheath dress of red velvet. Her crown of matching velvet was trimmed in seed pearls and was fashioned with a veil of matching illusion. She wore matching satin slippers and carried a long-stemmed red poinsettia.

Miss Betty Bowman, Chrisney, Indiana, Mrs. Jerry Price, Newtonville, Indiana, Miss Sue Van Hoosier, Bristow, Indiana, and Miss Mary Ann Simpson of Cayce served as bridesmaids. They wore red and green velvet dresses fashioned identical to that of the matron of honor. They all carried long-stemmed red poinsettias. Little Miss Brenda Carol Fleming, cousin of the bride served as flower girl. She was dressed in red velvet trimmed with white lace and wore a headpiece identical to the bridesmaids.

Mrs. C. E. Underwood of Union City, Tennessee, organist and Miss Annette Bizwell presented a program of nuptial music. Miss Bizwell sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer". The traditional

SOCIAL SECURITY

Department of Information

There are many self-employed people who list their occupation as "odd jobs" or "handyman". This is a handy old expression that has been applied to some persons who do not work regularly and do not follow any specific line of work. Sometimes these persons perform menial tasks in and around the community where they live, such as lawn mowing, firing furnaces, performing small carpenter and repair jobs, domestic service such as washing windows and other household tasks. Since they consider themselves unskilled and unclassified, they refer to themselves as performing "odd jobs" or "handyman".

There are no jobs, in our opinion, that could be classified as "odd". Certainly these services are important to the employer for his comfort and convenience. It is honest and honorable work. These persons are generally known for the services which they perform and although they do not have any investment in tools or equipment, they are rendering a service for which they are paid.

Every person who works is either employed or self-employed. The person who works on a regular hourly wage basis is generally considered as an employee, especially when his employment is for weeks, months or years. But the short term employee over whom the employer exercises little or no control except to tell him the end result which he desires is self-employed.

The law requires that any person who is self-employed and who has net earnings of $400 or more in any taxable year must file social security tax returns and pay social security tax.

Persons who do various types of work, for which they receive a small amount of pay for each individual job, should keep accurate and complete records of all their income and expenses so that they may be certain at the end of the year whether or not they have had $400 net earnings.

Additional information may be obtained at the social security office.

As a self-employed farmer you enjoy a number of rights under the provision of the Social Security Act. You and your family are protected against loss of income brought about by old age, disability, and death.

In addition to these rights, you also have certain obligations under the Social Security Act as an employer. The most important of these obligations is to report the wages you pay to your farm employees so that they can get the same protection you are enjoying.

Not all farm employees are covered by Social Security. However, any employee to whom you pay at least $150 in cash wages during the year, or any employee who works for you at least 20 days during the year (regardless of total earnings) must be reported. You should file these reports with the Internal Revenue Service at the end of each year. As an employer there are four things you should do:

1. Whenever a new employee starts to work for you, copy his name and Social Security number directly from his Social Security card.
2. Keep an accurate record of the amount you pay each employee during the year and the number of days he works for you. Be sure to include only the cash wages you pay—not wages in kind, such as board and room.

3. If you have not already done so, get an employer's identification number from your local Internal Revenue Office by filing a Form SS-4 available at any Internal Revenue Office.
4. Report once a year to Internal Revenue the wages paid to any employee who either earned $150 in cash wages or who worked for you for at least 20 days during the year and was paid on a time basis, i.e., by the hour or day. You withhold from your employee's pay 3 1-8 percent of his wages, add another 3 1-8 percent as the employer's share of the tax, and send it with your report

Public Assistance Aid

In December Is $37,409

Fulton County's public assistance recipients received $37,409 in aid last month through the State Department of Economic Security, Commissioner Earle V. Powell has announced.

The needy aged received a total of $20,697 in November, families receiving aid to dependent children $11,746, the needy blind $175, and the permanently and totally disabled $4,332.

Statewide payments in November totaled nearly $5.6 million and went to more than 144,000 needy Kentuckians, Powell said.

Average payments in three of the four categories declined slightly in November after nearly all recipients received substantial increases in October.

The decreases ranged from 15 cents in the aid to dependent children category to three cents in old age assistance. Average payments to the needy blind increased 16 cents.

Soviets Retreat

And Santa Wins

After unsuccessful efforts to keep Christmas from being celebrated as a Christian holiday, the Communist regimes of Russia and the countries of Eastern Europe have recently shown a more tolerant attitude toward traditional observances. Father Christmas, the Russian Santa, is back again, having refused to become Father Winter, the name Communists tried to give him.

Another gifts bringer in Russia is a legendary old woman called Babuska (grandmother). Legend says she mis-directed the Magi when they asked the way to Bethlehem. She repented, and to atone she went about the world on Christmas Eve, looking for the Christ Child and distributing gifts to children.

Kentucky's death rate from tuberculosis is nearly double the national average.

UK PROFESSOR CITES OLDER FOLKS' NEEDS

Active places must be found in society for the elderly and retired. So says Dr. Earl Kauffman, University of Kentucky recreation specialist who also heads the UK-sponsored Council on the Aging. Since the early 1900's, Dr. Kauffman points out, the life span of Americans has increased from 48 years to 72 and still is rising. A man who retires at 65 and lives until he is 80 has over 50,000 leisure hours ahead of him, Kauffman says, citing the need for these hours to be busy and active rather than spent "rocking on the front porch."

CAYCE NEWS

By Mrs. Clarice Bondurant

Everyone enjoyed the beautiful manger scene and decorated Christmas tree on the school grounds. Santa was there Monday giving gifts to all the children.

The members of the Cayce Methodist Church had their annual Christmas dinner and tree at the church Saturday night, December 22. Everyone had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bondurant, Maurice Carr, Mrs. Clara Carr and Mrs. Frankie McClellan were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lum McClellan in Hickman.

Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Simpson and Mary Ann were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Levine, Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Simpson and Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gabbery and Freddie.

Christmas Day dinner guests of Mrs. Daisie Bondurant and Clarice were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burnette, Jr. and Mrs. Malcolm Inman. Afternoon guests were Mrs. Pattie Mae Burnette, Mrs. Bob Covington and Mary Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bondurant and Mrs. Lou Bondurant and Camille.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bondurant and Maurice Carr were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Bondurant and Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Bradshaw, Minna, Donna and Debbie, and Mrs. J. B. Inman visited Mrs. Daisie Bondurant Saturday afternoon.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wade and Andy and Mrs. Edna Alexander for Christmas were Mrs. Ethel Oliver and Lynette of Memphis, Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Baker of Memphis and Kenny Lane Wade of Lexington.

Thursday guests of Mrs. Daisie Bondurant and Clarice were Rev. and Mrs. Cecil C. Burnette and David and Mrs. Pattie Mae Burnette.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and family of Arthur, Illinois spent the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith in.

Everyone is glad Mr. Jim Ammons is able to return home after being in the Murray Hospital for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Ammons and Sue spent Christmas in Murray with Dr. and Mrs. Roy Ammons and family.

A large number of friends and relatives attended the wedding of Miss Jerilyn Colley and Kenny Lowe Wade Sunday afternoon at the Oak Grove Church of Christ near Fulton. Those attending from Memphis were Mrs. Ethel Oliver, Miss Lynette Oliver, Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Baker, Myra Lynn and John Miles Bennett.

The last few days have been nice, but cold. The cold doesn't hurt so bad when the sun shines.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates had as guests Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Zell Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Singleton and son, of Memphis, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Singleton and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Boaz House visited the Tremor Rickmans Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Moore called in the Oliver Taylor home one night last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Ruddle were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vadie Floyd.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matthews and Larry were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Work and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Cunningham and children.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor called on Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brann Sunday afternoon. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brann, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuqua, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Brann, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Brann and Rev. and Mrs. Norman Crittenden.

Mr. and Mrs. John Yates and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates visited Mr. and Mrs. Willie Yates of Mayfield, Sunday. Other guests were Rev. and Mrs. Billie Yates and children and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Downs and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Moore and Mrs. Joe Taylor were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Dobson Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire had as guests Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. Elson McGuire and Johnnie and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jones and children of Fulton.

Bill Matthews came home from the hospital one day last week and is recuperating nicely.

Mrs. Alma Boulton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Alderice and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnal Lowery, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lowery and Mrs. Jerry Gossum are leaving Tuesday for Florida to visit friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates had as Sunday visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Downs and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Yates, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lowery and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lowery and boys.

Sunday guests of the Bill Matthews were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Coltharpe and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor.

W. K. Blalock who is well known in this vicinity, is a patient in a St. Louis hospital. He had surgery one day last week and is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elson McGuire and boys, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yates were visitors in the Zell Singleton home Sunday night.

Well Known Negro Found Dead In Car

Ocie Tharp, 79-year-old Negro, was found dead in a parked car at the lower end of Vine Street on Friday morning, December 21. Tharp, an uncle of Cal Tharp, employee of Jones Coal and Concrete, was found by his wife.

According to the Fulton County Coroner, Donald Chaney, "death was due to natural causes".

Chief of Police Jean Smith said that Tharp and his family had come in about 4:30 a. m. on Friday morning and they had left him in the car asleep. When they went to wake him, they found him dead.

Get Well wishes are extended to Mrs. Buton Lassiter for a soon complete recovery. She has been in bed for several days suffering from a lame limb. We hope she will very quickly recover. Mrs. Lassiter is under the care of Dr. Willis of Dresden.

Mr. Minnie Vincent is a patient in the Jones Clinic where he is under treatment. Every good wish is extended for a speedy gain to health.

Rev. James Holt filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 A. M. and the evening service held at the usual hour preceded by the Baptist Training Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones and children, Freddie Ray and Edna Marie, will leave this week for Akron, Ohio, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mathis of this village.

All over this area, much tobacco was classed and stripped last week, and is now ready for market when air-cured sales begin January 3. Much of the dark-fired remains hanging in barns at this writing for moisture is not sufficient for handling this week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lassiter and daughter, Jacqueline, will leave this week for Akron, Ohio after spending the holidays here with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buton Lassiter and Mr. and Mrs. Mansel Wright, Dresden route.

Our locality was saddened and deeply grieved last week on Christmas Day when Mrs. Lee Peery, 63, suddenly expired at her home in Dukedom. Death was attributed to a heart seizure. She is survived by her grief-stricken husband, one daughter, Mrs. J. T. Puckett, one granddaughter, Paula Puckett, a brother, Mr. Wade Glisson of Dresden, one nephew and one niece. Mrs. Peery's passing has removed one of our best beloved Christian ladies and she will be missed by a wide circle of sorrowing friends.

Mrs. James McClure was hostess to the Young People and Intermediate classes of the New Salem Church Sunday School last Friday night at her home in District No. 13. A nice time was enjoyed by all in the McClure home and gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Kenneth Cherry and Miss Janice Hawks are teachers of these classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Artell Vincent and children, Debbie and Kevin, of Akron, Ohio, arrived this weekend to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vincent near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ford of Paris, Tennessee were here at this farm several days last week and visited all friends in this area. Rev. James Holt filled his regular appointment at New Salem Church last Sunday for the morning services. The evening service was a Christmas program after which gifts were exchanged from a beautifully lighted Christmas tree.

Your writer spent several days this past week in the home of her brother, Buton Lassiter and Mrs. Lassiter.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward whose marriage took place December 29. Mrs. Ward, the former Joy Vincent, is a junior at MSC and Bob is a senior.

SPORTS WHIRL

By

This past week the only action in the hardwood that involved the Twin Cities' teams took place at two annual Christmas tournaments. The Fulton Bulldogs and the South Fulton Red Devils were invited to participate in the Paducah Tilghman and the Knights of Columbus Christmas tournaments.

TILGHMAN TOURNAMENT

At Paducah the Tilghman Bulldogs were victorious in the championship game by handing the rival St. Mary's Academy a 58-50 defeat. In the consolation game powerful Fulton came through with a 95-78 victory over tournament favored Lowes.

FHS-LONE OAK

Great rebounding ability provided the Bulldogs with a victory over Lone Oak in their first game of the tournament. Despite Lone Oak's attempt to play a possession type ball the first quarter, the Bulldogs came in, and once they pulled ahead, forced Lone Oak to run and shoot with them. Lone Oak led at the finish of the first quarter 3-1; however, Fulton gained a 13-11 half-time advantage.

When Fulton returned to the floor after the half, they pulled out and led the rest of the game. Because of the Bulldogs' rebounding ability they held the ball the majority of the time. Fulton led by 10 points at the end of the third quarter and finished the game with a 57-36 victory.

FHS-ST. MARY'S

In the semi-finals the Bulldogs exhibited cold playing against a surprising St. Mary's. The Knights edged ahead 13-7 in the first quarter and never gave the Bulldogs a chance to catch up. Fulton was able to get within three points of the Knights on four occasions; however, St. Mary's always came back to re-establish a comfortable margin.

St. Mary's led at the end of every quarter. The Bulldogs seemed to finally come to life in the fourth quarter, but it proved a desperate attempt. Don Burnette scored all of his 14 points in this eight-minute segment. Kenneth Allen was the top scorer for Fulton with 15 points, as the Bulldogs fell to the Knights by a 58-0 score.

FHS OVER LOWES

In the consolation game the powerful Bulldogs demonstrated tournament-winning potential as they whipped last year's tourney champions and tourney-favored Lowes. On this second day of the tournament Lowes lost as many games as they had lost in their season this year. The Bulldogs edged ahead in the beginning and at the end of the first quarter they held a 13 point lead, 32-19. In the second period Lowes closed the gap to five points before Fulton pulled away with a 47-38 half-time lead.

Don Burnette and Johnny Covington led the Fulton attack with 2 and 26 points, respectively. Fulton did a lot of hitting for a hooting percentage of 43, while Lowes also showed a sharp shooting eye with a 44 per cent effort.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

In the opening game of the Knights of Columbus tournament at Memphis, South Fulton lost to powerful Kingsbury team by a 9-45 score. This was the 11th straight victory for the Kingsbury team. The top scorers for the winners were Cochran and Butler with 17 and 18 points respectively. Layburn Peeples was high man for the Red Devils with 14 points, while David Brann had nine points and Gary Isbell and Gene Hardy each had seven points.

SFH OVER CATHOLIC

The Red Devils defeated Catholic in the first consolation game on Friday. The thrilling overtime game was close all the way with Catholic leading 8-7 at the finish of the first quarter.

At the half South Fulton led 7-16; however, Catholic was able to tie the game 50-50 as the final whistle blew. The Red Devils made three points to Catholic's two as they won by a 53-52 margin. Three South Fulton scorers came into the double figures. Gary Isbell led with 15 points, while Gene Hardy and Clayburn Peeples had 13 and 11 respectively.

In the third game of the tournament...

you are in a hurry for a meal, picnics, tourists on the road etc. As to our plans for our present building, we do not know exactly what we will do ourselves. We have several things in mind.

"We might expand our gift business or some other business that will go along with our present operations. Frankly we have been too busy during the holidays to give it much thought. I hope this answers most of the questions people have been wondering about. The folks in Fulton and this area have certainly supported us in all our endeavors. We believe they will like our new place and we will certainly try to do the best job that we can."

town for the holidays, so he just ups and comes home. We are grateful for the unusually designed ear-rings he gave us as a Christmas gift and memento of Vietnam with, of all things a design of the Democratic party's rooster engraved on them. Would you think that Paul had them made special for his friends in Western Kentucky? WE think so, for he had a sack full of blue and white ones.

Dora Ann Gamboe of Winchester, Ky. enjoyed a huge portion of Fulton's hospitality over the holidays when she visited in the home of the Frank Bradys. Home for the holidays too, was Tommy Brady, who is teaching at Okolona, near Louisville. We had the pleasure of a chat with these two nice young people and looks like both of them will be back in the area for the summer holidays. Hope so!

Shirley and Billy Carr of Louisville also made everybody happy by making their holiday trip home to visit with the home folks. They never stay long enough, but they manage to get in a lot of visiting, for which everybody is happy.

Mrs. Ruth Cloys of far off Los Angeles asks us to send you her sincere thanks for all the birthday and Christmas cards sent her on the occasion of both events. And to her we wish her the glad tidings of the season for every day of the year.

LINDSEYS ARE HOSTS!

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lindsey were host and hostess to the annual Christmas party enjoyed by employees of the local Piggy-Wiggy Store. The party enjoyed a delicious meal served at the Park Terrace Restaurant.

SCHOOL SUPPORT—

Instruction Wendell Butler, discussing the increasing cost of school operations, told the group that to continue the State's Minimum Foundation Program for schools at its present level for the next biennium will cost an additional $20 million.

He said the increased funds will be needed to provide for growth, higher salaries for teachers, and transportation costs.

SERVICE NOTES

USS INDEPENDENT—Bobby J. Waggoner, interior communications electrician second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Waggoner of Route 2, Wingo, Ky., while aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence, served with the United States quarantine force in the Caribbean. The quarantine force was under the command of Vice Admiral Alfred G. Ward, USN. The Independence is commanded by Captain Leroy V. Swanson, USN.

The quarantine force was under the command of Vice Admiral Alfred G. Ward, USN. The Independence is commanded by Captain Leroy V. Swanson, USN.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

On Friday night of this week the Bulldogs will be hosts to a tough team from Wingo. Earlier this season these teams met and Fulton escaped with a 50-39 victory.

Also on Friday night the Red Devils and Devilettes will play a powerful Martin team on their own floor.

COUNTY UNIT—

"Experienced proved, however, that not once during that 12 years, was the State called on to use the fund to assure payment of the Social Security taxes," Combs stated.

"Meanwhile, the money was permitted to rest with the State treasurer without use except for one short period when some of the funds were invested," he said.

The interest earned on that investment totaled $10,226.11. This will be transferred to a contribution account and used as a type of revolving fund.

"I am very happy to be able to authorize the return of these funds to the local units," Combs said. "I see no reason why the money should be allowed to remain in Frankfort any longer when it can be put to good use by these city and county governments, boards of education, libraries, soil conservation districts and others who must contribute."

"The additional savings, made possible by the waiver of Social Security administrative costs for the next fiscal year, will allow these local government units to make many needed improvements in their operations next year," the Governor said.

Each local unit will be refunded the amount of money it contributed for taxes. Refunds range from $23,901 for the City of Louisville to $3.30 for the City of Upton. Of the 623 local units, 419 will receive more than $100, and 41 of those will receive more than $1,000.
