Weakley County Farm Bureau Picnic July 14

The National Farm Bureau Federation has accomplished much for the farmers of America in the past years. The power and influence of the National Organization is measured by the individual states and what each county is doing. Weakley County is one of the leading agricultural counties of Tennessee, and for this reason, should have a larger membership in the FARM BUREAU. Not one of the six hundred members should fail to get at least one new member if he would only try. Let's adopt the "Try Method" from now until July 14 in order that your neighbor and friend can attend the big July 14 Picnic. If you fail to have a membership agreement for him to sign, bring him on to Martin and he can sign up down there. The following is the Menu:

Barbecue, Goat and Pork
Hot Sauce at your own order
Tomatoes Pickles Slaw
Bread fresh from the bakery
Pepsi-Cola Coca-Cola

Do not fail to hear Ex-Senator Pope and Mrs. Todd speak as there is really a great treat in store for you. Ex-Senator Pope has had close contact with the Farm Bureau for many years, and is a warm friend of President O'Neal. Mrs. Todd is one of the outstanding speakers in the state.

BARLAND MERRYMAN RECEIVES WINGS

Garland Vay Merryman of 302 Taylor St., Fulton, Ky., has joined the world's most powerful air force as a bomber pilot. On June 27th he received his Army Air Forces silver wings and commission as 2nd Lieutenant in the impressive graduation ceremony of this twin-engine advanced school of the Central Training Command.

To Lt. Merryman graduation meant the termination of ten months of the world's most thorough military flight training, and the realization that, fledgling airman no longer, he may now become an integral part of the Allied forces seeking to liberate an enslaved world. As a qualified big ship pilot his war role will become an ever-increasing important one in the historic events still to occur.

SOUTH AND WEST DEMAND PARITY IN FREIGHT RATES

Agitation for the equalization of freight rates is demanding more attention in Washington, as freight rate parity with the East was advocated before the Interstate Commerce Commission Monday as a means of helping the West build up a postwar industry based on conversion of surplus farm commodities to plastics and other chemical products.

H. Emerson Kokjer of Lincoln, Neb., deputy state attorney general, joined in the arguments for extension of the Eastern rate basis on manufactured goods to the West and South.

Just as have spokesmen from the South, Kokjer denied a desire to deprive the East of any of its manufacturing facilities by moving such plants to his area.

Striking Truckers Ordered To Resume Work By The WPB

After about one week of a sit-down strike, about 300 truck drivers and helpers of the Southeastern Truck Line, Inc., including 23 employees of the local office, were ordered to return to work last Saturday by the War Labor Board. But up to Thursday of this week, the strikers had not returned to work.

The strike is not for higher wages, it is said, but dissension arose between two unions when the truckers became involved in a new contract.

Meanwhile, with transportation a major problem during these war times, freight with some of it perishable is tied up at various points along the Southeastern routes.

The WPB investigation was held in Nashville, and after the hearing the striking men were ordered to return to work, according to a telegram received here. Officials of the Southeastern had no comment to make on the next step to be taken.

MRS. CHARLES KEATON WINS SPEAKING CONTEST

Mrs. Charles Keaton, Fulton County, won first place in the annual public speaking contest sponsored by the Associated Women of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, with a sparkling delivery on the subject "New Horizons," held during the summer meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Farm Bureau in Louisville.

The prize to the first place winner is an all-expense trip to the southern regional conference of the American Farm Bureau Federation which will be held July 31 to August 3 in Black Mountain, North Carolina. There Mrs. Keaton will compete with winners from other states for a position in the national contest to be held in December during the organization's annual convention. Both she and Mr. Keaton will go to North Carolina.

In her winning speech, replete with many home-spun witticisms, Mrs. Keaton, brought the need for world-wide peace. She pointed out that in order to obtain world-wide peace there must be peace within nations and within people, and that if people would live their lives on Christian principles, peace would naturally follow.

Local Farmers Are Aiding Food Production

Recently, the editor made a trip around to some of the farm homes near Fulton, and found that farmers of this vicinity are contributing materially to the food production program in connection with the war effort. They have a job to do, and know it and are doing the best they can with what they have, and the labor available. It is doubted if any other group is doing a better job than what our American farmers are doing.

Around this vicinity there are a number of fine dairies. Herman Sams, who used to operate a service station in Fulton, now has a modern dairy, and a splendid dairy herd. Several nice orchards are located in this area, including those of Carl Hastings, the Blue Wing Orchard, and Paul DeMyer. This year a group of farmers have organized a greenwrap tomato co-operatives and a lot of tomatoes are being grown for this market.

There is an abundance of wheat this season, as can be testified by the trucks and wagons coming into Fulton to unload at the local mill on State Line. It is said that the wheat crop is far superior to that of last year.

There is a diversified program of food production in this vicinity, and farmers are alert to the job they have to do. They are to be commended for their efforts in the production of food and "win the war" program.

MAKE CANDIDATES SHOW COLOR

It is time for the citizens of the United States to realize they are approaching one of the most critical national elections in the history of our nation. Basic principles are involved which affect the continuation of our constitutional form of government. They are in no way connected with Republican or Democratic partisan issues. The war our boys are fighting is non-partisan, for the purpose of enlarging liberty and opportunity for all the peoples of the world.

For more than a decade, Republican and Democratic politicians here at home have been promoting so-called "emergency measures" which have bit by bit been restricting the individual in many phases of his daily life. The necessities of war have accelerated this movement, and now it is becoming more evident each day that many bureaucrats in both parties, who have gained a liking for government controls exercised over the individual, are "processing" the people through publicity and propaganda and utopian proposals at government expense, to extend centralized government control permanently or as far as possible into the postwar era.

Anyone who wants to read, can see a deadly parallel between this sugar-coated process and the one which engulfed European peoples and made them slaves to an official aristocracy. How often do you hear a candidate for political office come out and unequivocally praise the United States, its constitutional form of government, the liberties its people enjoy, the luxuries and necessities that have been delivered to them by our industries in a measure exceeding that enjoyed by any other nation? Too many candidates for public office assume that our philosophy of government and private enterprise have outlived their usefulness; that they must be curbed, changed and controlled; that government must become the dominant factor in our daily lives and that we must ape the teachings of some foreign nation that has brought nothing but misery and disaster to its people.

This process must be reversed. The people must demand men in public office who are proud of the American system. Men who do not give it lip service one minute and in the next breath propose measures that would restrict individual opportunity. The United States was built on the principle of a government being best which governs best; on the principle that public officials are the servants, not the masters of the people; on the principle that the government confine itself to the functions of governing and not enter into activities which compete with the livelihood of the citizens which it taxes. These are basic ideals. They are what our boys are fighting for. Labor loses its independence when government goes into business. The business man loses his independence. The boy in school loses his future opportunity. When the government becomes the master, the people become the slaves.

These are fundamental issues on which every candidate for public office on any party ticket should be forced to express himself. In a hundred ways, warning flags are flying to arouse our people to the inroads that are being attempted on American liberty. As war measures, we will accept any hardships and restrictions necessary to bring victory. But now, as never before, we must safeguard our future by rejecting proposals and candidates that insidiously undermine the ground on which individual liberty and opportunity stand in this nation. You can't accept state socialism, even in small doses, and retain your independence. In the coming postwar era, our people must be the master not the servants of our government. Never in our history was this issue of such paramount importance as in the coming election.

NATIONAL AWARD FOR KENTUCKY UTILITIES' MIDGET PUBLICATION

"Kentucky Utilities News," miniature newspaper distributed monthly with electric service bills to some 115,000 customers by Kentucky Utilities Company, has been judged best publication of its kind put out by any utility company in this country.

The national award certificate was presented to a company representative at the twenty-third annual convention of the Public Utilities Advertising Association of the Advertising Federation of America, in Chicago, June 6-8. Judgment was made on 1943 issues of the paper, technically known as an envelope stuffer. Scores of companies throughout the country participated.

Twenty-one nationally known men in the publishing, advertising and printing fields composed the board of judges. It included Lawrence F. Hurley, editor Nation's Business; Leroy W. Herron, advertising director Washington Evening Star; Prof. W. L. Schram, director School of Journalism, University of Ohio; and W. J. Krebs, president Potts-Turnbull Advertising Co., Kansas City, Mo.

"Kentucky Utilities News" has been published for more than two years. Company officials said this week that much credit for the qualities which won the award is due to customer suggestions regarding contents and improvements.

"Our miniature newspaper seems to be the most practical means of telling our customers, first, how to assist the war program by properly caring or electrical equipment and, second, how to use their electrical service and appliances most efficiently and economically for convenience, comfort, health and saving labor," said Floyd Fairman, director of customer service. "We keenly appreciate customer interest in the publication and hope they keep on sending us suggestions."

● SAFETYGRAMS

Here are a few tips to parents: If you have small children, do not allow them to stand up in an automobile while it is moving. A sudden stop and throw them against the windshield, doors, or one of the seats.

Hospitals can cite examples of severe head injuries, as well as broken arms, where children have been allowed to stand up in a moving automobile.

Another caution be sure the doors of our car are locked to prevent children from falling out. Newspapers frequently report accidents of this type, and usually they are serious accidents with occasionally a fatality.

Another—do not allow motor to run while you "stop in for just a minute" when small children are in the car.

And last but not least—Stop and Think—Safety.

RECIFE OF THE WEEK

A meat loaf is a good summertime dish, for it can be served hot or cold and is equally tempting at dinner or supper. It is also convenient to have on hand for sandwiches. A tasty combination of smoked ham and lean pork is a real treat.

Ham Loaf

Mix crumbs, sugar cloves and eggs together. Add milk and ground meat and beat well. Bake in a loaf pan in a moderate oven for an hour. Food specialists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture, and Home Economics point out that the loaf should hold its shape, but it must not be too stiff or it will dry when done. For a variation, tomato soup may be added. Leave out the sugar and cloves, then add a half cup each of tomato soup and milk. Over the loaf pour a half cup of tomato soup.

Menu: Ham loaf, new potatoes in cream sauce, seven minute cabbage, tossed green vegetable salad, corn sticks and butter, and berries and cream.

Whether ration points are on or off, it's smart business to fill your shelves with home canned foods.

In times like these, feed is too scarce to give cull hens—except to get them fat enough to eat or sell. June is the month to start the mower in pastures to kill weeds and keep desirable plants from heading out and becoming tough.

For the first time in 1943, dairying became the leading source of farm income in Tennessee with a gross value—sales plus home consumption—of $67,054,000.

Mid-June should be a busy planting season in the garden. There is still time to put in butterbeans, pole snap beans, late corn, collards, sweet potatoes, and other old favorites.

Livestock numbers must be kept in balance with the feed in prospect. It is now a good time to cull poor producing animals to conserve feed and take advantage of favorable prices.

That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disturbed Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

... and readers in 225,000 Courier-Journal homes chuckle gleefully as he "mugs" notables in the news

GEORGE JOSEPH... The Courier-Journal's nationally famous editorial cartoonist and caricaturist, lives in a world of laughter. He laughs... you laugh, and even the "oh-so-important-victim" laughs. Proof of this is found in files of treasured letters from Washington Cabinet Members, state and local personalities good-humoredly begging for George's originals of them.

Known to his colleagues as the man with the blackened forefinger, George used this very digit to perfect a flexible airbrush technique far superior to the usual stencil method. His sketches have been reproduced in leading publications in America and England. Working directly from photographs, our left-handed adventurer with an airbrush tickles the funnybone in the anatomy of art.

If you wonder how he dreams up such droll and amusing caricatures, you should watch George make faces... both ways. His impersonations from Hitler to Donald Duck, are complete with dialect and sound effects. This 210 pounds of "good humor man" blames his wife's arful Syrian cookery for his size, but continues to eat of tasty Mihabia Malfroof with Mhumsa sauce over it. Because of two very flat feet, George got a flat-footed rejection from the Army.

The man who signs his sketches "Joseph" came to The Courier-Journal in 1937 from two years' study, and one of teaching, under the famous Paul Placske, cartoonist at Louisville Art Academy. Remember the dog cover on Roto in April? The United States Marines are using this Joseph cartoon as a national poster to recruit boys for war service.

Laugh with Joseph and you laugh with the world that searches for his funny faces in

NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE

Weakley County Farm Bureau Picnic July 14

The National Farm Bureau Federation has accomplished much for the farmers of America in the past years. The power and influence of the National Organization is measured by the individual states and what each county is doing. Weakley County is one of the leading agricultural counties of Tennessee, and for this reason, should have a larger membership in the FARM BUREAU. Not one of the six hundred members should fail to get at least one new member if he would only try. Let's adopt the "Try Method" from now until July 14 in order that your neighbor and friend can attend the big July 14 Picnic. If you fail to have a membership agreement for him to sign, bring him on to Martin and he can sign up down there. The following is the Menu:

Barbecue, Goat and Pork
Hot Sauce at your own order
Tomatoes Pickles Slaw
Bread fresh from the bakery
Pepsi-Cola Coca-Cola

Do not fail to hear Ex-Senator Pope and Mrs. Todd speak as there is really a great treat in store for you. Ex-Senator Pope has had close contact with the Farm Bureau for many years, and is a warm friend of President O'Neal. Mrs. Todd is one of the outstanding speakers in the state.

BARLAND MERRYMAN RECEIVES WINGS

Garland Vay Merryman of 302 Taylor St., Fulton, Ky., has joined the world's most powerful air force as a bomber pilot. On June 27th he received his Army Air Forces silver wings and commission as 2nd Lieutenant in the impressive graduation ceremony of this twin-engine advanced school of the Central Training Command.

To Lt. Merryman graduation meant the termination of ten months of the world's most thorough military flight training, and the realization that, fledging airman no longer, he may now become an integral part of the Allied forces seeking to liberate an enslaved world. As a qualified big ship pilot his war role will become an ever-increasing important one in the historic events still to occur.

SOUTH AND WEST DEMAND PARITY IN FREIGHT RATES

Agitation for the equalization of freight rates is demanding more attention in Washington, as freight rate parity with the East was advocated before the Interstate Commerce Commission Monday as a means of helping the West build up a postwar industry based on conversion of surplus farm commodities to plastics and other chemical products.

H. Emerson Kokjer of Lincoln, Neb., deputy state attorney general, joined in the arguments for extension of the Eastern rate basis on manufactured goods to the West and South.

Just as have spokesmen from the South, Kokjer denied a desire to deprive the East of any of its manufacturing facilities by moving such plants to his area.

Striking Truckers Ordered To Resume Work By The WPB

After about one week of a sit-down strike, about 300 truck drivers and helpers of the Southeastern Truck Line, Inc., including 23 employees of the local office, were ordered to return to work last Saturday by the War Labor Board. But up to Thursday of this week, the strikers had not returned to work.

The strike is not for higher wages, it is said, but dissension arose between two unions when the truckers became involved in a new contract.

Meanwhile, with transportation a major problem during these war times, freight with some of it perishable is tied up at various points along the Southeastern routes.

The WPB investigation was held in Nashville, and after the hearing the striking men were ordered to return to work, according to a telegram received here. Officials of the Southeastern had no comment to make on the next step to be taken.

MRS. CHARLES KEATON WINS SPEAKING CONTEST

Mrs. Charles Keaton, Fulton County, won first place in the annual public speaking contest sponsored by the Associated Women of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, with a sparkling delivery on the subject "New Horizons," held during the summer meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Farm Bureau in Louisville.

There Mrs. Keaton will compete with winners from other states for a position in the national contest to be held in December during the organization's annual convention. Both she and Mr. Keaton will go to North Carolina.

In her winning speech, replete with many home-spun witticisms, Mrs. Keaton, brought the need for world-wide peace. She pointed out that in order to obtain world-wide peace there must be peace within nations and within people, and that if people would live their lives on Christian principles, peace would naturally follow.

Local Farmers Are Aiding Food Production

Recently, the editor made a trip around to some of the farm homes near Fulton, and found that farmers of this vicinity are contributing materially to the food production program in connection with the war effort. They have a job to do, and know it and are doing the best they can with what they have, and the labor available. It is doubted if any other group is doing a better job than what our American farmers are doing.

Around this vicinity there are a number of fine dairies. Herman Sams, who used to operate a service station in Fulton, now has a modern dairy, and a splendid dairy herd. Several nice orchards are located in this area, including those of Carl Hastings, the Blue Wing Orchard, and Paul DeMyer. This year a group of farmers have organized a greenwrap tomato co-operatives and a lot of tomatoes are being grown for this market.

There is an abundance of wheat this season, as can be testified by the trucks and wagons coming into Fulton to unload at the local mill on State Line. It is said that the wheat crop is far superior to that of last year.

There is a diversified program of food production in this vicinity, and farmers are alert to the job they have to do. They are to be commended for their efforts in the production of food and "win the war" program.

MAKE CANDIDATES SHOW COLOR

It is time for the citizens of the United States to realize they are approaching one of the most critical national elections in the history of our nation. Basic principles are involved which affect the continuation of our constitutional form of government. They are in no way connected with Republican or Democratic partisan issues. The war our boys are fighting is non-partisan, for the purpose of enlarging liberty and opportunity for all the peoples of the world.

For more than a decade, Republican and Democratic politicians here at home have been promoting so-called "emergency measures" which have bit by bit been restricting the individual in many phases of his daily life. The necessities of war have accelerated this movement, and now it is becoming more evident each day that many bureaucrats in both parties, who have gained a liking for government controls exercised over the individual, are "processing" the people through publicity and propaganda and utopian proposals at government expense, to extend centralized government control permanently or as far as possible into the postwar era.

Anyone who wants to read, can see a deadly parallel between this sugar-coated process and the one which engulfed European peoples and made them slaves to an official aristocracy. How often do you hear a candidate for political office come out and unequivocally praise the United States, its constitutional form of government, the liberties its people enjoy, the luxuries and necessities that have been delivered to them by our industries in a measure exceeding that enjoyed by any other nation? Too many candidates for public office assume that our philosophy of government and private enterprise have outlived their usefulness; that they must be curbed, changed and controlled; that government must become the dominant factor in our daily lives and that we must ape the teachings of some foreign nation that has brought nothing but misery and disaster to its people.

This process must be reversed. The people must demand men in public office who are proud of the American system. Men who do not give it lip service one minute and in the next breath propose measures that would restrict individual opportunity.

The United States was built on the principle of a government being best which governs best, on the principle that public officials are the servants, not the masters of the people; on the principle that government confine itself to the functions of governing and not enter into activities which compete with the livelihood of the citizens which it taxes. These are basic ideals. They are what our boys are fighting for. Labor loses its independence when government goes into business. The business man loses his independence. The boy in school loses his future opportunity. When the government becomes the master, the people become the slaves.

These are fundamental issues on which every candidate for public office on any party ticket should be forced to express himself. In a hundred ways, warning flags are flying to arouse our people to the inroads that are being attempted on American liberty. As war measures, we will accept any hardships and restrictions necessary to bring victory. But now, as never before, we must safeguard our future by rejecting proposals and candidates that insidiously undermine the ground on which individual liberty and opportunity stand in this nation. You can't accept state socialism, even in small doses, and retain your independence. In the coming postwar era, our people must be the master not the servants of our government. Never in our history was this issue of such paramount importance as in the coming election.

NATIONAL AWARD FOR KENTUCKY UTILITIES' MIDGET PUBLICATION

"Kentucky Utilities News," miniature newspaper distributed monthly with electric service bills to some 115,000 customers by Kentucky Utilities Company, has been judged best publication of its kind put out by any utility company in this country.

The national award certificate was presented to a company representative at the twenty-third annual convention of the Public Utilities Advertising Association of the Advertising Federation of America, in Chicago, June 6-8. Judgment was made on 1943 issues of the paper, technically known as an envelope stuffer. Scores of companies throughout the country participated.

Twenty-one nationally known men in the publishing, advertising and printing fields composed the board of judges. It included Lawrence F. Hurley, editor Nation's Business; Leroy W. Herron, advertising director Washington Evening Star; Prof. W. L. Schram, director School of Journalism, University of Ohio; and W. J. Krebs, president Potts-Turnbull Advertising Co., Kansas City, Mo.

"Kentucky Utilities News" has been published for more than two years. Company officials said this week that much credit for the qualities which won the award is due to customer suggestions regarding contents and improvements.

"Our miniature newspaper seems to be the most practical means of telling our customers, first, how to assist the war program by properly caring or electrical equipment and, second, how to use their electrical service and appliances most efficiently and economically for convenience, comfort, health and saving labor," said Floyd Fairman, director of customer service. "We keenly appreciate customer interest in the publication and hope they keep on sending us suggestions."

• SAFETYGRAMS

Here are a few tips to parents: If you have small children, do not allow them to stand up in an automobile while it is moving. A sudden stop and throw them against the windshield, doors, or one of the seats.

Hospitals can cite examples of severe head injuries, as well as broken arms, where children have been allowed to stand up in a moving automobile.

Another caution—be sure the doors of our car are locked to prevent children from falling out. Newspapers frequently report accidents of this type, and usually they are serious accidents with occasionally a fatality.

Another—do not allow motor to run while you "stop in for just a minute" when small children are in the car.

And last but not least—Stop and Think—Safety.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

A meat loaf is a good summer-time dish, for it can be served hot or cold and is equally tempting at dinner or supper. It is also convenient to have on hand for sandwiches. A tasty combination of smoked ham and lean pork is a real treat.

Ham Loaf

Mix crumbs, sugar cloves and eggs together. Add milk and ground meat and beat well. Bake in a loaf pan in a moderate oven for an hour. Food specialists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture, and Home Economics point out that the loaf should hold its shape, but it must not be too stiff or it will dry when done. For a variation, tomato soup may be added. Leave out the sugar and cloves, then add a half cup each of tomato soup and milk. Over the loaf pour a half cup of tomato soup.

Menu: Ham loaf, new potatoes in cream sauce, seven minute cabbage, tossed green vegetable salad, corn sticks and butter, and berries and cream.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its busy and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

... and readers in 225,000 Courier-Journal homes chuckle gleefully as he "mugs" notables in the news

GEORGE JOSEPH... The Courier-Journal's nationally famous editorial cartoonist and caricaturist, lives in a world of laughter. He laughs... you laugh, and even the "oh-so-important-victim" laughs. Proof of this is found in files of treasured letters from Washington Cabinet Members, state and local personalities good-humoredly begging for George's originals of them.

Known to his colleagues as the man with the blackened forefinger, George used this very digit to perfect a flexible airbrush technique far superior to the usual stencil method. His sketches have been reproduced in leading publications in America and England. Working directly from photographs, our left-handed adventurer with an airbrush tackles the funnybone in the anatomy of art.

If you wonder how he dreams up such droll and amusing caricatures, you should watch George make faces... both ways. His impersonations from Hitler to Donald Duck, are complete with dialect and sound effects. This 210 pounds of "good humor man" blames his wife's arful Syrian cookery for his size, but continues to eat of tasty Mihabio Mulfoof with Mjumsa sauce over it. Because of two very flat feet, George got a flat-footed rejection from the Army.

The man who signs his sketches "Joseph" came to The Courier-Journal in 1937 from two years' study, and one of teaching, under the famous Paul Plascinke, cartoonist at Louisville Art Academy. Remember the dog cover on Roto in April? The United States Marines are using this Joseph cartoon as a national poster to recruit doves for war service.

Laugh with Joseph and you laugh with the world that searches for his funny faces in

The subject of the Lesson-Session is to be read in Church or Christian Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, July 9, is "Sacrament," and the Golden Text is: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Psalms 51:10.) Among the citations are the following passages:

"And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover" (Mark 16:17-18.)

"Christians claim to be his followers, but do they follow him in the way that he commanded? Retonga Surprised
Her Says Mrs. Willard

She Had Tried So Many Medicines She Had About Lost Faith In Them, She States. Feels More Like Old Self Now Than In Years.

"Retonga is the best medicine I ever used," happily declares Mrs. Charles Willard, well known resident of Fulton.

MRS. CHARLES WILLARD
resident of 1022 State Street, N. W., Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. Willard is a splendid neighbor and a staunch church woman. Discussing Retonga.

"I got to feeling so badly run-down and nervous that it was hard for me to keep going. Everything I ate seemed to sour in my stomach and make me feel miserable with gas and indigestion. I got so I did not care to eat, my nerves were on edge all the time, and I got up mornings feeling so fogged out that I dreaded to face the day's work. I have had to fight sluggish elimination for years, and I felt toxic continually.

The prompt relief Retonga gave me was surprising. My distress from indigestion is relieved, I eat with a splendid appetite and I sleep peacefully. My nerves are now calm, and even that terrible sluggish elimination is relieved. I feel more like my old self than in years, and I can never praise Retonga enough."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, loss of appetite in sufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and sluggish elimination. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

Retailers who have been dreaming of full shelves and of the day when they can say "Yes Mam, we have it," are now warned that after the war they are going to be faced with a tremendous advertising and sales promotion job to move the goods that will be available to them. According to a recent report of the National Retail Dry Goods Association production of civilian goods at the end of the war probably will be 30 to 35 cents higher than it was before Pearl Harbor. Nor is that all. It is anticipated also that retailers throughout the country will be asked soon by the government for specialized help in the disposal of surplus government goods ranging from socks to stoves. Even though many retailers now need merchandise for their shelves they are hesitant about making long-term commitments, which may be an indication of confidence on their part that the war will soon be over. However, the important point about the situation is that the sooner retailers make definite plans for ways and means to move a much larger volume of goods after the war the more assured we will be of full employment in the important consumer goods industries.

PRODUCTION OF HEAVY GUNS INCREASED—On the heels of the powerful Allied invasion of the continent comes word that home-front factories are stepping up the production of the heavy guns needed on the second front. Down in Hammond, Indiana, Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, which has turned out more than a dozen such war weapons as tanks, motors, big shells and a variety of heavy guns, disclosed that it is stepping up sharply the production of the kind of heavy artillery that helped establish the beachhead in France and began blasting a victorious path to Berlin. On some of these weapons it was reported that the rate of manufacture would be increased 100 per cent. This acceleration of heavy artillery production, it is understood, was ordered by the Army following recent experience in combat areas, particularly in Italy. It is a sign that our boys in Europe are going to get all the tools they need to end the war as quickly as possible.

THINGS TO COME — Fireproof ironing board covers, which will eliminate hot iron scorching during telephone "chats," burnproof pot and pan holders and even cigarette-proof upholstery covers, to be made after the war from a new, light asbestos fabric now used to protect military fire fighters. For those who want private planes after the war there will be dozens of models of planes to choose from, ranging in price from $1,500 to $25,000 and up.

Just because Alice is no expert at pressing garments is no reason why Kitty should make fun of her. It's smart to be thrifty.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The men overseas don't mince any words about the way they want to find this country when they come marching home... do they, Judge?"

"They certainly don't, Herb...and they shouldn't. They're doing a masterful job fighting over there to protect our rights and they have good license to expect us to protect theirs back here at home. One thing they're mighty clear on is their stand on prohibition."

"And they're 100% right, Judge, because I know how I felt when I came home after the last war—only to learn that we had been over there fighting for so impractical a thing as Prohibition."

among American service men in England by the British Institute of Public Opinion. When hundreds of men were asked point blank how they would vote on prohibition, 85% of them stated, in unmistakable terms, that they would vote against it. There's no doubt about it, Herb...the men overseas don't want any action taken on that subject while they're away."

Behind The Scenes In American Business

Retailers who have been dreaming of full shelves end of the day when they can say "Yes Mam, we have it," are now warned that after the war they are going to be faced with a tremendous advertising and sales promotion job to move the goods that will be available to them. According to a recent report of the National Retail Dry Goods Association production of civilian goods at the end of the war probably will be 30 to 35 cents higher than it was before Pearl Harbor. Nor is that all. It is anticipated also that retailers throughout the country will be asked soon by the government for specialized help in the disposal of surplus government goods ranging from socks to stoves. Even though many retailers now need merchandise for their shelves they are hesitant about making long-term commitments, which may be an indication of confidence on their part that the war will soon be over. However, the important point about the situation is that the sooner retailers make definite plans for ways and means to move a much larger volume of goods after the war the more assured we will be of full employment in the important consumer goods industries.

PRODUCTION OF HEAVY GUNS INCREASED—On the heels of the powerful Allied invasion of the continent comes word that home-front factories are stepping up the production of the heavy guns needed on the second front. Down in Hammond, Indiana, Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, which has turned out more than a dozen such war weapons as tanks, motors, big shells and a variety of heavy guns, disclosed that it is stepping up sharply the production of the kind of heavy artillery that helped establish the beachhead in France and began blasting a victorious path to Berlin. On some of these weapons it was reported that the rate of manufacture would be increased 100 per cent. This acceleration of heavy artillery production, it is understood, was ordered by the Army following recent experience in combat areas, particularly in Italy. It is a sign that our boys in Europe are going to get all the tools they need to end the war as quickly as possible.

THINGS TO COME — Fireproof ironing board covers, which will eliminate hot iron scorching during telephone "chats," burnproof pot and pan holders and even cigarette-proof upholstery covers, to be made after the war from a new, light asbestos fabric now used to protect military fire fighters. . . . For those who want private planes after the war there will be dozens of models of planes to choose from, ranging in price from $1,500 to $25,000 and

'Darling! How thrifty! You pressed it yourself!'

Just because Alice is no expert at pressing garments is no reason why Kitty should make fun of her. It's smart to be thrifty.

However, pressing your own clothes is definitely not thrifty. Unless you have the proper equipment and an expert knowledge of the clothes pressing art, it's possible to press the style right out of garments. Tomorrow, get thrifty by sending your clothes to us and letting us press new smartness into them.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The men overseas don't mince any words about the way they want to find this country when they come marching home... do they, Judge?"

"They certainly don't, Herb... and they shouldn't. They're doing a masterful job fighting over there to protect our rights and they have good license to expect us to protect theirs back here at home. One thing they're mighty clear on is their stand on prohibition."

"Their position on that subject was stated very emphatically in a poll taken recently among American service men in England by the British Institute of Public Opinion. When hundreds of men were asked point blank how they would vote on prohibition, 85% of them stated, in unmistakable terms, that they would vote against it. There's no doubt about it, Herb... the men overseas don't want any action taken on that subject while they're away."

"And they're 100% right, Judge, because I know how I felt when I came home after the last war—only to learn that we had been over there fighting for so impractical a thing as Prohibition."

BULLETIN

HOW THE NEW DRAFT REGULATIONS AFFECT PULPWOOD CUTTERS

PULPWOOD CUTTING is one of the 35 essential activities listed by the War Manpower Commission and designated by Selective Service Headquarters as a guide for local draft boards in considering applications for occupational deferments.

If you are of draft age and are cutting pulpwood, you may be entitled to deferment providing you are—

1. Regularly engaged in cutting pulpwood and in 26-38 age group or
2. An essential farm worker of draft age, 18 through 37, and cut pulpwood part-time or
3. Now 4-F but cut pulpwood regularly and wish occupational classification of 2-A or 2-B as an essential war worker.

Your local Selective Service Board is the judge of your essentiality, subject to review by your State Selective Service Director, and will treat you squarely. But you should know that the government recognizes pulpwood cutting as an essential activity.
