City Parking Meter Proposal Brings Protest From Business And Professional Men Of City

Petition Brought To Attention Of Mayor, Council

SAID "DETRIMENTAL"

The first formal protest against the proposed installation of parking meters in Fulton was brought before the regular meeting of the city council last night by a group of about 25 businessmen representing all signers of an anti-meter petition.

This petition, addressed to the mayor and city council, stated, "We, the undersigned citizens (professional and business men) desire to express our disapproval of the installation of parking meters in the city of Fulton, which they were to be retained permanently."

The city attorney then was instructed to prepare an ordinance and contract for the purchase and installation of the meters, which he has done. However, the ordinance was not read at last night's council meeting since Mayor T. B. Boas was called to his home by the illness of his wife, and the council was adjourned shortly thereafter. A called meeting will be held soon, probably next week, for further discussion of the parking meter question.

One of the signers of the anti-meter petition, Joe Hall of Ford Clothing Co., commented under his signature, "I do favor some improvement in the parking conditions. We need them badly in Fulton."

Proponents of the meters point to the added revenue they would bring into the city treasury, and believe the meters would eliminate many of the city's parking problems. The system of parallel parking down the center of Lake street would be abolished of necessity should the meters be installed, and other changes in the present parking regulations would be effected.

Opponents of the meters feel that their installation would be detrimental to their businesses because, they argue, residents of nearby communities will resent being charged for parking space when they come to Fulton on business or professional matters. Also at last night's meeting of the council Harry Wayne Shupe asked the city to grant him a franchise to operate a city bus, and the city attorney was instructed to prepare this and other necessary legal documents. Mr. Shupe already has secured his state license to operate a local bus line.

The council voted to furnish a letter of endorsement and introduction to W. O. Branham, representing a pest exterminating firm, who proposes to rid downtown buildings of rats, mice and roaches. Costs will be paid by merchants contracting with him for service, not by the city of Fulton.

The mayor was authorized to pay the city's street bond judgment debt of $8150.

Nov. 9 Is MSC Homecoming

2nd Post-War Reunion Will See Hundreds Of Old Grads On Campus

Murray, Ky.—Murray State College's second post-war Homecoming will be celebrated next Saturday, November 9, when the Thoroughbreds will be hosts to the invading Marshall College Thundering Herd from Huntington, W. Va.

Hundreds of former students are expected to attend this annual event and to see the "Breds" in quest of their second victory of the current season.

In fourteen Homecoming games played by the Bluebreds, Murray has won 8, lost 4, and tied 1. Last year the Thoroughbreds defeated Illinois Wesleyan 33-13 on a rain soaked field with Johnny Underwood, Tom Covington, Sam Jones, Dale McDaniel, and Tommy Walker scoring touchdowns.

A huge pep rally and bonfire will be staged adjacent to Cutchin Stadium on Friday night preceding the Murray-Marshall clash.

"Chalk Talks" Well Received

Church of Christ Hears First In Week's Series Of Revival Messages

It was not "blue Monday" at the Church of Christ last night, according to some who were present. An exceptionally good crowd for Monday was present for the first service of this series of meetings.

Mr. Garner, visiting evangelist from Madison, Tenn., lived up to his reputation by holding the attention of the audience with his clever "chalk drawings," and made appropriate comments which will long be remembered by his audience.

The subject for tonight is one that is of interest to many people everywhere, "Sinning Against the Holy Spirit." Evangelist Eugene Pitts of Union City was the speaker. Mr. Pitts is conducting radio programs over station WENK each morning at 9:00 o'clock. Those of us who have heard his broadcasts are expected to avail themselves of this opportunity of becoming better acquainted with him.

It's Easy To See Who Wears Pants In This Family

Chicago, Nov. 5 (AP)—Robert Earl Hughes, 20 years old, Baylis, Ill., youth who weighs 710 pounds and finds it difficult to get clothes his size, is going to get a new pair of trousers, for free.

Henry Reither, North Judson, Ind., clothing company official, sent the trousers to the Chicago Tribune and requested they be forwarded to Hughes. He said "the world's largest trousers" were made by his company after he saw picture of Hughes and noted his trousers were too small.

Hughes specified the dimensions—110 inch waist; 128 inch seat; 62-inch thigh and 46-inch knee. Reither said 4 1/2 yards of 60-inch material were used in the trousers.

He landed in Marseilles, France, October 2, 1944 after 22 months in Africa, and later helped establish the first service force headquarters east of the Rhine at Mannheim, Germany, April 1, 1945. This headquarters serviced the Sixth Army group, which included the American Seventh Army, the French First Army and numerous smaller units. Then Major Hornbeak went to Bremenhaven with the 17th Major Port Command.

He left Germany October 10 and arrived in New York October 19.

Clerk Confesses Stealing $40,000; Defies Prosecutors

San Francisco, Nov. 5 (AP)—A 46-year-old former post-office clerk has confessed in full, postal inspectors said today, that he stole $40,000 in cash from a mail sack back in 1937.

But, they explained that he cannot be prosecuted for the theft because no indictment was returned within three-year period specified by the Statute of Limitations.

However, U. S. treasury officials were interested in the case because the man failed to pay income tax on the $40,000.

Eight Jew Leaders Receive Freedom

Jerusalem, Nov. 5 (AP)—Eight Jewish leaders, including Moshe Shertok, head of the Jewish Agency's Political Department, were released from the Latrun Detention Camp today, the Palestine government announced.

At the same time the government announced that 128 Jews held in the Rafiah Detention Camp since the June 29 roundup by British troops and Palestine police would be released soon.

Also granted amnesty were 20 Arabs who had been convicted of political offenses. The government said that all curfew restrictions would be lifted in Palestine tonight.

Party Chiefs Voice Victory Hopes At Polls

Brown, Cooper Margin Guessed At About 30,000

CANDIDATES LISTED

By The Associated Press. Russell Jones, state campaign chairman and fellow townsman of Cooper, predicted the Republican senatorial aspirant would command a margin of 30,000 votes.

Brown's campaign chieftain, Judge Carroll M. Redford of Glasgow, forecast Brown's triumph by 27,500 votes.

Redford added that he was confident of victory by the state's eight Democratic representatives.

Jones voiced belief that four, possibly five, Republican congressional candidates will defeat the incumbent Democrats. Observers saw a close race between incumbent Emmett O'Neal, Louisville Democrat, and Thurston B. Morton, milling firm executive; the GOP's candidate in the third district. Several other races are expected to be close.

Another district race was in the state's third appellate district, where incumbent Judge Clyde B. Latimer sought election to a full eight-year term on the Court of Appeals. Opposing the Glasgow Republican was Joseph C. Polin, Springfield Democrat.

Candidates in the other major races:

House, First District—Noble J. Gregory (x) of Mayfield, Democrat; William E. Porter of Hopkinsville, Republican; and Joseph C. Freeland of Paducah, Socialist.

House, Second District—Earl C. Clements (x) of Morganfield, Democrat; and Thomas W. Hines of Bowling Green, Republican.

House, Fourth District—Frank L. Clift (x) of Lebanon, Democrat; and Don W. Dye, Sr., of Lebanon, Republican.

House, Fifth District—Brent Spence (x) of Fort Thomas, Democrat; and Marion W. Moore of Covington, Republican.

House, Sixth District—Virgil Chapman (x) of Paris, Democrat; and Ray Schmauch of Ashland, Republican.

House, Eighth District—Joe B. Bates (x) of Greenup, Democrat; and Ray Schmauch of Ashland, Republican.

New York PM Will Take Advertising In Future

New York, Nov. 5 (AP)—The newspaper PM announced Monday it would begin accepting paid advertising, a move following the resignation of its Editor, Ralph Ingersoll, because of the switch in policy after six years.

Marshall Field, president and publisher, in announcing the change, said that John E. Lewis, now managing editor, would succeed Ingersoll.

Mayfield Gridders Working On Pass Defense For Thursday Nite

Mayfield grid mentors Henry Cochran and "Moose" Zachem are stressing pass defense this week as the Cardinals prepare for an invasion by the Fulton Bulldogs Thursday night.

The game was changed from Friday night in order to let Purchase football followers see both the Fulton-Mayfield tilt and the Murray-Hopkinsville battle at Murray Friday evening.

The most frequently heard cry from the Mayfield grid camp this season has concerned the astonishingly light weight of the current crop of head-bullers. Other schools have been led to believe that the Cardinals practiced in the lee of tall buildings when there was a stiff wind blowing.

However, the featherweight Redbirds have lost only to Murray and Hopkinsville, rated the two top teams in the W. K. C. this year, and have beaten Martin, Paris, Princeton and Madisonville.

Comparative scores with the two common foes give Fulton a slight advantage on paper. Fulton beat Martin 30-0 while Mayfield defeated the Panthers 24-0.

Labor Picture Still Clouded

Election Day Brings No Vote For Settlement Of TWA Pilots, UMW Strikes

By The Associated Press

Election day brought no votes of settlement in the country's continuing labor disputes although there appeared some hope of agreement in the 10-day-old strike by AFL pilots against Trans World Airline.

As negotiations in the soft coal dispute were in recess today in Washington the top labor meeting in the capital involved representatives of the striking pilots and the TWA who renewed efforts to draft an arbitration agreement which would end the walkout.

Both sides yesterday accepted in principle the proposal of Federal Mediator Frank P. Douglas that the dispute be submitted to an arbitration panel. But Douglas and company and union lawyers, after a lengthy conference, hit a stumbling block on whether the arbitration agreement should cover TWA's proposal that pilots on its international runs be paid a flat salary instead of by base pay, mileage and hours formula, as at present.

Douglas planned to confer with TWA President Jack Frye before meeting again with attorneys for the striking AFL pilots. The union's 1,400 pilots struck Oct. 21 in a dispute over wages and some 15,000 workers have been made idle by the walkout.

Mrs. James Hogan Dies In Memphis Hospital Today

Word was received at present time that Mrs. James E. Hogan of Fulton died at John Cooper Hospital in Memphis at 3:55 this afternoon. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ford of Fulton and Union City.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Kentucky Today

Louisville—The OPA will intervene before the Kentucky public service commission on the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company's request for increased telephone rates in Louisville, city law Director Gilbert H. Burnett said yesterday. The hearing is scheduled for Thursday at Frankfort. Burnett said it had not been determined whether the OPA actually will oppose the rates sought or file a brief as friend of the court.

Williamston—The Grant county board of education announced that T. W. Skinner, 55-year-old teacher awaiting trial on a charge of shooting to kill in connection with the wounding of three of his pupils, has been granted a year's leave of absence. A warrant charges Skinner with firing a shotgun at the trio who were placing "tic-tacs" on a window of Skinner's home.

Doyle Copeland, Marine veteran of the Pacific theatre, sparks the Cardinal attack from his post at quarterback. Chief ground-gainer this season has been left halfback Jack Hefflin, whose speed and deception had Hopkinsville considerably disturbed during their tangle with Mayfield.

Both elevens came out of their last week's game with no serious injuries and should be in their best form Thursday night. For Fulton, Pat Boaz is expected to be back in the lineup at right half, with the rest of the first string starting off as usual. Boaz is to have played against Greenfield, but the coaches decided not to take a chance on his being injured again before the Mayfield game.

Fulton's band and pep squad will accompany the team to Mayfield—if they can secure rides with Fulton fans. Those who will be to call Yewell Harrison at Fulton or Wilson Gantt at the high school.

In rainy weather, thousands observed what would have been his 67th birthday anniversary with a parade and simple service beside his crypt.

Unusually Big Vote Reported Throughout U. S., Kentucky, Possibly Record For An "Off" Year; Spokesmen For Both Parties Remain Confident

Senate, Seventh District Races Are Commanding Most Interest In States; GOP Counting On Big "Protest" Vote

Heavy Local Vote Appears Probable; Weather Is Ideal

While no final figures on the total vote cast in Fulton today were available at press-time, it appeared probable that the number of ballots might equal that recorded in any similar off-year election in the history of the county.

Threatening skies cleared away this morning and voters were greeted by a cool, crisp fall afternoon. Favorable weather conditions are indicative of a larger-than-average vote, which amounts to a larger vote for Democratic candidates throughout the First District.

Fulton county's votes will be counted officially at Hickman tonight. A representative of the Leader will get the results, precinct by precinct if possible, for tomorrow's edition. Tomorrow's Leader also will carry latest election returns from the state and nation as received up to 1 p. m. by the Associated Press.

Two Charged With Illegal Possession Of Sugar Stamps

Louisville, Nov. 5 (AP)—Federal agents announced the arrest of two Louisville men here today in connection with what the officers described as a sugar stamp bootlegging syndicate that has been operating in a dozen midwest states.

Agent William Kinnaird said the men had 937 sugar stamps in their possession. He identified the pair as Frank E. Buchanan, 34, and H. S. George, 33, both former taxicab drivers.

The men waited hearing when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Ray Kirchdorfer on charges of illegal acquisition and possession of federal ration stamps.

Kinnaird said the stamps were legal ones and were from North Dakota, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana and other midwest states. "Other arrests are expected now," said Kinnaird, adding, "We have been working on the case for months."

Philadelphia, Nov. 5 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Ernest Ulrich, who Detective Harry McCann reported had been tied by a rope to the rear of an automobile and forced to run behind it four blocks before he fell and was battered into unconsciousness, was reported "improved" today.

Meanwhile, four youths were held in $5,000 bond on charges of assault and battery by automobile following a preliminary hearing yesterday before Magistrate Joseph H. Rainey.

Rocky Mountain Area Has Only Bad Weather For Balloting Today

By The Associated Press

Heavy balloting in many big population centers pointed toward a possible record "off-year" vote today as Americans chose a new Congress in the first peacetime general elections in six years.

Election officials called the early turnout in Chicago "very heavy" although Illinois had neither governorship nor senatorial races.

In Ohio, it was "unusually heavy." In Michigan it was the same. Similar reports came from Pennsylvania, Kansas City, Mo., reported an exceptionally heavy early vote.

The first precinct to report was Pointe Aux Barques in Huron county, Michigan.

Twelve of the 13 eligible voters there cast straight Republican ballots, one a straight Democratic. The count from the precinct in 1944 was 14 Republican, six Democratic. In 1942, last off-year election, Republicans carried the precinct, 7-6.

Good Weather

For the country as a whole, fine fall weather encouraged a large vote. An exception was the Rocky Mountain area where one of the heaviest snowstorms in years moved in over the week-end. Despite the heat engendered and some contests, the forenoon balloting saw no major violence. In New York City's Harlem, a

GOP Hopes To Control House

Republicans Have Been Trying For Majority Since Loss In 1931

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—Today's election marks the eighth consecutive effort by the Republicans to regain control of the house of representatives which they lost to the Democrats in 1931.

The 1930 election whittled the Republican holdings to such a narrow margin that deaths and other vacancies prevented them from organizing the house in 1931, although they elected a majority in 1930.

In 1932, when Franklin D. Roosevelt swept into office, Republicans lost 97 house seats, and in the 1936 election their house holdings dropped to a low of 89 seats.

The GOP started on the comeback trail in 1938, picking up 90 seats. In 1942 they boosted their holdings to 209, only 13 less than the Democrats. They lost 19 seats two years ago, when the Roosevelt name again headed the Democratic ticket.

The 1932 election wrested senate control from the Republicans, and their seats in that body dwindled biennially to a low of 17 after the 1936 election. Republicans climbed back to 38 senate seats in 1942 and again in 1944.

If history runs true to form, the nation's voters will decide today—two years in advance—which political party is to take over the presidency in the 1948 elections.

Only once since the Civil War, and it was a quick then, has the party which won control of the house in an off-year election failed to put its candidate into the White House two years later.

This is an off-year election. The expectation that proved the rule was in 1876, when Democrats won the house. Two years later, Samuel Tilden, a Democrat, won a popular vote majority in the presidential race, but the election was thrown into the house when some southern electoral votes were challenged. A Republican, Rutherford B. Hayes, was seated as President.

Kupe, a Polynesian explorer of the Maori tribe, is credited by tradition with the discovery of New Zealand in 850.

At Louisville a vote about 120 per precinct was reported at 10:30, although enlargement of precincts, due to adoption of voting machines was acknowledged as being partly responsible for the large totals.

Republicans declared that the vote reflected a "protest" trend against the national administration, while Democrats said that the balloting was in their favor, being above the Republican state administration strength.

Chief interest centered in the senatorial race between John Sherman Cooper, Republican, and John Young Brown, Democrat.

May Makes Appearance

Swearing in, however, the both state and national attention was the Seventh District Congressional battle between Rep. A. J. May, Democratic incumbent, and W. Howes Meade, Republican.

At Prestonburg, May made his first public appearance since last July when he walked to the polling place with his son, Robert V. May, and cast his vote. He told friends who inquired that he felt "about ordinary." He has been confined to his home with a heart ailment.

His opponent, Meade, voted early in Paintsville and returned to his home to await results. The polls will be open until 4 p. m.

Eight other congressional districts also voted for representatives, but in one—the Ninth—the Republican incumbent, Rep. John M. Robinson of Barbourville, was unopposed in the traditionally Republican area. He is Kentucky's only Republican representative.

National Interest

The election merited national attention because of two factors. One was its impact on the question of whether the Democratic or Republican party dominates congress the next two years. The other was the publicity accorded May last summer when he was called upon to testify before the senate war profits committee investigating the Garson Munitions Combine.

May, who steers the important house military affairs committee, acknowledged aiding the combine but said he was moved by patriotic motives and did not profit financially.

Rival political camps were equally confident of victory for their respective candidates, but a close senatorial race was conceded.

Both Cooper and Brown made 11th hour appeals to the electorate, holding rallies in their respective home towns of Somerset and Lexington and elsewhere. Their campaigns carried them from one end of the state to the other.

The socialist candidate for the senate, W. A. Sandefur, is

Cub Scouting

Doesn't it seem strange that when we read constantly about badly adjusted "between" age children, that only a few ever think of the splendid opportunity Cubbing and Scouting gives to us. Let's spend a few hours a week doing something for them ourselves—not blaming all the misdeeds on the neighbors' children, but by joining with the neighbors in directing all the boys into healthy, wholesome, busy fun.

Any time parents worry about their boys is the time to question just how well they know them. And if they haven't the time to be a real part of their boys' fun, mischief, and experiments in living, they have missed one of the pleasantest excuses for having had children.

Let's have a bit more action and less talk of "what shall I do about my boy?" Let's stop looking around for some organization to train our boys for us. Let's spend a few hours a week doing something for them ourselves—not blaming all the misdeeds on the neighbors' children, but by joining with the neighbors in directing all the boys into healthy, wholesome, busy fun.

The Cubbing program is underway here, but needs your support. If you have a boy 9-10 or 11, give him a chance at Cubbing, and give him a break. Don't send him to the meeting—bring him—Frankfort State-Journal.

Patient Is Relieved

Chicago, Nov. 5—(AP)—Hyman Edelman, 67, a retired tailor, didn't recognize the two men who walked into the hospital room where he is a patient and greeted him cheerfully.

"Dave sent us," one of the visitors said. "Is there anything we can do for you. Don't worry about your bills."

Edelman, believing they were friends of his brother, David, told them he didn't need any help, and pointed to a small bag on his bedside table. As the men left one picked up the bag—which Edelman said contained $1,500.

He couldn't chase them. He is suffering from sore feet.

First Granite Hit In State Oil Well

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 5—(AP)—Granite has been struck for the first time in oil well drilling operations in Kentucky. Dr. W. R. Gilman, consultant geologist, announced yesterday.

Dr. Gilman said it was reported to him that "floating" granite was encountered at a depth of 3,900 feet in a Lincoln county well midway between Hustonville and McKenney on a farm owned by Arch Roy Speers. This means either boulder or sheets of granite, he explained.

India Making History

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

India is making imperishable history these days in her search for ways of implementing the independence which Britain has offered her, but one of the most striking developments is the spectacle of Hindu and Moslem leaders joining hands to plead with their peoples for cessation of the bloody communal disorders which have been sweeping Bengal and other parts of the country.

It would be hard to find enemies more bitter than the rank and file of the Moslems and the Hindus, who have been at each others' throats for centuries. Through long generations the feud was religious and racial, and when political consciousness arrived the great political parties unfortunately divided on those lines. Thus today the essence of the so-called political disorder is religious and racial—these two things being mainly synonymous in this case.

Tradition has had it that the Hindus and the Moslems never could be brought together. I first encountered this back in 1916 in India, and found the same belief still prevailing during a visit in 1942-3. Indeed so fierce was the hatred between the two religious groups that it took a lot of faith in human nature to challenge that tradition.

The British offer of dominion status in 1942 crashed on the rocks of the Hindu-Moslem controversy. And when early this year the new socialist government of England offered India independence, the project long was held up by the feud. The stalemate was broken only when the British resorted to the daringly arbitrary idea of establishing a provisional government and inviting both sides to come and run it.

Now we find the Hindu and Moslem leaders journeying together from new Delhi to Calcutta to make a joint appeal to communal rioters to cease their strife, which has cost more than 5,000 lives and injured some 13,320 in various parts of the country since July 1. The two Hindu leaders are none other than the famous Pandit Nehru, head of the new provisional government and former president of the all India congress (which is predominantly Hindu), and Sardar Patel, another congress chief. The others are Liaquat Ali Khan, secretary of the Moslem league, and Sardar Abdur Rab Nishtar, also a league official.

One swallow doesn't make a summer, and one incident of this sort doesn't solve India's problem—but it is an encouraging demonstration of at least temporary solidarity. It should be enough to convince even the most skeptical that the Hindus and Moslems can work together.

Louisville Flood Wall Project Has Steelman Nod

Washington, Nov. 5—(AP)—Construction of the Louisville, Ky., flood wall project by the war department today had the authorization of Reconstruction Director John R. Steelman.

Funds for the project were appropriated by congress in 1942. Steelman explained, but work was delayed because of the war. Subsequently the appropriation lapsed, but funds were reapportioned during the last session of congress.

The office of Col. B. B. Talley, district engineer at Louisville, reported it would be spring or summer before actual construction could be started even though $1,000,000 needed for the project was available for use immediately.

KENTUCKY VOTERS

Robards did not make an intensive campaign.

Makes Final Pledge

Brown, closing his campaign at Lexington, said Kentucky Democrats can return a party victory if they turn out at the polls.

"We never lost in Kentucky when the Democrats go to the polls," he asserted.

Cooper invited all in his audience at the Somerset rally who were opposed to regimentation to vote for him today. He accused the Democrats of creating an artificial prosperity, one he said was based on the blood of our fellow men and the heartaches of many.

Cooper ended his campaign at Berea last night following his appearance at Somerset, denouncing what he called the "controlled economy" practiced by the Democratic national administration.

The senatorial candidates are seeking the seat vacated by Base.

For A Big Time Abroad, Just Be Your Own Guide

By Hal Boyle
(Who has spent the last four years abroad.)

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—It might be that the best way to enjoy travel abroad is with your shoes off.

"Museum feet" becomes a holiday disease with the average vacationist because he falls victim to foreign guides who try to inflict ten centuries of culture on him in ten days.

Elmer J. Tourist goes overseas with the wistful hope of having a good time. Instead he gets caught in a travel mill that makes his trip a day and nightmare marathon of climbing monuments, walking through endless art galleries and moping mouselike among mouldy churches.

Why does he do it? Because he's afraid somebody will think him a lowbrow—which he really knows he is anyway.

So Elmer becomes an unhappy prisoner in a small flock of fellow Americans cheeping and chirping as their despotic guide shepherds them from one pigeon target to another. All he learns is what he reads in his guidebook: "St. Paul's church is a dignified edifice in Renaissance style and has an area of 59,700 square feet," it says here in small print.

Nuts to that! Be your own

Marco Polo.

Make a rule never to visit more than one church, one monument and one art gallery in any one country. These places are just cultural cemeteries with long staircases largely frequented by people who don't know what to do with themselves.

In most cases you can have more fun reading about them in your guidebook while lying in bed in your hotel room in your stocking feet. A cognac will help you through the dull descriptions.

Then, when you've finished reading how the people used to live, you can rise fresh and rested and set about seeing how they live now. And that will teach you more than hundred guided lectures.

You want to be where things are happening. If Pierre, the guide, tries to steer you to Napoleon's tomb—play hooky and take a walk along the left bank. Napoleon's tomb is France in mothballs. The left bank is France in ferment.

The Eiffel Tower, which looks like the Washington Monument with its clothes off, is worth a gander. But so is a French department store.

The best way to see a strange city is to hop a bus and ride around till you see a neighborhood that interests you and then bail out and give it the once-over up close.

As to eating and drinking:

If you can recognize a dish on the menu, order something else.

If the dinner at the next table speaks your own language, go to another restaurant.

If they serve you steak in a small, low-priced restaurant, don't whinny. The meat may neigh back at you.

Don't drink many "French 75's"—champagne with a cognac kicker—unless at home you enjoy mixing gin and buttermilk or bourbon and hair tonic.

You'll be sorry if you don't go to at least one nightclub and stir up your stomach with a once.

$17.50 bottle of green champagne. It's fun to be a sucker—

As for company, you are likely to find plenty in the bistros of Europe. In Paris, if a lady "drops the handkerchief" with you, don't address her as "Cheri" for at least twenty minutes.

The French girls like their men subtle.

Diplomats Eye Nation's Votes

U. S. Personnel Believe U. S. Foreign Policy Will Not Be Changed Soon

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Foreign diplomats deeply engrossed in the gigantic task of building world peace kept a sharp but discreetly silent watch on the American congressional elections today.

Persons familiar with the views of many delegations to the United Nations assembly and the council of foreign ministers reported a general belief that present foreign policies are sufficiently bipartisan to rule out any major changes. But there has been enough political controversy over the present American attitude toward Russia in particular to raise speculation about post-election trends in the conduct of American diplomacy.

The Big-Four foreign ministers moved into their second day's work on the Eastern European peace treaties amid mounting evidence that Russian Foreign Minister Molotov will stage a last ditch fight to gain special advantages for Yugoslavia at the Adriatic port of Trieste.

The U. N. assembly appeared to be headed for a wide open fight over selection of a permanent home. One report was that the Russians might reverse their former stand against a site in Western Europe to favor Geneva, old League of Nations headquarters, as a home. Word of this possibility follows an American move to have San Francisco and New York as well as Westchester county considered for the permanent headquarters.
