Five Fund Drive Begins With WFUL Radio Auction

A goal of $8000.00 was set at the organizational meeting of the Combined Five Fund Drive Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office to be divided between five groups that will sponsor the drive. At the same time, Mrs. Hendon Wright, long active in Fulton's civic, cultural and social life was named the general chairman of the project that got off to a good start on Wednesday morning.

At the organizational meeting Mrs. Robert Batts and Mrs. C. H. McDaniel were appointed joint chairmen of the finance committee.

Mrs. Wright made four committee appointments following her election to assist her in many special events. They are: Mrs. Don Henry, Hickman; Mrs. Robert Rudolph and Mrs. Nathan Wade, Fulton; and Mrs. C. D. Jones, South Fulton. Friendly Johnny Stayton did a fine job as

Note Book

Maybe you don't think I had a chilling experience this week. When I think of it I get frostbite right down to the tip of my toes. The truth of the matter is that I feel like an undressed eskimo right now. And on top of it all Paul was an eye witness to the tragedy.

As you well know we have a special rate on the News right now. Up until next Tuesday, January 15 (positively the last day) you can subscribe to the News in the 20-mile area of the city for just $2.00 for a whole year. Well, we have had some mighty fine response to the special. Each time I hear somebody up front giving in the order for a new subscription I sort of mosey up outside and talk with the new member of the family. I ask if they've ever read the paper; if they like it; what can we do to improve it. Usually, most generally, the people say they've been buying it on the newsstand, or a friend showed them one and they like it just fine. I take it all in. I rarely ask them WHAT they like about the paper. I just assume it's all of that GREAT (?????) writing I do and let it go at that. But to go on with the story.

Anybody who has ever worked at the News and who works here now, knows that press day is always a bad day for the Westphalings. Whenever we end the day with both of us alive, the staff just marks the calendar and says, "It's bound to come next week," speaking of course of the murder possibility. You see, I think that no matter what happens, we ought never to leave out one line of news, especially if it's "live" local news. When the advertising is more than anticipated for the number of pages we are to run, the advertising, of course, must take precedence and then I have to start curtailing some of my news-stories. Many an employee has heard me say: "01&$$&$$&$$" you ought to know that people want NEWS in a newspaper... they don't want a circular." With that Paul goes about his business and schedules the ads. I keep thinking that he's as crazy as can be, journalism degree and all.

This week it happened. A man came into the office to subscribe to the paper. It was 1:32 P. M. I was in my office typing. Paul got up and waited on the man. It was 1:34 P. M. I called to the man over my office wall. I told him we were glad he was going to be subscriber. He said that he had been buying it on the newsstand every week and taking it home. Paul kept on entering the subscription.

It was 1:36 p. m. I kept on typing. I didn't know the man's name. Then he started talking. "Yep," he says, "My wife and I come to Fulton every week-end to shop. The first thing we do is go to the drug store, or see Edmond Khouirle and buy a paper." It was 1:38 p. m. I answer from my office, again "over the wall." I tell him we appreciate it. Paul hands him his receipt. He asks the man's name. He was from Hickman County. Paul has caught on to my "what do you like about the paper bit," and tossed out the question to the Hickman resident.

Miss Him?

Fulton's annual radio auction opened Wednesday without the beloved and familiar chant of Colonel Charlie Burrow. Colonel Burrow was out of town for the opening, but his "All-Girl Band," his other co-workers and the entire listening audience are hoping that the day is not far off when "Mr. Radio Auction" will be on hand to assist his lieutenants, Johnny Stayton and Bill Gray.

Hickman Meeting To Explain Plan Of Area Program

An explanation of the Rural Redevelopment Program and how this new project can bring benefits to the area will be held in Hickman on January 17. The meeting will be held at the REA building in that city at 2:00 p. m. More than 65 civic leaders have been invited to attend.

Woodrow Coats, University of Kentucky Area Extension agent; Kenneth Grogan, ASCS Farmer Fieldman; W. B. Bryan, Area Conservationist of the SCS and others will be on hand to inform the public as to how this program can affect the immediate area. S. E. Holly, office manager of the Fulton County ASC office urges a large attendance. He also stated that a representative from each of the various organizations have a representative at the meeting.

TURNER ON TV!

His dad may not like it, but Kenneth E. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Z. Turner will appear on the Bob Hope Show next Wednesday night. Turner, stationed in Formosa will be seen in the audience scene of the Bob Hope Show when it staged a performance there during the holidays. The Turners own and manage Radio Station WFUL in Fulton.

Medical Society Resumes Plan For Sabin Vaccine

The Fulton County Medical Society announced plans today for a program of mass polio immunization for Fulton, utilizing the now approved Sabin Oral Vaccine. Complete immunization will require a series of 3 doses. The first dose will be offered January 27, the second March 3rd and the third April 7th. Dr. Bob Peterson, president of the medical society, said today. The vaccine will be offered to those from ages 3 months to 30 years, and will be in the form of a sweetened liquid, which will be available at two stations, Carr Elementary School and the Health Center from 1 to 6 P. M. on the above dates. Plans are being made for similar stations in Hickman.

To facilitate moving of traffic at the two feeding stations, parents should pre-register themselves and any member of the family who plans to take the vaccine, on forms which will be made available at school and the local banks.

The decision to use the Sabin Oral Vaccine is based on the fact that this vaccine has been sanctioned by both the Kentucky and United States Public Health Departments. Following 3 months of thorough investigation, the United States Public Health Service on December 20, 1962, approved the vaccine.

The Fulton County Medical Society, together with the State and Federal Health Departments urge all people between ages 3 months and 30 years even if they have had the Salk Vaccine to take the new vaccine.

A donation of 25c per dose is being asked, but no one will be refused. Outlying communities in Fulton County are urged to obtain the vaccine at either Fulton or Hickman.

Agronomy Specialist At Hickman On Friday

Shirley Phillips, Field Agent in Agronomy from the University of Kentucky, will be at the R. E. A. Building in Hickman next Friday, January 11th, at 1:30 p. m. to discuss new and improved production practices for corn, soybeans and small grain. Special emphasis will be given to chemical weed control and new improved varieties.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Veterans Aide Coming To Assist With Claims

B. D. Nisbet, a Contact Representative of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board will be present on January 18, 1963 at the American Legion Hall in Fulton, Kentucky to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will be present from 9:00 A. M. until 3:00 P. M.

Rice Objects To Five Dollar Bonus To City Employees; Wants Police Budget Cut In Half

Commissioner Sees End of Liquor Industry, Planning - Zoning Board

Fulton City Commissioner Bill Rice continued his mad search for the leaks in the municipality's water system at the regular meeting Monday night, while charging, indirectly, that most city employees should drink more of it. In objecting to an expenditure of $150 for a five dollar Christmas bonus to each of the city's 30 employees on the basis that the bonus was illegal, Rice said that he did not object to the amount of the gift because he stated "it wasn't enough to buy a fifth" (of Whiskey.) When told that there may be some question about the legality of the expenditure the Commissioner did not seem touched when he was advised that the small gift may have been the means for some families to enjoy a Christmas turkey. Rice retorted caustically, "most of them (the employees) bought a fifth anyhow." The expenditure was approved by Mayor DeMyer, and Commissioners Charles Robert Bennett and Clarence Moline. Rice and Bob McCain voted "no."

In a particularly "objectionable" mood Commissioner Rice also:

—Wanted to know if "there wasn't some kind of a 'horse swap' between the City of Fulton and the Graham Estate in settling a $2000 street improvement levy against the estate. (City Clerk Martha Smith explained that the Graham Estate agreed to let the City use the property as a street for public transportation in lieu of the City having to buy the right of way.)

—Insisted that the City Schools pay for their water consumption by meter reading instead of a flat rate. Said Rice: "They pay for their telephones and lights, don't they, why do we have to give them water?" (The schools pay a flat fee for water on a year round basis in compliance with an ordinance passed by a previous City Council. Mayor DeMyer explained that when the new sewage disposal system is put into effect the entire pattern of water billings and sewage assessments would be changed.) Following the explanation Commissioner Rice said: "Okay, we'll charge that to passing the buck again."

—Wanted to up the garbage disposal rate for Ferry-Morse Seed Company from $3516 a year to $4800. When told that the collection of the garbage at the plant had been vastly improved and economies effected Rice again retorted with: "Another buck passed."

—Wanted to cut the police Department budget from $30,000.00 to $15,000.00 He asked that the City Manager walk across the street (to South Fulton) "to see how it's done." When City Manager Robey attempted to explain that the City of Fulton had more businesses to protect: that both banks, the post-office and other public buildings were here, Mr. Rice shot back with: "If you're spending all that money to protect the whiskey interests I want you to know that people are ready to dry this town up." (The Commissioner was obviously referring to a local option election that might prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages in the city.)

Mr. Rice admitted that he knew nothing about operating a police department. (See advertisement on Page 7 of this issue.)

—Continued his drive to buy gasoline in bulk on the theory that it would save $1200.00 a year. He pointed out the alleged high cost of doing business with local service stations and indicated that the stations were deliberately overcharging the city for services rendered. (When Commissioner Bennett attempted to explain that the initial cost of reverting to bulk gasoline purchases would obliterate any saving Rice accused Bennett of being against the move. "Of course you're against it," Rice told Bennett, "you're in the business to sell to the City." The usually composed and pleasant Mr. Bennett flared up at the remark and reminded him that he (Bennett) was fully aware of the law that prohibits a city official from doing business with the city.)

—Castigated City Manager Robey for the condition of the water pipes behind Wade Furniture Company. An explanation of the progress made on the system failed to satisfy the belligerent Commissioner. Commissioner Moline offered some information in this connection regarding the rulings of the Planning and Zoning Commission, whereupon Mr. Rice shot back at Moline: "No need for any talk from you, boy, your Planning and Zoning Commission is on the way out." Rice offered no explanation of his remark.

—Objected to a three and one-half per cent increase in the salaries of city employees. Although most of the members of the board expressed their opinion as "not disapproving of the plan," they said they felt that this was not the proper time to put it into effect. Mayor DeMyer said, "The public is against a spending program and I think we should wait until we get our tax structure settled."

Commissioner Moline, who favored the plan, said, "The city employees have not had an increase in two years and the cost of living continues to rise. I think any plan of this type will pay dividends."

The motion to table the matter until the July meeting was made by Commissioner McCain, seconded by Commissioner Rice. The vote was 4-1, with only Commissioner Moline voting no.

—Continued his objection to the insurance coverage of municipal facilities. Rice said that $60,000.00 on the City Hall was out of reason and said that a facility in Country Club Courts was insured for $5000.00, and said he: "You couldn't burn the thing up if you put a blow torch to it." He accused the City of favoritism in placing its insurance business with "just two companies." (The City distributes its insurance business among all the city's agents, Mr. Robey told the News after the meeting.)

At the meeting the Commission also:

—Agreed to do more study on the pump station for the sewage disposal unit.

—Learned that complaints to the garbage department were almost non-existent since new methods for collection have been employed.

—Agreed that a rate reduction in the gas system was not advisable at this time.

—Passed an ordinance making it unlawful to throw trash and debris in the creek with a fine of $100.00 if apprehended.

—Heard a report that tax collections are good, with returns in from 96% of the property owners.

—Approved a $480.00 payment to Hemco Engineers for work on the sewage disposal unit.

Mrs. Mayme Stahr Drops Complaint In KU Action

Mrs. Mayme Stahr of Hickman, one of the five residents of that city who had joined Kentucky Utilities in an election-contest suit having to do with Hickman's purchase of the KU system there, has filed a motion asking that she be dropped as a party plaintiff to the action. In her motion Mrs. Stahr said that "she does not care and does not want to be a party plaintiff" in contesting the validity of the election last November when Hickman voters overwhelmingly chose to purchase the private utility. Mrs. Stahr was one of five residents who had joined Kentucky Utilities in filing the suit. Others are: Henry Halteman, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Hamby and Mrs. Mary Lee Mangold.

Meanwhile David R. Reed, a Paducah attorney has been named by the Court of Appeals to hear the suit instead of Judge Elvis J. Stahr, who was disqualified to sit in the case on a motion of KU, which swore that Stahr has a personal interest in the matter because he voted in the election.

Representing the plaintiffs in the suit is the law firm of Ogden, Brown, Robertson and Marshall of Louisville and James Warren of Fulton. The defense will be represented by attorneys Dee McNeil, James Amberg, John C. Bondurant and Lloyd C. Emery. It is expected that an early hearing of motions in the case will be set, perhaps this month.

Hickman is the last Kentucky city exempt from the federal law limiting Tennessee Valley Authority's service territory. T. V. A. has promised Hickman a low-cost power contract when it acquires the system.

Reed said at Paducah he will make a full effort to try the case as soon as possible since both sides have expressed an eagerness for an early trial.

Other defendants are the City of Hickman, the Electric Plant Board, Fulton County, the County Judge, the County clerk, members of the Board of Electric Commissioners, and the sheriff.

Mayfield Attorney Tipton Reed, To Oppose Roberts

Mayfield attorney L. M. Tipton Reed, announced and filed today as a candidate in the May 28 Democratic primary for the office of Commonwealth Attorney for the First Judicial District. The district is composed of Ballard, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves and Hickman counties.

Reed is a partner in the law firm of Martin, Neely and Reed, composed of attorneys Reed, Sam Boyd Neely and Carroll Hubbard, Jr.

Reed, 44, is a lifelong resident of Graves County and was born in Clear Springs. He is a graduate of Clear Springs High School, Murray State College and the University of Kentucky School of Law. While in law school he was selected as a member of the Kentucky Bar.

Kenneth Turner Guest Speaker

A very delicious lunch was enjoyed by the West Kentucky-Tennessee Chapter of Retired Civil Service Employees when they met on Tuesday, January 8 at the Travelers Inn Restaurant for their regular meeting.

Guest speaker was Kenneth Turner who spoke on how he would like to spend his older years in retirement. His speech was enjoyed by twenty-six members and four visitors who were Mr. and Mrs. Young from Jackson, Tennessee chapter, and Mrs. E. M. Jenkins and Mrs. Robert McCain, both of Fulton.

After the business meeting, the Chapter adjourned to hold the next meeting February 12 in Union City.

Maxwell McDade Board Chairman At Fulton Bank

The stockholders of the Fulton Bank met in regular annual session to elect directors for the ensuing year, and to transact any business that might come before the meeting. The following directors were elected: Maxwell McDade, Gilson D. Latta, Frank Beades, M. R. Jeffress, Harold D. Henderson, Jr. and W. S. Atkins.

The directors met following the Stockholders meeting and Maxwell McDade was elected chairman of the board; W. S. Atkins, President; Frank Beades, Vice President; M. R. Jeffress, Cashier; Harold D. Henderson, Jr., Ray Terrell and Kenneth Stanley, Assistant Cashiers; Mrs. Willette Kearney, Marjorie Holder, Bookkeepers; Dottie Mae Harrison, Mrs. Faye Stephens and Mrs. Mabel Bard as clerks.

The Fulton Bank enjoyed one of its best years. Its assets total more than four million dollars. The bank began operation in November, 1945.

CANDIDATES!

The government fails to convict Jimmy Hoffa. It begins to appear they're saving Hoffa for Bob Kennedy to run against in '68.

Two Members Added To Board At City National

At the annual stockholders meeting of the City National Bank held Monday at the bank, Arch Huddleston, prominent Fulton businessman and William F. Galtney of Jackson, Miss. were elected as new members of the Board of Directors. The other board members re-elected were, N. G. Cooke, L. H. Weeks, J. D. Davis, Clyde P. Williams, Jr., Parks Weeks, Dr. R. W. Bushart, and L. M. McBride.

N. G. Cooke was elected President and Chairman of the Board, L. M. McBride Executive Vice President and Cashier, Parks Weeks Vice President, Bertes J. Pigue, John Daniel and Mrs. Bonnie Asbell Assistant Cashiers. Kenneth Crews is manager of the Installment Loan Department, Larry Davis, Mrs. Catherine Meacham, Mrs. Nancy Earle, Mrs. Peggy Spragg are Tellers and Bookkeepers.

An excellent year was reported with assets of the bank as of January 1st totaling $4,875,092.10.

Ten - County Meet In Benton Planned For Ned Breathitt

A ten-county organization meeting for gubernatorial candidate Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt will be held at the Marshall County Courthouse in Benton Tuesday night, January 15.

County delegations are expected to come from Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, McCracken, Graves, Crittenden, Livingston and Calloway.

The principal speaker will be Breathitt. The organizational meeting, which is open to the public, will begin at 6 p. m. in the Marshall Circuit Courtroom.

Earlier that afternoon, a women's "get acquainted" coffee will be held from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. at the Kentucky Dam Village Inn in Gilbertsville. Present will be Miss Katherine Peden, Breathitt's state campaign chairwoman, and Breathitt. The coffee will be for all women in the ten-county area.

An Old Year Has Faded, A New One Begun, Yet The Pattern Of History Seems The Same

An old year has faded, making way for the dawn of a new one. It was an end and a beginning, inextricably linked, the one forming the threshold of the other. And the past, as it often does, cast its long reflection across the future as 1962 is done, 1963 begun. Millions of individuals are remembering days gone by and ponder the morrow against the backdrop of yesterday.

It is a mixed backdrop for America, but somehow not anymore confusing than scores of other years gone by.

How much does history change? How different is one year from another, one century from another? The historians can best give the answer to the questions, yet as one reads the news of one generation to another, the pattern appears inexorably the same.

For instance we read recently in a report from a noted columnist, in reviewing the past year, and contemplating the future, that except for a dateline history moves in cycles, with an uncanny sameness. For instance today the missiles and bombers are gone from Cuba, after the chilling hours of blockade, but the Communist powers that provided the weaponry still pushed its cause, and the Kremlin world still stands like a knife across the world.

The year gone by was a year of racial difficulties, of "freedom rides," of a lone student under armed guard at the University of Mississippi, of thalido mide and deformed babies, of Russian and American astronauts whirling around the world. These things made the headlines of 1962.

Yet look's back and let's look forward! Can we say that our forefathers "never had it so good" and that those of us living today are the victims of a new and modern world and the awful uncertainty of the future? Indeed, for those who have gone before us and for those who will come after us, there will always be an aura of uncertainty about tomorrow.

We make this crystal clear in publishing today an article handed to us by Bill Browning as we discussed the hazards of today, and the perils of tomorrow. So let's flashback into the pages of history to delve into the reaches of memory of those people who looked at the future more than 115 YEARS AGO

"The Awful Uncertainty of the Future"

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not in the lifetime of any man who reads this paper has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so dark and incalculable.

"In France the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. England and the British Empire is being sorely tried and exhausted in a social and economic struggle, with turmoil at home and uprising of her teeming millions in her far flung Empire.

"The United States is beset with racial, industrial and commercial chaos, drifting we know not where.

"Russia hangs like a storm cloud on the horizon of Europe—dark, menacing and foreboding.

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel indifference, which happily, no man pretends to feel in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles, no man can see the end . . ."

Parents Urged To Make New Concept Of TV Viewing Available To Children In The Home

"Breakthru" is a new concept in Christian Education for boys and girls. A series of thirteen 30-minute television programs, "Breakthru" deals with problem areas that concern boys and girls—basic honesty, the feelings of guilt, the meaning of death, etc. Aimed at nine to eleven year olds, the program will also appeal to both older and younger children. Each program begins with a drama, then "breaks" at a decision point for discussion among boys and girls of the nine to eleven age and an adult friend. After this, the drama concludes. Boys and girls in the discussion groups are from different locales and backgrounds. The "Breakthru" series was developed to help boys and girls realize a deeper understanding of themselves, their relationship to themselves, and to God.

There are many significant differences between "Breakthru" and previous attempts at television programming for children. "Breakthru" has been produced through the efforts of the Methodist Television Ministry after a five-year study and expenditure of $250,000 in an effort to make their children's programs relevant to television viewing experiences of the intended audience. Under supervision of the Methodist General Radio, Television, and Film Commission

KNOW YOUR STATE GOVERNMENT

(Note to Editor: This is the fifty-seventh in a series of articles on Kentucky's Economic progress written by Lieutenant Governor Wilson W. Wyatt, Chairman of Kentucky's Economic Development Commission.)

The beginning of the new year is traditionally the time to assess the progress made during the past twelve months. Over the next few weeks, as Chairman of the Economic Development Commission, I would like to report to you, the citizens of Kentucky, some of the outstanding achievements realized under your economic development program now going forward in the Commonwealth.

New records continue to be established with each year of the program's operation. For example, highway construction, so vital to bringing in new industry and expanding our growing tourist business, reached a new high in 1962. In this record year, work contracts totaling $157 million were awarded. This is an increase of $35 million over the previous record year of 1961.

Some 2,500 miles of roads and highways, new and improved, were placed under contract in 1962. That's 2,500 miles of roads and highways for farm-to-market use, for transporting our children to school, for the products of our new and expanded industries to travel over, and for the use of the million of tourists who are being attracted to our state by our new highways and our new $20 million state park program.

The United States Department of Commerce points out that for the first three quarters of 1962 Kentucky awarded contracts for work on more miles of road than any other state in the nation with the exception of Texas. This huge state, many times the size of Kentucky, exceeded our record total by only 50 miles.

At present, 237 miles of interstate and turnpike routes are open to traffic and another 231 miles are under construction. These 468 miles of multilane, divided highways represent 44 per cent - nearly half - of Kentucky's planned 1,061 miles of new super-highway.

In addition to the record number of miles placed under contract in 1962, Kentucky received national recognition for the most beautiful bridge of the year—the new Sherman Minton, double-deck structure between Louisville and New Albany, Indiana—and for Interstate 64 between Louisville and Frankfort which was named one of the 20 most beautiful in the country.

These record achievements point up the fact that for the first time in Kentucky's history a modern system of highways, interlaced with adequate connecting roads, is being constructed to serve all the citizens of the state. This new system of roads and highways will mean more dollars in the pockets of all our people.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

(Ky. Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week, Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan's Confederate cavalry division, made up mostly of Kentuckians, was resting at Smithville, Tenn., both men and horses having returned from Kentucky virtually exhausted by the hardships of what has ever since been called the "Christmas Raid."

The expedition, launched for the purpose of cutting the flow of supplies from Louisville to Major Gen. William S. Rosecrans's Union Army of the Cumberland and around Nashville, had been highly successful. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad, over which the supplies had been moving, had been made useless for some time to come. The two great wooden trestle works at Muldraugh's Hill had been burned. Each of them was 500 feet long. One was 80 feet high; the other, 90 feet. Both would have to be rebuilt before L. & N. trains could operate between Louisville and Nashville. Altogether 2250 feet of railroad bridging had been destroyed, besides three depots, three water stations, and a number of culverts and cattle-guards.

The Confederate government's estimate of the "Christmas Raid" would later be expressed in a "Thanks of Congress" joint resolution as follows: "Resolved by the Congress of the Confederate States of America: That the thanks of Congress are due, and are hereby tendered to Gen. John H. Morgan and the officers and men of his command for their varied, heroic and invaluable services in Tennessee and Kentucky, immediately preceding the battle before Murfreesboro—services which have conferred upon their authors fame as enduring as the records of the struggle which they have so brilliantly illustrated."

While Morgan's division by desperate night marches in bitter wintry weather had been escaping from Kentucky after severing the railroad, Rosecrans had moved against Confederate Gen. Braxton Bragg's army at Murfreesboro, bringing on the engagement referred to in the joint resolution as "the battle before Murfreesboro," also called the Battle of Stone's River. At the same time Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest and his Confederate cavalry had been on a mission in Western Tennessee, of the same nature as Morgan's in Kentucky, and had been approximately as successful in interrupting enemy communications and taking prisoners.

While the absence of two such excellent cavalry commands from Bragg's army doubtless made it somewhat easier for Rosecrans to approach Murfreesboro, the Union general arrived there and went into battle with fewer troops than he would have had otherwise, for he had been compelled to detach valuable units to send them in pursuit of the Morgan and Forrest raiders. One whole Union division and one brigade of another division were missing from the Battle of Stone's River because they had been diverted to Kentucky in a vain chase after Morgan's one division.

Detroit Firm Helps UK Campus Planning

The University of Kentucky and a Detroit firm will collaborate for the next six months in preparing a long-range plan for UK's future physical plant growth. Crane & Gorwie, Inc., under a $25,000 contract, will work with Lawrence Coleman, UK campus planner, and other administrative officials in noting the present physical and educational character of the University and in mapping its future needs. Among the prime considerations will be land utilization and traffic circulation.

A MAN'S PRAYER

Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces a pound, and 100 cents a dollar.

Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, untroubled by the faces of those to whom I may have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me.

Deafen me to the tingle of tainted money.

Blind me to the faults of other fellows and reveal to me my own. Guide me so that each night when I look across the table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal.

Keep me young enough to laugh with little children and sympathetic so as to be considerate of old age.

And comes the day of darkening shades, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple, "Here lies a man."

THE BELL SEAL IS ONE OF AMERICA'S MOST FAMILIAR TRADE MARKS. The original seal was developed by Angus Hibbard, the Bell System's first general manager, and included the words "Long Distance Telephone" inside the outline of a seal which was enclosed in a rectangle. Eventually the wording was changed to "Local and Long Distance Telephone," and still later a double circle replaced the rectangle. The seal, as it now appears, dates from 1939. You'll see this familiar guide to good service on company buildings, on public telephones and in advertising.

GOOD BUSINESS SUGGESTION: Do you use printed stationery for either business or personal correspondence? If so, may we suggest you include your area code and telephone number in the letterhead. If you own your own business, belong to clubs and organizations, or do a great deal of personal correspondence, it's a good idea to give folks your phone number as well as your address.

LONG DISTANCE IS A BARGAIN ANY TIME OF DAY . . . but it's an especially good buy after 6:00 p.m. on weekdays or any time on Sundays and holidays, when bargain rates are in effect. Also remember that rates are lowest if you call station-to-station. A long distance call is the next best thing to being there.

SOMETHING NEW HAS

BEEN ADDED TO the familiar fleet of green trucks and vans driven by your telephone company installer-repairman. The new compact van is a complete service shop on wheels, an important part of the fast, efficient service that's always available when you need it.

DID YOU KNOW THAT about 40 per cent of all overseas calls are with Pan American countries? About 30 per cent go to the Pacific and 25 per cent are with European countries. The rest are to scattered countries and ships at sea.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Sometime during the school vacation, after Santa Claus had arrived, a young lady in our household wanted us to see her "in action" on the new roller skates she found under her tree on Christmas morn. The present was not the big surprise that it should have been, because she put in her order for the gift a long time before the big day. She was among the many happy folks who got roller skates because they wanted them so they could indulge in that sport that is getting more popular every day. But anyhow, we went out to the roller rink with our young one and sat there almost in a trance for more than an hour.

Children of all ages seem to know how to skate and if they don't know how extremely well, they keep right on at it until they do. Adults "of all ages" love to skate, too, and their apparent love and enthusiasm for the pastime intrigues us no end. As we sat there, with Christmas so fresh on our minds, vision of floating through the air on rollers danced through our head. Round and round went the skaters, over and over went the records; nobody seemed to get tired; nobody seemed to have the remotest notion of stopping until it was absolutely necessary.

We kept our eye on a young fellow about eighteen. We don't know whether Santa Claus brought him new skates or not, but whatever his reason for being so happy about being on wheels, he surely was. He kept time with the music with every muscle in his body. His feet seemed never to leave the floor, while he glided in and out of the crowd, stooped low, swayed right and swayed left and breezed along all the way.

The next time we saw Raymond Clark, who operates the popular skating emporium, we plied him with questions about the skating enthusiasm and he gave us these startling and yet understandable statistics about "skating" fro into the New Year: 647 persons attended the Happy Day Skating Rink on New Year's Eve . . . 363 of them were actual skaters, who rolled merrily along to their hearts' desire . . . at seven a. m. on New Year's Day, 63 persons were still skating and going strong!!!

The attendant at the rink told us that one night a lady started skating at seven o'clock and at 12 o'clock she sat down for the first time in five hours and had never missed a record. He admitted though, that marathon was apparently a record for the local rink, because when the lady finally sat down to take off her skates she had to be helped along with the chore. There can be no doubt about it, skate along with me, is going to replace "Sing Along With Mitch," any day now.

Anne Cooper Dobbins was on her own home grounds when she received her latest distinction in the field of art.

Visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Innes W. Dobbins, Jr., in Louisville she awaited eagerly the January issue of Fortune magazine.

Her woodcut of a railroad crane, originally submitted as a cover, has been used as a full-page illustration with an article on industrial cranes.

stration with an article on industrial cranes.

The crane, one of many loading scrap iron from railroad hoppers onto waiting ships, was first noticed by Anne Cooper from a commuter railroad station.

Now living in New York City, she is not taking any classes but working on her own and submitting paintings to different shows. Though still interested in industrial subjects, she has found it difficult to get into factories and has been painting mostly portraits and large crowd scenes of late.

Her last one-man show here was in the summer at the Art Center, and last April she was given an exhibition at the Village Art Center in New York. She'll go back East next week.

The Dobbins family is well known here.

If any of you want to shed some real bitter tears of remorse, please do so for poor Annabelle Edwards. Our heart bleeds for her. Annabelle, who is active in most everything worthwhile in Fulton is a hard working public servant and often comes into the News office with reports of various activities around town. Tuesday she came and told us that she would be away next week and sort of apologized for her absence. Being the nosy type we asked "whither goest Thou?" That's when we started crying.

Annabelle is leaving this weekend on the train for New Orleans where she will join Mrs. E. B. McLean for a super-jet trip to Las Vegas, Nevada. Mrs. McLean is a board member of the Dixie Electric Corporation and the company is having its annual board meeting in that exciting city. Each board member is permitted to take a guest along and Mrs. McLean has asked Annabelle. Mrs. McLean is the mother of Annabelle's sister-in-law. When the lovely lady realized that her allotment of a guest trip might go unfilled she invited Annabelle . . . all expenses paid, and some spending money, too!

When Annabelle told us about the spending money "bit" we just broke down and sobbed; by the time she finished telling us the story we were in hysterics of commiseration for this poor, old hard working gal. After the meeting ends in Las Vegas, the group will go to Los Angeles and fly home by jet again to New Orleans. Since she's away from home anyway Annabelle said she would spend

Miss Colley, Mr. Wade Are Married In December Ceremony At Oak Grove

On Sunday, December thirtieth, at three-thirty o'clock at the Oak Grove Church of Christ, Miss Jerilyn Ann Colley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Colley, Route 5, Fulton, became the bride of Kenny Lane Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wade, Route 1, Crutchfield.

Bro. William Woodson of Henderson, Tennessee officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and greenery. The focal point at the altar was a wrought iron arch centered with white wedding bells and entwined with greenery. The back was flanked with candles and greenery.

Bro. Harold Neal of South Fulton, Tennessee sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Faithful and True." Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of lace, over white slipper satin. The fitted bodice, which was fastened with tiny self-covered buttons, featured a round neckline. The floor length skirt was clasped in front with a white satin bow. The back of the gown was fashioned with soft pleats which formed a train. The long tapered sleeves came to points at the hands and were fastened with tiny self-covered buttons. Her tiered waist length veil of nylon net was caught to a pillbox of white satin. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. Her bouquet was a cluster of white roses surrounded with white net and white satin streamers, which formed love knots.

Miss Carolyn Colley, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a street length dress of red velvet with a full skirt. Her headpiece was a large bow of red velvet fashioned with a veil of red net. She wore matching slippers and white gloves, and carried a bouquet of white mums surrounded by white net and white satin streamers. Attending Mr. Wade as best man was Bobby Shuff of Hickman and the groomsman was George Gunter of Fulton. The ushers were Larry Davis, a cousin of the bride and Phillip Jeffress, a cousin of the groom.

For traveling, the bride wore a two piece olive wool suit with matching shoes and bag, with a mink trimmed hat. Her corsage was the roses from her bridal bouquet. Out of town guests were Miss Jackie Thompson of Petersburg, Tennessee; Miss Linda Wells, Nashville, Tennessee; John Creek of Bowling Green; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haase and Dixie Ann of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Carthel Bolton and Mike, Dresden; Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Oliver, Miss Lynette Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Baker, all of Memphis; Miss Cecelia Baker, California; Myra Lynn and John Miles Bennett, Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alderdice and family, Mayfield, Kentucky, and a group of students and teachers, Gleason, Tennessee.

MR. PRESIDENT!

Robert Bailey Binford, a junior at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine was recently elected president of his class. Binford, a member of Phi Chi Medical Fraternity received his BS from the University of Kentucky. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Binford of Fulton, Kentucky.

SPORTS WHIRL

By
Lynn Williamson

Great hardwood action will be in store for the Twin-Cities basketball fans next weekend as four games are scheduled. On Friday night a team from Hickman County wanting revenge for an overtime defeat by the Bulldogs in last year's district tourney will invade the Fulton High court. The Falcons, who recently finished second in the Calloway County Christmas Tournament, will meet the Bulldogs, who came in third in the Paducah Tilghman Christmas Tournament, in Carr Gym at 6:45 p. m. Saturday, the Fulton squad travels a far piece to Owensboro where they will attempt to conquer a team rated number six in Kentucky. The Bulldogs will play about 9:00 p. m. in a doubleheader, which also sees Owensboro Catholic taking on Louisville Trinity. Also on Friday night the South Fulton Red Devils and Devilettes will be hosts to two teams from Paris. Paris has two powerful teams and these games should present much excitement.

If you are even in the slightest a basketball fan, I would like to encourage you to be in either Carr Gymnasium or South Fulton Gymnasium this Friday night. Besides your friends who will be attending the games, there will be twenty-four boys and girls to present you with an entertaining and enjoyable evening.

This week-end Coach Roland Bell's top eight girls—with Lee Cantrell, Judy Neeley, Bonnie Weeks, and Pat Lowe as forwards, and Linda Thorpe, Freida Mansfield, Anna Hardy, and Nancy Matthews as guards—and his starting five boys—Gary Isbell, Clayburn Peeples, David Brann, Charles Colley, and Gene Hardy—will be attempting to improve on their 11-1 and 7-12 records. Coach Chester Caddas' B-team composed of Philip Merryman, Gerald Bradley, Ward Bushart, David Mann, and Teddy Barclay, and his A-team composed of Kenneth Allen, Terry Beadles, Don Burnette, Johnny Covington, Duane McAllister, and John Shephard will try to add three victories to their 4-2 and 8-2 records.

FHS OVER WINGO

Last Friday night the FHS Bulldogs nudged a 56-54 overtime victory over a battling team from Wingo. Wingo pulled out in front 18-13 at end of the first quarter of play and really placed a scare in the Bulldogs. It was a close ballgame all the way, as was shown by the scores at the finish of the other quarters — 26-26; 40-40; and 50-50.

In the three-minute overtime John Shephard, who sat out the third quarter with four fouls, connected what proved to be Bulldogs' winning basket. Three Fulton players scored in the double figures as Kenneth Allen led the attack with 18, while Johnny Covington and John Shephard had 13 and 12 respectively.

TENNESSEE GAMES

Also on Friday night South Fulton split a double header with Martin. The Devilettes, giving their usual outstanding performance, had little trouble in downing the Martin team by a 51-38 score. Judy Neeley had a fine night of shooting as she connected for 27 points. Pat Lowe also scored in the double figures with 16 points for the Devilettes.

In the boys' game Martin had nine players to score and carried home with them a victory. With Donal High's 27 points the Panthers' team thumped the Red Devils 68-45. Three of South Fulton's quintet scored in the double figures. Gene Hardy, Clayburn Peeples and Gary Isbell had 12, 11, and 10, respectively.

Tuesday South Fulton also split a double header as the girls came through with a 37-22 victory and the boys fell to a strong Dresden team 59-53. Pat Lowe was the leading scorer for the Devilettes with 15 points. After a close first quarter, the girls had very little trouble as is shown by the score at the end of the other three quarters, 17-14; 30-18; 37-22. This

ANOTHER RECORD HIGHWAY YEAR—Kentucky Highway Commissioner Henry Ward signs the last road building contract award of 1962, bringing the dollar volume for the year to more than $157 million. It is a new construction record in highway building for Kentucky, exceeding last year's record by some $35 million. Some 2,500 miles of roads and highways, many of them modern, four-lane routes, were put under contract during the year.

DETROIT NEWS By Roy Maurer

I am sorry you missed my column last week, but with my being down with a touch of bronchial pneumonia, I did not feel much like writing. We sure are glad to have Karen Ruzinski with us in Detroit even though she did bring nine inches of snow with her. Hope you get used to our winters, Karen!

Now that Christmas and New Year is over, I hope you are through exchanging gifts, repairing toys and as usual throwing out what you don't need. Our Christmas party at church for the children was a big success. Our pastor, Brother Donald Munn is sure preaching some good sermons. If you are in Detroit, be sure and come to hear him. Our church is located at 11 Mile Road and Campbell Street, Warren, Michigan.

We still have a few on sick list. Ralph Kirby is in St. Josephs Hospital, Room 511. Mrs. Rodgers is in Henry Ford Hospital in the arthritic ward. A card or call will cheer them up. Mr. and Mrs. Claude McNeil spent Christmas with daughter, Sue (Mrs. Thornbro). The McNeils are from Water Valley.

Sure was nice to see Lee Earl Scott and family here on vacation from his pastoral duties in the south. Glad to report that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson moved back to Detroit from Ohio. Beverly's mother and dad are better known as Doc and Virginia.

I heard by the grapevine that the Workers and Quilting Ladies of Faith Cumberland Presbyterian was the twelfth victory for the Devilettes.

The boys played Dresden a close game all the way. Dresden led by only three points at the first quarter. They led by five the other two quarters and were only able to win by six points.

Glover had 22 points for the Dresden team while David Brann had 18 for South Fulton and Clayburn Peeples and Gary Isbell scored 14 and 10 respectively.

Church have purchased a new sign for the front of the church. Also they gave Brother Terrance McKain a couch for Christmas. Just what he needed.

Remember your church needs you and you need the church. So don't let one or the other down.

Fireman Delivers Baby At Station

College Park, Ga., — College Park firemen heard an automobile horn blowing steadily. They found Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith parked outside the Fire Station.

Smith said his wife was going to have a baby and he couldn't get her to a hospital in time.

Smith drove his car into the station and Howard Kenney Smith was born before the arrival of a doctor and ambulance.

The incident was routine to Fireman Hoyt Scarborough.

"This is the third one he's helped deliver," said Chief J. B. Ely. The mother and son are doing nicely in a hospital.

Legends Tell About Hymn

Stories and legends surround most of the modern ways of celebrating Christmas — and sometimes there is more than one version of a story — such as the story of "Silent Night" and how the song came to be written.

Joseph Mohr, village priest of Hallein, Austria, wrote the words, and his organist wrote the music, probably adapted from a melody by Michael Haydn. On this point, most sources seem to be agreed.

What inspired Father Mohr to write the words is another story — or another two stories.

One version, say researchers for The Book of Knowledge, is that Father Mohr was called out into the snow on Christmas Eve of 1818, to bless a newly born baby in the home of one of his poorest parishioners.

He was so filled with the spirit of the season and the simple beauty of the mother and infant that when he returned to his study he wrote the poem, "Silent Night." Before Christmas Day was over, his organist had written the music.

Other versions have it that the church organ had broken down (impaired by mice, one story says), and the people were saddened because there would be no music for Christmas Day. Shortly before Christmas, Father Mohr wrote his poem and Organist Gruber the music.

At midnight mass, the people sang "Silent Night" — with a guitar accompaniment.

Woman's Club "Goes To Broadway" For Delightful Program Last Week

A most delightful musical program of "Broadway Hits" was presented by the Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club Friday at the general meeting of local Woman's Club which was well attended. The well chosen program by the chorus and soloists consisted of:

"Tonight," from West Side Story.

"On the Street Where You Live," from My Fair Lady.

Trio, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Bill Furgerson and Mrs. John Ed Scott.

"We Kissed in the Shadow," from The King and I.

Solo, Mrs. Glenn Doran.

"76 Trombones," from The Music Man.

"I Enjoy Being a Girl," from Wildcat.

Solo, Mrs. Joe Dick;

Accompanist, Mrs. Robert Johnson.

"If Ever I Would Leave You," from Camelot.

"I Could Have Danced All Night," from My Fair Lady.

Solo, Mrs. Vernon Shaw.

"Moon River," from Academy Award movie, "Breakfast at Tiffany."

The chorus was under the direction of Mrs. Vernon Shaw.

Accompanist, Mrs. Richard Ferrell. Mrs. James Rudy Albritton narrated each selection. Mrs. David Gowan is chairman of the Murray Music Department.

The Fulton Music Department were hosts of the meeting with Mrs. Leonora Bushart, program chairman. The decorations were most attractive. The mantle held an arrangement of gold candelabrum, white candles and greenery. Gold grapes hung from a gold candelabrum with white candles, in center of greenery, on a table near the entrance.

A social hour followed with Mrs. S. M. DeMyer, chairman, Mrs. J. C. Hancock, Mrs. Herbert Smith and Mrs. Thad Fagan as hostesses. Delicious fruit cake and mints were served from a beautifully appointed tea table, centered with a copper bowl of white poinsettias with a gold lyre in the background, and flanked with gold candelabras with swirled tapers. Mrs. Hendon Wright, chairman of the Music Department, presided at the silver coffee service.

Mrs. Vyron Mitchell, club president, at the meeting. She welcomed new members and one visitor, Mrs. Fred Collier. Announcement was made that the Art and Crafts Department would have their first meeting Thursday, January 24, at 9:30 A. M. The Board of Directors met preceding the meeting.

Miss Bennett And Mr. Tucker To Be Wed Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bennett of Route 3, Fulton are today announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Darlena to Lewis Dewain Tucker, son of Mrs. Dixie Henderson and the late Marvin Tucker of Wingo, Kentucky.

Miss Bennett is a graduate of South Fulton High School and Romy's Beauty School, Union City. She is presently employed at Betty's Beauty Shop, South Fulton.

Mr. Tucker attended Wingo High School and is presently employed at General Tire, Mayfield, Kentucky.

The wedding ceremony will be Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Crutchfield Baptist Church. All friends are invited to attend.

IL DUCE'S SON IS FATHER

Rome—Maria Mussolini, sister of Sophia Loren and wife of the late Italian dictator's jazz-playing son, Romano, gave birth to a daughter. It is the couple's first child.

POODLE REVIVED

Oakland, Calif.—An Oakland man, Jess Burns, gave mouth-to-mouth respiration to his 5-pound toy poodle, Tina, when she stopped breathing after bumping her head and suffering a concussion. Tina recovered.

Courtney-Davis Vows Performed In California

Repeating vows in the candle-lit living room of the bride's home, Mrs. Elizabeth King Davis, Ventura, and Emmett Courtney, Fillmore, California were married.

The Rev. Robert Pruitt, minister of Ventura College Methodist Church performed the double-ring ceremony. White carnations, chrysanthemums, stock, and greenery decorated the mantelpiece and dining room.

The bride was attired in a green silk brocade taffeta dress with gold slippers. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Carmen Calcarone, matron of honor, wore a green knit sheath with a corsage of autumn roses. Peter Calcarone was ring bearer.

The bride's daughter, Miss Jeannie Davis, Los Angeles, wore a light blue wool sheath with a corsage of red roses. Miss Joan Howell served punch and wedding cake to the guests.

The couple will live at 66 N. Fir St., Ventura.

the week-end in the French Quarter City and return home for work... sometime, we hope!

Annabelle said that when she wrote her daughter, (Nell Meadows) if she (Annabelle) should go, the daughter wrote back that it is a "must". To tell you the truth, anybody who asks for permission to take such a trip might have rocks in the head. But Annabelle doesn't. She has some wonderful thoughts of a very fine trip, from a very fine and thoughtful lady.

New subscribers coming into the News office have afforded us so much pleasure. Tuesday, Jesse Johns and his sister Mrs. Dean Terrell both subscribed and we enjoyed talking to them about their families, their homes and their interests. The new members of our reading family live a hill-top away from each other where the family has lived for a very long time. We thought it nice that Mr. Johns would go around doing favors for his sister (you know how big families are) so we complimented them both on their thoughtfulness. Whereupon Mrs. Terrell laughed a little and we learned the real story. Mr. Johns was coming to town with a farm load and was to go by and pick her up and bring her to town. Either he forgot or thought nothing more of it, but he didn't bring her in the first time and he had to make another trip to town. Glad he did. It gave us an opportunity to get to know both of them at one time.

Bull Takes Over At Dulles Airport

Washington — The plush new Dulles International Airport could hardly be classed a cow-pasture landing strip, but it had some of the earmarks Sunday.

While an American Airlines jet flight from Dallas circled overhead for 30 minutes, police and maintenance men chased an Angus bull around a runway, finally heading him toward a wooded area.

Airport safety officers said later the bull apparently strolled into the runway from a nearby farm after finding a break in the fence surrounding the $110,000,000 airport.

Local Group To Enter Kentucky's Progress Contest

Selection of Kentucky's most progressive city in community development during 1962 will start immediately after January 15, 1963, when District judging gets underway in the annual Kentucky Chamber of Commerce "Community Pride Program." Eighty-four communities are competing for laurels and recognition in the Chamber program, which emphasized beautification during the 1962 contest. The Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce will submit an entry, Mrs. Covita Olive told the News.

Maleolm Mason, Lexington, Chairman of KCC's Community Development Committee, said: "The purpose of the Community Pride Program is to make Kentucky's towns so appealing that potential industries, tourists, and investors or friends will select Kentucky over competing states."

Each district contest is in charge of a district chairman who will be responsible for all details, including arrangements for the district judging. Competing communities will submit written reports for evaluation by the judges. Winners in the district competition will compete for statewide honors in the finals, which will be conducted in early March. Districts in the contest are similar to the old Congressional Districts. The First District Chairman is J. Foster Jones, Kentucky Utilities Company, Paducah.

Circuit Clerks Mailed Forms For Boat Registration

Circuit Court Clerks in Kentucky's 120 counties this week were mailed the 1963-64 forms for registration of boats, according to Director of the Division of Boating, Bud Calman.

The clerks will start taking registrations January 21, for the fiscal year 1963-64. The present registration does not expire until April 30, however, since so many boatmen have expressed the desire to get their registration over with before boating season starts, the Division is making an effort to cooperate by permitting registrations any time after January 21.

Also, those purchasing new boats before April 30 will not have to register for the remainder of the 1962-63 year and then renew in April. They can license their new boat now for the fiscal year 1963-64, which starts May 1, 1963.

Here's The Way Congress Looks At Bill "To Keep Folks Off Grass"

President Kennedy had a great deal of trouble getting any of his legislation passed in the last session of Congress.

"The way things are going in Congress," a friend told us the other day, "I doubt if the President could get a law passed to prevent people from walking on the White House lawn."

This got us to thinking what would happen if President Kennedy asked for powers to keep people off the White House lawn, based on what has happened to most of his other legislative requests.

The first thing the President would have to do is to announce at his press conference that he was asking for special legislation to prevent people from walking on the White House lawn. He was also requesting funds to have a sign made and painted—"Do Not Walk On The Grass"—which he proposed to place in a conspicuous spot for everyone to see. The President warned at the press conference that, if he didn't have these powers, the White House lawn would soon deteriorate, and he considered this one of the most important bills of his entire program.

Since appropriations were involved, the bill was introduced in the House of Representatives. The House subcommittee on appropriations, with much reluctance, held hearings. The President had requested $20 for the sign. The chairman of the committee considered the request a waste of the taxpayers' money. The committee recommended that the President be authorized to spend only $10 for the sign. The committee then voted $6 billion to the Air Force to build 30 new B-70 bombers which the Department of Defense hadn't asked for.

The House of Representatives passed the lawn sign bill with some misgivings and only after it had been assured the Senate would hold the bill up.

The real battle for President Kennedy's bill started in the Senate.

Several senators pointed out that it was Congress who decided who should not walk on the lawns of government buildings, of which the White House was only one. If they gave this power to the President, he might use it to prevent senators from walking on the White House lawn, something that our forefathers had no intention of doing when they wrote the Constitution.

A group of liberal senators objected to the bill on the grounds that the sign would be made and painted by a private company. They threatened to vote against the bill if the government was not permitted to paint the sign itself.

The Southern bloc wanted a rider written in the bill specifically forbidding Negroes from walking on the White House lawn.

The Northern bloc felt that Negroes had the same right not to walk on the White House lawn as

Governor Combs is Man of Year

KENTUCKY "MAN OF THE YEAR" award for 1962 was presented to Gov. Bert Combs (right) by Barry Bingham, president of WHAS, Louisville, on a WHAS television show reviewing events of the year. The Governor was chosen to receive the statewide award, presented annually by WHAS, for the achievements of his Administration and particularly in the field of education. Bingham cited expansion of the vocational school system, increase of teacher salaries, launching of the community college system and groundwork on educational television as some of the 1962 achievements of State Government in the education field.

anybody else and wanted this written into the bill.

The Western bloc said they would vote for the bill if it provided for construction of six new dams at the same time.

The senators from Nevada proposed that the sign be made from silver. Oregon suggested it be made from nickel. Georgia wanted it made from cotton.

President Kennedy had all the senators to breakfast and explained the importance of his bill. He brought in a Harvard landscape architect to dramatize the damage that could be caused when people walked on the grass.

The senators assured the President there would be no problem to passing the legislation.

Then they went back to the Senate and defeated the bill, 89 to 11.

UK Nursing College Wins Federal Grant

The United States Public Health Service has approved a grant of $31,592 for the Continuing Education Program in the University of Kentucky College of Nursing. Two programs currently are being financed by the funds. One is designed to assist head nurses to better plan, organize and supervise patient care. The second is planned to increase the knowledge, understanding and skill of nurses who teach and supervise in the field of maternal and child nursing.

Questions And Answers For

VETERANS AFFAIRS

Questions and Answers

Q—What happened to the old Veterans Bureau?

A—The Veterans Bureau was established August 9, 1921, and took over the functions of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance as well as those vocational training duties which had been handled by the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and those duties of the Public Health Service that had to do with physical examinations, care and treatment of veterans.

Nine years later, in July, 1930, the functions of the Pension Bureau of the Interior Department and the functions of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers were added to the work of the Veterans Bureau and the entire organization was re-named the Veterans Administration.

Q—How much was paid out as a "bonus" to World War I veterans?

A—Under the Veterans Readjustment Compensation Act of 1936, the VA has paid out just over $3.8 billion.

Q—Has the so-called "Peacetime Veterans Education Act" been passed by this session of Congress?

A—No act nor law providing Federal education for "peacetime" servicemen had been passed by Congress as of August 15, 1962.

For additional information contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office 1405 West Broadway, Louisville 1, Ky.

Q—Did the State of Connecticut pay a cash bonus to its World War I veterans?

A—No. Connecticut paid a bonus to World War II and to Korean Conflict veterans. Both were for $10 for each month of active service with a maximum payment of $300.

Q—Will the boys that are in the U. S. Army now be entitled to the Government loans when they return to civilian life, as were the boys who were in World War II?

A—Not under the present laws. Such rights come to an end after the close of the Korean Conflict on January 31, 1955.

Senator Brand Asks Voters To Express Opinions

Senator George Brand of Mayfield believes that a legislator can render better service if the wishes of his constituents are made known to him. In this respect the News received a letter from Senator Brand asking that we publish it. He serves the counties of Graves, Fulton, Hickman and Marshall counties.

Here's the letter:
Dear Friends:
On January 28th, the Legislature is being called into extra session, and as it is rumored again, it may come to a vote on moving the election date to August or leave it as it is now in May.

Before this day arrives, I would like the people to write me in regard to their desires on this matter.

I will appreciate and it will be a great help to me in deciding my vote if I hear from you. I do hope all of you will write me before January 28th, and I will abide by your decision.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation—I beg to remain as always at your service.

Signed:
Senator George Brand

FIVE FUND—

Westpheling, chairman of the Fulton County Polio Committee, Mrs. Don Henry, chairman of the Fulton County Library Board which administers the libraries in Hickman and C. H. McDaniel and Glenn Walker who administer the affairs of the Clothes Bank were present or had representatives at the meeting. Spear, heading the promotional activities for the undertaking are Vyron Mitchell, general manager of the Fulton Daily Leader, Kenneth Turner, president of Radio Station WFUL, to Gardner, publisher of the Hickman Courier and Mrs. Westpheling editor of the Fulton News. Informal discussions relating to the drive with civic leaders indicated that the "pilot" fund drive would attain greater success if organizations were united to serve the entire twin-city and Fulton County area.

In this respect it was revealed that:

—The Clothes Bank gives aid to recipients all over Fulton County, particularly in the rural areas of Hickman, Cayce, Western school, etc., as well as to the same category of recipients in South Fulton and Obion County.

—The Fulton County Library board administers the affairs of both the Hickman and Woman's Club Libraries, while the Fulton library renders reader availability to students of the South Fulton schools. The Hickman Library also makes lending available to patrons of the Hickman rural areas.

—The Fulton County Chapter of Infantile Paralysis serves the entire county with its organization.

—The Fulton City Park and its facilities is available to interested persons in the entire Fulton area.

—The Twin City Youth, Inc., makes its organization available to youngsters in both Fulton and South Fulton.

Father Named In Son's Slaying Last Saturday

CLINTON, Ky. — Robert J. Trevathan, 62, Monday was charged with the fatal stabbing of his son, Gene Ed Trevathan, 32, at their home on Saturday night.

A murder warrant was issued and the elder Trevathan was arrested shortly after a county court of inquiry was held. A witness at the inquiry said that the slaying took place during an argument between the father and son. Details of the argument were not reported.

Sheriff Stanley Hopkins said the death weapon, a pocket knife, was found in a small building at the rear of the Trevathan residence.

A coroner's jury concluded that Gene Ed Trevathan died at about 7:15 p. m. Saturday "due to a stab in the neck." The jury did not name the alleged assailant.

County Judge E. H. Padgett said an examining trial for Robert Trevathan will be held. The accused man remains in the Hickman County jail.

Funeral services for the son, who was not married, were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Hopkins and Brown Funeral Home with the Rev. John Redden officiating. Burial was in Clinton Cemetery.

Even now when I think of what I heard makes my warm blood feel like ice water running through my veins. "My wife and I buy the paper because we think your advertising looks nicer and clearer than any paper we take," mine enemy subscriber says to Paul. It's 1:40 p. m. Paul gets the message after he heard the typewriter hit the floor. He plies the man with questions. "Speak louder," he says to him. "I think Jo just fell on the floor."

"Yep," says this fugitive from a journalistic pit, "my wife reads every word in every ad and she never fails to say how nice they are." It's 1:42 p. m. I didn't hear another word after the man's last word. When I thawed out, I saw Paul pass my office. It must have been 24 hours later. His face was still lit up like a Christmas tree. He's never mentioned the incident again. If I ever do, you may get the exact time of my funeral services on radio station WFUL on any newscast after the bludgeoning I will get from his Lord and Master the Advertising Manager of the Fulton County News . . . Insurance Goes Up Ten Per Cent

The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters has increased private passenger auto liability rates an average of 10 per cent over the state. The increase will mean an additional $942,000 in premiums annually for the 140 insurance companies in Kentucky represented by N. B. C. U.

The new rates are applicable to all new and renewal policies written on or after Jan. 9 and to all policies written before Jan. 9 which will become effective on or after March 1.

The rate boost for private passenger car liability rates is the first since February 1961 and reflects the rising cost of claims and the growing number of claims following accidents caused by Kentucky drivers, the N. B. C. U. said.

Another filing by the National Automobile Underwriters Association on behalf of its 221 affiliated companies in Kentucky should result in a statewide premium reduction of $169,000 a year on physical damage coverages after the effective date of Jan. 9.
