State Demos Have 7 House Seats, GOP 4

Republican Gain
In Third, Seventh
District Assured
COOPER LEADS 40,880

Louisville, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Kentucky's congressional delegation will consist of seven Democrats and four Republicans, as a result of Tuesday's elections.
That division of the delegation represents a gain of two members for the GOP, which claimed one of the state's two senators and one representative in the last congress.

The Republican gains were in the Third Congressional District (Louisville), where young Thurston B. Morton ousted Democratic Rep. Emmet O'Neal, and in the Seventh District, where the veteran Rep. Andrew J. May was defeated by W. Howes Meade.
John Sherman Cooper of Somerset, Republican, succeeded Senator W. A. Stanford, Hazard Republican, in the senate. With only 16 precincts in the state unreported, Cooper's majority over Democrat John Young Brown of Lexington in the senate race exceeded 40,880.

The other Republican congressman is Rep. John M. Robison of Richmond, in the Ninth District, who was unopposed in that GOP stronghold.
Democratic congressmen all re-elected, include Noble J.
Gregory, First District; Earl C.
Clement, Second; Frank Chamberlain, Third; Brent Spence, Fifth; Virgil Chapman, Sixth; and Joe B. Bates, Eighth.

Complete unofficial returns from all precincts in the Third Appellate District gave Republican Clyde M. Lattimer a comfortable victory over Democrat Joseph C. Pugh, Harrison Republican, in the Fourth District.

All missing votes of scattered precincts in Knott, Magoffin and Pike counties of the Seventh District and Harlan, Jackson and Whitley counties of the Ninth District.

Unofficial tabulations: House (First Kentucky District):
337 of 397 precincts: Gregory (D) 32,112; Porter (R) 15,380.

House (Second Kentucky District):

House (Fourth Kentucky District):
463 of 463 precincts: Chaff (D) 33,135; Dye (R) 28,120.

House (Fifth Kentucky District):
274 of 374 precincts: Spence (D) 33,443; Moore (R) 35,333.

House (Sixth Kentucky District):
474 of 474 precincts: Chapman (D) 43,800; Rogers (R) 35,377.

House (Seventh Kentucky District):
344 of 370 precincts: May (D) 19,152; Meade (R) 28,858.

House (Eighth Kentucky District):
593 of 593 precincts: Bates (D) 33,979; Schmalz (R) 30,959.

Nip And Tuck Game Expected At Mayfield

Both Bulldogs, Cards
To Be At Peak Strength; Kickoff Time Is 8 P. M.

Alibi material should be pretty scarce for the loser of tonight's Bulldog-Cardinal grid game at Mayfield. Both teams are expected to report for the opening whistle at just about peak strength for the year.

Coaches Goranilo and Carter have a high-scoring squad this year that has piled up more points than any team in the West Kentucky Conference. The Bulldogs to date have made 219 to 73 for their opponents. The 8-0 defeat of Dresden gave the Fulton total score a big boost.

Fulton's eleven has blanked three Tennessee teams—Tiptonville, Dresden and Martin—and scored 50 points in losing to Russellville and six points against the Murray Tigers.

The Bulldogs have amassed 75 points in their seven games this year while holding opposing teams to 69.
Commenting on the Bulldog squad, the Mayfield Messenger calls Billy Mac Bore and Tip Helms a pair of the best ends in the conference, and pass catchers de luxe, while adding a word of praise for their defensive line.

The Mayfield gridder also uses the "T" formation which has been employed effectively at Fulton this year. Don Copeland fills the quarterback spot for Mayfield and is a dangerous passer. He will have to be on his toes, however, to match the aerial accuracy of Fulton's Billy Joe Forrest, who can drop the ball on a handkerchief anywhere on the field.

Kickoff time for tonight's game is 8 o'clock.

12,533 Added By Methodists

Memphis Conference Has All-Time High Year, Bishop Watkins Reveals

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 7.—(AP)— The Memphis Conference of the Methodist Church, embracing West Tennessee and Western Kentucky, added 12,533 new members during the past year for an all-time high.

The announcement was made by Bishop W. T. Watkins of Lexington last night at the opening session of the conference's annual meeting. Bishop Watkins is presiding over the conference.

It was announced at the meeting that the Rev. James L.
Bagby, pastor of Whitehaven, Tenn., Methodist church, would become associate executive secretary of the Conference Board of Education.

He will succeed the Rev. W. C.
Moore of Jackson, Tenn., who will join the general Methodist Board of Education in Nashville.

In 1947 Bagby is slated to succeed the Rev. J. D. Canaday of Jackson as executive secretary.

The Rev. J. Wilford Noble, chairman of the Conference Camp Development Committee, announced purchase of 50 acres of TVA land in Benton county for a camp site.

Facilities for the veteran and civilian students. Already erected installed. Four single story structures also pictured above are likewise being erected. Two metal barracks have been as-

In addition to these facilities, the college and townspeople are co-operating in finding private homes for Murray students.

GOP Diplomats Pledge Support Of U.S. Policy

Seek To Calm
Foreign Fears
Of Red Dispute

DENY "RIGHT" SWING

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Top-flight Republican diplomats at the United Nations and the Council of Foreign Ministers rallied to the support of established American foreign policy today in an evident effort to quiet jittery speculation abroad about possible radical changes in this country's international relations.

Foreign delegations to both the U.N. Assembly and the Big-Four Council sessions took the election results with little show of concern, but much of the fore-ast press viewed the Republican capture of Congress as marking a sharp American swing to the right and threatening new difficulties with Russia.

Republican statements on the foreign policy situation were much discussed by diplomats here.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, who is expected to become foreign relations chairman in the Republican controlled Senate, said that his own reelection "means unmistakable endorsement of the united, bipartisan foreign policy" which he has had a large share in developing over the last two years.

John Foster Dulles, an alternate member of the United Nations Delegation, said he was confident that "A Republican Congress will not throw our foreign policy into confusion but rather will make it stronger and clearer."

These two men with ex-Senator Warren Austin of Vermont who is Chief of the United States U. N. Delegation, make up main Republican collaboration with the administration on foreign issues.

Speculation about the significance of the elections developed along three main lines:
1. Vandenberg, because of his past record and his dominant position in the next Senate, evidently becomes the strong man of the American Missions to the Big-Four Council and the U.N. meeting. Chairman Connelly (D-Tex.) of the outgoing Senate Foreign Relations Committee moves into a lame duck position as far as the chairmanship is concerned and Brynes knows Vandenberg will be able to block any major Brynes proposal if he disagrees.

2. What the Republicans do with their leadership in Congress about the day-to-day application of foreign policy is regarded by many foreign delegates as unpredictable. While they party internationalism is not especially questioned, their congressional action on tariffs, foreign loans, foreign trade and the like will be of utmost importance in future policy development.

3. A question of American relations with Russia arises from the fact that during the pre-election campaign Moscow assailed Vandenberg and his influence, while in this country the Republicans made an issue over domestic communism.

The United States, as the sole administering authority, could bar the aircraft of any other nation from entering the area, which is 1,500 miles long and 800 miles wide and contains approximately 7,500 islands of various sizes.

2. The United States would reserve the right to give certain economic privileges exclusively to American nationals.

3. The terms of the agreement could not be altered, amended or terminated without the consent of the United States.

One delegate, who did not want to be identified, said the United States demanded by the United States were exactly the same as she would have if she annexed the islands outright.

Plans for turning the islands —the Marshalls, Carolines and Marianas—over to the U.N. are contained in a draft agreement now being circulated among the 11 members of the Security Council and two other nations, New Zealand and the Philippines.

Disclosure of the terms gave rise to immediate speculation that Russia would almost certainly attack the proposals and might possibly veto them in the Security Council. In the latter event, however, the islands would continue in their present status as occupied enemy territory.

The present draft reserves to the United States unrestricted rights to establish military, naval and air bases within the trust territory, but provides that any or all of the area may be declared closed for security reasons.

This means that the United States would be able to bar U.N. inspection of the entire area if she desired to do so.

Other sweeping provisions of the agreement:
1. The United States, as the sole administering authority,
and 800 miles wide and contains approximately 7,500 islands

U. S. Would Retain Military Rights In UN Pacific Islands

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 7.— (AP)—The United States made it clear today that she would reserve sweeping rights, especially military, in the Japanese Mandated Islands which President Truman offered last night to place under United Nations trusteeship.

Here Is What GOP Proposes For Congress

Republican Leaders Announce Future Plans
After Winning Majority

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)— What Republican leaders say they plan to do with GOP control of Congress:

Rep. Martin (Mass.), expected to be the next speaker of the House—"Take the government out of the people's hair and put it back in their hands." Senator Vandenberg (Mich.), in line for chairmanship of foreign relations committee—"The verdict is a clear endorsement of our United bi-partisan foreign policy."

Senator Taft (Ohio), chairman Republican Steering Committee—"We can sit down calmly and work out the constructive measures necessary for peace, for full employment under private enterprise and for social welfare, while leaving the people free to run their own affairs."

Chairman B. Carroll Reece of Republican National Committee—"There will be an end to the practice of the Federal government spending more than it takes in x x x subversive and radical elements will be rooted out and kept out."

Rep. Halleck (Ind.), who led congressional campaign—"The effort of government by executive order is at end, and America now resumes the path of ordered liberty under due process of law."

Rep. Knutson (Minn.), expected to head house tax-cutting committee—"Plans to reduce federal individual income taxes 30 percent of $3,000,000,000." Senator-elect Bricker (Ohio)— "There should be a cut in the federal income tax so people can have more use of their own money. Taxes now are stifling private enterprise."

Rep. Clarence Brown (Ohio), national campaign director, said there will be "strong support" for a resolution to be offered in new Congress to officially end the war and thus end emergency wartime powers of President.

Rep. Glavin (N.Y.), who will be "strong support" for a resolution to be offered in
new Congress to officially end
the war and thus end emergency wartime powers of President.

On that date the state will make its official canvass of votes and the outcome of the contest—and other official results of the Tuesday voting—will be known.

Unofficial returns today gave Wilson 44,728 votes to 44,722 for Granger with 500 of the district's 507 precincts reported.

Watts Services In St. Louis

F. O. Watts, Formerly Of Fulton, Was Nationally Known As Bank Leader

Funeral services for Frank Overton Watts, 79, former resident of Fulton and a nationally known banker, were held in St.
Louis, Mo., today. Mr. Watts died at St. Vincent's Hospital there Tuesday.

He retired from active service with the First National Bank of St. Louis two years ago after a long tenure as president. At the time of his death he was serving as chairman of the board of directors.

He is survived by a brother, Col. Will C. Watts, and a half-sister, Mrs. Henry Head of Union City; his wife, the former Miss Helen Moore, Helena, Ark.; two sons: Lawson Moore Watts and Frank O. Watts, Jr., St.
Louis; one daughter, Mrs. Gentry Shelton; two granddaughters: Helen Jones and Jane Shelton; and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts were married in Memphis in 1894, and celebrated their golden wedding anniversary November 14, 1944.
Mr. Watts was born in Paducah November 4, 1867.

He was the son of Thomas Lacey and Ruth Caldwell Watts. The family moved to Union City, where Mr. Watts received his banking training.

J. E. Green Leads Service

Urges Need To Learn Will Of God, Then To Comply With Bible

Evangelist J. E. Green of Martin introduced his sermon at the Church of Christ last night by saying, "It has been said that salvation is wholly divine, that God saves the lost without their having to do anything. Some teach that salvation is conditional, but say that 'faith' is the only condition required of the lost. Others say that 'faith' is only one of the conditions of pardon, bound up with the unsaved."

"It does not matter with me how God chooses to save the lost. The important thing is to learn WHAT His will is, and then to comply with it." The speaker also said, "If salvation is by grace alone, as some contend, then all will be saved, for God is not willing that any should perish. But this text, Eph. 2:8,9, includes faith as a condition. Hence, one must obey every other condition that God names, in order to be saved by His grace."

"Salvation by the Blood of Christ" is the subject to be discussed by evangelist E. W.
Stovall, in the Church of Christ revival tonight. Mr. Stovall is being heard each day at 12:15 by thousands of people from radio station KLCN in Blythe-ville, Ark.

Atomic Research Information Made Available By U. S.

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)— Knowledge gained in nearly five years of atomic research and development is beginning to flow through the pipelines of science —with secrets of the atom bomb filtered out—the war department reported today.

Nearly 600 papers, totaling some 2,000,000 words of atomic information, have been cleared through special review machinery of the arm's Manhattan project.

Since last April a declassification and publications office at Oak Ridge, Tenn., staffed by civilian scientists, has been servicing papers submitted for release. All information cleared must be in document form.

Nearly half the cleared papers, including many not yet published, will appear in Manhattan project's own technical history started in 1945. This library of more than 100 volumes will bring together all significant scientific and engineering information developed in the atomic energy program.

One Vote For Parking Meters

The proposed installation of parking meters in Fulton has provoked considerable discussion, pro and con, since the city council voted on October 7 to operate meters here on a trial basis. The city attorney has prepared an ordinance preparatory to installation of meters, but this has not yet been brought before the council.

Last Monday evening at the regular council meeting a group of business and professional men presented a petition asking that the meters not be installed, since in their opinion this would be detrimental to the best interests of the city.

After considering both sides of this question, we believe that installation of the meters would be beneficial to Fulton because they would aid materially in solving at least two of the city's problems, namely the parking problem and the financial problem. We feel that meters would be less of a bother and a burden than some of the conditions now prevailing.

For example, one of the first changes in the parking system which would come as a result of installing meters would be the elimination of center parking on Lake street. This would be a decided change for the better.

By no stretch of the imagination could it be said that vehicles entering Lake street from, say, Main or Walnut streets have adequate vision of traffic on the principal thoroughfare. A double line of parked cars stretching nearly from the Pipe Line Service station to Smith's Cafe has the effect of blinding the motorist, for all practical purposes.

The traffic on Lake street, by the same token, has little idea when or where an auto or truck is likely to materialize inches from the front bumper. It is only a slight overstatement to say that drivers would fare about as well just to close their eyes, judge the gas, and hope their insurance premiums are paid. Fenders are dented daily because of this undesirable condition, and we can consider ourselves fortunate that serious accidents somehow have been held to a bare minimum.

Elimination of center parking on Lake street also would improve materially the appearance of downtown Fulton. It is obvious that the city was planned along utilitarian rather than artistic lines. There is no central square to serve as the hub of the business district, the railroad bisects the city, and narrow, crooked streets feed into our chief business artery. If cars and trucks were pulled out of the center of Lake street we could have at least one wide, clear traffic route of which the entire city would be proud.

Stalin Stirs Speculation Again

By J. M. Roberts, Jr. (subbing for Mackenzie), AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Every time Stalin varies his routine, as he did yesterday by letting Andre Zhdanov occupy the rostrum usually reserved for the premier on the eve of the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, it stirs speculation abroad.

You can hear rumors that he is dead, that he is retiring and that his substitute has been chosen as his successor, that he is en route to the United States to confer with Truman on that h's 180-or-90-odd million non-party subjects are in revolt.

A little later you are likely to hear that he was home wearing a sulfa spray on a sore throat like an ordinary human.

But the appearance of Zhdanov yesterday, looking like most any Moscow radio commentator who is on a "mad" against capitalism, serves to remind that there are two stars in the Soviet sky which seem to be traveling converging orbits around the master's chair.

Zhdanov has been considered for six years as a fair-haired boy and, because of his position as well as his flesh, has been referred to as the "Cooper of the Soviet"—the No. 2 man, slapping at 16 after war service in the Soviet Army, Zhdanov has been climbing steadily among the communists until now, at 50, he is a member of the powerful politburo, secretary of the central executive committee of the party, chairman of the foreign affairs commission where for years he has played a major role in mapping foreign policy, and head of the propaganda bureau. He is a national hero as the "defender of Leningrad," and the 1939-40 war against Finland to secure the strategic position which later kept the Germans out of Northeast Russia was peculiarly "his" war in planning and organization. He is known as a determined nationalist, looking at every problem strictly from the standpoint of what is to Russia's interest. In this respect his description is almost a carbon copy of Stalin's.

The other star among the Generalissimo's younger satellites is Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov, 45, who has just been shifted from the legislative to the executive branch of the government—from the presidium of the Supreme Soviet to the vice chairman of the council of ministers. He, too, served in the Red Army after World War I, held increasingly important party organizing jobs, was for some years Stalin's personal secretary, a member of the party's central executive committee and a member of the state committee for defense during the recent war, gaining the order of Lenin for his work on plane production and being elevated to the politburo. He is credited with being more actively revolutionary than Zhdanov, the type which would be likely to take a greater interest in a revived Comintern. Careful observers have described Malenkov as "one of the most dangerous men in Russia" from the standpoint of those who wish to see the Soviet curb its expansionist tendencies.

Other cities in West Kentucky and West Tennessee have found parking meters very remunerative. We understand that Fulton takes over $1,000 monthly from its meters. In the language of the streets, that ain't hay.

Some opponents of meters say that they would discourage people of nearby communities from coming to Fulton to transact business. We doubt the validity of this argument, but even if it were true, where could those people go to escape parking meters? Not to Union City, nor Mayfield, nor Paducah, nor Paris, nor Ripley, nor almost any of the larger communities in this area.

As a matter of fact, we think most folks would prefer to spend a penny, nickel or dime and be assured of a convenient parking space, rather than to spend half an hour or so driving up and down Lake street and back again looking for a place to leave their cars. Those who come early and stay late would be inconvenienced, of course, but free parking space probably would be provided by the city somewhere close to the business district. This would seem to be a moral, if not legal, obligation of the city if meters are installed.

In advocating meters, we are not trying to convince anyone that they would be a panacea. We do not question in the least the sincerity of those who oppose them, and regret that we have not had time to discuss the issue fully with more signers of the anti-meter petition.

Since the proposed meters are of general interest we invite comments from any of our readers, either for or against their installation. We will be happy to devote any reasonable amount of our space to a discussion of the question.

We have no personal axe to grind, nothing to win or lose by the acceptance or rejection of parking meters. We do think they would be a desirable addition to our city, and hope the city council goes ahead with its previous plan to install them on a trial basis.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. L. A. Clinton was hostess to a delightful bridal shower yesterday afternoon at her home, Clifton, in honor of Miss Betty Lou Bailey whose marriage to Carl Harrison will take place Sunday afternoon. The house was decorated in lovely yellow chrysanthemums and roses.

The "Romance of Flowers" contest was won by Mrs. Gus Bard, who gave her prize to the honoree, Miss Laverne Walker, a contest and Mrs. Roy Taylor also received a prize. Miss Bailey was then taken to a seat of honor and a large clothes basket decorated in pink and white, filled with exquisite gifts, was presented to her by the hostess and Mrs. Eph Dawes. Little Jane Dawes, cousin of the bride-elect, assisted her in unwrapping the gifts.

A delicious salad plate was served the guest by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. H. J. Jakobe, of Bonne Terre, Mo., and Mrs. Eph Dawes.

Guests who attended were Mesdames Jim Dawes, Eph Dawes, Henry J. Jakobe, Gus Bard, Roy Carver, Herman Harrison, John Dawes, Ervin Bard, Gus Parrish, Ben Morris, Raymond Brown, Audie Howell, Ernest Carver, Gene Dowdy, A. W. Ferguson, C. L. Give Bridge The Hotfoot

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The 1650 ft. long single span bridge across Sydney harbor catches fire on an average of once a week. The fires occur in the wooden decking of the rail track sections. The main causes are cigarette butts, which lodge in crevices jammed with old train tickets and are fanned by the wind. It has become necessary to increase the number of hydrants to one every 100 ft.

Pfc. Horace A. Tucker has returned to Scott Field, Ill., after spending a three day pass with his sister, Mary Sue Tucker Sullivan, and other relatives.

Sprained Ankle

May Beat Irish

John Lujack Injured In Practice Yesterday; May Not Be In Army Battle

By Bill Foster

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 7.—(AP)—All of Notre Dame's skyrocketing hopes for revenge on the Army after two long years of waiting. All of the long Irish put in for a solid year of postwar reconstruction looking to this very weekend—everything rested today on one sprained ankle.

This was the ailing right ankle of Johnny (The Wing) Lujack, who quarterbacked the Irish to their last gridiron win over the Cadets back in '43.

Lujack is so hot and so vital in the signal calling, forward passing and, especially, the defensive machinery, that Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy says he's better than his predecessor, Angelo Bertelli. And "Bert" you remember, was so good in his day they just about wrote songs about their children after him around here.

Johnny hurt his ankle yesterday as the final full dress drill for Saturday's super colossal clash with the Cadets in New York was winding up on the field. And only a couple of hours after teammates elected him and Halfback Gerry Cowling as the Army game co-captains.

Today all hands sweated out with finger nail biting anxiety the final word from Dr. Joseph Caton, the school physician, as to whether the 21 year old ace would be aboard the train with the 36-man squad when it heads East at 4 p. m. (CST).

But just giving Lujack the railroad ticket and his lower berth isn't the part that has the Irish worried. Johnny must be on deck, ready to roll Saturday, or the best Notre Dame team in three years—the outfit even the assistant coaches believe might whip Army by 20 points to stave for the 55 and 45 point beating of 1944 and 1945—hasn't more than a prayer.

And he must be ready to go full speed for just about the full 90 minutes, because it's that kind of a ball game. Some of his understudies might be able to handle the passing—Slim George Ratterman, for instance, or on the long ones, Pete Ashbaugh. Some, too, are better than green hands handling the "T" offense. Ratterman, as a matter of fact, scared the Irish to two touchdowns against Navy last Saturday. And Frank Trippucka, a Bloomfield, N. J., whizzer, isn't far behind Lujack as a ball carrier.

Math Lesson

Since all Army men must be mathematics experts, the Cadets shouldn't have too much trouble figuring out defenses Saturday. "Our team probably has seen more defenses than any school in the country," say Black. "We have faced four-four, and five, six and seven-man lines." The system, apparently, is first count them and then knock 'em down.

Kentucky Today

By The Associated Press

Frankfort.—Records of the Kentucky unemployment compensation commission show that automobile accidents caused the deaths of 75 percent of the 150 Kentucky veterans who have died while drawing jobs pay under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Twenty percent died of natural causes and the other five percent were killed in quarrels causing violence.

Danville.—Mrs. H. E. Swain, mother of Enos Swain, editor of the Danville Advocate-Messenger, died of a heart attack yesterday at a local hospital, where she had been a patient 10 days.

Louisville.—Kentucky Republicans will celebrate their victory at the polls Tuesday with a dinner here Nov. 22 at which an out-of-state speaker will give the principal address. Stanfill is chairman of the Republican state central committee.

Carlisle.—A cerebral hemorrhage yesterday was fatal to Dr. Edward Allan Campbell, 72, a physician in Carlisle for 50 years. He died at his home here.

Lexington.—The Veterans of Foreign Wars has launched "open relentless warfare" against communism, fascism and all subversive organizations in this country, according to W. K. McCurry, Lexington, National VFW chief of staff. McCurry said in an interview that "the VFW now is on record with demands that communists be barred from places on any state and federal ballots."

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Warehousemen have set Dec. 2 as the opening date for sales of tobacco throughout the burley belt.

Meeting here yesterday a sales committee of the recently organized burley action warehouse association adopted recommendations opening the markets at that time and for operating there and one-half hours a day, five days a week.

The Christmas sales recess will start Dec. 28 and Dec. 30, with a suspension of sales on New Year's day.
