DEFENSE MEETINGS HELD IN COUNTY

Beginning this week, the Fulton County Defense Board and S. V. Foy, county agent, representing the Extension Service on the Defense Board, are presenting a series of educational meetings over the county to inform citizens of these communities of their responsibilities in National Defense. A defense moving picture is also being shown and citizens of Fulton county are urged to cooperate by attending these meetings.

A meeting was held at Lodgepost Wednesday night, at Crutchfield Thursday night, and the remainder of the schedule is as follows: Cayce, Tuesday night, Nov. 4; Sylvan Shade, Wednesday night; Graves, Thursday night; and Western Friday night.

Your farm can help to "win the war and write the peace," says Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

But to do this—to help feed the British, to help feed Europe's millions after the war and to feed our own people properly—he points out that every farm in America will need to increase production of some of the foods that are needed.

Under the guidance of State and County Agricultural Defense Boards these food needs are being broken down into regional, State and County production goals; and H. M. (Continued on page 5)

NUTRITION WEEK TO HE HELD NOV. 7-14

County Nutrition Week will be appropriately observed in connection with National Education Week throughout Fulton County during the period beginning November 7 and ending November 14, Mrs. Catherine Thompson, County nutrition chairman, announced today.

Cooperating in the program are various Parent-Teacher Associations, Homemakers Clubs, High School Home Economics Clubs and Woman's Clubs of the county. Mrs. Thompson said that elaborate downtown store window displays on "Vitamins," "The Protective Foods," "Canning Equipment," "School Lunches" and other topic of general interest and information in connection with the national defense program, will be on exhibit in towns all over Fulton County during the time.

Mr. J. M. Calvin, superintendent of Hickman city schools, J. C. Lawson, superintendent of Fulton County schools, and J. O. Lewis, superintendent of Fulton city schools, are to secure windows for these displays in their respective districts.

FULTON MAN TRIED ON THEFT CHARGES

Sie Staley was tried before Magistrate Homer Roberts Friday on a charge of grand larceny. He was bound over to await action of the grand jury and, being unable to make $500 bond, he was carried to the county jail in Hickman.

Staley was charged with having stolen a large quantity of ladies' hose from the car of M. T. Paige, a Paducah salesman, early Thursday morning. He also stole a car, belonging to Mrs. B. Brewer, which was parked by the Parisian Laundry. He was arrested Friday in Carbondale and had in his possession, the hosiery and the automobile.

CAYCE STUDENTS MAKE GOOD RECORDS IN WORK

Lynette and Gynette Oliver, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Oliver of near Crutchfield, who graduated from Cayce school last year, are now attending Draughton's Business College in Memphis. They are making unusually high grades, and Lynette heads her class of 100 students.

Three students who attended the summer term at Murray College from Cayce were Joyce Bondurant, Eugene Waggoner and Mrs. Myra Belle Bondurant, were on the honor roll.

Defense Program Delays REA Plans

Work on the extension of REA service by the Fulton-Hickman Counties Rural Electrification Cooperative Corporation has been indefinitely delayed because of demand for needed materials due to the national defense program. Several months ago work was started on the installation of 60 more miles of lines in the local project, but after poles, crossarms, transformers and hardware were installed, work was halted because copper wire could not be obtained.

Most of the new lines are to be in Carlisle county near Columbus, Berkeley and Oakton, but some additional homes are scheduled to be serviced near Fulton and Hickman. At present the local co-operative has 530 customers on 130 miles of lines. An additional 280 homes are to be serviced when the new 60 miles of lines are added.

SOUTH FULTON WILL HOLD ELECTION DEC. 2

The City of South Fulton will hold its election for city officials on Tuesday, December 2. A mayor and six councilmen will be elected for a two-year term.

D. A. Rogers is the present mayor and councilmen are as follows: H. L. Ferguson, Virgil Davis, Abe Jolley, S. N. Valentine, Lon Pickle and E. N. Houston.

INFANT DIES FROM INJURIES IN WRECK

The 3-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Givens of Paducah was injured in an automobile accident Sunday morning and died about two hours later in the Fulton Hospital. The accident occurred on the Union City highway south of Fulton, when a tire blew out and the car overturned.

Mr. and Mrs. Givens and baby, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Mallory and son, all of Gilbertsville, were enroute to Memphis.

WOMEN TOLD HOW TO MEET RISING COST OF LIVING

Farm women, and the women of America generally, are confronted by several things vitally affecting their "way of life." Among them may be listed the following factors:

Food prices (for foods bought at stores) are much higher than they were even a year ago—15 percent or more increase during a two-year period.

Rent on property may be increased.

Credit for installment buying has been curtailed.

Clothing costs are up.

Taxes are higher now, and probably will go up, not down.

Money should be saved—despite all these other factors—for buying defense bonds and stamps, as a patriotic duty.

Summing up, home economists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics say two things stand out clearly: (1) running the household will take more money, and (2) in some cases farm women will be in position to keep costs down somewhat.

For increased expenses, such as taxes, etc., more money must be kept available. The only area in which women can cut down is that of buying. In other words, by producing the bulk (or all) of their food for home-consumption on the farm, the actual cash outlay may be reduced and the money used for other things.

Other than that, women may by astute buying cut clothing costs or at least keep them at their present total figure. This will involve getting maximum service from the clothes on hand, by prompt repair, drycleaning or washing, longer use, etc.

It is desirable at this time to avoid debt. With costs high, it will take longer to get out of debt than it would in a period of relatively low costs. If income is larger from higher prices for farm products, use the money to pay off any existing mortgages or notes or unpaid bills.

YMBC PLANS FOR WINTER ACTIVITIES

Members of the Young Men's Business Club gathered in business session Tuesday night at the Rain-bow Room to make plans for the winter's activities. Three new members, A. J. Mansfield, Wilbur King and William Moore were introduced to the club.

The next activity of the club will be sponsorship of the football game Friday, November 7, between South Fulton and Hayti, Mo. Bill Houston was named chairman of arrangements.

Lawrence Holland talked on the Lexington game Friday with the Fulton Bulldogs, and also discussed the Armistice Day game here November 11, with Mayfield. An interesting program is being arranged for the latter game by the American Legion.

After some discussion it was decided not to start bingo games again this winter. This subject was left open for further discussion at the next meeting.

A round-table discussion was held upon the sponsorship of some kind of entertainment by the club. It was decided that some such program should be put over, and that the proceeds go to aid underprivileged school children. Paul Bushart, M. L. Parker, Orin Winstead and Carter Olive were named on a committee to make preliminary plans for such a program.

On motion of Orin Winstead, seconded by Billy Blackstone, it was decided to arrange a banquet for the club, with the wives and friends of the members to be invited. A report on time and place of banquet will be made at the next meeting.

The resignation of P. G. Boyd as secretary of the club was accepted, because of pressing business which detain him from active duty. An election was held to name another secretary, with Paul Bushart being chosen.

E. L. Cook was elected into the membership of the club. The names of Pete Garrett, Bob Rowland, and J. A. Reed were submitted for membership, and will be voted on at the next meeting.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IN SPECIAL SESSION

The Fulton Board of Education met in special session Monday night at the high school building to discuss the sale of bonds, amounting to $65,000, to the Bankers Bond Company and the Stein Brothers and Boyce of Louisville. These bonds were sold by the city of Fulton, at par value. This bond issue is to cover remaining expense of the new grade school, other than that taken care of by the WPA.

RAZING OF SCHOOL TO BEGIN SOON

Work on preparing class rooms in the Science Hall and the high school building to take care of the grade school pupils of West Fulton is progressing as rapidly as possible, and Supt. J. O. Lewis stated this week that officials hoped to be able to move the class rooms this week-end. In that event, students would leave school on Friday and return to the new rooms on Monday.

As soon as the rooms have been changed work will begin on the dismantling of the old Carr Institute building, and, following that, the construction of the fine new building.

TURKEYS TO BE RELEASED AT REELFOOT LAKE

The game and fish department of conservation has secured one thousand wild turkeys to release on 24 wooded acres in states where they will have an opportunity to multiply. Areas in which turkeys are being released include Reelfoot Lake.

Some of the turkeys have already been released and the remainder will be released by Nov. 1. There is no open season on wild turkeys and the season will not be opened until the birds become plentiful.

SOLDIER KILLED IN ACCIDENT WEDNESDAY

Louie Wawerina, soldier of Mulliken, Mich., died in the Fulton Hospital early Wednesday morning, shortly after an automobile accident, in which he received fatal injuries. The accident occurred a few miles out of Fulton on the Mayfield highway.

Wawerina and another soldier, King P. Gunther, both attending Air Corps Technical School at Keesler Field, Miss., were enroute back to school from a furlough spent with relatives in Michigan. Gunther was driving the car and stated that he fell asleep and the car ran off the highway and into a tree. Wawerina was thrown from the car, receiving fatal head injuries. The driver was uninjured.

A passing motorist brought Wawerina to the hospital where he died an hour later. His body was taken to the Hornbeak Funeral Home where it remained until Thursday night and was then shipped by train to Mulliken for funeral services.

BLUE RIBBON DAY IS HELD WEDNESDAY

The eighth annual Blue Ribbon Day for Obion County students was held Wednesday in Union City, sponsored by the Milton Talley Post, American Legion; the Parent-Teachers Association, the county health department and the county department of education.

Most colorful feature of the program was the annual Blue Ribbon parade, in which children of the first six grades of all schools in the county marched.

Leading the parade was the Fulton High School band and also in the procession were these bands: Union City High school, Union City Kiddie Band, Dresden, Huntingdon, Martin, Miles Junior high school and the Obion County band, which is made up of band students from South Fulton school and several other schools in the county.

The procession marched through the business districts and to the ball park where distinguished visitors were introduced, and a pageant, "The Health Parade" was presented by students of the fifth and sixth grades of all students in the county.

Students marching in the parade from this section of the county were from South Fulton, Hillcrest and Harris.

FARMERS ASKED FOR MORE FOOD, DESPITE SHORTAGE OF LABOR

How can farmers produce more food next year, in face of the farm labor shortage? The Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics has issued a statement in which members of the department of farm economics discuss the labor shortage and suggest ways whereby farmers may carry on.

"Unless labor adjustments are made on individual farms, there will necessarily be less total production as the farm labor supply declines," point out these economists. But these adjustments can be made in the following ways:

Reduce production or improvements in less important lines and maintain or increase production elsewhere. For instance, delay farm improvements and increase the production of hay and cattle.

Adopt improved methods, more mechanized equipment and improved varieties, so that net production will be maintained, despite labor shortage. The hiring of custom power work will tend to employ more fully the tractors and harvesters that are available.

Maintain the labor supply by using school boys, girls, women and other persons not ordinarily considered farm labor, to offset the movement of labor away from the farm.

He is well onward in the way of wisdom who can bear a reproof and mend by it.

City Council In Regular Session Monday

The Fulton City Council met in regular session Monday night of this week, when final steps were taken in the bond issue for the new school building. Under federal rules, the school property was transferred to the city and will be leased by the school until the bonded indebtedness is paid.

The regular business session of the council was brief. Reports were made and minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mayor Paul DeMyer was instructed to make temporary arrangements for a fire chief to replace Lee Roberts, who was recently retired. The temporary chief appointed will serve until January, when the new council will take office and a permanent one will be named.

DR. RICHMOND TO SPEAK IN FULTON

Armistice Day Program Planned By American Legion and School

L. T. Bugg, commander of the local American Legion Post, announced this week that Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State Teachers College, will come to Fulton on Armistice Day, November 11, to deliver a patriotic address at the Science Hall at 11 a.m.

Legionnaires, World War veterans, Boy Scouts, citizens and students will participate in a parade during the program. Both Fulton High and South Fulton schools will participate in the program, with several high school bands in the parade.

The football game between Fulton Bulldogs and Mayfield High will open at Fairfield Park at 2:15 p. m. Merchants will be asked to co-operate by closing their stores between the hours of 2:00 and 3:00 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged for the day, which has the support of all service clubs and the schools.

TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES HOLD MEETING IN PADUCAH

The West Kentucky Telephone Pioneers, an organization for telephone employees with 21 years service or more held a meeting at the Forest Hills Country Club in Paducah Saturday evening. About 250 members and their guests enjoyed a banquet and dance, with music by Vince Genovese and his orchestra.

Those attending from Fulton were Mr. and Mrs. Eston Browder, Miss Adolphus Latta, Mrs. Alma Lowe, Mrs. Calla Latta, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Morse, Miss Beulah Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Shelton, Miss Ouida Mell Vaden, Mrs. Homer Wilson and Mrs. Lila Hasings.

Miss Vaden was the winner of one of the three door prizes, a country ham.

AMERICA HAS BEEN ATTACKED, SAYS FDR

In a radio address to the nation Monday night, President Roosevelt asserted that "the shooting has started," and that "America has been attacked," and the nation stands ready to face its newest and greatest challenge. We Americans have cleared our decks and taken our battle stations, he avowed.

He advocated immediate revision of the neutrality act to provide for the arming of merchant ships, and to permit them to be free to carry our American goods into the harbors of our friends. Merchant ships must also be protected by the Navy, he declared.

Striking out at the labor troubles that abound in the nation he said that America's defense output must be multiplied and must not be hampered by the "selfish obstruction" of a small but dangerous minority of industrial managers or of labor leaders. He declared that the first objective of that defense is to "stop Hitler."

The president disclosed secret documents which he said originated with Hitler's government—one dividing South America into five vassal states and the other for abolishing all existing religions.

In speaking of the map of South America and part of Central America, he declared, Berlin experts have (Continued on Page Five)

HICKMAN CHURCH HOLDS DEDICATION SERVICE

The First Methodist Church of Hickman held its dedication service Sunday morning, October 26, at eleven o'clock with Bishop J. Lloyd Decell of Birmingham delivering the dedicatory sermon. Rev. W. King Dickerson is pastor of the church.

The Methodist Church was moved to its present site in 1840 and the present structure is the fourth one to be erected on this lot. The building preceding the new one burned in February, 1934. Almost immediately work started on the new building and it was completed in October of the same year. Rev. V. A. De Shazo, pastor of the Parkway Methodist Church, Memphis, was the pastor at that time.

The new building is valued at $35,000, and the church has 360 members.

Lunch was served during the noon hour by ladies of the church.

BAPTIST CHURCH HAS RADIO SERVICES

The First Baptist Church of Fulton sponsors a thirty-minute radio service each Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 2:00 p. m., broadcast from radio station WPAD, Paducah. Services are directed by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Autrey, and feature gospel messages which are planned to be of interest and help to this entire section. Station WPAD is 1450 k. c. on the radio dial and is well received in this section.

Everyone is urged to tune in at this time on Saturday, Nov. 1, and to inform friends and neighbors about these broadcasts. Rev. Autrey is anxious to know how many people are hearing these services and how the messages are received, and asks that each one contact him by telephone, card or letter, addressed to the First Baptist Church in Fulton.

REVIVAL AT NAZARENE CHURCH CONTINUES

Sunday was a great day at the Nazarene Church. The largest attendance ever greeted Superintendent Burgess at Sunday School. Almost a capacity house attended the preaching services which resulted in the salvation of many souls. The revival will continue throughout the week with the exception of Saturday.

Come every evening at seven o'clock. Sermons by Rev. Armond Calvert, pastor.

Duty only frowns when you flee from it; follow it, and it smiles upon you.

MENACE

Today America is face to face with many dangers. Not all of them carry machine guns or fly in dive bombers, but just the same, they imperil our safety and our happiness.

We are arming to protect our way of life from aggression. Yet the truth is that the entire force of Hitlerism, great as it is, constitutes a less tangible threat to our American standards of living than a careless method of financing the defense program. Unwise taxation can be as destructive as torpedoes.

Taxes are going up at such a rate that America must take stock of its entire tax situation—must enforce non-military economies and raise additional revenue in a wise and equitable manner. Already the average man here pays more to his government than the average Englishman does. High as our taxes are today, however, indications are that they are only the beginning of what we shall have to pay in the years to come.

The 100 billion dollars that are currently reported to be scheduled for defense are only a down payment on the final total, whatever it will be. Additional expenditures, interest charges—factors like these may well double that figure.

No one questions money spent for defending our freedom. But we must make sure that that money is raised wisely. Congress must bear in mind the problems of post-war adjustments, and particularly the future needs of business enterprises to meet payrolls and provide working capital in the years ahead. New taxes must be levied, but they must be levied in such a way that they will not hamper production and throw men out of work.

Great economies must also be made in non-defense spending. Before putting out one dollar for defense, we are hog-tied to an 1 billion dollar structure of federal, state and local non-defense expenditure, and this must be reduced. For, unless we finance the defense program wisely, we may find that economic disorganization at the end of this emergency may destroy the very things we are arming to keep.

TIGERS GET A CUT

A World Series share of $5,927.31 for the Detroit Tigers, who tied with Cleveland for fourth place in the American League the past season, was announced Tuesday by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis.

The Tigers voted full awards of $167.45 to 32 players and team officials, including Hank Greenberg, big outfield star who was inducted into the Army early in May. Smaller shares, ranging from $83.73 to $50 were awarded nine others.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

In view of the certainty that Federal Taxes of all kind will be sharply increased within the next year, it is apparent that the need for retrenchment is all-compelling. This is always difficult to achieve, because retrenchment means curtailment of government activities, and this means reducing the number of government employees and eliminating the functions of many bureaus. Inasmuch as the natural tendency of any bureaucracy is to expand and to hang onto its powers and privileges with barnacle-like tenacity, the politicians can always be counted upon to be extremely reluctant to pare down any items of expenditure that have stood at approximately the same level—or have been increased—during the last few years.

The importance of the state and local governments as spenders may be judged from the fact that in 1938 these two spent $10,500,000,000 compared to the Federal government's $7,700,000,000. Total expenditures for the states in 1938 were just double what they had been in 1929.

The time has now come when the citizens will have to take an active hand in bringing about reductions. This is why educational work such as Dr. Henry Wriston's who is president of the Citizen's Emergency Committee on Non-Defense Expenditures, is of so much value, and why complications of tax facts and figures such as the Tax Foundation has published can be important educational factors. Most people are only dimly aware of the facts. Once they understand them, they are more likely to do something about them.

Dissipation superimposed on the tremendous armament burden together with an already unprecedentedly high national debt, threatens the future stability of our country and points to chaos. To realize our objective of defense today but with hope for tomorrow, there must be a united, concentrated effort in all our 48 states, in all our local government units as well as in the Federal government. Vigorous and united nation-wide economy on non-defense spending in all three levels of government will not only protect the economic stability of our nation, it will go far to prove that our Democracy is a dynamic, valiant, realistic and successful way of life.

On September 22, 1941, the manufacture of white writing papers was stopped in every U. S. paper mill. This move—a military necessity—was taken in the American way. The paper industry reduced its use of chlorine by about 25 per cent to release this vital chemical for use in armaments. Now, what does this mean to you? It means a color change in your letterheads, invoices, statements and all printed stationery.

Be wise worldly, but not worldly wise.

There is no error so crooked, but it hath in it some lines of truth. An injury forgiven is better than an injury revenged.

A gossip and a liar are as alike as two peas.

SAME BOAT

The recent announcement of a plastic automobile suggests that the time may not be far distant when cars will be made entirely of products grown on the farm. When that happens, harvest time may come to mean a bumper crop of limousines.

The idea is not so fanciful as it might at first appear, for already many farm products are changed into industrial articles. Through the magic of research casein from milk becomes wool and also a plastic material. Corn is used in making glycerines and dry ice, cornstarch in making paper. Sugar cane goes into building boards; soy beans into paint, enamel and linoleum. One large chemical company alone buys 16 million bushels of cotton, 36 million pounds of cotton lint, and 36 million bushels of corn from farmers each year. As industrial research finds new uses for farm crops, industry will depend more and more on agriculture as a source of raw materials.

And agriculture, in turn, will depend on industry for more inventions like radios, telephones and labor-saving machinery that we have made the farm a much pleasanter place to live than it was a generation or two ago.

Because the two groups provide markets for each other's products, the prosperity of the one depends on the prosperity of the other. Past experience has shown that when industry is making money, agriculture is making money, too.

Facts like these prove that here in America, we've got a stake in each other's future. We may work in different parts of the country at different jobs. We may have different likes and dislikes. We may be divided into various groups—industrial workers, farmers, doctors, lawyers—but in the long run we're in the same boat.

And today we've got to work together to solve our common problems. We've got to work together to check inflation, finance defense, prevent unnecessary government controls on our freedom—in short we've all got to work together to insure continued prosperity in the years to come.

THE HUGE TAX BILL

The Senate has approved and returned to the House, for possible amendment, the toughest tax bill in American history. If it passes in its present form—and the odds are much against any major changes—the American people, next year, will really learn at first hand just how incredibly costly modern war is.

The bill is designed to raise $3,583,900,000—$367,000,000 more than the bill originally approved by the House. And it plans to raise it partly by reaching down into income levels which have never been subjected to direct Federal taxation before.

Most important change in the Senate bill over the House bill was the provision dropping income tax exemptions to $1,500 for married persons (previous exemption was $2,000), and to $750 for single persons (previous exemption was $800). This change alone, according to Treasury experts, is expected to yield an additional $303,000,000 annually. It is a change which has long been advocated by economists who believe that the burden of government cost is now so great that the middle and higher income brackets can no longer pay it. Thus, they reason, the only solution is to make the lower brackets feel the bite of taxation too.

This change was suggested by President Roosevelt when the tax bill was still before the House. The House revenue committee refused to adopt it. It is, therefore, likely that a strong effort will be made in the House now to up the exemption level.

The normal rate of income taxation—4 per cent—is retained. However, surtaxes will be imposed in far lower brackets than ever before. The surtax rates are very high, ranging from 10 per cent (which must be added to the normal 4 per cent) in the lowest brackets touched, and ranging up to 81 per cent in the top brackets. The existing normal corporation taxes will be retained and, in addition, surtaxes of 6 per cent on the first $25,000 of net income and 7 per cent on income above that amount, will be levied. Further, excess corporation profits will be hit hard. First $20,000 of excess profits will be taxed 35 per cent, as against the present rate of 25 per cent. The rate will go up until it reaches 60 per cent on excess profits over $500,000. Present rate at that level is 50 per cent.

Lastly, the bill levies a number of so-called "nuisance" taxes—taxes which fall into the sales and excise classifications. There will be a 7 per cent excise tax on automobile manufacturers, plus a $5 annual tax on all automobiles—a provision which amounts to a Federal car license fee. Wine taxes will be almost doubled and hard liquor taxes will be upped from $3 to $4 a gallon. Ten per cent taxes will be levied on local phone bills, theatre tickets, radios and other musical instruments, sporting goods, household equipment, photographic apparatus, etc.

Heavy as this tax bill is, few believe that it will prove adequate. Soon our arms spending alone will reach $3,000,000,000 a month—nearly as much as the new bill is designed to raise in an entire year. Total arms and aid-to-democracies spending will probably reach and perhaps surpass $50,000,000,000 depending on how long the war lasts. Many an authority is convinced that this bill is only a taste of what is to come—and that year of what is to come—and that the year following, the Congress may have to pass another bill which will make this one seem mild by comparison.

EAGLE FLIER KILLED

The English Air Ministry announced Tuesday that Pilot Officer James G. Coxeter, 24, of the American Eagle Squadron, was killed Monday in a flying accident over Britain. He was a native of Jacksonville, Fla., and attended the University of North Carolina.

BETTER MANAGEMENT WOULD PROVIDE MILK NEEDED FOR DEFENSE

The increased milk production which the Secretary of Agriculture asks for next year can be had by better feeding and management, without buying additional cows, says Dr. Fordyce Ely of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. This statement is made in a leaflet called "More Milk for National Defense."

Efficient use of pastures in season, and of hay and silage the rest of the time, offers Kentucky farmers an opportunity to produce more milk and butterfat at low cost, he believes. In a fall like the present one, it often is necessary to feed grain, especially to fresh or high-producing cows.

In view of increased foreign demand and government support of the market, it is stated in the leaflet that "no substantial lowering of the price of milk would be expected to result from a 6 or 8 per cent increase in production."

Dr. Ely believes that farmers should not rob their own families of milk and milk products, in order to increase their milk or butterfat sales. No one, he says, is urged to sell milk which should be used on the farm where it is produced, no matter how attractive the price may be.

The leaflet deals with feeding dairy cows and gives several kinds of grain rations for cows on pasture.

WILL DAY INJURED IN ACCIDENT SUNDAY

Will Day of McConnell was seriously injured Sunday when he was struck by an automobile on the Martin highway near Fulton. He was riding in a wagon when struck by the car.

Day suffered a fractured skull and was brought to the Haws Clinic for treatment.

America In Handcuffs

It is not the policy of this paper to tell its readers what to do and how to think.

That never has been our policy and, by the grace of God, it never will be our policy.

To be sure, we sometimes tell you what we think. That's only natural. And we won't pretend we don't hope that you oftentimes feel the same way about things as we do. That's only natural, too—only a hermit wants to be alone in his thoughts.

But sometimes just agreeing with one another is not enough.

This is one of those times.

There is a law on the statute books of our country which may well force us all to take our orders from an angry, moustached maniac who now resides in Berchtesgaden. This law is called the Neutrality Act. Briefly, it tells us Americans that we cannot carry on trade with a nation that is at war. It tells us a lot of other things, too. For one thing, it tells us that there is no such thing as the traditional right of freedom of the seas.

The moustached maniac in Berchtesgaden likes this law. He thinks it's the dandiest thing he ever heard of. Senator Nye, who seems to keep pretty much in step with the moustached maniac, likes this law, too. Senator Wheeler thinks it's grand. So does Mr. Lindbergh.

But we don't. We think the Neutrality Law brings the moustached maniac perilously close to our shores, perilously close to the complete domination of our lives, our speech, our freedom. We think the Neutrality Law is a handcuff around the wrists of America.

That's what we believe. We hope you agree with us. If you do, we aim to let our policy of not telling you what to do lapse for a minute. Just for a minute—tomorrow we'll be the same as we've always been.

So now we're telling you: Sit down, grab a pen, a pencil, a typewriter—anything that will put a few words on paper. Now WRITE! Write to Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in Washington. Don't waste words—just tell him you want the Neutrality Act Repealed NOW!

When you've finished that one, write some more. Write to your Senator and your Congressman telling them you're sick of being handcuffed by the Neutrality Act and that you want it repealed.

Wire them if you want, but don't delay! Do it now!

Those are orders—if you agree with us.

But remember—when the moustached maniac gives orders, you've GOT to agree.

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

One of the janitors of our school with whom I exchange all the funny stories I hear, told me an old yarn a few days ago and then remarked, "Who makes up such things?" I have heard thousands of yarns but never knew anybody who had made one. Then we discussed various kinds of age-old stories, and I told him how I had read in mediaeval Latin and German and French many of the very funny things that appear almost daily on comic radio programs. Like him I wonder who made them up. Of course, there are always local touches added by each new spinner of the yarn, but the motif goes away back into the early history of the race. A six-volume work on folktales motifs which I recently reviewed lists of many incidents that reappear in stories told all over the world. Cinderella, Little Red Ridinghood, the successful younger brother, the wicked step-mother, faithful pet—all are citizens of the world. And the nameless heroes or villains of the short jokes are just as much a part of human knowledge, whether people are savages or civilized beings.

All teachers are credited with loving to tell jokes. It is an accusation that I shall not attempt to deny. Some years ago it occurred that I could get the best laughs by telling only the jokes that were old when I could first remember. To my students, twenty to thirty years younger, these old gags seem bright and fresh, or, at least, they laugh. The only difficulty I have in telling such old stories is that I have to use a step-down transformer on many of them, since I could hardly "Gin them to others as they were gun to me," as Uncle

Remus says. I am convinced that probably the old story is always the best, chiefly because it has long been in human consciousness. These old-timers are folklores at its most primitive. A number of my friends have spent their graduate research work on folktales, with astonishing results. One comes to feel, somehow, after a long association with these elemental yarns that they probably represent the earliest stratum of our cultural ideas next to our fears and superstitions.

A very big percentage of the yarns at the store were and are from this unwritten but traditional stock. Some of the tales have been told so many times at the expense of some local person that probably everybody believes them as authentic history. I have often had to force myself to laugh heartily at some local story told with all the trappings of history, when I had had the same story told me equally plausibly in ten or fifteen other places. The characteristic of folk yarns that makes them most fascinating in their adaptability; in this way they take on local flavor and may be as variable as Joseph's coat of many colors.

I would like to ask, as did my janitor friend, where these yarns started. If we are as intelligent as we think ourselves to be, why do we not make up brand-new yarns, as distinctive as these old ones we have inherited? Is yarn-spinning or motif-making like word-creation, another art that is almost lost? With thousands of new things to say, we fall back on the basic words of the language, created when our ancestors were the most primitive savages. When I camp under a cliff or beside a spring or near a cave and exchange with my partner some choice folk tales, I wonder whether the unknown people who have lived in these same regions and whose flint workings I find everywhere did not entertain each other at their camp with some of the same yarns that we are spinning, colored only slightly by the time and the sophistication of the yarn-spinner.

Money Talks

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The seriousness of raw material shortages at this time has been indicated by Floyd B. Odum of the office of Production Management. Mr. Odum pointed out that 20,000 small firms might be shut down during the defense emergency because of the lack of raw material. Since many of these manufacturers are in small towns, you can see the widespread unemployment it will cause in these communities.

Both Mr. Odum and a "small business defense committee" of Congress are holding meetings throughout the country to see what can be done to open these plants. In Columbus, Ohio, over 300 manufacturers and dealers told the defense committee they would have to close their businesses unless they could get a "reasonable allocation" of metals, ethyl alcohol, cottons, woolens and other raw materials.

If there are small businesses in your community which are having difficulty in securing raw materials, they should get in touch with the Office of Production Management. This office is anxious to keep small industry alive, and it may be that it can aid you in securing defense contracts and raw materials. It may pay each of you to find out where regional meetings of the OPM are being held and attend them. You can then present your problems and also indicate what type of work your plant can do and how you can fit into the defense program. Immediate investigation of these problems may bring thousands of dollars to your community in defense contracts later on. If you don't act, some other communities will, and they will receive the benefit. You cannot afford to wait.

AMENDMENT PROPOSED KENTUCKY CONSTITUTION

The attention of all citizens is called to Constitutional Amendment No. 1, which will appear upon the ballot at the general election on November 4, 1941.

This amendment, if adopted, will permit the Legislature to appropriate funds in addition to the present school per capita to those school districts in the state where the educational services offered the children are below standard.

Constitutional Amendment No. 1 has been endorsed by the Kentucky Education Association, the State Board of Education, the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Kentucky Federation of Labor, the State Farm Bureau, and other civic organizations. It is non-partisan and non-political, and its only purpose is to make possible improved educational services throughout the state.

In the past Kentuckians have been slow to amend the State Constitution. This amendment, however, is one of the most constructive proposals that has been brought to the attention of the voters for many years. It is worthy of the support of all Kentuckians.

Liars begin by imposing on others, but end by deceiving themselves.

Life's trials may be hard to bear, but patience can outlive them.

HOW MANY JOBS IN KENTUCKY'S BEER INDUSTRY?

A.: More than 15,000 people hold jobs in this state's legal beer industry!

Q.: What does that amount to in dollars and cents?

A.: $10,000,000 every year.

Q.: What does this mean to Kentucky's workers?

A.: Steady jobs, good pay, food and clothing, comfort and security—for about 50,000 Kentuckians.

Q.: What is the beer industry doing to protect these benefits?

A.: This committee cooperates with law enforcement officials to keep retail beer outlets wholesome. We do not and will not tolerate law violations by a few undesirable beer retailers.

Q.: Is this program getting results?

A.: Here they are for the past two years:

23 retail licenses revoked
7 beer licenses suspended
2 places padlocked forever
2 license applications refused

This record of action resulted from our recommendations to law enforcement officers.

YOU CAN HELP by buying your beer in law-abiding, orderly places, and by boycotting beer dealers who break the law.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

HOLIDAY HOPES—The nation's large storekeepers, undismayed by signs of stiffening sales resistance, are still figuring on the biggest Christmas trade in history. Shelves are overflowing and stocks are the largest ever. In many cases big stores acquired special warehouses early in the year to hold overflow supplies. So they're ready for any conceivable demand in the gift lines. Store inventories in various cities are bigger by from 23 to 53 per cent than last year. . . . Merchants anticipate no backtracking from the trend to more sales in the "luxury" lines, and to demand for staples in higher price brackets, generally. . . . Yet the relapse from the "beat the luxury tax" buying splurge of Sept. 29-30 is now discernible in the fact that national department store sales for the week ending October 18 were up only a modest 7 per cent. . . . And retail prices are now beginning to reflect more sharply the increases in wholesale quotations several months ago.

WASHINGTON — The "spread the work" drive of OPM is being not only intensified, but also dramatized. Three special red, white and blue trains will pull out of here Nov. 10, carrying defense officials on a three-way 30-day tour of the country. Object is to let Army, Navy, Maritime Commission and OPM officials interview defense-eager manufacturers at principal cities along the route, "get together" on subcontracting and "conversion possibilities. . . . Another phase of the same drive is seen in the awarding of a $12,000,000 contract, for 50-calibre anti-aircraft gun mounts, to three companies in the household washer and ironer industry, in which, all told, 34 companies have been "certified" for special consideration because defense has stalled their peacetime activities.

AUTO PLAN—The problem of how to adjust matters to the demands of armaments and the auto industry so as to take care of defense needs without cutting car output to an uneconomic low level has been a major one for months. Now SPAB has a 14-point plan, presented by Joseph W. Frazier, president of Willys-Overland and member of the OPM automobile advisory committee, that would "release 454,808,270 pounds of raw materials for defense and at the same time keep civilian transportation wheels rolling." Basic features of the plan: production of only lightest-weight car or series now being built by each parent manufacturer; allocation of production on the basis of critical materials used, volume needed for successful plant operation, and number of dealers dependent on a manufacturer; elimination of deluxe models and production of only two-door and four-door sedan models. It gets down to brass tacks in calling for a master inventory to determine the amount of raw materials available after military and lend-lease requirements have been filled, and then "allocation of these materials to the industries producing items essential to the civilian as it relates to defense."

BITS O'BUSINESS — Furniture business going strong—for the first eight months of the year 22 per cent ahead of 1940 pace, and with final quarter expected to be even bigger. . . . Military tanks, an industry that wasn't even in existence 18 months ago in this country, by the middle of 1942 will be a "billion-dollar" industry—it's now producing at the rate of $25,000,000 worth a month, and is scheduled to double that by this year's end, double it again in first half of '42. . . . Standard equipment on one of Uncle Sam's battleships includes about 100 typewriters—to say nothing of some 60 filing cabinets, 20 adding machines and a pair of cash registers. . . . Banks are combing the woods for new tellers—as fast as they get them trained defense plants grab them for paymasters. . . . One of the country's largest vanity-case manufacturers found it easy to switch his machinery over to making shell cases. . . . Carnegie-Illinois steel announces a $15,000,000 expansion program in Gary, Ind.

Let all your things have their place; let each part of your business have its time.

Confess that you were wrong yesterday; it will show that you are wise today.

BULLDOGS ARE DEFEATED 14-13 BY RUSSELLVILLE

The Fulton High Bulldogs were defeated by the Russellville Panthers 14 to 13 last Friday night in Russellville, in a game that saw Fulton receive all the bad breaks. The Bulldogs were threatening to score again when the final whistle blew and had the ball on the Russellville ten-yard line.

The Panthers took an early lead and held it until the second quarter when the Bulldogs tied the score 7 to 7. Neither side scored in the third and the Bulldogs began the fourth with a steady determination. Willingham had been forced from the game by illness but his position was ably filled by Moore, who drove off-tackle for the last Bulldog score. The try for the extra point failed and the score stood 13 to 7, with only minutes to go. Russellville had the ball on Fulton's twelve yard line where the ball got away from Chapman and was captured by Nelms. Here two of the officials signaled that it was Fulton's ball, when the third official reversed the decision, giving the ball to Russellville, who scored on the next play.

Lineup:

Fulton	Pos.	Russellville
Nelms	LE	Holloway
Hartman	LT	Gorrell
Davis	LG	Thurmond
McKenzie	C	Cruscott
Wiley	RG	Chesser
Tosh	RT	Williams
Spence	RE	Arnold
Moore	QB	Chapman
Whitesell	HB	Coffman
McClellan	HB	Hughes
Willingham	FB	Davis

Substitutions: Fulton — Sharpe, Sensing, Hart, Steele.

The Lexington, Tenn., team will come to Fulton Friday for a game with the Bulldogs. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

FULTON CIRCUIT

E. B. Rucker, Pastor Let the officials of the churches note the date of adjourned session of Fourth Quarterly conference on Saturday, November 8, at Mt. Moriah. Please be present at 10:30; that is the hour for business.

We trust those churches that have not paid all the Benevolences will make another attempt to have the full amount in hand.

Let all the church schools make out a report for the year and hand to the pastor. It is impossible for him to make his report without yours. He has to combine all the schools into one report for the charge.

Only three have appeared as yet to help paint the parsonage, Herschel Bennett from Pleasant Hill, W. W. Henley and his son-in-law, Mr. Yates, from Bethlehem. We are looking for you daily.

Only three more preaching services for the year, Sunday morning at Bethlehem, evening at Rice City, 6 o'clock. Second Sunday morning at Wesley. It is painful and maybe suspicious when some of the members absent themselves on the last service. Come along and let's worship together.

FULTON HOSPITAL

W. N. Brasfield of Hickman, Route 4, is getting along fine.

Frank Provov is improving.

Mrs. Julia Rawls is doing nicely.

Mrs. Harry Jonakin and son were dismissed Sunday.

Martha Ann Rushing was dismissed Saturday.

Mrs. Lucian Wilkins was dismissed Friday.

Charles Lowell Glisson was dismissed Saturday morning.

Mrs. Paul Wade and son were dismissed Saturday.

Mrs. Harold Newton and son were dismissed Saturday.

Mrs. Roy McClellan was dismissed Sunday.

Patsy Ann Covington was admitted Monday for a tonsil operation and was dismissed Tuesday.

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches; and loving favor rather than silver and gold.

TOO MUCH POLITICS

"The net result of the conflicting testimony before the Senate Committee investigating oil shortages, is to create grave doubts concerning the necessity of continuing the oil conservation program," says the Washington Post. "If shippers are free to use the surplus cars located by the Association of American Railroads, there will be little reason to fear oil shortages in this area in the near future. If they are not, the public wants to know whether anything can be done by the petroleum coordinator's office to bring about more efficient use of the existing supply of cars."

The oil industry can produce oil in any needed quantity. The railroads can carry tremendous amounts of that oil. All in all, it looks as if the dire predictions were without justification at the time they were made, and that the public was needlessly inconvenienced.

EDUCATIONAL DEFENSE MEETINGS ARE HELD

Pewitt, Chairman of the Fulton County Agricultural Defense Board, announces that within the next few weeks a representative of the county board will call on each farmer to learn what increases he will make in food production in 1942 as a contribution to national defense.

Major increases needed in Kentucky, according to the State Agricultural Defense Board, are 27,648,000 gallons more milk than is being produced in 1941, an additional 10,212,000 dozen eggs and marketing of an additional 21,127,000 pounds of beef and veal.

Besides these increases, Mr. Pewitt points out, increases in certain other foods and feeds will be needed in this county, and these will be included in the Farm Defense Program plans which each farmer will be asked to make.

If we are to reach these goals, Mr. Pewitt said, farmers will have to produce more than they have ever produced in the history of the United States. But this is no time to over-produce on wheat, cotton and tobacco, of which these are abundant supplies on hand, he added.

Farming "as usual" will not be either profitable or helpful in national defense, Mr. Pewitt points out, because the request for increased production is in needed commodities, for which there is a rising demand, and is not a request for a blanket increase in all types of farm products.

In order that Fulton County Farmers may assist the County Agricultural Defense Board in making a speedy and thorough survey of farm production plans for 1942, Mr. Pewitt suggests that they begin now to:

1. Check farm crops and livestock to see what products can be increased, maintained or reduced in line with national needs.

2. Check with the County Defense Board on processing and handling facilities for crops or products they plan to produce.

3. Start carrying out 1942 production plans now by laying in supplies of seeds, fertilizers and other materials that will be needed.

For additional information or assistance in planning participation in the Farm Defense Program, farmers are advised to see the County Agricultural Defense Board, representing all agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, or to see County Representatives of these agencies in their districts or communities.

AMERICA HAS BEEN ATTACKED, ROOSEVELT

"ruthlessly obliterated all existing boundaries" and have divided South America into five vassal states, bringing the whole continent under their domination. In one of these new puppet states would be the Republic of Panama—and the Panama Canal. This map makes clear, the Chief Executive said, the Nazi design not only against South America but against the United States itself.

The Nazi would abolish all religions—Protestant, Catholic, Mohammedan, Hindu, Buddhist and Jewish alike—and impose on a Nazi-dominated world if Hitler won, an International church. In this church the words of Hitler's Mein Kampf would replace the Bible. The God of blood and iron will take the place of love and mercy if Hitler has his way, the president asserted.

He turned upon the labor leaders to rally to the national defense program, and indicated that drastic action would be taken by the government against labor radicals like John L. Lewis and others who refuse to respond to all efforts of compromise.

1942 TOBACCO ALLOTMENTS TO BE SAME AS IN 1941

Tobacco allotments for burley, dark air-cured and dark fire-cured types will be the same in the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program as in 1941, the State AAA Office announces.

H. M. Pewitt, Chairman of the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association, points out that this means all farm allotments will remain the same except where adjustments are required because of marketing quotas violations or other special conditions defined in laws and regulations.

Total State allotments for the three major types of tobacco grown in Kentucky are: Burley, 264,275 acres; dark air-cured, 30,780 acres; and dark fire-cured, 33,150.

Mr. Pewitt points out that farmers who have kept their tobacco acreage within allotments under the program and who have used the program's soil-building allowances to build up their land are now in position to produce larger quantities of foods needed in the defense program.

Many farmers, he states, may find it profitable to shift more of their time from growing tobacco to production of meat, poultry and dairy products for which there is a growing demand.

The majority of pedestrians killed in traffic accidents meet death after dark. Four out of five adult pedestrians who are killed in traffic lose their lives between 5 p. m. and 1 a. m.

Studies also show that the pedestrian who has never driven a car is very unfamiliar with the limitations of the automobile as well as the limitations and inabilities of many drivers. Therefore, the pedestrian takes unnecessary chances because of his lack of knowledge, and, in many instances, accidents are not the fault of the driver.

Our schools are making rapid strides in educating our pedestrians and education is one of the important steps towards eliminating pedestrian accidents.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Criticism of this nation's arms effort continues to mount. According to one of the latest surveys, it will be another year before our military production rivals that of England. Inasmuch as we have three times the population of Britain, and have many times the resources of all kinds, it is apparent that we are still a long, long way from anything resembling an "all out" armament program.

In some quarters it is believed that our actual production may be greater than official announcement indicates—that, in other words, the extent of our arms output is being deliberately played down as a matter of policy. Whether this is true or not, however, a great many authorities are convinced that some radical changes must be effected before this nation's "arsenal of democracy" dream is even partially realized.

There are three definite factions involved in the defense program. Number one is the government. Here there has been an excessive overlapping of activity. There has been too much divided responsibility. Some of the more extreme New Dealers, according to informed critics, have put their ideological ambitions ahead of anything else, at the expense of military production. A number of the much-touted experts who have been given key jobs, have proven failures. And the age-old vices of bureaucracy—slowness and lack of initiative—have been retarding elements.

The second factor is industry. By and large, it has responded well to the demands of the emergency. But certain important segments, consciously or otherwise, seem to have been unwilling or unable to abandon the "business as usual" idea. This segment of industry, in the opinion of its critics, has been too cautious, too fearful of losing profits. That has delayed the harsh changeover from a peacetime to a wartime basis of operation.

The third factor is labor. Here, again, an important segment has put personal power and profit ahead of the needs of the nation. Strikes in defense industries have cost the country millions of man-days of work. They have prevented the manufacture of unknown quantities of planes, tanks and other weapons of war. In these days, a strike carried on by a few workers in a vital plant, can stop production in a hundred plants. A late example is the strike in a plant which produces transmissions for motor vehicles. That brought the production of trucks, tanks, jeep cars and other motorized equipment to a standstill. This particular strike was purely a jurisdictional disagreement between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

It is reported that the President is considering a tremendous "victory drive" involving the spending of $50,000,000,000 a year. Some of the more level-headed friends of labor are felling it that continued strikes will result in disaster for the trade-union movement. There are rumors to the effect that production of heavy consumer goods, such as motor cars, may come to a virtual stop inside a few months. What will come of all this remains to be seen. In any case, it is plain that the tempo of America's war effort must be tremendously accelerated if we are to produce the goods which the beleaguered Allies abroad must have if Hitler is to be stopped.

The hand of Hitler can be seen in the recent changes which have taken place in the Japanese government. And time may prove that Hitler won a considerable diplomatic victory when the moderate Konoye government gave up the ghost, and the saber-rattling government of Axis-admiring General Tojo came in.

The advantage of this to Hitler is clear. First, if this country is forced to face a naval threat in the Pacific, its naval efforts in the Atlantic will necessarily be limited. We haven't got a two-ocean navy, and we won't have one for four or more years. It is unquestioned that a U. S.-Japanese naval war would be of immense service to the Axis.

Second, the new Japanese government constitutes a threat to Asiatic Russia. Rumors fly about that Japan may seize the vital port of Vladivostok. And the only fresh troops Russia has are in Eastern garrisons. If Japan offered no danger, Russia could bring them and their supplies to bolster her weakened forces in Europe. But if Japan threatens, she is between the devil and the deep blue sea.

In Washington, the Japanese change of government made a comparatively small stir. As columnist Paul Mallon put it, "The fluctuating wrath of Tokyo caused considerably less than the expected reaction. Over-committed in China, torn with political dissension within, threatened with economic starvation, Tokyo would have to exhibit a lot of wrath to frighten anyone."

Is it an open secret that many high-ranking U. S. Naval officers would welcome a naval showdown with Nippon. They think we could win that war in fairly quick time. But, should it come, our air-to-England program would certainly have to be slowed down to a walk for the duration of hostilities in the Pacific.

LEARNING IN SILENCE

This sermon was contributed by Rev. E. A. Autrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Fulton: Ps. 46:10

The purpose of the Psalm may be clearly learned by the expressions in it. The people were greatly disturbed because of reverses, wars, disasters, and kindred things. David seeks to quiet them by making a plea for God.

I. It is an appeal to give God a Chance.

1. They had forgotten God in the scramble of life. They had practically voted him out of their national life. They had crowded him out of their individual lives. Now look at life where God has been ignored.

2. The plea is for us as well as for them. In this age of materialism when men trust in wealth, organizations and efficiency, it is easy to lose sight of God. In this age of militarism, when men seek their victories by the means of armed forces, and super-powerful equipment, it is likely that they will leave God out.

3. Let us learn that materialistic display does not always mean power. A school is not measured by the noise of a pep rally, nor is the music of a band determined by the flash of its uniforms, nor is the happiness of a home measured by the finery of its decorations, nor is a church estimated by the bigness of its buildings.

II. It is an appeal to give our souls a chance.

1. These Jews had centered all their thoughts on the building of a national life, magnifying only the material—but they had lost sight of their spiritual conditions. They magnified the minor and lost sight of the major thing in life.

2. Men need to learn that God is more important than gold, and that God is learned in the silent moments of life, not in the glamor of the footlights. Open conflicts must come, but the outcome of them is nearly always determined beforehand, in the secret place, before the first gun is fired.

3. All worthwhile things are learned in the secret place. Art, Music, Science, Poetry, Prayer, Faith, etc. They may wait for the public place to be found out, but they were learned in the secret. The Hebrews never acquired their faith after they were put in the fiery furnace, nor did Daniel wait until he was put in the den of lions.

III. It is an appeal to give these solitudes a chance.

1. "Be still and know that I am God." This can not be learned unless one is still, meditative. The quiet places are God's schoolrooms, he meets his pupils there.

2. Prayer is more often listening to God rather than speaking to Him. The Psalmist said, "I will hear what God will say."

3. Sickness is a great schoolroom. Paul learned some of his best lessons in prison dungeons.

SILO SIMPKINS SAYS

Food and more of it is the farmer's contribution to defense.

Protection from dampness and drafts are requirements many poultry houses fail to meet.

Sensing one of the first needs of the New World, Columbus brought livestock to America on his second voyage.

The farmer who succeeds with crops, cows and hens, must weed, feed and breed, and keep continually at it.

The best corn is produced on strong, healthy stalks. This is one reason seed corn should be selected in the field.

Authorities claim that for every dollar bees bring in from honey, they do at least twenty dollars worth of good for the farmer by pollinating vegetables, fruits and clovers.

We should produce all the cotton and tobacco we need and more food—particularly milk, eggs, poultry and fruits—than we need, so as to have that promised countries resisting aggression.

O. the average, hens in the United States lay about 100 eggs a year. Yet records show that when the yearly production is increased from 100 to 200 eggs per hen, the poultryman gets about four times as much for the work of taking care of the chickens.

MISUSES OF THE TELEPHONE

Here are some of the common mis-uses of the telephone which account for a large portion of service interruptions.

It is surprising how many people forget to hang up the receiver when they finish a telephone conversation. Whenever you do this you put your telephone out of order until you remember to replace the receiver or a telephone "trouble man" is sent out to tell you.

Many telephone users jiggle the receiver hook, when they wish to recall the operator on the line. When this is done the operator gets no signal at all. To get the operator back on the line move the receiver hook up and down slowly.

Many people have difficulty in making others understand them over the telephone, because they talk at their telephones instead of into them. When speaking over the telephone keep the lips about an inch from the mouthpiece and speak directly into it in a natural tone of voice.

One of the most common causes of telephone trouble is twisted cords. Keeping telephone cords free of kinks will avoid trouble on your line.

Telephone attachments are another source of trouble. Many of the devices sold hinder or interfere with the operation of the telephone. Nothing should be attached to telephone instruments unless approved by the Telephone Company.

Party-line users frequently cause annoyance to themselves and others on the same line with them by lifting the receiver from the hook before the bell stops ringing. When you do this it causes the bell of the party on the line with you to ring.

Care in avoiding these mis-uses of the telephone will result in improved, more satisfactory and dependable telephone service.

RECENT RAINS IMPROVE FALL FISHING

With a series of general rains raising stream levels in most parts of the state, an increasing number of reports are being received of improved fishing in both ponds and streams. S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, said this week. While there are fewer anglers active now than during the summer months, reports indicate that some real catches are being made. Most fishermen claim that sports are better during cool weather than in summer, giving as a reason that many species are generally sluggish in hot weather.

FLIES CARRY VIRUS CRIPPLING POLIO

Scientists Claim Insects Are Infected From Sewage

Discovery that flies carry the virus of infantile paralysis was reported to the American Public Health Association by Dr. John L. Paul and Dr. James D. Trask of the University of Medicine.

This may explain some of the mysteries of the disease which cripples about 10,000 persons annually and causes the deaths of from 500 to 1000.

Previous to the work of Dr. Trask and Dr. Paul, investigators had found that the virus of poliomyelitis was carried in sewage.

"This indicated that, as poliomyelitis is a disease of Summer and in its most severe form a disease of the rural areas, the virus in an open sewer or privy must come in contact with many living things," the Yale scientists reasoned.

They set fly traps in rural areas and got out their butterfly nets. Their hunch proved right and on two occasions they captured flies carrying the virus of infantile paralysis, which, when extracted and injected into animals, caused quick crippling and frequent deaths.

Accidental deaths are increasing. The traffic toll for this year is 18 per cent higher than it was in 1940. The year 1941 will probably reach a record high in accidental deaths. War, diseases, floods, and accidents are taking lives daily. The automobile is responsible in a large part for the increase in the death toll.

We are moving too fast. Cars have passed me at a terrific rate of speed, only to drive on another half-mile and park at a tavern. What is the sense of this? It's smart to drive carefully.

The processing of peanut oil is one of the principal industries of Canton, China, at the present time, there being 45 small peanut oil refineries in the city.

A man may have a just esteem of himself without being proud.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF YOUTH

By Ruth Taylor

The young people of today are most definite in their demands for "the rights of Youth." They know what they want and they are glib in expressing their desires. They are terribly sure of what is right and wrong, and they go most thoroughly and analytically into everything except their own obligations to society.

Youth has a responsibility in this life. The young people may grieve about the mistakes and shortcomings of their elders—but are they seizing every opportunity to gain the knowledge that would fit them to do more than their elders? Will they be better equipped for the task of making a new world out of the devastation that will be left after the present chaos has subsided? Their opportunities for education have been greater than those of their fathers, and therefore, the responsibility of Youth will be greater.

The strain on the coming generation will be great. Those who take up citizenship in this transition period will require initiative, resourcefulness, adaptability and idealism. They must have the ability to produce something for the good of all, for there will be no room for parasites.

Youth has before it now the task of preparing for the days ahead, and it must prepare by learning how to think things out and think things through. It will need initiative in order to plan constructively. It will need resourcefulness which must be gained by practical experience. It will need adaptability, which means an ability to cooperate with its fellows.

But most of all it will need idealism—but it must be a constructive idealism. Youth could well take for its creed today the Oath of Citizenship which the Youth of Athens took upon arriving at their majority.

"To bring no disgrace to this city by a dishonest act; to fight for the ideals and sacred things alone and with many; to desert no faltering comrade; to revere and obey the city laws; to incite respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught. To strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty. To transmit this city no less but more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

If the Youth of today would do this, there would be no need for fear for the future.

HITLER AND THE DEVIL

Hitler called the Devil up on the telephone one day.

The girl at Central listened to all they had to say.

"Hello," she heard Hitler say, is old man Satan home?

Just tell him the dictator wants him on the phone.

The Devil said howdy and Hitler said How are you.

I'm running a hell here on earth, so tell me what to do.

What can I do, dear old pal mine?" the devil said.

It seems you don't need any help, you're doing fine.

Yes, I was doing fine until a while ago.

When a man named Roosevelt wired me to go more slow.

He said to me, "Dear Hitler, we don't want to be unkind."

But you have raised hell enough, you'd better change your mind.

I thought his lease-lend bill was bluff and he could never get it through.

But he soon put me on the spot when he showed me what he could do.

Now that's why I called you Satan—I need advice from you.

For I know that you will tell me just what I ought to do.

My dear Hitler, there is not much left to tell.

For Uncle Sam will make it hotter than I can here in Hell.

I have been a mean old devil but not half as mean as you.

So the minute that you get here the job is yours to do.

I'll be ready for your coming and I'll keep the fires all bright.

And I'll have your room all ready when Sam begins to fight.

For I can see your days are numbered and there's nothing more to tell.

So hang up your phone, get your hat and meet me here in Hell!

—Peter P. Bell

FOUR FULTON STUDENTS ARE IN MURRAY BAND

Murray State Teachers College has an excellent band this year, composed of 94 musicians, under the able leadership of Prof. W. H. Fox. The band not only marches and plays but also sings and has special dancing numbers.

Among members of the band are four students of Fulton and their names and instruments are: Tommy James, tuba; Kathleen Winters, percussion; Mary Ethel Lansden, percussion; Jeanne Nall, Clarinet.

WILL USE ICE-BREAKERS

The Commerce Department announced this week that ice-breakers and special weather forecasts, aerial patrols and other services will be used to keep traffic moving on the Great Lakes as late as possible this year to facilitate movement of ore to defense industries.

REMODELING HELPS SAVE ON CLOTHING

To fight rising prices of clothing, women in the Dundee Homemakers' club in Hart county have a remodeling program. One woman remade a man's suit into a woolen dress at a cost of 37 cents. Another woman found enough velvet scraps in a rag bag to make a beret, her only expense being 25 cents for a feather and a buckle. Then one homemaker made a purse from soft drink bottle tops. "It was lovely, new and different, and cost 10 cents for a can of shellac and 25 cents for a zipper," says Mrs. Marcey Davis Stewart, county home home demonstration agent.

LIGHT CONDITIONING

—Makes Seeing So Much Easier When You Read or Study

YES, the youngsters certainly should have the best of lighting when they toil through their evening home work. For better light means better sight. It protects eyes. It saves energy.

But the same goes for Dad and Mom, Grampaw and Grammaw, Aunt Ella and Uncle Gus . . . when they read, or study the war maps, or sew, or play cards. They're entitled to good lighting too.

You can be sure of proper illumination if you'll light condition your home with I. E. S. Better Sight Lamps. There's a choice of floor lamps, table lamps, pin-to-wall lamps, in many styles at prices you can afford. And you can start with one lamp in one room.

YOUNG "DEMO" CLUBS TO MEET NOV. 14-15

When the delegates from the Young Democratic Clubs of Kentucky will gather in Louisville on November 14 and 15 for their Fifth Biennial Convention, they will find a full business program garnished with a sparkling round of entertainment. Outstanding speakers have been invited to discuss the affairs of both state and nation.

Included on the speakers list are Senator Alben W. Barkley, Floor Leader in the United States Senate; United States Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler; Governor Keen Johnson; Lieut. Gov. Rodes K. Myers; Joe Carr, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America and present Secretary of State in Tennessee; Miss Patricia Firestone, vice president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America. Word has been received that all of the eight Kentucky Democratic representatives in Congress will make an effort to attend the convention.

The Convention will open Friday morning, November 14, with the keynote address. After business sessions in the morning and afternoon, the convention ball will be held Friday night in the Gold Ballroom of the Kentucky Hotel. Saturday morning will be given over to business sessions and in the afternoon the election of officers for the next two years will complete the business end of the convention. The remainder of the time will be spent in social activities, which will include a second dance at the Hotel.

The Young Democratic Clubs of Kentucky, which is the second largest organization of its kind in the United States, holds the distinction of having always had the largest state convention of any of the nation's clubs and this year will be no exception. The State convention is expected to vie in size and number of attendants with the National meeting held in August.

County clubs all over the state are holding special meetings to elect voting delegates to the meet.

None are so fond of secrets as those who don't mean to keep them. They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.

He that listeneth for what people say of him shall never have peace.

Thou art wise, if thou beat off petty troubles, nor suffer their stinging to fret thee.

Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much; Wisdom is humble that he knows no more.
