WILL APPEAL.

Prosecuting Attorney Campbell Was Very Much Dissatisfied.

Cases "Tried in the Police Court
This Morning by Judge Sauders.

Prosecuting Attorney Wheeler Campbell this morning after police court announced that he would take an appeal in the case against Mrs.
Philander Poole, charged with poisoning a deadly weapon at a boy named Murray. The case is the one alleged to have shot at the boy, who was on a wheel shot, and according to the witnesses doing nothing to exasperate the woman when she shot.

She was fined $5 and costs for shooting inside the city limits, and the prosecuting attorney while he admits that the boys in that locality may be pretty bad, it does not reduce her status in the least. He expects to take it to a higher court.

The case against Will Briggs, charged with cutting Bud Henderson was continued until Wednesday week, on account of Henderson's condition.

The most monotonous case was a writ of habeas corpus for two second merchants, M. Marx and Charles Michael. The latter had Marx arrested for pulling a customer from his store yesterday afternoon. This has long been a source of great trouble among the merchants of that locality. There were many witnesses and upon the conclusion of the witnesses' testimony the case was dismissed.

The false swearing case against Alex Thomas, which has been on the docket for several days, was particularly heard and left open until tomorrow.

Mrs. Philander Poole, charged with shooting at a boy Sunday, was fined $5 and costs in the police court this morning.

W. T. Herring, who was charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $3 and costs this morning. He resisted and had to be clubbed by Officers Crow and Kitter.

Joe Harris was fined $1 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Annie Ramsey and Adeline Morton, two notorious colored street walkers, were fined $5 and costs each.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

"Remember the Maine," a naval play by Lincoln J. Carter, will be given at the opera house next Friday night. The music possibilities suggested by the title, it is said, have been fully improved, and the name of Lincoln J. Carter seems to assure this. "Remember the Maine" contains tropical scenes, feats of vessels engaged in battle in the distance and discusses a monstrous sea monster, the moving of which is a special arrangement had to be made. In addition to the regular scenes of the play, Mr.
Carter has supplied handsome spectacles of a patriotic nature and discussing light pictures of Lincoln, Can-ban slave, McKinley, Remember Me, Dewey, the Maine. Elaborate preparations have been made and the prediction, it is promised, will surpass all the other Carter plays.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The democratic state convention met today at noon, but nobody seems to know who is to be nominated for governor. Many conferences have been held, but no states have been made public. An immense crowd is in attendance.

A silver delegate who tried to inwas declared out of order.

After a short session the conven-

London, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Guilford, who was supposed to have been arrested by Liverpool detectives, is supposed to have given the detectives the slip.

The woman supposed to be the Connecticut murderess arrived yesterday in Montreal on the steamer Vancouver, and detectives immediately shadowed her. But she has evidently given them the slip and escaped.

WEDDING TOMORROW

Mr. Albert Dunsmuir and Miss Freddie Baumgardt to Marry.

Ceremony to Be Performed at the Home of the Bride by Rev.
Hartenberger.

A pretty home wedding will take place tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, 1715 Broad street. Miss Freddie Baumgardt, a pretty and popular South Side belle, will be united in marriage to Mr. Albert Dunsmuir, the well known gardener. Rev. Hartenberger, of the German Lutheran church, will perform the ceremony.

Friends and relatives of the couple have been invited and there will be a large crowd to witness the marriage.
Both are well known young people.
Mr. Dunsmuir has many friends here, and lives on North Tenth street. His bride-to-be is one of the prettiest young ladies in Paducah.

CUT HIS THROAT.

News of a Fatal Affray in Graves County Received Today.

News of a fatal cutting affray in Graves county reached the city today. Tom Reed, a farmer of Paducah county, was drunk at a barbecue, and his friend and neighbor, John Hendrickson, volunteered to take him home.

It seems Reed objected to going home, and when Hendrickson stooped to pick him up, reached up with a knife and cut his throat.

This morning he was reported as being in a dying condition, with little or no hope of recovery. The news of the affray did not reach the city until this morning.

one that pushed through. Two of the number were drowned, two are

In the swift Chelvey river in the

THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

His Plan for Improving Portions of Four Streets, Storm Sewers and a Market House.

Would Pay For These Public Improvements by the Issuing of Bonds to the Extent of $100,000.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 27, 1898.

To the Members of the Common Council:

Gentlemen: As you are doubtless aware, the streets of our city are too narrow, especially in this true of the business portion there. The time has come, or will soon arrive, when some must be remodeled.

First, the gutters must be reconstructed, all are too deep. In the business portion of the city, all drainage has been planned (which is the correct idea) to drain from midway the block on either side of streets running north and south, to streets running east and west, thence to the river; yet these gutters, which should begin at nothing, in the center, or almost level with the curb to a very shallow depth at most, where, emptying into east and west drains, are nearly deep enough to float small water craft if filled with water; this being wrong in theory, and horrible in practice.

The remedy is, put in at the head of drainage on each east and west street, beginning at Seventh street, and run same to the river under the gutters, a sub-drain, into storm water sewer, of adequate size, and properly constructed on Washington street, Court street, Broadway and Jefferson street. All in over all this to nearly level with the curb, thereby removing from these thoroughfares all wooden culverts, wooden bridges, etc., and thus giving to commerce about a foot of useful street space now given over to deep and unsatisfactory gutters. This would obviate the collection of filth in same and the necessity of the expense of the effort now ineffectually adopted to keep them clean.

After sub-sewering as outlined, reconstruct gutters on the cross streets, regarding these to a very shallow depth, sufficient only to carry the rain fall one-half block either way, emptying into brick culverts, or basins of the sub-sewer, at each intersection, thereby widening all cross or intersecting streets, making them both slightly and useful. The increasing volume of traffic of our city, while demanding the utilization of every inch of the breadth of streets, also necessitates the investigation of some stable material of use to construct same. There is no absolutely satisfactory street building material yet discovered. Every city in the land is wrestling with this problem.
The most approved to date are asphalt, and vitrified brick. Asphalt is smooth, beautiful, and when properly constructed, durable and almost noiseless. It is expensive to build, but in dry weather, especially when wet, does not stand the heaviest traffic, and is said to be affected more or less by climatic conditions. Vit-rified brick are being used extensively in the large cities, especially where the hauling is heavy. This material costs less than asphalt, wears well, and is proving very satisfactory with the exception of two important points, which are, it is not so durable as asphalt, and it is almost unclean-able, and to drive over such streets in an ordinary carriage is most trying on sensitive nerves, while the unyielding surface of the brick carriage way is killing on live stock, thus you will observe that neither of the materials conceded to be the best, are without objections. The approximate cost of asphalt street per block on our streets, estimating width from curb to curb forty-two feet, and length from center of intersecting street to center of same four hundred and twelve feet, will be $5-946, and constructed of brick $2-943, with five to ten years guarantee by the builders, they giving bond to keep all streets so constructed in thorough repair for said term of years. The estimates here considered are made up from the average price of contracts recently made by men different cities, and both materials considered. None of these cities are near cement grave, know practically little of it, and it was a proven fact in many cases to get it, as cost these expensive materials above mentioned, therefore I am not prepared to abandon for street building a commodity, which nature has so lavishly placed at our doors, without a most thorough trial. I refer to our gravel deposits, and am confident that the same are given to building a foundation, as is given to the construction of asphalt and brick streets, with proper oval surface, with sufficient depth of clean gravel, rolled hard, that we will have streets as good as the best at less than half the cost of many smooth, easily repaired, and pleasing to drive over, and sufficiently strong to bear the heaviest traffic. Our plan of building streets in the past and at present is one which would not stand, if the driveway was built of iron, all must know that the expense during the winter months is a real evil, and porous as that on which we build our streets will soften the earth beneath the street of gravel, which is a real evil, yield for lack of support, having no foundation. Asphalt would not last a week in the winter, spread on the earth as is the gravel, and brick would be crushed into the mud in a very few days at most. I recommend giving gravel a fair trial.

I also recommend that during the year 1899 that the work of reconstructing the streets named be begun and pushed as rapidly as possible to completion, and that a substantial market house be erected on the site of the present one, constructed of brick, iron and stone, this last being a source of income to the city, which revenue can easily be doubled by rebuilding as suggested, there scarcely being a market day when one-half the produce can be accommodated at present, and aside from the increased revenue sure to accrue to the city by reason of a new building, it is our duty to foster the coming to our market in every reasonable way all persons who bring products of the farm to sell, as they in turn make needed purchases of the local merchants, thereby adding to their trade and the trade of the city.

The work as outlined cannot be done by general taxation now, nor ever can be, and will require means for its accomplishment, and there is only one way this can be done, namely, by a bond issue, remember if it is in your hands, it can only be done by issuing of bonds. The city of Paducah now has a bonded indebtedness of $343,000, and under the constitution has the authority to create such a total of nearly $700,000, subject to a vote of the people. With the credit the city now has thirty-year bonds (with a redeemable clause giving the city the right of redemption after a period of years), can be floated at about 3 1/2 per cent, making the interest on $100,000 in bonds $3,500 per annum, or about an annual tax levy of five cents on the $100 of value of the taxable property within the city, but in addition to the interest a small amount would be set aside annually as a sinking fund to eventually take care of the bonds.

With the streets reconstructed as outlined, all wooden waterways and bridges removed, the annual savings in repairs will more than pay the interest on the bond issue, thereby making the tax payer of today a very small pitance for a sinking fund with an increased opportunity of transferring business with comfort and "peace of mind," more than adequates for the expenditure.

I recommend that your honorable body weigh these much needed improvements carefully, and if approved, take immediate steps toward immediately placing the question of a bond issue, and the amount thereof, before the people to be voted on.

I believe the plan a progressive, yet an economic measure. Very respectfully,

Jas. M. Lamm,
Mayor.

HORSE STOLEN.

Mr. Monroe Thompson Loses a Mare and a Saddle.

Were Stolen Early Last Night
From Near Florence
Station.

Mr. Monroe Thompson, a well known farmer of near Florence station, was in the city yesterday. He returned home about dark, put up his mare, and this morning when he went to the stable found that it was gone.

The saddle was also carried away, and the horse's feed was only partially eaten, indicating that she was taken early in the night.

It could not be ascertained whether the thief came this way or went towards Louisville.

The theft was this morning reported to Sheriff Rogers.

BIG SHOW.

Harlow Brothers Arrive and Give a Street Parade.

Harlow Brothers' Minstrel, and their special concert, arrived this morning from Metropolis over the Illinois Central, and gave a fine street parade before noon. The show is said to be better than Al Fields', but not so large. They will likely be large crowd in attendance.

After the performance the entire troupe will repair to Kika's hall, where it will be entertained by the members of Paducah lodge. Mr. Harry Ward will be chairman of the social session, and as he presided once before and the best social session Paducah lodge ever had resulted there will likely be an enthusiastic crowd present tonight after the performance. All Kika's are urged to attend.

BOX PARTY.

A box party will be given by Mrs.
R. T. Davis tomorrow, at her residence, corner of Eleventh and Monroe, for the benefit of the Little street Methodist church. A social invitation is extended to all.

A receiver has been appointed for the New England Loan and Trust company, which was a large lender of money on western farm mortgages. Its capital stock was $675,000, and it has issued $5,500,000 of debentures.

SHOWING THE QUEER.

A Great Many Spurious Coins
Are Now Floating
About.

Counterfeiters Believed to Be at Work in This Section.

There are a great many spurious dollars, as well as coins of smaller denominations, in circulation in the city. There has been someone "showing the queer," as they call it in police circles, for sometime, and the authorities have so far been unable to get on to them.

Quarters and half dollars seem to be the most plentiful of all the coins, and the imitations are good. It was only a few weeks ago that a stranger was arrested here for passing a counterfeit half dollar on a lady, but he was released.

There have been numerous counterfeit coins passed on collectors about the city, and four or more quarters, a dollar and half dollar boys on the way. The dollar is perfect in everything but weight, and Marshall Collins says it is the best imitation he ever saw.

It is reported that there have for some time been at work in the Clark's river bottoms, in Marshall county, a gang of counterfeiters, and it has been reported to the authorities that they have been at work there for several months, but no one has ever been able to locate them.

The remains of Columbus—waiting the dispute as to whether they are really the dust of the great discoverer—were removed Monday from the niche in the cathedral at Havana, where they have rested, according to Havana claims, since January 19, 1796. The removal took place in the presence of Gen. Blanco and other Spanish officials.

Druggists will say they sell more

Gen. Brooke, replying to inquiries of the war department, says 9,500 of the American soldiers in Porto Rico are ill, but few are serious cases. He advises against new troops, preferring to keep those that are acclimated.

Don't you think it time for you to ters, they don't cost much. 27c.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28 1898.

As remarkable as has been the growth of Paducah during the past few years, she will make a new record the next five years. Natural advantages backed up by a bustling and progressive citizenship will be the factors in the city's prosperity.

Paducah proposes to contribute her share of the Kentucky battleship fund and in such a way that every person in the city can have part in it. The two excursions down the river on Friday next are a most feasible way of raising the amount due from the city.

Tax committees that are to secure new members to the Commercial and Manufacturers' Association, expect every Paducahan, who is able, to do his duty by the city, which means that he become a member of the new commercial organization. The three committees will give every man a chance to perform that duty in the next few days.

Cut. W. J. BRYAN is still a soldier of his country in spite of the fact that he longs for the raging stump in the wild and woolly west. Mr. Bryan unfortunately "signed" for two years and a cruel and partisan war department fails to see why he should not serve his country as well as many others who want to go home equally as bad.

Tax beatons of the Goshel election law don't seem to be impressing themselves on the dear people as fast as the arch conspirator at Covington thought they would. In fact the machine itself refuses to work. In 38 counties the commissioners appointed have failed to organize and new commissioners must be appointed. This negligence don't argue well for the machine.

GRANITOID pavements are smooth and level—that is only one difference between that kind of pavement and those made of brick, which change position after every rain or frost. The council should see to it that connections with the sewer are run to every property line on Broadway and then that granitoid pavements are put down. New pavements, repaired streets and fewer telegraph poles would change Broadway so one would hardly recognize it.

THE ENGINEER QUESTION.

It may look plausible to a body with the intellectual capacity of the city council to call it a draw and dismiss the engineer middle with a resolution, but the less enlightened public cannot but think that the council is trying to shield an incompetent official. The charges of incompetency against the city engineer have been withdrawn, it is true, but people will ever have their private opinion in regard to the matter. It sorely reflects on the council, whether it is guilty of trying to whitewash the affair or not, to take such action as it did last night. The whole sum and substance in the matter seems to be that the respective factions, one in favor of the city engineer, still death do us part" as it were, and the other in favor of Mr. Lyon, the assistant, seem to be afraid of each other. The committee appointed to investigate the charges against Mr. Lyon stood two to two, and things were getting pretty warm up at the committee meeting when City Attorney Lightfoot as a conciliatory measure arose and called attention to the fact that they stood two to two, and could argue the question until doomsday, and would still two to two. He suggested that an ordinance defining the duties of the two officers be substituted for a fight, and they compromised on the ordinance, and deferred the fight.

No charges of incompetency have ever been lodged against Mr. Lyon, however. It would be bad enough to keep in the employ of the city a man who neglected his duty. But to retain one who is incompetent in the climax of indignation. The council itself as an inflexible in trying to smother over matters by a resolution. Men who are not in harmony and are expected to work in harmony, can never get along together. The council ought to have investigated the whole thing, in justice to itself and to the people who put them there. If Mr. Postlewaite is incompetent, the people do not want him to hold such an important office as city engineer. Mr. Lyon is negligent of his duty, which is all he was ever charged with, the council would do well to get some one who is not. If one is guilty and the other innocent, justice ought to be meted out to both of them, despite the individual feeling the members of the council may have in the matter. The people want competent men, above all things, and they will never believe they have a competent engineer until those charges brought and withdrawn are investigated, and investigated by somebody who knows something about it. Some of the councilmen have been making a bluster about certain men's ability, but there isn't a member in the council who knows anything about civil engineering, and as a consequence they are not capable judges of any one's ability as civil engineers. Some of the council argue that there is no one to place in the position of city engineer should the present one be deposed, and that an incompetent engineer is better than no engineer at all. This may be democratic logic, but it will never be stomachied by the people, who have to indirectly pay the salaries. The former city engineer is a resident of Paducah, and is a good one. Some objection was raised to him, it being claimed that he was interested in a sewer contract, but he is not, and never was. He was simply employed by Wilcox & Halloran.

Give the city a good engineer or none at all.

A NEW POLICY.

The news comes from Washington that the "pernicious political activity" ruling of the late President Cleveland has been knocked into a cocked hat by Hon. Perry S. Heath, first assistant postmaster general. Mr. Cleveland issued an order to the effect that no officeholder, and especially those in the postal department, would be permitted to engage actively in politics under penalty of being removed. Mr. Heath has announced that any person in the employ of the postal department would be permitted to engage in the full exercise of his prerogative as a citizen. This, he explains, includes taking part in the primaries of the party to which the employee belongs, attending conventions, making speeches on the campaign stump, etc. The only qualification made by Mr. Heath is the natural one that the employee must not neglect his duties to the service.

In view of this order of First Assistant Postmaster General Heath, the postmaster at Owensboro, who took such an active part in the late republican primary there has in no way endangered his standing with the department, and the fight of Hon. Geo. Jolly against the so called "ring" in the Second district less. Mr. Heath's ruling destroys one great aim of the civil service law. It is probable that this last order is a forerunner of other changes in the civil service which will practically do away with the system.

THE MAYOR'S PROPOSITION.

The proposition of the mayor looking to the issuance of $100,000 of bonds for the purpose of street improvements is one that must be considered very carefully by the council before submitting it to the people for popular vote, for the people will weigh the proposition carefully at the polls. The general idea that we must have better streets in certain parts of the city is true; the necessity of a new market house is generally recognized, while storm sewers are greatly needed, especially on Broadway.

Broadway should be reconstructed and the street made of the most substantial material. A storm sewer on Broadway should be built and the city made a new market house. But it would be most unwise at this time to order or provide for the reconstruction of Jefferson, Court and Washington streets. The fact that the city's bonded indebtedness is small, should not cause our city fathers to become careless in providing more bonds.

The people also when they come to vote bonds, whether for the mayor's proposition or of a less amount, will have to be assured that there is to be no such financial management or apparent jobbery as exists in the new public school building. We imagine that it will be difficult for the people to bring themselves to the point of repaying such confidence in the present council as to give it the privilege of letting contracts to the amount of $100,000.

THEODORE MOOREVELL.

The nomination of Theodore Roosevelt yesterday for governor of New York was a move on the political chess board that may have a far-reaching influence in politics and for many years to come. Though it has been quite the custom to ridicule the peculiar ideas of Roosevelt, it cannot be denied that he is a man of undoubted honesty, rare courage and positive convictions. His ideas have been his own. He has had no political bias. He may be impetuous and indiscreet in what he says at times, but he is a strong man with the people, and will doubtless be elected by a large majority. Roosevelt's election to the governorship means that he will most probably be the national republican in 1900 along with McKinley. His election also means that Richard Croker's plan to be the ruling spirit in the democratic national council in 1900 will receive a rude shock, for his whole plan rests on a demonstration of his power in New York state. This is an off year in politics, but it is a most important one as far as the results of the New York campaign are concerned.

$100,000 IN BONDS

Recommended by Mayor Leug to Place the Streets in Repair and Secure Sub Drainage. The Called Meeting.

The City Engineer Trouble At Over Mr. Felt Wanted Both the Engineer and His Assistant to Resign.

The council met last night in called session with all the members present except Mr. Smith. The most important feature of the meeting was a communication from the mayor relative to issuing bonds to the amount of $100,000 for repaving the streets and providing sub drainage.

The voluminous ordinance regulating house connections with sewerage was given second reading. They struck a snag when the section of the ordinance was read relative to plans of sewerage plumbing on houses. Mr. Kell suggested that there might be some additional cost attached to the drawing of the plans, and wanted it specified that the plans shall be furnished by the plumber without extra charge. How they were to be restrained from making extra charge was not stated.

Mr. Elliott didn't think it necessary. He said any one could draw the simple plans required, and no trouble was anticipated on account of it, as the section was taken from the rules of Memphis.

Capt. Fowler said so far as Memphis is concerned, Memphis is one of the richest cities in the country. Paducah contains more poor people to the square inch than any city in the country. He was for the cheapest plan.

The amendment offered by Mr. Kell was concurred in, and several minor changes made. The ordinance was then given first passage, as amended. Councilman Kell moved that the ordinance relative to requiring actions to close at 11 o'clock p. m. and remain closed until 5 a. m. be taken from the table. He didn't get it very far off the table, however, for his motion was lost.

Mr. Elliott, chairman of the sewerage committee, offered a resolution relative to the duties of assistant city engineers in the line of a report in the Lyon investigation.

Mr. Kell asked if the committee offered the resolution as a report. Mr. Elliott said it was. Mr. Kell then said that he was opposed to the resolution as a report. That he thought it was a good resolution, but that there had been no trouble in any of the departments except the engineering department during the ten months the council had been in office and that charges of dereliction of duty had been filed against one and incompetency against the other. He moved that the resignation of City Engineer Postlewaite and his assistant, Mr. Lyon, both be requested by the council.

Capt. Fowler said he was in favor of the report and would stand by it. It was offered by the committee appointed to investigate, and he had confidence in their discretion.

Mr. Elliott said the committee thought the resolution would remedy the evil and that as the duties would then be defined there would be no further claim. He remarked, however, that the next "racket" they had would be heartily in favor of a motion similar to Mr. Kell's.

There was no second to Mr. Kell's motion, and the resolution of the committee was adopted, which disposed of the recent trouble, all charges having been withdrawn. A petition was read from Mr. Ed Bradshaw relative to some of his lead being washed away where Broadway was extended. Referred.

The license committee reported in regard to transferring the license of Harry S. Allen to Jack Boone, and from Twelfth and Trimble to Thirtieth and Tennessee streets, recommending the transfer asked be refused. Concurred in.

The mayor said he had ascertained there would have to be an election of a councilman from the Fifth ward, and a trustee from the First ward, in November. It was also desired that there be an extra registration day, but the understanding in these registration days are provided for by ordinance. There was no action taken because it was necessary it will be taken next Monday. The mayor reported that the city had entered into a contract with the American Carbon Co. to furnish carbon for the electric plant at $19 per 1000 pairs. It was approved. The mayor read a communication relative to voting an issuance of $100,000 in bonds to place in repair all the streets of the city, and provide sub-drainage instead of gutters. The communication was referred to the finance committee and city attorney.

LET US HAVE PEACE
"Peace hath her victories as new won, as the victors belong the spoils."

To our customers belong the profits this week. We have met the enemy and we've got 'em. WE HAVE SILENCED THE FORCES of high prices with the bargains we sold to the trade. Our figures, at all times the LOWEST, now have all the rest in the shade. From our great goods may yet be selected some choice things in hot weather stuff, on which we won't quote any price, though others do that for a bluff. These goods you can't see as you wish them; yourself make the price to suit. And when you have spent a few dollars you get a fine picture to boot. We are selling the handsomest DRESS SKIRTS ever sold in this end of the state; for less than the goods can be bought at all home made and right up to date. Our LADIES WEAR places the fairest, and looks lovely on creatures less fair; Our styles, which are ever the latest, "are charming," fair women declare. And the men folks never forget us, when we bring NICE SHIRTS and FINE SHOES. They know we keep the assortment from which they can easily choose. Our SHOES are the best and cheapest on top of the earth—or below—and every last pair is as "solid" as the rocks in the Fort of Mifflin. You may fancy this quite out of reason, but a trial will prove it is true. Just to wind up for the season, FORTY CENTS buys a LOW QUARTER SHOE. In GAITERS and BUTTONS and LACES we can fit every foot to a "T." "Cousin Georgia, how daisy your feet look!" "I wear Dorian's shoes—don't you see?" Rich people are pleased with the beauty of our LINENS, LACK CURTAINS and RUGS, and other folks think it a duty to follow the taste of "big bugs." Our trade is increasing and healthy—our prices creating a mass; we hold fast the trade of the wealthy, and "the poor we have always with us." Our PICTURES—the gems of interior—every "sweet home" ought to be, when just for a few dollars' purchase, you're welcome to some of them free. All will admit the above costings "more truth than poetry." Everybody come to this wedding-up sale of the season.

A POLICE COURT BARGAIN.

Ways of the Lawyers Who Make Them Living There.

The ways of the police court lawyers are hard. A $2 fee is seldom seen, a $10 fee is of rare occurrence, a $5 fee is something worth working for, and a fee of a dollar or so the usual thing.

An East side butcher had one of his employees arrested the other day for stealing some meat. His evidence against his employee was anything but clear, and the butcher entered court feeling not at all certain that he had done the right thing in causing the arrest.

The lawyers at work in the court had come across the case, and as soon as the butcher here in sight they ran after him.

"Look here," said one of them, "this man of yours has a good case for false arrest against you. Do you know that?"

The butcher sorrowfully admitted that he did.

"Well, you want a lawyer to look after your case."

"Yes," replied the butcher; "I haven't one. Can you take my case?"

"How much will you pay?"

"Five dollars."

"What?" cried both lawyers. "Five dollars. Well! Oh, say, you are joking! We couldn't think of taking the case for that."

"Besides," added one of the lawyers, "I'm too busy, and with a great show of business he looked at his watch, buttoned up his coat and hurried out of court. At the same time the other lawyer went over to the prisoner and began to talk to him in undertone.

By this time the poor butcher was very much frightened, and, hurrying after the lawyer who had left the court, caught him and brought him back.

"What will you take my case for?" he asked.

"Oh, about $20."

"Good heavens!" cried the butcher himself something of a driver of bargains, "make it $10!"

"Too low," said the lawyer; "but—Joe, come in here!" he cried to the other lawyer, who was still talking to the prisoner. "He says we will make it $10."

"Well," replied Joe, "make it $12.50 and I'll take it, but I'm losing money on it. I tell you that!"

So the butcher made it $12.50, and the two lawyers got $6.25 each.—N. Y. Sun.

DANCING GIRLS OF SIAM.

Perform Many Dazzling Feats—Are Remarkably Agile and Graceful.

The dancing girls of Siam are remarkable for the agility and grace of their movements. The cup dance is the prettiest and most poetic of all. A row of young girls, with a tier of cups on their heads, take their places in the middle of the great hall. A burst of jocular music follows. The hearing this they simultaneously with military precision, kneel down, fold their hands and bow their heads until their foreheads almost touch the polished marble floor, keeping the cups steadily on their heads by some marvelous jerk of the neck. Then, suddenly springing to their feet, they describe a succession of rapid and intricate circles, keeping time to the music with their arms, head and feet. Next the music swells into a rapturous tumult. The dancers raise their delicate feet—curve their arms and fingers in almost impossible flexures, sway to and fro like willows of the body like the flutter of leaves in the soft evening breeze, but still keep the cups on their heads.

The dancing girls of Bangkok are always exercising in the royal gymnasium. Their ages vary from five to twenty years. The curious and subtle feat of picking up a bit of straw with the eyelids can be learned only by the younger of them, who are made to practice it in order to render them flexible in every part of the body. There are two long rows of benches, one a little higher than the other. On the lower is a row of little girls and on the upper bench are laid the polished bits of straw. At the sound of the drum the little girls all together bend back the head and neck until they touch the bits of straw, which, with wonderful dexterity, they secure between the corners of their eyelids.—London Society.

WHAT IS FARMING?

Agrobase Requires a High Order of Intellect and Training.

Farming is its true name implies a great deal more than we ordinarily attach to the word. Good farming consists in growing the maximum amount of whatever crop we grow of the minimum cost, and leaving the soil in the best possible condition for succeeding crops. It implies even far more than that. The quality of market value of the crop must be considered and the fertility of the soil be maintained and increased.

In this sense farming is not farming. The great bulk of "farmers" are croppers, not farmers. This is emphatically true of most "tenant farmers." Farming also implies a most practical sense the curing, handling, storing and marketing of kinds of farm produce. A successful farmer is not one who succeeds in accumulating some money by improving his farm. This system might work well for a time on our new soils, but on some, which have been farmed for centuries, we must practice true farming. The fertility of the soil must be maintained; economically, if possible, but expensively if need be. Some of the old Lancaster county farms which have been cultivated for more than 200 years are to day producing crops unsurpassed by our richer western lands. This is a true fact of many other of the farm lands of our state. Lancaster county still holds the credit of being the banner agricultural county in this union. Its annual crops are said to be of greater money value than any other county.

The cultivating of these farms and maintaining, if not increasing their fertility, and diversifying the crops as a close study of the markets will suggest, is in the line of true farming and no doubt prompted the assertion made at the alumni dinner.

In this connection we most positively assert the farmer requires a high order of intellect and a great amount of training, in order to be well equipped for his business, and that required by any other business or profession. This business is more varied demanding a wider range of knowledge to understand the wonderful forces of nature than that of any other one business. The ambitious young man in casting about for a field of labor which will employ all his talent and which talent and labor may be made remunerative (if agreeable to his tastes, and prosecuted with an intelligent and enthusiastic zeal) need look no farther than the study and practice of farming.

Ancient, honorable, independent and absolutely necessary, it is the one occupation which has most to do with the wonderful forces of nature.—Ohio Farmer.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use.

Common soda in all right in its place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it was never intended for a medicine, and people who use it as such will some day regret it.

We refer to the common use of soda to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger; moreover, the soda only gives temporary relief and is the seed and stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and cases are on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing deadly inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harlan's recommendation as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) as an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 30 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, pepsins and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Weir states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangement and finds them a certain cure not only for sour stomach but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50c per package.
