Hagan Indicted For Failing To Report Fine Collected

Constable Billy Hagan has been indicted by the Fulton County Grand Jury for collecting $29.00 from a motorist passing through Fulton and failing to report the collection to the court. Hagan has been indicted for malfeasance in office as a result of information furnished to County Attorney James Amberg by Willie Martin of Beloit, Wisconsin. He may continue to serve until his case is tried in court, perhaps in May. Hagan is an elected official. The News was unable to learn whether or not Hagan plans to resign his office.

Here's the story:

Just before Christmas Willie Martin was passing through Fulton about three o'clock in the morning going south. He was apprehended by Hagan for crossing a yellow line in the highway on the outskirts of Fulton. Hagan cited Martin for the traffic violation and ordered Martin to appear in court at nine o'clock the next morning. The $29.00 collected was in payment of an appearance bond for the alleged traffic violation. Martin did not appear in court as ordered. Later however he wrote to the Fulton police department for a receipt for the money he paid for the appearance bond. The local department had no record of the citation. The request was turned over to the county court who contacted Martin and asked that he appear in person to state the facts surrounding his arrest. On the basis of the information furnished by Martin, Hagan's indictment reads that he "did work a misdemeanor in office by collecting a fine, by receiving a bond or fee from Willie Martin in a criminal arrest and failing to report the same . . ."

If convicted Hagan must pay a fine of not less than $100 or more than $1000.

Other indictments returned were: Billy Jones, cold check; James Harold Dunn, failure to comply with a court order; Glenn Bert Rice, failure to comply with a court order; Buddy Franklin Golden, child desertion; Harvey Holt, child desertion; James McKinney, assault and battery and carrying a deadly weapon; Louis Jennings, perjury; Frank Brown, malicious shooting with intent to kill; Delmer Jackson, harboring a fugitive; Frank Hayes, assault and battery; Louis Byrd, robbery; Louise Hayes, assault and battery; James White, failure to comply with a court order and Melvin Newcomb, destroying public property.

SPORTS WHIRL

By

This weekend the Bulldogs are faced with tough First District competition as they encounter the Fulton County Pilots on Friday night at Carr Gym and as they travel to Clinton to meet the Hickman County Falcons. These games should provide all basketball fans with plenty of excitement, for possibly these teams will attempt to play possession type games.

Next Tuesday Fulton will play a make-up game with Benton here. Then, the last two games of the regular season are Mayfield, Friday, February 15, there and Ballard Memorial on Tuesday, February 19, here.

The top-rated South Fulton Devillets will try for victories number 18 and 19 this weekend. The South Fulton teams will present for their fans two games with Kenton this Friday night, and they journey to Tiptonville on Saturday night to compete in a second weekend doubleheader.

Friday Night Scores

In one of the most thrilling, tension-packed games of this season, the usually high scoring Fulton Bulldogs became the low scoring Bulldogs and calmly presented Calloway County with an 11-10 defeat. This was the lowest scoring game recorded in Western Kentucky since Bardwell won over Paducah Tilghman 6-5 in the 1950's.

The first basket of the game was made by fast acting Terry Beades. Beades stole the ball from the stalling Lakers, broke loose down the court, and scored his only two points of the game. Johnny Covington later in the quarter added a basket, bringing the Bulldogs score to four compared to the Lakers' one. The Calloway team truly played their ball-control game the second quarter as they held Fulton's quintet scoreless.

Calloway had the lead three times in the game. In the third quarter they took the lead 5-4; however, the Bulldogs came back with an 8-5 favor. The Lakers were again ahead 9-8 and 10-9 in the fourth quarter before the Bulldogs emerged with the victory.

High scorer for Fulton was Johnny Covington with four, while leading man for Calloway was Boggress, who also made four points. Don Burnett hit for three and Kenneth Allen and Terry Beades each scored two.

Last Friday night the powerful South Fulton Devillets overran a team from Gleason to become the winners of 17 games this season. The South Fulton girls jumped out with a seven point lead at the end of the first quarter and then it was their game all the way, finally ending 59-35. They held two big 24 point leads one at the end of the third quarter and the other at the end of the game. The Devillets coasted to victory despite the absence of one of their regulars, Bonnie Weeks. Bonnie, who has a knee injury, probably won't play anymore before tournament time. Judy Neely and Lee Cantrell were high scorers with 22 and 18, while Pat Lowe came through with 12 points.

The same night the Red Devils were also victorious. As in the girls' game, the South Fulton boys also led by seven points at the sound of the horn ending the first quarter. However, this game was closer than the girls' game. Fight-

Clothing Workers Again Refuse To Join Union

For the third time in a year and a half, employees of Sewell Manufacturing Co. have voted overwhelmingly against affiliation with the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (AFL-CIO).

In an election ordered by the National Labor Relations Board, the employees voted 965 to 330 against affiliation. Two previous elections were reversed by the NLRB on charges that racial matters were injected into the issue locally.

The majority against the union was the most decisive of the three elections. In each of the previous elections, the NLRB overruled the regional director in Atlanta and ordered a new election.

Public Hearing Due Soon For New Tax Plan

Fulton's City Commission voted unanimously to accept the recommendation of the Finance Advisory Committee in its entirety at the regular monthly meeting held last night at the City Hall, with all members of the Commission and City Manager Robey in attendance.

The City Attorney was instructed to draw up the ordinance for an occupational tax, which was recommended by the Committee, and it was agreed by all to call a public hearing to explain the tax to all interested parties after the ordinance is prepared and before it is adopted. The date of this meeting has not been set.

Rice Says He Will Seek re-election; Employees Join Plan To Return Bonus

Commissioner Bill Rice announced his candidacy for re-election at the regular meeting of the Fulton City Commission Monday night. The announcement came after Mayor Gilbert DeMyer charged Rice with using the commission meetings as a public forum to gain political notoriety. Continuing his violent objection to the five dollar per employee Christmas bonus given to the City's work force, Rice wanted the minutes of the January meeting corrected to explain why he and Commissioner Bob McCain voted "no" to payment of the city's expense vouchers. Rice contends that he did not oppose payment of all the vouchers, only the expenditure dealing with the Christmas bonus. Rice is seeking to have Commissioners Clarence Moline and Charles Robert Bennett and Mayor DeMyer repay the $150 to the city treasury. (See Notebook)

Mayor DeMyer prohibited any further discussion of the bonus repayment when the matter came up as item 14 on the meeting's agenda. Rice made no comment on the Mayor's decision in the bonus matter, but some observers at the meeting indicated that Rice may take further action to recover the funds.

In a brief interview with Commissioner McCain after the meeting the News was unable to learn what Rice's next step might be in the bonus matter. "I don't know anything about a taxpayer's suit," McCain told a News reporter when asked if Rice may be contemplating such a move. Both commissioners contend that the bonus payment was illegal.

Monday's meeting obtained 14 items for official consideration. Five of the items were placed on the agenda by Mr. Rice. Offering no reason for seeking the information after 13 months in office and after having attended more than 25 meetings Mr. Rice wanted to know:

—The amount of premiums paid to the four Fulton agencies who carry the city's insurance policies. (Told that the amount was $4500, distributed to the Wick Smith Agency, Atkins Insurance Agency, Fall and Fall Agency and the Dewey Johnson Agency, Mr. Rice made no comment. The News learned that the agencies involved have made no complaints concerning the manner by which the business is allocated.)

—"What is classified as a finance office." (Told that the City Clerk's office, which embraces the City Manager, Mayor's and other allied offices, is the finance office, Rice scribbled a few notes on a pad.)

—"Why there is no monthly statement showing bank balances. (When told that the city has nearly 15 bank accounts and the statements were available for the public to see, including city of-

"Growing" Put Into Motion At Wade Furn. Co.

"Growing" is the way to explain the progressive expansion program at the Wade Furniture Company on Lake Street. And the store is setting its goal high, and that's literally true. Nathan Wade, manager of the local Wade Furniture Company announced that a second story is being added to the present building that will increase the floor space and the inventory of the present operation.

Said Nathan Wade of the new building program: "The new second story addition will increase our main store size by 4,800 square feet, literally doubling our floor space. A much larger selection of furniture and appliances will be displayed. The first floor will be completely redecorated. Our new expansion is faith in the growth of the twin cities."

Construction will be completed in approximately six to eight weeks. Business will be continued as usual during construction.

Most Fulton citizens concur wholeheartedly with Mayor Gilbert DeMyer that Commissioner Bill Rice seizes upon every opportunity to make a comedy of the city's official affairs. The constant derision of Mayor DeMyer and Commissioners Clarence Moline and Charles Robert Bennett for approving a five dollar Christmas bonus for each of the city's employees has embarrassed and humiliated not only the three city officials, but the many relatives and friends of the employees involved.

In discussing the feeling of the city employees toward Rice's obnoxious belligerence toward the bonus one of them said: "Almost to a person, the expression has been heard that we would gladly give the money back if we only knew how to do it."

Another one of them said: "I have never had a drink of anything stronger than a soft drink in my life and it's mighty sad to need a job so bad that you have to have a city official call you a drunkard. I bought Christmas dinner with my five dollars, and I wouldn't have had that good a dinner either; but if I have to pay fifty cents a month until that five dollars is paid, I'll gladly do it," the employee said. (Rice said at the January meeting that most city employees bought a fifth of whiskey with their bonus.)

When told this story City Manager Jim Robey, who did not get the five dollar bonus said, "I'll be glad to give that fellow's five dollars back." He has handed that amount to a fund started by the News to return the money to the city and save the employees from further embarrassment.

J. W. "Duck" Smith, Chief of Police, who heard about the fund, immediately walked into the News office and gave the office assistant five dollars to return the bonus that Bill Rice has seized upon as a "cause celebre" to keep the controversy going at City Hall.

The fund to return the bonus was started at press time on Wednesday. It is believed that many local citizens will give at least five dollars to pay for one employee's Christmas bonus, hoping that it will keep Commissioner Rice from castigating the city's operation at least on this point.

In discussing the events of the meeting Monday night one Commissioner told the News: "The situation is getting so deplorable that no competent businessman will dare run for office as long as they face the possibility of being insulted, embarrassed and humiliated at every meeting. In pushing the legality of the Christmas bonus, Rice might do well to review the legality of his overspending his budget on the cemetery fund, as well as committing the City to pay the higher cost of a tractor repair bill when he wasn't even sworn in as a city commissioner."

The News will accept any contributions from generous citizens who wish to return the employees' Christmas bonus back to the treasury.

The City of Fulton has 30 employees. They are hard working, church-going, law abiding citizens. Many of them have held their jobs for many years. For the most part the salaries paid are not commensurate with the going rate in private industry.

Farm income in Kentucky during 1961 amounted to $667,632,000, placing the state 23rd in the nation in this category, according to Emerson Beauchamp.

(E's Note: Robert Hamilton, reporter for PLANT LIFE, the interesting monthly magazine published by Ferry-Morse Seed Company is a real newshound. Although all of the local Ferry-Morse employees get the well-edited, newpacked bulletin, we thought our readers would be interested in what goes on in the lives of the Ferry-Morse family. LATE, LATE VACATIONERS—were Bill Pierce, Customer Service and wife, Nancy, on a trip to New Orleans between Christmas and New Year's Day. They had four days of sightseeing and night life but the weather was miserably wet the whole time. From New Orleans, they drove to Gulfport, Biloxi and Mobile. This southern tour must be quite the vogue, for the Molines "pioneered" the route to New Orleans in November and Ben Burley, Asst. Eastern Sales Manager, and wife, Louella, were in New Orleans the same time as the Pierces. They missed seeing each other on a matter of timing. The Burleys went via train from Fulton, but stayed only a short time since the weather was so poor. The T. J. Bruces had a wonderful time in Dallas, Texas.

OPERATION DEEP FREEZE—occurred the second week in December. On December 13, early in the day, it was - 10 degrees at Union City. Most extraordinary for this part of the mid-south.

PROUD MOTHER — is Helen Dunn, Mail Clerk. Her son completed Naval Officer's Candidate School at Newport, Rhode Island after getting his bachelor's degree at Southern Illinois University. Bob is prouder of his officer's rating in the Navy than he is of his college degree. He reports for

J. P. was not much over a mile from our plant and while sitting as quiet as a mouse he saw a grey fox appear near a pond about 25 yards away. It took 3 shots with a 12 gauge shotgun to finish him. Wade gave the animal to a trapper friend.

SPECIAL TRIP—for Rose Hyland, Mail Order, over the long New Year's weekend. She visited her fiancée and his family in Chicago. When Rose returned to the office, she was wearing a fine "chunk of ice" on her left ring finger. CONDOLENCES TO — Mattie Cook, Accounting, on the loss of her father;

Sandy Bard, Library Files, Melba Neel, Collection, and Lola Hayden, Mail Order, on the loss of family. Also, to Erma Clark, Pack-Order, on the death of her father and Valda Puckett, Pack-Order, on the death of her mother.

WELCOME BACK — to Mary Graves, Customer Service, after 9 weeks' absence. Mary had surgery for ruptured discs.

NEWCOMERS — to the Mail Order Department are Scarlet Bennett, Carolyn Brown, Mary Jo Cashion, Lola Hayden, Mary Jean King, Barbara Nabors, Annette Neal, Charlotte O'Neal and Gerald

Educational Sources Must Provide Leadership To Maintain Tax Structure For School Needs

It is becoming increasingly more obvious that the largest group of Kentucky voters to support the gubernatorial candidacy of Edward T. Breathitt is concentrated among educational leaders and school patrons. These people have made it known publicly and privately that they wish to maintain the present tax structure of Kentucky, which means no tampering with sales tax revenues by way of exemptions on food, clothing and medicine.

To maintain and to expect more tax revenues for education in Kentucky demands more than lip service from educational leaders. The effort calls for vigorous leadership at all levels of educational endeavors, for the time is long past when teachers, school administrators and patrons treat their political activity as though it were a transgression against motherhood, the flag and sin.

If we might venture a suggestion to the leaders in education who have signified their intention to keep the sales tax as is, we would say that a good starting point is to educate those recipients of public assistance funds that the sales tax has NOT REDUCED THEIR TAKE HOME PAY. As a matter of fact added revenues into the general fund HAVE INCREASED PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS to adequately absorb the State's three per cent sales tax.

Commissioner Earle V. Powell of the State Department of Economic Security reported last month that public assistance payments in Kentucky reached an all-time high in 1962. Recipients in the four assistance categories received a total of $64,249,583 during 1962, as compared to $62,678,030 in 1961. This is approximately $1,500,000 more than the previous year and represents an increase of almost three per cent, enough to take care of the sales tax monies the recipients spent on food, clothing and medicine.

A breakdown of the categories showed these figures:

The needy aged received $33,632,959, an average yearly payment of $616.68 per recipient; needy blind received $1,707,482, an average of $706.80; the disabled were paid a total of $6,292,619, an average of $728.52; and families receiving aid to dependent children received $22,616,523, an average of $1,035.48 per family during the year.

It is no secret that 66 cents of every dollar of tax revenue going into the general fund goes to education; twenty cents goes to health and welfare programs; fourteen cents goes to general government and other costs. It takes no statistician to determine the fact that if tax revenues are cut $34,000,000 (the estimated figure from the sales tax on food, clothing and medicine) other taxes on other income is bound to come to make up for this loss.

Within the next few months, gubernatorial candidate A. B. (Happy) Chandler will take to the stump to get elected for a third term as Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The aging candidate, as in the past, will attack the tax program and the fiscal policy of the Administration he hopes to succeed. Chandler has made it known that he will remove the sales tax from the three categories producing the major portion of the sales tax revenue, if he is elected. He fails, as usual however, to make known how he will replace the revenue.

nue. He will, also as usual, piously propose to cut out extravagance and waste in State Government.

There can be no doubt that the people who will get the most attention from Chandler, as he wails his tax, tax, tax refrain are the 144,000 persons who are on the public assistance rolls. In a speech, marking the official opening of his campaign (he's been running for three years) Chandler resorted to the pig-pen for campaign material. Said he: "They (meaning the Combs Administration) exempt the food that pigs eat, yet put a tax on the food that needy people eat" ... or some such statement as that.

It would be nice to think that the standards of education have so increased in the past few years, that intelligent Kentuckians now know that this kind of campaign talk is as obsolete as the letter-to-the-editor writer who said in defense of Chandler: "ABC in '63 ... the days of yore can be brought back. It's not too much to hope that the ugly ranch houses will be replaced with picturesque tar paper cottages."

In every class room in the State of Kentucky there is some student, some teacher, some patron who is related to or is in close contact with some recipient of public assistance. It is here, at the "grass roots" level that the importance of maintaining the sales tax structure must be advocated.

By no means do we propose that the school classroom or the assembly program be transformed into a political forum, endorsing the candidacy of a gubernatorial aspirant. We do believe strongly however, that school patrons, interested in the development and progress of our schools, should assume the leadership in forming an independent, non-political group to educate the people to the apparent necessity of maintaining the present tax structure of Kentucky. If this independent group finds that the majority of Kentuckians are opposed to the sales tax as is, it should become their dedicated duty to extract from the candidates, opposing the tax, just how the money will be replaced.

If the candidate opposing the sales tax comes around with that "economy in government" bit as a substitute for the tax on food, clothing and money, the public has a right to know just how and where $34,000,000 in tax money can be saved.

As we see it, the "little people" that Happy Chandler seeks to protect have too long been used as fodder for political oratory. These "little people" are living, breathing, hard-working human beings. They have a sense of values; a sense of fairness and a true sense of obligation to assume their fair share of the tax burden.

It's a disgrace to exploit them for political gain.

In the same manner that our educational leaders demand higher standards of teaching and school facilities, so do we demand from these leaders the experience and the know-how to teach our people that you cannot subtract a tax, without adding new taxes; you cannot multiply governmental progress without dividing the responsibility for maintaining those gains.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

"The snake of secession for a long time has lain comparatively torpid in Kentucky, but under the vivifying influence of the Administration's present course, the reptile is reviving." So wrote Editor George D. Prentice, 100 years ago this week, in the Louisville Journal.

A Democratic Party call for a convention to select candidates for state offices was what made Prentice, a strong Unionist, suspect that sentiment for secession was reviving in the Commonwealth. And when he put the blame for it on "the Administration's present course," he referred to the Emancipation Proclamation that President Lincoln had issued the first day of the year. The proclamation had shaken a good many of the slaveholders of the Commonwealth who had remained loyal to the Union in a belief that the Lincoln Administration would do nothing to interfere with the institution in the states in which slavery existed, although it was well understood that the Republicans were opposed to its extension to other states.

The Democratic Central Committee had called for a convention of the party February 18 at Frankfort "for the purpose of nominating candidates for governor and other state officers, to be elected at the next August election." In the 19th century, as in the 20th, the year '63 was a time for choosing a new governor and all other elective state officers. In those days, however, the general election was in August, not in November as at present.

Members of the Democratic committee calling the convention were Jephtha Dudley who had married Gen. Green Clay's widow and thus had become the stepfather of Major Gen. Cassius M. Clay of the Union Army; G. W. Craddock, who at the inauguration of Confederate Gov. Richard Hawes was reported to have described himself as "the first secessionist that arose in Franklin County," State Auditor Grant Green and Attorney General A. J. James, both elected in 1859; A. W. Dudley, who had a son in the Confederate Army; S. I. M. Major, editor of the Yeoman, Frankfort newspaper; M. B. Chinn, operator of a livery stable, and T. N. Lindsey, attorney, both of Frankfort, and J. W. South, keeper of the state penitentiary, who had two sons in the Confederate Army.

"Every member of the committee ... is a secessionist," Prentice declared. The editor himself was bitterly opposed to the Emancipation Proclamation, but was even more opposed to secession. He denounced a resolution offered in the legislature by Sen. Asa Grover of Owen County. It began, "The maxim that 'governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed' is one which we ought never to forget," and went on quoting the Declaration of Independence, which presumably no one would repudiate, in a way that seemed to compare Confederates to American Revolutionary patriots. Prentice called it a parody on the Declaration of Independence.

LIFE'S MIRROR

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.
Give love, and love to your life will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.
Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind,
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.
Give sorrow and pity to those who mourn;
You will gather in flowers again
The scattered seeds of your thought outborne,
Though the sowing seemed but vain.
For life is the mirror of king and slave—
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.
"Madeline Bridges"
(Mary Ainge De Vere).

THE POWER OF WORDS

A careless word may kindle strife;
A cruel word may wreck a life;
A bitter word may hate instill;
A brutal word may smite and kill
A gracious word may smooth the way;
A joyous word may light the day;
A timely word may lessen stress;
A loving word may heal and bless.

If you your lips would keep from slips
Five things observe with care:
To whom you speak, of whom you speak,
And how and when and where.
If you your ears would keep from jeers
These things keep meekly hid:
Myself and me, or my and mine,
And how I do or did.

Hating people is like burning down your house to get rid of a rat.

Forgiveness is the perfume that the trampled flower casts back upon the foot that crushed it.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

It has become legendary in newspaper circles that about as many men read the woman's page as do women. If it were not so, we might not reprint the article that we found recently in a newspaper entitled "What is a Girl?" We clipped the article for our scrapbook and then last week something happened at our house that perhaps has happened at yours already, or may happen sometime in the future. Our little girl became a teenager, a plateau that undoubtedly is the ultimate in the life of lovely lassie. In spite of the fact that most fathers always want that first born to be a boy, when a little girl comes along it takes no time at all for her to captivate the hearts of all and sundry in the world around her. Read this article and see if the author hasn't summed up the real definition of "a girl."

"Little girls are the nicest things that happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angel-shine about them, and though it wears thin sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart—even when they are sitting in the mud, crying temperamental tears, or parading up the street in Mother's best clothes."

"A little girl can be sweeter (and badder) oftener than anyone else in the world. She can jitter around and stomp and make funny noises that frazzle your nerves. Yet, just when you open your mouth, she stands there demure with that special look in her eyes. A girl is Innocence playing in the mud, Beauty standing on its head, and Motherhood dragging a doll by its foot."

"Girls are available in five colors—black, white, red, yellow or brown—yet Mother Nature always manages to select your favorite color when you place your order. They disprove the law of supply and demand—there are millions of little girls, but each is as precious as rubies."

"God borrows from many creatures to make a little girl. He uses the song of a bird, the squeal of a pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the spryness of a grasshopper, the curiosity of a cat, the speed of a gazelle, the slyness of a fox, the softness of a kitten and, to top it all, He adds the mysterious mind of a woman."

"A little girl likes new shoes, party dresses, small animals, first grade, noise makers, the girl next door, dolls, make-believe, dancing lessons, ice cream, kitchens, coloring books, make-up, cans of water, going visiting, tea parties, and one boy."

"She doesn't care so much for visitors, boys-in-general, large dogs, hand-me-downs, straight chairs, vegetables, snow suits, or staying in the front yard. She is the loudest when you are thinking, the prettiest when she has provoked you, the busiest at bedtime, the quietest when you want her to show off, and the most flirtatious when she absolutely must not get the best of you again."

"Who else can cause you more grief, joy, irritation, satisfaction, embarrassment and genuine delight than this combination of Eve, Salome, and Florence Nightingale? She can mess up your home, your hair and your dignity—spend your money, your time and your temper—and then, just when your patience is ready to crack, her sunshine peeks through and you are lost again."

"Yes, she is a nerve-racking nuisance, just a bundle of noisy mischief. But when your dreams tumble down and the world is a mess—when it seems you are pretty much of a fool after all—she can in charge of the business session. A report was made by Lorene Harding of the Citizen's Advisory Committee and by Mildred Freeman of the meeting with Industrial Committee of the Jaycees. The club voted to sponsor classes in salesmanship in the spring, and more information about these classes will be forthcoming.

Ramell Pigue and Lila Hastings named workers for the Heart-Day drive in the business sections of Fulton and South Fulton on February 7. Gertrude Murphey reported on plans for the Heart Fund coffee at Fulton Electric System on Valentine Day.

Dorothy Douglas, chairman of the personal development committee, gave a most interesting talk about members developing their own personalities in various ways through the Club. She stressed regular attendance, careful attention during talks and discussions, encouraging the "timid" members to express themselves; cooperation of members with the officers; not criticizing unless it is helpful criticism and, all members working when called on, even volunteering to work.

MIDWIFE RETIRES!

New York state's last licensed midwife has retired at the age of 73 because of ill health. She estimates she delivered more than 6,000 babies.

Mrs. Ida Galletta Matachierro of Albany obtained her license in 1920, but as more and more mothers went to hospitals to bear their children, the number of midwives declined.

First Methodist Church Scene Of Page-Coleman Nuptials January 26

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman

Reverend W. T. Barnes officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony which united Miss Judith Ann Page and Harry Ben Coleman in marriage, in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Fulton at five o'clock on Saturday, January twenty-sixth. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmi Page and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coleman.

The bridal scheme of white and green was effectively carried out in the beautiful decorations. Centering the choir loft was a large spiral candelabra. Additional branched candelabra were placed at intervals in the altar area, and tall white tapers shed a soft light. Spreading arrangements of large white chrysanthemums were placed in the tall brass vases.

marches from Wagner and Mendelssohn were used for the processional and recessional. Mrs. H. N. Strong, soprano, sang "Because," De Hardelet and, following the ceremony, she sang the Barnby Wedding Hymn, "O Perfect Love."

The lovely young bride was given in marriage by her father. She descended the aisle wearing a formal wedding gown of white silk organza made over silk taffeta and enhanced with a modified V neckline overlaid with reembodyered imported Alencon lace. Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion floated from a queenly crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias backed with satin and illusion. Her lovely pearl earrings were a gift of the groom.

Miss Janice Page, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street length frock of emerald green satin and her headdress was a satin covered ring with a scalloped matching illusion circular veil.

The bride's younger sister, Miss Jennifer Page, junior bridesmaid, wore a similar frock of emerald satin and her headdress matched that of the maid of honor. Both attendants carried green satin muffs with a cluster of gardenias.

Jerry Page, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. Ushers were Keith Weakes and Bobby Hankins. Billy Hankins was junior usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Page chose a handsome Andrew Orkin afternoon suit of champagne pure silk Gros de Londres. Her hat was made entirely of silk flowers with pearl cluster centers in shades of champagne and nutmeg green. Her gloves and pumps matched her suit and she wore a deep purple orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cecil Page, paternal grandmother of the bride, wore an afternoon dress of mauve Chantilly lace over matching taffeta. She wore a black velvet circlet hat with a brief veil. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained with a reception in the church dining room. Arrangements of chrysanthemums were used in decoration. Centering the table was a five-branched silver candelabra. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The register table was covered with a cutwork cloth and held a tall wedding candle and a white and gold wedding register pen. Assisting at the reception were six aunts of the bride: Mrs. Keith Weakes, Mrs. Leonard Hankins, Mrs. Lorenza Bowden, Mrs.

Neva McGruder, Mrs. Carl Weakes, and Mrs. Thomas Jackson.

Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Coleman left for an extended wedding trip, after which they will live in Los Angeles, California. For traveling Mrs. Coleman wore a costume suit of antique gold woolen. The dress was designed along sheath lines with high neckline and elbow length sleeves. The jacket was of gold and black plaid. Her hat was an early spring black straw cloth, her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of gardenias.

Before her wedding, Mrs. Coleman was the honoree at a number of parties. Included in these was a bridal luncheon on Thursday, January twenty-fourth, at the Terrace Room of the Park Terrace. Hostesses were Mrs. L. C. Logan, Mrs. Virgil Barker and Mrs. Phil Parker. The long table was centered with an arrangement of spring flowers on a footed brass container. A delicious two course luncheon was served. The honoree wore an attractive sheath dress of plaid wool in shades of gray and black, with black velvet hat and black accessories. Her gift corsage was of white carnations. Her gift from the hostesses was a dinner plate in her chosen china pattern.

Preceding the wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. Carmi Page, parents of the bride, entertained with a beautifully planned rehearsal dinner at the Terrace Room of Park Terrace. Guests were seated at a long T-shaped table, decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums with illusion puffs. Tall white candles flanked the flowers. A delicious three course dinner was served. For the dinner the bride-elect chose a stylish three-piece suit of scarlet double knit woolen. The blouse and the jacket were ornamented with narrow black braid. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Ouida Jewell Returns From Jackson Hospital

Ouida Jewell, who sustained a broken leg the night of January 23, when she slipped on ice, and was taken to Jackson General Hospital the next morning, was returned to her home in Fulton in a Hornbeak ambulance Wednesday.

Ouida's mother, Mrs. Leland Jewell, who has been in Chicago since November with another daughter, Sue, who has been ill, also returned home Wednesday.

Waller Lists Kentucky's "Firsts" In Address To Lion's Ladies Night

Tom Waller, a Paducah attorney and president of the Kentucky Bar Association, was the speaker on Thursday night, January 31, when the Lions Club met in the new Terrace Room of Park Terrace for a buffet dinner for their annual Ladies' Night.

Mr. Waller is also a member of the State committee organized to inform Kentuckians about their state, and this gifted speaker chose as his subject "Kentuckians—Know Kentucky." He cited Kentucky's progress in highways, education and industry, and gave a number of "firsts" which originated in the state. He also commented on the state's natural resources, emphasizing the abundance of water. He urged Kentuckians to publicize the state's attributes to the north and the west as well as it once did the "barefoot, tobacco chewing illiterate."

One hundred percent attendance awards were given R. D. Benedict, F. A. Homra, Elmer McNatt, Bobby Scates, Glenn Veneklasen and Louis Weaks.

Chevron and certificate awards were given L. Kasnow, 30 years Monarch; James Warren, 25 years Monarch; Dr. D. L. Jones, 15 years Monarch; Vyron Mitchell, 10 years Monarch; and C. W. Whitnel, 10 years Monarch.

Key awards were given Foad Homra, Frank LeMaster, Glenn Veneklasen and Louis Weaks for sponsoring new members.

RICE SAYS—

ficials, Rice only commented with two revolutions of his cigar holder.)

—Why each Commissioner was not furnished a copy of the police fines. (When handed a copy, which is available to all commissioners at the meeting and to the public, Rice said he was not aware that they were at the meetings. . . he has attended 13 regular sessions.)

At the meeting Monday, the usually patient Mayor, rankled by Rice's constant derision and ridicule told Rice: "If I thought I'd have to put up with you for another four years, I think I'd resign." It was then that Rice announced his intention to seek office boasting that he would be re-elected while flashing out at DeMyer with "you'll never be elected again."

In other action, the Commission accepted the $59,100.00 grant on sewage disposal system from the Federal Government under the Accelerated Public Works program. This, plus the 30 percent to be paid under the Water Pollution Act will make the Federal government provide 50% of the cost of the system.

An ordinance for payment in lieu of taxes by Gas and Water Funds was accepted.

There was a lengthy discussion of the Riceville annexation, and the Commission voted to re-draft the annexation ordinance, excluding the Illinois Central property. It will be brought up at the May term of court, and the residents will be notified of the probable cost of the gas and water.

It was voted to pay $2500 on the Creek Fund note and renew the balance for another six months.

Nanney, Also, Randy Jeffress, new Office Boy. Welcome to F-M Fulton!

PROMOTION — for Charles Mangold from Office Stock to work in the Bulk Department. Good Going!

OBITUARY — word has come to us of the death of Harold Coulter on January 5. Many of the senior members of the F-M family will remember him from his long time association with the Oakview farm at Rochester.

We also were notified of the passing of Robert L. Gale on December 18. Mr. Gale was a packet salesman for F-M from September 1917 until his retirement in July 1947.

On December 20, death came to another of our retirees, Fred W. Williams. Fred was a former employee in our Shipping and Receiving Department while in Detroit.

ACCIDENTS — occurred to two of the new girls, Barbara Nabors and Annette Neal enroute to work. A slick road caused Barbara to slide into another car. Evidently, Annette was the only one injured and she, only slightly.

Another case was one involving Clea McBride, Library Files, in a head-on collision on a country road, in the area where she lives. Fortunately, Clea was injured only slightly but her car was a total loss.

Patsy Byassee, Inventory Control, spent the last two days of her vacation in hte hospital with a broken collarbone. (Skaters must fall, but elsewhere, usually; not on the collarbone!)

STORK NEWS — concerns a baby boy born to Deloris Smith, Packet Order.

Born to Charles and Wilma Luther a boy, Charles Mark, on November 19, 1962. Wilma is employed in the Packet Order Department.

On January 10, 1963, a baby daughter, Vanessa Kay, weighing 7 lb. 14 oz., was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, Salesman.

Late November brought a new arrival to the Kippers in the form of a baby girl. She checked in at 7 1-2 lbs. and has been named Barbara Ann.

BIKE TOUR OF WESTERN EUROPE ON A SHOESTRING — during this past summer came about for Morse Hamilton, 19, and Wendy Hamilton, 17, son and daughter of Fulton Fill-In reporter. They sailed at practically student rates on a Dutch ship out of Hoboken, New Jersey taking 9 days for the trip. At Rotterdam, Holland they bought bicycles and started off for Hamburg, Germany. From there they hiked south via the Hartz Mountains, Black Forest area and the Ruhr, looked up a pen pal of Wendy's at Duisberg and also took a short boat trip on the Rhine River. Then on to Frankfurt, Worms, Heidelberg, etc. They stayed at Youth Hotels for 25 - 50c per night. On their bikes, they had saddle bags for a few clothes, etc. and sleeping bags.

Their worst problems were cold rains, cheaper types of German food and fatigue. They stored bikes at Frankfurt or near there and from then on hitchhiked (as a great many youths over there are doing) to see more places and meet more people.

Morse had a year of German at University of Tennessee in 1961-62 and had learned to speak and understand it. Actually, this accomplishment is what gave him the idea of the trip.

Another purpose of the trip was to attempt giving the people they met a better impression of American youth (by taking an interest in them - speaking their language, dressing as they do, traveling simply, etc.). Some more spots visited were Munich, Innsbruck and Vienna, Austria, Venice and Milan, Italy then several places in Switzerland, finally stopping at Caux on Lake Geneva for about a week. Wendy traveled with some new friends by train to Rotterdam and caught the boat back to U. S. on August 11. Morse stayed on and is now in Italy with a Moral ReArmament force there.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Frieled

Rev. James Holt filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11:00 a. m. where Sunday School opens at 10:00 a. m. The evening service will be held preceding the BTU service at 7:15 p. m. The public is invited to each worship service by Pastor Holt and the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Mathis are suffering from injuries sustained in a car wreck Friday, when a pickup truck, driven by Mr. Oby Laird, and their car ran together on a curve right off State Line Road. Mrs. Mathis is suffering from an ugly head wound, requiring some fifteen stitches, bruises and lacerations. Mr. Mathis sustained chest injuries. It is thought that the slippery roads were the cause of the accident.

The entire section was saddened and shocked when news reached here last week of the sudden death of Mrs. Effie Cox, age 79, wife of the late Jim Cox of Paducah. Mrs. Cox was found dead by members of her family early Wednesday morning and death was attributed to natural causes. She had been an invalid the past few years as the result of a broken hip. She was a resident of this community before moving to Paducah several years ago. She was a Baptist. She is survived by four daughters, two sons, several grandchildren, three brothers and one sister, also several nieces and nephews. Funeral services were held at Lindsay's Funeral Home at 2:00 p. m. Friday, with Rev. L. W. Carlin officiating.

Mrs. Dave Mathis continues to improve at her home in this village. She has been under the care of Dr. Wilson Dresden.

All the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. Corbett Rickman gathered at their home on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 20, in honor of their dad's birthday. Cake and coffee were served, and it was a very enjoyable afternoon for the children and the guest of honor.

All the farmers got busy Saturday and got the dark-fired tobacco in bulk. It is ready now for classing and stripping. The winter blizzard and sub-zero weather put a halt on such work, so now an effort will be made to get it ready for market very soon.

Those from here who attended the funeral of Mrs. Effie Cox Friday afternoon at Lindsay's Funeral Home in Paducah were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mathis, daughters Sammie Jane and Liz, Mrs. J. W. Bynum, daughter Gloria Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Gailther Bynum.

Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mrs. Jim Holt, her son, Rev. James Holt, and family in their sorrow due to the passing of husband, father and grandfather, Mr. Jim Holt, whose death occurred last week. May God comfort and bless each one of you now and in the days ahead.

Girl Scouts To Get "New Look" In Training Session Programs

To parody an old song, "There'll be a change in the weather, there'll be a change in the sea, there'll be a change in Girl Scouting in 1963 . . ."

And all Girl Scout Adults of the Bear Creek Council will get their first look at the new program change during two training sessions, a week apart, beginning this week of February 4. The target date for the changeover to the new program is September, 1963, and officials stress the fact that all leaders, assistant leaders and troop committees must take this training course in order to be ready to operate by next fall.

The changes in the Girl Scout program are based on results of a two part study conducted by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan. One part dealt with the needs and interests of adolescent girls (both Girl Scout and non-Scout) in all parts of the country, while the other probed the effectiveness of the present program.

In the new set up, aimed at meeting the growing needs of today's girls, 7 through 17, the foundations of the Girl Scout program will be brought to life in activities that suit the girls' special interests and abilities.

Activities for each age level, Brownies, Junior Girl Scouts, Cadette Girl Scouts and Senior Girl Scouts, will fit into a single program. A girl who joins at age 7 can continue growing to the age of 17, with each stage building on what has gone before. At the same time, the design is such that a girl can begin in Scouting at any age without going back to fulfill requirements others may have already finished.

Scout officials hasten to explain that the change will not be drastic enough to interfere with things Scouts are doing now. Anything a girls does in her troop now will fit into her Girl Scout future; the work already done on ranks or badges may be carried into the new program. The same is true for uniforms. Four distinct uniforms are already in use in the council and they will continue, with only slight inexpensive changes in accessories, which are already available and in use.

The program changes have been condensed into eight hours of training, running from 9:30 a. m. until 2 p. m. on two days, a week apart. They will be given Monday through Friday, both weeks, in the different communities, and leaders urge adults interested in Scouting to attend a session in another town if it is impossible that she attend the days set aside in her own community. Those taking the training are asked to bring a no bag lunch; coffee will be furnished.

Leaders are urged to attend both sessions, one the week of Feb. 4 and another the week of Feb. 11.

The complete list of dates and places for the training courses follows:

Marion: Feb. 4 and Feb. 11, at the First Methodist Church.
Fulton: Feb. 5 and Feb. 12 at Fulton Electric Company.
Mayfield: Feb. 6 and Feb. 13, at First Presbyterian Church.
Benton: Feb. 7 and Feb. 14 at Peggy's Eleventh Frame.
Paducah: Feb. 8 and Feb. 15 at the Friedman Community Center.

DETROIT NEWS

By Roy Maurer

(Last Week)

We sure are having a rough winter here. Snow is everywhere, and zero and below everyday. Last Thursday 13 below zero and 6 inches of snow! My driveway looks like a bob-sled run, snowfilled, fence-high.

Glad to say Ralph Kirby is home from the hospital; so is Mrs. Rose Schultz. Mrs. Altha Roland is still on the sick list at her home 17020 Mayfield Avenue, Roseville, Mich. (A card will cheer her up!)

The youth rally was at Grace Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Lincoln Park, and a good attendance was present Saturday night they went ice skating and tobogganing and all had a good time. Sunday was Youth Day at Church and the youth had charge of the programs and they did a very good job of it.

We are putting in a kitchen in our Fellowship Hall. Men—don't forget to bring your wife and children to the Anniversary Dinner Saturday Night Feb. 2 at church.

Our deepest sympathy to the Jacobs family on the loss of their grandson.

Bro. Nunn, his wife Helen and Daughter Donna were Thursday night dinner guests of Roy and Lucille Maurer, and as usual Roy prepared one of his German-style dinners; it was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Rodgers is still in room 107, Henry Ford hospital. Congratulations to Dortha Boyd on her engagement to Jim Evans; good luck from all of us. Glad that David Bowden got promoted from assistant teller to teller at Bank of Commonwealth. Also to Marylin Yates on her promotion at National Bank of Detroit.

See you in church Sunday. Don't let the cold weather keep you home; if it was a working day you would get up to go! Remember—if you give 4 hours a week to God you still have 164 hours for other things you can do.

My phone number is 839-3074. please call your news.

Colored Slides Tour Of Japan

A tour of many interesting places in Japan through the medium of colored slides was given by Gene Hatfield for the members of the Woman's Club Friday afternoon.

These slides were photographed when he was on a special assignment for the United States Army. Members greatly enjoyed Mr. Hatfield's description of the places depicted on the slides, of the people and their customs, and his own personal experiences. Blue lakes surrounded by snow-capped mountains, beautiful Japanese gardens and religious shrines were among the slides shown. He mentioned that every Japanese home had a garden of some kind. Many Japanese can speak the English language and a great number can read English. Schools are in session from 6 A. M. to 7 P. M. six days a week. The Junior Woman's Department was host of the meeting with Mrs. Robert Peterson as program chairman. Mrs. Vyron Mitchell, president, presided and conducted the routine business session, assisted by secretary, Mrs. W. C. Jacob. The pledge to the flag and the club collect were given by Mrs. J. D. Davis.

During the social hour individual iced cakes, nuts and mints were served from a beautifully appointed table, with a red and white color scheme. Mrs. Ralph Hardy presided at the silver coffee service. Hostesses were Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. James Weeks, Mrs. Herbie Hunt and Mrs. Charles Moon.
