Money Talks

By Frederic H. Cremen

President and Director

Drums of cheers at Senator Franklin H. proportion represented a national forces and policies for -fame or money has no place in our

Several days ago the House of Representatives debated a bill to liberalize the wage laws. Most of the speakers, both red and white, argued that the bill would give workers more power and would improve living conditions. The bill was eventually passed, but its impact on wages is yet to be seen.

The newly appointed Administrator of the AAA has already made headlines with his controversial statements. He has suggested that the government should intervene in the market to prevent sharp price increases for essential goods. His views have been met with mixed reactions, with some praising his dedication to the welfare of the people and others criticizing his interventionist approach.

A Package Wrapped

We are drawing near the end of a momentous year in American history. Because 1941 was expected to be fought with greater intensity, the railroads approached it with more than a little apprehension. And indeed there were some persons who genuinely believed that the railroad could do the job that lay ahead of them.

Yet, although, THAT, THAT HAS BEEN, completed thought it has been by the thousands of technical deft, rapid and often unbelievable moves, quick calls for rate readjustments, priorities on railway materials, bountee crops, lack of storage in critical places, attacks and threats of stampede.

Our Illinois Central pledge for 1941 was that we were ready for a season of higher service for you, the public. Money has been spent, methods improved, result raised to make that pledge a reality. Our pilot—hand—all of us are proud of the accomplishments of our service.

In conclusion, the word said, "ABOVE ALL ELSE, we want you to know how MANY our patent has meant to us. As sincerely glad we have been to contribute to whatever salesmen the year has brought you.

We earned our thanks and season's greetings through the continued performance of complete and satisfactory transportation. One is a package that will be WRAPPED IN GOOD WISHES, handed carefully and delivered on time.
