Catfish Hunter Keeps His Mastery Over A's

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Oakland A's haven't been the same since Catfish Hunter left — and no one knows it better than Catfish Hunter.

"Oakland doesn't have the defense now," says the New York Yankee pitcher.

On Wednesday night, they didn't have the offense, either — losing a 10-1 decision to their former teammate.

"There are only four guys playing regularly on the A's now," said Hunter. "And there are only 10 players at the most who are still there that I played with in 1974."

Hunter, who came to the Yankees after escaping from Oakland through a legal loophole in his contract, has treated the one-time world champions with utter disdain since 1974. Hunter holds a 5-1 edge over the team he once led to three world titles.

In the other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Texas Rangers 6-4 in 12 innings; the Minnesota Twins turned back the Boston Red Sox 5-1; the Chicago White Sox took a doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers 4-1 and 3-0; the Milwaukee Brewers stopped the Kansas City Royals 5-0 and the Cleveland Indians defeated the California Angels 6-2.

Hunter, 12-8, scattered nine hits and got ample batting support from Thurman Munson. The Yankee catcher drove in five runs with a three-run homer and two singles.

The only run off Hunter came in the first, on Joe Rudi's RBI single. Munson hit his home run in the fifth inning and ranscoring singles in the first and eighth.

Orioles 6, Rangers 4
Paul Blair, hitting only .206 at game time, socked a two-run homer off Joe Hoerner in the top of the 12th inning to lead Baltimore over Texas. Blair's blast, his second of the season, followed a walk to Bobby Grich and gave the victory to reliever Tippy Martinez, 3-0.

Twins 5, Red Sox 1
Bob Randall drove in two runs with a third-inning double to help Dave Goltz and Minnesota defeat Boston.

Goltz, 8-8, stopped a personal five-game losing streak as he pitched the first seven innings.

White Sox 4-3, Tigers 1-0
Lamar Johnson drove in two runs and pitcher Chris Knapp won his first major league game with a four-hitter as Chicago beat Detroit in the first game of a doubleheader.

Bucky Dent drilled a two-run triple in the fourth inning and Bart Johnson scattered six hits to carry Chicago to a sweep in the second game.

Brewers 5, Royals 0
Von Joshua and Tim Johnson collected two hits apiece as Milwaukee beat Kansas City with the help of six errors by the Royals.

The victory went to Bill Travers, 11-7, who gave up four hits in 6 2-3 innings, walked six, threw two wild pitches and hit two batters. Al Fitzmorris, 11-6, who made one of the Royals' errors, was victimized by the faulty support.

Indians 6, Angels 2
Charlie Spikes drove in three runs and Rick Waits scattered seven hits as Cleveland beat California. Waits, 4-4, outdueled California ace Nolan Ryan, 7-12.

The eyes of Kentucky are upon Mel Purcell.

And the eyes of Texan Jai DiLouie were probably sagging a little Wednesday afternoon as Purcell stunned the fifth-seeded player 6-4 and 7-5 in the National Clay Court Tournament in Louisville.

Purcell, who will be a senior this year, was unseeded in the 18-year-old division. It was only the third time of his career he had played DiLouie.

As 10-year-olds, the two played with Purcell taking a win and then two years ago in the Sugar Bowl Tournament, Purcell fell 6-2 and 7-5 to DiLouie.

Purcell led all the way in the first set and was never in any serious trouble as he posted the 6-4 victory. But the second set was a different story.

"I was down 3-1 but came back and tied it at 3-3," Purcell said.

"It was duce in the seventh game and after faulting the first serve, I came back and served him an ace. That got me pepped up and it proved to be the turning point of the match."

It also got the large crowd pepped up too.

"The crowd really made me feel good," Purcell said.

"Everyone was rooting for me. Plus there were several people from Murray that came up to watch me play too."

DiLouie came back and tied it at 5-5 but Purcell went up 6-5 as he easily won his serve. With DiLouie serving and the game at duce, there was big rally but Purcell came up with a sensational shot and the add belonged to the Murray star. Seconds later, it was all over.

"I don't think I'm really playing the best I've played," Purcell said.

"But I did pick up some things from the trip to California."

Paul Cohen, one of the top tennis coaches in the nation and an instructor of some of the finest young amateurs in the world, invited Purcell to come to California last month.

"I learned how to hit the ball harder and I also learned more strategy of the game."

While in California, Purcell defeated the number one junior in Australia. Also, Purcell lost 4-6, 6-3 and 3-6 to Elliot Teltser, the top 18-year-old in Southern California.

Purcell just about got himself in serious trouble though after beating DiLouie in the third round (128 draw).

Against Tim Lane of Houston, Purcell fell 2-6 in the first set.

"I just had an emotional letdown. I had played him this year in the Sugar Bowl Tournament and had beaten him 6-2 and 6-2 so I just had to pick myself back up and go to work again."

Purcell did just that. He came roaring back to win the next two sets and the match by identical 6-1 scores.

The win over Lane puts Purcell in the quarterfinals, where only eight players remain.

Getting Rich

MONTREAL (AP) — Ticket scalpers are striking it rich at Olympiad XXI. One scalper, who asked not to be identified, said he earned enough money in four hours Monday to pay his $600 university tuition fees. One scalper has his business set up on the lawn of a church.

Today, Purcell will face one of the toughest matches of his life as he collides with second-seeded Robert Vant Hoff of Los Angeles.

Purcell and doubles partner Mark Buechler won their first round match but were eliminated Wednesday.

"Both of us had already played two tough singles matches and we were just too tired to play but the tournament officials made us play any way," said Purcell. The duo was unseeded.

Korbut Wiped Away Tear As Comaneci Stood On Stand

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

MONTREAL (AP) — Little Nadia Comaneci stood on the victory stand, smiling, her arms held high like an empress acknowledging the fealty of her loyal subjects.

In the wings, Olga Korbut wiped away a tear.

It was the end of a storybook chapter in ladies' gymnastics. At 21, Olga, the one-time wonder child from the Soviet Union, was over the hill. In her place, wearing an Olympic gold medal instead of a tiara, stood Nadia, 14, just a twig of a girl out of Romania, the new queen of the uneven bars and balance beam.

Could Nadia, in her moment of glory, be looking at the distressed Olga and wondering what might be waiting for her in Moscow in 1980? Somewhere — in Leipzig, Louisville or Liverpool — some 10-year-old tyke must be swinging on a bar and coveting Nadia's medal.

"I think 10 years is the limit for a gymnast," the tiny Romanian said only last Tuesday. She has been in the sport seven years already. She will have served her sentence a year before Moscow.

Today, however, she is on top of the gymnastic world — hailed across continents and oceans — and Olga, who won three gold medals and a silver four years ago to send the sport into unprecedented popularity, is left only with memories.

It was a day for celebrating and a day for weeping Wednesday at Montreal's Forum.

The nerveless tyke from Romania whisked through her four demanding routines — the horse vault, uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercises — with such daring and precision that she swept easily to the ladies' individual all-around championship.

Ludmila Tourischeva, the USSR's defending titleholder, a poised veteran of 23, finished third behind a spectacular young teammate, Nelli Kim, 19, and announced her retirement.

Olga Korbut scored a poor 9.5 on the balance beam, where Nadia scored her fifth perfect 10, and finished in fifth place.

Larissa Latynina, Olga's coach, was livid over the seemingly unjustified low score for her once star pupil. Olga herself plunked herself into a chair and broke into tears. She couldn't believe it herself.

Miss Latynina, in full view of the Forum's 16,000 sellout house, strode to the officials' box to make a protest.

"They told me," Miss Latynina explained afterward, "that Olga had exceeded her time limit on the balance beam and had been penalized two-tenths of a point.

It was a silly copout for the judges — an ugly, unnecessary gesture in the case of a young girl who had them all mesmerized four years ago. At Munich, little Olga could have stayed on the beam all day if she had chosen. She was untouchable.

So go the judges in the Olympic Games. Like the thousands of spectators and millions of TV viewers, they were caught up in the wave of "Nadomania."

Questionable Quarterbacking Corps Could Hurt All-Stars

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Great running, a strong defensive but a questionable quarterbacking corps is what the College All-Stars will unveil Friday night when they meet the two-time Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers Friday night in Soldier Field.

The midsummer football classic in which the pros hold a 30-9-2 edge will be nationally televised (ABC, 9:30 p.m., EDT).

Down through the years the All-Stars have had the talents of such great name-quarterbacks as Sammy Baugh, Cecil Isbell and Otto Graham and recent standouts like Roger Staubach, Steve Bartkowski and Bert Jones.

The No. 1 pro draft pick this year was Richard Todd of Alabama but Todd did not report to camp, leaving the quarterbacking duties to Mike Kruczek of Boston College, Craig Penrose of San Diego State and Jeb Blount of Tulsa.

One of them will get the starting job and all three might get to play because of their various abilities. Coach Ara Parseghian is hoping one of them will get the hot hand which will enable the All-Stars to end an 11-game losing streak to the pros.

The All-Stars have not won a game in the series since 1963 when they upset the late Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers 20-17.

"Each excels at a particular type of skill and each maybe has a little shortcoming," said Parseghian, "But there's no perfect football player.

"Significantly, all appear to have tremendous competitive instincts, which is a super asset. Kruczek probably is a little faster, but Penrose and Blount probably can throw the ball better. I think all three are excellent leaders in the huddle and they have the respect of their teammates," said Parseghian.

All three have tremendous credentials statistically.

Kruczek set an all-time pass completion percentage record of .673, hitting on 225 of 337 attempts in three years at Boston College to erase the record of .631 held by Staubach, now one of the National Football League's top passers with Dallas.

Penrose led the nation in passing last season with 198 completions in 349 attempts for a .567 percentage. He threw for 15 touchdowns and 2,660 yards.

Blount completed 356 of 654 passes for 5,123 yards in his career at Tulsa. He threw for 13 touchdowns last season.

Although the Stars have a great array of running backs this time around, it will be impossible for them to even hope for a victory if they are unable to mount a passing attack.

Russians Accused Of Trying To Bribe American Athlete

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — Tom Gompf, manager of the U.S. Olympic diving team, accused Soviet officials today of contacting him in what he called an attempt to fix the Olympic springboard diving events winding up tonight.

Gompf told The Associated Press a deal was suggested to him in which the Russians would have gotten voting support for their women's springboard diver, Irina Kalinina, in exchange for a promise to have Russian judges back Phil Boggs of the United States in the men's event.

Gompf said the Soviets knew the proposal, made to him at a diving competition in Minsk this March, was turned down because he did not react to it and he never brought up the subject again in contacts with the Russians.

Kalinina, an outstanding diver performing below her best, finished seventh Tuesday in the women's final behind the American gold medalist Jenny Chandler. Boggs is leading in the men's competition.

"It was the first time anything has ever been proposed to me like this," Gompf said in a long discussion of the politics surrounding the judging of diving. "In very clear, slow tones while the cognac was going around, someone who I won't name said what a shame it would be if such a good diver as Kalinina was ruined in the Olympics by the old fogeys the International Diving Commission puts on the panels.

"In the same breath, they said what a shame it would be for Boggs to have that happen to him too. Then they said, 'Tom, we're very concerned about the wrong people getting the medals.' There wasn't really much more to add.

"I was going to be a judge again. I was the American judge at the Munich Olympics and I roomed with one of their top diving people there. They obviously had the impression I could put the deal together on the American side."

Gompf said the judging of diving is occasionally so cutthroat that he thought at the time of the offer that the Russians possibly might have proposed the same deal to countries like Sweden or Italy, both of which have contenders in diving.

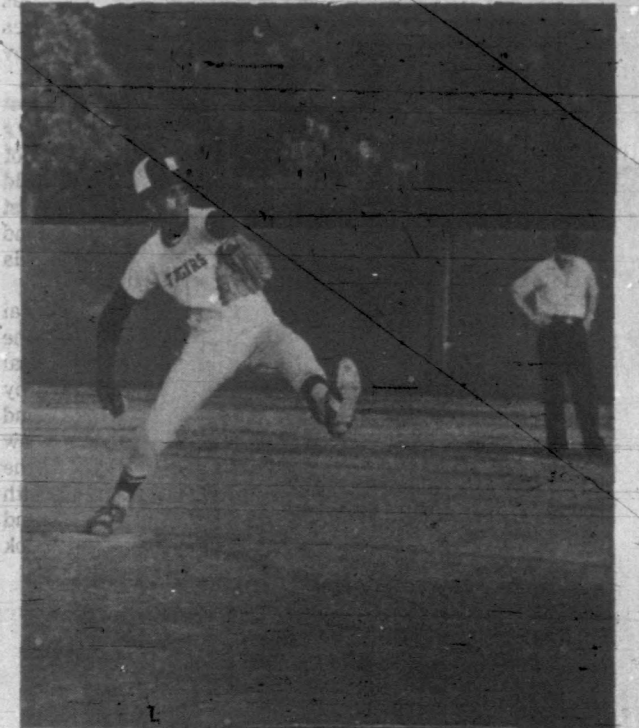

Gompf, coach of the University-of-Miami diving team and a bronze medalist in the 1964 games, talked about judging while a pattern was emerging Wednesday in which the Soviet judge, Anatoly Lariushkin, consistently downgraded the three U.S. springboard men, while the American judge, Wirt M. Norris, was doing the same with the Russians.

During the afternoon competition, for example, both the Russian and the American judges had 36 opportunities to mark American and Soviet divers. Only once did the Russian give an American diver a higher mark than the American judge did, while Norris always marked the Russians lower than Lariushkin.

Gompf said the situation was regrettable, but the Russian and American balanced each other out and that in general it appeared the best diver would win.
