A Fireman's Life

Whether the horses got to the fire in time; what started it or even if it was only a false alarm are details left far back in time. There is but one message, for anyone, anywhere, any time: Fire! This picture happened to have been made in New Haven, Conn., in 1910. But no more urgency, no more drama could have been caught in a photo of the latest diesel-powered aerial rig furiously wheeling a corner in Los Angeles. Or, if our forefathers had had cameras, in a shot of a leather-bellowed handpumper squirting its fleeager stream back in colonial days.

Other photos of 1910 would appear dated. Of Glenn H. Curtiss, say, when he set a record by flying nonstop from Albany to New York in one of those dragon-fly-like aircraft. Of Dan Beard in shorts and puttees and campaign hat, having just founded the Boy Scouts of America. We look at them for history, or out of curiosity, like rummaging through ancient hand-me-downs in an attic trunk. But this picture says all that need be said about a fireman's life.

When he made this picture, Delmar Barney Roos was an engineer student at Cornell working summers for a photo service in New York. He had been assigned to photograph the Yale commencement, particularly to get one of Robert A. Taff, son of President William Howard Taft, who was graduating that June. The younger Taft demurred and Roos used 23 of his 24 plates on other things.

Dejectedly walking to a trolley to catch a train home, he heard the fire engine, steam pouring from the boiler, horses charging. He stepped from the curb and exposed his final plate with his Press Graflex. When he developed his 24th plate later, Roos noticed, in the far left corner, in cap and gown and carrying his diploma, sure effough, the President's son, who had happened on the scene.

Roos left photography that summer and eventually became chief engineer for the Studebaker Corporation as well as designer of the World War II jeep. But when asked what in all of his achievements he was proudest of, he thought a moment and replied, "I once made a famous news

Authorties Puzzled Over Motive Of Man Shot On White House Lawn

WASHINGTON (AP) - Authorities said today they are puzzled about what motiviated a cab driver who scaled a White House fence and threatened a guard with a three-foot pipe before being shot to death.

Washington police said the intruder. Chester M. Plummer, 30, raised the pipe "in a threatening manner" and ignored repeated orders of an Executive Protective Service guard to halt on the White House lawn Sunday-

The guard, Pvt. Chales A. Garland, fired a single shot that hit Plummer in the upper left chest and felled him about 60 feet from the eight-foot fence he had scaled along Pennsylvania

Plummer's name was not included on a list of about 38,000 persons considered a potential threat to government officials, said special agent Lewis McClam of the Secret Service. He said the agency is unaware of any grievance Plummer might have had against the

"We're trying to find out the purpose, the reasoning" of the incident, McClam

The police said Plummer, a 30-yearold Washington cab driver, reportedly had a criminal record, but was not involved in any previous intrusions on the White House grounds.

A police sergeant said Plummer's motive was unknown. After talking with Plummer's parents, the sergeant said, "He never indicated to them he had any qualms with the President." Plummer, a bachelor, was estranged from his parents, he added.

Secret Service spokesman Jack Warner, asked whether the incident would cause any security changes at the White House, replied, "We constantly review our security procedures. and find no problems with the outer perimeter at this time."

The White House recently installed crash-proof gates costing $550,000. A man crashed into the old gates in a car Christmas Day 1974, and in February 1973 an AWOL soldier landed a helicopter on the White House lawn amid a hail of bullets from guards. Last November an unarmed intruder came within a few feet of Susan Ford, the President's daughter, on the first of his three illicit entries onto the grounds.

But no previous incident resulted in death or serious injury.

A dispatcher at the Red Top Cab Co. in Arlington, Va., where Plummerworked, said, "He was really a nice guy. He was quiet."

Plummer was shot several hundred feet from the White House, where President Ford and his family were in their second floor quarters. It was not known whether Ford heard the shot, but White House spokesmen say he was informed of the incident.

An ambulance squad tried to revive Plummer with heart massage on the White House lawn. He stopped breathing en route to George Washington Hospital, where efforts to revive him continued.

Inflation Not As Severe

Local Families Finding Pocketbooks Better Off

Because of the upward turn in the clothing and housing - some 28 per economy in recent months, Calloway County families find themselves in a more favorable financial position.

After a long struggle with depression and inflation, during which the cost of living rose faster than their incomes did, the tide has turned in their favor.

Even though inflation is very much alive and continues to push prices upward, it is no longer as severe a problem as it was a year ago.

As a result, local families, bolstered by rising incomes, strong savings and a smaller than usual debt, have the wherewithal to launch a big buying cent of their income, on average, is available to them for other spending.

This is based upon a study made by the Tax Foundation. It shows that taxes are the biggest item in most budgets. Most workers have to devote 2 hours and 39 minutes of their 8-hour day, onethird of the time, to pay their various Federal, state and local taxes.

In Calloway County, translating this to an annual basis and relating it to the average level of income locally, it amounts to $4,420 per family.

With taxes out of the way, the remainder of the 8-hour day is apportioned as follows by the Tax Foundation: for housing and household operations, 1 hour and 32 minutes, for food and beverages, 1 hour and 5 minutes, for transportation, 39 minutes, for clothing 29 minutes, and, for medical care, 25 minutes.

That leaves a total of 1 hour and 11 minutes of the workday, the proceeds of which may be used for discretionary spending. It may be for recreation and amusements, for education, for savings, for personal care or for luxuries in general.

Based upon the national study, the average family in Calloway County has nearly three-fourths of its income going for taxes, food, clothing and shelter. In terms of earnings in the local area during the past year, it is equivalent to $9,630 per family.

Reagan Picks Schweiker As VP Running Mate If He Gets Nod

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ronald Reagan said today he has selected U.S. Sen. Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania as his vice presidential running mate if he wins the Republican nomination for president.

Reagan said he knew he was breaking with tradition in announcing his choice for a vice president in advance of the convention.

Since I now feel that the people and the delegates have a right to know in advance of the convention who a nominee's vice presidential choice would be, I am today departing from tradition and announcing my selection," Reagan said in a news con-

It was not clear what affect today's move would have on Reagan's chances for winning delegates in Pennsylvania. There are 25 uncommitted delegates among the 103 members of the Pennsylvania delegation, according to Associated Press tabulations.

Both Reagan and President Ford have claimed enough delegates for nomination - 1,130 are needed - but continue to battle for each and every delegate as the convention draws near. Ford has 1,095 delegates, Reagan

Reagan described Schweiker as "a man of independent thought and action, with a background in business and 16. years in public service. He is respected by his colleagues but has not become a captive of what I call 'the Washington buddy system."

"He has an awareness of the shortcomings in our foreign policy and the domestic threat posed by continuing the present policies of inflationary deficit spending," the former California governor said.

"I have met with him and we have spent a considerable amount of time personally discussing the critical issues that face us today and the principles by which we would lead the nation," h

Although nationally 2,120 of the 2,259 delegates have publicly committed themselves to a candidate, only 900 are legally bound to either candidate. Nearly 1,350 may vote for any candidate they choose.

The bill authorizes the LEAA to spend $5.3 billion over the next five years to help communities fight crime.

During debate, the agency came under sharp criticism for failure to stem rising crime rates despite the expenditure of $4 billion since it was created in 1969.

Next on the Senate agenda are amendments to the Clean Air Act. The most controversial would give automakers two more years to meet stricter auto emission standards. The new deadline would be Jan. 1, 1979.

The postal bill would create a commission to study problems in the postal service. The commission, with six members appointed by Congress and four by the President, would report by Feb. 15.

Until the commission completes its work, the postal service would be prohibited from reducing services of raising rates. But the bill would increase the federal subsidy by $1 billion. The government already finances $1.5 billion of the cost of running the U.S. mail.

The Senate also is expected to continue debate this week on amendments to a major tax bill that would extend anti-recession tax cuts. Last week, the Senate approved amendments that virtually do away with tax breaks for sick pay and occasional business use of homes.

The mine safety bill scheduled for action in the House on Tuesday would transfer responsibility for mine safety from the Interior Department to the Department of Labor under a new assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health.

The bill also would require that underground mines be inspected four times a year and surface mines twice a

The public meetings bill would require that sessions of multimember federal agencies be opened to the public. It would apply to about 50 agencies, including the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Communications Commission and the Federal Power Commission.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) - A wildcat strike by coal miners seeking to pressure coal companies to stop using federal courts to settle labor disputes closed virtually every mine in West Virginia today and spilled over into southern Ohio.

Low Blood Sugar

Not all physicians agree with the traditional prescription of five or six small meals a day to control functional hypoglycemia (low blood Sugar).

The condition is believed to be due to the periodic overproduction of insulin by the pancreas, which creates a sharp drop in blood sugar levels. Since frequent meals tend to stimulate the insulin mechanism of the pancreas, it is felt that they may actually aggravate the condition.

Experiments have shown that a high fiber diet which slows digestion along with sufficient but not excessive protein in a three-meal-a-day pattern is effective in control ing symptoms such as sudden fatigue, nervousness, trembling, dizziness, headache, hunger, sweating, depression and anxiety which accompany a sudden drop in blood sugar levels.

Abstinence from refined sugar, including honey, maple sugar and molasses is important because they are digested so quickly that they flood the blood stream with glucose (blood sugar). This triggers the production of insulin, whose function is to lower blood sugar levels.

When sugar is taken in concentrated form, the pancreas over-reacts. The sugar in fresh fruit, eaten moderately. does not create this effect because it is combined with fiber which slows the digestive process.

The elimination of coffee, tea and cola drinks from the diet is also important in creating more stable blood sugar levels. The caffeine present in these drinks stimulates the production of insulin.

Alcohol, which is metabolized rapidly like sugar, may also produce hypoglycemia. The sudden drop in blood sugar could explain the craving for a drink which leads to alcoholism.

It is very important that the father provide the means of livelihood for the family where he can. It is important that he take active part in the decisions which affect the budget and the lives of the members of his family. ### Should Children Know 'Real' Parents?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Many parents are disturbed because in some states it is now possible for adult adopted children to 'unseal" their records and find out who their biological parents are

This is an answer to my prayers because somewhere in the world is a 21-year-old girl I gave up for adoption because I was an unwed mother who wanted my child to have a better life than I could give her at the time.

I hope my daughter wants to know her "real" mother. I want her to know that I have no desire to replace the woman who raised her. I just want my daughter to accept me as her "other mother." I wonder if she realizes that I could have done what many other girls in my position have done—had an abortion. Instead I chose to risk my own life in childbirth

Perhaps my daughter would like to meet me just to say,

HER OTHER MOTHER

DEAR OTHER: Please read on for a letter from a mother who has been on both sides of the adoption table.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 17 I had a baby girl out of wedlock. I gave her up for adoption because her father couldn't marry me. (He was married.)

I became a registered nurse and subsequently married a very fine physician. We seemed unable to have children, so we adopted a baby girl. Within a year I gave birth to a baby girl. Two more children followed.

I have never forgotten the baby I gave away, but I hope with all my heart she does not seek me out. The woman who adopted her and raised her from infancy is the only mother she's ever known and is her "real" mother in every sense of I know, because I am also the mother of an adopted child whom I love every bit as much as my biological children. If my adopted daughter were to seek out her biological mother, deep down I would be crushed.

If my biological daughter were to suddenly locate me, I can see nothing but problems for her, me, my family and the parents who adopted her. I realize that all adopted children are curious about their iological parents, but in satisfying their curiosity, they are ound to open up a lot of wounds and create many

I think one set of parents is enough for any child. What do you think, Abby? BOTH SIDES

DEAR BOTH: I agree.

Fifty-five years ago Saturday night, a lean young West ennessean transplanted from Arkansas stood up to preach for the first time in his life.

Dr. L. W. Carlin, now of Fulton, was still at it Saturday night. He has been a Baptist preacher for 55 of his 80 years, but age has not slowed him. He'll reach 81 in September.

Since he preached his first sermon on that hot July night in Ruthville, Tenn., seven miles south of Fulton, Dr. Carlin has put on some mileage and has maintained another noteworthy ago to help in potting your cuttings. So many of the plastic pots have holes so big that the fine potting soil drips through. To help this, line the bottom of the pot with a couple of thicknesses of newspaper; the water can drain through but it holds the soil back.

So many plants can be trimmed back and the cuttings used to start new plants. I would rather do this than keep the old plant. The new ones are better shaped and start new blooms in a very few weeks. There is a lot of rapid evaporation. summer weather yet, but the seedlings have time to make nice plants before cold

It might be wise to begin checking your evergreens for bagworms. It is much easier to get them as they appear than to wait until they have begun to denude the arbor vitas and spruces. The only way to be sure they are gone, is to pick them off one by one and put them in the garbage can or burn them. In the long run it is the easiest way.

Did you know you could still plant Marigold seed or Zinnias? They will bloom before frost if planted in a sunny spot. And usually the fall display is the most luxuriant, as the colors seem to be brighter at that time of the year.

We Just Love Our State

Kentuckians love Kentucky, that's who baby.

An apt assessment is to note that of the 29 million or so who visited Kentucky State parks last year more than 41 per cent were Kentuckians.

And a prime reason for this home hearth romance is one another. Scenery is of course the major tourist and travel draw, even with Commonwealth natives. But another foremost incentive is hospitality.

"Our state parks are not only the finest in the nation, they are resort without being exotic," explains Maryann Kohler, liason for parks information.

This is another way of saying travel as such, even including the majority Kentuckians, is still Kentucky's third-largest business behind agriculture and coal mining, and brought in $893 million last year with a goal of a billion dollars this year.

How's business?

Specifically for the state park system it is continuing to grow and is good. Central Parks Service reservation! for 1976 are a third better than 1975. Land Between The Lakes visitsare up a whopping 51 per cent over last year. Cumberland-Somerset area visits have escalated 10 per cent this year. Similar increases are being tabulated by parks statisticians in other regions.

One popular state park in the LBL western Kentucky area, for example, drew a mere six million last year.

No other state visits come anywhere near reflecting the esteem of Kentuckians to their own state parks, naturally, but Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Tennessee, Missouri and East Virginia send influxes of thousands.

'We're pretty well booked up inrough Labor Day," discloses reservations at Frankfort. This million a year. doesn't mean, however, that a . There is no one reason Kenpeak season overnight reser- tucky state parks are wellvation is impossible before the

Some Herbicides Are Misrepresented

The growing season is here again and, to insure a good yield, Kentucky farmers must use herbicides to check weed and grass growth. It has been found, however, that certain herbicides the market are being misrepresented in both function and price. Several of these herbicides are being offered for sale over the telephone. Described as a new chemical which can eliminate all your weed problems for the entire crop year, the product does not meet the claims made in the sales pitch. The chemicals are not effective on every weed and grass and are not intended for the full crop year. Because the false claims are made over the telephone and are not in writing, the Buyer cannot do much when later he discovers that the herbicides are intended for uses contraty to those named in the sales pitch. Another deceptive practice takes place when the name of the herbicide is changed to give the prospective buyer the impression that he is buying some new "wonder" chemical. Often the farmer purchases the herbicide at a

Parks officials haven't quite figured out why there seems to be no relation between gasoline fuel consumption of the traveler and travel itself. But there is apparently none.

Popularity per se could have something to do with parks advertising, such as Kohler does. Twenty-nine national magazines, 37 metropolitan newspapers besides television and radio, most within 1 500mile radius of Kentucky, were utilized last year.

Kentucky parks exploit that they are within a day's drive of "36 states and Canada."

The parks visitor season is long in Kentucky, not as long, possibly as Florida, but long. In fact many parks employes feel that the most pleasant visitor season is after the peak April-October period, and even in winter when 11 or 12 of the 15 major State Resort Parks remain open.

Stratton reveals, for instance, that a group of astrologists plan to come to Cumberland Falls State Park in November to try to see the falls' moonbow there.

Parks people pitch for business at some 30 sports, vacation and travel shows each year in America. Indeed, the Department of Public Information is to set up, with the Department of Commerce of Kentucky, a European office.

Brochures hawking attributes of the Commonwealth's travel magnets Collette Stratton, of parks total about more than 51/2

Unguaranteed Loans Draw Criticism

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - At the end of 1975 the six largest United States banks had nearly $12 billion in loans outstanding to 15 less developed nations which were not guaranteed by American companies or government

Considerably more indebtedness was run up by these economically troubled nations, but a good part of that at least is guaranteed by governmental agencies, however insecure they too

Some of these nations, as you are well aware, are undergoing serious economic difficulties, and some have political problems as well. In some, a poor crop or commodity price fluctuations could be deadly.

Assessing the situation, a good many observers have been outspoken in their view that massive defaults could ensue. unbalancing not only the economy of the United States but much of the industrialized world.

Nonsense, says one of those deeply involved, the First National City Bank. It maintains that while there might be some pains and even defaults, "the international financial markets have a proven capacity to absorb shocks."

Large as it might seem, the bank said, that $12 billion owed to just six large banks accounted for about 5 per cent of their combined assets at the end

It states that a survey of the 21 largest U. S. banks yielded similar results, specifically that such loans as a percentage of combined assets were about 4.5 per cnet.

So, it argues, "the portfolios of U.S. banks are sufficiently diversified to withstand even a massive rescheduling of LDC - less developed country debt, which is unlikely to occur."

The bank reasons also that governments today aren't likely to permit severe and prolonged contractions of their money stock.

Governments, it says, unlike private business enterprises, are not dissolved when their financial obligations exceed their financial resources. "So long as governments utilize their sovereign stop state cars from being parked ininappropriate places after hours. To that end, one agency official was told last week that one of his employes who will travel throughout the state for several days soon must park his state car on state property each night. What that means is the employe must find a state highway garage or some other kind of state property to park his automobile and then call a taxi to take him to the motel where he will stay the night. The next morning, he again must find a taxi to take him to his state car before he begins work again. Presumably, the state will reimburse

The Horrors Of Bureaucracy

By S. C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT-Everyone has heard at least one horror story of the bureaucracy federal, state or local turning the best intentions of elected officials into nightmares for the citizens. It happens, of course, more often on the federal level, where faceless bureaucrats write the regulations that implement legislation from the President or Congress. The most notorious case occured only recently, when an official of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare ruled that well-intended legislation barring discrimination prohibits schools from having fatherson or mother-daughter events.

At least in this singular case, the President read of the opinion, got hopping mad and ordered the HEW to start acting like it was made up of rational people.

A similar overreaction is occuring here as a result of Gov. Julian Carroll's long-needed attempt to reform and strictly regulate use of state-owned autemobiles by state employes.

The Governor announced his intention to clean up the use of state cars earlier this year. Some 300 automobiles bearing the state seal were assigned to cabinet secretaries, commissioners and ranking aides in the Governor's

Mr. Carroll ordered that only in the rare cases in which a car is essential to the performance of a job will employes be assigned vehicles full time. These will be rigorously supervised by the secretaries of transportation and finance.

The Governor's intention was to put a stop to the all-too common practice of finding state cars at shopping centers, restaurants and bars or the country club long after the 4:30 p.m. closing time for state government.

It was and still is an admirable idea, but the bureaucrats have been at work and the horror stories are beginning to filter out of the state offices here.

Because of the statewide nature and jurisdiction of many jobs in Frankfort, hundreds of state employes are required to travel on official business. They have a choice of using their own the employe for the taxi expense.

In relating the story, the agency official shook his head in wonderment at what the bureaucratic mind can create and said, "It really was a good idea at first."

Another state employe recently, discovered the new system will probably cost the taxpayers more than the old, less controled operation of state

A well-intention corollary attempt to keep closer watch on the state's gasoline expenses has resulted in the requirement that employes buy gasoline at a state highway garage when they are traveling. Recently, the employe spent nearly an hour of working time on several occasions searching out the local highway garage only to discover the garages do not have pumps containing lead-free gasoline for new automobiles. The employe was told to "do what 'everybody else is doing" and put lead gasoline in the tank.

Other state workers are being advised to simply stay away an extra night at the state's expense of course rather than attempt to drive a state car back to Frankfort late at night.

There might be a certain satisfaction that for once the bureaucrats are having the nightmares, but it is said that the Governor had a good idea, put it into motion and this is the sort of thing that results. But, it seems to be the way government operates and even governors sometimes have no control over what happens.

Accidents take no holidays. Each year many farmers lose valuable time and money dueto farm accidents. Each year on farms about 12,000 people are killed and about one million farm people are injured. In 1972 an estimated loss of 268 million dollars worth of property was due to farm fires. About 27 per cent of farm machinery injuries involves the tractor. Thirtyfour per cent of tractor fatalities occur within the 45-64 age range. More people are killed each year in farm work accidents than in any other major industry.

Vehicle Emblems.

Slow Moving Vehicle emblems have been an important factor in highway safety for the past 10 years. The SMV emblem is an orange and red triangle which you see on the back of slow moving farm or construction machinery on roads and highways.

These emblems are required by law on vehicles moving at less than 25 miles. per hour on roads and highways in all states in the United States and most Canadian Provinces. In the first 2 years after Nebraska adopted a law requiring use of the emblem on farm equipment, deaths resulting from rear-end collisions decreased 40 per cent. Michigan experienced a 47 per cent reduction in rearend collisions following adoption of an SMV emblem

Now, due to the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, (ASAE) which sets performance requirements for the emblems, an improved new emblem is available. It is a better emblem than any ever made before.

Chemical Registered

sucker control chemical -FST-7 - for use on burley and dark tobaccos, has been registered in Kentucky, according to W. O. Atkinson of the agronomy department of University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The chemical is a mixture of fatty alchohol and maleic hydrazide and is manufactured by Fairmount Chemicals, Atkinson said.

"It has the properties of both a contact and systematic chemical and is applied as a semi-course spray over the top of plants in the same way that a contact chemical is used," he said, adding that one application is all that is necessary, using nine quarts per acre in 40 to 50 gallons of water on plants topped at early to mid-flower blooming

Atkinson said FST-7 has been used in tests at the University of Kentucky on both burley and dark tobacco in 1974 and 1975. "Excellent sucker control was obtained both years and the plants were not damaged," he said. He emphasized that growers using the chemical should follow the guidelines on the label.

His suggestion for growers who use FST-7 this year is to treat only a portion of their tobacco crops with the new chemical and to make comparisons with the sucker control treatment they normally use.

Swimming ended last night. And it ended on a high note for deeply frustrated American women who were facing their first gold medal shutout since 1952. It was averted by an almost superhuman performance by 19-year-old Shirley Babashoff, of Fountain Valley, Calif., and three of her teammates.

It was a last-gasp thing. Going into the last event, the Americans hadn't won. Miss Babashoff had collected three silver medals, including one in the exhausting 800 meters just an hour earlier. They were facing the broad-shouldered East German women, winners of all but one event.

And the American girls won it by the touch of Miss Babashoff's fingertips over the East Germans in world record time of 3 minutes, 44.82 seconds.

'I'm very happy with all my medals," Miss Babashoff said. "I did my very best in every race. In the relay, I just got a little more help."

The help came from Jill Strickel, Hacienda Heights, Calif., Kim Peyton, Portland, Ore., and Wendy Boglioli, Ocean City, N.J., each of whom clocked her own fastest time for 100 meters.

But it was the outspoken Miss Babashoff who provided the heroics. Only an hour after the 800 meters she came back to swim the anchor leg and just hold off East Germany's Claudia Hempel.

Petra Thumer of East Germany had to swim a world record 8:39.63 to beat Miss Babashoff in the 800. Shirley was timed in 8:37,59

Hencken's loss came just as the American team seemed on the verge of collapse with the East Germans and Russians taking advantage of one of America's worst days ever to run up a big lead in medals.

But track and field victories by the lanky, 6-foot-2 Moses and massive Mac Wilkins in the discus Sunday, along with the United States' first individual gold in three-day equestrian, by Tad Coffin, helped greatly to restore American prestige.

Mike Shelbourne Romps To Murray Championship

Mike Shelbourne, a rangy, 23-year-old from Paducah almost passed up the 17th annual Murray Invitational golf tournament this past weekend at the Murray Country Club, but managed to squeeze into the capacity field at the last minute.

He then proceeded to blister the course both days and won his first tournament of the year with a sparkling sevenunder-par 137, four strokes in front of a fellow Paducahan, Jimmy Brown.

When he teed his ball up for the final round Sunday, Shelbourne, who will graduate from Paducah Community College this summer, was trailing Wally Young, the first day's leader and a former Murray State golfer, by a single stroke, but not for long.

He hit his second shot on the 190-yard par-5 hole to within four feet of the cup'and sank the putt for an eagle three and to go five under par for the tournament following a 69 Saturday in sweltering, 100degree-plus temperature. Young, in the meantime, was bogeying the hole, and fell two strokes back of the Paducahan.

Young, who is night auditor at the Kenlake State Park, quickly fell out of contention with four bogeys on the first five holes and went on to a 39 on the front nine Sunday before posting a 37 on the back for 76. With his leading 68 of Saturday, this gave him an even par 144 for the tournament and a tie for fourth place with Bob Cronin, also of Paducah and a junior on the Murray State golf team.

Following his eagle at No. 1, Shelbourne played par golf to the 320-yard 8th, which he birdied from one foot. Parring victory in a row under new the 9th, he made the turn at 102, six strokes under par at the 27th hole.

He then birdied the doglege 298-yard 10th with a 12-foot putt and got another on the 440-yard par-5 14th before Chambliss' dramatic three missing the 15th green badly five. He then proceeded to par out for 35 and a 68 for the day.

Brown, a member of the Southern Illinois University golf team, stayed within striking distance until the final hole, trailing Shelbourne by only two at the 16th tee, but double bogeyed the 385-yard drubbed the Chicago White 18th for a 70 for the day and 141 for the tournament.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE WINNER - Murray Invitational Tournament winner Mike Shelbourne (center) is congratulated by second-place finisher Jimmy Brown after Shelbourne parred the final hole in the 36-hole event Sunday. Shelbourne blistered the course with a seven-under-par 137 in the two-day event. At right is Bobby Cronin, who finished in a tie with Wally Young for fourth place in the championship flight.

Shelbourne missed an excellent opportunity at the 16th to widen the margin when he reached the 560-yard dogleg lake-guarded green in two but three-putted from 40 feet for a

A late entrant in the tournament, Shelbourne said he had been working hard for the Rolling Hills and Irvin Cobb Tournaments in Paducah and didn't realize the Murray tournament was so near When he entered early last week, the only teeoff time available was 2:20 p.m., which would have made him one of the final finishers, but when Mayfield's Bill Hale decided not to compete, he was moved into an earlier slot and played his rounds with Young, Cronin and Brown.

Shelbourne missed only two greens Sunday, hitting all on the first nine. When his second shot at No. 15 ended up on the 16th tee, it was the first green he had missed all day. The other was the 18th but he got his par with a fine chip shot, Earlier in the year, Shelbourne had tied for the Calvert City tournament with Steve Golliher, also of Paducah and a University of Miami golfer, but lost to Golliher on the 6th hole of a sudden-death playoff. He also finished fifth in the Rolling Hills tournament and tied for ninth in the Irvin Cobb.

Shelbourne's 137 was a record low for the tournament since it has been played on the present 18 holes since 1969. The Invitational record is 135, set by Bill Graham, former Murray State golfer from Murray, but this was set when the course was only nine holes and the 36-hole tournament played by touring it four Golliher, who finished two strokes behind last year's winner, Mike Perpich of Louisville, with 142, shot the same score this year to finish third, but his 67 round Sunday was the best 18 of the tournament. He shot a 35 on the front and 32 on the back.

Hickman's Jesse McNeil was 6th with 145, followed by Johnny Quertermous, Murray, and Scott Nall, Jr., Mayfield, with 146, while three finished with 147—David Buckingham and Jerry Caldwell, both of Murray, and Terry Sloan, Paducah. In the first flight, Roy place with 153's. In the second flight, Jimmy Lamb of the Oaks was the winner, taking a sudden-death playoff from Al Jones of the host club with a birdie on the first hole. They had finished deadlocked at 154. In third place was former Marshall County Judge Pal Howard, Benton, with 155, one stroke in front of John Golliher, Paducah.

Jim Sears, Mayfield, was next at 157, followed by Greg Howard of Murray. Leon Lauck, Paducah, and Johnny McCage, Murray, were next with 159's.

Circuit Judge James Lassiter, Murray, rode an even-par 72 Saturday and an 80 Sunday to win the third flight by two strokes with 152. In second place was Jack Bailey, Jr., Paducah, with 154, and Jim Lindblad, also of Paducah, was third with 155. Chad Stewart, Murray, was fourth with 157; Steve Farmer Herb Chitwood fifth with 158, and Benton's Carl Ham 6th with 161.

In the fourth flight, Bill Nall, Murray, was the winner 163, three strokes in front of Stuart Poston, also of Murray. In third place, was Charlie Irwin with 167, while Don Grogan, John Quertermous, and Dale Nance tied for fourth with 168. John Williams, Paducah, was next with 159.

Billy Brandon, Murray, won the fifth flight with 170, two strokes in front of Billy Dan Crouse, Murray, with 172. Ted Lawson, Murray, was third place winner with 177, and David Stiles was the fourth place winner with 178. followed by Richard Knight with 180.

The golfers were preflighted by minimax handicaps as follows: Championship flight, 0 to 3; first flight, 4 through 7; second, 8 through 10; third, 11 through 14, fourth, 15 through 18; and the fifth, 19 and up. Fifty-two golfers made up the championship flight.

Jacobs, Sowerby Should Be In Olympics Tonight

Murray State track star Cuthbert Jacobs made his second and third appearances Sunday at the Summer Olympics in Montreal.

A week ago Saturday, Jacobs and former MSU star sprinter Fred Sowerby were in the opening ceremonies. Sowerby carried the flag for Antiqua while Jacobs was following immediately behind.

Sunday, Jacobs finished second in the first preliminary heat. In the quarterfinal heat, Jacobs had a shot at finishing in the top four but faded in the final 15 meters of the 200-meter dash and finished fifth. #### Memorial Services Held Sunday For Harvey L Nash

Memorial services Harvey Lewis Nash were held Sunday at eight p. m. at the chapel of the Filbeck and Cann Funeral Home, Benton, with David Lee Hendrickson officiating.

Nash, age 33, of Wayne, Mich., a construction worker, drowned in the Gulf of Mexico about 9:30 p. m. on July 14. He was working on a shrimp boat about thirty-five miles from the Texas coast near Galveston, when he apparently fell overboard. His body has not been recovered.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Marilyn Nash, and two daughters and one son, Wayne, Mich.; his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Faughn, and his stepfather, Otho Faugh, Benton; two sisters, Mrs. Madonna Elkins, Hardin, and Mrs. Patrica Edmonds, South Fulton, Tenn.; three brothers, David Nash, Decatur, Ill., Robert Nash, Wayne, Mich., and Jimmy Nash, Idaho; grandfather, Curlin Thompson, Benton Route Eight.

Funeral Is Today For Zenas Queen

Funeral services for Zenas Queen of the Kentucky Lake Development Area are being held today at two p.m. at Oceana, West Virginia, with burial to follow in the Forrest Lawn Cemetery at Pecks Mill, West Virginia.

Mr. Queen, age 62, died Thursday at 4:04 p.m. at his home. He retired last October from his position in the building and maintenance department of the S. C. Electric Company, Chicago, Ill. He had had a summer home here since 1968.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Alma Slone Queen, to whom he was married January 16, 1937; three sons, Neil of Gallipolis, Ohio., Ellery of Northbrook, Ill., and Kyle Queen of Mishawake, Ind.; two sisters, Mrs. DeForest Johnston of Maryland and Mrs. Jack Smith of Columbus, Ohio; one brother, Ira B. Queen, West Virginia; four grandchildren.

the powerful, the wealthy and the influential will get first crack at season tickets for the new University of Kentucky basketball arena that opens

In outlining the university's ticket distribution plan, athletic director Cliff Hagan has indicated that persons with influence will get the best seats at the new Rupp Arena. Persons whose friends have influence also will do well in the quest for good seats, he indicated.

If you don't have any powerful friends, a contribution of at least $50 to the university's Blue and White fund will get you on a priority list, Hagan said, adding that a bigger contribution will produce a better seat.

Hearings Now Under Way On Proposed Funeral Regulations

Associated Press Writer

Hearings under way in Washington on proposed federal regulations for the funeral industry have focused new attention on a subject many people would rather forget: death.

Ignorance in this area is expensive, however. And more and more people are turning to memorial societies offering advance information and planning that can cut funeral costs by hundreds of dollars.

Memorial societies are nonprofit organizations seeking simplicity and economy in funerals. The groups arrange with local undertakers to provide simple funerals for members at specified costs. They also offer information on different types of services available and on alternatives to burial, including cremation and donation of the body to medical research.

"The whole emphasis is on pre-planning," said the Rev. Harry E. Smith, president of

Mississippi Votes To Keep Delegate Votes Uncommitted

By The Associated Press Mississippi's 30 Republican delegate-votes could have put President Ford - within a political inch of the GOP nomination, but the delegation voted to stay uncommitted until the convention. So the Republican presidential contenders keep scrambling for delegates while the Democratic ticket starts writing its policy proposals. The Mississippi delegates, the only full state delegation still unaligned either with Ford or challenger Ronald Reagan, also reaffirmed on Sunday an agreement to vote as a bloc.

But the gave no clear sign which candidate will win their votes. Both camps lobbied fiercely and both claimed

Ford has 1,096 delegates and Reagan 1,024, according to a survey by The Associated Press. The winner needs 1,130 and there are 138 delegates still uncommitted. Both candidates claim enough votes now to win the nomination.

Reagan announced Sunday that he would make "a major campaign statement" today. There were no details but one aide said it would be "a positive statement" for the campaign.
