AAA Committee Will Be Named November 29th Polling Places For Five County Elections Given

ALL ARE AT 7 P. M.

The schedule for Agricultural Conservation Program (AAA) committee elections in Fulton county was released this week by H. M. Hewitt, chairman of the county committee.

Farmers in each community will elect a committee of three farmers plus two alternates. At the same time a farmer delegate to the county convention will be chosen who, with delegates from other communities will elect a three-man county committee.

Polling places, the date, and hours for the five community elections in the county are as follows:

Community No. 1, at city hall at Fulton, November 29, at 7 p. m.

Community No. II, Cayce school, November 29, at 7 p. m.

Community No. III, Cayce school, November 29, at 7 p. m.

Community No. IV, county AAA office, November 29, at 7 p. m.

Community No. V, Western school, November 29, at 7 p. m. Eligible farmers are being urged to show their interest in the local administration of national farm programs by full attendance at the meetings. Eligible to vote is any farmer participating in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program—irrigating systems, operators, tenants, and share-croppers on farms where these programs are being carried out—and anyone who has a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

The duties of local committees include recommending programs, action determining acreage allotments, and otherwise administering federal farm programs; choosing conservation practices for quick federal assistance is offered in Fulton county; allocating among farmers the funds available for meeting agricultural conservation needs; and handling price-support operations, including commodity loans and purchases.

Reds Will Ask Full Story On Atom Bombs

Information To Be Given With Troop Inventory Affects All Of U. N.

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave notice today that Russia would ask members of the United Nations for full information on all types of arms including atomic and rocket-powered weapons when disarmament discussions begin.

Referring to a statement by Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) that a proposed international troop census should include data on all military-type organizations, Molotov said that if this information is to be supplied it would also be necessary to give facts on all types of armament.

He then specified atomic and all new jet-propelled arms. Molotov told the 54-nation political committee of the United Nations assembly Russia was not against asking for such information. He said, however, "we shall do it when we consider general disarmament" instead of including it in the proposed troop census.

"We are told that troop information is being up with disarmament," Molotov declared. "In this case we would have to discuss not only troops but all kinds of arms. We then would need information, too, on all kinds of arms in each country. Then we would have to speak of jet-propelled weapons, atomic weapons and all other types of weapons." He made this declaration in backing up his contention that the troop inventory should not be submerged in the broader question of general disarmament. He reiterated his previous opposition to U. S. and British demands that the troop census should include figures on troops at home as well as those abroad.

At the same time he pressed for immediate action to get reports on all troops stationed outside their home territory. The question of a troop inventory is urgent and cannot be put off until the U. N. members begin a complete discussion of arms limitation, Molotov said.

"The Soviet suggestion is to wind up this discussion by adopting a decision to get (troop) information by Jan. 1," he declared.

"We shall proceed to discuss general disarmament tomorrow."

Kentucky Electric Power Users Go Back To Wartime Footing In Compliance With Order To Cut Lighting To Save Coal Supplies

By The Associated Press

Electric power users in Kentucky today were on a footing reminiscent of wartime in compliance with a civilian production administration order to discontinue with unessential lighting as a means of husbanding the dwindling coal supply.

The order, applicable to Kentucky and 20 other eastern and midwestern states and the District of Columbia, became effective at 6 o'clock last night.

Gov. Simeon Willis, in Frankfort, declared a coal emergency because of the United Mine Workers' strike.

Burley Production Too High For Good Price, UK Reports

The annual outlook report of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station says that the outlook for burley tobacco for 1947 is tempered by production during the past three years which totals 384 million pounds more than was used during the same period. Excess production of 129 million pounds per year cannot be added to stocks on hand for long without an adverse effect upon prices. The prices received for burley tobacco weakened during the marketing season last year and few strengthening factors appear in prospect during the next 12 months unless production in 1947 is reduced sharply from the level of 1944, 1945, and 1946.

The disappearance or use of burley tobacco during the past three years averaged approximately 50 percent larger than in the years immediately before the war. If this rate is to be maintained, present supplies of burley, despite large production in recent years, are not particularly excessive. In fact, the total supply on October 1, estimated at 1,462,000 pounds, is just about three times present annual rates of consumption.

Burley tobacco finds its chief uses in cigarettes, chewing and smoking tobacco. Active business and high national income favors the use of these products, particularly cigarettes. During the first 8 months of 1946 the use of cigarettes, military and civilian, appears to have been slightly higher than in 1945. The use of chewing and smoking tobacco, however, was off about 25 percent. The net result suggests slightly smaller total takings of burley in the year ahead, no business expansion sufficient to raise the use of burley tobacco as foreseen. Neither do sharp reductions in its use seem in prospect.

Fire-cured Tobacco

The production of Kentucky types of fire-cured tobacco in 1946 is well above that of recent wartime years, but is about in line with estimated disappearance during the past 12 months.

The resumption of international trade has permitted the removal of exports which were stopped during the war. Until foreign stocks are built up and production is restored in other countries the demand for fire-cured tobacco for export is expected to be strong. Exports during 1945 were about 10 percent above those of immediate prewar years but during the months of 1946 for which data are available, exports were nearly one-fourth less than in 1945.

Dark Air-cured

The outlook for the dark air-cured tobacco in 1947 is not particularly bright. Disappearance during the past year was at about the rate of immediately prewar years but resulted from larger exports and curtailed domestic use. The reconversion of war plants to civilian production, together with the availability of cigarettes, has reduced the consumption of chewing tobacco which forms an important outlet for dark air-cured tobacco. For years before the war the use of chewing tobacco had declined but war plant restrictions on smoking stimulated its use during the war. Although the downward trend may not continue in postwar years, the use of chewing tobacco in 1946 is down considerably from that of a year earlier.

U. S. May Use Big Gas Lines

Interior Department Says Government May Try Big, Little Inch

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Interior Department told a congressional committee today it is "actively considering" government operation of the $143,000,000 war-built big inch and little inch pipelines for transmission of gas to relieve some effects of the coal strike in the east.

However, Assistant Interior Secretary C. Girard Davidson testified the department has not yet reached a final decision. Questions remain, he said, on whether such operation is feasible from an engineering standpoint and whether the operation should be undertaken by the government or private companies.

"If this (coal) strike is a prolonged one," Davidson told the House Sub-Committee on Investigating Committee, "then the department will do everything it can, including the use of these lines, if feasible, to alleviate the coal shortage."

The 1,500 mile lines, reaching from the Texas oil and gas fields to the eastern seaboard, were built during the war to transport oil when German submarines destroyed many American tank ships.

Chairman Slaughter (D-Mo) told Davidson when he completed his testimony that "your testimony is so vague and nebulous it is hardly of any help."

Mrs. Frances Rouse, 23, secretary of the operating engineers (AFL), who walked out Saturday and was joined by three other office girls in a sympathy movement after the union refused to meet her demands for a 40-hour week, a pay boost and time and a half for overtime, said the strike was called off after all demands had been met.

Mrs. Rouse had established a picket line that threw the Labor Temple into idleness when business agents and other union authorities who work in the Temple refused to cross the line.

Negro Trusty Is Held For Attack

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26.—(AP)—

Willie Little, 39-year-old negro prison trusty, was held today on a charge of criminal assault following his capture after a bloodhound chase.

Mrs. Fletcher Rook, 43-year-old white woman, told Deputy Sheriff R. L. Atkins that Little broke into her home Monday afternoon while she and her five-year-old granddaughter were sleeping in adjoining rooms, grabbed her and assaulted her despite her resistance.

Livestock Men To Probe Fair Bill

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 26.—(AP)—

A committee of the Kentucky Pure bred Livestock Association today had been given authorization to ascertain the exact status of the new state fair bill after Dec. 12—the date Gov. Simeon Willis is scheduled to appoint two new members of the state fair board.

Judge Harry Walters, Shelbyville, who introduced the measure in the legislature, told the association last night "to let anything happen" to nullify the purpose of the bill.

"The state fair is your show window," he said. "If a fair is to be successful, it must have continuity of management with no political strings."

Tommies Quiet Rioting Jews

Use Tear Gas, Clubs In Quelling Disturbance On Jewish Refugee Vessel

Haifa, Palestine, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Steel-helmeted British troops using tear-gas, fire hoses and clubs put down a riot of shouting Jewish refugees aboard the immigrant ship Hameri Halvi (Lochite) today after an hour-long battle in which 10 soldiers were injured, four seriously.

The battle was touched off when troops boarded the ship, biggest yet to attempt the dash to Palestine, to begin the removal of the illegal immigrants to three British troopships, to await a legal decision on their future. It was reported that 3,370 refugees were aboard.

"The blighters were tossing full tins of UNRRA food at us," a police officer said. "It was ankle-deep on the dock."

At the height of the fight the passengers hung a huge banner over the side of the ship. It was signed "Commander-in-Chief, Jewish resistance movement," and read: "For every Jew murdered or wounded aboard this ship, you will pay in English blood. You have been warned."

Soldiers were repulsed in their first attempt to board the ship, and returned shortly armed with tear-gas, hose and clubs. Four steel gun bursts were fired in the air, but the refugees would not be cowed.

About 50 of the immigrants leaped overboard and were picked up. Some 30 others jumped to the deck of a nearby tug, but were brought back.

Disembarkation began an hour and a half after the ship entered Haifa harbor. The immigrants were taken ashore in launches and transferred to the troopships.

Army Sees More Funds Available For Flood Control

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—

Army engineer officials reported today it is likely that presidential limitations on expenditures for flood control and navigation projects will be eased somewhat.

These officials, who asked not to be quoted directly, told a reporter that they did not know the size of the expected increase but they are preparing to resume work which had been suspended on some projects.

Under President Truman's order limiting government spending, a ceiling of $130,000,000 was set for flood control work and $90,000,000 for development of rivers and harbors. Congress has appropriated $500,000,000 for such work.

Tilden Arrested On Morals Charge

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—(AP)—

Tennie Foye, William T. (Big Bill) Tilden, 53, today faced a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The complaint was issued yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Herbert Grossman. Tilden was released on $500 bond pending a hearing today before Superior Judge A. A. Scott. Tilden was arrested Sunday with a 14-year-old boy in his automobile.

A Thought While Idle

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers might find time during their voluntary period of idleness to consider a statement made yesterday by Claude A. Williams, president of the Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Co. Mr. Williams told the house surplus property committee that his company could begin delivering 50 million cubic feet of natural gas a day to the east through the Big and Little Inch pipelines in two to three weeks. This figure could be increased substantially within 30 to 45 days, he added.

We hope Lewis and his striking miners realize the implications of Mr. Williams' statement. It demonstrates that the lower house of congress is anxious to find the means to supply the strike-paralyzed East with a substitute for coal, and that there are men and companies who will be eager to do all they can to compete with soft coal for fuel and heating.

Admittedly, not enough natural gas could be piped to factories and homes just now to make any appreciable difference in the effects of the current coal strike. But the mere fact that gas has been considered as a replacement for coal indicates that lawmakers and the public are becoming more and more disgusted with the Lewis-UMW method of gaining their selfish ends through crippling walk-outs.

Necessity is the mother of invention. If this nation continues to find its coal supply inaccessible, as was the case with natural rubber at the beginning of World War II, we believe a suitable substitute will be developed. Power-minded John L. Lewis' days of leadership may be numbered unless he demonstrates that he is willing to keep faith with the government and the people of the United States.

Re-Check Check

Minneapolis, (AP)—The First National Bank was combing through its records of the past 33 years trying to find out what happened to $1,000 belonging to one E. C. Cutler. The search started after E. C. McDaniel, a candidate at Kansas State College in Manhattan, Kans., found an uncashed check. The check was Oct. 25, 1909, and it was signed by Cutler.

Disturbing Reports

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

"Disturbing reports" which Washington has heard about the projected Polish national election for January has impelled the U. S. state department to advise Warsaw once more that it expects equal rights and facilities to be accorded all Democratic and Anti-Nazi parties.

The American note expressed surprise that the election hasn't been carried out this year, in accordance with the Big Three agreement at Potsdam in 1945 for the holding of an election as soon as possible. This communication comes on top of last week's Romanian election which was regarded with concern by both Washington and London. There was a heavy communist majority, and acting U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said that there was no free and unfettered election as Romania had promised.

Some diplomatic experts in Washington have commented that the forthcoming election in Poland will be the first held in that country in mid-winter—a period which ordinarily produces such severe weather that it might keep much of the rural population away from the polls. Should this be the case in January, the largely conservative peasants might be unable to vote while the Red industrial centers would be unhampered.

It would be interesting to know just how much Washington and London hope to achieve by their persistent objections to the nature of the elections being held in such countries as Romania, Bulgaria and Poland. Certainly one would expect them to keep reiterating the principles agreed to by the Big Three, but as a matter of cold fact such protests have been, and so far as one can see will continue to be, as unproductive as hallooing down a rain-barrel.

Suitable Haul

OUR READERS SAY

Statement To The Public About Parking Meters

In view of opposition expressed by some of our businessmen in connection with the proposal to install parking meters, we wish to make this statement for the benefit of all our people.

At the time the present Mayor and City Council took office nearly five years ago, there was a delinquent light bill amounting to $3,350.00 due the Kentucky Utilities; delinquent street bonds amounting to $8,338.29; outstanding notes due individuals amounting to $9,000.00, with several outstanding accounts amounting to several hundred dollars. On account of insufficient revenue the previous Administrations were unable to meet all their operating expenses.

Since we took office we have paid all these past due items, but in doing so we have necessarily had to defer and neglect other things that should have been done, and improvements needed. For example:

We need to build a bridge over the creek on Collins street, at an estimated cost of $25,000.00; bridge on Burns avenue, cost estimated $5,000.00; necessary to buy fire truck, cost $4,000.00; certain repair work needed on streets, estimated to cost $3,000.00; purchase cost of Fair Grounds property $7,000.00; bridge over creek on Commercial avenue will have to be rebuilt within next few years at an estimated cost of $10,000.00. Total, $52,000.00.

From the above it can readily be seen that it is necessary to increase our revenue. There were three ways considered: increase real estate valuation approximately 50%; license and occupation tax; or parking meters. Either plan was to yield about $10,000 annually.

After a thorough investigation of the parking meter situation in other towns that have had them we were convinced that parking meters were the proper solution. First, because they would solve our financial difficulties; second, would solve the parking situation in our congested area, thereby serving a dual purpose. They will do away with dead-end parking, keep the traffic moving and enable people to find a parking place in close proximity to the store in which they wish to make a purchase, by putting a penny in the meter for 12 minutes, or a nickel for an hour.

The principal objection to parking meters voiced by those attending City Council meetings was that they would drive our farm customers away from Fulton and the merchants would lose money. Our investigations in towns where they have meters do not bear out the statements of the objectors and since parking meters did not hurt the business in other towns we do not believe they will hurt the business in Fulton. We believe our people within the city limits and our good farmers surrounding Fulton are as liberal-minded and loyal as anywhere on earth, and we have confidence enough in their integrity and progressiveness to believe they will continue to patronize the merchants in Fulton, meters or no meters.

As further information, Paducah, Mayfield, Union City, Dyersburg, Paris and Jackson have parking meters, and we understand several other nearby towns are considering them.

Thinks Meters Inadvisable

Editor, Fulton Daily Leader

Dear Sir:

May I at least the following reasons as being, in my judgment, proof against the advisability of adopting parking meters as a means of raising additional revenue for the city.

FIRST, we have long sought to keep our buyers at home. In our purchasing area of Western Kentucky and Tennessee, Fulton is not one of many towns of its size or larger. We do not need to add to the inconvenience of those who come here to trade. A buyer who usually visits a neighboring town, where parking meters are in operation, kept a friend in the car feeding into the slot, when necessary, so that he could leave his car and go on his errands without receiving a ticket.

SECOND, since our town is divided by the find that their business carries them on both sides of the tracks—so they would bear the burden doubly—if they did not get in the habit of walking altogether. If they did, their purchases would be lighter because of the fact that they were walking.

THIRD, car drivers would seek a free area, and this logically would throw them on Carr street (it is the nearest street to town), and since this street has already located on it a funeral home, a hospital and three churches at which there is more than ordinary residential parking, additional parking would not be advisable.

FOURTH, one advantage which the driver of a car has always had over the driver of old hay-burning Dobbin was that he did not have to hitch Lizzie when he got out, so let's keep it that way.

New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—With the news that Norfolk's Granby high will meet Clifton

N. J. in the "Oyster Bowl" game at Norfolk, Va., Dec. 7 and that Long Branch, N. J., is planning a "Clam Bowl" tilt Jan. 1 involving the semi-pro Branchport Eagles, it becomes obvious that they're going to do up the bowl business from soup to nuts this season. . . . How about this meal?—Clam Bowl, Oyster Bowl (soup), Al Lacombe's New Orleans "Polkey Bowl" (it would go better if that Maine vs. Idaho Spud Bowl had been arranged); Oil Bowl (Houston) for salad dressing, Orange Bowl (Miami) for dessert; Sugar Bowl (in New Orleans coffee, of course), Peanut Bowl (Columbus, Ga.) and Raisin Bowl (San Jose, Calif.) to fill up the chinks, Glass Bowl (Toledo) for wine, Cigar Bowl (Tampa) or Tobacco Bowl (Lexington, Ky.). . . . After that you could go out among the Rose Bowl's roses and sleep it off in the Sun Bowl.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES AID MEETS AT WHITE HOME
The Ladies Aid of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met yesterday in the home of Mrs. Bob White. Mrs. J. H. Lawrence had charge of the devotional with Thanksgiving as the subject. Some of the Thanksgiving Psalms of David were read by different members. These were interspersed with songs of praise by the entire group. This was followed by prayer by Mrs. White.

Twelve members answered roll call and three visitors, Mrs. E. A. Bush and son, Joe Ed, and Mrs. W. T. Roper, were present. The chairman, Mrs. Bob White, presided over the business session.

FEWITT-BIALOCK
Mrs. Mary Fewitt and Mr. Irwin Bialock of Mayfield were united in marriage Sunday, November 24, at 4 p. m. in the Methodist Parsonage at Mayfield, Ky., with the Rev. Roy M. Williams using the single ring ceremony.

The bride chose a dress of blue jersey with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.
Those attending were Mrs. Bill Griffith, daughter of the bride; Miss Adelaide Bialock, sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. William Barlow and sons, Gene and Doty and Miss Bessie Jones. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding supper was served at Covington's Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Bialock will reside at 412 E. North street, Mayfield.

LOYAL CRUSADERS MEET
The Loyal Crusaders Society of the First Methodist Church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. O. Lewis, Jr., with Mrs. T. J. Kramer, Jr., co-hostess.

Officers for next year were named: chairman, Mrs. Hugh Mac McClellan, vice-chairman, Mrs. Edward Benedict, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Jones.

Plans were discussed for a Christmas party to be held December 17 at the home of Mrs. Herman Drewry.

MISSIONARY CLUB TO MEET
The Ruth Lawrence Missionary Club will meet at the home of Miss Faye Berry Monday, December 2, at 7 p. m.

Christian Science Thanksgiving Day

"Thanksgiving" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Thanksgiving Day.

The Golden Text is "Let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name." (Ps. 100:4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "For victory over a single sin, we give thanks and magnify the Lord of Hosts. What shall we say of the mighty conquest over all sin? A louder song, sweeter than has ever before reached high heaven, now rises clearer and nearer to the great heart of Christ; for the sinner is not there, and Love sends forth her praise and everlasting strain." (P. 500)

37 UK Gridders Receive Letters

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 26—(AP)—Thirty-seven University of Kentucky football players received varying letters from Coach Paul Bryant at a dinner given by the U. K. Alumni association last night.

Dean Leo M. Chamberlain in an address described President H. L. Donovan as the "architect behind the football rebuilding program."

"He is the man who went about it with no 'ifs' and 'ands' about it," Dean Chamberlain said.

Two Charged With Fatal Beating Of Vet Mental Patient

London, Ky., Nov. 26—(AP)—Clifford M. Sanderson, 27, Lexington, and Henry C. Arnold, 44, Paris, have been indicted in federal court here on charges of murder in connection with the fatal beating of a 56-year-old World War I veteran, a mental patient at the U. S. Veterans Administration Hospital in Lexington.

The indictment charges Sanderson and Arnold, former employees of the hospital, with inflicting wounds on James S. Cuddy, route 1, Hazard, Ky., which led to his death Oct. 23.

Judge H. Church Ford set bond for the accused at $10,000 each and issued bench warrants for their arrest.
