Lewis, UMW Held Guilty Of Contempt By Goldsborough; To Be Sentenced Wednesday

Penalties Within
Court Discretion;
No Legal Limits

LEWIS PROTESTS

Washington, Dec. 3—(AP)—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers were held "guilty of contempt of court" today for disregarding an order designed to avert the industry-shattering soft coal strike.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who handed down the historic verdict after five days of court proceedings, deferred sentencing until tomorrow.

The penalties in fines or jail sentences are within the discretion of the court. The law sets no maxima or minima in contempt cases.

Opposing attorneys were directed by Judge Goldsborough to submit their recommendations tomorrow at 9 a. m. C. S. T.

The overnight adjournment was after Lewis, making his first public utterance since before the 18-day-old strike, had spoken out against "this ugly recurrence of government by injunction."

He referred to the court's restraining order directing him to withdraw his contract termination notice, which led to the strike.

Lewis declared the order deprives the miners of their constitutional rights as American citizens.

Pending sentence, Goldsborough directed that Lewis go free of bond, in custody of his agent.

AFL General Counsel Joseph A. Paddyway protested indignantly.

"The court did not need to add in contempt of court," Lewis Paddyway said, "will be in court of his own free will at any time the judge orders."

In announcing his verdict, Goldsborough emphasized that Lewis was guilty both individually and as president of UMW, and that the UMW was separately guilty.

"The court did not need to add in contempt of court," Lewis Paddyway said, "will be in court of his own free will at any time the judge orders."

"While it may be somewhat unusual, but certainly not improper," he said, "the court would like to have the views of counsel for the defendants and counsel for the government as to what these sentences should be."

Neither the government nor defense lawyers would discuss with reporters the question of penalties.

When Lewis was asked for and was granted permission to make a statement.

Sordid History
The history of labor injunctions prior to 1933 is a sordid one, Lewis began in somber tones.

It was Lewis' first public statement since before the soft coal strike began on Nov. 30.

Lewis stood facing the judge, with his back to the crowded courtroom.

After reviewing a history of government statutes forbidding courts to restrain strikes, he turned quickly to coal strike issues and inveighed against "the deadly brutal 54-hour work week in American coal mines."

Lewis asserted the UMW had been impelled to announce termination of its contract with the government on November 15. This step led to the coal strike and the contempt proceeding against Lewis and the UMW.

General Strike Called By A. F. L. Hits Oakland, Cal.

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 3—(AP)—An AFL-called general strike went into effect at 5 a. m. today threatening a tieup of transportation and industry for 1,000,000 Eastbay persons and shutting off commuter services for 120,000 across the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

None of the early morning street cars left their barns as the deadline approached.

The key system commuter trains which carry thousands to work in San Francisco across the eight and one-half mile Bay bridge did not leave their barns.

Picket lines patrolled around the plants of the Oakland Tribune and the Post-Inquirer as well as factories, stores, bars and restaurants.

Man Unhurt In Freak Accident

Joseph Woods Of Martin Escapes Injury When Car Loops, Skids, Overturns

Joseph Woods of Martin probably still is wondering how he escaped more serious injury Sunday afternoon on the Mary highway when his automobile turned over at least four times, careened off and onto the highway twice, hurled a four and one-half foot fence and finally crashed in a stop between two trees.

The driver and the car battery suddenly parted company with the auto on the first loop when the left door flew open. Woods received several minor cuts and bruises, but was not seriously hurt.

The car, owned by his mother, Mrs. Mammie Woods of Martin, was practically a total loss, according to John Howard, who wrote insurance on it.

The accident occurred about two and one-half miles from Fulton near the Swigart home. When Woods first lost control of the car, the vehicle went 82 steps from the highway, then returned to the road, turned off the road and crashed into a wire fence picking up about 55 feet of wire on the front bumper, struck a tree and turned over.

Minneapolis Gives Teachers Pay Hike Of $1200 Annually

Minneapolis, Dec. 3—(AP)—Minneapolis teachers last night accepted a settlement, giving them an ultimate $1,200 yearly salary raise and called off a threatened strike.

The settlement, reached by a committee which negotiated with the school board, was unanimously approved by locals 238 and 55 of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL, Charles E. Boyer, president of the union, announced, and William E. Goslin, superintendent of schools, said it would be formally ratified at a board meeting Dec. 10.

Reynolds Metal Closes Three Louisville Plants

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—The Reynolds Metals Company announced today it was closing three of its Louisville plants tomorrow because the coal strike is hampering movement of materials. The three plants employ 1,500 persons.

Seven other Louisville plants will operate "more or less on a day-to-day basis" until the coal situation becomes more settled, a company spokesman said.

Licking Dam Stirs Protest

Farmers, KU, Others In Valley Say Project Is Intended For Power Only

Covington, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—Arguments both pro and con today were on record following a hearing conducted here by a board of seven army engineers in connection with the proposed $25,578,000 flood control dam in the Licking river at Falmouth, Ky.

At the hearing, held yesterday, a spokesman for 350 northern Kentucky farmers, an assistant state attorney general, a congressman and a representative of Kentucky Utilities protested the proposed project.

By contrast, arguments in favor of the proposed dam were made by a Falmouth newspaper editor, Newport and Covington city officials and representatives of the Covington and Newport chamber of commerce.

Col. Charles L. Hall, resident member of the Beach erosion board, New York, and former Ohio Valley division engineer, said at the conclusion of the hearing that arguments, pro and con, both oral and field briefs would be submitted to the chief army engineer in Washington for study. After that, he added, a definite decision will be reached as to the project's fate.

Attorney J. H. Richards of Owensville, president of the Licking River Valley Protective Association, sounded a protest for farmers residing in Pendleton, Grant, Mason and Bracken counties. He said the project was "one for the generation of electric power alone and not for flood protection." He added that the dam would ruin more than 53,000 acres of farm land.

Among those speaking in behalf of the proposed dam was Warren Shonert, editor and publisher of the Weekly Falmouth Outlook, who said the project was "one that we of Falmouth have backed since 1907 and will continue to support it 100 per cent."

Army, Navy Say Big, Little Inch Security Vital

Washington, Dec. 3—(AP)—The Army and Navy told a congressional committee today that nothing should be done with the big and little inch pipelines that would hinder their quick use for oil transport in event of another national emergency.

As the government moved to press the lines into conveyance of natural gas for fuel relief during the coal strike, Adm. Frederick J. Horn, chairman of the Army-Navy Petroleum Board, gave the board's views on peacetime use of the lines.

Appearing before the House Surplus Committee, Horn said the 1,500-mile pipes from Texas to the Eastern Seaboard should be turned over to industry for peacetime operation, but that the board has no recommendation as to whether such use should be for conveyance of oil or gas.

No Bullet Holes Found In Skull Of Doan Child

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—Capt. George Blydes of the State Highway Patrol said today two Louisville experts had decided there were no bullet holes in the skull of Loretta Doan, little Rockcastle County girl who disappeared last July 4.

The skeleton, found last week was examined by Dr. A. J. Miller of the Louisville School of Medicine, and W. Clarke Otto, former Commonwealth's Attorney there and recognized expert on firearms and ballistics.

Sen. Bilbo Investigating Group Hears Would-Be Negro Voters

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 3—(AP)—Senatorial scrutiny of Senator Theodore G. Bilbo's primary campaign was broadening today into an investigation of the handling of would-be negro voters by Mississippi local officials.

The investigating senators under the chairmanship of Sen. Ellender (D-La) prepared to hear what several of these officials had to say about allegations that negroes were systematically deprived of voting rights in the primary.

Officials in seven counties were mentioned in testimony by about 30 negro witnesses. The negroes' complaints fell into these categories:

Advice allegedly given, in some cases by officials, that persistent attempts to register or vote would bring "trouble."

Obstacles said to be placed in the way of negroes registering to vote—although several witnesses said they were registered when they persisted.

Challenges to their ballots when they were cast, so that witnesses complained they never learned whether their votes were counted.

A Negro Congressionalist Minister, Rev. William Bender of Tougaloo College, said a deputy sheriff in whose pocket he could see a pistol "dared" him to enter a polling place to vote.

Eloy Fletcher, a veteran, said he had been beaten after being denied registration in Brandon, Miss.

Several witnesses said they thought the alleged intimidation attempts were directly connected with a campaign statement attributed to Bilbo—that the best way to keep negroes from voting was to "see them the night before."

Bilbo himself, who attended most of the day's session apparently unperturbed and sporting his usual red tie and diamond stickpin, afterwards characterized the proceedings as "a flop."

3 Face Sentence For Theft From Railway Express

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—Federal Judge Roy M. Shelburne was scheduled to sentence three persons today in connection with the theft of goods valued at more than $12,000 from railway express shipments in the past year.

Assistant District Attorney Hobson James said the five were arrested in connection with thefts of nylon stockings, fur coats and other scarce items. He said two of the men, employed by the company, directed shipments arriving here to fictitious addresses in other towns. One would represent himself as the addressee and claim the shipments, James said.

U. S. Sees Danger In Isolation Plan For Franco Spain

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 3—(AP)—The United States today took today that adoption of Polish and White Russian measures to isolate Franco Spain could lead to a bloody civil strife which might eventually involve other nations in a new war.

Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) setting forth the views of the United States before the 54 member political committee of the United Nations assembly, declared that the approval of either proposal would produce no positive results beyond cutting the Spanish people off from the rest of the world.

On the negative side, he said, they might well "lead to civil strife with serious international complications." He added that the proposals might array various Spanish factions against each other and "enlist the support of various members of the United Nations."

Coast Artillery Strength Is To Be Cut Drastically

Washington, Dec. 3—(AP)—The nation's fixed coastal artillery defenses, historically the final grim line to repel invasion and naval bombardment, are being stripped down to a bare "caretaker" status, army officials said today.

The changed style of warfare is primarily responsible for the move, although demobilization and economy presumably play some part in the decision.

About 45,000 pounds of vetch were sold in Anderson county this fall, 1,500 acres being seeded.

Methodist Church Lambuth College Workers Make Plans For Early Fund-Raising Drive

Tax Commission Gets Brief On Alleged SP Debt

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—A brief on file with the tax commission today contends the Southern Pacific Company owes Kentucky $2,500,000 and Woodford county $66,000 for 1945 taxes on the railroad's stocks, bonds, securities and franchise.

The brief was submitted yesterday as a summary of Kentucky's views on the tax commission's tentative assessment of $873,000,000 on the railroad's intangibles. Chartered in Kentucky in 1884, the road has been paying the state about $63,000 a year and Woodford county, site of its statutory office, about $37,000 on its franchise.

The United States supreme court has held, the statement added, that Kentucky has the constitutional power to tax S. P.'s stocks, bonds and franchise—even the company's "steamships, although they have never been in and could never physically be in Kentucky."

In Kentucky

Wood came to the Courier-Journal in 1942 after working on newspapers in Florida and Tennessee.

Speakers at the dinner, arranged in honor of Sen. Elbert John Sherman Cooper, will include Cooper himself, Gov. Simeon Willis, W. A. Louisville—Arthur J. Newman, president of the Louisville Hotel Association, said here yesterday the hotels of the state are "pinched between rising costs and rent ceilings." He predicted the government will give relief from the ceilings early next year. He said the wartime boom for the state's hotels had tapered off and that rising operating costs were forcing them to run "in the red" in many cases.

Carl J. A. Dries, commanding officer of the army recruiting station here, said the three—all former marines—told him they were idled by the current bituminous coal shutdown and that they would be "better off" in the armed services.

VA Discloses Many Vets Drawing Compensation Legally Are Not Eligible

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—The Kentucky unemployment commission said today that a scrutiny of suspected claims by 10,000 veterans for jobless benefits is expected to result in payment being stopped to at least 4,000.

The commission said the claims were being investigated at the request of the Veterans Administration, which acted after seeing results of a survey through questionnaires of more than 20,000 Kentucky claims paid for 20 or more consecutive weeks.

Information disclosed by the questionnaires, VA said, showed that many were ineligible claimants and should be disqualified for further benefit.

Officials said a breakdown of the 20,000 questionnaires which have been returned to the commission indicated that 4,946 claimants were in immediate question as to eligibility for benefits and 4,946 claimants should be further investigated. Of the 10,000, 7,056 appeared to be valid, 1,728 needed further information from veterans, and 2,000 are still being processed.

Willis Endorses Plan To Organize State Boys Clubs

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3—(AP)—Governor Willis gave approval today to the Kentucky peace officers association's efforts to help organize boys clubs for underprivileged youngsters in Kentucky.

The chief executive said he was in accord with every movement to benefit boys and expressed hope that a club might be formed in every Kentucky community.

The aim is to prevent juvenile delinquency and the governor commented, "The records of the prisons show that many of the inmates started early on the wrong path. The boys clubs constitute an effective agency for good and should be encouraged."

One Woman USO

Fabulous Evelyn Walsh McLean, shown above, swept aside U. S. Army red tape when she decided to bring bedside entertainment to bedridden war veterans in the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C. Accompanied by a three-piece band and servants bearing candy and cookies, Mrs. McLean, for the last three years has been entertaining the veterans on a lavish scale. One of the many features of her visits to the veterans is the careful handling of the famous Hope diamond and other jewels which she loans to the veterans on her arrival. As she leaves the jewelry is returned to her.

Implying that parking meters and slot machines operated on the same principle, he told the council "When you sell the goodwill of this town... you've made a great mistake."

Earl Taylor, another anti-meter delegate to the meeting, said that there is this difference in parking meters and slot machines: "There is no sign on a slot machine telling you that you have to put money in it."

Leo Filler, also opposed to meters, asserted that Union City businessmen were dissatisfied with the devices there. He declared that Hickman residents who formerly traded in Union City now are coming to Fulton because of this city's free parking.

Should Teachers Strike?

Teachers' strikes in Warren county, Tenn., and St. Paul, Minn., last week prompted two nearby Tennessee editors to give their opinions on the controversial question, "Should teachers strike?"

Said the Dyerburg State-Gazette: "There are very few, if any, who are opposed to increasing pay for teachers, but it is felt they are taking the wrong method by striking. There seems a very pronounced lack of dignity in strikes—a use of force that is entirely unbecoming to those engaged in the profession of teaching."

"Part of the teacher strike responsibility no doubt belongs to officials who set salaries and to the public which has been definitely negligent of the needs of teachers. It is hoped that all those on whom the grave responsibility rests will take the necessary step to correct the situation in its present stage and before it reaches a worse one."

From the Lauderdale County Enterprise in Ripley: "There are some who say that the teachers should not strike, but that they should year in and year out, stick by their guns, keep the schools open, even though the school boards and county courts do not do their part."

"For many years now the school teachers have been stuck by their guns, they have seen the price of living increase, and they have seen the wages and salaries of others rise, but the poor school teacher seems to be the forgotten man so far as a salary increase is concerned."

"It is much more gracious and just as cheap for the counties to do the right thing without the teachers having to go on a strike."

Advertising Pays Well

Advertising's role in helping maintain a high level of employment and national income was lauded by Arthur R. Upgren, vice-president and economist of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, before the annual meeting of the central council of the American Association of Advertising Agencies in Chicago recently, says Publisher's Auxiliary, newspaper publication.

Upgren said: "It is an accurate observation when we say that the well-advertised consumer goods, especially the consumer's durable goods, give the American more of what he wants for his dollar than any other product he buys. Why is it the most unadvertised industry—housing—yields the American so little for his dollar?"

Whoever first coined the phrase, "It pays to advertise," knew whereof he spoke.

Heavy Program Pays Off

Chicago—(AP)—Four years ago Loretta Zygovics, 23, said she was "tired of being a wall-flower and having colds all the time," so she started lifting weights.

Now, she says, she can toss her 220-pound brother over her head and lift a 330-pound weight from the floor with ease.

"I'm healthier, slimmer and have lots of boy friends," said Miss Zygovics, who weighs 160 pounds. Her aim, she said, is to become the nation's strongest woman.

OUR READERS SAY

Plenty To Be Thankful For

Let's count our blessings for this Thanksgiving Day, for God has blessed us wondrously in His kind, loving way.

We have not felt the bombs upon our cities fair, we have not felt hunger, or found our cupboards bare.

We bow our heads to thank Him for so great a country as ours, where we work, play and prosper, with its modern industrial power.

Indian Problem Vital

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There's plenty to distract our attention here at home—what with the cold-wave of the coal stoppage, and the heavy gunfire in our U. N. peace organization—but let's not overlook that impending Indian round-table conference which opened today in London.

The Indian problem ranks among the vital issues of our time. Failure to reach a satisfactory solution might result in the catastrophe of civil war in that country.

That's a hard thing to have to say, but it's true and it is well that we recognize the fact. The round-table conference is a momentous affair.

There of the world's outstanding personalities have come out of the far east to sit down in the British capital with government officials to try to figure out ways and means of bringing India's warring Hindus and Moslems together and thereby implementing England's offer of independence to that sub-continent with its four hundred millions.

There is Field Marshall Lord Wavell, viceroy of the king-emperor's greatest imperial possession. There is Pandit Nehru, the aristocratic Hindu who heads the present interim Indian government and, next to Mahatma Gandhi, is the most powerful leader in the country. There is Mammoed Ali Jinnah, brilliant and highly cultured head of the Moslem league, who guides the destinies of 90,000,000 Moslems.

Upon these three men, more than upon any others, rests the immediate future of India. Wavell's role is largely that of conciliator. In the hands of those two political enemies, Jinnah and Nehru, is a terrifying power which it has been given few men to possess. Wavell's part is even more difficult than that of the two Indian leaders, but he brings to it the gratifying spirit which he saw in his new year's message to his troops in bloody 1941.

"Have you ever thought what a world we could make if we put into peace endeavors the same energy, the same self-sacrifice and cooperation as we use in the waterfulness of war?"

Finally Hits Pay Dirt

Chicago—(AP)—Alfred Bethel, 61, went into the park district offices yesterday and borrowed a shovel to dig up a couple of bank books he said he buried for safekeeping while in Chicago last summer.

But Bethel, who said he had no permanent address, couldn't find the books. He said he had placed them in a jar near the Illinois Central right of way near the loop district.

Later he went to the two banks, in each of which he said he has $1,000, and was assured his money was still safe and he would get new books.

Three Farmers Killed As Auto Falls Into Creek

New Castle, Ky., Dec. 2—(AP)—Three Owen county farmers returning home from the opening tobacco sales in Lexington drowned last night when their automobile plunged into Drennon Creek where it flows into the Kentucky river about 10 miles east of here.

Coroner William G. Frewitt of Henry county identified the victims as Andrew Bourne, 54; his son, James B. Bourne, 53; and Clarence Morgan, 46.

Sheriff Gano Herndon said the Owen county men were on their way to Carrollton when the driver lost control of the car on a curve on a bridge approach.

The sheriff said the car tore down two safety posts and 15 feet of guard rail on the bridge, before rolling 200 feet down an embankment into the creek.
