A Time To Be Careful

Two disastrous hotel fires, one in Atlanta, Ga., and the other in Saskatoon, Canada, checked the entire nation during the past weekend.

The Canadian hotel fire was started by a can of gasoline placed beside a kitchen stove. Origin of the Atlanta fire has not been determined, but chances are it was caused by some act of carelessness.

Fires are no respecters of persons or places. We could have one in Fulton that might take as many lives and destroy as much property as either hotel blaze. We say "we could" advisedly. People who are careless about burning leaves and dry grass are inviting disaster for themselves and their neighbors.

Yesterday afternoon we saw an entire back yard ablaze with but one man standing by to watch. Houses on all sides were constructed of wood, and grass in all the yards was dry and crackling. Luckily, there was no strong wind at the moment. Had there been one, it is doubtful that the man could have checked the racing flames, or would have had time to summon the fire department before the neighbors' houses were burning.

This is the most dangerous time of year for grass fires. Throw a match down almost anywhere except on a street or sidewalk and a blaze starts.

There's only one way to be sure—and that's to be careful.

Good Time Had By All

The Fulton Rotary Club and all others responsible for the success of the annual football banquet held last night are to be commended for a splendid piece of work.

We think it very appropriate that a coach of the stature of U.K.'s Paul Bryant was secured to help pay tribute to one of the best Fulton Bulldog teams in the history of the school.

Last night's banquet was outstanding in many ways. The food was excellent, the waitresses were most attractive, the cause was worthy—and the speeches were short.

Cautious In Love

Topeka, Kan.—(AP)—L. P. Brooks, assistant attorney general of Kansas, shied away from explaining the legal ins and outs of wedlock to a prospective bridegroom, saying that caution has its limits.

A Kansan wrote the attorney general, wanting to "know all about the marriage law . . . and all about the divorce laws, because I never did like to get into anything I couldn't get out of."

Strike-End Casualty

Peoria, Ill.—(AP)—Because of the coal shortage, the Peoria Board of Education decided last Friday to close down all schools, starting this week.

With the end of the coal strike, schools were resumed. That led to another cancellation—of the Peoria teachers' party scheduled for last night. The teachers didn't want the party to interfere with work.

OUR READERS SAY

The news last week that 10 to 31 samples taken from the Fulton water supply during the past year contained deadly contaminated matter must have been a distinct shock to the residents of our community. Unfortunately, one cannot judge the purity of water by its looks, nor by its taste.

The question immediately arises, "Why was the fact that our water supply was impure concealed for so long?" Perhaps it is true that those of us who drink the water daily build up a resistance to the deadly germs. But what of the visitors and new-comers to Fulton? Have we no obligation to them? Does Fulton wish to become like an ancient leper colony—a community that must cry out, "Unclean, unclean," at the approach of every visitor and would-be new resident?

Was the condition of our water supply concealed because those in charge felt helpless to do anything about it in view of the bankrupt condition of our city finances? Likely so.

The Basic Problem
This deplorable condition of our water supply, and the apparent helplessness to do anything about it, like the recent bitter discussion of parking meters, simply serves to illustrate the basic problem which confronts Fulton and which must be solved.

Fulton, as a community, has a population of over 8,000. Unfortunately, this population is divided into three parts. At present about one-third of the community is "south of the border" in Tennessee. We say "at present" because recently the greatest expansion, in population, in new dwellings, in business, in industry, in civic progress has been in that section. Another part of our community lies beyond the corporate limits (and thus beyond the reach of city taxes). The balance is in Fulton proper.

On a pitifully small budget, made necessary by a totally inadequate tax structure, we are forcing our city administration to try to provide all the services which a community of

Rumors Of Romance

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Romance is so obscured in these days of strife that the love affair reported to be developed rapidly between England's charming Princess Elizabeth and handsome young Prince Philip of Greece is like a burst of sunshine through storm-clouds.

Admittedly there are international questions of far greater importance than whether Elizabeth and Philip love each other. Still, it's worthy of note that romance is one of the fine things of life which our very mischievous world hasn't been able to stifle. One could extend that thought to brotherly love and peace on earth—but we didn't start out to present a homily, so let's get back to our muttons, which is the Briton's way of calling for a return to the subject of discussion.

There has been no announcement of an engagement. On the contrary Buckingham Palace stands pat on its announcement of last September that "Princess Elizabeth is not engaged." However, the Palace hasn't said she wouldn't become engaged or wasn't in love, and moreover there has been a "mysteriously" inspired flood of favorable publicity for the Prince running in the British Press the past few days. Also, it is said that Philip has applied for British naturalization, which would be a requisite to marriage with the heiress to the world's greatest throne.

The way European Royal families intermarry it isn't surprising to learn that Prince Philip is third cousin to Princess Elizabeth. He is a nephew of the distinguished Admiral Lord Mountbatten and has been in the British navy since he was nineteen (he is now twenty-five). He and the twenty-year-old Princess have been seeing much of each other and have appeared in public together, and England is prepared to hear in due course that he is to marry his Princess and thus in time become Prince Consort.

A Prince Consort's chief distinction is that he is husband of the Queen. She is the Sovereign and he has no privileges of Monarchy. The last Prince Consort of England was Prince Albert, husband of the famous Queen Victoria. Just before marriage the British government gave him precedence next to the Queen, but he had no distinctive title and such privileges as he received were purely by courtesy.

However, while the Prince Consort has no privileges of Monarchy, he does have a full-time, tough position to fill in service of the state. He and the Queen must forever be attending public functions—confering decorations, making speeches and what not. I lived in London many years and know from personal observation that there are few people who work so hard or such long hours as the King and Queen and the heir to the throne. The same would be true of the Queen and her consort.

6,000 expects and to which they are entitled. It simply cannot be done, yet it must be done if Fulton is to become a bigger and better place in which to live, to work, to do business.

Another Fundamental Problem
Another fundamental problem the episodes of the past few weeks have served to make us realize is this. There is no serious and co-ordinated study of our many problems as a community. Thus we have no solution of our water problem, our creek problem, our tax problem, our traffic and parking problem, our city cleanliness problem, etc.

What's The Solution?
These and other problems are too deep and far-reaching to leave their solution entirely in the hands of our Mayor and city council. Recent experience indicates they need help and we believe they would welcome constructive assistance.

It seems to us that a wise approach to our many problems would be for the Mayor to appoint a "Greater Fulton Planning Committee" of 25 members, representing every civic, fraternal, business, educational and religious interest of the community. These members should be progressive minded, genuinely interested in the future of Fulton, and as free of selfish interests as possible.

This committee would be instructed to make a serious study of our needs and, from time to time, make recommendations to the city council how best to meet those needs. The committee would be invaluable in helping to crystallize public opinion to the solutions would receive a favorable reaction.

Only through co-ordinated and serious study by a large group of civic-minded citizens can we arrive at a satisfactory solution of our common problems. United and cooperating we can and will build a greater and better Fulton. Divided—well, you picture the result!

INTEREST CENTERS ON BARD-STRONG RECITAL

Public and musical interest is being centered this week around the Bard-Strong recital to be given at the Woman's Club on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

Army Recruit Team Visits

Staff Sgt. Poland of Paducah, La. Scott of Louisville Here Today

While in Fulton today S. Sgt. Poland, U. S. army recruiting station, Paducah, had these statements to make in order that the regular army and the public might have a more mutual understanding.

"If you remember in World War I, 17 months elapsed between the formal declaration of war and the launching of the first major American effort; in World War II, we had 40 months to get ready for the full-scale Normandy campaign. The time lag in the event of another war will be measured not in months but in hours. We must not be caught unprepared."

"See your recruiting officer today, 20 Federal Building, Paducah, or Sub-Stations, 10 Post-office Bldg., Mayfield and Court House Bldg., (basement), Princeton."

First Lt. Walter D. Scott of Louisville was with S. Sgt. Poland today.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fulton, Jr.
New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—It may be prophetic that press headquarters for the Western Conference meeting this week will be in the "Dog Fight Room." In addition to drawing up schedules and completing details of making the Rose Bowl game a private party, the conference will "review eligibility and other rules." Inasmuch as the Southeastern Conference is holding its annual sessions at the same time, you may hear the preliminary snarl of something that won't exactly be a sewing bee, though it may not develop into a dogfight, either.

As you recall, there has been considerable difference of opinion in college circles about eligibility and a special gathering of conference leaders last summer did little to straighten it out. Now many college men expect the Big Nine to lead the way in slapping down the more "commercial"—or honest if you prefer—groups, notably the Southeastern.

Professional Notes
In the interests of more colorful writing (or why didn't we think of that first)—we offer: H. V. Wade, Detroit News—"In Georgia they say Halfback Charley Trippi could be governor if he wanted. One-Minute Sports Page
The bonus limits passed by the baseball leagues last week should be a break for football, both pro and college. Under the new rules, a major league club can't afford to pay a player more than $5,000 unless they feel sure he's a big leaguer from the start and football can meet that kind of price. The Montana basketball team that faces City College at the Garden tonight averaged 70 points in its last 14 games last season but Coach Jiggs Dahlberg figures condition competition will keep the scoring down this time. Charley Fussli, who makes his debut as a New York main-e-s-t, Friday, still takes over his

Screwy Doings For Old Siwash Put Grin In Past Grid Year

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The whacky weekly results probably should rate as the prize oddities of the regular 1946 football campaign but there were enough screwy happenings on the field to make even more of the beaten coaches smile.
For instance there was the day Washington and Lee and West Point battled in a sea of mud at Charleston, W. Va. The slippery ball was fumbled as it usual on such a day. Things became even more complicated when West Virginia recovered a Washington and Lee fumble on the final play of the first quarter and the ball was moved to the opposite end of the field as the team changed sides.

The players, coated in mud, made the long trek and West Virginia went into a huddle. As the West Virginia quarterback snapped out "play 35-X" a lone player pulled quickly out of the group and sheepishly lined up with the other team. It was Washington and Lee's Bill Chisley, an All-American conference end, who didn't know he was with the wrong team until "35-X" was called a play he never heard of.
It was a blustery cold day when Washington and California hooked up in a Pacific coast conference contest. Gary Austin, Washington's third string quarterback, didn't figure he would see any action in an important game like that so he put on an extra set of long underwear to make himself more comfortable on the bench.
But Washington's first two quarterbacks got hurt and Austin was sent into the game. He got not in more yards than one and reeled off two touchdowns. The extra set of longies was discarded at the end of the half.

In the Texas A. & M. game, Referee Abbe Owens blew his whistle but in the 4th one of the players heard him. Rice was in punt formation and as the center snapped the ball towards the waiting kicker, Curran moved into the play and took the pass from center himself. No gain.
Paul Grove, St. Mary's halfback, was an awfully mad gal. In a game in the California 4th, with a clear field ahead, and enroute to a touchdown an official ran into his path and Grove went sprawling.
Quick action on unexpected plays brought up a number of other oddities. Bowling Green of Ohio capitalized on a fumble play to trip Camels 21-7. With Garstus ahead 7-0, Jack Prellis fumbled an apparently hopeless Ohio pass into the Camels and some Camels' Bud Agnew knocked it earthward but it struck Darrell Brantz, lying on his back, bounced off him and

Other Kentucky Colleges To See Action Tonight
FIFTH WIN FOR CATS
By The Associated Press
Two of three Kentucky college basketball teams seeing action last night were victorious, including the University of Kentucky Wildcats who defeated the Idaho Vandals, 65-35, at Lexington.

Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers walloped Southern Illinois Normal University of Carbondale, 62-46, at Paducah. Lincoln Memorial University trounced Union College, 46-31, at Harrogate.

The triumph over the Northern Pacific Coast conference champion was the fifth in a row for Adolph Rupp's quintet, hailed as the greatest he has produced in 17 years as head coach at Kentucky. It was not without cost, however, as Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones limped out of a pileup early in the game with an injured right ankle and did not return. He had started at center, Alex Groza, another front-line center, suffered an ankle bruise and was removed from the game but returned, still limping slightly.

The Wildcats led at the half, 31-18. Ralph Beard, high-point man in each of Kentucky's four previous games, won scoring honors again last night with 14 points. Groza was next with 12. Sleepy Spears tallied 11 points to pace Western's triumph over the Carbondale, Ill., quintet. The win was Western's first of the season. The Hilltoppers led at the half 28-16.
LMU led Union at the half, 27-18. Perry led the evening's scoring with 11 points for LMU.
Today's schedule of games involving Kentucky College quintets:

Southeast Missouri at Murray; Morehead vs. Texas A. M. and Eastern vs. Pepperdine at Louisville (doubleheader), and Georgetown vs. Evansville at Owensboro.

Pure Milk's Beat Hardin By 46-37

Binford, Fulton Pure Milk forward, led his team to a 46-37 victory over Hardin here last night with a total of 22 points, high for both teams. Ross, Hardin forward, paced the visitors with 14.

The win was Fulton's fourth in six 1946 games.
