BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS.

The Vote That is Being Cast
Throughout the Country

Heavier Than Expected.

But a Light Vote Is Being
Poured in Kentucky. Exciting
Race in the Louisville
District.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—Good weather marked the opening of the polls in the Eleventh Congressional district this morning, and though it was known that the vote of 1898 would not be polled it was believed at some of the campaign headquarters in this city that a larger general vote would be polled than was at first expected.

The democratic claim they will carry the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, and possibly the Tenth, and that they stand a good chance of sending a representative to congress from the Fifth district.

On the other hand, the republicans claim with equal justification, asserting their belief at once that they would win in the Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh. One individual republican, who has always been known to be a fair man, told your correspondent that he had every reason for believing the fifth in the Fifth, Ninth and Tenth would be close, with chances favoring the republicans. He said he got his figures from both sides and put them together, making his calculations. He thinks Gilbert will probably defeat Davidson, the republican, in the Eighth, that Williams, democrat, may get in by an eyelash in the Ninth but thinks there is no show for Fitzpatrick, democrat, in the Tenth, or Turner in the Fifth.

In the Third Appellate district the most exciting battle is being fought out at the polls today with the result, however, watched for solution of the problem. Both sides claim the election, but it will take the court to decide the winner.

From reports received at democratic headquarters it would seem that the turning point question is being fought out at the polls today with the result, however, watched for solution of the problem. Both sides claim the election, but it will take the court to decide the winner.

An old political authority told the Sun correspondent last night that the republicans would win by re-electing Evans in the Louisville district, by re-electing Pugh in the Ninth and by sending W. J. Belts from the Tenth. He said he had given a democratic anti-union wage poster, but he felt as sure of winning as he was that the best president would be a republican.

IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 8.—The weather today is exceptionally fine, clear and mild. Fine weather is said always to favor the republicans in this state.

The largest vote is being polled throughout the state that has been cast in years.

Many repeaters have been arrested in this city, but otherwise there has been no disturbance at the polls.

Both sides are claiming victory.

EVERYBODY CONFIDENT.

Washington, Nov. 8.—At the national campaign bureau to this city the returns indicate that a larger vote is being polled than was expected, and that the people are not nearly as indifferent as they were supposed to be.

Both sides are claiming congressional victories and that they will control the next house.

THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

Louisville, Nov. 8.—The congressional race here is most exciting, and both sides are working hard. The friends of Turner and Evans seem equally confident of success. There is no trouble at the polls.

IN KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—The indications are that a very light vote is being polled throughout the state.

Patrick's friends are claiming that he will be elected in the Tenth district.

QUIET IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 8.—No fighting has occurred here yet and there is no indication that there will be any bloodshed.

Gov. Russell voted this morning without molestation. No arms have been displayed and the negroes are giving no cause for trouble.

KINLEY VOTES.

Canton, O., Nov. 8.—President McKinley voted this morning. His voting place was located in a carpenter shop. He was kept busy a long time greeting his friends.

GERMANY AND THE PHILIPPINES

London, Nov. 8.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times commenting upon the criticism of the German press over the attitude of the United States toward the Philippine question, says:

It has been but little importance and is only likely to excite the scorn and defiance of the Americans and to excite the scorn of the Germans.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times, after giving extracts from another long and violent article in the Kolnische Zeitung, declaring that the fate of the Philippines can not be a matter of indifference to Germany, expresses the opinion that such utterances will only stiffen the attitude of the United States.

MILITARY NECESSITY

The Nicaragua Canal Has Now Become Apparent to All Concerned.

President in His Forthcoming Message Will Make an Urgent Appeal.

Washington, Nov. 8.—In President McKinley's forthcoming annual message to congress will be one of the strongest and most urgent appeals ever made for immediate legislative action for the construction of the Nicaragua canal under government auspices.

When Warner Miller called on the president a few days ago, I am told that he received assurances that the Nicaragua canal subject would form one of the most important chapters in the forthcoming message.

The president, as well as other staunch friends of the enterprise fully appreciate the difficulties in the way of securing prompt action, but he also appreciates that failure this year may mean permanent failure.

Small Vote Being Polled in the City Today.

TRAMPS MUST SKIP.

Judge Sanders Decides That They Must Hereafter Have Good Excuses.

The Police Court Today. The Youthful Drunkard Was George Dennis.

George Dennis, a boy about 11 years of age, and small for his age, appeared in Judge Sanders' court this morning in a new role. It was not his first appearance before a Paducah audience and he was not at all worried about making a hit. He had appeared before the court as a defendant in a case of juvenile delinquency, and he was now appearing as a plaintiff.

He was charged with being a tramp, and he was asked to show good cause why he should not be committed to the city hall.

James Halloway, Clarence Holden and John Cavender, all tramps, were charged with being a nuisance.

Their liabilities will amount to over $1,000, but will not be greatly in excess of that.

A MORMON'S TRIALS.

Two of His Wives Present Him With Heirs. They Are Twins.

Responsibilities Come Thick Upon a Utah Mormon Candidate for Congress.

Ogden, Utah, Nov. 8.—The feature of the political campaign in Utah this year has been the candidacy of Brigham H. Roberts on the democratic ticket for congress. Mr. Roberts is known as the "Blacksmith Orator." For many years he has been recognized as the most eloquent expounder of Mormon doctrine. Immediately after the convention the republican papers sprang upon Mr. Roberts the charge that two of his wives had presented him with heirs within a few days of each other, one installment consisting of twins. They accused him of being a lawbreaker, who should be in prison instead of in politics.

They called upon him to withdraw to save the state from the disgrace of having its representative kicked out of congress. No political cartoon was complete unless it showed Mr. Roberts with his wives and children in the background. Neither Mr. Roberts nor any of his supporters has attempted to deny the charges, but has taken the ground that free silver and not the candidate's private life was the issue.

HEAVY MAILS.

The Carriers Had to Make Seven Hour Trips Saturday and Yesterday.

The New Mail Carrier for Paducah Has Not Yet Been Assigned.

The mails are heavier now than ever before in the city. Saturday and Monday the carriers have a great deal of trouble, and on Saturday and yesterday the mails were a heavy burden. The carriers who make three trips a day, those in the business part of town, could not make but two trips for the other trips. The government does not allow them to work over eight hours a day, under any circumstances, and hence the down town carriers had time to make only two trips, instead of three.

Paducah has been allowed one new carrier, but he has not yet been assigned. He will be Mr. Chas. Tucker, the oldest substitute, which will leave Mr. Jesse Cudde in line of promotion.

DANCED ON HIS TOES.

Austin Bryant Got Mad About It and Fought.

Austin Bryant and Chas. Bryant attended a dance at Odd Fellows' hall last night. They are no kin. During the evening Austin danced on the other man's toes, and was called down for it.

He continued, whenever he had the opportunity, to repeat his harmless amusement, and finally got mad and followed Chas. Bryant up, according to the latter's story. He said he would bust Charles in the mouth.

"Now, you won't bust me in the mouth, dey ain't!" exclaimed Charles Bryant, as he landed on Austin Bryant. The latter then landed back on the jaw, and drew a pistol, but did not use it. Most of the participants in the dance had this time felt, and no one was seriously hurt. Warrants were issued this morning.

A HARD FALL.

W. P. Dunn, a Mason, Painfully Hurt Yesterday at the I. C. Shops.

Mr. W. P. Dunn the brick mason, was painfully injured yesterday at the I. C. shops, while at work on a scaffold there. The scaffold fell, and he was injured to the ground with such violence that he was thought to be much worse hurt than he really is.

He was sent to the railroad hospital, where he now is resting easy.

NO COUNTY LICENSE.

The Court Street Women Cannot Sell Beer Without Violating the Law.

The Government Issues Them License, But the County Judge Will Not.

Two or three of the Court street women went before Commissioner Puryear and the revenue officers yesterday and took out government license to sell beer. When they went to the county authorities, however, they ascertained that they could get no county license, as the county judge took the position that they kept disorderly houses, and are not persons of good character. He declined to issue them any license, hence their government license, according to the U. S. commissioner, will not afford them any protection, except from prosecution by the government for violation of internal revenue laws.

They will therefore be subject to indictment if they sell now, just the same as heretofore.
