Three Fulton Seniors Seek Scholarships

Selected By Their Classmates To Vie In National Tests
MANY AWARDS GIVEN
Three Fulton high school seniors have been selected by their fellow students to compete with seniors from other high schools throughout the United States and territories for 121 four-year college scholarships and more than 600 $50 certificates of merit offered by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board.

They are Jimmy James, Billy Murphy and Edith Marie Lancaster. Chosen from among 49 of their classmates as the students "most likely to make important contributions to human progress," these outstanding boys and girls will try with other Kentucky high school seniors for the scholarships and certificates of merit, not aside specifically for this state.

At 9 a.m. Friday, Feb. 14, these candidates will take a special aptitude test at Fulton high school. The test has been prepared by the College Entrance Examination Board, an independent testing board composed of representatives of America's largest colleges and universities.

Wilson Gantt, high school principal, said: "It is imperative that this test be administered fairly and uniformly to all candidates since it serves as one of the most important bases for selecting winners of awards."

All winners will be announced April 15. If one of the Fulton students wins a scholarship, he or she will have full tuition and certain incidental expenses paid for four years at a college or university in the United States.

In addition, he or she will receive an allowance of $35 a month during the four school years plus traveling expenses at the rate of three cents a mile for one round trip from home to college each year.

Pikeville—County Judge J. W. Pruitt yesterday held Mrs. Martha Fields May, 30, of McVeigh, to the February grand jury under $5,000 bond on a charge of murder.

Port Knox—Gen. Salvador Cesar Obino, chief of the joint general staff of the Brazilian armed forces, was to leave by plane for Fort Bragg, N. C., this afternoon after a 36-hour visit here. Another visitor here yesterday was Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of the U. S. Second Army.

Wheat Farmers Should Report

Acreage Figures Needed Immediately, According To H. M. Pewitt, C.A.C.C.
Fulton county's 130 wheat farmers who have federal all-risk insurance on their 1947 crops are reminded by H. M. Pewitt, chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation Committee, to file written reports of the number of acres they have seeded to wheat.

The report forms are now available in the county office, Mr. Pewitt said, and each insured grower should make his acreage report as soon as possible. This needed-acreage information is necessary to determine the amount of insurance and premium for each of the contracts, he pointed out. They should also notify the committee to the extent that a loss under the insurance contract is probable.

Chairman Pewitt points out that this notification should be made before other use is made of the land. As soon as the information is received, arrangements will be made for an adjuster's inspection. In urging farmers to report their losses promptly, Mr. Pewitt said that the inspection permits a more satisfactory and speedier settlement of loss claims for farmers.

In 1946, 90 farmers in this county insured their crop investments with Federal crop insurance. Of this number, 30 farmers received payment for a total of 1,077 bushels of wheat because their crops did not produce the coverage they were insured for.

Somerset Police End Short Strike

Somerset, Ky., Dec. 18—(AP)—Somerset policemen who went on strike Saturday demanding more pay and better working conditions ended the walkout last night.

The seven patrolmen agreed to return to duty after the city council, meeting in special session, held that the officers automatically terminated their employment by the city when they walked off their jobs. The council, however, voted to rehire the officers for a 90-day probation period.

Holiday Musical Program Date Is Friday, Dec. 20th

The Christmas musical program at Fulton's new gymnasium will be held at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, December 20—not December 21, as incorrectly announced yesterday.

Everyone is invited to be present and join in singing Christmas carols. Miss Nell Warren will lead the program, in which all Fulton school students will participate.

Following the program, the students will report to their home rooms and shortly thereafter will be dismissed for the holidays. Classwork will be resumed Wednesday, January 1.

Farm Building Rules Changed

FHA, CPA Will Handle Permits and Priorities, State Official Announces
Effective immediately administration of farm building permits and materials priorities is transferred from County Agricultural Conservation Committee to the Federal Housing Administration and Civilian Production Administration, M. D. Royce, State Director of the Production and Marketing Administration, announced today.

County committees will process applications already accepted, Royce said, but applicants for construction permits and priorities assistance for farm dwellings will be referred to the Federal Housing Administration field office at Louisville. Field offices of the Civilian Production Administration will handle applications for construction and priorities assistance on all buildings except dwellings.

Royce also announced that new veterans' preference certificates for purchase of farm machinery and equipment can be issued.

Revocation of War Food Order 135, pertaining to veteran's preference for new farm machinery and equipment has been announced as effective at 12:01 a.m. February 5, 1947.

Outstanding preference certificates may be extended to that date, Royce said, but no certificate may be extended beyond the termination date.

Atom-Energy Ore Sought In Alaska

Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—The Interior Department disclosed today it is making a thorough geological search to determine whether Alaska may be a source of uranium, the basic material for atomic energy and the atom bomb.

Also under survey are Alaska's potentialities in oil, coal, gold and radium, and means of coping with the construction problem of volcanic activity and permafrost—the permanently frozen ground which underlies the territory.

The department's geological survey said in a report to Secretary Krug, 56 geologists took part in a summer-long field study which covered a wide range. Laboratory analyses of their finds will continue through the winter.

Harold Stassen Tosses Hat Into 1948 Presidential Ring

Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen ripped the lid off the 1948 Republican presidential nomination battle today by declaring his candidacy on an immediate platform of changing the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

The 39-year-old three-time governor of Minnesota and former navy captain, added that he is out to steer the GOP along a "truly liberal path."

One of his first efforts, Stassen told a news conference yesterday, will be directed toward amending the Wagner Act to prescribe a "set of unfair practices" for labor such as "mass picketing." Practices now spelled out as unfair in this law apply only to management.

Stassen said he wants to "balance up this collective bargaining." His announcement, unexpected only because of its timing so long before the 1948 nomination convention, came after Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Taft of Ohio had told reporters they are not candidates. Each, however, said the way open for any campaign in their behalf.

Besides Taft and Vandenberg, others who have been mentioned as contenders for the nomination include Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the 1944 standard bearer; Senator-Elect Earl Warren of California; and Senator-Elect Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Stassen said he is opening a Washington office January 1. Praising the way President Truman handled the coal strike, he said the future of the working people depends on four things in the next six months:

1—No big strikes so production can be kept continuously high.

2—Raising the salaries of white collar workers such as teachers to the "new level we have arrived at."

3—No extreme, restrictive legislation that would place power in the hands of the government in violation of labor's fundamental rights.

Nazi Rocket Soars 111 Miles Over White Sands

A green V-2 rocket, trailing a long string of white fire, soared comet-like to a record 111 miles into the heavens over White Sands, N. M., Dec. 18—(AP)—The rocket shot itself was termed the best so far by Lt. Col. Harold R. Turner, White Sands commandant.

Not only did the 14-ton (28,462 lb.) missile crack the July 30 altitude record of 104 miles, but also it established a new speed of 5,350 feet per second—more than a mile a second and about five times the speed of sound.

But for southwestern residents, the show was a flop. Of the hundreds who scanned the chilly desert night for something like the recent meteor showers, only unidentified observers at Bicebo, Ariz., reported seeing meteorites which were ejected at three 10-second intervals as the rocket shot skyward.

Further, only a few reported seeing the rocket itself. To two of these in Albuquerque—Mrs. Lincoln La Paz, wife of a scientist at the launching, and Duke Reid, radio news commentator—the rocket seemed like a cigar butt glowing in a dark room as it rose 150 miles away on the horizon.

Asks Farmers' Aid On Roads

Kentucky Highway Chief Says Suggestions Advice Of Farm Groups Helpful
Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 18—(AP)—Recommendation that state highway commissioners Frankly discuss their problems with representatives of farm organizations was made today by J. Stephen Watkins, Kentucky commissioner of highways.

In an address prepared for the committee on public relations and publicity of the American Association of State Highway Officials annual meeting here, Watkins said he had found that an excellent way to present his program to the farmers, he added:

"Every state highway executive should unhesitatingly include farm organization officials on his unofficial staff. Along with automobile clubs, chambers of commerce, rural letter carriers, highway users and other trade and civic groups, representatives of the farmers should be a part of any group called in to render service and counsel."

Watkins said that, "sad as it may seem," representatives of Farm Bureau Federations, of the National Grange and of similar groups are often excluded from highway officials' confidence, but that it was "a grave mistake" to do that.

Relief From Cold Wave Seen

By The Associated Press
The middle west shivered again today in sub-zero and below freezing temperatures as the seasons severest cold wave lingered over a wide area and headed for the middle Atlantic and New England states.

Below zero temperatures extended from Eastern Montana across North Dakota and into Minnesota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan. The mass of cold air was expected to move into the eastern section tonight with sharp drops in temperatures tomorrow morning. Morning readings of near and below zero were forecast for New England.

The mercury in many midwest cities hit the low mark for the season today, with Pembina, N. D., the coldest spot on the early morning weather map with a reading of 10 below. Grand Forks reported -3. Chicago's she above was the coldest weather since last winter. The mercury dipped to two below at Madison, Wis.

Snow flurries occurred in the cold belt and there was general rainfall in the southeastern part of the country from Louisiana to Virginia. Fair weather prevailed in other sections, federal forecasters in Chicago said.

Two Men Ready To Kill Him, Terry Said He Was Told

SECRETARY 'UPSET'
Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—Edward P. Terry, former secretary to Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.), testified today that A. B. Friend told him last April that if he told what he knew about his former boss he would be killed.

He said that Friend, a war contractor and Bilbo's campaign manager in last summer's election, delivered the warning to him while entertaining Terry and his wife at dinner in a Mississippi hotel.

He quoted Friend as saying: "Ed, if you take any part in this campaign or tell what you know on Senator Bilbo you'll be killed."

Terry, testifying at a Senate war contracts investigation, said that later in the evening Mrs. Terry asked Friend if Bilbo was going to kill her husband.

"He said no," Terry recounted, "there were two men going to do the job."

Terry said he was "very much upset" but was "interested in defeating Senator Bilbo" on account of the threat. He said he talked the matter over with friends, and they advised him to make a statement of the facts and go on to Florida, where he had started a business.

And if I clipped on a banana peel the people of Mississippi would know who to accuse," Terry added.

Terry said he gave out a sworn statement that his life had been threatened, but C. Phillips, a reporter for the Meridian (Miss.) Star, told him he wouldn't print it without talking to Friend. Phillips afterward reported, he related, that Friend said he was not going to kill Terry but that two men were.

Phillips told him, Terry went on, that after talking with Friend, Friend called back, "reversed himself, and said that I was lying."

He said Phillips told him about the talk with Friend while Terry was in a Quitman, Miss., hospital last Sunday.

Terry said that after he received the threat from Friend, he made a trip to St. Louis and upon his return to Mississippi was interviewed by internal revenue agents about Bilbo's income tax returns. Terry said he spent almost an entire day with the agents and "they unfolded to me information that I didn't know about."

Before Terry gave his account of the threat against his life, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) handed him a sheet listing alleged donations to a fund Bilbo raised for construction of a parsonage at the Juniper Grove Baptist church near his Poplarville home. Ferguson asked Perry to identify the list of donors.

The list included $500 from Michael T. Morrissey, $3,500 from M. T. Reed, and $150 from F. T. Newton, all war contractors, and a dozen other contributions from various people ranging from $50 to $1,000.

The total was over $12,000. Earlier Terry testified that there was an "understanding" with some Mississippi war contractors in connection with a 1940 election campaign debt.

Dear Santa . . .

dear-santa claus
I am a muddy little boy with wet feet and my sister has wet feet too and says her stockings are ruined with mud and water and I am writing to you to see if you can do something about it.

We got wet and muddy in a puddle of water that is on Washington street between main and walnut about half way between just on the main street side of the alley when a car splashed us and when we forgot to look where we were going later the same day and accidentally stepped off into the puddle.

We have heard that there are little places like this in town that need a little attention. We wonder if you could give the city enough money to buy a little gravel and a little cement and put them in the puddle and pretty soon there would be no puddle just a clean dry place that would drain water off where it is supposed to go into the sewers.

We know new sewers are not on our Christmas list but thought you could help us get the next best thing.

Don't get the wrong idea we like water and mud and like to make mud pies now and then but we will try to get along without this particular mud hole because we can always find another one and anyway we don't like to play with mud when it is cold and it certainly is cold now isn't it?

If you can't bring us what we want, this Christmas we will try to write to you earlier next year.

It's An Ill Wind

It is encouraging that the Kentucky state fire marshal has ordered inspections of Kentucky hotels to eliminate as many fire hazards as possible.

Not all hotels in Kentucky are safe, he said. Our opinion is that none of them is as safe as it could be—in other words, there is room for improvement in all our hotels, and in all our homes, for that matter.

The winecoff Hotel fire, alas, it was, may encourage all owners of buildings used by large numbers of persons to re-check the structure immediately and to do all they can to prevent the occurrence of a like tragedy.

Precautionary and preventive measures always are timely, and we endorse the fire marshal's program wholeheartedly.

Sweet Freedom Song

Crowns Point, Ind.—(AP)—Alvin Mitchell, 30, convicted of burglary of a store, was granted permission by Judge William J. Murray to sing a song to celebrate his freedom.

In a rich baritone voice Mitchell, negro shoemaker and choir singer, sang "Silent Night" and as the spectators in the courtroom remained quiet followed with "Ave Maria."

"It would be a shame to deprive your people of a voice like that on Christmas day," Judge Murray said as he placed the youth on probation for three years after imposing a sentence of one to five years in prison.

"But," the judge said, "if you ever break into another store it will be me, and not you, who does the singing, and you won't like the song."

Fear Of Reds Diminishes

By J. H. Roberts, Jr., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Just as Russia's actions in the recent New York conference seemed to reduce the barriers between her and the western nations, so something seems to be happening to alleviate the fears of her immediate neighbors.

Some months ago Iran was reduced to a quivering jelly while her dispute with Russia was before the U. N. security council. She practically repudiated her own representative here, and made a hurried deal with the Soviet rather than pursue the contest despite indications of victory.

Now, suddenly, the Tehran government is emboldened to retake the northern provinces of Azerbaijan, which had been almost a country unto itself, because of wartime Russian occupation and later because of a Moscow-sponsored local government.

In addition, Tehran's troops are mopping up centers of the Kurdish independence movement which also was declared by some of its own leaders to have had Russian support even to the supply of arms.

Iran moved without fear of Russian intervention. Even the Moscow radio has had little to say.

A little farther west, Turkish officials have begun a campaign against what they termed "subversive" elements in European Turkey. The army is moving in firm fashion. Observers at Istanbul pointed out the coincidence of the Turkish campaign and Iranian events as possible harbingers of a changing attitude toward Russia.

In Greece, too, the government has consistently intimated that Russia was behind her insurgent troubles. But now one Greek partisan group, which was reported fighting for autonomy in Macedonia, denies this is their objective. They say they are fighting only for political rights and adoption of some of their precepts by the central government.

This group repudiates the leftist EAM and the Macedonia national liberation front, which the central government fears as the agents of Sovietist Europe.

Here, then, are three small groups which suddenly feel emboldened to thumb their noses at the Kremlin. Turkey, of course, has been firm all the time against Russian encroachment, but at the same time she has been, until now, very polite. And the Greeks thing is minor.

But here, suddenly, we have evidence that the Kremlin crown does not carry all the weight it did a short time ago.

Amen, Dr. Babb!

We submit this as yesterday's most outstanding masterpiece of understatement: "Dr. H. A. Babb, executive director of the state unemployment compensation commission, said the recent mine shutdown was a strike. If the 'recent shutdown' were not a strike, we would not like to be around when John L. does call one."

The miners, Dr. Babb ruled, therefore are not entitled to unemployment benefits. This is the only ruling, in our humble opinion, that the public would have tolerated. The miner's walkout admittedly was perpetrated in the hope of securing a more favorable contract from the mine owners. To pay the strikers for paralyzing industry and causing widespread unemployment and suffering would have been the last straw.

Help Is Asked In Collecting Food

The Fulton Charity Club, now engaged in collecting contributions of food and money to buy food for needy colored citizens is asking the aid of all who will cooperate in these last days before Christmas. A club committee in charge of this project is headed by F. M. Vanderford.

A statement of the purposes of the Charity Club given by Hazel P. Wolfe follows:

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor."

"Bring joy and happiness to humble homes this Christmas. Help make this the happiest Christmas of your life by sending food and fuel to our needy ones."

"We hope to send sunshine into the hearts of some of our needy ones. Will you help us? Help us to help our aged and destitute."

"The Fulton Charity Club is making some progress, but it needs your help. This is our job, each and every one of us who will volunteer and do his part. Only seven days left. We hope to get many full baskets that will cheer our needy. Food as well as money (to be converted into more food) will be appreciated."

"Bring or send your contributions to The Southern Chicken Shack, The Playhouse, The Spot or the Streamline Cafe."

In a check of 80 farms in Monroe county, it was found that four out of every five acres of cultivated land were in cover crops.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Dec. 18—(AP)—

There was a meeting of sports writers in Washington the other day, called by Attorney General Tom Glavin to discuss sports as a means of combating juvenile delinquency. From time to time, this writer has dipped into that serious subject—always being careful to avoid using the word "delinquent"—a nasty term that shouldn't be hung on any kid. When a boy or girl gets into trouble, it usually is someone else who is delinquent. The facts are so obvious it shouldn't be necessary to point them out, but we'll go over a few briefly.

Item One

It's cheaper and more satisfactory to maintain a few playgrounds and gymnasiums than an equal number of courts and jails. It's cheaper than paying premiums on insurance against theft and destruction. For that reason any business man or householder should be willing to kick in a few bucks to provide these facilities. But that isn't the best reason for contributing. The best reason is that every youngster deserves the right to have some fun and to grow up with the right ideas.

Item Two

A program of sports and recreation, properly conducted, is a great inducement to a boy or girl to stay on the right side. New York's Police Athletic League program has proved this. Plans in other cities have shown similar results. In every case there are certain basic requirements. The programs must be made attractive and the beneficiaries must understand that participation is a privilege denied to them if they misbehave. There must be adequate facilities and equipment and more than adequate leadership.

Item Three

Facilities. A sandlot or an old barn is better than no place to play, but a boy does appreciate a real baseball or football field or gym. Leadership. It isn't enough to provide a rubbly playground and say: "Go ahead and play." Some capable person or persons must get the kids to come around and show them what to do when they get there. We know dozens of teachers and coaches who give a lot of their time to such projects and receive little if any extra compensation. There must be thousands of others.

Item Four

This normally-light column hasn't said everything about the subject and may not have said it in the best way, but we hope this will help to induce every reader to support existing sports programs or to create them where they don't exist. It will take a lot of large and small scale planning, a lot of work and a lot of money. As for that, see item one.
