County To Send 16 To '47 Farm Bureau Meet

Convention Is Set
January 8-10 In Louisville Hotels

RECORD CROWD SEEN
Approximately 15 Fulton county Farm Bureau members are expected to attend the annual convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation which is to be held Jan. 8-10 in the Brown and Seelbach hotels, Louisville.

J. E. Stanford, Louisville, Federation executive secretary, says the largest crowd in history probably will be present. This means there may be more than $,000 to take in some part of the three-day session.

Among those from this county who definitely plan to attend the convention are: Charles Wright, county Farm Bureau president; John Watts, county agent; Mrs. Margaret Adams, home demonstration agent; J. B.
McGehee, Farm Bureau executive secretary; H. J. French, Farm Bureau insurance agent; and Mrs. Roy Bard and Mrs. C.
A. Sanford representing the Associated Women for Fulton county. Other delegates will represent community Farm Bureau organizations.

"As near as we can tell now," Stanford declared, "there will be upward of 740 authorized men delegates and 103 women delegates. These are just the voting delegates, and many more than these always attend one or more sessions."

The day before the convention opens the board of directors of both the Federation and the Farm Bureau Insurance Co. will hold sessions.

The general session of the convention opens at 9:30 a.m.
Wednesday, January 8, in the Brown Hotel. At noon there will be a luncheon meeting of the Associated Women in the main ballroom of the Seelbach, and a luncheon meeting of Farm Bureau insurance agents in the junior ballroom of the Seelbach.
The annual meeting of the Associated Women will be held immediately following the luncheon. Principal speakers will be Mrs. Charles W. Sewell, Chicago, administrative director of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau, and Harry W. Schacter, Louisville, president of the Committee for Kentucky.

The same afternoon all the commodity conferences except tobacco will open sessions at 1:30 o'clock. All conferences and meetings will adjourn at 4:30 p.m. to permit delegates to attend the tobacco conference, which is to begin at that time.

General sessions will be held all day Thursday, followed by the annual banquet Thursday night. The business session, with the exception of voting on resolutions, will be held Friday morning. Action on resolutions will be taken during the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 8. The convention is scheduled to close Friday noon, Jan. 10.

Army Dangerously Weak Now, High Officials Tell Congress

Washington, Dec. 19.—(AP)—
The army, getting ready to lay a legislative program before the new Congress, reported today its forces overseas are too weak to cope with any surprise assault and suggested this country ought to be looking now to its defenses in the atomic age.

There was indication that the army expects trouble, but top level officials discussing long-range manpower problems with reporters made such assertions as these:
1. If this country encountered a military crisis tomorrow its weakened forces overseas, with an insufficiently trained reserve at home, would be over-run except in some isolated spots.
2. If at some time in the next few years the United States were subjected to an atomic bomb attack, there would be little need for a readily mustered and thoroughly trained regular army, national guard and organized reserve troops.
Such an attack, these officials said, would produce chaotic conditions among the civilian population and in transportation, and would be accompanied by the possibility of having to cope with an enemy paratrooper attack.
The War Department intends to emphasize two items in its forthcoming legislative program—unification and universal military training.
Convinced that some form of a service unification law stands a good chance of passage next year, the War Department has

Tiny Teenager Held For Death

Owley County Jailor Puts Extra Bars On His Cell; Awaits Jury Action

Booneville, Ky., Dec. 19.—(AP)— A teen-ager so small that the jailor said extra bars had to be placed on the boy's cell was being held for grand jury action on a murder charge here today.
Owley county judge J. M.
King said he ordered Lester Little, 14, held on the charge under $5,000 bond in connection with the fatal shooting of the boy's cousin, Price Little, 23, both resided in the Jettis Creek section of Breathitt County, Ky.
Sheriff Charles McIntosh said the teen-ager was only 40 pounds. Jailor Sam Ranser said the boy is so small that the extra bars were put on the cell to keep him from slipping through.
McIntosh said the shooting occurred Sunday in Owensley county about 35 yards from the Owley-Breathitt boundary. The cousins and four other boys were engaged in a shooting match, the sheriff said. Then the Littles became involved in an argument over a watch chain, McIntosh reported.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 19.—(AP)— One man was reported killed and an undetermined number of school children injured in a collision between a lumber truck and a school bus near White Rock, about 20 miles northwest of here today.
Frank Shealy of Chapin, owner of the truck, said Sam Rowe, one of ten men aboard it, was killed when the truck and the school bus collided on a dirt road.
Some of the school children, he said, "were bruised up" but I don't think any of them were killed.

The accident occurred near Spring Hill School toward which the bus with a full load of pupils was headed.
The scene was only about 20 miles from Silverstreet, near where ten children and the driver of a school bus were killed yesterday in a collision with a Southern Railway passenger train.

Britain Votes To Own R'ways

Government Ownership
Bill Needs Only Third
Reading In Lower House

London, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Government ownership of Britain's 20,000-mile railway system was virtually assured today by the 362 to 204 vote accorded the Labor Government's far-reaching transport bill at its decisive second reading in the House of Commons last night.
While the measure still faces a third reading in Commons—probably some time next month —this will amount to little more than a formality under the usual Parliamentary procedure.
The vote last night eliminated three days of debate, during which the government's program was bitterly assailed by the conservative opposition, backed by a number of Liberals and Liberal-Nationals.
The issue was decided on straight party lines, with labor presenting a solid front, but Parliamentary observers noted that the vote showed the heaviest participation of Commons' members in several years and marked the first time in this Parliament that the opposition had totaled more than 200.

Anthony Eden, Britain's wartime Foreign Secretary, concluded the government's attack upon the measure by declaring that its passage would be "nothing less than a major national disaster." He asserted that the only justification for the bill would be greater operating efficiency and lower costs, but declared the government had failed to show how this result could be achieved.

Philly Fire Kills 6 Men

Negro Hotel Blaze,
Injured 40 Others, Say Investigating Officers

Philadelphia, Dec. 19.—(AP)— With six men dead and 40 injured the city pushed an investigation today into a lodging house fire which forced more than 100 persons into streets in near-freezing weather.
Cause of the disastrous blaze in the low-priced South Philadelphia establishment, occupied by negroes, remained a mystery.
Fire Chief George Gallagher said he hoped to find a man who ran into the lodging house at about 10 o'clock last night shouting "fire" and then ran out again. He said the man might furnish a tangible clue to the blaze which swept through frame cubicles and dormitories in which Gallagher said were rented at 20 and 35 cents a night.

After the first alarm, panic spread through the place, known as Abe's Hotel. Partially-clad men fled through thick smoke clouds which filled the entire five-story structure. At least 30 were carried down ladders.

Fire Reported At Geo. Atkins Home

Fire in the George Atkins home cotton gin street reported to have started in a faulty flue, was extinguished by the South Fulton fire department shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.
The fire was confined to the attic, but the ground floor of the home was slightly damaged by smoke and water.
During the first four years of World War II, there were about 17,000 amputations in the Army, and about 120,000 from disease and accident in the civilian population.

Ex-Secretary Terry Is "A Judas Iscariot," Bilbo Charges; Tells Senate Committee He Has Sought No Funds Except Those To Pay Divorce Expense

Terry Arrives For Bilbo Hearing
"I Am A Poor Man,"
Senator Declares
In His Statement

dore G. Bilbo (D-Miss), arrives at Union Station, Washington, D.
C., from Mississippi to testify before Senate War Investigating Committee on relations of Bilbo and war contractors. Terry is accompanied by his wife (right) and committee investigator W. Harold Lane (center). (AP Wirephoto)

Washington, Dec. 19.—(AP)— Lashing out bitterly at an ex-secretary whom he described as a "Judas Iscariot," Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) declared today it is an "old Southern custom" to give presents to public servants.
Bilbo denied before a Senate War Investigating Subcommittee that he had sought gifts or funds, "with the possible exception of the money that I borrowed to make a property settlement with my ex-wife." The subcommittee is inquiring into his relations with war contractors.
In a 10,000 word statement, "The Man," Bilbo heaped invective upon his former secretary, Edward P. Terry, who testified against him yesterday, and on former Rep. Ross Collins, a Mississippi political foe.
Bilbo said the evidence to date showed that "I am a very poor man and heavily involved in debt and that I received during all the period that the investigation has covered but two Christmas gifts, one an automobile and the other living room furniture consisting of a sofa, three floor lamps and two table lamps."

VFW Head Asks Housing Loans At Low Interest To Veterans

Washington, Dec. 19.—(AP)— An appeal for 40-year, low-interest housing loans to veterans popped up today as the government pushed an all-out drive to encourage the construction of homes for rent.
The appeal for long-term loans was addressed to the Federal Housing Administration by Commander Louis E. Starr of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.
But an FHA official told a reporter Starr should have directed his request to congress.
He said the law now limits loans to 25 years in the case of one to four-family homes.

Starr said in a statement he had told FHA Chief Raymond Foley and Housing expediter Frank R. Creedon that elimination of most construction controls had ended the veterans emergency program.
"Veterans—the majority of whom are on the lower rung of the economic ladder—must now depend on the 'trickle-down' process for housing," Starr said.
By that the VFW chief said he meant that most new homes now will go to non-veterans, hence the veterans' only alternative will be to take advantage of rental vacancies in less expensive and less desirable units.

Creedon and Foley told a senate small business subcommittee yesterday of their plans for carrying out a housing program minus most controls.
"Our big push for 1947 will be rental housing," Creedon declared.
Foley testified that the additional $1,000,000,000 which President Truman made available for mortgage insurance authorization "will be used primarily" to finance rental housing.
So, he added, will the "largest possible share" of a like amount voted by congress last May.

Foley told the committee that many of the chief factors which had been deterring builders from starting rental housing have been removed.
The material situation today is much improved," he said. "The rising cost line promises to level off, and in some areas appear already to have done so."

He referred to Terry's testimony that the late Simon Liberman of New York City, a British immigrant, had given him the $15,000 and that he had returned it to Liberian when he was unable to find anyone to make the race.
Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), cross-examining Terry, brought out that Liberian had died several months before the date Terry claimed to have returned the money to him.
Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) then ordered the former secretary called for contempt and possible perjury actions. Terry was on hand again this morning, with his lawyer.

Frozen Metal Is Used To Receive Radio Programs

Baltimore, Dec. 18.—(AP)— Victas of unexplored fields of radio research were opened today with an announcement by Johns Hopkins University Scientists that they have accidentally discovered a new method of radio reception using only a tiny strip of frozen metal—without power source, tubes or antenna.
Dr. Donald H. Andrews, professor of chemistry at the university and co-discoverer of the phenomenon, said local programs had been heard clearly by use of a piece of columbium ni-tride smaller than a common pin and made superconductive by lowering its temperature to about 435 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit).
"Perhaps in another two or three months," Andrews haz-arded, "we will be able to tell what we have here."

Others in China are trained to direct fish into nets.

Visit The Schools

The Leader urges everyone who can to attend one or both of the special Christmas programs planned tomorrow at the new Fulton gymnasium and the South Fulton school auditorium.

The program at Carr Institute at 1 o'clock will feature Christmas music by all school students, directed by Miss Nell Warren. The visiting audience is invited to join the singing of the familiar and beloved Christmas carols and hymns.

Elementary students of South Fulton will present the Christmas program at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the school. The Parent-Teacher Association will attend as a group, and all others of the community are invited.

Special programs of this type require a great deal of planning and preparation. All of us should show our interest in the fine work being done in our schools by attending, if possible.

Honor, And An Obligation

The three Fulton high school seniors selected by their classmates to compete for college scholarships and certificates of merit offered by a large soft-drink company are to be commended highly. They were chosen as the students "most likely to make important contributions to human progress."

In their selection, they have an obligation to their fellow students to continue the good work that all scholarship applicants will be required to take. We are confident that their work will measure up to the high standards set, and wish them all the success possible.

Squad Play

San Francisco (AP)—Mrs. Mary C. Goldstein, 32, had a weapon of her own to cope with the bandit's gun.

As he reached into the cash drawer in her store, Mrs. Goldstein slammed the till closed and screamed for help. The gunman fled, leaving a bruised hand.

Fortunate Find

Memphis, Wash. (AP)—Alfred G. Windler found a wallet in front of a cafe and turned it over to the man behind the counter when he went inside to eat.

As he departed, Windler was handed a $5 bill and a note from the owner who claimed the wallet and disclosed there were three $100 bills and five $10's in it.

An Easy "A"

London, Mont. (AP)—Student Pilot Orris Larson, on his second solo flight, ran into a flock of ducks.

The impact smashed one wing and caused minor damage to the plane, but Larson was able to land for a perfect landing.

The instructor gave him a grade of "A."

Coincidence

Kansas City (AP)—Two expectant fathers, Owen R. Davidson and G. B. Harvey, compared notes to cool their nerves while waiting outside the hospital delivery room.

They discovered: Both had sons aged 5 and 6, and both wanted the third child to be a daughter.

Their conversation was interrupted when a nurse informed Davidson he was the parent of a red-headed girl. Ten minutes later Harvey learned that he, too, had a daughter—a red-head.

Light Housekeeping

Ogdensburg, N. Y. (AP)—Richard Montague, a navy veteran, has solved the housing problem for his wife, three-year-old child and himself.

Montague plans to move into the Ogdensburg lighthouse on the St. Lawrence river. His bid for the property was accepted by the coast guard.

The lighthouse was built by the government in the mid-eighties. It has been unoccupied since 1928.

Too Busy To Eat

Springfield, Ill. (AP)—Santa Claus, who usually has all the answers ready for his inquisitive questioners, was stumped by one youngster's question.

"You forget something last year," the lad asked a department store Santa. "You forgot the surprise and doughnuts I left for you."

Curiosity Pays

San Diego Beach, Calif. (AP)—Charles G. Morrison is rich because he's inquisitive. Looking in a bank line, he watched a check cashed and he was ahead of him kick a cold check. Morrison finally picked it up, found $400.

He turned it over to the bank manager. The manager, returning later, gratefully left the $400 reward.

With The Fourth Estate

"Improper, Outrageous"

The fine assessed against the United Mine Workers is "cruel and inhuman, improper and outrageous," says Joseph Padway, one of John L. Lewis' attorneys, when the $3,000,000 penalty was proposed.

A punitive fine? Of course it's a punitive fine, but a nominal one. For there is not enough money in the United Mine Workers' treasury to begin to compensate the country for the damage resulting from the union president's defiance. There is not enough money in its treasury to repair the damage done by the union president to this country's prestige before the world. (Park City Daily News, Bowling Green.)

Little Help

Officials of the former housing administration have quit in the typical manner, giving up their well paying jobs with little regard.

The housing program apparently has been a headache to everyone except those top ranking officials who were drawing good salaries. Naturally they regret to see the change.

That has been the manner in which all those who have played at being kings in the emergency setups have relinquished their little kingdoms. The loss of power and salaries have been a blow to them, and they have been of one accord in predicting dire results. (State-Gazette, Dyerburg, Tenn.)

U. S. Keeps Atomic Secret

For one, the Messenger is greatly relieved that the Russians are denied the atomic bomb secret, which they desperately craved, despite the fact that they peach-pooch the importance of atomic weapons. We, for one feel Uncle Sam is far safer, now holding the secret yet while, menacing no one with it, but afraid of no one, and in effect keeping his powder dry. (Madisonville Messenger.)

Great Cause, Ideal Leader

The committee favoring a constitutional convention for Kentucky could have found no better campaign chairman in the whole State than Paul G. Blazer of Ashland. This successful Eastern Kentucky industrialist has everything the tremendous job will take—energy, organizing ability, wide acquaintance and an exceptional grasp of public questions. (Courier-Journal.)

An Answer To Russia

By J. H. Roberts, Jr., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Truman's statement regarding China constitutes both a warning to the emboldened factions there and an answer to Russia.

First of all is notice to the Chinese that the world expects them to get together, couple with the offer of a half billion dollar prize if they do. The inference is that this and other sums for economic development will not be forthcoming until they do.

Second is word to the Russians that they have been making mountains out of molehills about American troops in China; that they have been removed as rapidly as repatriation of Japanese prisoners would permit, and that now only a handful remain. Also that sales of surplus materials to China has not included arms.

The statement apparently was issued mainly to help General Marshall get under way with a new effort to bring the Nationalists and Communists together in a "broadened" government. But it also suggests additional possibilities if he fails.

The United States has been working alone in trying to help establish a stable China because of special ties between the two countries. It has been going on for some years. But now the United States has a new over-all policy of working on such matters through the United Nations. Action by the United Nations might be embarrassing to the central government. Not so much that the Kuomintang, attempting to steer an unorganized country through a war, adopted some of the methods of the European dictatorships, but more because it didn't seem too sorry about it. And because during the war, when America was fighting frantically to get war material through to Chiang's armies, we were having little success in really getting it used for something after it arrived.

Senator Bilbo, who evidently struck while the iron was hot in obtaining his "dream house" and private lake, is finding that it isn't so pleasant when the Senate investigating committee "brakes" him for misappropriation of federal funds.

Senator Ferguson asked why Terry left Bilbo's office.

"Why he did—" Bilbo began.

"No," Ferguson interposed. "I'm asking you why. You did not discharge him?"

"No," Bilbo, replied, adding that Terry resigned "but I had some suspicions."

In categorical order, Bilbo's statement took up every accusation which has come up during the week-long hearing.

First, he said he was glad to "plead guilty" to a charge that he helped Mississippi contractors obtain cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts for the construction of the Jackson, Miss. Air base, Key Field at Meridian, and Keeler Field at Biloxi, Miss.

"If I am to be condemned for being loyal to my constituents xxx, then by the same token every worthwhile senator and member of the House of Representatives in the National Congress must likewise bear the burden of such condemnation."

Runyon's Ashes Flung To Winds Over Manhattan

New York, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The ashes of Damon Runyon, fiction chronicler of Broadway, were scattered over the Times Square area yesterday from an airplane.

Runyon's son, Damon, Jr., said the columnist had left him written instructions that the ashes be "scattered over the island of Manhattan, the place that I have truly loved and that was so good to me."

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker tilted the urn as the plane passed over Times Square.

Fulton, Kentucky
Dear Santa:

I am just a little fellow 7 months old, but please don't forget me. I want a rubber porcupine, a beaded doll and duck, a shoo fly rocky horse, a gun set, a ball, fruit and candy.

Don't forget the other little boys and girls too.

Your little friend, Allen Bennett.

P. S. I'm a good little boy too. So bring some balloons, also as I really like those.

Veterans Corner

This column is published weekly through the cooperation of this paper. Questions should be mailed to the Veterans Employment Representative, United States Employment Service, Mayfield, Kentucky.

Q. "I am confused about the 20 percent increase in pension which became effective September 1 and which was paid for the first time in October. I had been receiving $97.50 for 50 percent disability and now my check is for $99.00. Does the new law give 20 percent increase in money payment or 20 percent increase in disability rating?"

A. The 20 percent increase applies to payment and not to disability rating. Your rating is still 50 percent. Instead of payment being at the rate of $115.50 for each 10 percent it is now $13.80. The 20 percent increase in either payment or rating amounts to the same sum. All World War II disability ratings are in multiples of 10, except where there is anatomical loss of both hands, feet or eyes.

Q. My husband, a veteran needs hospitalization for a malignant condition. I understand the treatment he needs can be given at Hines, Ill. Can he be admitted there direct?

A. Direct admissions for the treatment of malignant conditions are not made to Hines or other tumor clinics unless they are those to which the applicants normally would be admitted. Admission is made to the nearest Veterans Administration hospital, house, or center with subsequent transfer to tumor clinics.

Q. My son was classified 1-A by his draft board but his induction was delayed until he completed his high school education. He attended college this summer and is enrolled for this semester. Can he continue to avoid being drafted by staying in school full time?

A. No. The next time he is called for induction he will not be permitted to complete even a semester or a quarter.

Q. My son was in the service 14 months. I am a widow. He contributed to the maintenance of our apartment until he was inducted. He was discharged several months ago, and now the office of Dependency Benefits has sent me a notice demanding that I repay them $185.00 for the allowance I received from my son. I put every cent of the money I received into War Bonds. What right has the O.D.B. to demand that I repay that money now?

A. A very excellent legal right.

United Nations Information

Q. When will the first peace treaties of World War II be signed?

A. The treaties will be signed sometime between February 1st and 15th, 1947 in Paris. These treaties will be with Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

Q. What new site is being considered for the U. N. permanent headquarters?

A. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. has offered the United Nations a gift of an $8,500,000 tract of land along the East River in midtown Manhattan, New York City. This site will probably be accepted by the United Nations and become a skyscraper world capital.

Q. Has the U. N. taken any action with regard to Franco Spain?

A. The General Assembly voted to recall from Spain all ambassadors and ministers of the 54 United Nations members. It was also resolved that Franco Spain should be barred from all international United Nations functions; and that the Security Council should review the case if the Franco regime was not replaced "within a reasonable time" by a government "which derives its authority from the consent of the governed."

Q. When will the Council of Foreign Ministers discuss "what to do with Germany"?

A. The Council will reconvene in Moscow on March 10th to discuss peace terms for both Germany and Austria. Reports for this meeting will be drafted by selected deputies, and submitted to the Big Four by the end of February. Foreign correspondents covering this meeting in Moscow will have the same freedom of reporting which they have previously had in Paris and New York.

Apparently, allowances to parents may be made only to those who need the money to live or are not made for the purpose of increasing parents' savings. If you had enough income to be able to save the allowances, you were not entitled to receive them. The O.D.B. claim for payment may be turned over to the U. S. district attorney for collection on the ground that you obtained the money through fraudulent statement of your outside income.
