DR. J. WOODALL BRYAN HONORED IN LOUISVILLE

Dr. James Woodall Bryan, a native of Marshall County, was honored last week as the "Down-town Optimist Club's Man of the Year." In Louisville.

This-is-your-life type pageant. Mrs. Mary Harrison Green of Benton recalled the day Dr. Bryan arrived to teach the eighth-grade Brezzell school. Others recalled milestones throughout the physician's career.

Pat Doyle, student at the University of Kentucky, is spending the summer in Calvert City.

Uncle Ned - - - From Dogtown

It may be gitting later than them varmints in the Kremlin thinks. I see where the wimmen in Moscow is complaining that they're mighty tired of wearing flour sacks for dresses. They has told Khrushchev they want to be better shod and less shoddy.

They're demanding to look and smell nicer, want to git rid of them peasant styles, want perfume, gaze-me-good frocks and a new look.

Ole Khrushchev better be bending a big ear to this noise. In the matter of a country's survival, the female can be more important than the missile program. The Kremlin would be smart to start reading the handwriting on the wall—while the wall is still there.

I see where some big column writer has estimated there is nearly three million people in the United States that don't read nothing but the comic strips. He says we got 50,000 people in this country that thinks Dick Tracy is head of the FBI.

There's two ways to look at that thing, Mister Editor. Maybe one reason we got such a great country is because we got so many people in it that don't do nothing but follow the pursuit of happiness. If they git it just reading the comics, who is this column writer to be complaining?

Speaking of column writers I see where this feller Bernard Baruch, setting on one of them park benches in New York, told a reporter that political honesty was gitting mighty scarce in this present campaign. Political honesty, in case Mr. Baruch don't know it, is in the same class with horse feathers. Somepun can't git scarce when there ain't none of it to start with.

I heard on the radio last night that a bunch of telephone girls in someplace in Florida was threatening to walk out if they don't git air conditioning this summer. Let 'em walk, I say.

What ought to happen to wimmen complaining about the heat is to dress 'em in BYD's, a pair of man's pants, a shirt with the neck buttoned up tight and a collar and tie to keep all the heat inside—like I wear to preaching ever Sunday—put a coat on 'em and turn the whole bunch loose on the street on a hot day.

Telephone girls wearing about eight ounces of clothes demanding air conditioning is the limit, Mister Editor.

Them spend-happy boys in the Pentagon has been paying such outlandish prices for everything that I see where a salesman created a sensation up there the other day by whispering around that he could git things fer 'em at retail. It would be a mighty good break fer the taxpayers if they'd hire this feller and make him a five-star general-in-Charge-of-Buying.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ned.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dukes of Calvert City entertained Saturday evening at a bridge party. Playing bridge were Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bobb, Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. James Burgess.

Mrs. R. M. Spiceland Complimented At Household Shower

Mrs. R. M. Spiceland, the former Kaye Dunnigan, was honored with a household shower held recently at North Marshall High School. Hostesses were Mesdames Sanders Watkins and Dwayne Pitt.

The honoree wore a sheath dress of yellow cotton to which was pinned a corsage of red roses, a gift from the hostesses. A color scheme of pink and green was carried out on the gift table. The serving table, overlaid with a cutwork cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink roses flanked by pink tapers in milk glass candlesticks, which matched the milk glass punch bowl.

Game prizes were won by Mesdames Wilburn Siris, George Holland and Miss Patricia Barker. Approximately 80 persons attended the shower or sent gifts.

Mrs. Joe Gallimore and daughter, Helanie, will return this weekend from Coalgate, Okla., where they visited for ten days. Johnny Cann, of Frankfort, Ky., visited his brothers in Calvert City this week.

TERMITE TROUBLE?

There are some facts which we would like for you to know about exterminating a house for termites. First, the most common kind of termite in this part of the country is the subterranean termite, which builds the dirt tunnel from the ground up the side of a foundation, pier, etc., to get to wood. They have to go to the ground for moisture.

So to kill these termites, you have to poison the timbers and soil; drill and flood concrete porches and areas that can be pressure treated.

It isn't even logical to force a liquid into a solid piece of timber, much less drill and pressure treat the walls, studdings, and timbers in your house, that are subject to the attack of these termites.

So if you want your home protected and treated right against termites at a price you can afford CALL SHHHHHHH-H-H-H... Approaching the outskirts of a small town, a motorist stopped to use an outdoor telephone booth. He was startled to read this sign on the door: "Please don't use this phone booth until the eggs are hatched!" When he peered into the booth, our friend saw two tiny eggs sitting inside a ready-made hummingbird's nest—the coin return slot. With an understanding grin, he returned to his car and drove on to the next telephone booth.

ANOTHER nice thing about dialing our out-of-town calls: You always get the money-saving station-to-station rate. So try it next time you call a distant friend or loved one. It's a lot of fun. Check your telephone book for simple directions.
