Political Pot Simmers

It's generally known in Fulton that there has to be a candidate for governor of Kentucky next year. It is not our purpose to launch an active campaign in the behalf of this writer, but it is the writer's belief that the number of supporters for this candidate will be increased in leaning what other candidates and political leaders have to say. Assessing the coming gubernatorial item, we will then discuss our position on the political and political comment for their readers. (Austin Adkins, etc.)
