Harry Lee Waterfield, Leading Candidate For Governor in 1947, Is Versatile In Three Fields, Has Good Record

Through the window of his office, Waterfield can see the morning sun on the roof of the old courthouse in La Center. He divides his time between the duties of governor and those of secretary of state, and is proud of the district he represents in the state legislature.

Waterfield, who has been a member of the state house of representatives since 1933, said he would make a good governor because he has had the experience to back up his words. He said he would like to see more federal aid to the states, and he is in favor of the present program of aid to education.

Waterfield is a member of the Democratic party, and he is running for governor on the Democratic ticket. He said he would like to see more federal aid to the states, and he is in favor of the present program of aid to education.

Famous Little Post Office Village, Santa Claus, Swamped By Record Number Of Tourists Now

Santa Claus, Ind.—This post office is not only the big growth and further world prominence. Eighteen, a young "would-be" miner, is under way in the development of a new Santa Claus Land children's park and visitor center. Located on U.S. 41 near Utica, 14 miles from Evansville, just a few minutes from the great Utica 150th birthday celebration, this park is a must for slow Christmas braving the "holidayına boom". This year's record number of tourists who visited the post office and its service station is 105,000, and it is still expected to climb. The post office is owned and operated by Mrs. Bill Phillips, whose son, Deputy Sam of Santa Claus Post Office, is deputy sheriff of Spencer County and who is a member of the local police force. The post office is also a bond office and a mail service station. The post office is open every day of the year from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Santa Claus Land is a small town in Spencer County, Indiana, with a population of about 2,000. It is the site of the annual Santa Claus Land Festival, which includes a parade, a Christmas tree lighting ceremony, and a visit from Santa Claus. The festival is a major attraction for tourists and local residents alike, and it is known for its festive atmosphere and holiday spirit.
