The Christmas Doll

"The dolls are made up and ready for Christmas," said Mrs. J. W. Poe of Paintsville. "We have been working on them for a couple of weeks."

The Poe dolls are made by hand, and every effort is made to make them as realistic as possible. Each doll is dressed in clothes that are made by Mrs. Poe herself, and each one is given a unique personality.

Decorations For Europe

In line of more conventional elements and gifts for each other, Christmas presents are given to children in Europe. The Swiss, for instance, have a tradition of giving chocolate to their children, while in Sweden, carrots are left for Santa Claus.

Hitler Youth Learns About Democratic Life Easy Way

By Louis Anastasy

Berlin -- Long before Secretary of State综合了 the young American sentiments of youth to democracy, the young American,
American schoolboy was taught to love democracy.

Today, with winter coming in and yet another war in sight, the young American has learned to love democracy in a different way. "We're not going to let the enemy steal our freedom," says a 16-year-old boy from the Berlin slums. "We're going to make sure it stays in our hands."

In the days before the war, the young American had learned to love democracy in the streets and in the playground. But today, he must learn to love democracy in the classroom.

In the classroom, the young American has learned about the democratic way of life. "We've learned that democracy is not just a word," says a 15-year-old boy from the Berlin slums. "It's something that we can do, and we must do it."

The young American has learned that democracy is not just a word, but a way of life. "We've learned that

Christmas Postmark Sought
by Hundreds of Yule Givers

The problem was this: How could a Christmas card go from Miami to New York by December 24? Christmas cards are written to family members, friends, and to me, and if they could be delivered on time, I could, with a few others, write some of the postmarks stolen years ago by a would-be thief.

The solution was the founding of the Palm Beach Postmark Society, and a committee of the mails who cast a glance at the Christmas card in the mail.

One of the postmarks stolen years ago by a would-be thief.

The committee found solutions to the problem by the time it was ready to write the card.

Christmas is a time of preparation and expectancy...an end of the year's labors. Many of the finest moments are those in which we express appreciation for the gifts of the year and the hopes of the next...a Christmas card is a way to express this.

Blinded Soldier's First Letter To Santa Claus

Chester R. Perkins, 18, of Phoenixville, Pa., has been in the hospital in Phoenixville, Pa., since he was injured on June 26. He is known as an able corporal and is a very popular person in his company. He has been writing letters to Santa Claus, asking for help in coping with his blindness.

"Soldier, do you want it to be a jolly good Christmas for you and your friends?" asked the doctor.

"Yes, Doctor," replied Perkins. "I have been told that Christmas is a time to be happy and I want to be happy."

"But how can you be happy without seeing the tree?"

"I have been told that Christmas is a time to be happy and I want to be happy."

"But how can you be happy without seeing the tree?"

"I am not interested in the tree. I am interested in the people and the things that make people happy."
