With ample capital we are prepared to extend every facility to our customers, consistent with conservative banking.

Previous to the year 1870 Hopkinsville was unknown as a tobacco town, a few loose dealers furnishing the only means of a convenient market. One year the idea was conceived of establishing a market for the sale of tobacco in the hog's head. One or two farmers and their friends determined to try the experiment of establishing an auction market in Hopkinsville. The first warehouse was built and the venture started of opening up a commission warehouse, only selling 2,476 lbs., the patronage being confined to those farmers close to Hopkinsville. The infant industry had to contend with the frowns of the old well-established markets elsewhere, that looked with little favor upon the enterprise, seeing what a strong competitor they might have in a few years. Their fears of a successful rival was well founded, from this small beginning Hopkinsville has grown into the best market for the sale of dark tobacco in the world; and justly so, for during its existence it has established and maintained a reputation for honesty and intelligence in handling the weed that her former rivals have been forced to acknowledge as unsurpassed. They have now eight houses, conducted by six reliable, responsible commission firms, a large board of buyers, who buy for local account, as well as representing all of the exporters to all continental European countries, and all the manufacturers of dark plug work and snuff in the United States and Canada. There are also three large stemmeries preparing tobacco for the English and Australian trade, also a factory putting up tobacco especially for the African and American trade. These, together with a manufacturing establishment that makes annually a large quantity of chewing and smoking tobacco, with such an array of buyers and the central point for all handlers of dark tobacco, with the ability and character of her warehousemen, is it any wonder that she claims to be the BEST MARKET FOR DARK TOBACCO IN THE WORLD? We hope our readers will give them a trial, feeling assured that a trial shipment will convince them that their claim is well founded, and that they will continue to patronize the Hopkinsville market.

for the manufacturers to be located where they obtain the raw materials such as the iron and cotton plants are moving to the South, so we decided to move to the center of the dark tobacco district. Thus in order to be more in touch with the sources from which we derive our product, we moved to Hopkinsville, as the center of the dark belt, where the dark tobacco is grown, and, of course, the bulk of the tobacco according to the natural consequences of gravitation will, we believe, center in Hopkinsville. The next question to determine was, which would be the most available point. With this in view we made a tour of inspection, which resulted in our moving our factory to Hopkinsville. The principal reason being the fact, Hopkinsville is so situated geographically as to be nearly exactly in the center of the dark belt, which makes it the best and most convenient market for the farmers to ship to. It is our candid conviction that the Hopkinsville market will be to the dark tobacco district what Louisville is to the Burley section. In this connection we are gratified that our expectations are being fully realized, as her trade has more than doubled what it was five years ago, with flattering prospects of selling more the present year than any of her competitors. Having purchased tobacco from all the markets we candidly state that the Hopkinsville inspection gave more uniform satisfaction than any of the Western markets. The warehousemen had to pull down their old barns and build new ones to have room for the increasing shipments, and the good work is still going on in the way of new warehouses, new factories and new patrons in every shape in the tobacco line, and will say the Hopkinsville tobacco trade stands ready with open arms to receive all who may want to cast their lot with us in the business, believing there is no other in the world where there is any more equitable and fair dealing with his fellow man than here. The warehousemen, personally, are clever gentlemen to deal with and, their honesty and integrity remain unquestioned. The inspection is above reproach both at home and abroad.

TOBACCO SALES

The firm of Alfred Lewis & Co., located in this city, is one of the largest rehandling firms of export tobacco in the United States. This firm was formerly located in Louisville. When asked if they were willing to state for publication why A. Lewis & Co. located in Hopkinsville, they gave us the following article as a few reasons: "In answering your question it will be necessary to state that we prepare for the export trade tobaccos that have good length and width, of smooth texture; heavy body; such as are grown in the dark tobacco district. As the Louisville tobacco market was being gradually submerged into a Barley market almost to the exclusion of better qualities of dark tobacco we had to seek our stock elsewhere, buying from Hopkinsville, Paducah and Clarksville; until we decided it was better

PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS MEN.

While in the city of Hopkinsville a few days ago the editor The Times took advantage of the opportunity to visit the mammoth new warehouse, recently built by Ragsdale & Cooper, at a cost of about $20,000.

This modern structure is one of the many new buildings which have recently arranged buildings in the dark tobacco district, and is owned and controlled by two gentlemen whose reputation has already extended over the whole of the country, and is one of the most enterprising and public spirited men in Southern Kentucky. They have unlimited confidence in their little city's future, notwithstanding the fact that it is a small town, but as the coming tobacco market of this section, which confidence is proved by their works in the outlay of the large amount of money which they represent, and these gentlemen the various business interest of Hopkinsville are greatly indebted for the standing as a tobacco market that town has to-day attained, and they are now looking on the alert for new trade and new business. They do not believe in being idle, waiting for something to turn up, but are ever pressing forward, and are ever ready to meet the progressive march, and the business men who go ahead of them in the stretch have not only got to get on up and dust, but have got to break up the old records. PHOENIX HOTEL.

This hotel, situated on corner of Main and Ninth streets, Hopkinsville, Ky., is the most conveniently located house in the city. Situated between L. & N. and O. V. depots, accessible to all the warehouses, it has become a favorite stopping place for a large number of the dealers and farmers who patronize the Hopkinsville tobacco market. The Phoenix is under the management of Col. Jas. O. Cooper, an experienced hotel man, having been connected with the business for the past twenty-five years. During the past year this house has been greatly improved with all of the modern conveniences, consisting of water works, electric lights, bath rooms, water closets, new furniture, clean bedding, etc. The table, a most important factor, is one of the best to be found anywhere, loaded with all of the delicacies and substantial that the market affords. To stop at the Phoenix when in the city will be a guarantee that your future patronage will be given to this hotel.

WEST & LEE, CARRIAGE FACTORY.

This is one of the most enterprising and progressive firms in Hopkinsville, and is building up a very extensive business throughout Southern Kentucky. Their factory is a large three story brick building, situated on Virginia street, between Eighth and Ninth. Here they employ a large number of skilled workmen and have every facility for executing fine work to order. Both gentlemen are skilled mechanics, thoroughly posted in the details of their work and know just how everything should be done. They allow nothing to go from their shop that is not well done and their work is guaranteed to give satisfaction. Special attention given to repairing buggies, carriages, etc. Be sure to call or write to the above firm when you need anything in their line, such as buggies, barouches, phaetons, drummers' wagons, carriages and vehicles of all kinds.

BANK OF HOPKINSVILLE.

In this bank Hopkinsville has one of the most solid and progressive financial institutions to be found anywhere. With a capital and surplus of $275,000 together with the large line of deposits, the business transacted by the above bank is quite an item to Hopkinsville and surrounding country. This institution is decidedly larger than will generally be found in a city of this size. That the people have the greatest confidence in the management of this bank is not surprising when one takes into consideration the character of men who fill the offices. At its head to guard its every interest is that well known, able and conservative business man, E. P. Campbell, who has been eminently successful in the management of his own private affairs, thereby giving assurance to the public of his ability to look after the interests of the patrons of this bank. The cashier, J. E. McPherson, who is universally popular and accommodating, has been continuously in the banking business from his boyhood. This bank solicits a share of your business, and will extend every courtesy consistent with conservative banking.

DUNNAVANT & CO.

The above firm have decided to remain in Hopkinsville. They are contractors and builders of twenty years experience, having done work at Memphis, Nashville, Vicksburg, Natchez and other Southern points. They need no introduction to the people of Hopkinsville, having built the "Latham Hotel," said to be the finest and best constructed building in the South. They have just completed the handsome three story block for Ragsdale, Cooper & Co., which occupies the entire square on West Main street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets. Parties contemplating building or improving their houses will find it to their interest to correspond with the above firm at Hopkinsville, Ky.

GRAVES & CONDY.

These gentlemen carry a large line of jewelry, consisting of diamonds, watches, rings, clocks, etc. They are now quartered in the handsome building at East corner of Main and Seventh streets. They are both practical jewelers, having spent sufficient time at the bench to understand thoroughly the work they undertake to do. These gentlemen stand prepared to guarantee their work, and would not misrepresent any goods they have for sale. In their store can be found everything usually carried in a jewelry store, and their prices are such that it will be to your interest to call before making purchases elsewhere. When in Hopkinsville give them a call, it will pay you.

THE RACKET.

This store, under the supervision of J. H. Kugler, is certainly one of the greatest beneficiaries and conveniences that the city of Hopkinsville has ever had the good fortune to possess. To attempt to enumerate the various articles handled at the Racket would consume a space larger than this supplement. Their business is indiscribable, and to be appreciated would require an ocular investigation. Their stock is immense, their patronage is the largest of any store in the city, yet scarcely a day passes during the entire year that they are not receiving new goods. The question is often asked how can the Racket sell so cheap, and the doubting ones have predicted long ago that this house could not afford to sacrifice their goods at such low prices without being bankrupted. This house has become one of the permanent fixtures of Hopkinsville and is now entering on its fourth year of a successful business career. Everybody that visits Hopkinsville goes to see the Racket store, and when once there, will be found purchasing some article.

If you want a nice, nobby, well fitting suit of tailor-made clothes don't fail to call on Clark, the tailor, No. 4, East Main street, Hopkinsville, Ky.

FRED EMERSON BROOKS.

Mr. Brooks, the California poet-humorist recites only his own poems, recites entirely from memory. He is indorsed by the press, pulpit, the Lyceum and the people. The New York World says: Fred Emerson Brooks delighted a large assemblage that alternately laughed and sighed at the wit, humor and pathos, sentiment and philosophy of the California poet. Mr. Brooks will lecture at the Tabernacle in Hopkinsville on Monday night, April 13th.

ATTENTION FARMERS!

Beginning Tuesday, April 7th, the sales on the Hopkinsville Tobacco Market will hereafter be held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week.

Hopkinsville Tobacco Manufacturing Co., chewing and smoking tobaccos.

Buckner & Owsley, fire and life insurance, and real estate agents, are both good business men, and will give their personal attention to all business consigned to them. The contract issued by their company, "The Massachusetts Mutual Life," is the best contract and terms more favorable than that of any other company. Office over First National Bank, Hopkinsville, Ky.

W. T. Cooper & Co. of the diamond grocery, have "got 'em all in a long trot," and grocerymen as well as those outside are all guessing how they can sell their goods so cheap, saying it can't last; but they are still turning them loose and doing business at the same old stand, opposite the Court House, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mr. Alex Cox, of the firm of Cox & Boulware has just returned from the East and is now receiving the largest and best assorted stock of clothing, hats, caps and gents furnishings ever brought to Hopkinsville, and his prices are astonishingly cheap.

F. A. Yost & Co carry the most complete line of harness and saddlery ever seen in Hopkinsville. Farmers who desire to get the cheapest and at the same time the best should not fail to call on them at No. 18, Ninth street.

Wm. Ducker and Dick Everitt can now be found at Jno. Kitchen's furniture and undertaking store. Both of these gentlemen are experienced embalmers and funeral directors. Ragsdale, Cooper building, Hopkinsville, Ky.

A BIG ONE.

Hopkinsville has reason to be proud of several of its big establishments but as to the immense wagon factory, planing mills and general supply house of Forbes & Bro, she acknowledges no superiors and few equals. These stirring people are just now building a brick addition to their immense planing mills. Their capacity in the line of house building is something like one quarter of a million dollars annually. They can also turn out six complete wagons per day. In these two lines their trade extends over a number of counties in Kentucky and Tennessee. They are also extensive jobbers in the two famous makes of bicycles, The Victor and the Stearns, their purchases in this line so far this season runs considerably over $10,000. They carry a full line of both makes and any purchaser in the counties of this territory can get a wheel the day after he orders it, and they also carry a full line of repairs for them. Their store looks like a Chicago cycle show on a small scale.

As a side line of their hardware department they have special causes for gratification at their success with the Majestic Range. They claim that the sale of one of these family peacemakers makes a friend to the house of every member of the purchasers household. Scarcely a day passes without one of these household joys being sent out to gladden the heart of the weary housekeeper. A prominent editor of an adjoining county owns one and says it is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Economy in fuel and durability of all parts are its strong points. A visit to this establishment will interest any one, whether he wishes to buy or not.

ITS PURPOSE.

Aims of the Library Association.

WILL HELP EVERYBODY

The Plans of the Organization Succinctly States.

The Library Association, recently formed in this city, has for its purpose the establishment of a library on a broad basis; and it aims, not only to supply the people with good reading and good lectures, but to afford a place where those interested in any line of study, may come together as a club and pursue their work under favorable circumstances.

The library proper is intended to contain books of reference bearing on all subjects, and standard works of history, science, literature, criticism &c. Here the individual student or the club will find ample means provided for carrying on work that each alone could not provide. In this way the association hopes to encourage study and systematic reading on the part of those who have not carried their education beyond an ordinary school course, or who wish to pursue special lines of study or reading.

The library will have a large circulating department of carefully chosen books, but its work will not by any means be confined to providing books to be loaned to its members.

Lecture courses will be provided, bringing to our city the ablest orators of the United States; and as fast as the resources of the association permit, auxiliary lines of work will be organized.

Suitable places will be provided for historical and scientific collections, so that all that is interesting in local history may be preserved and the resources of this part of Kentucky may be shown. Hopkinsville is especially well situated for such a collection and library, and their growth here will do much to attach to us the best class of citizens of the surrounding towns and country.

There is no reason why this city should not be the intellectual center of a large district, drawing to itself, by the opportunities it offers a large and very desirable class of citizens. Our schools and colleges are bringing to us annually many families of culture and means, and we can also offer equal inducements to professional men and adult students along all lines. This the Library Association plans to do.

Three classes of membership are offered,—annual, family and life. The annual meeting of the association will be held in the court house on Tuesday, April 15th, at which time the officers and Board of Directors for the ensuing year will be elected. A committee has been appointed to have the association duly incorporated and the articles of incorporation provide that the organization shall be permanent and that its property shall never be diverted to any other organization or institution.

SUNRISE MEETING.

Christian Endeavorers Will Hold Early Easter Service.

Attention is again called to the Easter sunrise prayer meeting to be held next Sunday morning, April 6th, in the Cumberland Presbyterian church, at six o'clock. The reason the time is earlier than usual is that the meeting will not conflict with other early meetings which are to be held. But anyone who has ever attended one of these prayer meetings will not allow the early hour to prevent them from attending this one. These meetings are the most interesting the Endeavor societies hold. The church will be decorated for the occasion, and a simple, ideal Endeavor prayer meeting will be held. The subject given on the topic cards will be used, and every one is expected to take part. The subject is:

"The gift of life and how to use it."

—Matt. 10:34-39.

"The return of Easter, starts many thoughts of life. It tells of the coming of our Redeemer from the grave. He had met death and conquered it."

"The very season is in harmony with the glorious Easter thought. It is the spring time. Life is bursting everywhere, groves are opening, fields are springing out of desolation, fields, forests and gardens are full of emblems of resurrection. The warm brooding heavens over us are full of life. Surely the God who so cares for plants and flowers cares yet more tenderly for His children. 'God is not so poor a housekeeper as to let the best parish and the poorest live.'

CONCORD CULLINGS.

A Bright Letter From a Regular Correspondent.

Spring, in all its beauty, is upon us, and farmers are beginning their work in earnest.

Miss Kate Clark, of Pon, has returned home after a week's visit to relatives and friends in this neighborhood, much to the regret of a certain young man North of town.

Miss Maggie Johnson, of your city, was the guest of her cousin, Allie Davis, last Friday.

Mr. Ed Vaughan, of Casky, was calling near here Sunday.

Mr. Arkly Yancey, of Pon, was in the neighborhood Sunday, attracted by the good roads and spring flowers, and balmy breezes.

The party at Mr. John Davis' last Friday evening, given in honor of Miss Kate Clark, was a grand success. A large crowd was in attendance and the names are too numerous to mention. The crowd dispersed at 11 o'clock, after thanking their host and hostess for a very pleasant evening.

Miss Addie Minor spent last week with Misses Willie and Mattie Reeder.

Messrs. W. H. Reeder, W. C. Davis and James Reeder, Jr., attended the circle meeting at Crofton Saturday.

Mr. David Littlefield and sister, Mrs. Tom Toller, of St. Louis, were called to this place last week by the dangerous illness of their mother, Mrs. James Littlefield. We are glad to learn she is much better.

Miss Minnie Davis is going to enter the public schools of Hopkinsville for the purpose of pursuing a course of studies.

Miss Nannie Reeder, city, was entertained two days last week by Miss Ethel Davis.

LANDES.

Has He Right To Occupy His Seat On

THE APPELLATE, BE NCH

If the Constitution Were Literally Construed?

Frankfort, Ky., April 2.—There is considerable speculation being indulged in by the lawyers here as to Judge Landes' right to sit as a Justice of the Court of Appeals. It has been said by many that if the law and the Constitution are strictly construed he will have to get off the bench. Some pretty good lawyers have given opinions to this effect, and the talk has been sufficient to cause some of the Judge's friends to look up the matter for their own satisfaction. The rumor evidently had its origin in that section of the Constitution which forbids any member of the Legislature to be appointed to certain offices until a year after his term as Representative or Senator expires.

The section bearing on the case is Section 44 of the New Constitution, which reads as follows:

"No Senator or Representative shall during the term for which he was elected, nor for one year thereafter, be appointed or elected to any civil office of profit in this Commonwealth, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during the said term, except to such offices as may be filled by the election of the people."

The "term for which" Judge Landes "was elected" has not yet expired; to say nothing of the year after expiration having elapsed. A Legislature (the last one) during the term for which he was elected did "increase the emoluments" of the office to which he has been appointed by increasing Appellate Judges' salaries from $4,000 to $5,000 per annum.

Some lawyers say, that "had the increase of the salary taken place at the second session of the first, during which Judge Landes was a Senator, he would be clearly ineligible; but, that action having been taken two years ago, makes it doubtful.

Judge Landes' friends say the exception at the end of the section lets him in all right.

TREASURY STATEMENT.

What Uncle Sam Collected During Last Month.

[SPECIAL TO NEW ERA]

Washington, April 1.—The forthcoming monthly treasury statement will show receipts during the month of March of $26,041,149, as follows:

Customs, $13,344,215; internal revenue, $11,536,264; miscellaneous, $1,160,669.

For the nine months of the fiscal year the receipts are substantially as follows:

Customs, $126,966,299; internal revenue, $110,404,143; miscellaneous, $13,239,396; making a total of $250,600,840.

The deficit for the present month will be about $1,300,000, and for the nine months $18,319,508.

FITZ'S REPLY.

[Special to the New Era.]

Louisville, March 31.—In reply to Bob Gray's telegram proffering backing for another fight with Maher, Fitzsimmons sent the following reply:

"Defeated Maher twice. Let him fight Corbett. I am going to take a rest. He is easy game when I get ready. Regards, BOB FITZSIMMONS."

April Fool.

A New Era man was to-day asked the origin of April Fool's Day. The American Encyclopedia gives the following about the matter: "The first of April is called in the English language April fool's day, but the custom of sending people on empty errands and laughing at them, is common in every country in Europe, and wherever the European races have settled on this continent. Two accounts are given of its origin. The oriental scholars say that it is derived from the HULLI feast among the Hindus, where a similar custom prevails. The older opinion is that it comes from a celebration of Christ's being sent about to and fro between Herod, Pilate and Caiaphas. In France the fooled man is called poisson d'avril, meaning a silly fish, like a mackerel, easily caught. In Switzerland he is called cove, which means a cuckoo."

Joined in Matrimony.

Mr. G. H. Watson, a Clarksville tobacco dealer who is well-known in this city, and Miss Clara Fowler, a charming young Paducah woman, were married last night at the home of the bride. Mr. Malcolm Smith, of Clarksville, was best man. The couple passed through the city to-day on their wedding trip and will go to Clarksville to live in about two weeks.

From Cairo Straight Through to Cumberland Gap.

IT WOULD BE ALMOST AN AIR LINE.

Here is something that is of interest to every man, woman and child in this end of Kentucky.

There is a move now being made to build the long talked of railroad from Cumberland Gap, where Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia corner, to Cairo, Illinois. This would be an ideal road, and for the past forty years, at different times, efforts have been made to raise the money with which to build and equip this line, but all efforts have heretofore proved futile. It will be remembered that about six years ago the people of Christian county voted $300,000 to aid in the construction of this same road, but that the election was declared by the Court of Appeals to be illegal because of the fact that on the same day a subsidy of $300,000 was also voted to the Ohio Valley Railway Company. After this decision the people having the matter in charge suddenly ceased to press the project before the public.

Although little has been heard of this proposed road for some time Col. Neal and a number of gentlemen at Mayfield and other places have been quietly at work trying to induce capitalists to furnish the money to build and equip the road. At last they have succeeded in interesting a number of German capitalists, who have sent over Baron De Courtier to represent them in the matter and given him authority to close the deal and take all the bonds necessary to build the road and put it in good condition provided he, after a careful survey of the line and inspection of the country, thought it would be a paying investment. The Baron arrived in New York a short while ago, where he was met by Col. Neal and others, but as no survey had been made nothing could be done.

A party of gentlemen, who are going over the proposed line, arrived in this city yesterday and are still here. They are endeavoring to secure from the citizens along the line enough money to pay for a survey and for a part of the right of way that people have declined to give. They want the people of this city and county to contribute ten thousand dollars for this purpose, feeling almost certain that the road will be built. Two meetings were held yesterday by a number of business men of the city to talk the matter over. At the meeting last night a committee consisting of Messrs. W. E. Ragsdale, Nat. Galtner, M. C. Forbes, W. J. Withers, W. A. Wilgus, E. B. Bassett, Geo. C. Long, E. B. Long, L. H. McKee, and Moses Ellb was appointed to see the citizens of the town and county and to solicit contributions to the ten thousand dollars they are asked to give towards surveying and buying right of way. The projectors of the road say that the people will never again be asked to put up any more money. Baron De Courtier is said to be well pleased with the proposed line and at present he is said to be heartily in favor of building it, but he can not do anything until he can get a survey and have an engineer to estimate the cost. The Baron has been at Cadiz with his party for several days, but will be in this city this evening and will meet and discuss the matter with the citizens. He will be accompanied by Messrs. R. B. Wicks, W. L. Moorman, Warren Moorman, prominent railroad contractors, and also by Mr. C. T. Ford, of Central Valley, Ky., and Mr. E. A. Green, a New York capitalist. This party will go over the entire line to Cumberland Gap.

A number of years ago a partial survey of this line was made, but the work will have to be done over. This road will traverse a very fine section, running clear across Kentucky from East to West on almost an air line. It will pass through a number of good towns, such as Pineville, Williamsburg, Barksville, Thompsonsboro, Franklin, Russellville, Elkton, Hopkinsville, Cadiz, Benton and Mayfield. This line will be a direct one to the Atlantic coast at Norfolk, and will shorten the distance between the seaboard and St. Louis about two hundred miles. It will not parallel any other road in Kentucky—traversing a section of the State hitherto unexplored by railroads, and it can not fail to be a paying investment. It will open up a territory that is naturally rich, but which has been neglected because there are no railroad facilities for getting the products of the country to the markets.

Judge L. E. Anderson, who is one of Mayfield's most prominent citizens, is enthusiastic regarding the proposed road. He spent several hours this morning in the County Clerk's office ascertaining details relating to the wealth and population of Christian County.

"The line is sure to be built," he said to a reporter. My faith in it is complete. I shall go in advance of the Baron and Mr. Green and secure in every county through which the road will go complete statistics which will be stamped with the official seals of the counties and deliver to the Baron, who will forward these and all other information to the European capitalists, who will furnish the money.

SOME CITY SKETCHES.

Local sportsmen should bear in mind that the recently passed bill permitting sending applies only to streams separating Kentucky from other States. Any one who sets a fish trap or uses a seine net in any of the interior streams, is subject to a fine of $50.
Kirkmansville is to be connected by telephone with Elkhart. The line will pass through a number of North Todd towns. Mr. L. M. Armstrong, of Kirkmansville, has already subscribed $500 and other subscriptions are being made.
Cards have been received in the city announcing the approaching marriage of Mr. Louis Spencer Daniel, of Clarksville, to Miss Mary Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Watkins, of Lebanon, Tenn. The wedding will take place on Tuesday, April 7, at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride. The bride and groom will be home after April 15, Greenwood avenue, Clarksville, Tenn.
Charles G. Morehead and Miss Lillie Parker were secretly married in a house on last Sunday night, and it has just become public. There were no objections, but the parties did it simply for the romance of the thing.
Several burglars in Trenton were caught by burglars last week and a number of valuable articles stolen. No clues have been discovered by the police.
The three men who were taken from the Hopkinsville Jail several weeks ago to Princeton, to be tried for complicity in the Hinton outrage, would doubtless like to come back here. It is said that in Caldwell county feeling is running high against the alleged members of the mob, and unless the juries give heavier sentences than they did in the Witherspoon case, the ex-Hopkinsville felons may be treated to a new trial.
The Princeton Banner says: "One man has suffered a trifling penalty for the murder of Hewitt Henton, but the people are not satisfied. There is plenty of evidence to convict the remainder (of the gang, and the public is not going to be satisfied with another Witherspoon verdict, whether that was right or wrong."

WEDDING AT ELKHART.

Nuptials Uniting Two Popular Young People.

A wedding took place at Elkhart, today in which many Hopkinsville people were interested. The contracting persons were Miss Nora Penick, a former student of South Kentucky College, and Mr. Bailey Wilkinson, of Charleston, Mo.
The church was filled to overflowing by friends and relatives of the contracting parties long before the hour for the marriage.
The bride is a daughter of Assessor J. T. Penick, and is an attractive and pretty young lady.
Mr. Wilkinson is Deputy Circuit Clerk of Mississippi county, Mo., and is a brother of the Hon. Ford L. Wilkinson, of Elkhart.
The grooms were Messrs. Horace Rutherford, Dr. A. D. McReynolds, J. M. Russell, of Elkhart, and Mr. Russell Higgins, of Trenton.
Modesty of the New Woman.
Mrs. Frank H. Winston, in the April portion of the New Woman tells us that the present century is her own, and indeed she approaches the truth in this instance. She has promised us a "Woman's Bible," and she has shown that even the ladies of this century do not escape her jealousy, for she has discovered that we should pray to a "Heavenly Mother" as well as a Heavenly Father. She informs us that the Virgin Mary was not a nun, and that "She stepped on Plymouth Rock, on the black shores of New England, thirty-two women accompanied by sixty men and children." At expressions like these, have a "woman's" feeling wherein she may glorify the work of her brain and hand. No work done by man can be placed beside hers for examination or competition. Surely she furnishes a worthy example of modesty and self-abnegation for the benefit of the true man!

NEW INDUSTRIES.

The Farmers Deposit Bank, newly organized at Burgin, will erect a handsome building.
C. F. Cooper, of Wisconsin, will put in bent wood works and a single factory at Wickliffe.
The L. & N. is to make extensive improvements on its depot and other property at Elizabethtown.
There is a project in circulation at Elizabethtown praying the City Council to order a vote on the question whether or not they shall have water-works.
The Baptist congregation at Owensboro have sold the old frame building and entire contents—organ, bell, etc.—to the Methodist for $800, and will begin the erection of a $10,000 brick edifice.
Joe Long, of Sanders, claims to have discovered an oil well on his farm on Twin Creek, near the lead mines in Owensboro. He expects to have it analyzed, and believes when developed it will yield him a handsome fortune.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions of respect in memory of Dr. V. M. Metcalfe.
WHEREAS, Dr. V. M. Metcalfe, a patron of industry, departed this life on the 12th of March, 1896, and being a member of Church Hill Grange, we deem it appropriate to offer the following tribute of respect:
Resolved, That in the death of brother Metcalfe the Grange has lost a valuable member—a scholar who contributed much to the advancement of agricultural interests. As a Christian minister it was his life work to be a laborer in his Master's vineyard, a living witness ever ready to testify in the cause of his Redeemer. The young people will long cherish and lovingly remember the author of "Griefs Many Stories." Therefore be it further resolved, That the society is bereft of one of its brightest ornaments—a scholar and a scientist he was in full accord with the progressive age in which he lived. Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the records of this Grange and a copy presented to the family of the deceased brother.
