World Peace is Object of Rotary Says Hager

Publisher Speaks Before
Murray Club at Noon
Today

Reporting to the Murray Rotary club at luncheon today, Hager said he gained in his recent experience at the International convention of Rotary clubs at San Francisco, Lawrence Hager, governor of the organization in the western half of Kentucky, pointed out the growth of Rotary International as a hopeful sign for those in search of international good will and peace. Particularly impressive, the speaker thought, was the extension of Rotary influence through new clubs in overseas countries as well as on the North and South American continents. From 16 clubs in 1910 to approximately 4,700 in 1938 is the growth Rotary is enjoying. Though a "hopeful sign", the increase in numbers of Rotary clubs and members was not interpreted as indicating that the time may be forecast when all of Rotary's objectives may be attained, numbers of members not being the end but a means to the ends which Rotary seeks, Hager declared.

Of the Rotary objects, the one with the most universal appeal, and in which public interest is most manifest is "the attainment of world peace by international understanding and good will achieved through a world fellowship of business and professional men, united in the ideal of service." Such an object, Hager said, seems to many people, in the light of recent world events, to be impossible of realization. Yet, at the International convention, delegates from countries outside the United States, in all of their speeches and conversations, expressed faith that through Rotary a "world league of men" may accomplish what a league of nations has failed to accomplish, namely, a basis on which international friendships may be built that will become formidable barriers to war. To those nationals who are closest to war's causes, where international distrust and racial differences have bred many conflicts, Rotary's way of bringing men together gives promise of a better day in world relations. "If they have such faith, who are we?" the speaker asked, "to lose hope." Delegates from 50 countries were among the 12,000 Rotarians in attendance at the 1938 convention.

A Rotary activity which touches the lives of citizens wherever Rotary clubs exist is community service. The average American, it was pointed out, knows Rotary clubs largely as agencies that support some community enterprise such as the care of crippled children and providing school lunches for needy children, creating student loan funds and the like. Yet, according to the speaker, the program of Rotary makes the club members more vital in community and civic affairs through various avenues of service than through their own organization. Charging club members with their responsibilities in all avenues of community service, obtaining their cooperation with bodies engaged in useful civic enterprise and fixing in each Rotarian a consciousness of his duty to be alert to opportunities, to help foster and promote improvement in the social and political order under which he lives, is the principal business of a Rotary club as an organization.

While the growth of Rotary in the United States has been phenomenal in the 30 years of its existence, Hager said that in overseas nations its reception and expansion have been even more surprising, adding that overseas Rotarians anticipate a continued rapid expansion in all democratic nations, and ultimate penetration of all. Since Rotary clubs were federated in 1910 new ones have been added at the rate of one every 2.46 days.

The annual roll call drive will get under way November 11. Tobacco growers from Hazel county, Wednesday completed the final mass pilgrimage of 1938 seeking poundage marketing quotas for their 1938 crop. During the 10-day period in which the county committee and the county agent have been receiving farmers' weights over a 2-year period, such to be used as basis for the 1938 quota—more than 2,000 farmers have visited in the county offices.

Definite sales quotas will be available only when State committee has finally upon recommendations sent in by the county committee, but none will be released until all counties have their quotas in.

After Wednesday, Cochran said members of the supervisory staff of his office will visit farmers who have not made applications for quotas and get their base. Only farmers who sell tobacco within their quota will be free of sales tax.

Tigers to Tackle Fulton Tomorrow

Coach Holland's Squad to Seek Second Victory; Game to Start at 7:30

Eager for another win to bolster his faltering victory column against the column of losses, Coach Preston Holland of Murray High school put his team through a stiff workout today in preparation for its game with Fulton, Friday night at Fulton.

The Tigers' usually weak offense was brilliant last Friday night against Marion, with fleet Pat Gingles running the ball for two touchdowns. But even at that, the Tigers couldn't keep Marion from scoring two, and the Blue Terrors won 19-13.

Fulton ranks somewhat higher than Murray does in the number of games won and lost, but Coach Holland believes his boys may take the Fultonians' measure. He is counting on Gingles to do most of the ball carrying, with Captain Clyde Crider to direct the line.

The game will get under way at 7:30. Murray will be seeking its second win of the season. Thus far it has lost five games, winning only one.

Elizabeth Thomas Expires in Sleep Friday Afternoon

Case of 16-Year-Old School-girl Baffles Physicians;
Death is Unexpected

Members of her family Sunday attributed the sudden death Friday of pretty 16-year-old Elizabeth Thomas, daughter of Mrs. M. G. Thomas, of College Addition, to a blow she suffered on the head last summer.

Miss Thomas, who had complained of pains in her head for more than a week but who had no fever, went off to a sleep Friday afternoon from which she did not awaken.

Murray physicians who attended the case said it was the most baffling ever to come up in all their years of professional practice. They could give no cause for the death, and said only an autopsy might reveal the exact nature of the girl's ailment.

Although Miss Thomas, a senior in the Murray College training school, had been in bed much of the time for a week, her condition could never, according to physicians, have been considered critical. She had an excellent heart and her blood pressure was normal, attending physicians said. An Auburn-haired young woman, a talented musician, she had many friends in the college, training school, and city. Charming of disposition, she had the gift of laughter. When told of her death, her friends could not believe it, so unexpectedly it came.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Murray Church of Christ, with C. L. Francis, minister, in charge. Burial was in the city cemetery. Pallbearers were Truman Baum, Jr., Wells Thomas Lovett, Wade Graham, Tassanilla Hopson, Billy Allison, and Oliver Cliff Hood.

Surviving Miss Thomas besides her mother are two brothers, M. C. Thomas, who is attending the University of Kentucky at Lexington, and A. E. Thomas, Nashville, a sister, Mrs. A. A. Ford, Boaz.

Racers to Play Union Friday At Homecoming

Next Home Game is With Southwestern on November 4

Union University of Jackson, Tenn., is preparing for its biggest day of the year—a homecoming celebration the feature event of which will be the football game between Murray's powerful SIAA champions and the Union Bulldogs Friday night.

Coach Roy Stewart, Murray alumnus, is an alumnus of Union University and last year was named captain of his alma mater's all-time football team.

The Union coach and team realize it will be a veritable impossibility for their relatively light team to stop the forward march of the Thoroughbreds with McRaven and his speedy helpers paving the way, but they'd give their eye teeth to do it, nevertheless, and will try to keep the score down as much as possible.

Both Charles T. Yarbrough and Lyle Putnam, who had to be carried off the field Saturday night when Hardin-Simmons' pile driving backs smashed out a 20-14 victory over the Racers, will be able to play in the Union game.

Last year at Dyersburg, Tenn., Murray walloped Union University by a score of 29-0.

Although considering the game more or less of a breather before the final heavy struggles of the season—those coming up with Southwestern, Howard, and Western on November 4, 11, and 19—Coach Roy Stewart said he didn't intend for his boys to be caught napping.

Many from Murray plan to drive over to Union for the game. Murray's band, however, which gained such applause in Paducah for its maneuvers during the half of the Hardin-Simmons fracas, will not make the trip.

Current to Be in Homes by March State Engineers

Sixty-Five Miles of Line
Will Serve 168
Customers

Electricity will be in 168 rural homes in Calloway county by the middle of March, it was announced this morning by County Agent J. T. Cochran after he had heard yesterday a favorable report from West Kentucky Rural Electrification Corporation Engineers who mapped out tentative lines this week.

Sixty-five miles of line have already been surveyed in Calloway and erection of poles and lines will begin soon. A requisite for the institution of REA lines in Calloway was the obtaining of three customers per mile. In some instances, Cochran said, further solicitation will be necessary in some areas, but it will in no way interfere with the continuance of the project.

Richmond Lauds Education in CCC Dedication Talk

Waylon Rayburn Speaks;
Woman's Club Sponsors
Shower for Camp

"The New Deal with education left out would not have been a square deal," was the opinion expressed by President James H. Richmond in a dedicatory address at the new education building at the Murray CCC camp here Tuesday night. "Education had to be in the picture of an organization such as the Civilian Conservation Corps," he said, concluding with the view that "training of heart and mind creates a type of wealth that is enduring. As long as we have boys of the timber of such as these, I know the destiny of America is safe."

The program was in conjunction with a shower sponsored by the Murray Woman's Club for the CCC camp. Lieut. W. Hays, camp commander, who introduced President Richmond, thanked the Woman's Club for their contributions.

Waylon Rayburn, supervisor of the First District Educational Program, listed Murray College, the city and county school systems, the WPA, and local hospitals as co-operating agencies with the new educational system.

School Boards of County and City to Name New Members

Three board members are to be elected in the city school system, and only three candidates have filed. They are J. W. Outland, Luther Robertson, and A. D. Buterworth, who are all sure of election.

Only two county board members are to be named, however, and six candidates have filed. They are W. B. Sutter, Jim Hart, Scudder Galloway, Lee Donelson, Harry Wilcox, and Marvin Hale. Two of these, Galloway and Hart, are seeking reelection.

Camp Forester Gives Timely Tips on Woodland Management

The correct use of axe and saw is the key to the problem of growing timber profitably as a farm crop, according to Henning Carlson, of the Soil Conservation Service area near Murray.

By removing diseased, misshapen, slow-growing, and other undesirable trees for fuel wood this fall, farmers can improve their woodland, increase the rate of growth of remaining trees, and still maintain a complete forest cover for water storage and erosion control, Mr. Carlson pointed out.

On the other hand, clear cutting of a portion of the woodland to obtain fuel wood not only exposes the land to erosion, but also destroys valuable trees that should be saved for a future timber crop. Under the crop tree method of woodland management which is being demonstrated on cooperating farms in the local area, the straightest and most vigorous trees, properly spaced, are marked to designate that they are to be left as crop trees. Other trees can then be cut as they crowd the crop trees and as needed for fuel, farm lumber, or other wood products.

By periodic thinning the rate of growth of the remaining trees and the quality of timber can be improved, giving the farmer a greater return from his wood products and a greater incentive to protect his forest cover from damage by fire and grazing.

Lee Donelson To Be Candidate for Board of Schools

Lee Donelson, highly prominent farmer of near Dexter and a resident of Murray, route 2, officially announced today his candidacy for membership on the Calloway county school board.

Mr. Donelson, who is 54 years old, has proved his keen judgment in educational matters in the very fact that citizens of his community have reelected him, subdistrict trustee of the Blakely school more times than once.

He is married, a member of the Methodist church, serving for long as a steward of the church of which he is a member. He has two children. He is a son of Uncle Bud, Donelson.

His formal statement to the voters of Calloway county follows: In petitioning your support of my candidacy for membership on the Calloway county board of education, I ask also that you consider my past efforts in behalf of education. I love the schools and what they mean to the children of our country.

I was not in favor of doing away with subdistrict trustees, and the very fact that you consider my past efforts in behalf of education, I love the schools and what they mean to the children of our country.

Faxon Facets

This is the most pleasant season of the entire year. The air is zesty and invigorating. The companionable evening-fireside gatherings are lovely and satisfying.

Hounds are baying out their passion for the hunt nightly and many wedges of geese and ducks are honking their northern way across the sky. Early this morning I saw three bands successively pass that evidently had not got into satisfactory formation in the few miles from their night's resting place on the Tennessee.

The stragglers were demanding a slow-down and the leaders were squawking back derision. "The hindmost straggler looked sick and tired, I thought, and likely wounded. A neighbor who got up earlier said that he saw nine wedges this morning.

I'm sure that if he's intimidated that one could be happy by keeping busy with a great variety of the things one loves to do, then I should be very happy. And I am, I think.

Four of the Faxon alumni are now attending college at Murray, among whom is Wayne Dyer, who matriculated late because he was employed by the County Agent to measure land. We venture to prophesy a very successful career for this young man in his agricultural work. He successfully managed his own crop and a farm last year after graduation at Faxon in 1937.

Another alumnus of Faxon in the class of '37 who is launching out in farm work is James Brandon. We wish for him great success with his investments in livestock. He brought home Saturday a beautiful filly, the animal which won first place in her class at the county fair.

New Concord High School

We would like to thank Althea Stubblefield and Roselle Hargis, who so kindly took over our job of writing the school news, last week, when, due to an unavoidable accident, we were unable to write the news.

The new school building is going up fast. We take back all we ever said or thought about the WPA workers. They are really going to town, (if you'll pardon the expression) on the new building. The old school ground is a scene of constant activity, and the work is conducted with the utmost efficiency.

The honor roll for the grades is as follows:

First grade: James Dunn, Betty Jo McCuston, Jaunita Ratterree, Ruby Nell Ealy, Nora Jane Elkins. Second grade: Ina Dean, Elkins, Dorothy Sue Stubblefield, Joe Pat Coleman, Dora Faye Ratterree. Third grade: Opal Smith. Fourth grade: Clarence Ealy. Fifth grade: Max Farley, Chester Thomas, Myrl Faye McCuston, Mary Ann Parker.

Sixth grade: Joe Dick, Dulcia Mae Brown, Audrey Lou Bucy, Anny Nell Ratterree.

The first grade is composing stories from pictures and making them into a book. The second grade is making language story books. Our apologies to Odette Thomson, who was omitted from the honor roll printed last week.

The basketball squad has been selected and are practicing hard. The boys chosen were: J. J. Parker, Tommy Hamlin, John Warren, Dunn, Robert Fielder, E. H. Lax, Edward Hendon, I. B. Albritten, Gus D. Yarbrough, Wayne Wilson, Hubert Pittman, James Patterson, Vernon Maynard, Max Oliver. The starting team has not been selected.

The first game will be played at Faxon on the 28th, and a game with Golden Pond will be played here at Concord on the out-door court on the 29th.

Kirksey High School News

Halloween is coming and the spooks will soon be roaming! We are planning a Halloween night at the school building. There will be all sorts of games, play, and side shows to see, with about a 25-minute general program—and if you are lucky you might get the 5-tube radio to be given away! There are no rules to follow in getting the radio. All you have to do is just to sit back and hope that you're the favored one. Oh, yes, if you have run out of beans and potatoes buy them from our Country Store, which Miss Jones and Mrs. Miller are planning for the carnival.

The Home Economics Club gave a party Thursday night and initiated 16 new members into the club, making 38 members in our club. After the impressive, formal initiation, the new members were put through a series of pranks resulting in much fun to the old members. We must add that the new members took their punishment in very good spirit. If you should happen to visit us this week, the new members beg you not to think too much about it if they seem somewhat amiss, as if, for instance, their hair needs combing or their dresses need much sewing and hemming. It is all forced on them as initiation pranks.

We wish to express our thanks for the splendid cooperation of students and their parents, which has enabled us to go rapidly forward with our grand plan of part of the schoolground, for parking space and for a driveway. These public-spirited citizens should be commended.

The Vaughn quartet filled its appointment and came down Friday night. We feel that we can't soon forget the concert they gave because of their grand singing and laugh-provoking comedy. We are delighted to learn that Lorey Palmer, one of our own Kirksey boys, has permanently joined the quartet.

Mr. Dennis is bringing his moving picture "Wheels Across Africa," and several short subjects including Shirley Temple, to Kirksey on Wednesday night, October 26. Mr. Lassiter engaged Mr. Dennis because he believes the picture will be educational. Mr. Dennis and his wife travelled through Africa, studying and taking pictures of life there.

We wish to add the name of Ruby Jo Parker, a seventh grader, to the list of names printed as honor students last week. Through some unfortunate cause, her name was omitted, and we are keenly sorry over the exclusion.

Jim Cullum is Arrested in City

Eucild Calhoun Also Is Nabbed; Liquor Traffic Is Charge

Jim Cullum, Murray resident, was taken into custody last night by Chief of Police W. B. Parker and his deputies after they discovered him leaving his home on West Poplar with a gallon jug of whisky under his arm.

Eucild Calhoun with five nearly empty gallon jugs of whisky in his car, was also arrested in the vicinity of Calhoun's residence. It was his second offense in two weeks.

Judge Ethan Irwin this morning set Cullum's fine at $100 and costs. Calhoun will come up for trial.

Judge Irwin said Joe Lassiter, Louisville, colored, Shelbyville, is in the city jail after officers discovered whisky in his car while he and a companion were present in a program at Douglas colored high school here this week. The companion escaped.

VANCEVALE SCHOOL

We are starting on the fourth week of the fourth month of school. Everyone is doing his best to make the highest scores. Those making the highest scores for the past week are: fifth grade, Duell Burken; sixth grade, Mildred Ramsey; eighth grade, Lucille Washburn.

Our program - Saturday night was a great success. We had an enormous crowd and every one seemed to enjoy it very much. The students and teachers wish to thank the parents for their splendid cooperation with us in making our program a successful one.

We ended our softball season Friday by defeating Dexter by a score of 6-5. We have played eight games this year losing only two. Our total scores for the season were 84 to our opponents 52. We are very proud of our softball team this year. Our pitcher, Cliff-ton Emerson, never failed to toss a good game. We believe he is the best grade hurler in the county. Two other outstanding players on the team were Joe Rob-Hous-ton, catcher, and Rupert Emerson, first base. We also had a good second baseman, Eugene Moore, and third sacker, Euel Cole. Our outfielders were small but fielded nicely.

We are starting basketball practice this week. We are going to have a game soon and hope our basketball season will be as successful as our softball season.

INDEPENDENCE SCHOOL

This week ends the fourth month of our school. We can hardly realize that school is half gone.

We took examinations this week. Most all the pupils made good grades.

We are glad of our twenty new library books.

We want to thank everyone for their splendid cooperation and good attention given at our picnic supper last Saturday night.

We are planning to give a Halloween program Friday night, October 28. Everybody is invited to come.

Our fourth grade class has just finished a reading contest. Mary Monica Burken won first place, having read twenty books during the last two weeks. She was given a beautiful story book by our teacher.

Pauline Hill, our only third grade pupil, was also given a nice story book for having perfect reading and spelling lessons each day of this month.

The following pupils have a perfect attendance record for the first four months of school:

Rudy Thomas Burken, Franklin B. Jones, Glendell Bell, Billy Gene Harris, Pauline Hill, Muriel Peeler, J. W. Peeler, Geraldine Smith, Mary Monica Burken, Nadine Duncan, Joe Rob-Haley, J. C. Schroeder, Mary Frances Jones, Charlene Haley, and Mollie Peeler.

Adopted this 21st day of October, 1938.

Taylor Urges Special Care In Stripping and Tying Tobacco

Growers of fire-cured tobacco in Kentucky and Tennessee are urged by H. W. Taylor, tobacco marketing specialist with the United States Department of Agriculture, to give special attention to the stripping and tying of their tobacco this year.

Taylor, who is stationed temporarily at Lexington, Ky., calls attention to the fact that injury from rust and field fire has been unusually severe in some sections during the past season. Unless strict care is taken, leaves showing such injury are likely to be tied in the same bundle with sound leaf. In that case, he points out, the growers would be the losers. They would lose the competition of buyers who are interested in sound leaf of either heavy or light grades but cannot use tobacco showing injury from rust or field fire. Growers also would lose the competition of buyers who might have a use for the injured tobacco but are not interested in the grades of sound leaf with which it might be mixed.

The United States Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Extension Service and Department of Vocational Education, is arranging farm demonstrations in those counties of Kentucky and Tennessee which produce fire-cured tobacco. Competent men will demonstrate the proper method of preparing dark-fired tobacco for market. Farmers desiring advice should apply to the County Agent of their County.

Taylor pointed out that increased returns to the growers should result from making separate lots of the injured leaf.

The much needed rain fell last week and another Sunday. And there was plenty of ice Monday morning.

Quite a number of people were at the homecoming at New Providence M. E. Church but of course the rain hindered lots of people from being present. The singing was fine, Dover and Parks quartets being present as well as other singers. Bro. K. G. Dunn preached in the afternoon.

We had a large crowd at the Lord's Day worship at Church of Christ. Bro. Modie Hart, of Memphis, and Mrs. Galen Miller and daughter, of Dover, were among the visitors.

Tobacco Season To Be Prosperous in Sales is Belief

Authorities Say Buyers Will be Ready to Offer Good Prices

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27.—Receipts as high as $75,000,000 for this year's crop of burley and dark fired tobacco were predicted today by Louisville tobacco men.

While declining use of their names, buyers, who have completed a pre-selling tour of Kentucky tobacco markets, say everything points to another big and prosperous tobacco season.

The crop is large, of fine quality and the manufacturers want it, they confide. Another reason for the predicted "higher" prices is the expert government grading which will be inaugurated in the state this year.

Tobacco growers realized nearly $6,000,000 for last year's crop and a rough estimate indicates burley growers should receive about $70,000,000 for this year's crop plus several million that will be taken in by growers in the dark leaf belt in Western Kentucky. The burley crop is estimated at 275,000,000 pounds.

"It's an excellent crop for the manufacturers of cigarettes and smoking tobacco," the long spell of wet weather produced a fine, thin leaf which fits right into the requirements of the big companies," said a Louisville tobacco authority on return from his annual tour of inspection in the burley belt. "There is no reason to fear that anything can happen between now and the opening of the selling season in December to alter the outlook, so it is safe to say that Kentucky has one of the finest crops in its history and that its tobacco growers will enjoy another year of prosperity."

"Lower grades will sell better than they did in 1937 when 297,123,075 pounds of burley crop was marketed in Kentucky for an average price of $20.40 per thousand pounds. Prices brought by these grades on the Virginia and Carolina markets this year show what to expect when selling opens in Kentucky. Types that were running $4 and $5 per hundred pounds last year should bring $6 and $7 and, perhaps up to $8 this year."

Manufacturers who entrust their buying only to talented and thoroughly trained buyers, never discuss their plans or ideas about a crop with "outsiders." But it is known by the "inner circles" that the manufacturers have made up their minds to go on the loose leaf market, offer what they conclude is a "fair" price for a good crop this year. They want the tobacco because it is no secret that the tobacco manufacturing industry believes it is on the threshold of another era of great business volume in cigarettes and smoking tobaccos.

Coach Miller's Yearlings, reputedly the best frosh team in Murray history, have started preparations for their third game of the season with Pensacola Naval Training School, in Pensacola, Fla., Saturday, October 29.

The Yearlings in their two starts, annihilated Union University's Bulls, 25-0, and won over Austin-Peay Junior College 13-7. Coach John Miller said that he thought the Florida team would provide the toughest game ever scheduled for a Murray freshman team.

Can Print Bible In Just One Day

U. S. Government Runs Biggest Printing Plant In the World.

WASHINGTON.—The world's largest printing plant is operated in Washington by the United States government on a 24-hour schedule to print the vast amount of material for publication required by the centralization of government in Washington.

More than 70 daily, weekly, and monthly publications with a total circulation running into the millions are regularly printed in this huge government plant and distributed over the nation.

It has been estimated that a book the size of the Bible could be printed in the government printing office in 24 hours.

This printing and publishing division is part of a total of 5,000,000,000 copies of various "job" publications during the last year.

Boss Is Printer. This number is vastly in excess of quantities printed before the administration of President Roosevelt. This number does not include issues of regular monthly and weekly publications such as weather bulletins and copies of the Congressional Record.

At the head of this tremendous printing organization is a practical printer, Augustus E. Giegengack, whose title is public printer.

Giegengack gets every bit of printing desired by any department, bureau, or division of the government. The government divisions are required by law to hand over all of their printing to Giegengack and his printing office.

There is only one exception to this—the Supreme court—which for many generations has had its printing done at a small private printing shop in the downtown section of Washington. There the decisions of the court are secretly and carefully set up in type and printed in such a way that no single typesetter or printer ever knows the contents of the decisions.

Employees of the government printing office likewise are bound to silence and secrecy, but details of confidential publications occasionally leak out through "sources" in the government printing office.

It covers 22 Acres of Floor. This printing establishment employs 5,500 printers, typesetters, photo-engravers, mechanics, clerks, and other workers. Its annual payroll amounts to $12,000,000. It occupies 980,000 square feet of space, which is the equivalent of 22 acres.

The government printing office was established in 1861 and it has expanded rapidly since. It is by far the largest printing establishment in the world, with 406 typesetting and casting machines setting approximately 2,500,000 ems (units) of type annually. There are approximately 200 complete printing presses in the plant.

Among other things this printing office prints postal cards for the postoffice, 2,000,000,000 in a single year.

The printing office is geared to do high speed work as well as regular printing. During sessions of congress the daily record of what happens is printed over night and is mailed and distributed in time for use the next morning.

The printing office charges each government division the cost price for printing. The plant makes extra charges for rush work.

Cascades Park Is Added To Nation's Playgrounds

SEATTLE, WASH.—To the nation's sylvan playgrounds will be added 4,272 acres of primitive timberland in the snowcapped Cascades, near Snoqualmie pass, as a result of acquisition of the area by the United States government.

Creation of the park, with its giant trees and singing icy mountain streams, will be a monument to the ceaseless work of J. C. Kuhn, assistant regional forester, United States forest service.

Kuhn was captivated by the enchanting region while supervisor of the Snoqualmie National forest and when destruction of virgin Douglas fir and cedars, hemlock, spruce and yew was threatened four years ago he headed a movement to save the timber.

Aided by Asahel Curtis, noted for his work in saving the state's trees and scenic beauty spots, and by numerous civic and conservation groups, Kuhn quickly negotiated for deed to the land from private owners, the government giving property of equal value elsewhere in exchange.

A bottle recovered at Helmsby traveled 4,100 miles, one found at Flanagan, 3,500 miles, one at Vest Vaago, Lofoten islands, 3,700 miles and the fourth at Soro island, 4,900 miles.

County Agent Notes

Woods Improvement Practice Applicable in the ACP.

Good woods management does not merely consist of planting trees and protecting them from fire and livestock, although the timely operation of these factors are a few of the foundations of good forestry. Good woods management ultimately overcomes the handicap of planting by creating woods stands which will reproduce naturally, if properly managed and thereby save the expense of artificial regeneration. The foundation of forestry and good woods management, and its ultimate aim, is the growth of timber of the proper varieties, to the most economic size in the shortest possible time.

Farmers who desire good woods improvement practices should observe the following:

1. Cut out gradually; so as not to open up the woods too quickly, thereby allowing the ground hummocks to dry out and blow away all wind species, such as sassafras, dogwood, sour wood, box elder, etc.

2. Cut out gradually; observing the same rule as above, all defective, crooked, diseased, and down timber.

3. Until better informed, do not undertake to thin crowded stands of the more desirable trees. This will be generally taken care of by the taking out of the type of trees designated in 1 and 2 above.

4. At no time, until better informed, take out enough trees so as to open the overhead leaf canopy too severely; it is sometimes better to have weed trees temporarily in a forest area, than to make the woods too open or "park-like."

Protection from fire and livestock. Forest fire should be guarded against at all times. Fire breaks, such as plowed furrows or cleared fire lanes to the width of approximately six feet, placed around the individual timber areas, are usually effective. All woods owners should always be shown that when fires burn the woods, everyone loses.

Probably no factor has been as insidious and destructive as that brought about by the practice of grazing woods with livestock. This is usually the prevailing practice wherever farm woods are found.

Livestock destroy outright the young seedlings by browsing. Ordinarily woods grazing offers little forage of value to livestock. By conclusive tests woods grasses have been found to be of little nutritional value. By all means caution against letting livestock pasture in areas planted to trees. Recommend that good strong fences be built around such areas. Show farmers that the browsing of one animal alone can destroy the growth of several years on young trees.

Dr. Hire Writes Own Text Book for Use in Class

When Dr. Charles H. Hire, head of the physical science department of Murray State College, realizes the need of a clearer physics manual, he is not bothered for long.

Dr. Hire who received his Ph. D. degree from Indiana University, recently completed and had copyrighted a manual which he is using in his class, Physics 104A and 104B.

The material was selected from the author's 20 years' experience in college laboratories and from the contributions of preceding teachers. The material is combined to make an unusual manual, one which has been used successfully by students taking no lecture or recitation course at all.

Regardless of what text book is used, sufficient discussions are given in "Experimental Studies in College Physics," so that the experiments may be understood and also be most useful to the students.

250 Books Added to Murray Library

The accession record of the Murray College library has passed the 24,000 mark with 250 new books now in process of being prepared for use.

The library staff consists of Prof. E. L. Brown, Prof. W. J. Gibson, and Miss Verna Gode. The student assistants are:

Miss Geneva Adams, Miss Virginia Breckenridge, Miss June Bushart, Miss Mary Frances Crawford, Miss Myrtle Freeman, Miss Beulah Lois Light, Miss Trucille Reeves, Miss Lillian Meriwether, Miss Marjorie Meunier, Miss Margaret Riddle, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Miriam Snyder, Miss Mary Anne Sutherland, Miss Margaret Revell Trevathan, Miss Nedra Bayne Vannoy, Miss Pauline Waggoner, Miss Jannett Watts, Lee Williams, Bob Smith.

The library book collection consists of three main divisions: the reserve book reading room, on the north side of the building, consisting of books that do not circulate outside of the building except when the library is closed; the reference room on the southeast side, housing permanent reference books and current issues of periodicals and newspapers; and the book stacks, on the southwest side of the building, where the majority of the total book collection is shelved.

Five Prominent Calloway Men Rest in Hospital

Veal, Allbritten, Underwood, and Morris are Still Critical

Five prominent Calloway county men, all of them acquaintances over a long period of years, were in a Murray hospital today, all in serious condition. All too have been patients more than a week.

They are L. L. Veal and Rudy Allbritten, who were injured critically near Henderson last Wednesday in an automobile accident; Magistrate John Underwood, who suffered a stroke of paralysis at the county fair here two weeks ago; Willie Patterson, who was struck by an automobile two weeks ago as he walked onto the highway in front of his home; and Lonnie Morris, who has been extremely ill for three weeks.

Hospital officials today declared all the men but Magistrate Underwood were showing marked improvement. Little change was manifested in Underwood's condition, which still is critical.

Bone fracture specialists from Nashville Wednesday performed an operation on the broken bones in L. L. Veal's legs, and intimated the operation was successful.

Jerusalem Is Quiet After Riots

British Soldiers Enforce Martial Law and Bring Semblance of Order

JERUSALEM, Oct. 27.—Comparative calm reigned over this city today after 30 months of continuous Arab-Jewish turmoil and bloodshed.

Without the loss of a single British life, British soldiers completed clean-up operations by reconquering the old section.

This drive ended 24 hours of steady military efforts to eliminate nests of rebellious Arabs who had held the Old City for four days, and was a prelude to the larger task of crushing a revolt throughout Palestine.

The campaign caused nine Arab deaths and injuries to 18 others. Two British constables and one soldier were wounded. Forty Arabs were taken prisoner.

Soldiers—members of the 20,000 troops sent here to restore order—continued searching the warrens of the Old City for rebels and their arms caches.

Small groups of Arab prisoners were disarmed and sent to a concentration camp in an excavation on the site of the 2,000-year-old palace of King Herod.

Scarcely had the British retaken most of the Old City when Arabs in other parts of Palestine severed telegraph lines. The Government had one emergency line working.

Arab drives warmly greeted reports from London that a Royal British Commission might recommend abandonment of a plan to partition Palestine into Jewish, Arab, and British-corridor sections, and that Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald might suggest instead a project whereby the Holy Land would remain a united Arab-Jewish State under British administration. Jews ridiculed the reports.

New Housekeeping Aid Project Offers Services Free to Applicants

A new housekeeping aid project, sponsored by both city and county and by the WPA, has recently been inaugurated in Murray, with Mrs. Rheda W. Oury in charge.

The new unit, a branch of the original sewing project supervised by Miss Elaine Ahart, has as its purpose to train its project members for work in the home.

The women—there are 15 of them, including four colored persons—are available for work in homes in Murray and the county where an extra woman is needed to care for housework or to wait upon the sick, and their services are free.

Usually, doctors, hospital officials, or more customarily the county health unit recommends homes in which an aide could be used, and the women are called accordingly. However, calls may be made by the family itself if an aide is needed.

The women will care for sick persons with the exception of those with tuberculosis or some contagious disease like measles. They work eight hours per day, and do not spend the night with the family for which they are working, unless it is absolutely necessary.

The housekeeping aid unit is located on the corner of North Fourth and Olive Streets. The workers took an old house, in rather a run-down condition, but their industry has made it quite livable. The floors were scrubbed and painted; windows washed; the ceilings and walls repaired; plaid rug placed on the floor; pictures hung; and the entire appearance of the house made homelike. Soon, treats will be cooked, there, according to Mrs. Oury.

Up till now only one aide has been called to do work in an outside home. Mrs. Oury believes, however, calls soon will be coming in consistently, and is preparing her aides for such emergency.

A large number of crimson clover demonstrations have been started in Union county.

Pig and Hog Chow and Corn	Shorts and Corn

This 4-Week Test Will End Saturday, Nov. 19.

Come in and see these pigs at our store. Each Saturday at 3:30 o'clock p. m., between now and Nov. 19, the pigs will be weighed. Look them over and make a guess—which may win you a nice prize. This award will be given to the person guessing nearest to the difference in the weight of "Checkers" and "Shorts" at the end of the test. In case of tie winning guesses a drawing will be held to determine the winner, between those tied. The feed and weight gained will be figured on the cost per pound of gain. This is an interesting experiment and every Calloway countian is invited to come in and observe the results.

"Jesse James" Leaves Missouri: Is Film Strip

JOPLIN, Mo.—Peace and prosperity hold sway in the Ozark hills of McDonald county in and around Pineville and Noel. The last of the moving picture stars, including Tyrone Power, Nancy Kelley, Henry Fonda, Henry Hull, and Lon Chaney, Jr., returned to Hollywood, having concluded the making of a picture to be called "Jesse James."

For two months the Ozarks have echoed with excitement over the making of this picture. Two hundred thousand visitors came to see "Jesse James" being put into a technicolor film: 400 to 500 local people were regularly employed as extras, and thousands of dollars were left by the film concern and visitors for the use of cabins, food, and the like.

Henry King, Hollywood director, was so highly pleased with the Ozark scenery and prevailing low prices that he already has given orders to leave his extra equipment at Pineville, as his company may return soon again to make use of the buildings for other picture work.

Many local characters already have visions of screen careers.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday, October 30, 1938

The pastor will preach at the morning worship hour, 10:50 o'clock, on "The Great Decision" from the text: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord; we should come to a decision at once and cast in their lot with God's people. If you are a Methodist, we welcome you to our fellowship. If you are inclined to some other denomination, that denomination will furnish to you the inspiration necessary to live a Christian life. If you will abide by its precepts, we wish to remind our people of the fourth (and last) quarterly conference on Wednesday night, November 9. We hope at that time to have funds in hands to meet all claims for the year. You expect to do your part so why wait till the last moment. Bring in your balance due for the year next Sunday and help these busy stewards in their work.

Don't be a dullard nor a dead head. Our annual conference meets at Martin, Tenn., on Wednesday morning, November 16, so we have only a short while left in which to close up our work for the year.

Again we wish to remind our people of the fourth (and last) quarterly conference on Wednesday night, November 9. We hope at that time to have funds in hands to meet all claims for the year. You expect to do your part so why wait till the last moment. Bring in your balance due for the year next Sunday and help these busy stewards in their work.

Wage-Hour Regulations Text

Following is the text of regulations issued by Administrator E. F. Andrews on information which employers should keep in conformity with the Wage-Hour Act or any order issued under this act shall make and preserve records containing the following information with respect to each person employed by him, with the exception of those specified in section 13 (A) (3), 13 (A) (4), 13 (A) (5), 13 (A) (6), 13 (A) (8), 13 (A) (9), and 13 (A) (10) (sections specifying persons exempted) of the act:

(A) Name in full.
(B) Home address.
(C) Date of birth if under 19.
(D) Hours worked each workday and each workweek.
(E) Regular rate of pay and basis upon which wages are paid.
(F) Wages at regular rate of pay for each workweek, excluding extra compensation attributable to the excess of the overtime rate over the regular rate.
(G) Extra wages for each workweek attributable to the excess of the overtime rates over the regular rates.

(H) Additions to cash wages at cost, or deductions from stipulated wages in the amount deducted or at the cost of the item for which deduction is made whichever is less.

(Note: This information is required only where the cash wage actually paid is less than the minimum wage required by the act. The reasonable cost of board, lodging and other facilities as part of wages is defined and delimited by regulations of the wage and hour division; part 531.)

(I) Total wages paid for each workweek.

(J) Date of payment.

(Note: The three items of information, (E), (F) and (G) are only required when overtime is worked by the employee.)
Provided, however, that with respect to employees specified in Section 13 (B) of the act, records referred to in paragraphs (F) and (G) of this section shall be required, and Provided, further, that with respect to employees who are specified in Section 13 (A) (2) (retail sales exemption section) of the act and employees who are defined in regulations of the wage and hour division—part 541 (regulations defining and delimiting the terms "any employee employed in a bona fide executive, administrative, professional, or local retailing capacity, or in the capacity of outside salesman" pursuant to Section 13 (A) (1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act)—employers need make and preserve records containing the following information only.

(A) Name in full.

(B) Home address.

(C) Occupations.

Section 516.2—form of records—no particular order or form is prescribed for these records, provided that the information required in Section 516.1 is easily obtainable for inspection purposes.

Section 516.3—place and period for keeping records—each employer shall keep the records required by these regulations for his employees within each state either at the place or places of employment, or where that is impracticable, in or about at least one of his places of business within each state, unless otherwise authorized by the administrator. Such records shall be kept safe and readily accessible for a period of at least four years after the entry of the record, and such records shall be open to inspection and transcription by the administrator or his duly authorized and designated representative at any time.

Section 516.4—definitions of terms used in these regulations.

(A) Act—the "act" means the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

(B) Hours worked—for the purpose of these regulations the term "hours worked" shall be any time during which an employee is required by his employer to be on duty or to be on the employer's premises or to be at a prescribed workplace.

(C) Workday and workweek—for the purposes of these regulations, a "workday" with respect to any employee shall be any 24 consecutive hours, and a "workweek" with respect to any employee shall be 7 consecutive days, provided that the workday or workweek is not changed for the purpose of evading or to the purpose of the act or any regulations prescribed pursuant thereto.

(D) Wage or wages—for the purposes of these regulations, the term "wage" or "wages" means all remuneration for employment of whatever nature which is paid on time, work, piecework, salary, commission, bonus, or other basis.

(E) Employee—the term "employee" is defined by the act (Sec. 3 (E)) to include "any individual employed by an employer," and the term "employer" is defined by the act (Sec. 3 (G)) to include "any person who employs or permits or suffers or permits to work." It shall be the duty of each employer to make and preserve all records required under these regulations with respect to each employee employed by him, whether or not such employee performs their work in an establishment or plant operated by the employer or subject to his immediate supervision. Thus, the required records shall be made and preserved by the employer for "industrial homeworkers" or other employees who produce goods for the employer from material furnished by him or who are compensated for such employment at piece rates, wherever such employees actually perform their work.

(F) Regular rate of pay—for the purpose of these regulations, the term "regular rate of pay" means:

(I) With respect to an employee paid solely on an hourly basis, receiving no additional wage that over—the hourly wage rate at which he is employed.

(II) With respect to an employee employed on a daily, weekly, semi-monthly or monthly basis for a regular number of hours per week determined by agreement or custom—the average hourly rate obtained by dividing the wages earned for that regular number of hours in the workweek by that regular number of hours; and

(III) With respect to an employee paid on any other basis than those specified in (I) and (II) of this paragraph (F)—the average hourly rate obtained by dividing the wages earned for the particular workweek by the total number of hours worked during that workweek.

(Note on definitions above:—

1. With respect to an employee paid on a monthly basis, the wages earned during a workweek are computed by multiplying the monthly wage by 12 and dividing the result by 52. With respect to an employee paid on a semi-monthly basis, the wages earned during a workweek are computed by multiplying the semi-monthly wage by 24 and dividing the result by 52.

2. In computing the average hourly rate fractions of less than one-half cent may be disregarded, and fractions over one-half cent should be raised to the next full cent.

3. In computing the average hourly rate all wages earned or paid during a particular workweek must be included except—

(A) Bonuses not computed on the basis of measured work performed (e. g. bonuses for punctuality, simple Christmas bonuses, etc.).

(B) Extra compensation attributable to the excess of the overtime rate over the regular rate, and

(C) Additions to the cash wage for board, lodging or other facilities furnished by the employer.

Section 616.5—petition for amendment of regulations—any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of the foregoing regulations on records to be kept by employers—Sections 516.1 through 516.4—may submit in writing to the administrator a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reason for proposing them. If, upon inspection of the petition, the administrator believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the regulations is set forth, the administrator will either schedule a hearing with due notice to interested parties, or will make other provisions for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views, both in support and in opposition to the proposed changes.

New Roof is Put On Burned Hotel

Workmen Tuesday started putting a roof over what was left of the McDaniels hotel after the fire which destroyed most of it more than a week ago.

Owners of the property said plans for the further development of the hotel remains were as yet vague.

Increases of 600 to 1,400 pounds per acre of lespedeza hay were noted in Montgomery county where phosphate was used.

Clippings from Elegy

The tragic accident in which L. L. Veal and Rudy Albritton were prominent figures indicates only too well there is an element of uncertainty even when things appear most sure.

Two conservative and highly respected men of two progressive communities were at the wheels of trustworthy cars driving at moderate speeds over a good road. Yet suddenly those cars came together, and when the wreckage was cleared one man was dead and two others critically injured.

The dead man was W. H. Dempewolf, a civic minded individual of Henderson, Ky., a hero of many a public enterprise, whose good will and big heart had earned him the love of all the people of his area.

The injured men were Veal and Albritton, who, but for the whimsical chance, might themselves have been the victims.

tar in the sea—sterling stamped on manhood—wherever you found him—a MAN.

"Integrity was a synonym for the honored family name he bore—his word his bond.

"That direct and driving force never failed its certain goal whether in the vocation he followed, the community service he espoused, or the church that gained in prestige through his affiliation.

"Success, the handmaiden of energy, persistence and capacity, followed as night follows day. He became a power in the community, but he accepted it as a challenge to stewardship. As citizen, neighbor or friend, he was approachable and responsive. Success did not spoil him—prosperity left him as unselfish as it had found him in the beginning of his own trying struggle.

"In the flood he saved his neighbors' chattels first. His own were last.

"That was the key to his character.

"Vale and farewell, loved friend. To you, Carl, Lena, and all, we stretch the hand of sympathy in our common loss and find solace in pride for a life well lived."

If the result had been reversed, would not the same words have been appropriate for us here?

Perhaps it might be good to die when such a life of service is ours to leave behind.

Letter to Editor

Temple, Texas
Editor Ledger & Times:
The West Kentucky Fox Hunters Association in session recently at Metropolis Lake Park recalls to my mind the activities of Capt. Guthrie who was the most enthusiastic fox hunter in that county during my boyhood days there. He once caught a red fox and had John Churchill (father of Horace Churchill), who was the county jailer at the time, keep said fox in the jail and properly care for it several days, until he could give due publicity to a fox hunt in which every citizen of the county could participate if he so desired. When the day came all lovers of the chase who cared to do so came to Murray early in the morning bringing with them their fox hounds. The town was back, eager for the chase. Meanwhile the Captain had turned the fox loose in Clark's River bottom several hours before any dogs were freed. When the word was finally given and all started on the hunt, Captain Guthrie's favorite pound was the first to strike the trail. The other dogs soon joined in and men and dogs rushed madly through the woods for several hours. They finally caught up with him at the mouth of a cove several miles down the river where the dogs killed him in the fight which ensued. When the men gathered in town after the fight which ensued, they were so hoarse from much howling that they could scarcely speak above a whisper. I can never forget how Captain Guthrie would enjoy the chase. He had his own dogs all named and could tell the sound of different voices. He would shout, "Listen, that's Pat; that's old Jeff; that's Grey; that's Tom. Did you ever hear such music?" etc., etc.

Few if any of your readers remember those "good old days." But I hope they will enjoy reading of them. In fact I am sure not many remember me. I had a letter from a woman now seventy years old whom I baptized near New Concord in 1884. Of course she remembers me, but if there are others—I have not heard from them. When I walk the streets of Murray on my annual visits back there I feel almost like a stranger in a strange land. I can not think of a single firm in business there now that was there when I was a boy. Bob Swann who is in the grocery business there now attended his first school at South Pleasant Grove (Howard's school-house) when I taught there many, many years ago. I taught also at Old Salem, Shady Grove, and Temple, Hill.

PLEASANT VALLEY SCHOOL
We sympathize greatly with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fielder, and family for the loss of their daughter and our school mate, Little Bessie Fielder.

We are all busy preparing for exams as this is the last week of the fourth month of school. Time passes away so fast and exams come too often.

The second grade has received their reading workbooks and find them to be very interesting.

We are having good attendance with the exception of a few who are picking cotton, but we hope they will soon be back.

We are preparing for the cold weather. We have put up the stove and repaired the windows.

Our pie supper has been postponed from next Saturday night, October 29, until Saturday night, November 5, because of a fiddlers' contest at McCutcheon school. Remember, the date and come. We will try to have plenty of music and lots of fun.

We're Proud of You!

Murray Thoroughbreds, we're proud of you for what you did to Hardin-Simmons.

You proved you were real Thoroughbreds. Outweighed, outgained, outscored, you were never outsmarted. Hardin-Simmons didn't have the heart that you had. What team other than Thoroughbreds would have kept on fighting as game as they ever come when it was behind 20-0 in the last quarter?

But you did, and you'd have won if you'd had another play left to run, a touchdown in Hardin-Simmons didn't know what to do with such spirit!

Hail to McRaven and company, and to Coaches Roy Stewart and Jim Moore, who produced such a team. Yes, we're proud of you!

What Time Is It?

The town clock is out of time again. It looks rather helplessly out over Murray with the hands on its four faces strangely motionless.

It doesn't look right for the hands of a clock always to be in the same place.

In addition to that, it contributes no public service unless it's running.

Back in remote history, they even used to make them that'd tell the time by falling grains of sand, and sun dials were numerous in public places.

Can't our own public timepiece be brought to life again?

HERE AND THERE

BY R. B. WEAR

The Thoroughbreds-Cowboys engagement has caused a bit of drug-store and street-corner discussion with the grid experts taking any and all issues pertaining to said game of Saturday night at Paducah.

Hours before game-time I was perched close to the mid-field ribbon, twisting and squirming impatiently until the initial kick which would put the game in action.

The bands played The Star Spangled Banner and then the 'Breds appeared on the field. They looked good to me and seemed large enough to hold any opponent—until Hardin-Simmons came out on the field. Only three teams that I had ever seen came any way near having the height and weight of the visitors. They compared to St. Xavier's (of Cincinnati) team of '27, and Navy's and Michigan's squads of '28.

"Climate conditions in Texas doubt ever member of the Hardin-Simmons' squad had gained from 5 to 10 pounds from the time Texas authorities sent in data here until they arrived in Paducah—which was a period of 3 days. Some growth I say.

Never being content with a defeat in any sort of sports, by any means, for once I took a back seat and thanked the gods of the game that Murray Thoroughbreds held this bunch of Texas steers to a 6-point victory.

Some Murray fans, and also others from the surrounding territory, were sorely disappointed in the outcome of the game. I was not! I marveled in the Murray-men's ability to hold the Cowboys to such a narrow margin of victory. The way I see it, all Murray players who saw action Saturday night should be commended and not condemned.

With Union, Southwestern, Howard and Western looming up in the distant horizon, the Stewart-men have a tough enough last lap to go.

Of course, Southwestern with its great Smith holds the spotlight on the remaining card as far as competition is concerned. Union will prove to be tough and stubborn to go down in defeat but Murray should take the Tennesseeans. Barring injuries we have an even chance to hold or top Southwestern, however the "dope" hands the Smith-machine a few points to the good. The way I see it, all Murray players who saw action Saturday night should be commended and not condemned.

There is no doubt in my mind but what the Thoroughbreds will, for the remainder of the season, present the hardest driving attack ever produced by a Murray State eleven. The Hardin-Simmons tilt Stewart-Mooremen will knock the lid off and really "go to town."

CHICAGO STOCK SHOW
To Open Next Month
CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Heading the schedule of events on Chicago's fall calendar is the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show, which will be held here this year November 26 to December 3.

Stockmen and farmers from many states and Canada have already sent entries for live stock and crops they will exhibit this year in the competitions of this largest of the continent's live stock shows. Cash prizes will total over $100,000 in contests featuring 30 different breeds of horses, cattle, sheep, and swine.

The act, passed at the last session of Congress, provides for a work week no longer than 44 hours during the first year of operation of the law; 42 hours the second year, and 40 hours thereafter. It provides minimum pay of 25 cents an hour the first year, 30 cents an hour the next six years, and 40 cents thereafter. All of these standards are imposed only in interstate commerce.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 27.—Clay A. Copeland, of the State Industrial Relations Department "guessed" roughly today "about 60 per cent" of all Kentucky workers are subject to provisions of the federal wage-hour law, which became effective Monday. He gave no figure.

Copeland said he and Industrial Relations Commissioner W. C. Burrow would attend a conference in Washington on November 9 along with over states' labor department representatives to determine what part they would play in administration and enforcement of the federal law.

Federal Administrator Elmer F. Andrews said yesterday he would use state labor departments for administering the establishment of the 12 regional boards for which the law provided.

The Kentucky department has obtained a ruling from the attorney general that it may accept federal funds for its part in administering the federal measure.

The full text of the wage-hour bill will be found elsewhere in this newspaper.

Hardin-Simmons

McRaven was the outstanding player on the field by far. In 10 attempts, he carried the ball 180 yards for an average gain of 17.2 yards per try. The best a Hardin-Simmons man could do was an average of 7 yards, and that was by Parker, who carried the ball once. Mullins, who carried the ball 10 times for Hardin-Simmons, gained 52 yards for an average of 5.2 yards per try.

Most of Murray's first downs were gained during the last half with Cobble Lee at full. The Texans made 13 first downs to 9 for Murray, gained 276 yards by rushing to 253 by Murray. The Cowboys had the edge on forward passes, completing 3 passes out of seven while Murray, usually deadly accurate at such, completed only 2 out of 13 attempts.

The Murray and Tilghman bands gained the applause of the crowd in colorful exhibition before the game and at intermission time.

The Thoroughbreds will play Union University at Jackson, Tenn., next Friday night. They play Southwestern of Memphis here Friday, November 4.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—BUSINESS—Barometric readings of business conditions continue to show "clear weather ahead," with consumer purchasing power maintaining its steady gain. Smart mechanics watching trends to determine which sections of the public are getting biggest share of this new buying money, notice the following: steel and auto factory employees will have more to spend as activity in their industries climbs upward; paper manufacturers are dealing out larger payrolls because they are now using 83 per cent of the industry's plant capacity, highest rate since early 1937; railroad yard towns find money flowing faster, because each successive week freight car loadings rise to new 1938 peaks.

WASHINGTON—Thousands of American workers are due for pay increases under the Wages and Hour Law taking effect this week. Administrator Elmer F. Andrews estimates that 11,000,000 employees come under the regulations and that 750,000, or 7 per cent, have been earning less than the 25 cents an hour stipulated by Congress. Government leaders are following with interest the attempt to enforce this legislation, since it marks the New Deal's second attempt to put a floor under wages and a ceiling over hours. Prosperity and the general elections are the other two popular conversational topics on Capitol Hill these days. Bureau heads are busy putting themselves on record that the upturn is at hand, and political soothsayers are revising earlier predictions on the voting with bets being placed that Democrats will not drop more than 20 seats in the House.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—Return of the hair-net, this time in gay colors such as orchid, red, pink and cerise. Blue to match the next fall dresses. New vitamin K, major use of which will be to aid blood coagulation after surgical operations. Novel device for autos making it possible to lock the entire hood of the motor by turning a key on the dashboard. "Five finger" glove with zipper fasteners on the thumb and forefinger which free these fingers without removing the glove. Sipping device for chilling drinks without dilution of your favorite mix... Higher shoe prices.

COMFORT QUOTIENT—Now comes another instance of that ability to combine commonplace raw materials into totally new and useful products, which has made American industry great. Several furniture companies have announced this year a new kind of furniture bringing into the home a novel product developed in the laboratories of a large rubber company in Akron, Ohio. The feature of this furniture is not a fluff of old-fashioned feathers or down, or a bit of wadding, but decking made of sterilized animal hairs dipped in liquid rubber. Woven in a square-mesh pattern and vulcanized, this material now takes rank in importance with the once-revolutionary spiral spring, as a contribution to furniture comfort, according to interior decorators. Merchants in some 300 towns and cities will display this new furniture shortly but before the debut was possible the manufacturers made hundreds of tests to prove that sterilized animal hairs plus rubber could give the furniture industry an upholstery which would prevent springs from working through and revolutionize wear standard. It is already used in seats for trolleys, buses, planes and theatres, it is reported.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK—Nation's airlines carried more passengers in September than in any previous month in history. Three more companies report earnings above 1937—National Biscuit, Corn Products Refining and Bayuk Cigars. General Motors recalls 35,000 workers and Chrysler Corporation announces it has rehired 34,000 employees since August 1. Beginning in 1939, when interest rates on insurance policy loans drop from 6 to 5 per cent, policy holders will have $13,500,000 annually. World's fourth largest diamond, the President Vargas, discovered in Brazil. Engineering construction awards rise for fourteenth consecutive week, now 59 per cent above last year.

At the Logan county agricultural fair, poultry exhibits were larger and of better quality than in any previous year.

Stella Gossip

Charlie Arnett, Bible student in Freed-Hardeman College will preach at Coldwater Sunday 2:30 p. m.

Fifth Sunday and holidays most always come when I'm not expecting them. Bee Cochran and I once looked for the mail man on a holiday. Did he come by? Great Scott, no!

L. H. Pogue preached at Coldwater last Sunday on "Leadership." He left the impression that a church member must be of good report both within and out. Sam Jones said, "Some men could get dog drunk and nothing said about it but if I got sorer drunk it'd come out on front page in big headlines in all the newspapers. Tell me this, who are you?"

The colored folk put on a motorcade parade around Murray court square Friday advertising their ball game which was thrilling. In the year 1619 a Dutchman of warship went to Africa, kidnapped 20 natives, landed them into Jamestown, Va., "slaves" for the white man. Now in 1938 the race have developed into cultured citizens of the U. S. A. It was Booker T. Washington who established the famous Tuskegee College in Dixie Land. A colored educated citizen, Arthur Mitchell, was elected to Congress 1934. Indeed it is the duty of the white folk to assist them in building a new church house in Murray. The Bible says preach the gospel to every creature, Mark 16:15.

Heavy frost October 23 in 1938. Just one year ago to a night in 1937 was the first killing frost. What a coincidence. Yes and the black hen laid a snow-white egg and ole' Dan Tucker did with tooth ache in his heel.

Now let me see, is there going to be a November election this year? Well, there must, then again there mustn't.

An awful tragedy on the highway near "De Eagles." Nine lives lost! A large spotted cat was murdered, premeditated, wilful murder by being run over by a big tin lizzie auto-bill.

Now I subscribe myself as "your truly."

New Cave Wonders Open a New World

Official announcement will be made at early date of a startling and sensational formation discovery in Mammoth Cave in a part of that world-wonder hitherto unexplored.

This discovery, when developed and opened to the public, will unfold beauties the like of which exist in no other cave; in addition to the formations, new and large avenues will be opened, and a whole new route developed that may entirely change the existing set-up.

Johnnie Simmons was a caller of Bob Allbritton Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Vick and children of Buchanan and Miss Eva Mae Williams of Frog Creek were Sunday guests October 16 of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Maynard of Cedar Knob.
