KENTUCKY BAPTISTS TURN DOWN GEORGETOWN PLEA HERE

Murray-Western Grid Battle Saturday Has State Spotlight; Thoroughbreds Look for Win

Seniors on Squad Predict Decisive Murray Victory

Claude McRaven, Murray All-American Candidate to Pace Racers

The football battle of Kentucky will take place Saturday afternoon here when Western comes down from the highlands to meet Murray's Thoroughbreds in the most important State game of the week. Western will be out to try to stop Claude McRaven, Murray's ace ball carrier and candidate for All-American honors, who has gained an average of more than 8 yards per try for all the times he has carried the ball this season.

Accompanied by nearly half the student body of Bowling Green and numerous Warren countians, the Hilltoppers will not find Murray without a proper reception, both in welcome before the game and in competition on the football field.

Especially the latter, for Coach Stewart, began intensive drills Monday in both offensive and defensive maneuvers in the belief that the Murray powerhouse may roll over Western for its second consecutive undefeated season within the SIAA or KICAC conferences.

With his almost unlimited reserve strength, Coach Stewart would be able to send in an entirely new team, equally capable in potential strength, if the starting lineup proved ineffective.

The downfield blocking of the Murray line in yesterday's scrimmage was timed beautifully and smooth as a racing thoroughbred. The Western game always dawns Murray's biggest crowds. If the weather is favorable Saturday, college officials here are expecting a larger crowd than the 6,000 who saw the Murray-Howard game last weekend.

Murray players themselves are confident of victory, especially those who will be playing their last game.

"Jug" Mitchell, star signal-calling fullback at Murray State, said today that the Thoroughbreds would swallow Western here November 19, so badly that the Hilltoppers would still be recuperating at this same time next year while he sat in the stands and watched the game of 1939.

This will be Mitchell's last game, as he is a senior.

McRaven promised to be in top form for this trying tilt. "The Racehorses will win because this is the last game for several of the varsity and we'll be out there playing for all we're worth."

Dale Deibert, co-captain, said Murray would lick the Hilltoppers just twice as much as the fans expect. "Just watch us go."

Hugh Finley and Co-Captain Charles T. Yarbrough, both very consistent backs, say the Murray team will live up to its standard as true Thoroughbreds should.

Neese, Bland, Atwell, Putnam, and Applewhite are likewise confident that Murray will win the game. "We'll be ready for them," they said.

All these are graduating seniors. The all-important KICAC and SIAA conflict between Murray and Western, the highlight of Kentucky football battles for the week, will find Murray playing in a "catch up" role when the Hilltoppers bring their thunder to this football-minded Saturday.

In developing a rivalry which has become one of the most intense in Kentucky, the Thoroughbreds and Hilltoppers have met seven times, with Western's winning four and Murray two. Last year's battle resulted in a 7-7 tie.

The teams played first in 1931 at Bowling Green, with Western winning 7-0. In 1932 at Murray, the Warren countians repeated their victory with a 6-0 game. The Thoroughbreds welcomed Western in 1933 20-6, and in 1934 evoked the series with a 27-14 licking. The Hilltoppers, however, came back in 1935 with a 20-6 lacing for the Thoroughbreds and followed it up in 1936 with a 14-0 win.

The Racehorses, defending champions of the SIAA, have not lost a game in that conference or in the KICAC in two years. Although tying Western, a conference foe, (Continued on Page Four)

Drive Carefully Saturday is Plea Of Auto Owners

One of the biggest crowds ever to come to Murray will be present Saturday for the Murray-Western football game if weather conditions are favorable.

In view of that fact and in view of the crowded traffic conditions which will result, let us all drive carefully. Let's make our town safe for ourselves and our visitors on days when streets and boulevards are crowded.

We owe it to ourselves and to others to protect ourselves this way.

Circuit Sessions Discontinue For Cooper Funeral

Reconvenes Today for Hearing of Typewriter Case; Several Are Indicted

With the Calloway county circuit court adjourning temporarily Wednesday afternoon to pay respect and honor to Lawrence Cooper, prominent Western Kentucky attorney who died today night at his home in Benton, the number of cases thus far completed in the criminal docket was light.

Many attorneys from Murray attended the funeral of Cooper, who had practiced law considerably here and was attorney for the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association.

Before adjourning, however, the court dismissed Marvin Smith on a chicken stealing charge, but the grand jury, in placing seven indictments on varied charges, placed another charge against him, that of petit larceny. Others indicted by the grand jury and charges for which they were implicated were Pearl B. McNutt, assault and battery; Harry Jeffery, child desertion; Orie Garrison and A. T. Hoffman, robbery; and Kelsie Outland and Carl Ray, storehouse breaking.

The court reconvened today to listen to the most important case of the present hearings, that of the typewriter incident in which five or more youths are charged with stealing typewriters valued at nearly $1,000 from the Murray high school building last spring.

In the first session of the petit jury Tuesday in the annual November term of the circuit court, Arlett Blanton, colored, was given two years in the penitentiary on charges of cutting; Porter Dockery, (Continued on Page Four)

Every day in the United States, 200 people die of tuberculosis. Thirty-three of these are between the ages of 15 and 25. Christmas Seals help to save lives.

"Tuberculosis can be wiped out from this nation," Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service, Christmas Seals are important means toward reaching that goal.

The first meeting of the proposed Safety Council of Calloway county will be held Saturday evening, November 19, at 7:30 in the Murray High School Auditorium.

duties of School Patrolmen, will be made by the faculty of the school he attends, and must be chosen on his merits. No favoritism will be shown, and any patrolman guilty of the slightest violation of his duties will be removed if found guilty by a trial board of the faculty. To each boy, completing a school year as a School Patrolman, will be given a diploma signed by the Governor, the Superintendent and the Principle of his school. In addition to this award, the State Department of the American Legion will offer a certificate of merit. In addition to this, a suitable trophy will be set up by the Legion to be presented to the county and school with the highest rating in safety efficiency.

Calhoun Girl is Seriously Burned

Miss Bertha Calhoun, 14, daughter of Mrs. William Calhoun, of near New Concord, was seriously burned yesterday morning when her dress caught fire as she was washing dishes close to the cook-stove.

1621 — 317 Years — 1938

It is right and proper that THANKSGIVING should be America's own great "Home and Fireside" Holiday. Never before have we Americans had so much to be thankful for as we have today.

WE HAVE PEACE. Peace founded firmly on a respect for others no less abiding than the respect we hold for ourselves. Peace that rests on the full understanding that WAR CAN SETTLE NOTHING, that no one wins a modern war, and that quiet deliberative effort is the only means of solving any dispute that is worthy of grown-up intelligent men and women.

WE HAVE PLenty. A means to distribute our great national wealth more equitably must perhaps still be found; but only TIME, COOPERATION and WORK are needed. The Wealth is Here.

WE HAVE OPPORTUNITY. The Right of "INDIVIDUAL" "Self Determination," a hundredfold happier, richer and more meaningful than the "Self-Determination" of other lands. In America a little boy may still be president. We take quiet pride that the fruits of American Idealism belong to all of us, of every national origin, race or creed.

It is with full and glowing hearts that we should give Thanks this coming Thursday, November 24, Thanksgiving Day, for we in America still have our Freedom of Religion, of Speech, of Race, of Franchise, and a free and unbiased press unshackled by dictatorial governmental influence. Yes, We should be truly thankful and offer our prayers for a troubled world.

"Goliath" Grows In Incubator At Clinic Hospital

Little Mr. James Max Jones— all the nurses call him "Goliath"— is having the time of his life as Murray's only resident incubator baby.

Under the care of the Clinic Hospital here, James Max was born prematurely two weeks ago and weighed scarcely three pounds when he was put into the incubator. He's gained three-fourths of a pound since that time, however, and has learned when food time comes along. Instead of a knife and fork, a medicine dropper serves as his means of getting food into his mouth.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones, of Murray, and is Mrs. Jones' sixth child. Hospital nurses say he's real "sweet."

Legion and Others Honor Armistice

Parade of Drum and Bugle Corps Precedes Special Program

With a parade by the drum and bugle corps and sons of the Legion here Friday afternoon, Murray Post No. 76 of the American Legion celebrated Armistice Day.

All stops and business concerns closed for the day after a suggestion by Mayor George Hart, a Legionnaire, that they join with the "American Legion and the men who served in the World War in celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the signing of Armistice."

J. W. "Biff" Carr, prominent State Legionnaire, was principal speaker at a program of Legionnaires and ex-service men in the Methodist church at 11 o'clock.

Legionnaires observed a minute of complete silence as the clock struck eleven. Then from somewhere came the bugled notes of "Taps."

Post Commander N. P. Hutson, Adjutant Max B. Hart, and Publicity Director Harry Sleds were in charge of the program.

Joe T. Lovett, State Commander of the Legion, was in Danville where a speaking engagement required his presence.

Sam P. Martin is Named to Office; Hundreds Attend

Resolutions Deplore Oppression of all Persons for Racial Prejudice

Kentucky Baptists here late yesterday voted nearly unanimously that "since original relations between Georgetown, College and the General Baptist Association have been severed" they would make "no further allocations of undesignated funds to Georgetown" and that present impounded funds would be held intact "in the hope that the controversy may be settled amicably according to the expressed will of the Baptists of Kentucky."

The convention closes here at noon today. It will meet in Harrodsburg next year.

Before the vote, the committee on education reviewed the history of the Georgetown case in which it was pointed out that in 1934 trustees at Georgetown elected a that institution's president Dr. George Noble Sherwood, whose baptism was "irregular."

The association then called on the trustees to "correct the evil," and warned that if matters were not corrected by January 20, 1935, funds would be impounded. On February 25, 1935, such action was taken.

Board Said Would Cooperate

In 1936, the Baptist Assembly received the assurance from the board, so it was said, that "It has never been the intention of this board to operate Georgetown independently. We will not operate it contrary to the Baptist doctrine."

In June of this year, however, the report stated, the Georgetown board decided both to nominate and elect its own successors, thus making itself self-perpetuating.

The committee alleged such a move "severed all connections with Baptists."

Controversial discussion over the matter raged across a crowded house from gallery to balcony.

The Rev. D. M. Nevins, Lexington, a former Georgetown board member, introduced a recommendation that Baptists withdraw all support from Georgetown and erect another senior Baptist college, but later withdrew his motion in the face of strong opposition.

Dr. T. C. Eckton, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Lexington, and a member of the Georgetown board, made a passionate appeal for Baptists of Kentucky to "forget personalities" in the discussion and think of Georgetown College as an institution—one which he said had been active 109 years and which now has more than $1,000,000 of Baptist funds invested in its buildings.

Impounded funds be used to build a new chapel hall on the campus or to improve buildings already there, in order to do service to 372 students who are enrolled there plus 36 preachers.

Black Places Principle First

But J. W. Black Covington, 1930 moderator elect, scorned the idea of allowing "money to interfere with principle," and the crowd swayed to his oratory. The vote was taken a moment later.

It was proposed by the Educational society that closer relations between colleges and schools and the General Assembly be maintained, especially in boards of trustees. "Trustees," it was remarked, "make sure schools are Christian in substance of things taught." The report stressed emphasis on character building, and recommended a survey of school needs be made on the schools' physical equipment, their endowment, and the courses of study designed to acquaint students in the elements of Christian faith.

Gartenhaus Stands up For Jews

In a resolution introduced Tuesday night, Dr. Jacob Gartenhaus, Atlanta, Ga. Jewish secretary of Home Mission Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention, made a stirring appeal for a "sympathetic attitude by Christians of America" toward those "innocent ones" who he said are "under religious and racial oppression in Europe."

Later, a resolution deploring oppression of Rumanian Baptists was introduced and set before the resolutions committee, and a copy (Continued on Page Four)

MURRAY-WESTERN

last year, the Thoroughbreds were rated at the top of all teams in the SIAA by the Associated Press by virtue of having won more games in the conference than any other team. Murray did not ignore the rating.

The Thoroughbreds must win Saturday's game in order to have a chance at retaining their SIAA title this year. At present, West Tennessee, of Memphis, is in the lead with six wins and no defeats. It plays Delta State this weekend. Murray has won four SIAA games and will be out for its fifth conference victory Saturday.

Just now, Coach Stewart must ponder the problem of which of his two starting lineups he will open with against the Hilltoppers. He may start Delbert and Bland at tackles; Neese and Downey at guards; Putnam at center; Finley at quarter; McAvan and Yarbrough at halves; and Mitchell at fullback. Signals from full, or he may choose the outfit that has probably worried more opposition this year than any other—the one composed of Atwell and Love at ends; Donoho and Brandeis at tackles; Applegate and Horlander at guards; Johnson at center; Wray at quarter; Inman and Jasper at halves; with Cobble Lee at full.

The Thoroughbred squad without exception has come out of its thus far grueling 8-game schedule in excellent condition, and unless some is injured in practice against the driving freshmen, Murray will go into the Western game in tip-top form.

The freshmen, their season completed last week-end when they rolled over the University of Tennessee Junior Vols 39-0, are running plays from the Western formation used last season by the Toppers. A non-scouting agreement between state schools has kept both squads from getting first-hand information about the other team's formations.

OUTLAND SCHOOL NEWS

STATE BAPTISTS

suggested to be sent to the Rumanian minister at Washington and to President Roosevelt.

Robert Jones, former mission secretary, Richmond, Va., spoke on missions in Brazil, China, and elsewhere Tuesday night.

More Than 1,000 on Opening Day

More than 1,000 Baptists were present Tuesday for the opening session of the hundred and first annual convention of Kentucky Baptists.

They came from all over Kentucky. By noon Tuesday, more than 330 authorized messengers from 200 Kentucky churches had registered.

Nearly 200 ministers were present for the ministerial conference Monday night, which was concerned with church doctrine.

In Tuesday's program, Sam P. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist church here, host to the convention, gave the welcoming address. E. F. Estes, Louisville, gave the response.

Tuesday night, a crowded church house heard reports on missions by W. M. Wood, State mission board secretary, Louisville; Robert S. Jones, foreign mission board secretary, Richmond, Va.; and Jacob Gartenhaus, Jewish missionary, of home missions.

Dr. V. I. Masters, editor of The Recorder, was re-elected chairman of the Baptist Ministers' Conference, which opened Sunday night preliminary to annual meeting of the general association.

Dr. Masters presided at the discussion of "Church Organization and 'Atonement and Modern Thought'." Dr. W. E. Hunter, Somerset, gave a message on the latter subject.

The Rev. H. O. Nicely was re-elected secretary of the Minister's Conference.

The resolution was referred to a committee for action later.

Officers Elected

The assembly elected the Rev. J. W. Black of Covington moderator. The Rev. S. P. Martin of Murray and the Rev. T. D. Brown of Louisville were named assistant moderators. The Rev. H. S. Summers, Madisonville, was selected secretary and the Rev. E. D. Davis of stamping ground, assistant secretary.

The Rev. T. J. Barkdale, Louisville, gave a sermon on "The Ministry of Reconciliation," a plea for a gospel of redemption as sufficient remedy for "the ills of mankind."

Dr. V. I. Masters, editor of the Western Recorder, was re-elected chairman of the Baptist Ministers' Conference which opened Monday night preliminary to the general association meeting.

More than 1,000 persons including 300 official messengers, were expected to attend the meeting, which continues through today.

The Lay Baptist Association of Kentucky, which has been supporting Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood's Administration of Georgetown College, sent the following message Tuesday to the Baptist Association at Murray.

"Many thousands of loyal Baptist laymen and women who are without representation in your deliberations this year are nevertheless of your constituency and vitally interested both in your actions and in their moral and spiritual consequences. On behalf of these lay Baptists, we earnestly request you to show the Christian spirit of conciliation and to large funds to Georgetown College from it over the forcibly withheld from it over the continuing protest of countless thousands of Baptist lovers of peace and fairness."

The telegram was signed by Lee Kirkpatrick, president of the Lay Association.

Dr. W. O. Carver, of the Baptist Seminary, Louisville, who addressed the convention, addressed the students and faculty of Murray State College in chapel Wednesday on "The Three Greatest Needs of Man" which he described as the need to be taught, to be guided by the word intelligence, and to be healed.

Teaching, Carver said, must be unified with preaching which is intended to get men into the right attitude, to capture their emotions, and to guide their wills. The teacher, the preacher, and the physician are unified in Jesus, he concluded.

Rushing through the business of resolutions—those already submitted to the convention and committee with approval of the Baptist body were all passed—and completing the necessary business of adjournment, the Baptists completed all assembly meetings last night, and this morning left for homes all over Kentucky.

Kirksey High School News
When Eagles suffered defeat, they met the Almo team on the Almo floor Friday night. Despite the valiant and persistent efforts of the Kirksey five the game ended with Almo in the lead, the final score being 17-14.

We are optimistically preparing for our third game of the season, which will be with Concord at Kirksey, November 18.

We are finishing our plans for a fiddlers contest to be held at the school building on Saturday night, November 19. Everyone is invited, so gather up your fiddle and your bow, and come along with the rest of us!

If you should step into our auditorium some afternoon, you would probably think you had wandered into a Topsy camp, and that would be just right. Under the direction of Mrs. Walter Boone, our music instructor, a group of students has been very busy for the past few weeks rehearsing their part in an opera, to be given Wednesday night, November 23. (Remember the date!)

The name of the opera is "The Gypsy Troubadour," a two-hour entertainment in two acts. You will want to see this opera for two reasons. One of them, the singing and dancing is so cleverly and artistically interwoven with the plot. The other reason, the plot itself. You will find that the gypsies, you will pity and be glad to see the handsome young gypsy hero, returning to his father's gypsy camp, after four years in college, where he conceived the idea of becoming a poet. You will feel so sorry for his gypsy father and mother, and his gypsy sweetheart, who have waited so patiently for his return. You will look with scorn upon the hoity-toity blonde, gold digger who has captured the young gypsy's affections while he is away. Your hands will yearn to close about the throat of the gypsy villain who plans to have the young hero disgraced and expelled from camp by placing a blame of a theft upon him, so that he, the villain, can become ruler of the tribe. Come and see for yourself how the gypsy fortune teller, and the hero's friend from college, outwit the gypsy.

We want to thank the college for the football game last Friday. Some 70 of our high school students expressed their appreciation by attending the game.

Cole's Camp Ground
Jack Frost sure has been visiting us this week. The sun is shining brightly this morning and we all are enjoying this fine weather.

Robert Edwards and Roy Truman Oliver and Charles Steele attended the sale at Mrs. Sam Smith's Saturday near Kirksey.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards lost their fine cow. The cow fell in a ditch and drowned.

Howard and Lynn Lee, and Charlie Guthrie of Hazel motored to Truman Oliver's Monday after some rent gear.

Mr. Wilkinson, Mr. Magness, and Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, and their son and daughter were here Wednesday looking over Mr. Guthrie's farm.

Well, the people around here tell us they are sorry we are going to move away from them about Christmas or a little after the holidays. I have enjoyed living by these fine folks. But I am glad to get moved to a good farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Adams were visitors of the Oliver's Sunday. Sweet Pea.

Across the River

Sunshine and shadows are kind of chasing each other these days leaving us undecided as to whether we need any winter wood or not.

Corn wagons have been rattling over the roads for about a month here now and on Thanksgiving we should put in a word of thanks for such a wonderful gathering season, even if we don't have any wood up. (I can go home to Calloway to warm if a blizzard comes and I'm sure my papa and brothers are bulwarked behind enough fire wood for any freak of weather.)

We did go to that big singing at Trinity a few Sundays ago and how we enjoyed it, even if the house couldn't hold the singers. Saw several Calloway folks. Couldn't decide whether Otha Winchester put more pep into playing the piano or gnawing a chicken leg. He's fine at both. He had some able competition though in both fields, for that wonderful Erin quartet had a strong man pianist, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Buput Lassiter visited Mrs. Bryant Jones last week-end. Mrs. Jones is a neighbor who has quite an interest in the other side of the river too since her folks are over there. More correspondents from over there should write.

Armistice Day was celebrated in this county for the first time by the teachers getting the day off.

I went to Dover Saturday and was surprised to see the entire Pleasant Valley school unload from a truck into the streets to have a picnic in and around that little town which is growing so in popularity as a picnicking place. I had to almost rub my eyes to see whether I was dreaming or whether I was the teacher of that bunch still, and on a picnic as we went on once to the places of interest in Murray. But I looked again and found these children strangers—my pupils are now most grown up. Even heard that Marvin Thomas had recently married in Paducah.

Tom Bailey is convalescing nicely from his broken leg since coming home from the clinic.

I intend to attend the teacher's meeting at Dover Saturday because a former teacher had a very charming one at Dover Saturday and Linus Spiceland had some concrete steps added to his school building recently.

I had a very pleasant birthday Monday. Spent the day with my mamma who cooked him and dressing in honor of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayton McClure really and truly sprang a surprise when they announced the arrival in their home of that baby girl recently. Congratulations, folks!

I wish folks would send all the things they think I'd find interesting to the paper. Sometimes babies are walking, folks have been some where and are back, sick and died or been married for years before I happen to hear anything had happened.

Murrayans Give Views on Contest With S'Western

Some of the leading citizens of Murray were informally interviewed Saturday afternoon, November 4, and were asked to give a statement on what they thought of the Murray-Southwestern game, which was played Friday afternoon in Murray, ending in a 6-6 tie.

Mayor George Hart asserted, "I thought they were evenly matched teams, and the only thing that kept Gudauskas from kicking the extra point was that the wind was blowing too hard the wrong way."

Dean Austin declared, "It was the greatest victory since the World War."

"I was ready to shout," replied W. T. Sled, owner of Sled's Toggery. "I think we disappointed Southwestern a little bit," he added.

T. Sled, outstanding referee for Murray College and Murray High School games, said, "I was well pleased"—with an emphasis on the "well."

Miss Myra Bagwell, teacher at Murray High School, and a great enthusiast in the field of sports, stated, "I think that Murray should have won that game. They outplayed Southwestern."

"I really enjoyed it and I noticed McRaven, 'Jug,' and Smith in particular," declared "Klub" Bailey, prominent jeweler. "I just can't keep my eye on the line, but I'm sure they really did some good work."

"Best game I ever saw," averred "Duck" Jones of Jones Drug Store, "and some band!"

Harry Sled, prominent sports fan, enthusiastically asserted, "I thought the game was a 'honey', and I could stand one like that about seven days a week."

Red Cross Drive Nears Close Of 1st Week's Work

Zelma Carter and John Neal Are Pleased With Work Of Committees

Annual Red Cross Roll Call activity swung into the last stages of its first week here today, with successful manipulations reported by Chapter Chairman Zelma Carter and Roll Chairman John S. Neal.

Solicitors and committeemen reported interest was satisfying and donors gave freely.

Mrs. Bea Melugin, executive secretary, reported the local unit Monday furnished food and clothing to a family just outside the city and reported other needy who are in dire circumstances are being cared for.

Along the nation's highways, in underprivileged homes and isolated communities, in hospitals, military stations, schools, and far-flung beaches, the work of the American Red Cross has been carried on increasing volume, according to Carter.

In reviewing some of the work done locally and nationally by the Red Cross workers during the past year, Carter said great strides have been made in reaching increasing numbers of Americans everywhere and stated that 15,000,000 households had been advised how to eradicate existing accident hazards.

"Red Cross public health nurses made more than 1,000,000 visits to or on behalf of the sick during the past twelve months," he declared, continuing with the remark that they are carrying out their work in communities where nursing and medical aid are not readily available, including homes in mountains, in small country towns, on prairies, and on isolated islands off our coasts.

Although a decade has passed since the World War brought about international upheaval, American Red Cross workers are still wrestling with problems that grew out of the conflict, according to Carter. At the same time, he revealed that 270,000 service men and veterans and their families have been assisted by Red Cross workers during the year.

He expressed himself as being satisfied with the progress made by local workers in the Roll Call campaign.

Churches to Unite For One Service

Methodist and Christian Organizations to Meet Together for Thanksgiving Worship

The First Methodist Church and the First Christian Church, in keeping with their custom, will join together, next Wednesday night in a union Thanksgiving Service. This year the service will be held in the Methodist Church and the program of worship will be arranged by those in charge there under the leadership of J. M. Jenkins, pastor. The Thanksgiving sermon will be delivered by A. V. Havens, minister of the First Christian Church.

The service is being held on Wednesday night instead of on Thursday morning because it was found the evening hour would be more convenient for those busy in preparing for Thanksgiving celebrations at the morning hour. Then, too, the Wednesday evening hour coincides with the regular time of the mid-week prayer services of both churches. The service will begin at 7 o'clock.

Both churches are joined together in extending a cordial welcome to the entire community to attend the service.

Mother's Club Is Organized by High School Bandmembers

The club will hold its first executive meeting for the election of officers next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the high school building. All mothers of children who are now in the band or are interested in becoming members, are earnestly invited by the club to join.

Christmas Seals serve two purposes. They decorate holiday mail and they help fight tuberculosis.

BANK OF MURRAY TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING FRIDAY NIGHT

Thorobreds Whip Howard 27-7 in Armistice Contest

McRaven Leads
Murray Outfit
With Grand Play

Racers Lag During First Half but Spurt in Last Quarter

Claude McRaven, as potential an All-American halfback, as ever packed a football, swerved his way to the sidelines, zigzagged past tacklers, and raced like Atalanta for a touchdown in the third quarter of a football game here Friday afternoon to break a 7-7 tie and the Murray College Thorobreds went ahead to overwhelm Howard College of Birmingham, Ala., 27-7.

In all, McRaven was in the game scarcely a half, but it was he who sparked a lethargic team and contributed with smart running and unexcelled headwork to a victory that came suddenly if it was late.

Coach Stewart did not enter his regular starting line-up into the game but on two lightning recoveries of Alabama fumbles by Tommie Atwell, capable end, the sophomores played their way to the nine yard stripe where big Cobble Lee drove over for the touchdown. Gudauskas then entered the game to mark up the conversion.

Murray's first stringers in the second quarter played like molasses in cold weather, and in the third period with the second stringers in again, Howard drove the entire length of the field for a touchdown, tying the score.

It was not until the final half-minute of the first half when McRaven intercepted White's pass on the 50-yard line and ran to the 24 that the Thorobreds showed any life. Then Finley, feeding back, lateraled to McRaven who threw to Diabert to Morris back to Finley to put the ball on the Howard 4. McRaven went over on the next play, but the whistle blew before the ball was snapped and the half closed 7-0.

Murray scored again in the third period when McRaven faked a punt from his own 19, gave the ball to Finley, who ran to his 29. On the next play, McRaven raced like a streak for the left sidelines, cut sharply between tacklers into the open for a 71-yard touchdown run. It was the fourth time he had carried the ball during the game.

McRaven carried the ball eight times during the game, making 117 yards for an average of more than 14 yards an attempt.

In the last half, Murray's line was like the Colossus of Rhodes and the backfield was as irresistible as Hannibal's army when it went over the Alps.

"Jug" Mitchell exploded into the line at every opportunity, and he was as dangerous as a 10-inch shell. John Jasper, was like a wild bull of the Pampas when he got going.

It was an Armistice Day encounter that saw a remarkable exhibition put on by the Murray band, featuring a galaxy of song hits during the years from 1918 to 1938. At the finale, "Change Partners," the crowd applauded vigorously. While the band played, a squadron of Legionnaires stood in an attitude of armed attention.

Nearly 6,000 people, one of the largest crowds ever to watch a game in the Murray stadium, saw the contest. Fifteen hundred were high school students.

Andrew J. Barnett Organ-

Beautiful in an exterior of white cement finish, the New Bank of Murray building, one of the finest structures in Western Kentucky, will hold its formal open house Friday evening between the hours of 5 o'clock and 9:00.

The new building is an enlargement over the previous red-brick structure, but directors of the organization last year authorized the purchase of a building just South of the old Bank of Murray building and incorporated its roominess into the design for the new structure.

The edifice was put under construction immediately after Christmas, and operators and tellers underwent the handicap of working in cramped, noisy quarters, but their reward now is worthy of any such sacrifice of building accomplishment.

The outside surface of the bank, with all its cold hard beauty scarcely equals the fine glossy design of the interior furnishings and fixtures. Ceiling lamps of modern pattern harmonize with multiple-windowed openings fitted with Venetian blinds.

The floor of the building is spacious, covered with blocked inlaid linoleum harmonizing with the white walls and walnut panels of the counters. At the right is the cashier's office and quarters; to the left the tellers windows and the bookkeeping compartments.

An automatic cooling system furnishes cold water for visitors from a fountain on the first floor. In plain sight is a maudlin-like steel vault, standing out like the Mausoleum of Halicarnassus, in which the records and currency of the bank are stored. More than 300 safety deposit boxes are available in the bank for patrons.

Upstairs are the business offices of the new building, beautiful, well-designed apartments housing professional men and women of long standing. Offices on the upper floor are those of Dr. F. E. Crawford, dentist; John Ryan, attorney; L. E. Owen, insurance; P. B. Gholson, real estate; and Joe T. Lovett and Robert J. Williams, accounting and general business.

This Is Our Spirit

With us this week we have the Baptist brotherhoods of Kentucky, and in the meetings of these groups, full of the ideals of individual faith, we comprehended the incalculable presence of an ideal nobler than them all.

Above and beyond denomination is the spirit of cooperation which the various churches and their members have demonstrated here. The soul of man, the glory of warmth, the indivisible and exuberant particles of truth, the wisdom and the urge and the question and the understanding heart—those, and not the separate organization composed of its human units, make Christianity.

The mind, the intelligence, the wisdom of generic man the world over is substantially equal. Faculties of perceiving and conceiving are similar with slight variance in the individual. For one person to state dogmatically "I am right and you are wrong" requires the presupposition by that individual that he or his organization is a paragon of wisdom, and as such should be the arbiter of ethical proceedings.

Such an attitude is unworthy of free-thinking and intelligent beings. No man has a monopoly on truth, and no man will ever have. Truth is an incomprehensible medium which carries in its composition justice, beauty, love, and spirit.

And so we should say that Christianity is understanding, friendliness, cooperation, love, and even hope mingled with much faith: faith in something forevermore about to be, a recurring miracle. In it there is no room for jealousy, antagonism, little or stupid things. Christianity is the ideal of good through which the denominations which comprise it wander, and no denomination has a monopoly on Christianity or on Christian faith. It is as it should be.

Thus we believe in welcoming the Baptists to Murray as residents of this city have done has been displayed the true meaning of Christianity.

Regardless of personal minor convictions, the conviction of a Supreme Justice is a common belief with all. Persons of, other, faiths could join with the Baptists sincerely and earnestly in endeavoring to make life a more abundant one.

So that in the context might rise at last a strange heaven from unbelievable hell and a unity that might surpass if not surpass any previously planned harmonies.

This is our spirit!

Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, whose sketch appears in the lower left corner of a sheet of 100 Christmas Seals, was the first in 1828. A sketch of Laennec appears in the upper left hand corner in the sheets of 120 Christmas Seals.

LETTERS to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The "Pack Horse Library" project is sponsored by the WPA, heartily endorsed by the P.T.A. and enjoyed by thousands.

Miss Lena B. Nofier, Frankfort, is the promoter of this project for the Kentucky Congress of parents and teachers and has very successfully carried it on for the past three years. During National Book Week in November of each year, she launches a drive for discarded reading material, books, magazines, and usable text-books. She also asks every parent-teacher member in Kentucky to give at least one penny with which to buy new books for the project.

This material is sent to the mountain counties in Kentucky where local public library service is not available, and "book men and women" or "carriers" as they are called, employed by the WPA, distribute it to the mountain people.

A central library or deposit station is set up, usually at the county seat, where the bulk of the material is received. Some of these stations are in stores, post offices, churches, and in private homes. The "carriers" walk, sometimes going fifteen miles a day on a day's route, distributing books and magazines as they go. They often pause long enough to read to a blind person, to a child, or tell a story to a waiting group of eager children.

When Miss Nofier made her report at the close of the P.T.A. year in 1937, eight counties were being aided by this service. In her 1938 report she said twenty-two additional counties had been added, making a total of thirty counties getting the service at that time and projects were pending in Washington for an additional twenty-six counties. Miss Nofier also said the material contributed last year provided reading matter for one million of these mountain people.

The money given by P.T.A. members last year bought 22 new books and four miniature hand-operated, individual movie sets, with forty different films. These movie sets were loaned to the different stations in the various counties for a period of two months and in the course of the year each county had all of the films. These films were purchased primarily for those who have difficulty with the mechanics of reading. The films are varied, they depict children's stories, circuses, exploration, travel, animals, air travel, and events and scenes of world interest.

The Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers believes this project to be one of its most worthy while endeavors, and is attempting to focus the attention of the public on this great need during Book Week. Those who have access to libraries or who have the means to build up libraries of their own can scarcely understand what it means to be totally deprived of books.

A supervisor in Pike county made a recent appeal for books. She said at that time they had only 275 books and since Pike county is larger than the State of Delaware, that number didn't begin to supply the great need.

Another appeal was made to send Bibles; many homes in the mountains are without them and they are asking the "book men and women" to bring them. A parent-teacher member lives next door to you; call her in and give her the books and magazines you no longer need.

W. B. MOSER,
Publicity Chairman, P.T.A.

TVA will pay the tuition for the children of their employees who attend.

Tennessee Valley Authority electricity was assured 22 West Tennessee communities Monday when the Hall, Tenn., board of aldermen voted to purchase the West Tennessee Power & Light Company's water plant. At the same time, Senator McKellar in Washington predicted that within a year every city and town in Tennessee would be served by TVA power or have a contract with the Tennessee Valley Authority. He "ventured the suggestion" that "no man will be elected mayor in Nashville next May who isn't wholeheartedly in favor of TVA."

Sweeping flames in Cypress Swamp, a long wide strip of unproductive land near Gilbertville in Marshall county, early this week were threatening the TVA city at Gilbertville and other houses in the area. TVA officials and farmers joined forces in fighting the fire.

MSC Home Ec Unit Is Praised by Field Worker

The Home Economics department of Murray State College has grown in the last year than any such department in the state, according to Miss Ronella Spickard, field worker from the state department of Home Economics, Lexington, Ky.

Miss Spickard stated, "The fact that the enrollment has increased in home classes, a new course, Personal Hygiene, introduced a new teacher added to the department, the laboratories and classrooms made more attractive by new curtains, shades and equipment, and the interest shown by the home economics instructors in the advancement of the department has given me reason enough to believe that Murray State is really growing in the field of home economics and will continue to grow."

The home economics faculty includes: Miss Ruth Sexton, head of the department and who has recently received her Masters degree from Columbia University, N. Y. Miss Sexton is a resident of Murray.

Miss Rose-Mary Codell, student teacher director, received her BS degree from William and Mary College, Virginia, and was graduated from the University of Kentucky, with a MA degree. Miss Codell comes to Murray from Winchester, Ky.

PRICE Is Not Even a Factor!

All over Kentucky, people hear about the delicious food at the Brown—and assume that it's therefore expensive. Yet meal for meal, our food often costs less than in local "dairy lunches".

That's typical of other things, too. We can't, and don't even try, to charge extra for keeping our hotel spotlessly clean—for employing eager, respectful, helpful people to serve you—for maintaining as nearly as possible the same standards as you demand in your own home. Those things are largely matters of attitude, rather than money.

And the result is that, more and more each year, the Brown is becoming recognized as one of America's really fine hotels.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES Sunday, November 20, 1938

There will be no morning worship services as the pastor will be away at the session of the annual conference. The young people of the north end of the Paris District will have a special service at 7:30 p. m. to which they invite the entire congregation.

The Sunday School will meet at the usual hour and the children and young people will meet at 6:30 in their usual service.

The joint Thanksgiving service for the Methodist church and the First Christian church will be held at the Methodist church on Wednesday night, November 23, with the Rev. A. V. Havens preaching the sermon. The choir of the two congregations will cooperate in preparing the music and all are invited to the service, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The Murray Methodist church met all of its obligations in full for the conference year and the pastor reported 77 additions during the year.

In the absence of the pastor the members of the congregation will have an opportunity to visit our sister churches in Murray next Sunday. Go to church—somewhere.

HERE AND THERE BY R. E. WEAR

Again time has rolled around for the final grid test for the Murray Thoroughbreds and in this play we find a perfect setting.

The Murray State gridder have brought glory in its brightest array. The 1938 edition of the "Breds" has been one which will long be remembered by fans of this area.

To date the Stewart-Mooremen have tasted a lone defeat and even in losing that one to Hardin-Simmons there is no bitterness to be felt. The 6-6 deadlock with the Lynx of Southwestern proved that the SIAA grid power equaled that of the highly touted Dixie Conference. And by the way, Southwestern is leading the Dixie loop today.

The season's results to date has brought no up-sets. The only unusual happening was the 47-14 pasting which the Horses applied to Birmingham-Southern. It has not been the desire of Mentor Stewart to run up large scores on any team played this year. He had entirely a too tough schedule to waste useless energy on high score-making. The team has progressed nicely and only as a matter of nature did the Blue-bloods play listless against Howard after meeting Southwestern on the previous week-end.

Team spirit has run high with the squad of 30 odd thinking only of placing Murray State on the win side of the column. The backfield has looked good all season, and truly Mitchell, Yarbrough, and McRaven have paced the way. But that backfield is only as good as the forward wall makes it. To the unsung heroes, like Delbert, Love, Neuse, Putnam, Downey, Donoho, Bland, Gudauskas, Atwell, Brandeis, Morris, Smith and the rest of the brunt-bearers, enough can not be said. It is simply deplorable the number of so-called grid followers who never "see" the line during the 60 minutes of play.

However, this point of the season brings us down to the annual meeting of the Thoroughbreds with the "Toppers" of Western. The Hillmen without a single exception have been a formidable foe to conquer. When these teams meet it spells "CLASSIC" to Kentucky football. It is a clean, hard fought game from beginning to end and sportsmanship rises to a higher level each time these schools meet.

And now down to business. As I see the situation—and usually I am very pessimistic about this particular clash—this will be Murray's year. There is not one reason why Murray State's Thoroughbreds should not defeat Western this year. We have a great line and have reserves to "fill in". We have a backfield of numerous combinations which can develop speed, power plays, and tricky maneuvers. We have one of the best coaching staffs in the country in Stewart and Moore, with the assistance of Cutchin and Miller. This will be our year!

Without a single nerve quiver I mark down in black and white that the "Breds" with come out of the game two touchdowns ahead of Western.

The Murray Ledger

By Geo. R. Trevathan Detroit, Mich.

I love the Murray Ledger. It tells me so much news. The deaths, the births and weddings. And the way true lovers choose.

It records all the locals. Of them who come and go; Gives names of lots of people. And some I used to know.

Of joyful celebrations. The tasty dinners spread; Of the happy conversations. Till the last good-by is said.

Then all about elections. And those the voters choose. But not of sad reflections. Of those who had to lose.

Then the many rural letters. By the correspondence staff. Of the happy conversations. Who make me cry or laugh.

Of the jail bird in his prison. For the cruel crimes he's done. Of the preachers and their people. And the happy souls they've won.

The spread of anthracnose damaged the tomato crop in Scott county.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—BUSINESS—As is usual in a democracy, there are many so-called "interpretations by experts" of last week's elections. But evidently the business world's reaction to the definite trend toward conservatism shown by the electorate is that the era of excessive reforms and regulations by the Federal government will soon come to a close. Stock prices reflected this belief in dramatic fashion, gaining 1 to 4 points on the heaviest turnover in more than a year. The country's steelmakers stepped up production to over 60 per cent of capacity as orders poured in to their sales offices from the building and automobile industry. Rayon production, which is frequently considered a barometer of business, moved up to a new 1938 peak.

WASHINGTON—Political Washington was on edge last week waiting for final returns from the nationwide elections. At this writing the Republicans have definitely picked up 81 seats in the House of Representatives and eight in the Senate the former figure based on a belief that the one contest still in doubt will return Representative Knute Hill (D.) of Washington to Capitol Hill. Thus the GOP holds 170 House seats out of a total membership of 433. A little "figuring" reveals that if 48 Democrats side with the opposition on any measure the coalition will have a majority. As a result of this situation, some political observers see either a legislative trend toward conservatism or a two-year governmental deadlock.

AUTO NEW YEAR—This week the motor industry takes its New Year holiday, celebrating with the thirty-ninth annual National Automobile Show in New York and exhibitions in other cities. Most noticeable and popular attraction in the 18 passenger cars on display is the pronounced increase in glass areas. Windshields, side and door windows and rear windows are all notably larger. This makes for real improvement in driving vision as many motorists have requested for the past several years, and is a safety step of no mean proportions. Corner posts have been reduced in size, adding further to improved visibility. Many makes feature a fourth and higher gear provided by overdrive which goes into effect at much lower speeds than formerly. The new cars are larger in over-all length, give an impression of lowness to the ground without loss of clearance, and have roomier and more comfortable interior arrangements. One model offers a sunshine top with a sliding panel of heat absorbing glass. Another has placed windshield wipers on the rear windows to give better rear vision in bad weather.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—Bracelets, with secret compartments holding a good supply of nickels and dimes, known as "jewelry coin-tainers" . . . Car-less, automatic lifeboat made of aluminum which works by a system of levers and can be operated with greater ease than present boats . . . Office filing system incorporating the ferris wheel principle so that each posting or reference record is presented at the top of the wheel for easy reach and visibility . . . Doorknobs equipped with electric light to light up keyhole at the push of a button . . . Adjustable bedsprings which become hard or soft by the turn of a lever . . . Special pillow for feeding babies, which has a bulge in the middle to give the baby needed support and is said to eliminate gas pains, that Nemesis of infancy.

MAN BITES DOG—That's sure, fire news, says Journalistic Axiom No. 1. In business, it's equally sure-fire news when a tax on an industry is lowered instead of being hiked. It happened in Louisiana when popular referendum ratified a constitutional amendment reducing the sulphur severance tax from $2 to $1.03 per ton, reversing a trend toward higher imposts which had long plagued the "hot water" sulphur mining industry in that state and in Texas. Feeling is that this amendment, achieved through co-operative effort with the Preoprot Sulphur company waiving the constitutional exemption from ad valorem taxes on unmined sulphur while the state reduced the production levy, is a significant proof that Louisiana's famed and successful "fair play to industry" program is being made to work with respect to resident as well as incoming enterprises.

MURRAY BUSINESS MEN

Upon the Improvements to Your Properties

To the PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK for its commodious quarters in housing TVA officials to E. J. BEALE and other Business Men on East Main for building improvements

Your action in modernizing your structures will be the GREEN LIGHT for all building owners in Murray to take the GO SIGN, and modernize other buildings in the business section of our city, in order to keep pace.

Murray is the fastest growing city in the Jackson Purchase. Already many new residences have been constructed in Murray and Calloway county this year, and we are proud to say that we have furnished the materials and constructed over 58 of them.

East Main street has taken on New Life. It begins to shadow Fifth Avenue and Broadway. The stuccoing of these many buildings will be small compared to the business building construction that will ensue here in the next five years, to keep pace with the residence construction.

To all of you we compliment you on your remodeled Business Houses. We are proud to have taken a part in furnishing building materials in these new structures.

Everyone, everywhere, will always find us willing and ready to serve them in all their building problems. Plans, specifications and estimates are readily furnished to all those interested in building, whether it be a small crib in the country, a business building, or a residence.

Late and Dry Fall Has Appreciably Aided Producers

Harvesting Weather Has Been Excellent of Quality; Pastures Are Late

A late dry fall has aided remarkably in the harvesting of a bumper crop in both grain and forage throughout the whole of Calloway county.

Notwithstanding a brief cold snap about the middle of October and a frosty morning or two, the weather has been at its optimum for the taking in of hay, potatoes, cotton picking, the drying and gathering of corn, and the getting together of the winter wood supply.

Many farms are getting third and fourth cuttings from their Korean and lespedeza crops, and even alfalfa and late grasses.

Soil has been in excellent condition to receive winter sowings of cover crops, and the number of farmers—many of them earning their soil-building allowances by the use of lime and phosphate and perhaps the sowing of wheat—who have sowed cover crops is not few. Several have seeded their entire cultivated acreage to winter crops.

The ring of an axe on wood and the whir of a saw can be heard most any day now around convenient woodlands in the country, and the uncertain sound of wagons rumble from the timberlands to the farm woodyards.

Pastures have held up remarkably well this autumn, according to farmers in this vicinity, and farm livestock as well as the farmers are profiting therefrom.

The amount of dairy produce which as a general rule begins to fall at about the time pastures are killed in the fall is up to par insofar as volume is concerned and winter feeding has not yet been forced upon the producer.

Although current weather predictions would indicate colder weather than even the present will soon be here, whatever may come cannot lessen the value the late fall already has been to the farmer.

Treasure Mountain, in the Hall of the Mineral Empire at the 1939 California World's Fair, will be a million dollar exhibit of the mining industry.

New Concord High School

Congratulations to Odell Hodge and Junior Vance, who were married Sunday, November 13, at Benton. Miss Wilda Grey Parley and Obie Warren accompanied the young couple. Mrs. Vance is teacher of the first, second and third grades at New Concord.

Miss Blalock, teacher of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, entertained her pupils with a party at her Murray residence, Saturday, November 12. The children played games and witnessed magic tricks after which refreshments were served. A grand time was reported by all.

Our thanks to the college for the invitation to attend the football game Friday, between 35 and 40 accepted the kind offer.

A thrilling game was played at Hazel last Friday night with Concord emerging victorious after a hard fought game which ended with a score of 16-15. The line-up was:

Concord: Hendon, f. 4; Albright, f. 0; Patterson, c. 4; Yarbrough, g. 6; Wilson, g. 2; Pittman—substitute for Hendon.

Hazel: Christman, f. 2; Cochran, f. 6; Turnbow, c. 1; Miller, g. 6; Dunn, g. 6; Grogan—substitute for Cochran; Scarbrough—substitute for Turnbow.

The students of Concord are a gloomy looking bunch this week. Yes, you've guessed the reason—six weeks tests! Our report cards will be out next Wednesday in time for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Friday night Concord plays Kirksby at Kirksby. Be sure and attend.

Mrs. Lowry Rains entertained last Thursday with a tea. The house was gay with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. An excellent program was given by her dramatic students. The program was arranged as follows:

"Sick Dolly," Dorothy Sue Stubblefield; "Coquette Conquered," Sylvia Dell Shoemaker; "Tomboy," June Farley; "Taking Expression," Mary Ann Parker; "When Mother Calls," Lowry Rains, Jr.; "Mary Jane and the Census Taker," Wilma Jo Lovins; "School Days," Dorothy Sue Stubblefield; "Leap Year Leap," Sylvia Dell Shoemaker; "Missing," Mary Ann Parker; "Would You Be Scared?" Dorothy Sue Stubblefield and Lowry Rains, Jr.; "Kittens," June Farley; "Grey Owl," "Turtle."

New Concord school is singing "Happy Days Are Here Again," after redeeming themselves for the loss suffered at the hands of Lynn Grove, 16-18, by winning from Golden Pond 34-12. Our second team won one and lost one. Friday we play Hazel at Hazel at 7:30 p. m.

The faculty and student body join in wishing Audrey Willoughby a speedy recovery from the appendectomy which she underwent Saturday.

The Toy Situation

It's probably a very uncomfortable evening when Jimmy down the street has a brand new toy train, and your own Junior hasn't anything half so good. You're very well aware that Junior would be tickled pink to have a coaster wagon a little grander than Jimmy's—and you're also well aware that it's impossible for New coaster wagons don't grow on trees. But you can ease up the hurt a little by giving his old wagon a bright new finish. If he likes, he can apply the enamel himself because it's a very simple job. Red will probably be his choice...and when the body color is dry, he can have most any sort of decoration he likes...yellow or blue lines and curlicues are easily applied over the dry finish.

Another good idea. Why don't you hold a meeting with your children some Saturday morning? Go over the toy situation. Get every toy on the place together in the basement. Bring in the wagon and the sled, bring out the dolls, the trains, trucks and the jack-in-the-box. Then, let the meeting come to order and decide just what needs an entire new coat of enamel, what needs retouching and what can stand as it is. Chances are there will be very few items that don't need first aid.

When the meeting is deciding on what colors to use, you might mention tactfully that the red you're using on the body of the wagon and sled, will look fine as rimming on the train—whose body is going to be blue. And the blue will look very nice as a trim in the red wagon. To top off both, little yellow here and there will even things up. This way, you can hold the necessary colors down to a minimum—instead of he ten to fifteen possible choices if you don't steer a clear course.

The painting itself is fun. Spread papers from here to yonder—because young hands will not be very careful. And let those hands do the painting. It's a simple job and they'll have a barrel of fun.

which make the remembrance of him pleasant? He was a kind neighbor interested in the welfare of those around him; a loving friend sharing the joys and sorrows of those who knew him well; an encourager of youth, rejoicing in the accomplishments of his younger friends, and finally, a man of honor upon whose word it was safe to depend. These and other noble characteristics made our memory of him an inspiration to lead us on to better things."

A Cousin.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my dear brother, Buddie Bean who was taken away from us June 12, 1934. It has been four years since my dear brother was taken away. It was sad to give him up, our hearts were made so sad and sore, but we all hope to meet him some day where parting will be no more. We miss you dear Buddie, also your dear footstep; we see your vacant place in our home which never can be filled. Our home is so lonely without you since you were taken away from us. You are gone from us but not forgotten dear brother.

Written by a sister, Miss Robbie Bean.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Mrs. Mary Hutchens Paschall who died November 13, 1937. "Our darling Mary Passed away; God took her home, it was His will; But in our heart she liveth still. Sleep on dear Mary and take your Rest; We loved you dearly but God loved you best. You are through with your suffering and your task on earth is done; We hope to meet you in heaven when our life here is done."—Written by her aunt, Pearl Clayton.

Governor Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri made the principal address at dedication of the Missouri Building on Treasure Island for the 1939 World's Fair of the West.

Walter G. Hamlin, who died of heart trouble at Mason Hospital October 2 was an only son of the late Thomas Penn and Margaret Grogan Hamlin. He was born July 11, 1885, near New Concord. Families of both parents were early settlers in this section and many cousins, his nearest kinsmen, survive him.

He had lived most of his life in this neighborhood near his father's boyhood home, the Peter Hamlin homeplace, where he had held many honorary offices such as magistrate and school trustee and his many friends and neighbors held him in high esteem for his kindness and upright living.

He was a member of the Pleasant Valley church of Christ and was faithful through many years. He so lived each day that friends, neighbors and kinsmen who knew him best thought his example worthy of emulation in their own lives.

He was married to Miss Emma McGulston January 27, 1901, at the "old home place"—where her father's. She died about three years ago leaving no children but a large connection of in-laws. Very close in sympathy and kindness.

A friend to little children, they were always welcome visitors in his home and many unfortunate little ones left motherless have shared the protection of his house with his good wife and him.

His funeral service was conducted by Elder L. H. Pogue. Burial was in the New Concord cemetery.

In memory of him a neighbor's boy, Tillman Taylor, says: "He was my dear friend and while he was not a man without faults, now in retrospect we cannot but recall some of his nobler characteristics."

TROOP NO. 45
Murray Scout News
Ralph Wear, S. M.

Much interest was shown Tuesday night at the regular weekly Scout meeting when plans were discussed for the "Old Trail Round Up," which is a plan presented by area headquarters to promote better organization of each troop, to put a troop budget in force and increase membership of this section.

Using the covered wagon motif, there are three stockades to be reached. The first includes: active troop committee, complete staff of troop officers, patrol system in use and troop meets regularly.

The second stockade may be reached by fulfilling the following requirements: adopt budget, certify adoption to local council, first month operation, second month operation.

The third and final final trek will carry us through: adopt objective, first one-third of objective, second one-third of objective, and third one-third of objective. After these three posts are reached we will then explore on until we reach the "Special Outpost" which is finally gained when every boy is taking the "Boy's Life" under concession plan included in our budget.

We have our progress chart and each time we accomplish one of the requirements area Headquarters send us a seal to place over said "milestone". It will take the cooperation of every Murray Scout to reach our goal. We must set a membership goal and reach it by December. It will only cost a few cents to register for the remainder of our Scout year which ends April 1, 1939.

The Young Business Men's Club, sponsor of Troop 45 of Murray, is supporting its troop to the highest degree. The club's Scout committee is actively engaged in assisting the troop in reaching its objective by February 1.

With the assistance of the YBMC it is thought that within a short time a suitable Scout headquarters will be located in a central location, which will bring joy to every Scout. It will be a place that each Scout can call his own and this project will include enough work to keep each boy busy for months to come.

Jiggs Carmel, formerly of the widely known Heath troop, is giving of his time and effort to promote Scouting in Murray.

Each parent is asked to urge their sons to be present at each Tuesday night meeting, which at present is being held in the basement of the First Christian church at 7 o'clock.

Our membership drive is now on! Each Scout bring a new member Tuesday night!

BANK OF MURRAY

Martha Kelly Gardner, clerk and stenographer.

On the building committee for the new bank were Foreman Graham, Dr. F. E. Crawford, and J. D. Sexton.

The Bank of Murray is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and all deposits are guaranteed up to $5,000.

The men who direct the policies of the Bank of Murray are men of the keenest business acumen in the city. Headed by Tremon Beale, president, the group includes J. D. Sexton, oldest living member of the board in point of service, who has been a sponsor of the bank's business enterprises for 25 years; M. T. Morris, Max B. Hurt, M. O. Wrather, J. H. Churchill, Will Gatlin Swann, Elmus Beale, L. N. Moody, F. E. Crawford, Frank Beaman, L. E. Wyatt, F. H. Graham, L. L. Dunn, and George Hart.

Dr. F. E. Crawford is vice-president; L. E. Wyatt, second vice-president; and Max B. Hurt, secretary.

The Bank of Murray had its beginnings in 1886 when Andrew J. Barnett, step-father of the late Barber McElrath, established it as an institution. Its growth was consistent, and a reorganization was eventually formed. The original business location was the First National Bank building, but the institution moved somewhat later to the space now used by the Brausa Harness shop.

W. R. Gatlin, father of Mrs. Warren S. Swann, became cashier of the institution in 1895, and under him the bank flourished. Directors of the bank at that time in addition to Gatlin were J. C. McElrath, W. L. Whipple, J. W. Farmer, J. M. Radford, J. W. Gilbert, and F. C. Allen.

Business was carried on in that location until 1900 when the company moved its equipment to the Main Street office now operated by Frazee & Melugin, where it stayed until 1913.

At that time, J. D. Sexton, present senior member of the board, became an officer of the bank. Previously, S. H. Dees had succeeded Gatlin as cashier. In 1913, the body purchased the present bank site from W. J. Beale, father of Elmus Beale, and E. S. Dugan, who became president soon thereafter, serving for 15 years. Other members of the board during that time were Ed Filbeck, Ben Grogan, M. T. Morris, and W. L. Whitell.

Filbeck, Morris, Whitell and J. D. Sexton are the only living directors who held such office before the reconstruction, which came in 1932. Whitell, however, voluntarily had himself removed from the directing body.

After the reorganization in 1932, Warren S. Swann was elected president and George Hart cashier. When Swann died in 1937, Tremon Beale was elected president to succeed him. The reorganization came on October 15, 1932, and Hart came as cashier in February, 1933. At that time, the bank carried $500,000 in resources; now it has $1,500,000 in resources, with deposits in proportion. Up until this spring, its capital stock was $67,500 with $10,000 surplus, but this year the capital stock increased to $100,000, with a $45,000 surplus.

FSA Makes Loans For Medical Care

Acting on the principle that a family in good health is a better risk than a family in poor health, the Farm Security Administration has put through plans looking toward complete medical coverage for all its borrowers.

"Quite aside from any humanitarian purposes, it has as a lending agency," said Dr. W. W. Alexander, Administrator, "found that a family in good health is a better credit risk than a family in bad health."

Plans for medical care and hospitalization at nominal cost to low income farm families who have been without this service, were worked out by the Farm Security Administration, through co-operation with physicians and established medical societies.

G. C. Dyer and Hoover Howard are administrators of the program in this area and are in position to explain the program thoroughly. Their headquarters are in Mayfield, but they are in Murray each Monday.

An increase has been noted in the number of Caldwell county farmers using artificial heat in curing burley.

Murray Loses to Russellville 13-0

Tiger Fumble Ruins Only Scoring Opportunity In Third Period

Russellville's hard-driving eleven was too much for the Murray High school Tigers here Friday night and went home with a 13-0 upset victory in a homecoming encounter.

Even though Murray had won only one game during the season, they had been picked to beat the Russellvillians.

Russellville's first score came with four minutes to play in the second period when Chapman went through the line on a cross buck for 18 yards. Noe bucked through to convert.

Early in the third period, Chapman again broke loose and skirted right end 30 yards for the tally. An attempt for the extra point failed. Murray's only threat to score fell through in the third period when it fumbled the ball on Russellville's 20.

The Tigers will play their final game of the season on Thanksgiving Day when they meet Grove high school of Paris, Tenn., on the Paris field.

Score by quarters:
Russellville ..... 0 7 6 0-13
Murray ..... 0 0 0 0-0

Last week's Ledger & Times was all O. K. It gave the Calloway election in each precinct—a tedious achievement but it was worth it, as the bride said when they (?) went through a rail road tunnel.

Hill Billie Rambler

Thanksgiving is just around the corner and we should all enjoy the day for it doesn't come around very often and we also should be thankful for all the good things we have to eat on this day.

Those enjoying a radio program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simmons Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Warlick Hutson and children, Betty Jo, John, Susan, and Velma Lax; Mrs. Linda Simmons, Mrs. Lue Housden, and Mrs. Bertha Allbritton, of Arizona; those who were there Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Parvin Adams and son, Brent; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Adams, of near Murray, and those that came in the afternoon were Nolan Simmons, of Paris, and Elmo Calloway of Buchanan.

Crippled Children To be Treated by Clinic in Paducah

A report today from the office of the Calloway county health department said 20 children and perhaps more in all likelihood will attend the semi-annual clinic for crippled children to be held Tuesday, November 22, at the First Methodist church, in Paducah.

Children from 10 counties, Calloway, McCracken, Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, Graves, Marshall, Livingston, and Crittenden, will attend the clinic, which will be conducted by officials from the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission.

This year's clinic offers the opportunity for children to be examined and treated by Dr. Orville Miller, Louisville, one of the State's leading orthopaedic surgeons.

An announcement from T. O. Turner, Murray chairman, urged children who have already been treated by the commission to attend the clinic so their improvement may be determined. Those who have never attended are specifically invited to be present, he said, to take treatments which may give them opportunities they might otherwise never have had.

Dr. J. A. Outland, Calloway county physician, said today all children who plan to attend should report to his office or to Senator Turner immediately. Transportation will be provided for those who have no ways to reach Paducah, but those who have means of transportation will be expected to use it, he said.

Delicate surgery on embryonic salamanders will be one of the features exhibited by the University of California at the California World's Fair. The surgery will produce "normal" specimens with many eyes and several legs.

Sam P. Martini pastor follows the mid-week meeting. The church extends a hearty invitation to every one to worship here whenever the opportunity is afforded. A warm-hearted welcome awaits all who worship from time to time.

G. H. Ferren of Livingston county has limed and seeded to ryed top and timothy six acres of contour furrows.
