SOME GOOD ADVICE.

It is said that more tobacco of a poor quality has been placed upon all the markets this year than for many years past, and to this fact can be attributed the decline in prices, and this is shown to be true by the readiness with which all tobacco of good quality finds sale. It has been no trouble this year to get tip top prices for anything like a fair grade of tobacco, and farmers who paid close attention to their crops and who had it properly cured and put up in good shape, well assorted, have been well paid for their trouble and expense. The great difficulty seems to be that a majority of planters go in too much for quantity and not enough for quality, and as a consequence they plant more than they can handle properly, and the result is that the entire crop is almost a failure, and will not bring them in anywhere near as much money as they would have received if they had put in half as many acres and devoted the same amount of work to it. Fifty acres of tobacco carefully worked and properly put up is worth more to the producer than one hundred acres handled as many farmers do. If all the farmers of this end of Kentucky could only be brought to recognize this fact, and could be induced to put in half as many acres and devote the same amount of labor to it that they did last year, they would all realize far more money for their crops than they have ever done before—and besides this they would have the balance of the land to devote to some other crop, or they could allow it to rest a year. Tobacco is so hard on land and requires so much labor that it does not pay to raise a poor crop, as more money could be realized by producing something else. The only chance for the farmers to raise the price of tobacco and keep it up to a point where it will be profitable to grow it is for each and every one to make up his mind to plant in the future only half as many acres as he has been in the habit of planting. Even if all farmers will not do that, those who do will find when they sell their crops that they have made more money than ever before.

Rain Came in Time.

Russellville, Ky., May 23.—Heavy rains have fallen all over this county in the past three days and thousands upon thousands of tobacco plants have been set out. Had not the rain come when it did the tobacco crop would have been a very short one. Many of the plants are a little overgrown now, but they will probably come out all right with favorable weather.

The army worms were numerous about two weeks ago, but they have disappeared after destroying a few meadows. Crops in all parts of the county are in good condition and if the financial question was settled the farmers in Logan county would have nothing to grumble about.

In this issue appears the cut of the McCormick No. 4 Steel Mower. This machine should be thoroughly examined by all intending purchasing. Never since grass was cut with a machine has there been a mower built that enjoys such a wide and enviable reputation as this one. Since the introduction of this mower to the grass fields its sales have been something phenomenal. There are more than 250,000 of them now in use and each year's sale shows a large increase. Their merits have become so favorably and widely known that farmers journey for a distance to secure one of these up-to-date machines rather than take an ordinary one from an agent near by at a less price. The company in building this machine certainly knew what they wanted to do and how to do it. But with all their knowledge and forethought in regard to this machine they have certainly built "better than they knew" and no farmer uses one long until he discovers that he has bought a great deal more than he expected. While their efficiency is apparent in every part of their make up, yet it is not until they are turned loose in the grass fields that they show the energy and keenness with which they handle the crop. These machines are on exhibition at all the company's agencies and all grass growers are invited to call and examine them.

A Successful Firm.

Success is always evidence of merit, and when you see a firm that has achieved success you may rest assured that it did not come about by chance but was owing to the fact that there was merit there—in the goods, in prices charged, and in the fairness and honesty with which the business was conducted, as all of these conditions are requisite to success. There is not a firm in Hopkinsville that has been more successful than has the firm of Winfree Bros. & Co., who conduct the large implement establishment on Main street a few doors South of the First National Bank, and it is due to the fact that they carry a full line of goods of the very best quality, and sell them at prices that are exceedingly reasonable. They, as a matter of course, carry goods of every grade, as everybody has to be suited, but they never represent goods to be first-class if they happen not to be, and persons purchasing there regularly know this to be true. At the head of this firm is Judge Wm. P. Winfree, than whom there is not a more upright, fair man in the State, and whose connection with any firm would be a sufficient guarantee that all of its dealings would be square. Then there are Mr. James Winfree and Mr. James M. Green, who have charge of the establishment, and who are known far and wide as fair and honest business men. These gentlemen were all raised on farms, and are, therefore, thoroughly familiar with the needs of the farmer, and this gives them a big advantage in buying their stock. Persons needing mowers, threshing machines, engines, wagons, buggies, harness, saddlery, in fact anything usually found in an establishment of a similar nature would do well to call on Winfree Bros. & Co. before purchasing.

Dalton Bros.

The above firm of brick manufacturers and contractors have been located in Hopkinsville for the past fifteen years, and their standing as honest and thorough contractors is a No. 1. They manufacture the best building brick known and their steam process is unequalled. They keep a large assortment of brick on hand which are made from the best clay in Southern Kentucky. Among some of the larger contracts which this firm has had might be mentioned Hotel Latham, Ragsdale & Cooper's handsome block and the court-house at Cadiz, Ky., all of which stand as towering monuments to their skill and capacity. If you need brick or brick work done don't fail to write or call on Dalton Bros., at their office, rear of Planter's Bank, Sixth street, Hopkinsville, Ky.

SOME FACTS

Anent Cairo and Cumberland Gap Road.

THE ROUTE'S RESOURCES.

Immense Agriculture Products and Minerals.

Baron de Courtier and his associates employed Col. M. H. Crump, of Bowling Green, to investigate the resources along the proposed route of the new road. The report has been prepared and sent to headquarters in New York. Some of the facts embraced in the report are given as follows by the Park City Daily Times:

"The proposed route will pass through fifteen of the counties in Kentucky, whose resources and annual product, as secured from the official State and United States census reports, are as follows: Fifty one million pounds of tobacco; forty-five thousand tons of hay; two and a half million bushels of wheat; twenty-eight thousand head of horses and mules; three hundred and sixty thousand hogs; six million pounds of poultry; seven million pounds of eggs; three hundred thousand pounds of honey; one and a half million barrels of apples, and a quarter million acres of woodland. These fifteen counties also have a population of two hundred and thirty-two thousand."

Bethel Female College.

This college was founded in 1854 for the higher education of girls and young ladies. It is the property of Bethel Baptist Association, and has the best location in one of the best towns in the State. It has done invaluable service in the past, and now it is proposed to make it one of the best educational institutions for girls and young ladies in the land. The faculty will be inferior to none. President Edmund Harrison was for years professor of Latin in Richmond College, Va. He completed his education at the University of Virginia. His son, Vice-President Wm. H. Harrison, is an M. A. of Richmond College, Va, and has been teaching about eight years. The musical director, Miss Kate C. Follansby, is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass., and a most successful teacher of experience. The other teachers are all well qualified by education, experience and aptness to teach. Mrs. Edmund Harrison, the lady principal, is an elegant, refined and cultivated Virginia lady who will be a mother to the girls in her care. The college will be renovated and improved and thoroughly refurnished with new and handsome furniture. The discipline will be that of a christian home. Special attention will be given to the health, comfort and christian culture of the pupils. Nothing will be left undone that would be conducive to the highest permanent success and welfare of the institution in every respect.

CHAS. HARRIS NASH.

Government Crop Report.

The May returns of the statistical division of the department of agriculture on the condition of winter wheat show an increase of 56 points above the April average, being 82.7 against 77.1 last month, and 82.9 in May, 1905. The averages in nine principal winter wheat States are:

Pennsylvania, 64; Ohio, 55; Michigan, 90; Indiana, 85; Kentucky, 77; Illinois, 90; Missouri, 81; Kansas, 90; California, 100.

The condition of winter rye on May 1, was 87.7 per cent; of barley, 89.2; spring pasture, 93.2; meadows, 81.8. The proportions of spring plowing accomplished by May 1, this season, was rather above the average, being 79.5 per cent. or 1.6 points above that of an average year.

BEARING FRUIT.

The "Then" and "Now" of it.

SOME INTERESTING COMPARISONS.

Just as fair dealing, full measure and honest goods build up the business of a dry goods merchant, so have the high-toned, honorable methods of Hopkinsville warehousemen achieved for our market a most enviable reputation which is now bearing fruit in a phenomenal growth, a growth unequalled in the history of the tobacco trade in this country, as evidenced by the following figures. Being aware of the close scrutiny to which an article of this nature is subjected by the rivals and enemies of this market as well as those who are now debating the question in their own minds of casting their lot with the Hopkinsville market, we have taken the precaution to present our readers, so far as may be, with facts and figures furnished by disinterested parties.

First we ask your attention to the immense increase in storage room demanded by the handlers of the weed. In this feature of the comparison we get the figures from Messrs. Forbes & Bro., contractors and builders, whose reputation for veracity will hardly be questioned. This firm constructed all the new warehouse rooms and reports that it has built within the last twelve months 170,000 square feet of warehouse storage room in Hopkinsville, within a mere fraction of four acres, and still the warehousemen's cry is "more room," for this is all full.

Now regarding receipts. This information we, of course get from the inspectors' report. Everyone takes this as law and gospel. This is owing to the peculiar standing which our inspectors have in our community and with the trade across the water. A comparison between the receipts for the year '95 up to June 1st and for this year up to June 1st show an increase of 65 per cent. Think of it! You can scarcely believe it you say? These are tall figures but they are straight as well as tall. What do they point to? The inevitable result as fixed as fate, that Hopkinsville will command and control the dark tobacco business just as surely as it is the logical, the geographical market for it. The signs of the times confirm it. You are bound to see it by this time. So come and join the procession.

There are a few choice seats left in the band wagon, a few choice sites for warehousemen in Hopkinsville. You fellows over there on the edge of the district rent your empty warehouses out for skating rinks, flying jinnies or manufactories of the essence of dog fennel, anything to fill the aching void and come over to the land that flows with milk and honey, where warehousemen all make money.

"Receipts are crowding prices high. Inspection straighter than a die."

Chance for Bargains.

T. J. Sarzedas, who has the large millinery establishment in the Ragsdale-Cooper building on South Main street, is now making an offer that the ladies of Hopkinsville and the surrounding towns should not be slow to take advantage of. As it is getting late in the season, he offers to sell hats, bonnets, in fact, everything usually found in first-class millinery establishments, at exactly half of the regular price. Sarzedas' stock of millinery goods is not only the largest in Hopkinsville, but it is also the best, every article being of the first-class. His reduction will enable the ladies to secure first-class goods for even less money than is asked elsewhere for goods of an inferior quality. Call on him at once, as his goods will soon go at such prices.

MISS O'BRIEN MARRIES.

A Popular Couple Joined at Garrettsburg.

Mr. Arthur Wallace, formerly of this city, and Miss Margaret Taylor, of Louisville, were married at the Second Presbyterian church, at Second and Broadway, at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Humphreys. At 7:30 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Wallace left for the East. They will be gone for a week or ten days.

On their return they will take the residence of Mrs. Lindley, at 1809 Second street, until August. They will then leave the city to be absent the remainder of the heated term.

There were no attendants at the wedding. The brides were Messrs. David Young, A. G. Langham, James Buchanan, Jr., and Hancock Taylor, Jr.

Mr. Wallace is the Assistant District Attorney. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hancock Taylor. Their popularity is attested by the many handsome presents they have received.

Cards announcing the marriage of Miss Blanch O'Brien and Mr. Jesse Hodgson, both of Clarksville, were received in the city today. The wedding took place at five o'clock yesterday morning at the residence of Capt. A. F. Smith, Rev. Miller, of Trinity church, officiated. The young couple left on the 6:15 train for an extended bridal trip. The groom is a member of the drug firm of Bradley & Hodgson. He is popular and a good business man. The bride is the pretty and attractive daughter of Mrs. Blanch O'Brien. She is a favorite in society circles, and is thought much of by the young people of this city and of every place in which she has visited.

Wednesday afternoon at the Olivet Baptist church, near Garrettsburg, Mr. George S. Gilchrist, of Clarksville, and Miss Lulu B. Lowry, a popular South Christian belle, were married by Rev. W. H. Vaughn. The church, which had been beautifully decorated, was crowded with the friends and relatives of the couple. The attendants were Mr. Gilbert, of Nashville; Todd Lowry, of Elton; F. G. Gilbert, W. J. Smith, and Boyd Johnson, of Clarksville; Misses Pauline Lowry, Lillian Lewis and Bob Wilson, of Garrettsburg, and Marie Wood and Mary Gilbert, of Clarksville. Misses Mildred Morrow and Theresa Lowry were flower girls.

Mr. Gilbert is a prominent young attorney, of Clarksville, and is a very clever gentleman. The bride is a daughter of Col. and Mrs. S. N. Lowry. She is bright and handsome and very popular with all who enjoy an acquaintance with him. The New Era extends sincere congratulations to the young couple.

BOB MORNINGSTAR THROWS A BOUQUET AT CLAUDE MINNIE.

Everybody has predicted that Guthrie would some day be a good fellow, yet the right man, it seemed, would never turn up, that is, the man who had the money, the nerve to invest it and who would handle it. He did turn up, and handled from a bank precinct in Logan county, says the Bowling Green Democrat.

It was Claude Minnie. The same Claude that nearly every man in Southern Kentucky knows and esteems. Claude went to Guthrie less than two years ago, started a bank, invested in real estate in the edge of town, opened up streets, built houses, made his town prosperous and has prospered himself. His bank stock is now worth $1, and can't be bought at that. His faith in the town inspired others, and several handsome three-story brick stores have been built, others are under construction, while in the residential portion of the city numerous costly residences have recently been completed. Claude Minnie has been the leading spirit, and Guthrie's recent improvement is mainly due to his enterprise.

The Flower Mission.

One of the sweetest charities of modern years, and one that breathes largely the spirit of the Master, is the flower mission.

June 8th is observed as flower mission day in Kentucky. Religious services are held in all the hospitals and prisons, and a bouquet of flowers given inmate. It is a day looked forward to with much eagerness by those unfortunate.

The Hopkinsville Christian Endeavorers sent one hundred and fifty (150) bouquets to the Edgelyville prison to be distributed among the prisoners during the service yesterday. Who can estimate the good that may be accomplished by these frequent messengers, sent with a prayer that they may whisper of a father's tender care, love and forgiveness. Jennie Cassady, the great flower missionary, used to say that a flower would act as a wedge for the entrance of some good influence. The Endeavorers will make the gift of flowers in person for more persons who work in the Edgelyville prison, whereby they may win souls for the Master. ***

SUDDEN DEATH.

Prof. H. O. Snow, late of Allen, Ky., died suddenly at Trenton, about eight o'clock Tuesday, of heart failure.

He had been visiting his son-in-law, R. B. Grady, several days and had complained of not feeling well on several occasions, but none of the family thought his condition in any way serious. He also a hearty supper last night and remarked that he was feeling better than he had at any previous time in weeks.

Prof. Snow was an educator of considerable reputation, and was well and favorably known in many parts of the State, where the news of his death will be heard with sorrow. He was sixty-four years old and leaves a wife and several children.

The Penny League will be made larger, according to the Evansville Courier, which, in a column article, claims that the Kentucky-Indiana League is a sure go.

All lovers of the national game will be interested in the new league.

On Thursday afternoon representatives from eight cities will meet at the Wellington Hotel, Evansville, for the purpose of effecting the organization of the new league.

The meeting will be presided over by Manager Stallman, of Evansville, and Macdonald, of Madisonville.

The meeting will be held at the residence of Capt. A. F. Smith, Rev. Miller, of Trinity church, officiated. The young couple left on the 6:15 train for an extended bridal trip.

The groom is a member of the drug firm of Bradley & Hodgson. He is popular and a good business man. The bride is the pretty and attractive daughter of Mrs. Blanch O'Brien.

She is a favorite in society circles, and is thought much of by the young people of this city and of every place in which she has visited.

Wednesday afternoon at the Olivet Baptist church, near Garrettsburg, Mr. George S. Gilchrist, of Clarksville, and Miss Lulu B. Lowry, a popular South Christian belle, were married by Rev. W. H. Vaughn.

The church, which had been beautifully decorated, was crowded with the friends and relatives of the couple. The attendants were Mr. Gilbert, of Nashville; Todd Lowry, of Elton; F. G. Gilbert, W. J. Smith, and Boyd Johnson, of Clarksville; Misses Pauline Lowry, Lillian Lewis and Bob Wilson, of Garrettsburg, and Marie Wood and Mary Gilbert, of Clarksville.

Misses Mildred Morrow and Theresa Lowry were flower girls.

Mr. Gilbert is a prominent young attorney, of Clarksville, and is a very clever gentleman. The bride is a daughter of Col. and Mrs. S. N. Lowry.

She is bright and handsome and very popular with all who enjoy an acquaintance with him. The New Era extends sincere congratulations to the young couple.

BOB MORNINGSTAR THROWS A BOUQUET AT CLAUDE MINNIE.

Everybody has predicted that Guthrie would some day be a good fellow, yet the right man, it seemed, would never turn up, that is, the man who had the money, the nerve to invest it and who would handle it.

He did turn up, and handled from a bank precinct in Logan county, says the Bowling Green Democrat.

It was Claude Minnie. The same Claude that nearly every man in Southern Kentucky knows and esteems. Claude went to Guthrie less than two years ago, started a bank, invested in real estate in the edge of town, opened up streets, built houses, made his town prosperous and has prospered himself.

His bank stock is now worth $1, and can't be bought at that. His faith in the town inspired others, and several handsome three-story brick stores have been built, others are under construction, while in the residential portion of the city numerous costly residences have recently been completed.

Claude Minnie has been the leading spirit, and Guthrie's recent improvement is mainly due to his enterprise.

The Flower Mission.

One of the sweetest charities of modern years, and one that breathes largely the spirit of the Master, is the flower mission.

June 8th is observed as flower mission day in Kentucky. Religious services are held in all the hospitals and prisons, and a bouquet of flowers given inmate. It is a day looked forward to with much eagerness by those unfortunate.

The Hopkinsville Christian Endeavorers sent one hundred and fifty (150) bouquets to the Edgelyville prison to be distributed among the prisoners during the service yesterday. Who can estimate the good that may be accomplished by these frequent messengers, sent with a prayer that they may whisper of a father's tender care, love and forgiveness.

Jennie Cassady, the great flower missionary, used to say that a flower would act as a wedge for the entrance of some good influence. The Endeavorers will make the gift of flowers in person for more persons who work in the Edgelyville prison, whereby they may win souls for the Master. ***

SUDDEN DEATH.

Prof. H. O. Snow, late of Allen, Ky., died suddenly at Trenton, about eight o'clock Tuesday, of heart failure.

He had been visiting his son-in-law, R. B. Grady, several days and had complained of not feeling well on several occasions, but none of the family thought his condition in any way serious. He also a hearty supper last night and remarked that he was feeling better than he had at any previous time in weeks.
