The Weather

FORECAST:
Kentucky—Mostly cloudy and colder tonight and Sunday. Some light snow southeast portion tonight and central and east portions Sunday.

Colder Weather Is Forecast For West Kentucky Snow Flurries Seen In Fulton Early Saturday

FLOODS ARE REPORTED

Fulton residents shivered today as they read the weather forecast of "colder tonight, quite cold Sunday."

Temperatures as low as 19 above were reported here last night, and there was scant prospect that the cold wave would abate over the weekend.

Snow flurries swirled over the city at about 9 o'clock this morning and a bitter wind drove most of the regular Saturday visitors off the streets into the shelter of warm stores.

The entire state reported sub-freezing temperatures today.
Heavy rains and melting snow combined to flood many state streets and block highway traffic in some areas, according to the Associated Press.

At Louisville, a temperature reading of 29 was recorded last midnight, and a few flakes of snow fell during the early morning hours.

Paducah reported an early reading of 23 degrees.

Kentucky's rain- and snow-gorged streams marooned at least one family in the western part of the state. The Green and Barren rivers in Western Kentucky, the Cumberland river in Southeastern Kentucky and their tributaries were swollen to within danger distance of flood level.

Owensboro's life-saving squad was dispatched to the rescue of Virgil Conrey's family, about 10 miles south of that city, after overflowing water from Panther creek surrounded the Conrey home.

Owensboro reported that 2.33 inches of rain fell there Wednesday and Thursday, melting snow which had filled creeks earlier in the week.

Overflowing creeks inundated thousands of acres of farm land in Daviess county. The highway at Philpot was covered yesterday (Fri.), but receded later in the day, permitting resumption of normal traffic.

McGohey said his investigation had been conducted in cooperation with the department of agriculture for the past week.

McGohey said the investigation disclosed that in the five-year period from Dec. 18 to 24, inclusive, the dairymen's league put into operation a program, previously arranged, under which 668,000 pounds of grade A butter were purchased at a fixed price of 84 cents per pound. Mc-Gohey said the alleged operation cost $561,787.

The district attorney said Rathbun admitted under questioning that he had undertaken "to support the butter market at not less than 84 cents per pound in order to maintain the average price for butter for the month of December."

Frankfort—At the request of the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, Gov. Willis yesterday created a new division in the State Department of Health to conduct a program of mental hygiene in Kentucky. A director for the division will be named by State Commissioner of Health P. E. Blackberry, subject to the governor's approval.

Lexington—Police records disclosed that a wave of thefts during December cost Lexingtonians $10,000. The losses did not include stolen automobiles but covered auto lootings, burglaries and common thefts.

Murray—Registration continued today at Murray State College. A total of 1,511 students had enrolled at the close of yesterday's registration, a record for the school and an increase of 137 per cent over the number enrolled for the same quarter last year. Today was the last day to register for full credit. Limited credit may be obtained by those registering as late as Jan. 8.

Navy Still Has No Report On 9 Men Lost Near South Pole

Aboard the U. S. S. Mount Olympus on the ice pack, Jan. 2 (Delayed)—Nine men aboard a big Martin Mariner seaplane disappeared without a trace Monday in the bleak, uncharted South Polar fastlands and fog and snow for three days has prevented any search by the two other waiting Mariners.

The other Mariners are with the Seaplane Tender Pine Island far out in the Pacific.
The plane vanished in the area of the Franklin D. Rocce-velt sea and James A. Ellsworth land while on a long photographic mission.

A final radio message from the men said the plane was over the icy Roosevelt sea-coast with the weather bad and snowy. This message was sent less than three hours after the plane took off at 2:45 a. m. Monday, or 4:45 a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Fragmentary voice radio transmission was heard later when the plane was nine hours out. It was making a scheduled 10-hour, 1,350-mile flight but had enough fuel to stay aloft 27 hours.

The seaplane flew from the exhibition's eastern task group, which is skirting the polar continent, sending out photographic missions 1,000 miles east of this flagship group headed for Little America.

The same two-engine plane earlier had made the first such flight of the whole expedition.
Rescue officers held out hope the men still would be found.

Three hundred miles west of the Seaplane Tender is the destroyer Brownson, which could dash to the rescue if the men were spotted at sea.

A third ship in the group is the oiler Canisteo. The only other planes available are two helicopters and one S. O. C. scouting seaplane. But the remaining two Mariners could fly nearly 3,000 miles.

The body will lie in state in the home at Beelerton until the hour of the services.

The brothers, Hobart Griffith, 26, and Ray Griffith, 20, were in jail, their arraignment delayed while their claims of mental illness were investigated.

Deputy Sheriff Burl Justice said when questioned each brother declared the other "was crazy and had been treated for war-incurred psychoneurosis at Huntington, W. Va." and investigation was being made of the statements, the deputy added.

The Griffiths, who moved from Wheelwright, Ky., to Huntington, W. Va., recently boarded the bus there.

"Boy, I was scared to death all the time," Driver C. L. Stillwell, 36, of Charleston, W. Va., said as he recalled the 30-mile trip along twisting highways from Ironton to nearby Wheelersburg between midnight and 1 a. m. yesterday.

Stillwell was hospitalized here and 22 stitches were required for head and face wounds he suffered during the wild ride in which he said he was thumped on the head with a pistol and made to drive with a jagged whisky bottle held to his throat.

Only one of the passengers, who covered and prayed as the bus lurched through the darkness, was injured. He was Lawrence Steele of Cincinnati, treated for nose fracture.

Hobart, charged with shooting with intent to kill, was the man who beat the driver, Deputy Sheriff Burl Justice said.
Ray was charged with assault.
The shots Hobart fired, Justice said, went through the floor and into the driver's seat.

Stillwell said the brothers had been drinking and boarded the bus over his objections. When he rebuked them for their language after the bus left Ironton, the excitement began.

Hobart took command of the bus and stepped on the gas while Stillwell steered.

At Wheelersburg, Justice said, Hobart was quoted as saying he was going to shoot all the way veterans on the bus and drive it into the Ohio river.

"You're first," Hobart was reported as telling the driver.
"But I don't want to shoot you sitting down."

Stillwell had to stop the bus to stand up and then the passengers overpowered the Griffiths and ousted them from the vehicle.

The commission, named after resentative.

The Security Council will go back into session next Tuesday with a crowded calendar topped by the Trieste question. Other items include a Russian proposal that the council implement within 9 days the basic arms reduction program laid down by the general assembly and an American resolution that control of atomic energy be given priority in discussions.

The Trieste question comes to the council because the council of foreign ministers decided to place the area under U. N. administration as a part of the Italian peace settlement.

Syria, Belgium and Colombia will take seats for the first time on the Security Council Tuesday, replacing the Netherlands, Mexico and Egypt.

John W. Pratt's resignation as U. S. representative to the economic and social council has renewed speculation that the former ambassador to Great Britain eventually will join Secretary-General Trygve Lie's staff. John B. Hutson now holds the highest post of any American in the U. N.—that of assistant secretary-general in charge of administrative affairs.

The other seven assistants are allocated by countries and unless Winant should accept a lesser directorship, he presumably would replace Hutson.

Gasoline Explodes, Auto Is Damaged In U. C. Garage

Union City—An automobile was damaged considerably by fire when the vehicle's gasoline tank exploded Thursday afternoon in the A. E. Branch garage, Union City.

The car, owned by a colored man of Hickman, was being worked on by Donald Wall, a welder. Wall was welding on a rear fender, and had not noticed that there was a small hole in the gasoline tank and that gasoline was leaking onto the garage floor. Suddenly, the gasoline caught fire from a spark from the welding torch, and the tank exploded. Wall managed to get away from the car and escape injury.

Hamstrung by the weather, the Pine Island has been able only to send cheering messages, broadcasting blindly in the hopes it would be heard by the nine men downed somewhere in the desolate, completely uninhabited area, which is subject to bitter temperatures, sudden fogs and blizzards.

The plane carried emergency equipment for 12 men, including exposure suits, sleeping tents, life rafts, 30-day rations and a Gibson girl radio. The latter is a hand-cranked instrument sending automatic S. O. S. signals with a range of from 50 to 500 miles, depending on circumstances.

The Pine Island is standing 350 miles off the coast outside the great ice belt.

stroyer Brownson, which could

were spotted at sea.

Continuous Day And Night Battle Over Bilbo's Seat In Senate Is Threatened By Republicans; Truman State-of-Union Speech May Be Delayed

Washington, Jan. 4—(AP)— The senate floor battle over the seating of Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi went into a second day today with no sign of a truce between the groups wrangling over his admission.

Republican leaders met during the morning to discuss ways of breaking the deadlock which is holding up the seating in of other senators-elect.

Afterward, Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), the Republican senate whip, told reporters:
"There is no change. We're going to keep on fighting."

Wherry spoke for the group opposing the seating of the Mississippian.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky that the Republican conference had voted to hold the senate in session all night tonight, all day tomorrow and continuously next week if necessary to dispose of the Bilbo matter.

Taft told Barkley on the senate floor three minutes before the session opened that the Republicans would not agree to any break even to hear President Truman deliver his state-of-the-union message at the scheduled 1 p. m. Eastern Standard time Monday.

Describing as a filibuster the actions of Bilbo's friends on the

"The Man" wisecracks Washington, Jan. 4—(AP)—A couple of tourists approached Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) in his office today, seeking passes for the visitors' gallery.

"We would like to get into the senate," they explained.
"We would like to see Bilbo and went on sorting his mail.

floor in insisting on his being sworn before others awaiting the oath, Taft said the attack on the filibuster will be carried on as long as the senate can muster the necessary quorum to remain in session. Under the rules the senate may vote to instruct the sergeant at arms to bring in members who are not present when it is meeting.

Senator Maybank (D-S.C.) one of those who has been advocating that Bilbo be seated immediately, told a reporter that if the Republicans persist in their plan for continuous session "we will stay here with them."

Bilbo conferred with other southern Democrats before the session started and told reporters: "It's still status quo." Fifty-one Republican senators held the lengthy morning conference to discuss strategy.

Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) left the conference with this comment:
"We're going to fight like hell.
We're going right through the night."

As an alternative, the GOP strategists saw a chance to drum up the two-thirds majority necessary to limit debate.

They ordered a morning session to consider means of untying the parliamentary knot which kept not only Bilbo but 35 others from taking the oath of office at the opening session.

The senate was called to meet at noon, and Senator Taft (Ohio) declared it "will proba-ly be necessary to hold the senate in continuous session" unless Bilbo's backers quit talking.

Senator Brewster (Me.) and Ferguson (Mich.), predicted an attempt to impose cloture—curtailment of debate—would be the final decision by the Republican strategists.

If the GOP could count on 11 Democrats who voted with them on one point yesterday they would have exactly the two-thirds majority to invoke this seldom used device.

The GOP had 29 members seated against 31 Democrats.
The 11 Democratic votes would give them a 40 to 20 majority for debate limitation.

But the 80th congress went into its second day with Democrats still in the senate saddle despite the 51-45 majority the GOP will hold when all are sworn in. Republicans had already organized the house and adjourned it till Monday.

Rich Boy's Dilemma

THE SAD DILEMMA OF A POOR LITTLE RICH BOY

According to State Finance Department figures, Kentucky will have a cash surplus of $23,000,000 in the general fund next June. Actually, this is too conservative a figure. Reliable Frankfort sources say the total will probably exceed $25,000,000, a sum of money representing a situation at once both ludicrous and depressing.

For while the State Government watches the money roll in, cities of the first four classes all over the State are wringing their municipal hands over their penury. The State is deluged with a golden downpour for which it can find no outlet, and the cities find themselves going hopelessly in debt, unable to pay their teachers, police or city officials and generally pressed for funds with which to carry on city government.

At the same time the surplus must prove embarrassing to the State Administration. It must be especially painful to Highway Commissioner Stephen Watkins who would like very much to build some roads next year before election time, and who finds himself unable to do so. Mr. Watkins, while he has plenty of money with which to build the needed roads, cannot find bidders for his contracts. Thus both Watkins and his administration become, in a manner, victims of the post-war instability. And as their political future grows with a feeling of helplessness. It is probably the only time in history when an administration had more money than it could spend. (Courier-Journal).

Mantrap Catches Dentist

Chicago, (AP)—Dr. Barnett Mindlin, a dentist, told center police this sad tale:

John Loughout, 70, a patient in his chair, objected to a repair bill on his false teeth and said he wouldn't pay. Dr. Mindlin reached into Loughout's mouth for the teeth. The mouth-changed shut. Mindlin exhibited a swollen finger.

Loughout, who denied the charge, was released on $25 bond pending a hearing Monday on a disorderly conduct charge.

Still Our Most Pressing Problem

By Dewitt MacKenzie, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Your correspondent has been asked to name the most important international issue with which we are faced this year—what one might call a meaty assignment.

The mills of 1947 already are working full-speed on the heaviest peacetime grist of problems in history—and in every country domestic questions are as great as to tend to obscure foreign affairs. Still, it will be a grave mistake if we allow ourselves to become so absorbed in home matters that we lose track of what is going on in other lands.

After all, this mischievous old globe of ours is in fact "one world"—so interlocked that the affairs of an individual country can't be separated from those of the rest. That's the way things stand, and whether we like it or not, we must work from that basis. So we have every reason to determine well and truly right now what we face in foreign relations, and to decide how to handle it. To put the matter off is dangerous.

The biggest problem of this year isn't new, but is a variation of the one which caused so much anxiety during 1946—relations between Russia and the Western Democracies.

Our problem is entering a new stage, however. Up until now it could be said broadly to revolve about a maneuvering among the powers—and especially on the part of Russia—for military security. That is to say, the readjustment of zones of influence in Europe and the east has been aimed in large degree at insuring protection in event of war. At least the maneuvers seemed to be aimed largely at security (though that isn't the whole story by a jug-full), and thus were tacitly condoned in the main.

But now the realignment of power has reached a point to which this column frequently has directed attention. The realignment has (barring some odds-and-ends of readjustment) ceased to be a matter of security, and if it continues it will be political. It will become a battle between communism and western democracy.

Thus our big international problem of the new year rests in the question of whether the Soviet Union is satisfied or whether it intends to carry on its "world revolution" for the spread of communism—whether it intends, for example, to try to build up communism in England, the United States and South America, just as it has in Eastern Europe and the Balkans.

That's the question to which the Western Democracies want a quick answer. And presumably, by the same token, Russia would like to know whether the Western Democracies are going to try to upset the communist apple-cart with a Soviet zone of influence.

Much Ado About Dirt

Add to the list of unusual union grievances against management: "the workers' alleged... that they remained on the premises after working hours cleaning themselves of dirt acquired while working."

That is one of the grievances given by 1-709 G. I. O.-United Automobile Workers in a portal-to-portal pay suit against the Ford Motor Company in Louisville.

There may be ramifications not readily discernible from a distance, but on the face of it this seems to hit a new high, or a new low as the case may be, in clock-watching for pay.

If the plaintiffs are allowed pay for time spent "cleaning themselves of dirt," it is not as logical to suppose that they would be paid for washing off the same dirt at home? Surely there is no implication that the plaintiffs might not wash at all unless on company time. Perhaps the Ford Motor Company will charge the plaintiffs with the cost of soap and hot water to wash off the dirt acquired at work. Lawyers for both sides might well have a field day in court when the question comes up.

We rather think it is a tempest in a wash basin.

Malaprop

Ada, Okla., (AP)—The time-worn expression "strong as a mule" took on new meaning when it was measured here in terms of manpower. It took 10 men to pull a trash wagon mule back on his feet after a slip on the ice.

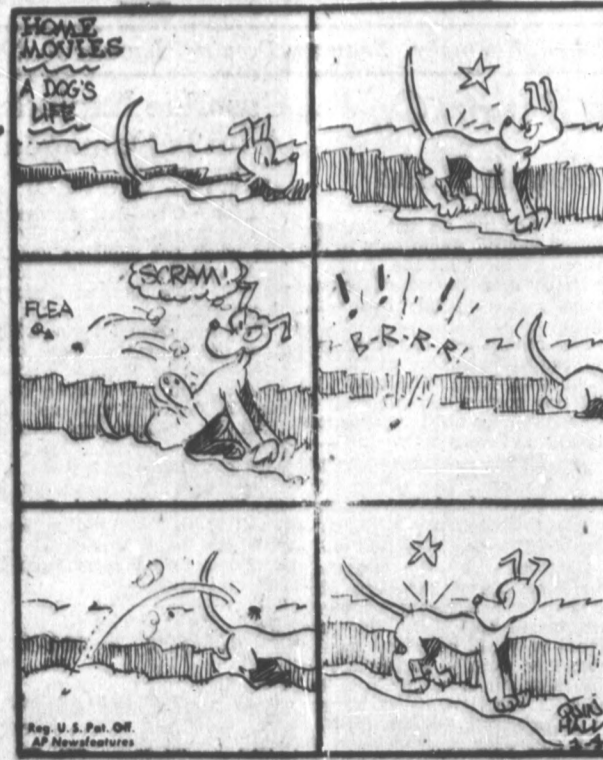

Firing For Elmer

Chicago, (AP)—Elmer, a deodorized skunk, and Pepper Martin, a bulldog, became great pals when Mrs. Dolores McCrossen, 40, acquired them as pups in Detroit two years ago.

Because a new landlord objected, Mrs. McCrossen had to get rid of Elmer and Pepper Martin had been upset and restless and ate little. Last night he disappeared.

Mrs. McCrossen asked police to help find Elmer. She said he'd be easy to identify. His toe nails were painted red. And she promised to do her best to get Elmer back if the dog were found.

OWENS-McCLAIN VOWS EXCHANGED

Mr. and Mrs. Farron Owens of Dukesdon are announcing the marriage of their youngest daughter, Sue, to Estis McClain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will McClain of Dukesdon.

The wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 1:45 in Mayfield, with Judge Anderson officiating.

Miss Wendie Childress and Mr. Roy Woods were the only attendants.

FULTON WOMAN'S CLUB HAS MEETING FRIDAY

The Fulton Woman's Club met in general session yesterday afternoon at the club home. The Hospitality Committee, with Mrs. Joe Davis as chairman, were the hostesses.

Mrs. Albert Pitzer was at the register and Mrs. Hugh Mac McClellan and Mrs. K. P. Dalton, Jr., acted as pages.

There were several visitors, among whom were 25 teachers of the Fulton city schools.

The Committee for Kentucky plan was presented and a substantial number of the members supported the project.

Mrs. Walter Voelkel was in charge of the program for the afternoon and presented the following program:

Miss Lois Jean Hineman sang "Romance" by Debussy. "Non Je n'ai plus au Bois" by Weckert, and "Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton. She was accompanied by Mrs. Haws.

Adron Doran, president of the Kentucky Education Association, was the principal speaker of the afternoon. Discussing the effort to increase teachers' salaries, Mr. Doran declared that aroused public opinion was necessary to obtain the desired upward revision. Apathy on the part of the people of the state caused teachers' salaries to fall to their present level, he said.

Glory to the name of Jesus! Once I stood for sin and shame; Now the songs of earth and heaven Join to bless that glorious name.

Tell abroad the Name of Jesus; 'Round the world His love proclaim Till earth's saved and ransomed millions Join to praise the Savior's Name.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

There'll be a lot of talk about shifts at the Football Coaches' Association meeting this weekend. One subject for discussion in the rules section is the "double shift," a still-legal device which tends to draw opposing teams offside. And then there's job shifting. A couple of dozen fairly prominent coaches either have found new jobs since the grid season ended or are looking for them.

Sports Before Your Eyes
The Rhode Island U. basketball team has averaged 108 points in its four games so far, but hasn't met the kind of opposition it can expect.

The "700" bowling clubs of America, with membership of more than 2,000 bowlers who have hit that figure, will hold their 1947 tournaments Jan. 11 to 19. The national football leagues are chuckling because their 1946 playoff game at Cleveland paid off at about $500 per winning player more than the 1946 All America conference game, which drew a bigger gate. Seems they use different systems of cutting the receipts. . . . John Kobs, Michigan State coach, considers the week-end meeting of the college Baseball Coaches' Association so important that he's bringing along publisher Nick Kerbawy mainly to keep tabs on the sessions.

Weekend Items
Jerry Kelly of the Boston pro basketball Celtics, is a hair stylist in the off-season. And probably he gets in somebody's hair on the court. . . . George Garland, who used to oarsmen's trunks when he rowed for Princeton 15 years ago, is secretary of the National Institute of Diaper Services. . . . Tickets for the recent Blue-Gray football game at Montgomery, Ala., were so scarce that two sports writers, Bert Frather of the Atlanta Constitution and Art Sydney of the Birmingham Post, had to buy them from speculators. . . . Wonder how they will turn up on the expense accounts?

'Dogs Overcome Early Cat Margin, Take Third Win

PUPS LOSE 20-18

Fulton's Bulldogs chased the Fulgham Black Cats up a hardwood tree last night in the new gymnasium to win easily, 55-33, after overcoming a first-quarter Fulgham lead.

The Black Cats were ahead 6-11 about midway in the first period for their largest margin of the evening, and began dropping into second place shortly after the second quarter started.

The Fulgham "B" team led the Fulton Pups all the way and eked out a 20-18 win in the opening game.

There were few whistles and lots of contact in the Pup-Kitten game, which developed into a considerably more of a Cat-Dog fight than the first-string contest. Hyland led the Pups with six points, followed by Collins and Byassee with five each. The Bulldog's victory last night was their third in five games this season. They have beaten South Fulton, Cuba and Fulgham while losing to Wickliffe and Cayce.

Billy Joe Forrest, who played the last half with four fouls against him, was high scorer for Fulton with 25 points, 11 of them in the fourth quarter. Billy Mac Bone was runner-up with 18 points from eight field goals and two free throws.

Humphries, who got 11, led the Cats, followed by Armbruster with 10.

The Fulton lads tried 18 fouls throws and connected on seven, while Fulgham made seven out of 12 attempts.

Better Radio Listening

(Terry Norman Publicity Chairman)

Among all our New Year resolutions might profitably be added, "I will resolve to improve my radio listening."

As an outgrowth of the study made the past year on radio programs and their influence, the Wisconsin Joint Committee on Better Radio Listening compiled two little booklets which are a true source of the ideal on the air. Many of us never stop to think whether a program is propaganda or not. Hours of time are thus wasted. The "Good Listening Movement" spread over Wisconsin like wildfire. All individuals and groups who helped sponsor this public service are well repaid for their efforts. Local Parent-Teachers Association led in the project.

After studying "Good Listening," soap operas have helped into true insignificance with their artificiality. Radio programs should encourage mental effort, counteract propaganda, be accurate, have good taste and carry no sensationalism.

America needs intellectual honesty in its thinking. Let us not be gullible to all evils of false doctrine. A monotonous, noisy program takes little effort—why should an audience tolerate it?

Radio programs should carry variety, spontaneity and good voices. News has its place and should be well mixed in the daily radio routine with symphony notes, book reviews, good speakers, panel discussions, forums and concerts. Some of the commentators who are authentic are E. Davis, Kalkren, Cliff, Uley, Bryson, R. Swing, E. Morrow, Wm. Shires and E. Tomlinson.

"A little learning is a dangerous thing. Drink deep or taste not the Florian spring."

There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain, And drinking largely sobers us again."

If Kentucky and Fulton are to stay on the job in eliminating child delinquency (from local outrages and reports elsewhere, vandalism is still a reality) parents and groups of citizens must likewise be on the job daily in educating parents of their responsibilities.

Your family is your future—protect it from all plagues in life.

Better radio listening will help all.

Let us help through radio to see that Kentucky continues to fight for better things, particularly better schools, better health service, and public welfare, cleaner and more progressive local government. Radio stations are helping.

"Better Radio Listening" may be secured by writing Mrs. E. H. Borsack, 709 Huron St., Madison, Wis.

Lexington—Principal speaker at a University of Kentucky convocation Jan. 14 will be Louis P. Lochner, chief of the Bureau of the Associated Press for 15 years.

Father Is Sure Girl Drugged

Ohio Professor Says He Has Reasonable Evidence Ex-Convict Used Narcotics

Columbus, O., Jan. 4—(AP)—Prof. E. E. Kimberly declared today he had "reasonable evidence" that his 20-year-old daughter was drugged during a two-day trip with an ex-convict. The Ohio State University instructor said that the daughter, Mary Virginia, mentioned taking "capsules" in an automobile tour that took in Cleveland and Lorain.

"However," he added, "she was under a doctor's sedative, after returning home late yesterday, and we don't know all about it yet."

He declined to discuss his evidence about a narcotic. Richmond H. Hemming, 42-year-old divorced man with whom Mary Virginia made the trip, was returned from Cleveland today to face a charge of being a suspicious person, filed by Kimberly.

"We will file other charges in connection with the abduction," the father declared.

Hemming, placed in jail by Police Chief Frank Cary of suburban Upper Arlington, has insisted Mary Virginia left Columbus with him New Year's day of her own free will and that they originally planned to be married at Bowling Green, Ohio. Hemming denied he had been given a drug.

Big Returns From Small Grain Field

Sowing small grain in 10 acres of disked lespedeza in the fall of 1945 proved profitable for Thomas James of Edmonson county. In 1946, he realized more than $1,000 from the field for pasture, hay, straw and balbo seed, the latter bringing him $450. Then he had enough seed left to sow 43 acres of balbo rye, 23 acres being where lespedeza hay had been cut.

Wall Street Report

New York, Jan. 4—(AP)—The late Friday recovery carried over on a selective basis in today's stock market although many leaders were indifferent.

Dealings were slow from the start, with the ticker tape frequently halting. Gains of fractions predominated near the final hour.

Reinvestment contingents still inclined to hold back bids pending congressional developments.

The President's message, possible labor rifts and more light on the course of business.

Attracting support were Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Baltimore & Ohio, Douglas Aircraft, Schenley, Allied Chemical, Electric Power & Light, Public Service of N. J., Air Reduction, North American and International Nickel. Minor declines were recorded for American Telephone, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, International Harvester, Boeing, Sperry, Anaconda, Westinghouse and U. S. Gypsum.

Religious? Box

Q—What is meant by the expression, "I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some (1 Cor. 9:22)." A—Paul never willingly disobeyed any requirement of God under Christianity to please anyone. But in the customs of the people that involved no principle of Christianity, he submitted. Without partaking of their sins, he made himself the equal of others, that he might lead them to Christ.

Q—Please explain why the Church of Christ does not join with the denominations in conducting union meetings.

A—The Church of Christ believes in unity, when the Word of God is the basis of that unity (see John 17:20-22). But the Church of Christ does not enter religious unions, when some of the commandments of the gospel must be regarded as being non-essential, and when those who participate can not abide by their convictions.

The various denominations have divided the commandments of Christ, according to their own liking, into essentials and non-essentials; while the Church of Christ regards each commandment of our Lord of equal importance with all of the other commandments He has given.

Union on any basis other than the Truth, is union at the sacrifice of Truth—a price our Lord would have no one pay. No end is good enough to warrant unscriptural or antiscritptural means of bringing it about.

Q—What is a denomination?

A—A denomination is a religious organization that is larger than a local congregation, but not large enough to include all Christians.

Q—Who is a sectarian?

A—A sectarian is "one of a religious sect. A narrow denominationalist."

Q—What is a protestant?

A—In the strictest sense, a protestant is one who protests against the teachings and practices of the Roman Catholic Church.
