We Have Been at Great Pains

To give the people of this community something tip-top in the way of Harness and Saddlery, and they are showing their appreciation of it. Mr. Jno. Skally, who is at the head of this department, has served a long apprenticeship at his trade, and offers our patrons the benefit of his experience. He is a good judge of leather and a select stock of factory made harness, but if you want a set that never was close to a sewing machine he will make you up something that will last until you tire of it.

In The Saddle Line.

Our Col. Talbot has costumed a long way from home. His saddles have a wide reputation and are much sought after. We have also a large stock of ready-made saddles.

MASKED MEN

Held up a Train This Morning.

HOW THE ACT WAS DONE

Political News—Fatal Accident in Louisville.

A FEW FEEDER MURDERED

SPECIAL TO NEW ERA.

Haw's Not W. Va., June 12.—This morning at the Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train known as the "F. F. V." Fast Flying Virginian, was rounding the well-known curve at this place it was suddenly brought to a standstill. The suddenness with which the train stopped frightened the passengers, who stuck their heads out of the window to find that the train was surrounded by masked men, who were armed with rifles and shot guns. The passengers were ordered to take their hands, put down the windows and remain quiet in their seats. The contents of the train were then searched for a number of minutes. It was not necessary to give them a second warning they were only too glad to remain quiet. The robbers at once attacked the express car and finally succeeded in getting in, but then their troubles began, as the express messenger did not know the combination. The robbers were, however, prepared for any emergency. They at once drilled a hole in the door of the safe, put in a tick of dynamite and in a few moments the safe lay in many pieces on the floor of the car, but a search for the money revealed the fact that there was none—the desperado had made a water-haul.

The fact that these men held up this train shows that they are not old hands at the business, for if they had been, they would have known that as the F. F. V. was a limited train little money was ever carried on it. The men who held the train up were evidently citizens of the surrounding country. They fired about one hundred shots so as to frighten the passengers and prevent them from interfering with their work.

The place that these men selected to rob the train was a most excellent one for the purpose, as it was on a curve, in such a dangerous place that the train always slows up almost to a snail's pace. On one side of the track not more than three feet from the side of the car is a mountain that towers more than two hundred feet above the track, while on the other side about four or five feet from the track is a precipice from the edge of which to the ground below is 275 feet. The roadbed at this point is cut out of the solid rock, as it was impossible to go around the mountain.

The Chesapeake & Ohio company will endeavor to catch the men who held up their train this morning.

A BROTHERLY AFFAIR.

Christian County Girl Secretly Married Last May.

Miss Sadie Mae Settle, a pretty young lady of Kentucky, in the Southern part of the county, and Mr. Ewing Draughon, of Springfield, were married at the latter town during the last of last month and kept the wedding a secret up to a few days ago. James L. Holman, a Justice of Peace, told the nuptials. The only witnesses were Mr. Ollie Sprague and Miss Jennie Draughon. After the ceremony the bride and groom parted. Mrs. Draughon went to visit a friend in Robertson county and the groom went to his own home. Last week a sister of the groom found out about the wedding and informed the parents of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Draughon were anxious to keep the marriage a secret until next September.

Two Deaths.

Mr. J. Wesley Ballard, an old and estimable citizen of the county, died at his home in the Pembroke vicinity Saturday. He had been sick for some time with bilious colic, but his death was not looked for up to a few hours before he died. Mr. Ballard had been a resident of Christian county since a youth and was favorably known all over this section. He was in the farming business and was quite successful. He was universally beloved as an honest man and good and kind neighbor.

The funeral services were held Sunday by Dr. W. L. Nourse, pastor of the North Street Presbyterian church. The remains were laid away in the family burying ground near Salubria.

Miss Willie Vaughn, the youngest daughter of Mr. W. T. Vaughn, one of Hopkinsville's best-known and liked citizens, died Saturday night after an illness of long duration. She was a victim of consumption.

For a number of weeks prior to her death, she had been confined to her bed, and on several occasions her condition had been so critical that she was thought to be dying. Recently her life had been hanging by a thread.

Miss Vaughn was about nineteen years old. She was pretty and gentle, and a favorite with all who knew her well.

Funeral services were held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon at Mr. Vaughn's residence on South Camp street. A large crowd of sorrowing relatives and sympathetic friends were present, and many beautiful flowers were laid on the casket. After a song service, Rev. King, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church made a brief and appropriate remarks. There was a prayer and the funeral cortege was formed. At the grave in Hopewell cemetery there was a simple service.

The Courier-Journal.

The Courier-Journal, in speaking of the commencement exercises of Centre College, has the following to say of Wallace Kelly: "The valedictory for students depart was won by Mr. Wallace Kelly, of Hopkinsville. Mr. Kelly is just twenty years of age, and won the honor in close competition with a large class. Mr. Kelly, like his predecessor, the valedictory for students last year, again demonstrates that brain and brawn are not incompatible, as he has not only stood very high in all studies, but has been a leading spirit in all athletic contests."

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not irritate the system, but whisks away their intestinal acts as a tonic and alternative. It cures the rheumatism and the headache, adding strength and giving tone to the system, thereby aiding Nature in her efforts to get rid of the poisons. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and digestive. Old people find it very helpful. What they need. Price 50¢ per bottle at R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

STRAYED—From the Crabtree farm on the Clarksville pike on June 17th, 1896, one sorrel horse about 17 hands high, 6 years old, black on right hind leg a little enlarged. Any information leading to his whereabouts, or any one returning the horse to Benbow & Son's livery stable, Hopkinsville, Ky., will be liberally rewarded. Respectfully, June 18, '96. J. M. Benbow & Son.

On Thursday June 16th, the Clifton Springs Hotel, located at Clifton Springs near Marion, Ky., on Ohio Valley Ry., was opened by Messrs. M. C. Thurman and Sons for the season. These gentlemen are veteran caterers and the Hotel under their management will be all that can be desired. Special low rate tickets to Clifton Springs and return will be on sale at principal ticket offices of Ohio Valley Ry., during the season.

In the confusion at the close of the Bivouac dinner some mistakes occurred. Ladies finding stray articles in their baskets will kindly return them to Mrs. Hunter Wood, who will be very glad to receive them. Among the articles lost, attention is especially called to a shawl, a tin cake box and a glass salad bowl. It is embarrassing to the ladies in charge from the fact that many of the articles missing, belong to persons not connected with the association, and in all compliance sent baskets of provisions.

The Drummer Wanted to Know. A good story, furnished the New Era by a friend, is told of R. Rev. T. U. Dailley, Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Kentucky. A drummer mistook him for another commercial tourist, and asked him if he represented a prominent or large house.

"Largest on earth," replied the Bishop.

"What's the name of the firm?" queried the drummer.

"Lord & Church," replied the imperious Bishop.

"H'm. Lord & Church? Never heard of it. Got branch houses anywhere?"

"Yes, branch houses all over the world."

"That's queer. Never heard of 'em. Is it boots and shoes?"

"No."

"Hats and caps?"

"Not that either."

"Oh, dry goods I suppose?"

"Well," said the Bishop, "some call it notions."

HER FEELINGS WOUNDED.

Amanda Owens Claims That her Affections have been Trifled With by N. W. Kirkpatrick.

THE FOLLOWS HAVE FILED A BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT FOR AMANDA OWENS, who states in her petition that by reason of the failure of N. W. Kirkpatrick to carry out a promise of marriage made to her her feelings have been damaged to such an extent that it will take thousands of dollars of his money to soothe them.

The plaintiff says that between nine and ten years ago she became acquainted with N. W. Kirkpatrick, and that there sprang up between them a friendship which soon ripened into love, and that at this request she became engaged to him, but that she was less than sixteen years of age she thought she did not have sufficient education to enable her to discharge properly the many duties of a wife, so it was decided that she should attend school for a year, and that the marriage should occur at the end of that time, but when the time arrived the defendant wanted her to continue at school longer, which she did. She claims that several different dates have been set for the marriage, but that each time the defendant has made some excuse and postponed the matter, always claiming that he still loved her and would marry her as soon as convenient. She says that not until the present year did he tell her that he did not intend to marry her at all. She states that she has always been willing to wait for him, and has on several occasions offered to carry out her part of the contract, that she has avoided the company of other men at his request and that she has so shaped her life as to fit her to become the defendant's wife, and that it is through no fault of hers that the marriage has not taken place. She says that her feelings have been greatly hurt, that her mental worry over the defendant's failure to carry out the contract has been great, and that she thinks she has been damaged to the extent of $10,000, and prays for judgment in that sum.

The defendant has not yet filed his answer to the suit, but he will deny that the plaintiff is entitled to any damages from him.

This suit has created considerable stir in high colored society where both parties have for some years figured as leaders. Kirkpatrick, the defendant, is a brother-in-law of Peter Postell, the wealthy colored grocer. He has for several years conducted a saloon on Sixth street, and he is said to have accumulated quite a little fortune.

STRENGTH AND ACTIVITY SHOWN.

No Change to Report in Values of Lugs Or Common Leaf.

The following report is furnished to the New Era by Glover & Dunnell, Louisville Tobacco Warehouse:

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,647 hbls., with receipts for the same period 3,823 hbls. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 82,347 hbls. Sales of the crop of 1895 on our market to this date amount to 79,684 hbls.

The sales on our market this week included 1046 hbls. of dark tobacco. The market shows a little more strength and activity for the good grades of leaf in perfect condition, but there is no change to report in values either for lugs or the common or non-descript leaf.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco 1895 crop:

Trash. $1.00 to $1.25

Common to medium lugs 1.00 to 1.50

Dark rich lugs, ex quality 1.50 to 2.00

Common leaf 2.50 to 3.00

Medium to good leaf 3.50 to 4.00

Leaf of extra leaf 4.00 to 5.00

Wrappy stems 7.00 to 8.00

FAIR CHANCE FOR AN OUTING.

Arrangements May Be Made For the Engagement to Be Held.

The members of Co. D, of this city, will be glad to learn that though the Governor has rescinded the order for an encampment of the State Guard this year there is said to be a fair chance of an outing yet. An official high in the service gives it as his opinion that arrangements will yet be made to carry out the provisions of the original order, which disallows the State Guard to be called into the field.

July 1st. The Governor's only reason for declaring the camp off was a lack of funds, and it is believed that this difficulty can be avoided. Some of the officials of the State Guard have been devising schemes for holding a camp, and as soon as Gov. Bradley returns from St. Louis they will have a consultation with him. It is expected then that a final announcement will be made.

Will Landers Hold On?

It is believed among not a few of those about the State House and the Court that the Court of Appeals will follow up Saturday's decision with one which will, in a measure, reverse the McCullough-Shelley case, and which will hold that the Mayor of Louisville and the Judge of the First Appellate district cannot be constitutionally elected at the same election. Such a decision would have the effect of allowing Mayor Todd and Judge Landers to hold for another year from next November. What authority or reason, if any, there is for believing this is not known. It may be idle gossip, and it may be a straight "tip."—Frankfort Capital.

The New Turpentine Law.

The following is a new law regulating turpentine tappers which will take effect July 1st, 1896: "The managers of any turpentine, gravel or plank road shall permit ministers of the Gospel to travel on the road without paying toll, when on ministerial duty, and shall charge no toll against scholars going to and from school, or persons going to and from any place of religious worship, or funeral procession going to and from place of burial; but if any other persons than scholars go to and from school, and the driver operate a vehicle, full toll shall be charged and collected from such vehicle."

This testimonial is uncolored and for the benefit of humanity. My daughter has been subject to severe colds and cough and often taken with violent coughing spells at night. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is the only preparation I have found that will relieve her. I think it is as necessary in the household as a life preserver on a steamboat.

Respectfully,

B. L. J. J. J.

Will Camp a Week.

Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. George C. Long, the following party went Tuesday to Pee Dee, where they will spend a week camping:

Misses Nettie, Lizzie and Nannie Long, Mary Flack, Daisy Wood; Messrs. Clifton Long, Stanley Long, Jim Young, Dan Young, Clifton Walton, Joe Gant, and Ellis McKee.

Have Gone to St. Louis.

Only three Hopkinsville men went to St. Louis for the purpose of attending the Republican convention. They are Mr. John P. Frouge, Maj. S. R. Crum, and Hon. C. M. Brown. It is doubtful that any other of them will go, as they are not as prominent in the National convention as they are here in the county primaries.
