Will Ask Board To Fix Wages In Cleaning Industry

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6—(AP)—L. C. Willis, state Industrial Relations Commissioner, said he would ask Gov. S. Meen Willis this week to appoint a wage board to fix new salary minimums for women and children in Kentucky's laundry, dyeing and dry cleaning industry.

Present minimums in the industry range from 20 to 28 cents an hour for a 44-to-48 hour work week. The commissioner has accepted the 100 percent increase in the state's minimum pay scale for women and children employed in general industry. He said this new scale would become effective about March 1.

The new minimums: 20.00 for first 48 hours, 75 cents overtime; 4.00 to 20.00, 45 cents and 67 1-2 cents, and all other territory, 40 cents and 60 cents.

New Bills Would Pay Veterans Billions In Bonuses, Bonds

Washington, Jan. 6—(AP)—The rush is on in Congress to shell out more billions to veterans.

Lawmakers are tossing in bills and getting campaigns under way for such things as:

1. A soldier's bonus;
2. Immediate cashing of terminal leave bonds; and
3. A boost in government payments to veterans going to school or learning new jobs by working at them.

Eighteen of the first 157 bills received by the House would do something for those who served in the armed forces. These 18 cover programs that might total $20,000,000,000 or $30,000,000,000 in new outlays to ex-GIs.

And Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.), the new chairman, is concentrating on plans to keep the House Veterans Committee busy.

One of the first things she told a reporter, "will be to lift the $200 ceilings on allowances for on-the-job training. It is manifestly unfair."

Mrs. Rogers introduced a bill on that. So did several other legislators.

Increasing the number of amputees eligible for free cars (Congress provided $30,000,000 for this purpose last year); expanding out patient treatment to help more veterans and relieve the shortage of hospital beds; extending educational provisions of the GI Bill of Rights; and improving arrangements for supplying artificial limbs.

Judging by the number of new bills, a heavy demand is building up for immediate redemption of some $2,700,000,000 worth of terminal leave bonds. These were given to unlisted men by the last Congress to make up for the fact that officers got long leaves with pay before they were discharged. But enlisted men have to hang on to their bonds for at least five years, even though the bonds draw two and a half per cent interest.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), author of one bond cashing bill, said it "wouldn't cost the government a cent, because the government can borrow money to redeem the bonds at less than the interest it pays on them."

Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) has come forward with a World War II bonus bill. It would ante up $4 a day for service at home and $5 for service overseas.

Rep. Landis (R-Ind.), figuring on reintroducing a bonus bill for $1 a day for duty at home and $1.50 for overseas service, said the cost of such payments has been estimated at $4,000,000,000. On that basis, the check for the Pace Bill might reach $12,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000.

British Map Huge Offensive To Crush Jewish Rebellion

London, Jan. 6—(AP)—Government sources said today British Military Authorities were preparing the biggest offensive in modern Palestine's history to crush what they called "the open rebellion against law and order" by Jewish extremists.

All branches of Britain's army in the Holy Land, estimated to total about 100,000 men, will take part, these sources said. Troops from Egypt are reaching the Holy Land by road and rail as reinforcements.

The trigger for the operation is expected to be British cabinet ratification of proposals formulated in conferences among Palestine's high commissioner, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Field Marshal Lord Montgomery Prime Minister Attlee, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones.

The informants said the British government took the view that whatever settlement finally emerged for Palestine, the re-imposition of law and order was Britain's first obligation.

Asked whether the U. S. department would be informed if large scale operations were put into effect, a foreign office spokesman said: "There would be no advantage in informing the American authorities of whatever day-to-day

Waterfield Is First Choice As A Candidate

County Officials Say He Has Best Chance To Win

KILGORE RUNS SECOND

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5—More than a third of 296 Democratic County officials expressing an opinion, believe Harry Lee Waterfield, Clinton, has "the best chance to be elected Governor," final results in a survey showed today.

In second place is Ben Kilgore, Franklin, New Year's Day, however, Kilgore said he would not be a candidate. He said he would support Waterfield.

Third choice in the survey is Congressman Earle C. Clements, Morganfield. Tom Underwood, Lexington is fourth.

Official Conducts Poll

The survey was conducted by a Frankfort Democrat holding a responsible public office. It was launched November 30. Doubled-postcard results were mailed to 525 Democratic public officials in 90 counties. They included County judges, clerks, County attorneys, circuit clerks, sheriffs, jailers, and tax commissioners.

The survey asked: "Would you please indicate on the attached cards which of the persons named has, in your opinion, the best chance to be elected Governor next fall?"

The ballot-card carried the four names along with a "write-in" space. In all, 296 replies were received. This is a 56 percent response. The vote was:

Waterfield 103, or 35 percent of replies.

Kilgore 77, or 26 percent.

Clements 72, or 24.3 percent.

Underwood 21, or 7.1 percent.

"Write-in" candidates, 7.6 percent.

Second Survey Possible

The 10 "write-in" candidates and their votes were:

Keen Johnson, Richmond, 6; Philip P. Ardery, Frankfort, 5; Noble J. Gregory, Mayfield, 4; Frank L. Chelf, Lebanon, 3; John A. Whitaker, Russellville, 2; Wilson W. Wyatt, Louisville, 2; and A. B. Chandler, Versailles, 2.

J. Lee Moore, Franklin; Osborn Kitchen, no address, and a Tuggle, no address one each.

The official conducting the poll wishes to remain anonymous. The final result shows little change from the partial result he announced earlier. In the light of Kilgore's withdrawal, the official said he might conduct a second poll at a later date.

$1 Million Fire At Tiptonville

Lake County's Biggest Industry, Soya Mill, And Yanes Sawmill Destroyed

Tiptonville, Tenn., Jan. 6—(AP)—Lake county's largest industry, the West Tennessee Soya Mill, and the Yanes Sawmill which had a hardwood plant with a 600,000 board feet monthly capacity, had been virtually destroyed here today by fires that raged within 10 hours of each other, and caused more than $1,000,000 damage.

Plant manager P. T. Pinckney of the Soya Mill, which annually processed the bulk of West Tennessee's soybean crop, estimated loss to the mill's operations plant and three warehouses at $850,000 to $1,000,000. He said some 6,000 tons of soy beans, an undetermined amount of cotton seed and $20,000 worth of new machinery were destroyed in the early morning blaze Sunday.

W. C. Haynes, owner of the sawmill leveled Saturday night, placed his loss at between $40,000 and $60,000. The origin of both fires was undetermined.

3 Plane Crashes Last Night Kill 5, Injure 21 In East

Five persons were killed and 21 injured in three plane crashes last night during a sudden blinding snowstorm that engulfed large areas of the east coast.

The worst accident was at Carmel, N. J., where a nationwide Air Transport Service, Inc., passenger plane crashed in a wooded area, killing the co-pilot and two passengers and injuring 19 other persons.

A small private plane bound from Mt. Pleasant, Mich., to Florida, crashed in Scott County, Va., killing its two occupants.

At Jones Beach, bathing resort near New York, 16 persons escaped serious injury as an American Airlines DC-3 two-motor plane made a crash landing on the beach a few feet from the water. Only the pilot and co-pilot were injured and the stewardess and 13 passengers were unhurt.

The freak snowstorm, accompanied by rain and sleet, covered an area estimated by the Weather Bureau in New York to extend as far as 250 miles from that city.

Only one person on the plane that crashed at Carmel escaped injury as the ship skidded over a farm house and ploughed through 50 yards of woodland, leaving sheared trees in its wake.

Passengers extinguished a small fire and the fuselage remained intact although the left wing was torn off and the nose crumpled in the crash.

The young couple killed in the Virginia crash left the Mt. Pleasant airport Saturday morning on an air tour sponsored by the Gulf Oil Company. They were enroute to the Miami Air Show.

The crash landing at Jones Beach came when the plane had only a five-minute fuel supply left. The pilot dropped flares and managed to spot the beach through the heavy storm. The pilot suffered a lip laceration and the co-pilot lacerations and a possible concussion.

The plane had left New York for Los Angeles but turned back when it was unable to land at Washington enroute.

Truman Outlines Labor Program To Congress; Asks Action To Outlaw Jurisdictional Strikes, Stop Boycotts, Set Up Joint Survey Commission

President Warns Against Adoption Of "Punitive" Labor Legislation In Address To Joint Session Today

URGES COOPERATION IN GOVERNMENT

Washington, Jan. 6—(AP)—President Truman today called on the Republican-controlled Congress to enact a four-point labor program designed to prevent strikes which "baffle the nation's economy."

Appearing in person before a joint session of the Senate and House, Mr. Truman proposed:

1. Enacting of legislation outlawing the jurisdictional strike as "indefensible."
2. Enactment of further legislation prohibiting secondary boycotts which involve "unjustifiable objectives." He said boycotts which are intended to protect wage rates and working conditions should be distinguished from those furthering jurisdictional disputes.
3. Legislation providing machinery whereby unsettled disputes over existing collective bargaining agreements may be referred "by either party to final and binding arbitration" and extension of facilities within the labor department for assisting collective bargaining.
4. Provision by Congress for the appointment of a temporary joint commission to inquire into the entire field of labor-management relations and to make legislative recommendations not later than March 15.

Mr. Truman cautioned Congress against adoption of "punitive legislation" and added: "We must not, in order to punish a few labor leaders, pass vindictive laws which restrict the proper rights of the rank and file of labor."

"We must not under the stress of emotion, endanger our American freedom by taking ill-considered action which leads to results not anticipated or desired," he said.

Republican leaders of the new Congress take early action to continue throughout the next fiscal year the war excise tax rates, which under the present law, expired next June 30.

Congress cooperate in a program of "stringent economy" which he said he practiced in preparing the new fiscal budget.

The Senate ratify peace treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary after they are signed next month in Paris.

On this point, he said, that further disputes and delay on the treaties would "gravely jeopardize political stability in the countries concerned for many years." He added that the government did not regard the parts as "completely satisfactory."

The policies which the United States pursued in negotiations on these treaties, Mr. Truman said, made it clear it would not consent to settlement "at the expense of principles we regard as vital to a just and enduring peace."

"Our policies will be the same during the forthcoming negotiations next month in Moscow on the German and Austrian treaties and during future conferences on the Japanese treaty."

Turning to atomic energy, the President reiterated that the United States will seek "no monopoly for ourselves or for any group of nations," but only safeguards insuring no nation "will be able to use this power for military purposes."

"In the vigorous and effective development of peaceful uses of atomic energy rests our hope that this new force may ultimately be turned into a blessing for all nations," he said.

Asks Universal Training

Mr. Truman placed upon Congress "responsibility for maintaining our armed forces at the strength necessary for our national safety" and renewed his plea for a universal training program. He also called again for a merger of the armed forces, asserting he would send a separate message soon calling for establishment of a single department of national defense.

On the economic front, Mr. Truman outlined five major policies calling for:

- (A) Promotion "of greater harmony" between management and labor.
- (B) Restriction of monopoly and unfair business practices, assistance to small business and promotion of private enterprise.
- (C) Continuation "of an aggressive program of home construction."
- (D) A balanced budget during the next fiscal year with a substantial surplus and
- (E) Protection of "a fair level of return to farmers in post-war agriculture."

Asserting that 1947 promises great opportunities for all, he said it is up to industry "not to hold the line on existing prices, but to make reductions whenever profits justify." It is up to labor, he said, "to refrain from pressing for unjustified wage increases that will force increases in the price level."

ers were unhurt.

The crash landing at Jones Beach came when the plane had only a five-minute fuel supply left. The pilot dropped flares and managed to spot the beach through the heavy storm. The pilot suffered a lip laceration and the co-pilot lacerations and a possible concussion.

The plane had left New York for Los Angeles but turned back when it was unable to land at Washington enroute.

Many Nations Interested In Antarctica

By Dewitt Mackenzie

AP Foreign Affairs Staff

Your columnist took the occasion in last Saturday's article to emphasize that after all we do live in "one world" and that the interests of each nation are interlocked with those of all other countries.

We return to this thought today to remedy an oversight. It must be admitted that when I spoke of an interdependent globe, I didn't have in mind our relations to the frozen wastes of Antarctica. Week-end developments, however, direct our attention to the highly important fact that an international race is developing to strike claims around the South Pole.

Having just got out of bed after a session with flu, we peered guiltily at regarding Antarctica with a hostile eye at this writing. The National Geographic Society reminds us that "explorers have found it cruel and rugged, colder than the Arctic, and swept by pounding gales and snowstorms," and that "Antarctica as a whole is higher above the sea than any other continent, probably averaging 6,000 feet in altitude." Hence the hostile eye of one who has been suffering chills.

Still, the National Geographic also reminds us that scientists believe Antarctica holds mineral resources valuable to mankind. Indications are that a million years ago this polar region had a climate favoring vegetation such as the United States now has. Beneath the ice-cap may lie vast wealth, including minerals which can be utilized in developing atomic energy. Add to this the fact that Antarctica's area is estimated at some 5,250,000 square miles (the area of continental U.S. is about 3,000,000) and you have a mighty bone of contention.

With America's big expedition under Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd well on its way to Antarctica, Argentina now has started one.

Well Done

Kansas City, Jan. 5.—Firemen—battling a stubborn blaze in a tavern and restaurant—remembered the three-pound meat loaf they had put in the oven at No. 9 station two hours earlier for their Sunday dinner.

Patrolman William Redmon eased their worries by hurrying to the station and besting the meat loaf at noon. But the dinner wasn't rescued until fireman B. F. Merino was overcome by smoke and was sent back to the station at 2 p.m.

Even so, "It was the driest meat loaf I ever ate," Merino said later. "I think it was overdone."

Literary Translation

She returned to find the Japanese assistant librarian already busy at work trimming it—limb by limb with pruning shears.

CMH Winner, Through With White Elephants, Fine Example Of Hero Fully Adjusted To Peace

By Hal Boyle

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Jay Zeamer, Jr., says he is giving up "white elephants" and settling down.

Jay is a 28-year-old former lieutenant colonel in the Air Corps who won a Congressional Medal of Honor early in the Southwest Pacific campaign. He piloted his crippled B-17 home from an important photographic reconnaissance and mapping mission after personally knocking down one of five Japanese fighters destroyed by his plane's guns from a force of twenty attackers.

"I think I'm pretty well adjusted," said the ex-officer, a quiet young man with graying hair who now is an aeronautical power plant engineer with the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corp.

Thy bullet wounds in both his arms and legs have healed, and the limp and stiffness are going out of his left knee, pulped by a shell-burst. Only a few of his fellow workers know that the neat small rosette in his lapel signifies the nation's highest award for battle valor, and they had to do a lot of asking.

"Zeamer wants to forget everything about the war except the friendship made in those days of 'the close comradeship I ever knew before or since.'"

"When we used to lie in our tents in the Pacific with the mosquitoes feeding on us," he said, "I thought that when I got home I would get me a boat, an airplane, a house of my own—all the play toys you can't live in the army."

Zeamer kept on thinking of those things while doctors whittled at his knee in three operations and after he was back in Massachusetts Institute of Technology studying to be an aeronautical engineer. Then he got his job and set about doing the things he had dreamed of. "I didn't think I was restless the way a lot of the fellows feel after coming back," he said. "But I guess I was. I got mixed up in all kinds of things. I almost made a down payment on an apartment house. Boy, am I glad I didn't! That would have been a crazy situation to get into."

"I sank $2,000 in a speedboat and lost the engine coming back in a storm from my first trip. 'Now I'm ready to sell it to somebody else and let them have the expense. I guess that's a readjustment. I've got that out of my system. But I'd always wanted that boat.'"

"I ordered a big fancy automobile. I thought I might as well have a thing. But I had a chance to buy a smaller car and took it. I was lucky there, too."

"I finally decided most of the things I thought I'd wanted were just white elephants. I've seen a lot of veterans get in too deep buying things they really didn't need."

"I'm willing to drop most things now. They just take up time, and there is only so much time in a day. If I had all those things—a boat, a house, an airplane—it would be a full time just taking care of them. I'm through picking up white elephants."

"Now I have a single room in a house. I'm satisfied. Yes, I guess I'm happy. I don't have any plans to get married. I like all the girls, but I haven't got any lined up."

Zeamer is feeling again the urge "to do more flying," but thinks he has got any other "post-war restlessness" out of his system.

"Yes, I think I'm adjusted," he said seriously. "But I don't know. I might cut loose any time now and break my leg ice skating. I'd like to learn to ski too."

Jay thinks the gallon of blood he lost in the combat flight that won him his Medal of Honor was a small price to pay for the philosophic principle the experience taught him:

"I learned that there is always a way—that you can do anything if you set your mind to it and work hard enough for it."

If all veterans were like Zeamer, the rehabilitation psychiatrists could all take a prolonged vacation.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Bob Feller has just had himself incorporated. Wonder if that means Bill Veck will have to dicker with the board of directors over Bob's salary. Come to think of it, when a ball player develops a "corporation" it usually leads to a reduction in the pay check. Midwestern report says an effort by an "outside promoter" to stage college basketball doubleheaders in Cincinnati hasn't met with success because the promoter didn't offer the college teams as good playing conditions or as big crowds as they found in their own gyms.

Ad Lewandowski, Nebraska athletic director, proposes that the Big Six should hold back financial aid to athletes until their sophomore year. He figures that would minimize big offers. His schumacher, recently released by the Giants, may look on with his old pal Carl Hubbell in the Giant Farm system. Or maybe he could find a job for Hal in Carl's new capacity as a member of the Hawthorn, N. J., Recreation Committee. Bob Healey, Georgia's basketball center, never saw a football game until last September and says he still doesn't like a game in which one or two men get all the attention. The Chicago Bears drew 766,757 spectators in 1946 and about 19 percent of them—155,072—turned out for their three games against the football Giants. Bert Bell, National Football League Commissioner, saw his brother, John, inaugurated governor of Pennsylvania the other day. Bert probably told him that he, too, started to fill out an unfinished term (Elmer Layden's) and wound up with a steady job.

team did in the Gator Bowl at night spend less and come up with a stake winner. The racetrack, W. J. Kendrick, the Norman Park, Ga., junior college king, turned up in Havana barefooted for a recent football game, he explained he had removed his shoes for a rest and had lost them.

Today a year ago—Arthur Devlin, Lake Placid, N. Y., won the Torger Tolle Memorial ski jump, soaring 148 feet.
Three years ago—Lieut. Col. William J. Bingham, Harvard athletic director, was named chairman of football rules committee.
Five years ago—Santa Anita definitely cancelled its race meeting.
Ten years ago—Fred Perry made pro tennis debut, defeating Ellsworth Vines before crowd of 17,630 fans who paid $58.119.

The football building program at the University of Kentucky ran into big money—in donations. The handouts jumped in six figures.
Specially the Athletic Association received $103,533.06 from the "alumni and friends of the university."
So said U. K. President H. L. Donovan. He disclosed the figures in his annual report to the trustees of the school.

The Bugaters' Club Hunter-Club has elected W. G. Mefford of Scott county as its president. The club has members in nine counties—Scott, Woodford, Franklin, Anderson, Fayette, Spencer, Shelby, Bourbon and Harrison.

Kentucky Sports

By The Associated Press
It's foaling season in the Bluegrass horse country.

For the next four months there'll be plenty of activity—and plenty of frisky coits and fillies on Central Kentucky breeding farms. From among them might come the 1950 Kentucky Derby winner. Or the winner of some other major stake.

One thing is certain: This year's crop of youngsters will be the most expensive in many years.

Breeding fees are up. Some of them doubled for matings to better known stallions. A $1,000 fee is not uncommon.

With it goes the same risk. An owner may spend a tidy sum for bookies a well known stallion and come up with a bust. Or he

Radiant Living

Devotional for training the spiritual life.

By Rev. J. C. Matthews

Scripture for to day: "All scripture is giving by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2 Timothy 3:16, 17).

MY BIBLE AND I
"We've traveled together, my Bible and I.
Through all kinds of weather, with smile or with sigh;
In sorrow or sunshine, in tempest or calm;
Thy friendship unchanging, my lamp and my path."

"We've traveled together, my Bible and I.
When life had grown weary, and death e'en was nigh;
But all through the darkness of mist or of wrong,
I found there a solace, a prayer, and a song."

So row who shall part us, my Bible and I?
Shall 'ism, or schisms, or new lights who try?
Shall shadow or substance, or stone for good bread,
Supplant thy sound wisdom, give folly instead?

Ah, no, my dear Bible, exponent of light!
Thou sword of the Spirit, put error to flight!
And still through life's journey, until my last sigh,
We'll travel together, my Bible and I."
