UN Debates
Trieste Adm.
Under Council
Unanimous
Consent Held
Impossible*AUSTRALIA DISSENTS

Lake Success, N. Y., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Australia appeared today to be the only hold-out against the big power foreign ministers' decision to place Trieste under the administration of the United Nations Security Council.

The council was scheduled to meet at 2 p. m. (CST) to accept responsibility for the Adriatic port as its first peace-maintenance project under a governor to be appointed by the council after the signing of the Italian peace treaty in February.

The big powers now have abandoned hope for unanimity on the decision on Trieste, debate on which began last Tuesday with Australia dissenting on principle.

At that time, the new members of the council—Belgium, Colombia and Syria—asked for more time to study the proposal, but since have indicated that they would vote for the project.

Australian Delegate Norman J. O. Makin, the current chairman of the 11-nation council, argued that there was no specific charter provision for an administration such as that arranged for Trieste.

Britain, the United States, Russia, France and China, all permanent members of the council, joined in the counter argument that the council had broad powers under the charter to work for the maintenance of peace.

Prior to last-minute consultations with his legal advisor, Makin indicated he might abstain from voting. The big powers were assured of at least eight votes on a proposal needing an affirmative majority of seven, and they probably could muster a total of ten.

The Trieste problem was put over on Tuesday until this afternoon in the hope that the vote of acceptance would be unanimous.

In the meantime, the council yesterday began a prospectively long and stubborn debate centering on the United States and Russia over the world-wide arms reduction program recommended by the General Assembly in December.

The main contenders came to grips immediately, disregarding Makin's opening plea for harmony and an Australian compromise proposal that would put an arms reduction commission to the drafting task immediately, as demanded by Russia, and also give a free rein for further development of the American atomic control program adopted by the atomic energy commission.

Under the Australian proposal, these efforts would converge at some time in the future.

The opening round of debate developed on a familiar pattern.

Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko contended the American delegation is seeking to stall on arms reduction and American delegate Hershel V. Johnson stood firm for priority of atomic control discussions as the basis of disarmings.

The Australian compromise also would call on the military staff committee immediately to determine the needs of the proposed international police force which would implement drastic decisions of the council.

Water Turns Green
And City Engineer
Says He's Pleased

Rawlins, Wyo.—AP—Green water has appeared in the taps of Rawlins homes, to the great delight of Ben G. Davis, city pipeline superintendent.

Dye was dropped into a test well 40 miles south of here and reached Rawlins two months later, having traveled an underground water course.

Davis explained that the water's arrival proved the existence of a subterranean trough atop the Continental Divide and opened the way for valuable supplementation of the city's water supply.

Helium is injected into oil sands to chart underground movement of oil deposits and gases.

Burley Prices
Hit New Low

Average Per Hundred
Of $42.03 Recorded In
Warehouse Sales

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The statewide average price paid for burley tobacco in Kentucky dipped again yesterday, to $42.03 a hundred pounds, the State Agriculture Department reported.

The average was 92 cents below the season's high recorded last Tuesday and 26 cents beneath its Wednesday average.

The department said 21 Kentucky burley markets auctioned 10,475,733 pounds for $4,403,179.75 yesterday. No sales were conducted at Paducah and Winchester.

An 80-cent drop was recorded on Green River leaf markets yesterday. The average for the markets in Owensboro, Henderson and Madisonville was $22.76 a hundredweight. A total of 433,285 pounds returned growers $98,594.86.

One-sucker sales in Murray averaged $26.74 on the turnover of 336,450 pounds, which brought producers $89,597.85.

Madisonville's northern fire-cured market sold 6,425 pounds for $1,304.56, an average of $20.30, which was $1.03 less than the previous day's average.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said Wednesday's sales throughout the burley belt totaled 16,499,068 pounds, returning growers an average of $41.82.

Tennessee's average was $41.80 while other states' average was $38.70, the federal department said. It added the season's average for the burley belt, through Wednesday's sales, was $41.12.

CHINA IN CHARGE

Peiping, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Gen. Huang Shih-Hui, director of Chiang Kai-Shek's Manchurian headquarters at Mukden, today told Chinese newsmen that formal negotiations with Soviet authorities for return of Dairen to China would begin soon.

Huang, who stopped here en route to Nanking, said no formal negotiations have been held yet.

He said National troops that pushed into Kwantung Peninsula north of Dairen weeks ago have not advanced from positions some 15 miles from Dairen where the troops halted to prevent any possibility of incidents with Russians in Dairen.

The Soviets have occupied and administered Dairen since war's end. An August, 1945, Sino-Soviet treaty provides the city shall be an open port, administered by China.

Huang said occupation of Dairen was an international question which could not be decided by military operations. The government will take only diplomatic steps to find an appropriate solution, he added.

The United States a few days ago asked that the Chinese and Russian governments open the port of Dairen. The request followed the withdrawal from Dairen of a small U. S. Navy courier vessel 20 minutes after receipt of an ultimatum from the Russian commander. The vessel had overstayed by two hours its 48 hour permit.

Black Mountain Coal
Corporation Suffers
Loss Of Thousands

Harlan, Ky., Jan. 10.—(AP)—A midnight curfew was in effect here today following the issuance of warrants for two men in connection with the $4,083 robbery of the Black Mountain Coal Corporation at Keniv, Ky., Tuesday.

Zester Bowling, police chief of nearby Black Mountain, identified the men named in the armed-robbery warrants as Cadaza George Dewey Saylor and William Edward (Rube) Alred, both of Walkins, Ky.

Mayor John Bates of Harlan imposed as he curfew. He announced additional officers had been named to the police force in an attempt to curb thefts.

An attempted break-in at the Green Motor Company was listed by Police Chief Harmon Noe as the latest in a recent series. The officer said the break-in was thwarted by a night watchman who fired shots at the would-be robbers. They fled in a truck, Noe added.

Chief Bowling said four persons, whose names he withheld, had identified Alred and Saylor as participants in the robbery at Keniv. The coal firm's chief clerk, H. L. Parkinson, Jr., said the robbery netted $4,083.

Rockland, Me.—AP—Puzzled residents have learned that Capt. Bill Wincapaw, 61, New England's flying Santa Claus, isn't fooling when he makes brief landings and takeoffs in the freshwater of Chickawake Lake.

The reason, Capt. Bill said, is to wash off brine accumulated on his plane's pontoons in sea landings.

Wincapaw is widely known along the New England coast for his Christmas-time flights when he drops gift packages to lonely lighthouse families.

Theme Of The Week At Murray
Written By Ivan Jones

Ivan M. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Jones, and a student at Murray State College, wrote the current outstanding theme of the week at that institution. The theme, taken from the "College News" and entitled, "I Could Have Happened To You," follows:

Like most ex-G.I.'s the most interesting part of my life up to date occurred during the period I spent in the United States Navy. It was at this time that I had my most exciting experience and also my most embarrassing moment. To get the full meaning of my blunder, I shall relate some of my previous background to substantiate a general cause for this stupid and absurd situation.

I graduated from high school on April 29, 1945, and left the following day for the navy. After eight weeks of boot training at Great Lakes Naval Station, I had the high rating of seaman second class, even though I had practically no knowledge of seamanship, but definitely flat feet. After this I was sent to Shoemaker, Calif., for further assignment. It was from this point that I received my first ship the U.S.S. Magaffin (APA 199). Aboard this vessel I went many and sundry places. It was at Guam that the following incident happened.

It was early in November that we were at Guam. The exact day I do not remember, but it was to be an unforgettable chapter in my naval career. On this particular day I had duty in the Captain's gig. We had brought him to the beach for a conference. We had secured the gig to a long pier float, which had the width to accommodate the passage of two people, but no more. After checking to see if all was well, the coxswain left to procure something for our appetites. As was his custom on these runs, he had been gone some time, and I was watching eagerly for his return when I noticed a man of medium build walking down the float. At the distance he was, I could not tell whether he was an officer or an enlisted man. Being conscious of the fact that in this particular area the officers were not too strict about our saluting, I paid little attention to the on-coming person. I did notice, however, that he had no hat or tie, but he was wearing an officer's jacket. As was my usual custom, I spoke and did nothing more. After looking a proverbial hole through me, he spoke.

"Don't you ever salute an officer?"

A little frightened and still doubtful of his being one, I said, "Yes, I salute officers."

Then he put it this way, "Well would you salute my Admiral?"

Again, I said, "Yes." However, his statement was slightly confusing to me.

"I bet you don't even know who your Admiral is?" was his next question.

Boastfully and confidently I said, "Certainly I do. Admiral Nimitz is, and a mighty fine one if I may say so."

At this his face lighted up and with a slight grin he said, "May I introduce myself, sailor? I am Admiral Nimitz."

Basing their choice for the first time on a rating system, the judges selected Mr. Whitman for his work as chairman of the Lions Youth Activity Committee which assisted in many local benefit drives and youth assistance programs; as originator of the Lions college apprentice training program; his work as a member of the American Legion, Reserve Officers Association, Y Men's Club, Red Cross Water Safety Committee, Southwestern Drive, Community Fund, Chamber of Commerce Welcome Breakfast Committee, Eastside Cumberland Presbyterian Church, E. Hitchhike-Killers
Admit Murdering
Good Samaritan

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Two hitchhiking youths who first met as criminals in a marine brig were held on murder charges today in the slaying of a good samaritan motorist and state safety commissioner Lynn Bomar said one of them admitted the victim had been tied to a tree.

Commissioner Lynn Bomar listed the pair as James D. Sandusky, 19, Nashville, and John T. Kelly, 20, Marion, Ill. Bomar said they had related in detail the slaying of J. Edward Sprouse, 36, of Clarksville, Tenn.

The youths led state police to the body of Sprouse in the woods near Centerville, Tenn., Tuesday night after they were captured by a posse near Athens, Ala. Bomar said the suspects engaged in a running gun battle with Alabama police earlier, but surrendered without resistance Tuesday night.

The present rate, set in the 1938 Fair Labor Standards Law, is 40 cents an hour. All firms doing business in more than one state have to pay their help at least that much.

Pepper said in an interview that a new standards is "vitally necessary." He pushed through the senate last year a bill to set it at 65 cents. The measure, however, got snagged in the house committee.

The Florida senator, saying his new bill would be ready today, added that it calls for a dime more than his old one because "conditions have changed and the cost of living is up."

Mr. Truman didn't say how high he wants to go. But in two messages to congress this week he emphasized that he considers an increase necessary.

Neither Pepper's bill nor any other is likely to slide through without a tough scrap.

Many Dixie legislators have fought an increase on the grounds it would hit southern industry harder than northern.

Lawmakers from farm states are expected to yell, too, unless labor costs are included when parity prices are figured on agricultural products. They clamored a provision for that into Pepper's bill before it passed the senate last April. (Parity is a price intended to assure farmers the same purchasing power they had during some favorable period in the past, usually 1909-1914.)

Some type of compromise is probable.

Seven Grown In Bunch
On One Tree In Texas
In His Citrus Grove

Mr. M. I. Boulton all but stopped the press this morning when he walked into the Leader Office with seven grapefruits still in a cluster. For some of us it was the first time we had ever seen grapefruits in a cluster, and especially grapefruits grown by one of our own Fulton citizens. Mr. Boulton did not grow them in our vicinity, however, but in Harlingen, Texas, where the climate is warm and suitable for such fruits. The cluster weighed 10½ pounds and was picked straight from the tree itself.

For the benefit of Fultonians who do not know such things, Mr. Boulton explained how a grapefruit grows. The tree grows the same as an apple tree and resembles it in shape and size. In the grove where these grapefruits were taken, each tree will yield from 800 to 1000 pounds. Mr. Boulton has 38 acres of orange and grapefruit trees. He has just returned from Harlingen, Texas, and brought the fruit back with him.

The grapefruits, we were told, were a freak bunch, because as a rule seven of such do not grow in one cluster.

Raise Of 35 Cents

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Truman's twice-stated bid to boost the national minimum wage brought from Senator Pepper (D-Ria) today a proposal to shove it up 35 cents to 75 cents an hour.

And the general idea commanded enough Republican sympathy to indicate at least a fair chance that congress may pass some kind of bill to hike the pay base.

The new chairman of the House Labor Committee, Rep. Hartley (R-NJ), told a reporter that "personally, I'm very much in favor of it."

The present rate, set in the 1938 Fair Labor Standards Law, is 40 cents an hour. All firms doing business in more than one state have to pay their help at least that much.

A Time To Plan Well

Kentucky farmers will do well to heed Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson's advice to "do some serious planning" for the next two years. Mr. Anderson was principal speaker at yesterday's session of the state Farm Bureau convention.

This is a good time to terrace, fertilize, seed pasture, and make improvements on farm buildings, because most prognosticators are saying that farmers the nation over will not fare as well in the coming decade as they have in the last.

Food prices are expected to drop this year and more next year. Land prices probably will follow. The farmer who has purchased land at current high prices must do all he can to show a profit on his investment before the decade closes.

County Agent John Watts told the Fulton Lions Club last week that the agricultural outlook in this country is not too bright in the next few years. Farmers are farmers for many years have demonstrated that they know how to produce and conserve, and this knowledge will need to be utilized to the fullest in the current postwar period.

Dream Boss

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 10—(AP)—Here's the kind of boss all bookkeepers wish they had. Brunette Pat Bailey will be married in Burlington Sunday to Warren Wing. Last week she told C. Devenney, C. C. Boss, that their promised apartment failed to materialize, the couple would probably live with her parents.

Devenney, exceeding the appraised value by $1,000, bid $3,150 for a five-room house he found a school district was auctioning to make room for a new school.

Now Devenney will move the house to some property he owns and have it ready for the couple after their two-week honeymoon.

Salary Waiver

Marion, Ill., Jan. 10—(AP)—Mayor Harry L. Crisp at his own request had his salary cut from $1,200 a year to $1—to insure pay raises for Marion city employees.

Crisp's proposal to become a $1-a-year mayor and to eliminate his $90 monthly salary as Mayor Control Commissioner was approved by the city council. Then the mayor obtained passage of a measure providing for a $10 monthly wage increase for each city employee.

The mayor's term expires in four months.

Worth It!

Lester, Pa., Jan. 10—(AP)—A robbery at Lester Grammar School netted a thief only $3 but it meant a one-day holiday to the 250 pupils.

Pulley ordered the school closed after the thief made off with milk money and Junior Red Cross contributions yesterday in order to preserve fingerprints and conduct an investigation.

A Courier-Journal reporter thinks possibly the status of General Lee in the Fulton high school inspires local athletes to demonstrate fair play and sportsmanship. And then someone whose name we didn't catch suggested that we lend the statue to a neighboring school just before the next football season.

LANNEN-WHITSON VOWS SAID, DEC. 30

Of interest to her many friends here was the marriage of Miss Mary Ethel Lannen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ford Lannen of Paducah, to Anthony David Whitson, Jr., son of Anthony David Whitson and the late Mrs. Whitson of Columbia, Tenn., on December 30. Mrs. Whitson, Jr. formerly made her home here with her parents and is a graduate of Fulton high school.

The First Presbyterian church of Columbia, Tenn., was the setting for the afternoon ceremony performed by Dr. J. Frank Ligon.

Proceeding the ceremony, a program of wedding music was given by Mrs. Leone Myers, organist, who played "Ave Maria" (Schubert) and "Liebestraum" (Liszt). During the ceremony she played "Sweet Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" (Wagner). The altar was banked with Oregon fern and arrangements of white carnations. Light was furnished by lamps set in seven-branched candelabras.

The bride entered alone, and wore a suit of light blue wool and black accessories. Her flowing veil was a shoulder bouquet of Pink Delight roses.

Miss Gwendolyn Glaz, Columbia, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gray wool suit and a corsage of pink carnations.

Serving as best man was the groom's brother, George Whitson, also of Columbia.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Whitson left for Knoxville, Tenn., to make their home. Both are enrolled in the University of Tennessee.

The bride is a senior in the department of home economics. The groom was graduated from the high school of Columbia, Tenn., and is a senior in the College of Agriculture.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Jan. 10—(AP)—One way to start an argument: Carl Hubbell of Oklahoma and New Jersey, the Giants' farm boss, claims that North and South Carolina produce more baseball prospects than any four other states combined. And for "baseball temperament" Hub prefers Texans. . . . The Big Nine is "gravely concerned" over the Rose Bowl ticket situation and likely will do something about it before next Jan. 1. . . . One of the better laughs of the recent NCCA-football convention came when the Army solemnly cast its vote against "recruiting." . . . ## Sniping Pays Off; Lady Bags 'Possum

Anderson, S. C.—(AP)—The traditional hazing operation of conducting a greenhorn on a snipe hunt, leaving him holding an empty bag out in the middle of nowhere on a dark, cold night, paid off for Mrs. Emerson Bussey.

Recalling the snipe hunting technique of her high school days, Mrs. Bussey matched a sack from the trunk of her automobile and quick-wittedly bagged an opossum whose presence on the highway forced her to stop her car.

Mrs. A. F. Elrod, with her, got out and "surrounded the 'possum." Mrs. Bussey related, "and he walked right in the bag."

By Frank Eck

New York—They named Frank Leahy of Notre Dame "football coach of the year" and a lot of people picked Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals as "baseball manager of the year." But people who go for year-end polls in sports forgot about tennis.

My nomination for "Non-Play-in Tennis" captain of 1946 is Walter L. Pate. The little 59-year-old Wall Street lawyer who hasn't played tennis in 20 years but who is the man of the hour in the net game.

All Pate did was to select the United States team that beat Australia in the challenge round at Melbourne, returning the Davis Cup, symbol of the world's tennis supremacy, to this country.

Pate was criticized severely for picking only two men—Californians Jack Kramer of Montebello and Ted Schroeder of Glendale—to represent the U. S. He has to choose from the others being Californians: Frankie Parker and Tom Brown, Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., and Billy Talbert of Wilmington, Del.

Parker, America's No. 2 man, let out the loudest howl when Pate passed him up for the Australia matches in favor of Schroeder who wasn't even ranked among the first 20 netmen during 1946 "because of insufficient data."

The United States Lawn Tennis Association now has more than enough data on Mr. Schroeder and, if such is possible, I wouldn't be surprised to find

HEADED THIS WAY—These rampaging De Paul University Blue Demons, ranked in the top five teams of the nation for the past five seasons, are planning upon turning loose all barrels in the general direction of Murray State's Thoroughbreds when the two clubs meet at the Tighman gym in Paducah next Monday night.

Schroeder ranked ahead of Parker and right behind Kramer, our No. 1 man, when the USLTA approved the ranking at its annual meeting here Jan. 18.

Pate could have been the goat but instead he's the real hero of men's tennis in America.

His choice made it pretty hot for Australia, even in a broiling summer sun, for that country's three top racket wielders, John Bromwich, Dinny Pails and Adrian Quist, were beaten without too much trouble. Only Schroeder was extended as Bromwich carried him to five sets. Kramer halted Pails in straight sets and the Kramer-Schroeder doubles team was just as successful against Bromwich and Quist.

Picking Kramer and Schroeder, who incidentally rank third and fourth in this country, was just one of Pate's problems. He handled the Davis Cup business arrangements, took charge of press relations, had to approve the referee, inspect the court and request permission for Schroeder to wear spikes (this was turned down). Oh! Yes—he had to supervise the player's diet, soothe their nerves and tuck them in at night.

Pate, Davis Cup captain since 1935, played top tennis 20 years before Kramer and Schroeder were born. He got into the game on his doctor's orders. A graduate of Cornell he studied the game of tennis thorough as he would a law book. He bought camera equipment and made tennis movies of all the great players of the game. And in almost every player he saw a flaw. He thinks Don Budge was our best player, even greater than Bill Tilden. Now he feels that Kramer can surpass Budge in his book. He felt that way before the U. S. team left for Down Under. If you ever enter an office to see a lawyer on a dth baselater is bouncing tennis balls from various heights, that would be Walter L. Pate. For Mr. Pate has in his office complicated machinery which releases tennis balls. Dropped from 100 inches the fuzzy pouts will bounce between 53 and 58 inches. It was Pate's machinery that led to standardization of the tennis ball bounce.

Georgetown Defeats Union College, 45-43; Boosts Standing In KIBC

Georgetown boosted its standing in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Basketball Conference last night, defeating Union College, 45-43, at Barbourville. In other KIAC games, Kentucky Wesleyan trimmed Transylvania, 59-39, and Eastern Kentucky slid past Murray, 57-52 at Richmond. In Cincinnati, the University of Louisville swamped Cincinnati University, 60-30. In a points an dumble affair in which 47 personal fouls were called.

On tonight's card, Murray plays Morehead at Morehead and Centre College plays host to Wilmington, Ohio.

Moore led Georgetown to victory, connecting for 13 points after Union overcame a 20-to-2 lead in the first five minutes to draw within two points of winning at the final gun.

The Kentucky Wesleyan Transylvania tilt at Lexington featured the high scoring of Faires Woods who sank 17 points for the winners. Joe Fry's field goal and a free throw gave Eastern Kentucky the edge it needed to break the list of many ties in the game with Murray.

Quislings Getting Their Jobs Back

Oslø—AP—A report from the employment bureau reveals that the Quislings in Norway have far better chances to get jobs now than at any time since the war ended.

In the months following the Allied liberation of Norway, both employers and employees boycotted Quislings who were forced to live on their own savings or by support from their friends. Whenever a Quisling got a job, the workers called a sit-down strike.

During the war there were nearly 45,000 Quislings in Norway. At the end of 1945 most were idle, but the latest figures show that 71 percent are now back to work.

Jones was injured in a defensive scrimmage yesterday. Coach Adolph Rupp said the injury appeared today to determine the extent of the injury. He added he doubted it would result in an extended loss of the Harlan sophomore's services.

Rupp said he had shifted Jimmy Jordan, a sensational performer at guard as a navy student at North Carolina last season, from guard to forward. Rupp said forward seemed to be Jordan's natural spot though he had played guard at North Carolina, which had a different style of play.

TRUMAN RELEASES

He said the government should shift from the subsidy program to a less costly program providing all farmers with technical guidance on good soil use. The President recommended also that the department's $4,750,000 commodity credit corporation—the agency which finances the price supports—be rechartered by Congress. It is now operating under a charter for which congressional authority expires June 30.

Other appropriation recommendations included: The federal state school lunch program, $75,000,000, or the same as this year; grower subsidies under the sugar control program, $55,000,000 compared with $53,500,000 this year; the rural electrification administration, $250,000,000, or the same as this year; the farmers' home administration for aid to low income farmers, $111,750,000 compared with $181,789,582 this year; and agricultural research, $78,206,958 compared with $56,375,000 this year.

Here, in brief, is President Truman's budget estimate of how the government will spend and collect in the 1948 fiscal year which starts July 1:

Total outgo: $37,528,000,000. This compares with $42,523,000,000 during the current year.

Total income: $37,730,000,000. This would jump to $38,960,000,000 if Congress continues all wartime tax levels as Mr. Truman recommends. Income this year is put at $40,230,000,000.

Surplus: $202,000,000. This would jump to $1,800,000,000 if Congress votes to continue wartime excise-tax rates, doesn't cut income taxes as some Republicans propose, and increases postal rates "to wipe out the postal deficit." For this year a $2,293,000,000 deficit is expected.

The national debt will drop from an all-time peak of $279,000,000,000 last February to $260,000,000,000 next July 1. The reduction has been made by retiring securities with the huge cash balance built up by the treasury during the war. A $202,000,000 surplus for 1948 would cut the debt to $260,200,000,000. Where most of the government dollars go in the President's budget: $11,587,114,769 to national defense; $7,342,771,835 to veterans services and benefits; $5,000,000,000 interest on the national debt; $2,820,129,298 for international affairs and finance; $2,064,803,500 for tax refunds; $1,654,114,593 for social welfare, health and security.

Corner

This column is published weekly through the cooperation of this paper. Questions should be mailed to the Veterans Employment Representatives, Kentucky State Employment Service, Mayfield, Ky.

Q. Can an amputee veteran select the type of artificial limb he wants and the firm he wants to buy it from?

A. Yes, the veteran will be permitted to select the artificial limb of his choice but it must be purchased from an approved prosthetic appliance manufacturer under contract with Veterans Administration.

Q. May I transfer part of my eligibility for education and training to my wife who is also a veteran but who does not have sufficient entitlement to complete her college course?

A. No. A wife, even though she is a veteran, cannot use any part of her husband's entitlement under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill).

Q. As a World War II veteran with visual impairment pursuing a course of vocational rehabilitation, am I entitled to the service of a reader to aid me in completing my course?

Q. Must property used to secure a loan be covered by insurance?

British Release Many Suspects

Singapore—AP—Of 9,000 Japanese arrested in Southeast Asia as war crimes suspects, only about 4,500 still are in custody, largely due to a new policy bringing to trial "only the most serious cases," a spokesman for the Southeast Asia Land Forces has announced.

Such a policy was adopted, he said, because "it would be impracticable to bring such a number (9,000) to trial in a reasonable time."

The British war crimes courts have tried 513 accused persons, sentencing 182 to death and 263 to imprisonment.

A. It is customary for lenders to require insurance on buildings against which loans are made in order to protect themselves against loss of security. This also protects the veterans which it may provide funds to replace the loss. Buildings used as security for loans which carry the guaranty of the Veterans Administration must be insured against fire and other hazards which it is customary to insure in the community.
