UN Debates Trieste Adm. Under Council Unanimous Consent Held Impossible

AUSTRALIA DISENTS

Lake Bonneville, W. T., May 22 — Australia, which has said before the United Nations that it would not vote for the United Nations Security Council resolution to recognize the joint administration of the Trieste settlement, is reported to have decided to vote for the resolution.

The resolution, which will be voted on this month, is expected to be adopted by the council.

Australia's decision is reported to be due to the threat of losing its seat on the council if it does not vote for the resolution.

The council is expected to vote on the resolution this month.

The United Nations Security Council is expected to meet to discuss the issue.
