Kentucky Today

By The Associated Press
Jenkins—Two youths identified by Police Chief R. L. Letcher as Francis Burchett, 18, and John J. Bevin, 17, of the near-by Camden district, were killed Saturday night when their automobile apparently went out of control and crashed near here.

Winchester—Guerrant Mission Clinic and Hospital announced plans to construct a new building and remodel the present building at a cost of $300,000 to care for 125 patients. The institution was established 20 years ago in memory of Dr. E. O. Guerrant, who opened mission fields and held medical clinics in east Kentucky.

Louisville—The Civilian Production Administration announced approval of construction of a $245,650 nurses' home at the State's Hazelwood Sanatorium here. Dr. Paul Turner, director of the state tuberculosis institution, said the contract is expected to be let next month.

Louisville—Arrests of four negro men in connection with the thefts of five automobiles and their sale in Cincinnati were announced by Detectives James M. Kelly and Jack Hughes. They listed the accused men as Robert Simms and Ernest Moon, both 24; Homer Duke, 20, and William H. Williams, 21. The cars were recovered, the officers said.

Gun-Toting Ex-Convict Slain

Body of Eugene Murphy, 30, ex-convict, lies in Brooklyn street, New York, after he was slain by off-duty patrolman George J. Neilson, (not shown) police said Murphy evidently mistook Neilson, who was in street clothes, either for a bookmaker or fellow-bandit, grasped him by the coat lapel and demanded "where is my payoff." Neilson dropped Murphy with a right to the chin and, police said, when Murphy pulled a gun, fired a wild shot. After a brief chase, a bullet from Neilson's service revolver found its mark.

6 Antarctic Survivors Are Safe Aboard Mother Ship; 3 Died

Aboard U. S. Mt. Olympus, Jan. 13—(AP)—Surviving two weeks huddled in the wreckage of their crashed seaplane in ice-filled Ellsworth Land, six of the Byrd Antarctic expedition's nine missing fliers rested in warm bunks aboard their mother ship today. Their near-miraculous rescue, after blinding polar fogs had balked repeated search attempts, touched off wild celebrations aboard ships of the navy task force—but their three companions were listed as dead.

Aboard the Seaplane Tender Pine Island—whose skipper, Capt. Henry H. Caldwell, was one of the rescued men—the survivors told how their Mariner photo plane had brushed a peak of snow and ice but remained airborne—only to explode, scattering aircraft fragments and men over 100 yards of the frozen waste.

Visibility had suddenly faded on that Dec. 30 photo mission, they related; earth and sky had merged into a dull white mass, with no visible horizon. The accident came just as the co-pilot, Lt. (JG) William H. Kearns, Jr., of Boston, turned to return to the Pine Island.

Five of the six rescued men suffered minor injuries; the sixth, the pilot, Lt. (JG) Ralph Paul Leblanc of Martinsville, La., was more severely hurt. He was drawn on a sled as the group followed a trail blazed by the discovery plane to open water eight miles away. It was there that a second seaplane landed yesterday to pick them up.

Reports of their physical condition were not immediately available. The group, in addition to Captain Caldwell, Pilot Leblanc, and Kearns, included: James Haskins Robbins, Aviation Radioman 3/c, San Diego, Calif.; William G. H. Warr, aviation mechanic's mate 2/c, Reading, Va.; and Owen McCarty, chief photographer's mate, Sonoma, Calif.

The dead: Ensign Maxwell A. Lopez, Newport, R. I.

Frederick Warren Williams, aviation machinist's mate 1/c, Huntington, Tenn. (Parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams.) Wendell K. Henderson, aviation radioman 1-c, Wilton, Wis. (Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Henderson, Sparta, Wis.; wife, Lillian, Portsmouth, Va.)

The fact the survivors huddled grimly in the wreckage, as instructed, was reported a major factor in their eventual rescue. The search was concentrated upon the known course their plane was to have covered in its photo and mapping mission.

Wings and engines broke free as the plane exploded, the survivors related. The fuselage broke in two. But the plane was skimming the icy, snowy surface and the fall was a short one.

Attempted Suicide Closes St. Peter's Church Today

Vatican City, Jan. 13—(AP)—An attempted suicide in St. Peter's today forced closing of the world's largest church briefly until it could be reconsecrated.

Individual runners growing from the crowd die, another is formed where these roots enter the ground, Thompson pointed out. "Once you get a stand it seems to remain indefinitely. We think it's just the thing to hold back erosion," Binford said. "Yet it can be destroyed easily with one plowing." Cutting across a field that had recently been broken out of Ladino, you could see that the soil was left in a fine melon condition.

"At the farm of Master Farmer J. T. Reed, in Hickman County, fine shortborns were going after a mixture of Ladino and grass. He said he watched them closely. Ladino will blot cattle like any other clover, but this is not as bad with the grass mixture. Seems like both do better when growing together. He told me that some neighbors had made hay from Ladino. It was of good quality, but mean to handle."

Wills Eyes

Paul Maynard Skaug (above), executed in the gas chamber of the state prison in Carson City, Nev., for the murder of Mrs. Meate Marie Voss in 1944, willed his eyes to be used to improve the sight of Prison Guard Bert Deady or some other worthy person. Vitreous from one of Skaug's eyes was injected into one of Deady's eyes in an operation at Reno, Nev.

Haifa Curfew Follows Blast

Explosion Kills Four Policemen, Hurts 142; Citizens "Under Arrest"

Jerusalem, Jan. 13—(AP)—Haifa's 95,000 inhabitants were held under virtual house arrest today by a British curfew imposed last night after a violent explosion wrecked the city's police station, killing four policemen and injuring more than 142 other persons.

The casualty list showed two British policemen and two Arabs, temporary constables, dead; 62 policemen—British, Arab and Jewish—hurt, one Briton severely; 48 civilians hospitalized; 32 given first aid, and many more cut, bruised or shocked.

The blast—set off at 5:10 p. m. in an automobile load of explosives planted outside the station—shook Palestine's main seaport throughout, sent glass splinters flying for as much as a mile, disrupted traffic and the telephone system and started fires that raged for a half hour in the next-door postoffice and other nearby buildings.

The government said that the six-story headquarters, at the foot of Mount Carmel and about 100 yards from the harbor entrance in a Jewish-Arab neighborhood, was "virtually leveled."

Officials reported that three men, one in police garb and the others in raincoats, drove the bomb-car, labeled "police," up to the building and fled into a tangle of streets and alleys. Guards fired after them and, setting a blazing fuse in the automobile, gave an alarm to clear the station.

About 15 policemen got out before the blast three minutes later. Debris blocked the waterfront parkway and glass littered streets for blocks.

Hainline Injured While Attempting To Right Trailer

Bill Hainline was injured painfully early this morning when a body jack from his wrecker struck him in the head while he was attempting to pull a large truck-trailer out of a roadside ditch near the WNGO radio tower, Mayfield.

He was taken to Mayfield Hospital by state highway patrolmen at about 3:30 this morning, and x-rays showed that no bones were broken. He received treatment for concussion and injuries to his back.

Hainline had pulled the tractor from the ditch and was standing by the side of his wrecker when the jack was torn loose and hit him. He returned to Fulton shortly before noon today.

Would Reduce Columbus Park

State Director Favors Disposing Of 200 Acres South Of Ky. Hi-way 98

A recommendation that the state dispose of all land south of Highway 98 in Columbus-Belmont State Park is contained in the annual report of Russell Dyche, director of state parks.

The park lies astride Highway 98 and all developments are north of the highway. No benefit has ever come from the approximately 200 acres on the south side of the highway, which has been taken over in considerable part by persons living in the neighborhood, the report says.

Mr. Dyche also declared that he was happy to note "that the Tennessee Valley Authority has in process the transfer in fee of all the land of the proposed Kentucky Lake State Park area, including considerable additions to their first proposal at both the north and south ends of the ter will be turned over to us on area. That part below highway—a long-term lease.

"It is the present plan of this Division," he continued, "to build a park for negroes on the northern or lower portion of the Kentucky Lake area to be named Cherokee State Park. This makes necessary the additional land and lake frontage we are requesting of the TVA, and its full development will require acquisition of additional lands now under private ownership.

"Kentucky Lake State Park, for whites only, will be above the Eggners Ferry Bridge, and additional land acquisition is indicated there also. An adequate buffer area immediately below the bridge will be maintained between the two parks."

Cubs Will Meet At Scout Cabin Tuesday At 3 P. M.

Mr. Elbert Johns, Scout executive, will meet with the Cubs.

Hickman Mayor Told To Order Parking Meters

The Hickman city council has authorized the mayor to contract with Duncan Meter Corporation for 130, more or less, parking meters for Hickman, according to the Hickman Courier.

The company representative stated that the meters would take 10 pennies or two nickels, and give every minute paid for.

The council also passed an ordinance giving the state highway department a right-of-way on streets over which state or federal highways are routed.

Year-Round Schools

The Kentucky Education Association proposal that public school buildings be kept in use 12 months each year, was we think, an excellent one.

The Association listed several activities that could be carried on during the summer months, including special classes for slower students, curriculum planning, special courses for teachers, and school and community programs.

School buildings, after all, are public property and should be available for special projects of this nature, in addition to routine classroom instruction.

Local school boards would be given authority to administer year-round programs in the school, the KEA committee suggested. Thus, if it were not practical or desirable to keep schools of a community open in summer months, the board could act accordingly.

Many smaller towns and cities have no other place in which to hold educational and recreational meetings which attract large numbers of people. Utilization of school buildings for such purposes, now generally done only during the school year, could be increased to 12 months instead of eight or nine.

A Change Of Heart?

Governor Willis seems to be blowing hot one minute and cold the next when it comes to the newspapers.

Saturday he was quoted as saying that the government's debt to the press and reporters is great. It is the press that enables government to accomplish most of the good things that we do accomplish. The press prevents many government wrongdoings by means of publicity.

Can this be the same man who has taken the Louisville Courier-Journal to task for alleged misquotations and misconstructions, for presuming to predict his choice of appointees to state offices? Is this the same Willis who has felt it necessary to issue "corrections" of news service and individual newspaper stories about his political activities?

The Governor ought not to give the press too big a pat on the back. Some reporters might choke with laughter.

Democrats Seek Harmony

The move, launched last week by J. Lyter Donaldson, chairman of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee, to effect harmony in the ranks of that party for the coming political campaign in which a Governor and all State officers will be chosen, is well timed and can bring benefit.

As one astute political writer remarked in print recently, the Democratic party's factions are all but dead anyhow, and their remnants are impotent as far as helpful maneuvering is concerned.

And this, we think, is fine and dandy for the methods old-time leaders of these factions employed have definitely been proven ineffective lately. Also, the dying off of the factional leaders have produced nothing but conglomerate disaffection in recent years... an example of which was the nine-man field for the Democratic nomination for United States senator last year.

The party is committed to a primary election for selection of its candidates; but this does not necessarily mean the recognized leaders of the party of Jefferson, Jackson, Wilson and Roosevelt cannot work together to prevail upon men of high ability, good character and state-wide reputation to give their talents to the State's business for a time.

We believe many Democrats who have remained away from their polling places in the last several elections, for one cause or another, are ready again to assume their duties as good citizens by helping to select the men who will manage Kentucky's affairs. Even a primary election, if conducted upon the proper plane, will not prevent a Democratic victory this year... unless party leaders and the candidates themselves fall into the old and ugly error of indulging in personal recrimination and factional mud-slinging.

Mr. Donaldson's special committee, to try to arouse fresh enthusiasm and bring harmonious action in the ranks of the Democrats, can effect great good for all the people of Kentucky. For it already is apparent the candidates of old factions will get nowhere this year and that new blood in the party's rank and file is determined to have a hand in the state making this time which, we feel, can only result in a material advance for the Democratic party and the Commonwealth.—(Lyon County Herald, Eddyville).

Did you ever notice how the biggest bumps and deepest ruts crop up about 100 feet on the other side of those signs that say "re-verse speed"?

New Crisis In China

By Dewitt MacKenzie,

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Unhappy China, torn by civil strife between communists and the nationalist regime under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, is in the midst of a fresh crisis—the problem of making a go of the new Coalition government which has been organized by non-communist parties pending a general election—and developments are causing observers to wonder whether the United States is on the verge of a shift in its far eastern policy.

That's giving an incomplete picture of the position for, even if the coalition can function, the bloody gulf between the central government and the powerful communist party still will remain. And there are few, if any, impartial observers who would venture to predict that this war of isms could be settled in any other way than the one now being employed—combat on the battlefield and tragic situations of our time—perilous not only to poor old China but to world peace.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, new Republican chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, brought the thing home in a speech before the Cleveland Council of World Affairs Saturday night when he declared that "there will never be a minute when China's destiny is not of acute concern to the United States and to a healthy world."

But the senator did more than that. After referring to the coalition of non-communist parties, he said:

"It is my own view that our own far eastern policy might well now shift its emphasis. While still recommending unity, it might well encourage those who have so heroically set their feet upon this road, and discourage those who make the road precarious."

The communists thus far have refused to join the new coalition or to have anything to do with the constitution which the assembly adopted at Nanking. However, the communists are not the only ones at odds with the efforts of the liberals to bring peace to China.

There are powerful reactionary elements in the Kuomintang (nationalist) party—war lords and other vested interests. Only a few days ago General George C. Marshall, on winding up his lengthy peace mission as special U. S. envoy to China, accused extremist elements of both sides of being responsible for the continuation of civil war.

"The salvation of the situation as I see it," said Marshall, "would be the assumption of leadership by the liberals in the government and in the minority parties, a splendid group of men, but who as yet lack the political power to exercise a controlling influence."

That idea would seem to have close relation to Vandenberg's suggestion that Uncle Sam might encourage those who are working for unity, and discourage those who are making the road precarious. Presumably we shall have an answer to that soon, in view of the fact that Marshall is the new secretary of state and Vandenberg heads the senate foreign relations committee.

Endorses Publisher

For the first time in many years the western section of the state (the First District, Democratic stronghold) has the opportunity of furnishing the candidate for governor in the Democratic primary. For some time it has been known that Harry Lee Waterfield, Clinton, has been favorably mentioned in party circles, as the choice of Democrats throughout the state to lead the party's ticket in the 1947 election.

Elected to the House of Representatives for several consecutive times, he has gained prominence in the state, and has served as speaker of the House at the last two sessions, in which capacity he received support of his colleagues. He has supported measures in the General Assembly which have brought progress to our state, and if he is nominated and elected governor will continue his activity to promote these principles for which he has stood during the years of his public service—Carlisle County News, Bardwell.

Famous last words: Let's go a little faster. I can still read the Burma Shave signs.

Models Demand More for Posing in the Nude—news headline. Maybe they got their inspiration from a couple of ladies named Sally and Gypsy, who prove conclusively that this kind of "art" can be made to pay off extra well.

It's encouraging now and then to realize that the Fulton D. L. is not all alone when it comes to occasional errors in its headlines and news stories. Boosting our morale no end was this headline in the Frankfort State-Journal Forehead in 3-Point Win—Defeat Murray in Overtime Clash. There was only one thing wrong. Murray won.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Feltner, Jr.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Dodgers are compiling a "managers' manual," based largely on Boss Branch Rickey's talks at his pre-training schools in the south. It won't be ready soon, as they want to be sure it is correct in every detail before going to press. And no doubt it will take some time to reduce the celebrated Rickey language to the kind of plain English a bush league manager can understand. It now appears that those rumors about Jim Tatum leaving Oklahoma to coach Maryland football will get Jim a pay raise, which was what he really wanted. If Tatum does leave, assistant Bud Wilkin is in line for the Sooner job.

Today's Guest Star
Bob Paulos, Alton, Ill., telegraph: "The president of the University of Minnesota regrets that the Big Nine succumbed to the football bowl craze. That should put him in a class with UCLA."

Monday Matinee
Bernie Crimmins, assistant line coach at Notre Dame, reports the first he heard of the Irish-Army bustup was while listening to a radio broadcast enroute to the Sugar Bowl game. Bernie claims he nearly fell out of his chair—which would have made quite a dent in the floor. V. J. Edney, Auburn cage coach, doesn't have to go beyond his own squad for coaching assistance. Forward Jack Powell coached high school basketball in Alabama for two seasons.

Cleaning The Cuff
California's Clint Evans would like to hold the projected collegiate baseball championships in Oakland, Calif., and guarantee plenty of customers and enthusiasm if eastern teams can only be there. How about hearing from a few centrally located spots that could offer the same guarantee? The Clancy Reds figure that Frankie Blumholtz, one-time Indiana U. athlete who played for Columbia, S. C., last summer, is a sure shot to become their regular center fielder. Fred Vinson, Jr., son of the chief justice, says he is "a heavy scrapper and an excellent floor man." What more could you ask for a pre-law student?

2-State Baseball League Will Meet At Paducah J. C.

The Twin State Independent Baseball League will hold its annual meeting in Paducah Jan. 19 at the Paducah Junior College.

Any local team that would like to make application to enter the league may do so by writing Edmund "Monk" Beasley, president, at Campbell's Sporting Goods Store in Paducah, or may send representatives to the meeting at Paducah.

The Twin State League is made up of 20 teams in Southern Illinois and Western Kentucky. Several of the teams that played last year have withdrawn due to lack of players and interest. Teams who wish to enter the league should contact Mr. Beasley immediately, as only a few additions will be made.

York, Pa., Man Turns Violin-Making Hobby Into Full-Time Work

York, Pa.—AP—Paul Plath worked for telephone companies for 30 years, retired, and turned his hobby of making violins into a full-time profession. One of the few men in the United States who makes violins entirely by hand, Plath has only one assistant—his four-year-old granddaughter, Linda Stover. Linda is his errand girl. It takes three months for Plath to build a violin and then the instrument must age several years before it is played, he said. His price ranges from a $150 minimum to a high of $500.

In his home work shop Plath has a stock pile of wood which has been aged at least 150 years from which he cuts, saws, carves and sands each of the 72 pieces which go into a complete violin. Plath also manufactures his own varnish, mixing gums and oils in a formula used by the old Italian masters. One of the ingredients is olive oil, responsible for the patina on fine old violins, he said.

Alabama Puts Perfect Record To Acid Test

This Week's Foes Are LSU, Georgia, And Georgia Tech

NOW LEADING LEAGUE

Atlanta, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Alabama, the surprise team of the Southeastern Conference basketball race, gets the acid test this week in three tilts while trying to preserve the league's only remaining perfect record.

The Crimson, unbeaten and barely threatened, in seven games take on powerful Louisiana State at Tuscaloosa tonight, and then meet Georgia Tech here Friday and Georgia at Athens Saturday. The latter game is a return match, Alabama having won the first one, 48-27.

Coached by Young Floyd Burdette of Murray State and Oklahoma A & M, the Crimson beat Mississippi, 46-40, and Vanderbilt, 49-36, last week after trimming the Georgia five. The victory over Vanderbilt was the season's first loss for the Commodores.

LSU, a contender from the start, heightened its prestige with a 61-57 win over an up-and-coming Mississippi State five, while Tech downed favored Tulane, 58-51, both games being Saturday night affairs.

Kentucky, the defending champions, ran its record to 13-1 with a win over Dayton University, 70-29, in a game that saw coach Adolph Rupp use 18 men. That partially accounted for the fact that Ralph Beard, Kentucky's high scoring sophomore, was held scoreless for the first time this year and the second time in 44 college tilts.

Another feature of this week's schedule is the Kentucky-Tennessee game at Knoxville Saturday night, which is one of three grudge games of the week's card. LSU and Tulane meet at New Orleans Friday in another bit of keen rivalry, and Mississippi State is host to Mississippi Wednesday in the other.

Nazi Secrets Found By Ton

Confidential Records Of Third Reich Stored In Old Phone Exchange

Berlin—AP—Nazi secrets are measured by the ton in Berlin. Fifteen hundred tons of confidential papers of the Third Reich are stored away in a former telephone exchange and a Tempelhof barracks by the document center of American Military Government.

Lt. Col. Hans Helm of Milwaukee, who was born in Germany and emigrated to the United States 18 years ago, heads a staff of 50 Americans and 700 German experts in classifying this informational goldmine for Allied use.

Seven thousand inquiries a week pour in from demilitarization officers in western occupation zones regarding the past of suspected Nazis.

Thanks to the recovery of the Nazi Party's membership cards, found hidden in a Bavarian paper mill last year and transferred to Berlin, Col. Helm's unit is able to identify more than eight million members. They include thousands in the United States and other foreign countries as well as the millions in the fatherland.

In addition, Col. Helm is in charge of voluminous records of the principal administrators of the Hitler government. After further scrutiny, most of these records probably will be turned back to a future Fourth Reich.

3 Quads Living After Delivery By Miner's Lamp

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Three baby girls, survivors of a quadruplet birth, a Suck Creek Mountain cabin beneath the steady glare of their father's mining lamp, were given a good chance today to live.

"Dawggone," and a low whistle constituted the brief but fervent reaction of Jess Moore, coal mine mule driver, when Dr. Tom Johnson told him of the delivery of the quads, one stillborn, in the same room.

The mother was resting comfortably and the babies were under care at a Sequette, Tenn., clinic. Her other five children slept throughout the 51-minute delivery early Sunday in the same room.

Jessica, born at 12:55 a. m. and oldest of the quads, weighed six and a quarter pounds. Ruby and Dilly weighed half a pound less.

Breds Concede Nothing Tonite

Play DePaul Demons At Paducah Following Trip To Eastern, Morehead

Murray, Ky.—Having demonstrated they are capable of playing the toughest teams on even terms, Murray State's Thoroughbreds are conceding nothing when they play the Blue Demons of De Paul University at Paducah tonight.

Coach Miller's Breds have returned home after invading the Blue Grass and Eastern Kentucky's Maroons and an overtime thriller, Murray State's Thoroughbreds have a season standing of 8 victories out of 12 games and they are improving.

Eastern Kentucky's Maroons had a tough time in maintaining their unblemished record at Richmond last Thursday as the Breds bowed 57-52. Then on the following night, Murray won over Morehead 58-53 in an overtime thriller. Miller's Breds have lost to Marshall, Eastern Kentucky, Southeast Missouri, and to the Northeast Arkansas All Stars.

"If we're not too tired," Coach Miller said, "we'll give De Paul a good ball game tonight." The team has had a long hard trip, he explained, and the players haven't had as much rest as they need.

Johnny Reagan, leading scorer for the Breds, was suffering last week from a pulled muscle that interfered badly with his shooting, but Miller hopes he will be ready for the Blue Demons.

War Inquiry Powers Are Cut

Republicans Will Delay Decision On Committee's Duration To Wednesday

Washington, Jan. 13—(AP)—Republicans agreed today to restrict the authority of the war investigating committee but put off until Wednesday a test in the senate of efforts to continue its life through 1947.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a reporter that the Republican conference will discuss further tomorrow the question of extending the inquiry group and of authorizing a special committee on small business to operate for eight months.

Taft's announcement came after Senator Brewster (R-ME), chairman of the war inquiry committee, told reporters he had agreed at a meeting with the armed services committee headed by Senator Gurney (R-SO) to limit future activities of the Brewster group.

In general, Brewster said, the committee will look into war profits, disposal of surpluses and instances of "corruption."

He said the committee would concern itself only with what had happened in the past, leaving any inquiry into current and future military policies and operations to the Gurney group.

"How to save money on your electric bill"

Another in a Series by Phineas Q. Twitch, Eminent Economist

- 1 Sell your electric range and take to the Great Outdoors. Any Boy Scout can teach you how to build a fire and cook. It's a grubby job, but think of all the fresh air you'll get—particularly in winter! Just think, you might save as much as 10¢ worth of electricity a day! That should almost buy you as many indigestion tablets as you'll need.
- 2 Rip out all that electric wiring in your home, and go back to candle-light. It's so romantic you'll hardly even mind the inconveniences. Since it would cost about $200 for the quarter-ton of candles you'd need to light your house each month—you won't be able to buy candles. But with a little time and ingenuity, you can MAKE your own out of old bacon drippings—if you can get the bacon. And by the time you're through, you'll just about break even—or break down!
- 3 Turn off your radio during the Electric Hour—"Hour of Charm"—every Sunday afternoon at 3:30 CST over CBS. Of course, you'll miss the All-Girl Orchestra under the direction of Phil Spitalny, with Evelyn and her Magic Violin—but you'll actually save one-sixth of a penny every time you do! In a year you'll be almost 9¢ to the good—and think what all that money will buy today!

Watch for more of these practical money-saving suggestions by Dr. Twitch. He really knows his subject. We hope he'll help you realize how many jobs electricity does for you, and how little it costs.
