AP Foreign Wire Analysis

By Arthur H. Hinds

Washington (AP) — The U.S. Congress, in its final hours before adjournment, advanced legislation to provide military aid to Latin America. This was in keeping with the nation's foreign policy, the President said.

The President, in a message to Congress, explained that the United States had been asked to provide military assistance to several countries in Latin America which were threatened by Communist domination.

He urged the passage of a measure which would permit the President to send military aid to any Latin American country at his discretion.

The measure was introduced by Representative John J. de Smet, Democrat of New York, who said it was necessary to provide the needed military assistance to Latin American countries.

The bill was approved by the House and Senate and was sent to the President for signature.
