Gill Invited To Be Manager Of Chick Team

Former G'hound Pilot Is Chosen By Majority Vote

COMING HERE SUNDAY

A decision to invite Johnny Gill to become manager of the Fulton Chicks in 1947 was reached at a meeting of the Fulton Baseball Association held here last night in the city hall. Mr. Gill, who lives in Nashville, Tenn., and managed the Union City Greyhounds last season, is expected to succeed Hugh Holiday as manager of the local club.

K. P. Dalton, president of the association, was directed by a majority vote of the directors present at the meeting to contact Mr. Gill and to enter into a contract with him to pilot the team. Gill will come to Fulton Sunday afternoon to discuss terms of the contract with Mr. Dalton.

The new manager is well known here because of his former connections with the Union City Club. As manager of the lowly Greyhounds last year, his big bat was practically all of the opposition the Chicks faced when playing Union City. He is counted on by club officials here to take his place in the regular team lineup throughout the coming season.

Hugh Holiday, last year's manager, Ray Clonts, who was manager here before the war, and Mel Simons, local citizen and former Chicago White Sox player, also were considered for the managerial position, but the Association officials overwhelmingly selected Gill on the first ballot.

In addition to selecting a new manager, the club officials decided to hold a banquet here Tuesday, Feb. 4. Doc Prothro, manager of the Memphis Chicks, with whom the Fulton Chicks are associated, and other officials of the Memphis club will be present. Tickets to the banquet will be sold at a price to be set at a later date, probably $1.50 or $2.00 each. Further information on the banquet will be released in the near future.

It also was definitely decided that the Association will operate the refreshment stand at Fair Field Park this summer. A committee consisting of Carter Olive, chairman, Smith Atkins and Happy Hogan was appointed to work out the details of handling this.

After the Association had decided in favor of a 140 game schedule starting April 29 and ending September 1, Bailey Huddleston, H. H. Bugg and Ben Newhouse were appointed to study two tentative schedules and to select one to recommend to Kitty League officials when they meet at the Hall Hotel in Mayfield February 2.

A committee of two, Bob White and Bailey Huddleston, was assigned to look into the probability of securing a new bus to transport the team on the road this year.

Three days later the judge answered a knock at the front door of his home, and found the same man apparently seeking a hand-out.

Market Clinic Dates Are Set

Paducah And Murray Are Sites On Feb. 26 And 27, Farm Bureau, USDA Say

To assist farmers in adjusting their marketing procedure, the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation are sponsoring a marketing clinic for fruit and vegetable growers at the courthouse in Paducah, Feb. 26, and at Murray State College, Feb. 27.

Short talks by outstanding men in the field of distribution and production will make up the morning program. The afternoon program will be built around panel discussions. Panels on strawberries, apples, and peaches will be held at Paducah; and green-wrap tomatoes, sweet potatoes, and peaches at Murray.

The panels will be made up of producers, shippers, and distributors, who will be able to make definite recommendations for improvement in the marketing of farm products.

The marketing of perishable products is undergoing a rapid change and it is hoped that this year's clinic will give many new ideas to Kentucky producers and shippers.

These meetings are open to all farmers and others interested in improving the system of marketing farm products.

Welcome Warmer Weather Believed On Way To State

The U. S. Weather Bureau today promised some relief soon from the freezing temperatures which last night sent the mercury tumbling toward zero in all sections of Kentucky.

The official forecast predicted partly cloudy and warmer weather for tomorrow.

Ashtand, Frankfort and Louisville were three of the coldest spots in the state last night, the former reporting an unofficial low of eight degrees above zero. Lowest reading in Frankfort and Louisville was nine degrees.

Corbin reported a 10-degree low and Hopkinsville's lowest overnight reading was 11 degrees. Madisonville experienced its coldest weather of the season, 16 degrees.

The mercury was climbing slowly over the state today. Light snow driven by high winds yesterday made travel hazardous in many areas. However, the state highway department at Frankfort said last night the only reports it had of roads blocked was the business route into Barbourville and Ky-6 and Ky-11 in Knox county, all by high water. The Burnside and Cumberland ferries were closed by high water.

At Paducah, a crest of 38.7 feet was expected at the junction of the Tennessee and Ohio Rivers, but no flood danger was anticipated. Some low spots near Harlan were covered by the Cumberland River.

The Tennessee Valley Authority reported its dams still were storing water along the Tennessee, releasing only small amounts for power generation.

Sgts. Royce and Carden reported that two enlistments were secured.

Disabled Vet Receives Car Through V. A.

'Pete' Ashby Now Can Drive Again Despite Handicap

WOUNDED ON LUZON

Hylan S. "Pete" Ashby, disabled veteran of World War II, who lives at 103 Fourth street, Fulton, has received his new Oldsmobile hydro-matic drive automobile from Paul Nancey, Kentucky Motor Co., who has delivered many new cars to other eligible veterans.

Delivery of Mr. Ashby's car is announced by Harry E. Perryman, contact representative of the Veterans Administration who visits Fulton each Tuesday. Mr. Perryman explained that an automobile or other conveyance, including equipment with such special attachments as may be necessary for his use, is provided for each veteran of World War II who is entitled to compensation for the loss, or loss of use, of one or both legs at or above the ankle, under laws administered by the VA.

Mr. Ashby entered the army on Jan. 9, 1942, and was sent overseas within four and one-half months. He served two years and 10 months on foreign soil, spending 15 months in heavy combat as squad leader of light machine gun and mortar crews in New Zealand, Fiji Islands, Guadalcanal, Bougainville and Luzon areas.

He was struck by Japanese shrapnel while engaging the enemy in a cemetery on Luzon. The piece of shrapnel penetrated his spine and left him paralyzed from the waist down. Most of his outfit was killed in this fighting, Mr. Ashby said.

He was in various hospitals in the South Pacific area before returning to the United States. He went to Nichols General Hospital in Louisville, where he stayed 10 months, before being sent to Kennedy General Hospital in Memphis. After five months at Kennedy, he was given a medical discharge as a 100 per cent disabled veteran, paraplegic.

Shortly before his discharge from the hospital he was married to Miss Norma Ashby, of Slaughter, Ky.

Some time ago Mr. Ashby filed a request for a new automobile under provisions of Public Law 663, through the VA contact representative who serves Fulton. The new car is completely equipped with all attachments so that Mr. Ashby, though paralyzed, may drive as well as anyone.

Needless to say, he derives a great thrill from his new automobile and his ability once again to drive where he pleases.

U. C. School Goals Are Set

Improvements Necessary If High School Desires SACSS Class 'A' Rating

Union City—Improvements of a major nature must be undertaken, and some corrections must be made with regard to Union City high school if the school next year and in the years to come is to be accredited as a Class A high school, by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools. It was made known at a meeting of the city board of education at the city hall Monday night.

Chief among the improvements which must be undertaken is erection of a new, adequate, fireproof, fully-equipped high school building, members of the board said.

This undertaking, as well as other improvements and corrections, will require not only the approval and consent of the city administration, but also the cooperation of the entire citizenship of Union City, the Union City Messenger said.

Members of the board are unanimous in the opinion that a new and adequate school building should be erected at the earliest possible time to replace the present building, which is not large enough and which also is regarded as being dangerous from the standpoint of fire.

U. S. May Be Biggest Loser In Portal Pay

If Unions Win, Military Dept's Will Pay Heavily

TAX LOSS PREDICTED

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—Congress members, digging into the possible effects of suits for back portal pay, piled up evidence today that the government would do much of the paying if unions win the more than $4,000,000,000 they are seeking.

A senate judiciary committee heard Assistant Secretary of the Navy W. John Kenney testify the navy's liability might be $720,000,000. Yesterday, the army estimated it would be $500,000,000 at a minimum and might conceivably amount to $1,000,000,000.

To top that, Secretary Snyder ruled at the treasury that employers who had to pay back wage claims could charge off the payments against taxes for the year involved.

The senate group is considering bills to outlaw the suits. In other congressional developments:

The House commerce committee began a board inquiry into the possible effects of suits for back portal pay, piled up evidence today that the government would do much of the paying if unions win the more than $4,000,000,000 they are seeking.

The senate banking committee approved President Truman's nomination of Dillon Meyer to be administrator of the U. S. Housing Authority.

The House rules committee approved for house consideration next week legislation continuing indefinitely the wartime exercise taxes. These are the special taxes on railroad tickets, luggage, telephone charges, liquor etc. Unless congress approves the legislation, these taxes will drop to a lower rate July 1. Congress leaders want to keep them unchanged, but reduce personal income taxes.

The senate banking committee decided to begin hearings soon on the whole question of housing and rent controls. Present rent controls will end July 1 unless congress extends them.

House leaders turned over to Attorney General Clark today the report of an audit showing a $125,563 shortage in accounts of Kenneth Romney, former house sergeant at arms.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said the shortage was announced for house members which has been closed several weeks during an audit. Martin said the banks will reopen Thursday.

Marine Is Guilty Of Attacking Girl, Naval Court Rules

Peking, Jan. 22—(P)—Marine Cpl. William K. Pierson was convicted by a U. S. naval court today of raping a 19 year old Chinese coed but will not learn the penalty for some time.

After announcing its verdict, the seven man court adjourned to deliberate on the sentence. It will not be announced until passed upon by Maj. Gen. Samuel L. Howard, commandant of U. S. Marines in North China. Life imprisonment is the maximum.

Pierson, 23, who had sat stoically through four days of testimony and argument but did not testify, blanched at the verdict. Then his face turned a bright red.

Shen Chung, Peiping National University student who testified Pierson raped her twice on Christmas eve, was not in court.

GM Ups Price Of "Luxury" Models

Detroit, Jan. 22—(P)—Price increases in General Motors "luxury" models were described today by company officials as means of meeting cost hikes. The price boosts affect convertible and station wagon models in the Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac lines. The company said, however, that the would be no increases on Chevrolet or any of its "volume models."

Waterfield, Tuggle Favored By Editors

By John Ed. Pearce

Whether editors have any influence on the political opinion of their readers, or whether they merely reflect that opinion has long been argument fodder. If they actually do either of these, however, it appears that Harry Lee Waterfield will oppose either J. Stephen Watkins or Kenneth Tuggle in the race this year for Kentucky's Governor. If they reflect opinion, the Republican candidate will be Tuggle. If they mold it, Watkins will get the nod.

That, at least, was the opinion of thirty-six weekly and daily newspaper editors who convened last Friday at the Brown Hotel for the annual Kentucky Press Association convention. Twenty Democratic, nine Republican and seven avowedly independent editors answered two questions concerning the coming election, and some volunteered a few answers of their own to questions not asked. The questions, and the answers given, by political sections, are listed.

Spitsbergen: A Coveted Island

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Spitsbergen, main island of the Svalbard group toward which Moscow is making passes, had been operating as an organized community for only 17 years when the Russians first began to covet it.

That was during the first World War, when the East Coast wanted to buy out the private Norwegian coal owners, who had gone in along with British and American developers after 1899. The only objective then, for a nation which was only slightly interested in the northern shipping routes, was the nine to ten billion tons of coal which are estimated to lie beneath the frozen surface.

Now Spitsbergen, which became a legal entity for the first time in 1921 by a treaty under which the world powers accepted Norwegian sovereignty, reflects the impact of world affairs from several facets.

Great Russia first asked Norway to cede parts of Spitsbergen in 1944 for bases which could have been important then. Norway's allied government in London declined to act on such a matter until it was back home, since then, important political angles have entered the picture.

Spitsbergen lies northeast of Iceland, about half way between Murmansk and the north pole, and guards the sea route above Norway's North Cape. It lies along the much-disputed rocket-route across the Arctic. It is between Russia and Greenland, that enormous island on the Atlantic's northern fringe.

From the foregoing figures it can be seen that Waterfield is a heavy favorite with the editors. This, while not unexpected, since he is one of their own profession, and a loyal member of the K. P. A., is significant. That more editors concede him the best chance for nomination than guarantee him support is also worthy of note.

In the controversial Clements race, it should be added that while Clements did not receive many votes, five editors who cast their prediction for Waterfield did so with the reservation that they believed that Clements would withdraw "if he had a good out." The next day two of the same editors qualified their former stand by saying that "it looks like Earle has gotten in bed with Happy" (A. B. Chandler, Baseball Commissioner). The persistent reports that Clements and Chandler have effected a reconciliation between the long-feuding Rhea-Chandler factions might change the color of the poll to a considerable extent.

The votes for Watkins were surprising, especially so in view of the fact that many political observers believed that he had been dropped from further consideration by the Republican powers, in favor of Tuggle. A majority of the editors believed that "the Governor is in a mood to compromise and hold the party together and quiet," and said they did not believe he would insist on Watkins, if John M. Robison backed the Lieutenant Governor.

While a majority of editors queried believed the Republican ticket would be settled without great dispute on Lincoln Day, about as many predicted a tough fight in the Democratic Primary.

"Right now it looks good for Waterfield out in the counties," said one observer, "but if Seldon Glenn starts the whip cracking on the postmasters, it could help Clements a lot. The word has gotten around that Clements held up the meeting at headquarters for almost two days by insisting on a convention, and that hasn't helped him any out in the State, but if Happy and Glenn get their weight straight in time, it could do a lot of good."—Courier-Journal.

which was penetrated by the Germans so recently, and whose staging stations between Europe and America will be even more important in any future conflict.

In the last war planes and ships from Spitsbergen could have met the German planes and ships from Norway which so harassed the allied convoys to Murmansk.

But much as this little spot may lie across the communication lines of the modern world, from which it was so long isolated, the recent Russian moves have placed it even more squarely across the path of American policy.

The United States wants a system of bases which, coupled with the availability of British strong points, can be used to help keep any future war at a distance. She is working hard to develop Alaska, and the northern Pacific, plans bases in far northern Canada directly across the pole from Russia's own Arctic outposts, retains north Atlantic bases under long-term lease from England, wants to work out better security with regard to such places as the Azores, and is continuing civilian aviation operations in Iceland, near those same northern sea routes to Russia, on a basis which contains an open implication of what will happen in war.

Russia probably sees Spitsbergen as an opportunity to meet us, as far from home as possible, at one more point. But she also foresees valuable use in the future for every argument we put up against it. Nothing would give her more pleasure than to catch us testifying against ourselves.

Suit Shortage

St. Joseph, Mo.—(AP)—Mayor H. D. Allison has trouble finding suits to fit his five-foot frame.

He ordered a new wardrobe for the United States conference of mayors at Washington. Wednesday the Plymouth Clothing Company notified him of receipt of his suit and coat.

That night fire destroyed the company's entire stock.

He'll attend the conference—in his old clothes.

Brazil Draws Astronomers To See Eclipse Of The Sun

By Hoyt Ware

Rio De Janeiro—Several hundred prominent astronomers are expected to come to Brazil next May 20 to observe an eclipse of the sun from an area considered the most advantageous in the world for witnessing the phenomenon.

Astronomers from eight countries, representing official and private scientific groups, have accepted invitations from Brazil's National Observatory to participate in the experiment. Delegates are expected from Finland, Sweden, England, Australia, France, the United States, Argentina and Russia.

The observers will establish their headquarters at the town of Araxa (arra-shah), about 200 miles inland from the city of Belo Horizonte, capital of the state of Minas Gerais. Belo Horizonte is some 400 miles northwest and inland from Rio de Janeiro.

Indians Were Mystified The scientists, armed with man's most advanced knowledge of the universe and miraculous modern equipment, will watch the eclipse on the same ground where uncivilized Indians centuries before them gazed at the sun through bits of quartz crystal.

Indian legends call the area of Araxa "the place where one first sees the sun." Nearby waters are radioactive, and these too were exploited by primitive Indians for their healing properties. A recent scientific report said the waters contain thorium and possibly uranium, one of the substances with which atomic bombs are made.

On May 20 the sun is expected to traverse this area on a path directly across the South American continent from Salvador, capital of the Brazilian coastal state of Bahia, southwestward to Santiago, Chile on the Pacific coast. A small strip of this line in Minas Gerais is described as the perfect point of observation for the eclipse.

Plans are already well under way to house more than 1,000 persons in the observation area. Near Araxa, a town of nearly 20,000 population, is a luxurious resort hotel with a lake of radioactive waters. A well-known health resort, it is called Estancia.

The hotel itself is expected to take in 400 guests while 200 more will live in adjacent buildings. Others will stay in the town or in nearby villages along the path of the sun in that vicinity. Landing fields are being prepared for planes bringing the scientists and their equipment.

Garden Flower Dwarfed Tomatoes

Brooklyn.—(AP)—Edward Hughes' "tomato" crop has won the admiration of backyard gardeners from far beyond the limits of his neighborhood. After planting some seeds last spring, Ed worried for weeks because sprouts failed to show. A neighbor decided such zeal deserved reward and curiously planted a new set of seeds in Ed's tomato rows. Soon plant sprang up and Ed was jubilant, boasting about his big tomato plants until they stood more than three feet high and aroused his suspicion. They kept right on growing and when they bloomed at a height of seven feet, Ed had the brightest array of runflowers in Brooklyn.

Babe Zaharias Heavy Favorite In Tampa Open

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 22.—(AP)—Boasting a three-stroke lead at the end of 36 holes of the 72-hole Tampa Women's Open golf tournament, Mrs. Babe Zaharias was a heavy favorite as the field teed off today on the last half of the $3,000 meet over the 6,117-yard Palma Ceta course. The Women's National Amateur champion had a two-over par 77 yesterday for a halfway mark of 154, three strokes better than Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., who also turned in a 77 yesterday.

Mayfield Lions Vote To Sponsor DDT Project

Mayfield—A county-wide DDT spraying program and a city-wide rat extermination campaign were the chief topics of discussion at the weekly meeting of the Mayfield Lions Club. The Lions voted to sponsor the DDT program in cooperation with the U. S. Government, but deferred action on the rat-killing campaign plans until next Tuesday. It was announced at the meeting that the government will furnish supplies and equipment for the county-wide DDT spraying and that any home in Mayfield or Graves County, regardless of size, can be sprayed this summer for $3.

UK, Western Beat Georgia And St. Johns

Last Night's Win Was The 300th for UK Coach Rupp
CENTRE DEFEATED

The University of Kentucky and Western State Teachers College upheld Kentucky's end in out-of-state basketball games last night, while Centre College went down to defeat in the third game involving teams from the land of colonels.

Coach Adolph Rupp's U. of K. team defeated Georgia 84-45 to give the coach his 300th victory in 17 years at Kentucky. His teams have lost only 65 games during that span.

And in Madison Square Garden at New York, 18,479 fans saw Western's tall Hilltoppers defeat St. John's 61-54 after piling up a 37-22 halftime lead.

Centre College lost to Wilmington in the Ohio city by 70-66, with Wilmington's flashy guard, Ed Krueger, pouring in 33 of his team's points. Centre led at the half 39-30 but the Ohioans rallied in the second stanza to move ahead 45-43, and remained on top. Centre's guard George Day accounted for 26 of his team's points.

Two games are scheduled for tonight as Georgetown College meets Eastern Kentucky State Teachers at Richmond and Ashland Junior College plays Transylvania of Lexington. The latter game, to be played at Ashland, had been scheduled for last night but was put off until tonight.

Western returned to the Garden in New York last night after a year's absence and for a while it looked like the Hilltoppers were going to run St. John's off the court. Sleepy Spears and Don Ray broke through repeatedly with beautiful layups and one-handed shots, leading the team to an early 6-0 lead. Before the bewildered Redmen knew what hit them, the Kentuckians had increased their margin to 31-12.

St. John's staged a scoring drive in the last stages of the first half to cut Western's lead

Concerned About His Future

Home run King Hank Greenberg fondles both an outfielder's glove and a first baseman's mitt during an interview in his apartment in New York. Sold on Saturday by the Detroit Tigers to the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, he explained that "somebody might get the idea that I'd rather play first base than the outfield," if he posed only with the mitt. Greenberg expects to become a father within 48 hours.

Young Ready To Turn Pro

Illinois U. Negro Star Says He's Broke, Needs Money For His Family

Chicago, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Buddy Young was ready to go to work today for cash—when and if he gets any pro football offers.

The 5 foot 4 inch University of Illinois athletic star said he had decided to withdraw from school for financial reasons, adding that "my first responsibility is to my wife and 18-month-old son and right now I am broke. I am open to all offers to play pro ball."

Young was scheduled to leave Chicago by plane tonight for Los Angeles to participate in a college all-star professional game there Sunday—a step that would automatically conclude his eligibility in the western conference.

Young, who left the Illinois campus last Thursday and received automatic flunkings in examinations when he failed to report Monday and yesterday, also will forfeit his chance of competing for the United States in the 1948 Olympics in London should he play Sunday. The 21-year-old negro athlete is one of the country's outstanding collegiate sprinters, having been clocked in the 100-yard dash in 9.5.

Admitting that he would be receptive to any offer to play pro football next season, Young dispelled rumors that he had already signed a $20,000 yearly contract with the New York Yankees of the All-America conference.

to 37-22 at intermission. Then in the second half the St. John's team sprang to life and twice came within three points of tying the Hilltoppers. Only three points separated the teams with three minutes left to play and with the score 55-52, two consecutive baskets by Ray and Dee Gibson ended St. John's last hope.

In chalking up its 16th victory in 17 starts this season, the University of Kentucky team led Georgia at the halftime 47-20 in the game played at Athens, Ga. The Wildcat attack was paced by all-southeastern conference guard Ralph Beard who accounted for 19 points before he was retired early in the second half. Kentucky's Jack Tingle was held scoreless.

Bulldogs Back In Win Column; Beat Hickman

Roll Up 64-23 Score; Pups In Front By 22-15

PLAY CAYCE NEXT

The Fulton high Bulldogs snapped a five-game losing streak here in the new gym last night at the expense of Hickman, trouncing the visitors 64-23.

The Fulton Pups took command of their game in the second quarter and won 22-15. Friday night both Fulton teams will go to Cayce to have another crack at teams that defeated them earlier this season on the Fulton floor. The Bulldogs lost by only five points, 25-20, in the waning minutes of the first game with Cayce.

Mann and Holt, who made 7 and 6 points for the Pups, shared scoring honors with C. Lattus of Hickman, 7 points, in the preliminary tussle last night. The pups had established a 12-7 lead at the half, and were ahead 17-9 after the third quarter.

Billy Joe Forrest again led the Bulldogs in finding the hoop, making 10 field buckets for 20 points. Billy Mac Bone hit the basket for seven two-pointers and one free throw, and Campbell had five field goals to his credit. Pierce, Hickman guard, was high for his team with 8.

Vest Is Best—Makes 55 Points

Bald Knob, Ky., Jan. 22.—(AP)—Bald Knob high school defeated Sadleville on the basketball court here last night 93-39.

But that's only half the story. The other half was the performance of a player by the name of Billie Vest, an army veteran playing for Bald Knob. Vest scored 55 points, enough to win the game himself.

March Of Dimes Will Be Helped By Cage Contests

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 22.—(AP)—A double-header basketball card scheduled as a March-of-Dimes benefit is being arranged for Feb. 8.

Inez and Hazel Green high school have agreed to take part in the program, it was announced last night by Andy Anderson, chairman of a Junior Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the event.

Anderson said he is trying to match Inez with Brewer, western Kentucky powerhouse. Hazel Green's opponent will be selected later. The games will be played in the University of Kentucky gymnasium.

the baseball writers of America in a poll completed Jan. 15.

It was the first time since 1942, when Rogers Hornsby, who led the National League in batting in seven different seasons, was named that any player received 75 percent of the votes required for election.

The election, results of which were announced last night, was the first under the new rules which restricted the balloting privilege to writers of at least ten years' membership in the association and which also confined the field to players of the era since 1921. No player active in organized baseball on the field in 1946 was eligible.

Hubbell, famous "meal ticket" of the New York Giants, who won 253 games during his momentous career, drew 140 of the 161 votes cast to head the list.

Frisch, the "Fordham flash" of the Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals, was second with 136 votes.

Trailing Frisch with 128 votes was Cochrane, one-time catching great of the Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers.

Grove, Cochrane's one time battery mate on the Athletics, followed with 123 votes. The former southpaw speedball ace who closed out his career with the Boston Red Sox, won 300 games during his stay in the Major Leagues.

Harold (Pie) Traynor, outstanding third baseman and former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, missed being selected by two votes, polling 119.

Q—Can one worship God ac-ceptably at home?

A—If there is no place within a reasonable distance from one's home, where he can worship God
 acceptably with fellow Christians,
 he should conduct the worship in his home (see Matt.
 18:20). But if scriptural worship is being conducted within one's reach, and he refuses to attend that worship, just because he does not want to attend, or is angry with someone who usually attends, or for any reason other than his physical inability,
 then a proposed service conducted in the home would not be acceptable. Furthermore, listening to a sermon over the radio can not take the place of the Lord's day worship. Besides meditating upon God's word, praising God in song, the observance of the Lord's Supper, prayers and the contribution are also included in acceptable worship (See Acts 2:42, 1 Cor. 11:23-26,
 Acts 20:7, 1 Cor. 16:1, 2 and Col.
 3:16, 17).

Q—Who started the denominations?

A—Men and women such as:
 Martin Luther, John Calvin, John
 Smyth, John Wesley, Mrs. Ellen
 G. White and Mrs. Mary Baker
 Eddy.

Q—Is one saved before he is
 baptized?

A—In reply I ask, "Is one saved
 before he obeys God's will?"
 Jesus said, "Not every one that
 saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall
 enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will
 of my Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 7:21) Whose will is
 it for believing penitents to be baptized, God's or Satan's? Since
 it is God's will, and since one
 can not be saved without DOING
 God's will, then, one is NOT saved
 today before baptism. "You
 must repent, and every one of
 you be baptized in the name of
 Jesus Christ, IN ORDER TO HAVE YOUR SINS FORGIVEN."

 translation.

Q—Is one saved before he is
 baptized?

A—In reply I ask, "Is one saved
 before he obeys God's will?"
 Jesus said, "Not every one that
 saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall
 enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will
 of my Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 7:21) Whose will is
 it for believing penitents to be
 baptized, God's or Satan's? Since
 it is God's will, and since one
 can not be saved without DOING
 God's will, then, one is NOT saved
 today before baptism. "You
 must repent, and every one of
 you be baptized in the name of
 HAVE YOUR SINS FORGIVEN."

Soap Dwindles
 As School Kids
 Combat Polio

Denver.—(AP)—When Denver
 school children returned to classes, they were urged by teachers to wash their hands
 well and often to help protect themselves from polio.

The youngsters reacted so enthusiastically that soap and paper towel consumption more than doubled the normal rate.
 Both these items are in short supply but authorities are scrambling to keep up and aren't going to do anything to check the urge for cleanliness.

FHA Rules

Are Revised

Booklet Issued For All

Builders Interested Is

Available At Louisville

The Federal Housing Administration has revised minimum requirements for properties of one and two living units for the state of Kentucky, Roscoe R. Dalton, state director, announced today. Mr. Dalton stated that the FHA has issued a booklet for use by builders and others who plan construction of homes to be financed with FHA-insured mortgage loans. The title of the booklet is "Minimum Property
 Requirements for Properties of
 One and Two Living Units Located in the State of Kentucky."
 Copies are available through the Kentucky state office located at 505 Post Office Building, Louisville.

This booklet revises and codifies all of the standards and requirements previously applicable to properties involving one or two living units which must be met to be eligible for FHA-insured financing under Titles I, II, or VI of the National Housing Act. The FHA minimum property requirements for three or more living units are separate and distinct from this booklet, and are now being used as a guide for the construction of rental housing for veterans.

The one and two family unit requirements cover the planning and construction of the home
 and the planning of the site.
 They do not apply to off-site facilities.

"The booklet will be helpful to builders because it contains all necessary information on any subject and is printed so that the contents may be put in a loose-leaf binder, if desired.

"Since FHA minimum property requirements have been recognized as basic in the home building industry, it is possible they may be used as a guide by municipal officials in the preparation or revision of local building codes applicable to small dwelling construction."

Taft's Proposed Budget Cuts Raise Problems

How To Do It Without Changes In Nat'l Policy

"UNCONTROLLABLE"

By Clark Beach

Washington—A large cut in the Federal budget such as Senator Taft has proposed would not be a mere fiscal operation, annoying to government bureaucrats.

It would necessitate major changes in national policy regarding such vast programs as federal aids to agriculture, reclamations and development of public power. Congress itself would have to shoulder the responsibility.

The Ohio Republican leader advocates a federal budget between 25 and 30 billion—at least seven billion less than the budget which it is reported President Truman will recommend for the coming fiscal year. Taft has not detailed how he would bring expenses down to his figure.

Why It's Difficult

Purely administrative expenses of the government amount to only $1.9 billion in the current fiscal year. This covers the payroll, office supplies, building rentals and upkeep, travel expenses, etc. A 20 percent cut here would reduce the bill by only $380 million.

Obviously enormous reductions
 must be made in other categories
 if even billion is to be saved.
 The choice must be among these items, which comprise the Budget Bureau's breakdown of federal expenditures in the current year:

Veterans' Program $6,200,000,000
 Refunds on Taxes 1,800,000,000
 Public Debt Interest 5,000,000,000
 National Defense 18,500,000,000
 Agriculture Aids 1,200,000,000
 Social Security 1,200,000,000
 Public Works 1,000,000,000
 General Expenses 1,900,000,000
 Finance 4,200,000,000

Total $41,000,000,000
 Included in "national defense"
 is the cost of terminal leave pay for enlisted men, amounting to $2,400,000,000. "International pinance" includes foreign loans.
 These items are not continuing expenses.

What Can't Be Cut
 The veterans' program, tax refunds and interest are considered by fiscal authorities as "uncontrollable." Not subject to reduction. Nor could most of the expenditures under social security, such as unemployment relief and retirement allowances, be altered.

Budget pruning must be applied, therefore, to one or another of the program administered by the various departments if substantial savings are to be made.

Since all of the departments'
 work is done by specific authorization of Congress, it is Congress which must decide which program is to be eliminated.

A glance at the Interior Department budget shows that about half the total consists of construction projects such as extension of Bonneville power transmission lines and the billion-dollar reclamation program
 in California.

Further Complications
 In the Agriculture Department budget the chief items are agricultural research and the various crop adjustment activities,

It's Not Safe In Berlin Zoo

Thieves Steal Animals, Supposedly For Food, Battle Losses Heavy

By Daniel De Vuce

Berlin—Thieves are now the greatest hazard to the 250 surviving denizens of the Berlin Zoo,
 where more than 3,000 animals
 were killed by Allied air raids and a final pitched battle between Russian and SS tanks.

Current losses to night prowlers
 range from a speckled porcupine
 to a small white rat.
 "The porcupine probably went into a stew," reported Dr. Katharina Heinroth, zoo director.

Animals Get Rations

Unlike the human population of Berlin, the zoo's inmates have solved the food problem. Slim, an o. d. tent-eared elephant, who has never seemed to have forgotten his fear of the bomb explosions that did away with eight of his brethren, regularly gets 100 pounds of fodder a day from the city government. Sasi, a tricky chimpanzee, draws a No. 5
 food ration like a child.

The three lions—King, Prince,
 and Puss—are quite satisfied with 20 pounds of horsemeat
 each morning.

The zoo, near the Tiergarten
 in the center of Berlin, took more of a pounding from high explosives than most places on the Siedfried Line. A sea elephant was mortally wounded by flak.
 Wehrmacht veterans, trenching for a last stand against the Red Army, executed two gorillas
 rather than risk having them suddenly escape in the midst of their foxholes.

They're Battle Veterans

Dr. Heinroth, who moved her office back into the battered Aquarium when it was evacuated by a Russian infantry battalion, said a war neurosis was still evident in the animals, even at this late date.

"Sasi, our chimpanzee, can't bear to hear any loud noise," she said. "Sasi, the elephant, has never recovered his good disposition."
