KEA Leaders To See Willis About Salaries

School Heads Ask Special Session of Ky. Legislature

GOVERNOR IS SILENT

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Representatives of the Kentucky Education Association were headed for Frankfort today to urge Gov. Simon Willis to make additional financial aid possible for public school teachers.

The K. E. A.—a factor in the 1946 legislative action granting the schools more than the chief executive recommended that year—went on record recently as favoring a special legislative session now to appropriate $10,000,000 out of the state's surplus to give teachers more pay to help meet increased costs of living.

The K. E. A. delegation arranged to meet the governor at 2 p. m., but in the meanwhile Willis maintained the same silence about their proposal as he did last year when Mayor E. Leland Taylor of Louisville urged a special session to change that city's tax laws, and when other groups have urged additional school funds.

During the current, 1946-47, fiscal year state aid to public schools is $16,650,000 plus $1,850,000 additional for the financially poorer counties. All of it goes for teacher pay.

In the coming 1947-48 fiscal year, those totals are expected to be $17,551,250 and $1,950,000, due to the "escalator clause" in the biennial budget bill. That provides that part of the expected $25,000,000 surplus in the state's general fund at the end of June this year be added to the school appropriations for the 1947-48 year.

The money is appropriated on a per capita basis and for the current fiscal year it amounts to $24.40 for each child of school age in a school district. The per capita is the largest in the commonwealth's history.

In his message to the 1946 general assembly, which made the current biennial appropriations, Governor Willis recommended that the school funds be maintained at the same level as the two previous years, $13,500,000 for the per capita distributed among all school districts, and $1,500,000 for the equalization fund for the poorer counties.

A number of Republicans joined with a majority of the Democrats and voted the larger appropriations.

Willis in that message stressed a "balanced budget" and proposed a lower general fund total for the 1946-48 period, $68,614,430, than the legislature finally enacted—$86,865,812 for the general fund plus some special appropriations.

Circuit Court Has Busiest Term In Years

25 State Cases Were Disposed of; 4 Sent To Prison

11 INDICTMENTS MADE

The January term of circuit court, recently adjourned after its session in the city hall here last week, transacted more business than any regular term of court in the last several years, according to county officials.

Twenty-five Commonwealth cases were disposed of, the grand jury was in session three days, returning 11 indictments; the petit jury was in session nine days; 15 divorces were granted, and a number of additional equity cases were heard.

Four men were sentenced to terms in the state penitentiary at LaGrange. These men, and the indictments brought against them, were: A. L. Smith, unlawfully detaining a woman against her will, two years; Fred Laird, colored, grand larceny, one year; John Henry Martin, colored, manslaughter, two years; L. A. Minton, uttering and publishing a forgery, two years.

Grand jurors were paid a total of $120, and the state paid a total of $731 to petit jurors. Fines collected in circuit court amounted to $1,585. Judge Homer Roberts' court collected $239 in fines, and C. J. Bowers, First District, collected $829.

There was only one jury trial on the civil docket. Jess Fields was awarded $300 damages in his suit against Arkansas Fuel and Oil Co.

Fulton VFW Post Meets

Report On Activities Of Organization Heard; GI Loan Plan Explained

The Fulton post of Veterans of Foreign Wars met last night at the Legion Cabin. A report was made on the post's activities since the last meeting. These activities included the sending of flowers to local Gold Star Mothers, conducting a campaign for registration of voters of Fulton and vicinity and holding a Christmas dance for members of the local post.

Mr. David of the Continental Mortgage Company was present and gave an interesting and detailed explanation of the requirements and possibilities to the veteran under the much discussed GI loan phase of the GI Bill of Rights.

The attention of the membership was called to the fact that the VFW organization is designed primarily for service to the veteran and his dependents, and a campaign was instituted to make this known to the veterans of the community.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 18, at which time it is planned to show moving pictures of army and navy operations in the South Seas.

Negroes Leave Wrecked Auto

1942 Buick Overturns On Clinton Hwy Near Walker's Tourist Court

Five St. Louis negroes abandoned a borrowed 1942 Buick on the Fulton-Clinton highway near Walker's Tourist Court Tuesday afternoon after the driver lost control of the automobile and it overturned.

The occupants of the car, who said they did not have money to pay for towing and repairing it, proceeded to Jackson, Tenn. They previously had been arrested in Wickliffe for reckless and improper driving, highway patrolmen said, and were fined $19.50 and costs in police court there. It was reported that the auto also ran off the road in Illinois.

None of the negroes was injured in either accident. The driver of the car was Holoman Anthony of St. Louis. The automobile was owned by Harvey Stinch, colored, St. Louis taxi company owner.

Lucky, Patsy Ruth Fergus' seeing eye dog, cocks an attentive ear as his mistress tells him he can't go to school with her in Los Angeles, Calif., under a ruling confirmed by the school board, but instead a teacher must come to her home to give the 16-year-old high school junior instruction.

McKellar Is "Besmirching" TVA, Employees-Lilienthal

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—David E. Lilienthal complained today that employees of the Tennessee Valley Authority are being "besmirched" by "unsubstantiated" charges from Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) that they are Communists.

The former TVA chief and McKellar, longtime antagonists, clashed at the Senate Atomic Energy Committee's hearing on Lilienthal's nomination for chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. McKellar has called Lilienthal the "No. 1 Communist" in Tennessee.

Lilienthal objected to what he said seemed a "clear tendency" by McKellar "in making accusations of Communism against people who are not present, or being present, do not have the protection of counsel."

This type of questioning, Lilienthal said, is "not among Democratic traditions." McKellar read a list of TVA employees he said the House Un-American Activities Committee has been told are Communists.

Lilienthal said he knew of no proof that these persons are Communists. It is not fair, he continued, to accuse people without giving them a chance for a hearing.

One of the tenets of democracy, he added, is that the individual's "right of good name and right not to be besmirched by charges that are not substantiated" should not be violated.

Lilienthal, President Truman's choice for commission chairman, was subjected once again yesterday to McKellar's vigorous questions about (1) the presence of communists in the Tennessee Valley Authority, which Lilienthal formerly headed, and (2) whether the nominee has "leftist sympathies."

The tall, baldish administrator assured the senator he had no such sympathies.

Then, when McKellar called on him to give his views on "communist doctrine," Lilienthal settled down in his seat, faced his questioner, and let go.

His convictions are not so much concerned with what he is against as what he is for, Lilienthal told McKellar, and democracy is an affirmative doctrine rather than a negative one.

Mayfield Sells Woods, NYA Bldg. At $25,600 Price
The city of Mayfield Monday night sold the "city woods," a plot of approximately six acres of land at the southwest of Mayfield on the Fulton highway, to the Tennessee Valley Authority for $5,800 and sold the former NYA building to Briede and Rogovsky, Chicago, Ill., owners of the Andover Clothing Factory for $20,100.

TVA plans to build a high-voltage substation which will "pull" power for the entire Mayfield area.

The old NYA building recently was rented by the clothing manufacturing firm.

Says GOP May Re-Arm Reich

Sen. Pepper, Florida, Fears Republicans Are Junking Bi-Partisanship

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told the senate today he fears that Republican leaders are abandoning the "bi-partisan foreign policy" and "proposing to rearm Germany."

He said his concern was aroused by speeches by John Foster Dulles, "famed Republican adviser on foreign policy," and statements by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York.

Vandenberg is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Only last night, when announcing he would not attend initial sessions of the Moscow Big Four conference in March, Vandenberg declared:

"This implies no breach in our unpartisan pursuit of United States foreign policy. I expect it to continue."

(Senator Connally of Texas, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations group announced also that he would not attend the first meetings in Moscow. Both Senators said they would go later if needed.)

Pepper told the Senate that Dulles, with approval of Vandenberg and Dewey, "obviously proposes to nullify the spirit and letter of the Potsdam agreement."

This agreement, Pepper said, was intended to strip Germany of any powers to stage another war.

"Humpty" Jackson Killed In Tavern At Mounds City

Mounds City, Ill.—Carlos (Humpty) Jackson, 46, of Dyerburg, Tenn., was killed here in an exchange of gun shots with the proprietor of a tavern, who later was exonerated by a coroner's jury, Pulaski county Sheriff Homer Brit reported.

The sheriff said Jackson was fatally wounded when he and G. J. Webb, operator of the El Morocco Tavern, fired at each other following an argument over a card game at the establishment.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, ruling that Webb acted in self defense.

Hopes For Permanent Peace Can Yet Be Betrayed, Lost, Truman Tells Congress Today

Chief Executive Reports On U. S. Activity In U. N.

INTERESTED IN ATOM

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—President Truman told congress today that the United Nations has made "great progress" in the past year but that world hopes for peace can yet be "betrayed and lost."

"The difficulties and dangers that lie before us are many and serious," Mr. Truman said in a letter transmitting to both the Senate and House a report on United States activities in the world organization during 1946. He declared in the report itself that progress made on international control of atomic energy is "heartening," due chiefly to increasing Russian agreement with American proposals for a world control system.

Some Progress Slow
On the other hand, the chief executive described as "disappointingly slow" the work of the military staff committee. That U. N. agency has the task of organizing the forces which the Security Council is authorized to use against any future aggressor.

Mr. Truman said, however, "there are already signs of greater speed and it is hoped that the pace of the committee's work will continue to accelerate."

The President listed as one outstanding accomplishment of the peace agency during its first year the unanimous agreement by the 54 member nations, including Russia, on the principle of international control and inspection of atomic energy, "established by treaty and not subject to any veto in its operation." But he added:

"Many months of hard work and difficult negotiation in the Security Council and the atomic energy commission lie ahead. Not all the essential principles have been agreed upon. The problem of enforcement must still be resolved."

"All the principles must be given specific and practical application in treaties and conventions unanimously agreed upon."

"This is one of the main tasks before the United Nations in the coming year. To succeed, we must at the same time build the other essential foundations of a general system of collective security."

Security Paramount
The nations can safely lay aside their arms only insofar as their security is protected by other means.

Mr. Truman said one of the "important long range achievements" of the General Assembly's first session, which was held partly in London and partly in New York, was the adoption of resolutions for "codification and development of international law."

Developments toward the application of international law to individuals—as in the cases of the Nazi leaders tried at Nuremberg—as well as to states "are of profound significance," the President said, because:

"We can not have lasting peace unless a genuine rule of world law is established and enforced." He continued:

"The justifiable hope and confidence to which the great progress of the United Nations in the past years have given rise can be betrayed and lost."

"The difficulties and dangers that lie before us are many and serious. They are strewn across the road that leads to the final peace settlements, to the establishment and maintenance of collective security, to the control of atomic energy and regulation and reduction of other arms, to the attainment of economic recovery and an expanding world economy and to the wider realization of human rights."

Hoover Arrives in Reich To Study Food Problems

Frankfurt, Germany, Feb. 4.—Herbert Hoover arrived here today by airplane to begin his studies of the problem of feeding Germany at less expense to the American taxpayers. Hoover was welcomed by Gen. BY TWIN SAILOR

If there are any new and original ideas under the sun for civic betterment, your reporter doesn't know about them. What we are concerned with here in Kentucky is ideas, measures, and remedies that are applicable to individual communities. Somewhere, every constructive idea for human betterment has been tried out, and the chances are that every sound plan has been made to work through the efforts of a small, determined group or an intelligent, enthusiastic and self-sacrificing individual.

All of which prefaces an appeal to readers for help in getting stories about betterment work in individual communities. By helping me to tell in this column what cities, towns, counties are doing to lift their standards of living, you can contribute something important to the movement for a better Commonwealth.

If your community has exceptionally good schools, write me all about them. Your public health service may be outstanding, or welfare work, through public officials or private agencies, may be a story in itself. Some counties and municipalities do a fine job of managing their finances. That also is good information to pass along. Don't hesitate because you think your literary style is not as good as it might be. Just put down the facts and mail the letters to Evening Callways, 1106 Republic Building, Louisville 2, Kentucky.

I want facts about progress in Kentucky Communities, but I can't find time to drive all over the state. Through a Nothing-A-Year Man for the Committee for Kentucky, I have to work in my own fields of endeavor to make a living. I must have your help.

I want letters about the proposed new constitution. If you think we need a new constitution, summarize your reasons. If you are opposed to it, set down your objections. Lawyers and judges especially are invited to express their opinions. I may not be able to reproduce all the letters, but I will use every important point that may be raised on this question. The primary election to determine whether we are to have a constitutional convention is not far off, and every adult in the state should be well enough informed to vote intelligently on the issue.

Getting back to community betterment, persons desiring printed information on the subject should write to James W. Armstrong, Director of Community Organization, Committee for Kentucky, Republic Building, Louisville 2, Kentucky.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Stocks generally continued to touch new high levels since last August in today's market although profit cashing again was a restraining influence.

General Motors opened on a 3,000-share block, up 1 and one eighth, following restoration of the 75-cent dividend. Dealings tapered after an active start and advances of fractions to a point or so were reduced in most cases near midday. The buoyant rally of Monday took a rest.

Ahead most of the time were Chrysler, Youngstown sheet, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, International Harvester, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Johns Manville and Southern Pacific. Steels were slow.

Backward were Consolidated Edison, Pennsylvania Railroad, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse and Philip Morris.

Bonds were uneven and cotton futures steady.

talks. Mrs. Gussie Browder then led a contest of the "Battle of the Sexes" on State abbreviations.

"This community won the honor of being the first community to reach its 1947 membership goal, which was 148, and now has 165. By doing so they won a prize of $25.00. This prize money will go toward equipping their kitchen in the Community Center House, which they have almost completed. Although it was their intention to complete this center house for this occasion at that time, on the account of the weather, they failed to do so. This did not keep them from turning out a large attendance which represented about 70 per cent of this membership."

KEA Leaders To See Willis About Salaries

School Heads Ask Special Session of Ky. Legislature

GOVERNOR IS SILENT

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Representatives of the Kentucky Education Association expected to urge Gov. Simeon Willis to make additional financial aid possible for public school teachers.

The K. E. A.—a factor in the 1946 legislative action granting the schools more than the chief executive recommended that year—went on record recently as favoring a special legislative session now to appropriate $10,000,000 out of the state's surplus to give teachers more pay to help meet increased costs of living.

The K. E. A. delegation arranged to meet the governor at 2 p. m., but in the meanwhile Willis maintained the same silence about their proposal as he did last year when Mayor E. Leland Taylor of Louisville urged a special session to change that city's tax laws, and when other groups have urged additional school funds.

During the current, 1946-47, fiscal year state aid to public schools is $16,650,000 plus $1,850,000 additional for the financially poorer counties. All of it goes for teacher pay.

In the coming 1947-48 fiscal year, those totals are expected to be $17,551,250 and $1,950,000, due to the "escalator clause" in the biennial budget bill. That provides that part of the expected $25,000,000 surplus in the state's general fund at the end of June this year be added to the school appropriations for the 1947-48 year.

The money is appropriated on a per capita basis and for the current fiscal year it amounts to $24.40 for each child of school age in a school district. The per capita is the largest in the commonwealth's history.

In his message to the 1946 general assembly, which made the current biennial appropriations, Governor Willis recommended that the school funds be maintained at the same level as the two previous years, $13,500,000 for the per capita distributed among all school districts, and $1,500,000 for the equalization fund for the poorer counties.

A number of Republicans joined with a majority of the Democrats and voted the larger appropriations.

Willis in that message stressed a "balanced budget" and proposed a lower general fund total for the 1946-48 period, $68,614,430, than the legislature finally enacted—$86,865,812 for the general fund plus some special appropriations.

Circuit Court Has Busiest Term In Years

25 State Cases Were Disposed of; 4 Sent To Prison

11 INDICTMENTS MADE

The January term of circuit court, recently adjourned after its session in the city hall here last week, transacted more business than any regular term of court in the last several years, according to county officials.

Twenty-five Commonwealth cases were disposed of, the grand jury was in session three days, returning 11 indictments; the petit jury was in session nine days; 15 divorces were granted, and a number of additional equity cases were heard.

Four men were sentenced to terms in the state penitentiary at LaGrange. These men, and the indictments brought against them, were: A. L. Smith, unlawfully detaining a woman against her will, two years; Fred Laird, colored, grand larceny, one year; John Henry Martin, colored, manslaughter, two years; L. A. Minton, uttering and publishing a forgery, two years.

Grand jurors were paid a total of $120, and the state paid a total of $731 to petit jurors. Fines collected in circuit court amounted to $1,585. Judge Hemminger collected $239 in fines, and C. J. Bowers, First District, collected $239.

There was only one jury trial on the civil docket. Jess Fields was awarded $300 damages in his suit against Arkansas Fuel and Oil Co.

Fulton VFW Post Meets

Report On Activities Of Organization Heard; GI Loan Plan Explained

The Fulton post of Veterans of Foreign Wars met last night at the Legion Cabin. A report was made on the post's activities since the last meeting. The activities included the sending of flowers to local Gold Star Mothers, conducting a campaign for registration of voters of Fulton and vicinity and holding a Christmas dance for members of the local post.

Mr. David of the Continental Mortgage Company was present and gave an interesting and detailed explanation of the requirements and possibilities to the veteran under the much discussed GI loan phase of the GI Bill of Rights.

The attention of the membership was called to the fact that the VFW organization is designed primarily for service to the veteran and his dependents, and a campaign was instituted to make this known to the veterans of the community.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 18, at which time it is planned to show moving pictures of army and navy operations in the South Seas.

Negroes Leave Wrecked Auto

1942 Buick Overturns On Clinton Highway Near Walker's Tourist Court

Five St. Louis negroes abandoned a borrowed 1942 Buick on the Fulton-Clinton highway near Walker's Tourist Court Tuesday afternoon after the driver lost control of the automobile and it overturned.

The occupants of the car, who said they did not have money to pay for towing and repairing it, proceeded to Jackson, Tenn. They previously had been arrested in Wickliffe for reckless and improper driving, highway patrolmen said, and were fined $19.50 and costs in police court there. It was reported that the auto also ran off the road in Illinois.

None of the negroes was injured in either accident. The driver of the car was Holoman Anthony of St. Louis. The automobile was owned by Harvey Stith, colored, St. Louis taxi company owner.

McKellar Is "Besmirching" TVA, Employees-Lilienthal

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—David E. Lilienthal complained today that employees of the Tennessee Valley Authority are "besmirching" by "unsubstantiated" charges from Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) that they are Communists.

The former TVA chief and McKellar, longtime antagonists, clashed at the Senate Atomic Energy Committee's hearing on Lilienthal's nomination for chairman of the Atomic Energy Control Commission. McKellar has called Lilienthal the "No. 1 Communist" in Tennessee.

Lilienthal objected to what he said seemed a "clear tendency" by McKellar "in making accusations of Communism against people who are not present, or, being present, do not have the protection of counsel."

This type of questioning, Lilienthal said, is "not among Democratic traditions."

McKellar read a list of TVA employees he said the House Un-American Activities Committee has been told are Communists.

Lilienthal said he knew of no proof that these persons are Communists. It is not fair, he continued, to accuse people without giving them a chance for a hearing.

One of the tenets of democracy, he added, is that the individual's "right of good name and right not to be besmirched by charges that are not substantiated" should not be violated.

Lilienthal, President Truman's choice for commission chairman, was subjected once again yesterday to McKellar's vigorous questions about (1) the presence of communists in the Tennessee Valley Authority, which Lilienthal formerly headed, and (2) whether the nominee has "leftist sympathies."

The tall, baldish administrator assured the senator he had no such sympathies.

Then, when McKellar called on him to give his views on "communist doctrine," Lilienthal settled down in his seat, faced his questioner, and let go.

His convictions are not so much concerned with what he is against as what he is for. Lilienthal told McKellar, and democracy is an affirmative doctrine rather than a negative one.

Mayfield Sells Woods, NYA Bldg. At $25,600 Price

The city of Mayfield Monday night sold the "city woods," a plot of approximately six acres of land at the southwest of Mayfield on the Fulton highway, to the Tennessee Valley Authority for $25,600 and sold the former NYA building to Briede and Rogovsky, Chicago, Ill., owners of the Andover Clothing Factory for $20,100.

TVA plans to build a high-voltage substation which will "pull" power for the entire Mayfield area.

The old NYA building recently was rented by the clothing manufacturing firm.

Says GOP May Re-Arm Reich

Sen. Pepper, Florida, Fears Republicans Are Junking Bi-Partisanship

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told the senate today he fears that Republican leaders are abandoning the "bi-partisan" foreign policy and "proposing to rearm Germany."

He said his concern was aroused by speeches by John Foster Dulles, "famed Republican adviser on foreign policy," and statements by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York.

Vandenberg is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

(Only last night, when announcing he would not attend initial sessions of the Moscow Big Four conference in March, Vandenberg declared:

"This implies no breach in our unpartisan pursuit of United States foreign policy. I expect it to continue."

(Senator Connally of Texas, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations group announced also that he would not attend the first meetings in Moscow. Both Senators said they would go later if needed.)

Pepper told the Senate that Dulles, with approval of Vandenberg and Dewey, "obviously proposes to nullify the spirit and letter of the Potsdam agreement."

This agreement, Pepper said, was intended to strip Germany of any powers to stage another war.

"Humpty" Jackson Killed In Tavern At Mounds City

Mound City, Ill.—Carlos (Humpty) Jackson, 46, of Dyersburg, Tenn., was killed here in an exchange of gun shots with the proprietor of a tavern, who later was exonerated by a coroner's jury, Pulaski county Sheriff Homer Britt reported.

The sheriff said Jackson was fatally wounded when he and J. Webb, operator of the El Morocco Tavern, fired at each other following an argument over a card game at the establishment.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, ruling that Webb acted in self defense.

Hopes For Permanent Peace Can Yet Be Betrayed, Lost, Truman Tells Congress Today

Chief Executive Reports On U. S. Activity In U. N.

INTERESTED IN ATOM

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—President Truman told congress today that the United Nations has made "great progress" in the past year but that world hopes for peace can yet "be betrayed and lost."

"The difficulties and dangers that lie before us are many and serious," Mr. Truman said in a letter transmitting to both the Senate and House a report on United States activities in the world organization during 1946.

He declared in the report itself that progress made on international control of atomic energy is "heartening," due chiefly to increasing Russian agreement with American proposals for a world control system.

Some Progress Slow

On the other hand, the chief executive described as "disappointingly slow" the work of the military staff committee. That U. N. agency has the task of organizing the forces which the Security Council is authorized to use against any future aggressor.

Mr. Truman said, however, "there are already signs of greater speed and it is hoped that the pace of the committee's work will continue to accelerate."

The President listed as one outstanding accomplishment of the peace agency during its first year the unanimous agreement by the 54 member nations, including Russia, on the principle of international control and inspection of atomic energy, "established by treaty and not subject to any veto in its operations." But he added:

"Many months of hard work and difficult negotiation in the Security Council and the atomic energy commission have been agreed upon. The problem of enforcement must still be resolved."

"All the principles must be given specific and practical application in treaties and conventions unanimously agreed upon."

"This is one of the main tasks before the United Nations in the coming year. To succeed, we must at the same time build other essential foundations of a general system of collective security."

Security Framework

"The nations safely lay aside their arms only insofar as their security is protected by other means."

"Mr. Truman said one of the 'important long range achievements' of the General Assembly's first session, which was held partly in London and partly in New York, was the adoption of resolutions for 'codification and development of international law.'

Developments toward the application of international law to individuals—as in the case of the Nazi leaders tried at Nuremberg—as well as to states 'are of profound significance,' the President said, because:

"We can not have lasting peace unless a genuine rule of world law is established and enforced." He continued:

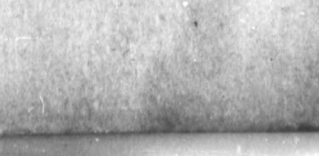

Can Be Betrayed

"The justifiable hope and confidence to which the great progress of the United Nations in the past year have given rise can be betrayed and lost."

"The difficulties and dangers that lie before us are many and serious. They are strewn across the road that leads to the final peace settlements, to the establishment and maintenance of collective security, to the control of atomic energy and regulation and reduction of other arms, to the attainment of economic recovery and an expanding world economy and to the wider realization of human rights."

Law Enforcement—A Must

Kentucky's highway patrol yesterday was termed "totally inadequate" to handle present traffic law enforcement problems by Revenue Commissioner O. M. Howard, who suggested better incentives and more adequate pay for members of the police force.

If these are the remedies needed to insure more efficient enforcement of highway laws and regulations, we are for them one hundred per cent. It has been said that 80 per cent of the automobiles accidents in Kentucky during 1945 involved violations of traffic laws. If this is true, the state needs a larger and a more efficient highway patrol.

It appears fairly obvious that individual motorists are not going to obey the laws unless there is reasonable assurance that they will be arrested and fined for violations. Human nature being what it is, this is more or less to be expected. And this situation is dangerous in the extreme.

The writer often has occasion to drive at night. Out of curiosity, during the past month we counted the number of automobiles that had only one headlight, those that had too many headlights and spotlights, and those drivers who failed to dim their lights when approaching. Roughly 50 per cent of the cars had defective or improper headlights, and about 25 per cent had no dimmers, or their drivers declined to use them. These infractions of the rules of the road are of minor importance, relatively speaking, but any can lead to accident and death.

This is not intended as a criticism of the highway patrolmen serving this area. It is a physical impossibility for them to patrol all the highways and arrest all the law violators.

We do think more stringent law enforcement is needed, and believe any money spent for this purpose will pay huge dividends in saving life and property.

Elusive Fire

Boise, Idaho—(P)—Three fire trucks rolled out to an intersection in the business district after an onlooker reported a car on fire.

On arrival firemen learned the motorist had leaped into the blazing vehicle and driven off for the fire station after the alarm was given. In fact, witnesses near the first station said later, the trucks almost ran him down as they sped out to answer the call.

The unidentified driver then turned his smoking vehicle and followed the engines.

By the time he arrived at the intersection from which the alarm was first given, the firemen had returned to the station by another route.

The department is still wondering what happened to the car.

The average person probably thinks that "Old" McDade, one of our local policemen, is one of Fulton's greatest cigar smokers. But in all the 35 years that he's had a cigar in his mouth, he has never had a light.

New Burglary Trick

Springfield, Mass.—(P)—When police rushed into the Gingham Express Company office last night with drawn guns in answer to a help call, they found —

A 24-year-old man covered beside the safe, which he had intended to crack.

He explained he got panicky when he heard the night watchman try the door and feared he might be shot. So he shouted for help.

Reds Need Production

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(Subbing for MacKenzie)

Russia's maneuvering for position and propaganda purposes in the current discussions at Lake Success need not be taken as evidence that the Soviet is insincere in its disarmament proposals.

That she will attempt to arrive at some agreement in her own fashion, always suspicious of anything a "foreigner" offers and always conscious of the party line, is a foregone conclusion. But in the long run she is probably more anxious for an arms limitation agreement than anyone else right now.

Britain and the United States already have pared their military establishment sharply, and are continuing to do so. Russia has, too, but not to such an extent nor as much as she would like.

To speak of Russia as one of the great military powers now is correct, but an oversimplification. She has a big army, but not well equipped for its size, and incomparably less mobile than those to which westerners have become accustomed. The Germans, in the last months of 1941, knocked out the only really prepared Russian armies except those in the far east, and thereafter the Reds moved on American wheels and received more than a fifth of their total war supplies from abroad. This takes Russian attention from the purely military field to that of industrial capacity.

Russia desperately needs the men now in her army for industrial expansion. She knows productive capacity, rather than manpower, is the real basis for British and American military might, and is determined to be in a position to compete. But now she is behind on her five-year plan, and manpower is a serious problem. This is made evident through her labor mobilization campaign. There are reports that the old NKVD has been divided into two sections. One carries on the old NKVD activities of policing, spying and party line enforcement. The other constitutes one of the greatest labor mobilization machines ever devised, being charged with gathering laborers from every possible source as the new industrial centers spring up. This section, known as MVD, not only is reported to have control of foreign prisoners of all categories, but also handles what seems to amount to conscription of Russian labor.

So, understanding the necessity for an industrial system which can compete with those of the west, Russian disarmament today is a positive force in her drive for equality tomorrow.

But, at the same time, she wants no change in actual military ratios among the powers unless it be in her favor. Thus she maneuvers in the U. N. Security Council toward three ends—a world military situation in which she will be safe for some years in applying her manpower to industrial development, a political situation in which she stands before the small nations as a crusader for peace, and an economic situation in which she can draw on the resources of "friendly" (i. e., controlled) neighbors to build up her central strength.

Sports Roundup

By Hugo Fullerton, Jr.
New York. (AP)—The debate over whether Frank Parker or Ted Schroeder should have been picked to play in the Davis Cup matches against Australia continues to crop up in the local gazettes, so there still must be some interest in the matter. This writer, who was there, feels impelled to clear up a point or two. One is that all the members of the cup squad, excepting Parker, chose Schroeder to play the second singles. They told Cap. Walter Pate so in meeting, and he concurred. It had been agreed beforehand that the players would have a hand in making the nominations. If an injustice were done to Parker, then, it was a community project. Actually, Frankie lost his chance of playing the second singles when he declined to compete in the Victorian Championships a fortnight or so before the cup tie. His teammates thought, out loud, that he should have gotten in there though as much out of practice as they were, and "taken his licking, too."

Parker Had His Chance
A second point is that Parker could have played in the Davis Cup if he had wanted to—in admittedly is not so esteemed as playing out there all by one's self. Frankie was asked by Pate

—after Schroeder had been picked for singles—if he would play the doubles with Gardnar Mulloy, and he said "No, I'm a singles player." It was a tough deal for Mulloy, and judging by what one reads recently of his run-ins with Australian linesmen, the tall Miamian has not yet fully recovered his temper. He had tried hard for a doubles assignment, and he and Parker had looked just about as good as Schroeder and Kramer in practice matches.

Murray Tigers Win 51 To 43; Pups Are Defeated 27 To 13

Murray High's Tigers came out at the half probably couldn't be printed anyway, but the Murray club reversed the situation after intermission and held a lead that varied from 1 to 12 points after a tip-in by Kenny Slaughter put them in front 26-24.

In the B team game, Collins dropped in the first field goal for the Pups to give his team their first and only lead of the game. Hargis scored two for Murray and Shroat followed with 2 more, handing the Calloway countians an advantage they increased throughout the tilt, winning 27-13.

Hard-working Wayne Byasse led the Pups' scoring with a field goal and two fouls, while Hargis was high for Murray with 9 points.

Fulton controlled both backboards fairly regularly throughout the first half, and put on a fine exhibition of ball-hawking. What Ty Holland told his Tigter made the first bucket for the visitors, Furgerson sank a free throw and Farris fired one in from the left sideline to put the Murrays in front 5-4. Campbell then got his only two points of the evening for Fulton, and Furgerson followed with two for Murray, after which Slaughter stepped up to the foul line and dropped one in. Forrest made two fouls for Fulton to tie the score 8-8. Neims got two and Forrest made two more as the quarter closed.

Eli Alexander, sophomore substitute forward for Murray, pushed in a one-hand field goal, his only score, shortly after the second period began, and Furgerson ducked through the Fulton five to sink a crisp and tie the count 12-12. Furgerson was fouled on the play, and made his free toss.

Forrest came to the rescue of the Fulton team with a timely field goal, was fouled, and also got his free one. Slaughter batted in a loose ball under the Murray goal to tie it up again at 15-15, and Farris put Murray in front 16-15. Billy Mac Bone then made his first two-point, Pigue dropped in a foul, and Slaughter evened the score again with a field goal. Tip Neims made two and one in quick succession, and Pigue got one more to make it 22-18, Fulton.

Bob Murrell, blond army vet, got a foul throw and made it, and Bone closed the scoring book for the half with a goal that put Fulton ahead 24-19.

Furgerson, Murrell and Slaughter turned on the heat in the third period to give the Tigers their game-winning margin, making 4, 6, and 6 respectively in short order.

Both Fulton and Murray will participate in the Western Kentucky Conference tournament at Madisonville this weekend. The next regular season opponent for the Bulldogs will be Cuba

Teeter-Totter Bed Used In Attempt To Cure Paralysis

AP Newsfeatures
New York.—Ruth Van Kirk, pretty 19-year-old infantile paralysis victim, spends most of her waking and sleeping hours in a bed hooked up with an electric motor so it oscillates like a slow-motion playground teeter-totter.

"I'm so used to it now," she says, "I hardly ever notice the motion."

The bed moves 18 hours a day, tipping first down at the foot and up at the head, then down slightly at the head and up at the foot. At one end of the cycle, the foot of Ruth's bed is five feet above the floor. A minute and a half later, halfway through the cycle, Ruth's feet are about two feet off the floor.

A relatively slight girl, Ruth didn't stand much taller than five feet in stocking feet before she got sick 18 months ago.

Now, because of her paralysis, she can't stand unaided. She hopes that as a result of her own nearly constant teetering in the see-saw bed, doctors will uncover new clues in the search for ways to reduce the ravages of infantile paralysis in others who may contract it.

This particular clue is being pursued at the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center as a result of studies made during the war. Those studies, made with conscientious objectors who volunteered to spend months at a time in plaster casts, showed that immobilization of even completely well people for several weeks resulted in nitrogen and calcium losses and in harmful changes in blood circulation.

But the evidences of physical deterioration affecting muscle and bone, the research men found, were less pronounced when the same cast-bound subjects were in a teeter-totter bed.

In 1946 the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis stepped into the picture, and it was arranged that the March of Dimes would support further studies in which New York Hospital and Cornell University Medical College doctors would see if some of the harmful effects resulting from immobilization following severe poliomyelitis might be reduced by use of the rocking bed.

Ruth, then a patient in another hospital, heard about the project and volunteered. She has now completed a month in the bed.

"Before the study started, I tried to imagine what a rocking bed would be like," Ruth says. "It never occurred to me it would seem like being in any other bed."

"But the only thing the rocking really interferes with is writing."

At regular intervals, doctors and nurses come in to the room and make tests. At other times, Ruth goes in a wheel chair to another part of the Hospital to continue the muscle re-education and physical therapy program she started before the rocking bed experiment got underway.

"The only thing I ever noticed," she says, "is a slight shifting in weight. I've never slept better in my life. It's only when a nurse turns it off that I realize the bed was moving."

Hydraulic Pow-Trol... Newest Development In Farm Equipment Announced By Local John Deere Dealer

position selected by the operator. Two speeds are provided so that the operator can raise or lower the implement in a jiffy, or slowly to secure any accurate in-between position.

Integral equipment is operated from the rock shaft by the same control lever in much the same manner as with the hydraulic power lift, pioneered by John Deere, excepting for an important new feature—accurate, variable depth control. The operator can quickly and easily secure any desired intermediate working position between maximum lift and maximum depth by touching the control lever and releasing it when the desired position has been reached. This can be done while the tractor is in motion or stationary.

Williams Hardware Co. claims that the new John Deere Hydraulic Pow-Trol means easier, faster, better work on every job. It's an exclusive John Deere feature, designed for John Deere Models "A", "B", and "GM" Tractors and companion John Deere farm equipment. According to Williams Hardware Co., Pow-Trol will be available in very limited quantities during the next few months. However, he adds, everything is being done at the factory to increase production and, in line with the John Deere policy of offering John Deere owners the advantages of modern improvements wherever possible, the new Pow-Trol has been designed to fit the above tractors now in the field which are equipped with a drop-regulating valve. Change-over assemblies will be available at a later date.

All John Deere integral equipment which works with the hydraulic power lift on the above tractors is adaptable to Pow-Trol operation without change. Change-over parts for converting certain older John Deere drawn implements to remote-cylinder operation are in the process of design or manufacture.

Farmers of this community will be interested to know that Williams Hardware Co., local John Deere Farm Equipment Dealer, is announcing one of the most important new farm equipment developments in recent years—the new John Deere Hydraulic Pow-Trol.

Engineered by John Deere, this time-and-labor-saving device is a radical departure from the conventional method of lifting, lowering, and regulating drawn implements by hand. Safe, smooth, positive, hydraulic power does the job—relieves the operator of reaching for hand-lift levers on drawn implements, lifting and lowering by hand, and tugging on ropes. He merely drives the tractor and watches his work.

At a touch on a convenient control lever, Pow-Trol raises and lowers plow bottoms or disks... grain drill openers... mower cutter bars... combine plat-forms... corn picker gatherers... potato digger shovels, etc.—angles and straightens disk harrow gangs—instantly changes working angle, depth, or height of drawn implements to meet varying field and crop conditions without stopping the tractor or even slowing down.

According to Williams Hardware Co., Pow-Trol operates drawn implements by means of a single remote cylinder which attaches to the implement and is connected to the tractor by two hoses. The cylinder has a double action. Moving the control lever backward or forward exerts hydraulic pressure through the hoses in either direction to force a piston rod in or out of the cylinder, thereby actuating the equipment. This not only assures a positive lift but it also forces and holds the implement to its work in any

U. S. Fears Hoof And Mouth Epidemic From Mexico Cattle

By Milt Dean Hill

Washington — The United States is keeping a sharp watch on Mexico's foot and mouth disease epidemic. Further movement of Mexican cattle into the U. S. will be prohibited indefinitely.

Four U. S. veterinary experts are in Mexico helping the Mexican government fight the disease. Chairman Clifford Hope (R-Kas.), has named a House agriculture subcommittee to work with the Department of Agriculture in dealing with the threat of invasion by the epidemic.

The Agriculture Department stepped in to aid the Mexican government after urgent appeals from President Miguel Aleman.

First Epidemic Since 1929

The epidemic, reported spreading slowly north toward the U. S. border, is the first to touch North America since 1929. Herds in Texas, California and other western states were destroyed that year. It cost the nation millions of dollars to halt the epidemic.

The present epidemic came into Mexico with 327 zebu (Brahma) bulls, brought up from Brazil by private importers. Animal imports from Brazil—or any country where the disease exists—into the United States are permanently prohibited.

Last June Secretary of Agriculture Anderson closed the border to Mexican cattle, sheep, hogs and goats because of the threat of foot and mouth disease. Five months later the border was re-opened. A joint U. S.-Mexican commission reported it could discover no foot and mouth disease in Mexico.

Then It Broke Out

Twelve days later, ranchers in the Vera Cruz area, on Mexico's gulf coast, reported sickening of cattle. In a few weeks the epidemic had spread west to near Mexico City.

Sanitation precautions, in addition to halting animals at the border, have been set up by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. While they are hopeful, officials here are not optimistic about keeping an epidemic away from border herds.

Foot and mouth disease is the most highly communicable contagion known to veterinary medicine. It attacks cloven footed animals—cattle, primarily—but also sheep, hogs and goats. Horses and poultry apparently are immune, and humans are not affected.

Animals develop blisters in the mouth and around the hooves. Veterinarians know no real cure. A German scientist before the war claimed to have perfected a vaccine, but he has not been heard from since the war.

Laboratories in Brazil and Great Britain produce a vaccine, but it is expensive and not completely effective.

Only Two Weapons

Agriculture authorities say the only two real methods of eradication are slaughter and quarantine. In each epidemic both methods are invoked immediately.

The disease has appeared in the United States nine times since 1870. In 1870, 1880, 1884, 1902 and 1908 the epidemics were confined generally to local areas.

In 1914 the disease spread to 22 states and the District of Columbia. An estimated 175,000 cattle alone were slaughtered and burned or buried.

States affected included New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, West Virginia, Kansas, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Montana and Washington.

That outbreak alone cost the nation about $9,000,000.

Ten years later two outbreaks occurred in California and Texas, costing $5,000,000. In 1929 a small outbreak occurred in southern California.

The Bureau of Animal Industry is in charge of the campaign to keep foot and mouth disease out of the country. Dr. S. O. Fladness, chief of the bureau's field inspection division, is a foot and mouth specialist. He has studied the disease in Argentina and Europe.

Religious ? Box

Charles L. Houser

Q—How do you know it is wrong to use music (organs and pianos) in the worship?

A—It is not because of a personal dislike for mechanical instruments, but because we do not use the organ or piano in our worship. In numerous congregations we have talented musicians and accomplished music teachers. If, then, the worship were to be governed by our personal likes and dislikes, we would also use the organ and the piano. But it is our firm belief that acceptable Lord's day worship includes only those things which were practiced by the New Testament Church, and since there is no divine evidence that instruments of music were used in the worship of the New Testament Church, we, therefore, conclude that it would be acting without scriptural authority, if we were to use it in our worship. There is neither commandment nor example for its use in the worship of the New Testament Church.

It doesn't matter what people did during Old Testament days, for that law is NOT bound upon Christians. It came to an end, as a law to be kept, when Christ was crucified. (See Col. 2:14; Gal. 3:24, 25; Heb. 8:13 and 10:9; John 1:17 and Rom. 7:14) It is not a question of what will be in heaven, but rather a matter of what things are included in and excluded from New Testament worship.

According to Jh. 4:23, 24, acceptable worship consists of being sincere while doing exactly what the original Christians did. How can worship be in truth, if it is not in harmony with truth? (Jh. 17:17) Let those who use the organ, etc., in their services, produce for you one passage that authorizes its use in the New Testament Church.

This space paid for by Central Church of Christ, Fulton, Ky.
