MURRAY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1915

$1.00 PER YEAR.

CAPTAIN W. J. STONE ENDORSES SENATOR SELDON R. GLENN

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 20.
Editor Lyon County Herald:—

I have seen an announcement in your paper of the Hon. Seldon R. Glenn as a candidate for the democratic nomination for state senator, and I felt like I would like to say to the democrats of our senatorial district that in my opinion Senator Glenn deserves the nomination and election. My reasons for this opinion are that in my long service in, and familiarity with the work of legislative bodies, I have never seen a member of any of them who surpassed Senator Glenn in earnest, faithful and devotion to the interests of the people, and I can count on the fingers of one hand every one who could claim to be anywhere near his equal in that respect. He entered the first session in which he served wholly without experience in legislative bodies. His honesty, intelligence and devotion to his duties at once placed him in the front rank of the state senate, and when that session ended, he had accomplished more for the interests of the tax paying masses than any other member of the senate. In the second session in which he served he was recognized as the most influential member of that body during the whole session. His opinion and advice was continually sought not only by the members of the senate, but many members of the house of representatives. And when that session adjourned, he stood at the very front for industry, intelligence, honesty and devotion to the best interest of all the people. I see, therefore, that he enumerates principal laws which he introduced, and also those which he supported, and therefore it is useless for me to enter into this discussion. But this I will say, that he earnestly and actively supported every measure proposed that was in the interest of the people, and as earnestly opposed everyone that was not in the interest of the people. How do I know these things? I have been here on the ground, and he being the senator from this district in which I lived, I wanted to see how he performed his duties, and my long experience in public affairs qualifies me to be a judge in such matters. Another thing to his credit is that during all his term as senator has plainly shown that he felt himself to be the servant and not the master of his constituents. It has been a long and accepted practice to endorse a public servant by giving him at least a second term; if he has proven faithful and competent during his first term. Senator Glenn certainly came up to the fullest measure of that standard. The next session of the Kentucky legislature will be more important than any that has ever assembled in this state for several years. The state debt to be taken care of, convict labor, insurance, taxation and many other questions of the utmost importance are to be considered and adjusted. Seldon Glenn is competent, qualified and better equipped than ever before to render valuable service to the people on these questions. Indeed he is as well equipped as any man in Kentucky to render valuable service to all the people of Kentucky in solving these problems.

Very truly,
Adv. W. J. STONE.

LAD CORN LOST MARE DROWNED

While attempting to cross Rockhouse creek last Friday with a wagon load of corn the vehicle was overturned and the contents dumped into the swollen stream and a mare hitched to the wagon was drowned. Charlie Dawson, Hardin, is the unfortunate. He had been in Calloway near Stella and was enroute home with the load when the accident occurred. The normally small stream was swollen from the heavy rain and melting snow and was running a veritable torrent. His father was on the wagon with him at the time and was thrown into the water but escaped without injury.

Clarksville Tobacco Market.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 24. Sales for the past week amounted to 64 hogsheds, all from the old stock, nearly all of which were lugs, at from $4.50 to $5.50. Prices on the few leaf hogsheds sold ranged from $9.50 to $12.00. We would gladly report larger grading in the old stock but fear this will not be the case until the shipping situation clears up. The sales of the new crop on the loose floors, owing to unfavorable weather conditions, have not been large, amounting to only 80,000 pounds, which met with a ready demand at ruling prices. The situation, briefly stated, is about as follows: Farmers and buyers seem to be reaching an unsettled condition will warrant. The buyers are using their best efforts to get outlets for tobacco, and the farmers realize that the European war has very much upset the trade, where our tobacco largely goes.

In spite of unfavorable conditions there is a demand for the medium and good crops in the Clarksville, Hopkinsville and Springfield districts, at six to eight cents around, and farmers who have such crops are finding a sale for same, both on the loose floors and at the barn. The common crops do not meet with active demands, which is not unexpected, since Spain, the country which uses much common tobacco, has not been a buyer of America for a year past. Also ocean rates to other countries consuming our low grades are so high as to almost prohibit trade and shipment.

There is, however, hope ahead for low grade tobaccos; when we think of the quantity produced in normal times, which must be much curtailed if the war lasts anything like as long as the wise ones claim. For instance, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, France and Germany, where every effort will be in the next year directed to raising foodstuffs, raises say 250,000,000 pounds of tobacco of low quality. Therefore, with the curtailed production there, the demands using low grades must look to America, and it may be well for the farmers having low grade crops to prize same and wait for these demands.

The following is the range of prices for both old and new:

New crop, loose floor.—Lugs, $2.25 to $3.50; low leaf, $4.50 to $5.50; common leaf, $6 to $7.50; medium leaf, $8 to $9; good to fine, $9.50 to $11.50.

Old crop, prized.—Common

lugs, $4.50 to 5; medium lugs, $5 to $6; good—lugs, $6.50 to $7.50; common leaf, $7.50 to $8.50; good common leaf $9 to $10; medium leaf, $10.50 to $11.50; good leaf, $12 to $13.

Buried in Same Grave.

Lexington, Tenn., Jan. 24.—The Rev. Thomas A. Sisson, age 65, an honored and active minister of the Baptist church, and his wife, Mrs. Francis Rhodes Sisson, aged 45, died within 24 hours of each other at the family home four miles east of town. Mrs. Sisson died Friday night after a lingering illness of consumption and her husband succumbed to the effects of a stroke of paralysis Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Preparations were under way for the burial of his wife when he expired, and in consequence they were buried Sunday afternoon together in Oak Grove cemetery. Mr. Sisson was one of the pioneer Baptist ministers of this section and had been eminently successful in his labors, although a man of limited education. He was a republican and a mason. His wife was a most estimable, charitable, christian woman. They are survived by seven children, the youngest only nine months old. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. Fleetwood Ball, T. M. Newman and E. S. Garvin in the presence of a very large crowd.

Danger of a Cold.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not colds themselves that you need to fear but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by all dealers.

SUMMON COMES TO MRS. CHILES

A message was received here Sunday announcing the death of Mrs. Belle Chiles, mother of Jas. K. Parr, of Hillsboro, Texas; H. E. Chiles, Itasca, Tex., and Mrs. J. P. McElrath, of this place, which occurred at the home of the former Sunday, January 24. The burial took place at Itasca, Texas, on Monday following.

Mrs. Chiles was 75 years of age past, and a member of the Methodist church of this place. She had been a consistent member of the Methodist church for about sixty-two years.

For the last few years she had made her home with her children in different places, and was on a visit to her eldest son, Jas. K. Parr, of Hillsboro, when the end came. She was born in Obion county, Tenn., near the town of Obion, Sept. 26, 1839.

Mrs. Chiles was a frequent visitor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. P. McElrath, of this city, where she met many of Murray's citizens and won many friends by her gentle, charming personality. While her death comes in the long shadows of the afternoon of life, after being permitted to labor for those dear to her for more than the allotted three score and ten years, reposing in the realization that she had accomplished the task set out before her, still it remains that the loss of a mother is an anguish and a sorrow that time alone can heal.

FORMER MURRAY PASTOR IN FAVOR

Says the Princeton Leader of a former popular Murray pastor: "Rev. J. S. Hawkins, recently called to the pulpit of the Christian church at this place, began his ministry here last Sunday, preaching Sunday morning and evening to large and appreciative audiences. He is a son of Rev. J. T. Hawkins, of Elkton, Ky., one of the best known preachers of our state. Rev. Hawkins was born in Owen county, reared in Lexington, educated at Transylvania University, taking A. B. degree; and has also taken a special course in Leland Stanford University, University of Kansas, and Pacific Theological Seminary, and comes highly recommended and equipped for service here.

He has taught school and preached in the mountain sections of our state where he saw the feuds and the moonshine stills in active operation, and the late James Hargis was one of his warm friends.

After spending four years in the Kentucky mountains he went to California where he was for three years minister for the church at Corona. He witnessed the laying out of the Imperial Valley, and later watched the inundation, so well told by Harold Bell Wright in his latest book. From Corona Rev. Hawkins went to Pryor, Ok., where he preached to the congregation for five years, closing a most successful ministry. While in Oklahoma he was one of the members of the statewide prohibition campaign committee and one of its ablest speakers. He was elected professor of Greek in Phillips University, but did not accept, choosing to remain in the ministry. He was called to the pastorate of the church at Cadiz in 1909, where he is well known and loved by all, both white and colored; and also served the Murray church from 1911 to 1914, closing a happy and successful work there, when he went to Jelico, Tenn., a year ago, where he was called to assist the church there to lift the church debt. He was very successful in the work there, not, however, being able to clear the church of debt entirely owing to the coal panic of last year. From that place he was called to serve the Princeton church, and is here for the sole purpose of preaching the gospel and serving the whole community in every good work. His hobbies are history and literature.

Fraternally, Rev. Hawkins is a Royal Arch Mason, Odd Fellow and Knight of Pythias. Politically he is an independent, and favors equal suffrage. He is a single man, but has taken up housekeeping and here's listening. Rev. Hawkins is a gifted speaker, smooth and happy and eloquent in his delivery, and is well received by all our people."

Jones-Denham Wedding.

One of the happiest marriages that has occurred in Calloway county in a long time was solemnized last Friday night at the home of Mr. J. W. Denham and wife, of Hazel, when their charming daughter, Miss Bertha Denham, was united in marriage to Mr. T. Rafe Jones, Rev. Wm. Etheridge saying the simple but impressive ceremony of the Christian church in the presence of only immediate relatives and a few friends of the contracting parties.

Prof. Jones is one of the most splendid young men of the inty, and was reared on a farm and worked his own way to the positions he now holds in the affairs of the county. He is at present principal of the Hazel school and has represented Calloway county in the legislature for one term.

His bride is a daughter of Mr. J. Wheeler Denham, a splendid young woman, loved and admired by a wide circle of friends, and will grace and charm the home in which she becomes the wife.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Never give a child a cough medicine that contains opium in any form. When opium is given other and more serious diseases may follow. Long experience has demonstrated that there is no better or safer medicine for coughs, colds and croup in children than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is equally valuable for adults. Try it. It contains no opium or other harmful drugs. For sale by all dealers.

S. L. Holland Resigns.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 29.—S. L. Holland retired today as receiver for the Institute for the Feeble Minded and said he will go home to Calloway county and enter the primary against Senator Seldon R. Glenn for the nomination in the Third district. He is succeeded here by Joe Lane, of Mason county, a guard at the reformatory.

Chilly Day for Baptizing.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 24.—Although the day was one of the coldest of the winter, 14 converts were baptized in the Ohio river here Sunday afternoon by Rev. O. Jay Taylor, pastor of the East Baptist church. A large crowd witnessed the chilly spectacle. The Sunday before the same minister baptized 16 converts, but the weather was much warmer. During the two revivals at the church there have been 41 conversions.

JUDGE HANBERY OPERATED UPON

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 23.—Judge J. T. Hanbery returned yesterday from Rochester, Minnesota, where he underwent an operation for a growth on his lip, which had been troubling him for some time though it was not of a serious nature.

The operation was performed at the Mayo Brothers' hospital and was entirely successful in every respect. Judge Hanbery's host of friends will be delighted to know that his recovery is complete, and that he is in perfect health. He will preside over the January term of the Trigg circuit court which began last Monday at Cadiz.

Cheap Liquor and Red Money Did Not Tempt This Night Tresspasser

Evidently a judge of good whisky and spurning red money characterized the smooth, light fingered gent who entered the Southern Express Company's office here last Monday night and carried away four packages of liquor containing an even eight gallons of well known and standard brands of bottled-in-bond goods. A number of other packages containing inferior grades were left undisturbed but it was very evident that the individual who possessed the long thirst was acquainted with all the brands.

After making his careful se-

A MURRAY MAN'S KINSMAN SLAIN.

Rev. J. A. Hassell received a telegram last Sunday afternoon bearing the information that his uncle, Mr. J. A. Hannah, of Chattanooga, Tenn., had been murdered. The following account of the terrible murder is taken from the Commercial Appeal of last Monday. Rev. Hassell has received later information to the effect that the accused negro had been caught and was now in jail under a heavy guard.

James A. Hannah, aged 65, a pioneer hotel and real estate man of Chattanooga; was brutally murdered at eight o'clock to-night in the furnace room of his hotel, the Tourist, on Market street. As he entered the furnace room he was knocked on the head by a man standing behind the door, the assassin using a piece of iron galvanized pipe four feet long, and striking his victim twice after Mr. Hannah had fallen to the floor. Either of the blows would have been instantly fatal. The body was found half an hour later by Mr. Hannah's wife.

"Detectives are looking for Davis Williams, a negro of several aliases, who until yesterday was employed as porter in the hotel. His dismissal by Mr. Hannah is believed to have furnished the motive of revenge and robbery. Williams was seen at the hotel this evening before the murder, and shortly after the crime occurred was still in the building, where he was asked by a woman guest to build a fire. He did so and at the same time stole two diamond rings. Then he disappeared and soon afterward the murder was discovered.

"Hanna was the father of Miss May Thompson, who a year ago married Neal Thompson, son of Attorney-General Frank M. Thompson, and the latter tonight joined in the hunt for the murderer."

Wounded Man Improving.

Mr. B. Frank Mitchell, of near Gracey, who was seriously wounded by a pistol shot during a difficulty with Mr. A. T. Vinson during the recent holidays, is still improving nicely, and he is now practically out of danger.—Cadiz Record.

Another Prospective Candidate.

We have it from reliable authority that Prof. B. E. Thom, of Cerulean Springs, is seriously considering the matter of entering the race for the democratic nomination for state senator in this the Third senatorial district, and that he will probably make his announcement within the next few weeks.—Cadiz Record.

lection of wet goods the cash drawer was broken into but the money receptacle only contained a quantity of pennies and they were unmolested by the tresspasser. Agent Higgins makes a daily deposit before leaving his office and only pennies were left in the money drawer. Entrance was effected to the room by cutting a small hole in the glass in the front door, large enough through which the thief passed his hand and turned the Yale lock. There is no clue as to who the guilty parties are.

REDFIELD SAYS U.S. TO SUPPLY WORLD

AMERICA'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY IS AT HAND, SAYS SECRETARY OF COMMERCE.

GOLD AND GOODS FOR ALL

Governor, Railroad Presidents, Merchants, Bankers, Planters and Other Business Men Agree That South Will Rise Supreme.

Memphis.—All the world is looking to America for money and goods, and America in the emergency stands ready to supply both with a full measure of cordial good will, William C. Redfield, secretary of the department of commerce, told 400 Memphians at the business men's club "Dinner of Optimism" in the Hotel Chelsea.

Secretary Redfield, as guest of honor and principal speaker, sounded the keynote of optimism, with which other speakers were in harmony, and showed that from the greatest calamity that has befallen the world in recent centuries the American republic and American liberty will emerge more potentially influential than ever before.

America's greatest opportunity is here, Mr. Redfield declared. The opportunity is not one for an hour or a month, he said, but one which if seized now will turn large currents of trade permanently in favor of American business and give the United States a position it otherwise could not have.

Secretary Redfield said the United States had to take the shock of the European war alone and in August stood alone in that great international crisis.

"Now it seems like an evil dream long past, and from which we have all long since recovered," he said.

"Two great and fine things were done by the American government just before and just after the crash last August," Mr. Redfield said. The old and dangerous system of finances had been replaced by a splendid financial system, and the government had dealt particularly with righteousness by the greatest employers and the greatest buyers—the railways.

Mr. Redfield said he had letters in his office from kings and high officials of neutral countries, begging America to open relations and to take the place that Europe formerly held. "We are wanted the wide world over," he declared.

The south must not despair because her cotton has not been sold, Mr. Redfield said. The world can not give up the use of cotton, but, on the contrary, will give up the use of more expensive materials and cling more than ever to cotton.

Mr. Redfield declared the United States is better able to face the situation after having come through three hard years. America can better mobilize her finances for her business forces than ever before.

DOOR OF OPPORTUNITY OPEN

South America Fertile Field for Nation's Trade, Farrell Tells Delegates to Trade Convention.

St. Louis.—"One week of the European war did more than ten years of academic discussion to convince the American people that foreign trade is a vital element in domestic prosperity. No doubt remains that the nation is determined to see its foreign commerce safe-guarded and also increased."

This statement was made by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, in an address at a banquet to delegates to the foreign-trade convention in session here.

Mr. Farrell continued: "What advantage or disadvantage the war will bring us depends largely upon the changes in industrial trade relations that are not yet forecasted. Meanwhile the interests of the United States are sufficient to warrant a proper respect for neutral commerce, and the United States will, in maintaining its trade at as high level as a just regard for belligerent interests permits, serve the larger and permanent interests of those not engaged in hostilities."

"Whatever may be the political outcome of the European war, it is apparent that each of the belligerents will find it essential vigorously to protect its foreign trade, to repair the ravages of its domestic commerce, to provide labor to supply its needs, to protect its ports and to ameliorate the burden of taxation."

No Authority for Embargo. Washington.—President Wilson has no authority to declare an embargo on exports of wheat and foodstuffs, he body was found by her husband, Frank told callers. Such authority must come from congress, he said, adding that he had not investigated the constitutionality of such a step.

Germans on Offensive. Heavy artillery fighting has been heard around Ypres, where the Germans have taken an active offensive, says the State department of the Telegraph.

HOUSE PASSES ARMY BILL

Votes 101,000,000 Without Roll Call. Gardner Motion for Aviation Improvement Is Lost.

Washington.—After two days of debate on the general state of the national defenses, the House passed without a roll call the army appropriation bill carrying $101,000,000.

Advocates of immediate strengthening of the military establishment fought to the last for additional appropriations, but their efforts met with no encouragement from either Democratic or Republican leaders. The last roll call, on a motion by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, to recommit the bill with instructions to report back an amendment carrying $1,000,000 for aviation, was defeated 255 to 24.

An amendment offered by Representative Deltrich of Massachusetts, and adopted practically without opposition, would prohibit the use of stop watches and other "speeding-up" devices in connection with so-called scientific management systems in arsenals and shops. Representatives of union labor have been fighting for this prohibition for several years.

The House also adopted an amendment by Representative Tavenner of Illinois to require that all munitions of war provided for in the bill shall be manufactured in government plants.

The bill, which carries funds for maintenance of all branches of the army during the coming fiscal year, includes $200,000 for purchase of 25 aeroplanes, and $50,000 for an armored motor car. These items, and efforts to add to them, furnished texts for long discussions on use of the aeroplane and armored car in the European war. The appropriation for field artillery material was increased from $25,000 to $170,000.

GUTIERREZ CLAIMS CHAIR

Says He Is Still President of Mexico Orders Villa and Zapata Deported from Command.

Washington.—Gen. Eulialio Gutierrez, elected provisional president of Mexico by the convention at Aguascalientes, has not abandoned his claim to that office with his departure from Mexico City. In a proclamation issued from Pachuca, and reported to the state department, Gutierrez, asserting that he is the legally chosen executive, charges that the convention, which reassembled at Mexico City, was under military coercion. He formally declares Villa, Zapata and other generals deposed from their commands.

This proclamation, which is vituperative as a confessed force of $50,000 to whiskey warehouse receipts, Charles Ledowsky, 50 years old, president of the Fox River Distilling company, for which a receiver was appointed this week, shot and killed himself on a train just as it reached Chicago.

Ledowsky was on a Chicago Central train. He telegraphed ahead to an undertaker, requesting him to meet the train and take care of his body, as he intended to kill himself.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Ledowsky's company, scheduling assets of $20,000 against liabilities of $250,000 or $300,000.

CONFESSES; THEN SUICIDES

Chicago Distiller Shoots Self on Train After Telegraphing Ahead for Undertaker.

Chicago.—Rather than face the penitentiary as a confessed forger of $50,000 to whiskey warehouse receipts, Charles Ledowsky, 50 years old, president of the Fox River Distilling company, for which a receiver was appointed this week, shot and killed himself on a train just as it reached Chicago.

Ledowsky was on a Chicago Central train. He telegraphed ahead to an undertaker, requesting him to meet the train and take care of his body, as he intended to kill himself.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Ledowsky's company, scheduling assets of $20,000 against liabilities of $250,000 or $300,000.

POPULATION IS INCREASING

Estimated That Population of United States Will Pass Hundred Million Mark Soon.

Washington.—The population of continental United States will pass the hundred million mark within the next three months, according to two estimates made public by government bureaus. Geographer C. D. Sloane estimated that the population would be 100,000,000 at 4 p. m. April 2. Government geographer J. S. McCoy of the treasury department calculated that it would be 100,000,000 on Feb. 1.

The census bureau estimate was based on the increase between 1900 and 1910, and indicated that the country would contain 100,379,318 persons July 1, 1920. The 1900 census showed a population of 76,374,576, while the 1910 figure was 91,972,266.

Woman's Murder Mystery.

London.—A Yarmouth dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says that a woman, whose name was not given, was found by her husband, Frank, who attacked that city. The machine later visited Southampton, five miles from Yarmouth, and dropped two bombs.

Use Artillery.

London.—In Poland and Western Galicia, the German and Austrian forces continue isolated attacks against the Russian lines, which, according to the Russian report, have been repulsed with heavy losses to the attacking forces.

FIGHTING FIERCE IN EASTERN ZONE

BRIEF OFFICIAL DESCRIPTIONS INDICATE AWFUL CARNAGE. BATTLE STILL RAGING.

AIR ATTACK FOR DUNKIRK

British Base of Supplies Singled Out for Attack by Zeppelins—Issues Yet in Balance in Orgone and Alsace.

London.—Although official descriptions of fighting in the west are brief, there is evidence that it is growing fiercer at many points. The Germans are showing renewed activity in the neighborhood of Ypres, and heavy bombardments of the allies' left wing are almost incessant.

It is from the center eastward, however, that the battles are most bitter. In the Argonne, around Verdun and in Alsace heavy engagements continue apparently without any decision having been reached. But these are merely local affairs compared to what is expected when the ground becomes more suitable for moving troops.

Along the Belgian coast every German move is the signal for a renewed bombardment by British ships, while the aviators of both forces are continually dropping bombs behind the hostile lines.

Dunkirk has been singled out for German air attack, doubtless because it is being used by the British as a base of supplies from England, while Ostend, Bruges and Zeebrugge are receiving attention from the allies. There is no confirmation from official sources of the reported visit of the allies' airmen to Essen and Düsseldorf early in the week.

BIG ARMY IS ON THE WAY

Three Hundred Thousand Britons Will Cross Channel to Help Turn the German Left Wing.

London.—Eight British army corps, approximately 300,000 men, will cross the English channel soon as the first great unit of Kitchener's reinforcing legions which are expected to stab the German left center, and eventually achieve a decisive turning movement on the German left.

This stroke, which will develop as rapidly as Kitchener can supply the men, is expected to result in the fiercest fighting of the war.

Belgium will have no part in this gigantic stroke, to curl up the long German line. When the official communiqué officially tells of the maneuver in say three weeks from now, it will be interesting to note the British attack centered at Luxembourg with a violent simultaneous attack by the French on the extreme allied right.

Obviously this attempt on the German left will cause the Germans to renew with increased vigor the offensive on their right in the hope of breaking through in the direction of Calais or at least to compel the British commanders to spend part of their reinforcements in the coast battle region in the hope of lessening the weight on the German center. However, the British army now in this field is expected to be sufficient to hold back the Germans until the new armies get their enveloping movement well under way.

The climax of the war is expected earlier than May, the date accredited to Kitchener.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IS SLOW

Petrograd. Claims Attacks Repulsed With Losses to Enemy—Isolated Attacks in Poland.

London.—In Poland and Western Galicia the German and Austrian forces continue isolated attacks against the Russian lines, which, according to the Russian report, have been repulsed with heavy losses to the attacking forces.

The Russians are advancing slowly through the mountains separating Bukovina and Transylvania, and are approaching Derna-Watra, a town of some importance near the Roumanian border.

It is believed the Turkish Caucasian army will not retire to Erzerum, but will be put in readiness for defense against the Russians when they decide to advance. It is considered likely, however, that the Russians will be content for the present with successes already gained in this region and turn their attention to Turkish forces in Azerbaijan before invading Turkey.

May Have Been Aeroplane.

London.—A Yarmouth dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says that a woman, whose name was not given, was found by her husband, Frank, who attacked that city. The machine later visited Southampton, five miles from Yarmouth, and dropped two bombs.

Use Artillery.

London.—In Poland and Western Galicia, the German and Austrian forces continue isolated attacks against the Russian lines, which, according to the Russian report, have been repulsed with heavy losses to the attacking forces.

Clear Transchorokh.

Petrograd.—Headquarters of the army of the Caucasus issued this statement: "We continue pursuit of the Turkish army and are clearing the region of Transchorokh of the enemy."

RUSSIANS NEAR FRONTIER

Armies in Same Positions as Two Months Ago from Lower Vistula to Galicia.

London.—In the eastern theater of war, along the old front from the lower Vistula to Galicia and in the Carpathians, the two armies remain in about the same positions as two months ago, all efforts by the Germans to break down the Russian resistance seemingly having failed and the Russian attempt to drive the Austro-German forces back to Cracow having met a similar fate.

In the north, however, the new Russian offensive apparently has carried them well toward the German frontier, without meeting serious resistance.

The Russian advance into Transylvania is reported checked by a large Austrian force in the mountains, while the Austro-German forces are going farther through the Carpathians, although they hold all the passes in readiness for the day when the weather will permit resumption of the forward movement.

No mention has been made of the state of the remnants of the Turkish armies which Russian reports previously said had been defeated in the Caucasus, but military men here believe the Russians having use for their men have decided not to push on to Erzerum.

The Russian fleet, according to reports, is busy in the Black Sea sinking Turkish sailing ships. This is taken as evidence that reports that the Turkish cruiser Goeben had been put out of action were not exaggerated.

ARTILLERY DUELS PROCEED

Paris Takes Issue With Berlin on Mortality Reports—Says German Dead More Than French.

Paris.—An official statement issued here said:

"Recent German communications regarding French losses in the last few weeks are entirely erroneous. Our losses are less by more than half than those given by the German general staff. Moreover, it has been found, estimating by the dead left on the field, that in all the actions in recent months the German losses have been greater than those of the French."

London.—The battle for the trenches in Flanders and France continues almost without cessation from the sea to the Swiss border.

In the mud of Flanders, the floods of the Argonne and the snows of the Vosges, the German and the allied nations keep up a continual fight to hold what they possess and take something from that held by the enemies.

According to a long French official report of the fighting during the past two months this method of siege operations has favored the allies, who, while they have gained ground on almost every part of the front, have been forced to give way in only one region—that of Soissons. They are being put to a test, however, similar to that which obliged them to retire from north of the Aisne, near Soissons, because the Germans, realizing the danger to their communications with Metz as a result of the French advance near Pont-a-Mousson, have sent reinforcements there, and have begun a battle for the positions they lost during the past week. The Germans apparently have regained a portion of them, and fighting for the remainder continues.

At other points, particularly near St. Mihiel and in Alsace, there have been infantry engagements, but on the whole the artillery continues to be the busiest arm.

LOST TRENCHES RETAKEN

Official German Report Tells of the French Repulse and Success—Engagements Are Local.

Berlin.—Although spirited fighting is in progress along the western battle front, the official German statement shows the engagements are of merely local character. The French made repeated attacks near Arras and south of St. Mihiel, but were repulsed. The Germans captured trenches near Berry-au-Bac and Pont-a-Mousson, but lost ground about Notre Dame de Lorette. A Russian defeat in a small engagement in East Prussia is announced.

In the western theater of war only artillery duels took place between the coast and the Vosges. Trenches at Notre Dame de Lorette, which we occupied on the day before, were lost again.

"Northwest of Arras the French repeatedly attacked both sides of the high road from Arras to Lille, but were repulsed. Southwest of Berry-au-Bac we took two trenches from the French and kept them, notwithstanding their fierce counter-attacks."

Germans and Portuguese Fight.

Lisbon.—Portugal is in a singular situation. German forces have invaded Portuguese Angola, and fighting between German and Portuguese forces has been in progress there for two months. Yet neither has declared war.

Clear Transchorokh.

Petrograd.—Headquarters of the army of the Caucasus issued this statement: "We continue pursuit of the Turkish army and are clearing the region of Transchorokh of the enemy."

No Loss by Democrats.

There were no general Republican gains in the popular vote in 1914 at the expense of the Democratic party. The Republican gains were all at the expense of the Progressive party, and even the return of the lost sheep left the Republicans far below the Democrats in actual numbers.

People Have Seen the Light.

Senator Gallinger, a hardened old protective tariff singer, would convey the impression that the Underwood-Simmons tariff act under which the country is now operating is largely responsible for depression, and he offers as a cure therefor the repeal of this act and the re-enactment of the Payne-Aldrich law. The senator from New Hampshire is on a cold trail. The Payne-Aldrich inquiry was totally discredited after a fair trial, and it is pretty certain the people will never stand for its like again.

"KEEP TIMES HARD"

Thinly Veiled Threat Made by Tariff Grafters.

Raises the Point, Is the Prosperity of the Country Dependent on the Greed of a Few Unscrupulous Men?

Word is being passed in various circles that the railroad rate increase, after all, does not amount to much, and that the factories of this country will not open in full force until they are certain of a "more favorable attitude" from the administration at Washington.

Stripped of its wordy nonsense, this means that a group of tariff grafters have determined to keep times hard through the rest of the Wilson administration, in hope of getting a Republican victory and thus jolting the schedules, with extra.

Can they do it? Is the prosperity of this country so dependent on the greed of a few men that these few, for their own advantage, can say that the whole nation shall have hard times until it consents to be robbed again, as it was robbed for the 16 years prior to the election of Woodrow Wilson?

The destruction of capital in Europe is terrible, and has a depressing effect on industry throughout the world. But that effect has been more than discounted already, while the good factors in the present situation are just beginning to be realized.

The nation has one of the largest crops in its history, which is being sold at the highest prices known for many years.

It has a banking and currency system which makes panics a thing of the past.

It has the finest chance to develop a great merchant marine offered to any land since the Napoleonic wars.

In the face of all these circumstances, can a small group of tariff grafters force hard times, in order to force a change of government?

If they can, then all the reforms of the last few years are but a dead bit compared to the radical reorganization which is needed to secure the nation's liberties. The tariff grafters had better be careful.

"TO THE LARGER MINORITY"

President Wilson's Assertion at Indianapolis More Than Borne Out by the Figures.

President Wilson might have gone further than he did when he told his audience at Indianapolis that the Republican party is still more of a minority party than the Democratic, and that "as between the minorities I think we can claim to belong to the larger minority."

The New York World has compiled the official vote for representatives in congress in November. These returns show that the Democratic party polled a larger percentage of the total Democratic-Republican-Progressive vote than it polled in 1912, and that the Republicans and Progressives combined polled a smaller percentage than in 1912.

In spite of the great Republican gains in the house due to the return of the Roosevelt voters to their old allegiance, the fact remains that the Democratic vote was relatively larger than it was two years ago.

In 1912 the Democrats polled approximately 45 per cent of the total Democratic-Republican-Progressive vote. The Republicans polled 25 per cent and the Progressives polled 20 per cent.

In 1914 the Democratic congressional candidates polled 47.48 per cent of this total vote, the Republicans polled 45.59 per cent and the Progressives polled 6.92 per cent. This shows a Democratic gain of nearly 2 1/2 per cent, a Republican gain of 2 1/2 per cent. It shows also a combined Republican-Progressive loss of 2 1/2 per cent.

The official returns from the various districts indicate a total Democratic vote for members of congress of 5,276,707, a total Republican vote of 3,968,928, and a total Progressive vote of 769,562. In addition 152,056 votes were cast for Democratic-Progressive fusion candidates and 253,432 votes were cast for Republican-Progressive fusion candidates. There is no basis on which this fusion vote can be apportioned. But it is plain that at best the total Progressive vote was well below a million, as against 4,119,607 two years ago.

THREE REASONS

Each With Two Legs and Ten Fingers.

A Boston woman who is a fond mother writes an amusing article about her experience feeding her boys.

Among other things she says: "Three chubby, rosy-cheeked boys, Bob, Jack, and Dick, respectively, are three of our reasons for using and recommending the food, Grape-Nuts, for these youngsters have been fed on Grape-Nuts since infancy, and often between meals when other children would have been given candy."

"I gave a package of Grape-Nuts to a neighbor whose 3-year-old child was a weakened little thing, ill half the time. The little tot ate the Grape-Nuts and cream greedily and the mother continued the good work, and it was not long before a truly wonderful change manifested itself in the child's face and body. The results were remarkable, even for Grape-Nuts."

"Both husband and I use Grape-Nuts every day and keep strong and well and have three of the finest, healthiest boys you can find in a day's march."

Many mothers instead of destroying the children's stomachs with candy and cake give the youngsters a handful of Grape-Nuts when they are begging for something in the way of sweets. The result is soon shown in greatly increased health, strength and mental activity.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and weaken the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.

Khaki for the Navy.

Naval medical authorities, after experience gained in naval operations at Vera Cruz, are of the opinion that white clothing, particularly white hats, are too easily penetrated by the sun's rays and are therefore unsuitable for use in the tropics. All druggists sell resinol ointment (50c and $1.00), and resinol soap (25c)—Adv.

The Conqueror's Return.

Mr. Mouatt, born tired, also father of a large family, spent most of his married life in bed, while Mrs. Mouatt worked in the glass factory, just to keep things moving. One morning Mr. Mouatt became impregnated with the large idea of getting out of bed at last, and offering his services to his country. On calling at Mrs. Mouatt's one day last week, a lady found her in tears.

"Why, Mrs. Mouatt, what is the matter? Has your husband been wounded?"

"No, miss." (Loud sniffles.) "Well, dear me! I hope he has not been killed!"

"Oh, it's worse than that, miss. He's coming 'ome!'"—Judge.

His Choice. Just after the fall of Bloemfontein soldiers were called for, owing to the scarcity of civilians, to work the railway. The weary "Tommy" were lying in a camp one night after a hard day's work, when a sergeant called out:

"Any of you men want to put your names down as railway porters, drivers, stokers, half-bellied clerks, or for any other appointments connected with the railway?"

Silence, broken only by snuffles. Then one "Tommy" slowly raised his head and drowsily muttered:

"Put me down as a sleeper, sergeant."—London Tit-Bits.

MAKING THE MOST OF LAMB

Housekeeper Will Find This Arrangement a Help to the Cutting of Her Bills.

Every housekeeper is on the lookout to save in these days of high cost of living, especially in meats. Here is one way to save mutton or lamb. If, on Saturday, a forequarter of mutton or lamb is purchased, weighing from seven to ten pounds, it should be divided as follows: Shoulder, neck, breast, French chops, bones and trimmings. The shoulder is boned, pocket cut for filling, that makes the roast; stuffed shoulder of lamb or mutton for Sunday dinner and cut cold for Monday luncheon or supper.

Then the neck is boiled with the shoulder bone and trimmings, making two quarts of lamb broth, to be used for soup for Monday's dinner. The meat is trimmed from the neck bones for lamb croquettes, meat salad or loaf. The breast is stewed, or curried with rice. The choicest part is left, that is, one dozen frenched lamb chops.

Of course, you must be able to tell your butcher just how you want it cut and trimmed. The chops are french, chine, removed, but the chops are not cut apart. That is left for the housekeeper to do, cutting just as needed. Trimmings from the chops are boiled with the neck and bones, strained, and when cold all fat is removed and clarified for dripping.

From this forequarter you have the following dishes, always for four persons: Roast stuffed shoulder, hot for Sunday dinner.

Roast stuffed shoulder, cold for Monday, with soup (two quarts for soup-stocks).

Lamb croquettes or meat loaf for Tuesday.

Stewed or curried lamb for Wednesday.

Lamb chops which can be kept for Thursday.

POLISH FOR COFFEE BOILER

By the Use of Oxalic Acid the Utensil May Be Kept in the Best of Condition.

A shining copper hot-water boiler adds much to the appearance of a kitchen, as all housekeepers know. The boiler may be kept in a state of brilliancy by the use of a solution of oxalic acid and water. Five cents worth of the acid dissolved in a quart of warm water will last through many cleaning days.

Best results are obtained by applying the solution to a warm boiler. After an application of the solution the boiler should be gone over with a cloth wrung out in warm water and then polished with a dry cloth.

The best part of the process is that no "elbow grease" is required. In a few minutes a dull, dingy boiler becomes bright and shining with but little effort.

All copper articles not having a lacquered surface may be cleaned with this solution, and it also serves as a brass polish. Keep in a safe place, as oxalic acid is poison.

Cocunut Candy

Remove the shell from a half a coconut and shred or shave it with a silver knife. Spread it on dishes in the open door of an oven until it is soft and elastic. Desiccated coconut can be used instead, but the fresh sort is better. Then boil a cupful of molasses and a cupful of sugar, brown or white, a teaspoonful of vinegar and a tablespoonful of butter. When this is cooked enough so that it is brittle when dropped in cold water add the warmed coconut and pour into buttered dishes. Mark into squares when it is thick but before it is cold.

Soft Ginger Cookies

Cheap and good. One cupful of molasses, two-thirds cupful of lard, two-thirds cupful sugar, two-thirds cupful hot water, one teaspoonful ginger, two dessert spoonfuls of soda and one dessert spoonful cream of tartar. Put the molasses in mixing bowl first, then add cream of tartar and soda. Add also a pinch of salt and flour to roll. Cut out and bake. Do not roll too thin.

Crust for Chicken Pie

The ingredients are three cupfuls of sifted bread flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of lard and butter, one cupful of milk. Sift all dry ingredients together. Rub in the shortening with finger tips, then stir in the milk, using a fork and handling it lightly. As soon as combined place on floured board and with a rolling pin pat into the required size.

Deviled Ham Rolls

Make light, rather rich pastry, roll thin and cut into squares of about four inches. Spread upon each square a small quantity of deviled ham, leaving about half inch around the edge, uncovered. Moisten the edges with cold water and roll each sheet of ham and pastry compactly, pressing the ends together, and bake.

Best Relish

Cook beets the same as for the table, one quart of beets chopped fine, one quart of raw cabbage chopped fine, one cupful grated horseradish as prepared for the table, one cupful granulated sugar, one tablespoonful of salt, one teaspoonful black pepper. Vinegar enough to mix well.

WRONG VIEWS OF MARRIAGE

Brooklyn Lawyer Tells of Some Popular Impressions That Are Entirely Erroneous.

Some persons believe, says Mr. Hugo Hirsch of the Brooklyn bar, in Case and Comment, that marriage can be entered into by any man or woman, regardless of age, race, relationship, or condition. But in this they are mistaken, for every state has its own peculiar laws regarding, limiting, and circumscribing entrance into this relationship as the same may be affected by those provisions.

Some persons believe that fraud, force, duress, coercion, used for the purpose of bringing about marriage between man and woman, do not affect the legality of the relationship, but in this they are mistaken, because every state and territory has a law providing for the annulment of marriages caused by fraud, force, etc.

Some men believe that wives are chattels and may be beaten into submission. This is a grave error, for in many of the states such conduct is cause for an absolute divorce, and in nearly all of the states it is cause for a legal separation.

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter—and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER GRAY HAIR

She Made Up a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to Bring Back Color, Gloss, Thickness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when it is streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is why, by asking at any store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of the famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. Looking out Broadway last evening at the hour for the setting of the sun, one of the prettiest pictures of the skies eyes ever beheld as presented. No pen could sketch the beauty and the most artistic handler of the brush could do little better. The sun, the lights it gave the passing clouds, the shadows and the general tone and effect were mingled as imagination could hardly mix and there was in the whole the sight to behold—a thrilling picture of nature.—
News-Democrat.

In just plain, ordinary words it was a cocktail of sunshine and shadow. It must have reminded the artist who penned the above beautifully graphic picture of the time when the terrestrial looked the celestial, a condition closely resembling the beautiful warm afternoon frost on the pumpkin shock after the corn had been garnered and the fruit of the vine safely tucked under the lid of a boiling pot to be transformed from a crude and ugly state to one of beauty and pie. How beautiful the thought.
Looking down the lane to observe the cows wending their way homeward o'er meadows of mud, bedecked with white spots of snow, the beautiful snow, and to realize that there is nothing so rare as milking time in January when the temperature registers 'neath the skating degree.
It must have been gorgeously unique in the wonderful spectre exhibited by both the artistic hand of the brush and sketchless pen. It must have recalled the song of Diana to her sweetheart as he lay snoring a requiem produced by pork bones and livers, also now very rare to be seen in a country print shop, but so repeatedly promised by the dear delinquent who never liquidates either bones or turnips. Gosh!
How our very soul craves to have stood alongside this penless artist and drunk it with him, at least a sufficient amount of what he thought he saw and described so beautifully, to have removed a few of the wrinkles from around our empty bread basket.
We feel confident that the skies would have gazed on with pleasure, and we know this manner of feeding and filling would reduce the present high cost of living. Should like occasion ever occur again please wire at our Kirksey Kinkles.

Ed. Ledger:—Few items from this place will possibly be of interest to many of your readers.

We are having the worst weather imaginable. Our hog and hominie are getting scarce, and the woodpile is limited, so you see we are in the middle of a bad fix. So we all go to Kirksey and down here we have organized a loafers' club and stay out all day, go back home at night and take a good old social rest, go back the next day to pass the leisure hours, then back home, and the same old thing over and over day after day. Scant breakfast, skip dinner and no supper at all. The roads are so bad that we can't go elsewhere.

Ullous Cunningham lost a fine horse of the blind staggers a few nights ago. Lee Berchet also lost one with the same disease.

Rev. Rufe Riley has a sick cow that he is not likely to have much longer.

James Drinkard, of the Backusburg vicinity, has moved to Kirksey and is occupying the Billie Jones place. We are glad to have him with us.

Charlie Watson is all smiles;
it's a brand new republican plow boy at his home. He made his arrival some few nights ago.

Willis Manning has moved to his place. Willis says, "by the eternal I am going to have $10 per hundred for my tobacco or let it hang in the barn until next June, or haul it to Mayfield."

Earley Cunningham still rides
the old gray mule.

Glen Harris and wife have moved to near Bell City, Tenn.
Health is very good in this section, and we have neither a marriage or death to report.

Our school is progressing nicely under the splendid management of Prof. B. O. Langston, who is ably assisted by Mr. Fred Gingles and Miss Bernice Washer.
Well, Esq. Radford, Attorney
Barnett and Constable Tom Radford and Bud Chapman are holding the boys down quite well.
Court convenes at Kirksey next Tuesday for a two days session.
Several cases in the mill hopper awaiting their turn.

Rev. Nall filled his regular appointment at Mt. Carmel last Sunday.

Some tobacco buyers have been through this section, but prices offered didn't suit the people.
We must have what our tobacco is worth is the way the farmers down here talk, and they mean to stick to it.

Uncle George Dulaney has resigned as Sunday school superintendent and Rev. Afferton has accepted the place. Rev. Afferton is our new blacksmith and is from near Chester's store, Marshall county.

Bill Cox and family have moved to McCracken county, near Paducah, to live. We regret to see them leave as they were good neighbors. We wish them success in their new home.

Wonder who will be next man to announce for governor? We ought to have at least a half dozen out for the place.

Johns Langston and Ullous Q.
Cunningham sold a fine bunch of cattle to Charlie Hatcher a few days ago that weighed nearly 14,000 pounds. Only 18 head in the bunch.

For fear that I tire your readers I will close for this time.—
Tarantula.

Rather Positive About It.

At the wedding reception the young man remarked: "Wasn't it annoying the way that baby cried during the whole ceremony?"

"It was simply dreadful," replied the prim little maid of honor; "and when I get married I'm going to have engraved right in the corner of the invitations: 'No babies expected.'"

Two Range Propositions

Proposition No. 1.

To the First Three who buy one of our Famous ROBIN RANGES at the regular cash price we will give One barrel of our Best Guaranteed Straight Run Flour, worth $7.25.

This Range is warranted by us to be as durable and bake as well as ranges sold from $15 to $25 more.

Proposition No. 2.

To those wishing to purchase cheaper Ranges than the above we have two makes which are all O. K. To the one buying either of these makes we will give the following: 1 $2.00 Set of Table Cutlery, 1 nice Set of Teas and Plates and 1 Nice Set (3) German Silver Table Spoons.

You will doubtless wonder why we are able to do this. It is because we have a special proposition with the factory which enables us to make this unusual offer.
Come in and let us show you and explain more fully our plan.

Do You Eat Muskrat?

As game is very scarce and meats are extremely high, the above question pops into one's head after reading "The Muskrat," Farmers' Bulletin No. 396, United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.
This booklet of thirty-eight pages is delightful reading, as it takes up the growth of the use of furs and the need of the conservation of the supply of fur in the United States.

The habits of the muskrat, his bad habits and good habits are touched upon. The muskrat as an article of food is written of at length and instructions as to his preparation and cooking are taken up carefully. There are recipes for muskrat fried, roasted and stewed, so the farmer's wife may know just what to do with the next one the boys trap and bring home to skin.

The last few pages of this very readable little book are devoted to the trapping of these small rodents and the home dressing of their hides. Altogether the book is so out of ordinary and so unique that every farmer, his wife and his boys should read it this winter.

Ledger $1 a year.—Worth $10.

LIV-VER-LAX Acts Surely, Safely.

Just because you are feeling the ill effects of a torpid liver is no excuse for buying a harmful

Cure Hog Cholera.

The word "cure" is seldom used in connection with hog cholera. Why? Because of the frequent failures. But we use the word "cure" and guarantee that B. A. Thomas Hog Powders will cure 90 hogs out of 100. The record today is a little over 95 out of every 100, so we guarantee 90.
We don't care what others may think or say. We know what we are doing and will sell you B. A.

ing that it will save 9 out of ten hogs. It is medicine—straight medicine. It is because it is straight medicine that it cures

About the busiest bunch of youngsters you ever saw in your whole life was here in Murray this week. The boys have been circulating a number of petitions which will be presented to the city council at an early date asking for the privilege of skating on the walks on roller skates. These boys are full of life, pleasant little fellows, and have approached the citizens in a most pleasing and pleading manner. They only want the pleasure of skating in the outlying districts, and usually engage in the sport at hours that does not interfere with pedestrians. It is an innocent sport, health giving, muscle building and makes rich, red blood. Sign the next petition presented to you and give the boys and girls some few liberties.

Woman Cures Horse Colic.

The men were away as usual. The horse was bad. A lone woman could not "drench" the usual way. She called a neighbor and her men were away—but: "We have Farris Colic Remedy that you drop on the horse's tongue," says Mrs. Neighbor. So she came over and dropped Farris Colic Remedy on the horse's tongue and the horse was well when the men came home. Moral: Get Farris Colic Remedy so the women can cure horse colic. We sell it 50 cts. a bottle on the Money Back Plan. —Sexton Bros.

Child Burned to Death.

Lucile, the three year old daughter of Edgar and Lois Williams was so badly burned at their home near Backsburg last week that she died. The burial took place the following day at Bazzell grave yard after services by Rev. John White. The little one was left playing in the room with another little sister while the mother milked the cow. She had been gone only a few moments when she heard the little ones screams and rushed in to find her clothes in flames.

How to Treat Croup Externally

Robt. Vick's "Vapo-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve, well over the throat and chest for a few minutes and then cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so that the vapors inhaled may loosen the choking phlegm and open the air passages. Usually one treatment relieves in fifteen minutes. One application at bedtime will prevent a night attack. Vick's will be found better than internal medicines for all inflammation of the air passages from head colds and catarrh down to bronchitis and incipient pneumonia. Three sizes—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

VICK'S CROUP AND SALVE

Try This for Neuralgia.

Thousands of people keep on suffering with neuralgia because they do not know what to do for it. Neuralgia is a pain in nerves. What you want to do is to soothe the nerve itself. Apply Sloan's Liniment to the surface over the painful part—do not rub it in. Sloan's Liniment penetrates very quickly to the sore irritated nerve and allays the inflammation. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, lumbago, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

PRISON LABOR BID REJECTED

COMMISSIONERS FOLLOW ACTION WITH SHORT CONTRACT WITH SHIRT COMPANY.

MAY LEASE CHAIR FACTORY

Attorney General Approves of Appropriation to Defray Initial Costs of Project.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky. With the rejection by the board of prison commissioners of the only bid submitted to them for the labor of prisoners in the state reformatory, steps have been inaugurated to give employment to all the men by the state unless private companies will agree to employ them on contracts of a one-year basis. Under the latter arrangement, 200 of the men have been contracted for by the Reliance Manufacturing Co. in making cheap shirts. It is proposed to employ nearly as many more in a chair factory.

To carry out the chair factory project, the board proposes to lease the chair factory of Charles Irion and engage him as superintendent at a salary and a share of the profits, the lease cost being $1,250. State Auditor Bosworth has received a letter from the board requesting him to issue warrants for $25,000 to defray the initial expense of purchasing stock of the factory. The letter says the board has made a "faithful effort" to get satisfactory bids and failed.

"If the state auditor finds sufficient funds remaining in the $300,000 appropriation of 1922 he is authorized to draw his warrants for the $25,000 requested by the prison board for starting a chair factory at the reformatory," said Attorney General Garnett in an opinion transmitted to Auditor Bosworth.

The rejection was unanimous.

The prison board unanimously rejected the composite bid of the Hoge-Montgomery Co. for the labor of prisoners in the Frankfort Reformatory for periods of one, two, three or four years.

Commissioners Henry Lawrence and M. P. Conley said they were agreed, and Chairman Daniel E. O'Sullivan gave out the following statement:

"The Prison Commission rejected all the bids of the Hoge-Montgomery Co. for the labor of prisoners in the Frankfort Reformatory. There were many objections to the proposals, neither the price nor the conditions being satisfactory. The Prison Commission by a unanimous vote decided that it would not tie up the convict labor for long terms."

There are at present 1,249 prisoners in the Reformatory and 644 in the Eddyville penitentiary. Four hundred of the reformatory prisoners are now under contract to the Hoge-Montgomery Co. at 15¢ to 75¢ a day and 25¢ at 75¢ cents. At the Eddyville penitentiary the Reliance Manufacturing Co. is paying 50¢ a day for 175 men and 64¢ cents for 75 men; the Kentucky Whip and Collar Co. is paying 57¢ cents for 150 men and the Louisville Bloom Co. is paying 75¢ cents for 75 men.

Illiteracy Campaign in Prisons.

An illiteracy campaign will be waged in the state reformatory to wipe out illiteracy behind prison walls. Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, secretary of the illiteracy commission, addressed the convicts recently and secured the consent of nearly every prisoner to aid in the illiteracy campaign. There are only five illiterates in the reformatory. The campaign will be extended to the penitentiary at Eddyville, and the House of Reform at Glendale. Warden Wells will appoint a committee of three or five prisoners who will cooperate with the Kentucky illiteracy commission. In plans and methods to give the institution a large share in the illiteracy campaign.

Court of Appeals Affirms Decisions.

Two Jefferson county cases have been affirmed and one reversed by the court of appeals. Judgment in favor of the Swiss Cleaners and Dyers against Meta Riley Fritts, who sued for the renewal of a contract for an interest in the business of the concern, was affirmed, as was the judgment in favor of H. M. Cunningham against Caldwell & Drake, fixing the price of certain oak lumber furnished the contractors at $39. the thousand. The court reversed the Jefferson circuit court, which had given judgment for $502.85 in favor of John O'Connor's administrator against the Equitable Life Assurance Society, the balance due on a policy on O'Connor's life taken out by his niece, Mary O'Connor. The court said she had no insurable interest in his life.

Lectures in South and East.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, of the illiteracy commission, has been invited to address the Alabama legislature on the illiteracy commission bill pending before that body. The Alabama bill to create an illiteracy commission for that state is modeled after the Kentucky illiteracy commission bill. She has also been invited to address the legislatures of North Carolina and South Carolina. She will go to Raleigh, N. C., January 28 and to Baltimore, Md., February 11 to assist in starting the illiteracy campaign.

Boone's Path Through Kentucky.

Hon. R. C. Ford, of Covington, who is much interested in the marking of the original Boone trail, has written to Colonel R. H. Perry, of Winchester, asking for any information he might have regarding it. At the request of Mrs. James Arnold and other prominent women of the D. A. R., Mr. Ford is seeking to establish correctly the original route which Daniel Boone and his party took when entering Kentucky. Colonel Perry, in reply to Mr. Ford's letter, said:

"Boone and his party entered Kentucky at Cumberland Gap. They followed the waters of the Cumberland river to a point near where Barboursville is now located, thence north, striking the southern border of what is now Laurel county at the head of Robinson creek, continuing northward, they passed east of London and east of East Bernstadt crossing Hazel Patch creek at right angles near where the state road is located. At this point they built a crude station, the remains of which can be seen now. Continuing almost in direct line, they crossed Rockcastle river at the mouth of Parker's creek, later known as Metcalfe's Ford, about seven miles by river east of Livingston; thence down the river to a small stream that they named Trace Branch. They followed this stream to its head and crossed over to Crooked creek, thence down to Roundstone creek at a point near Mullins Station on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. From this point the Louisville and Nashville railroad follows very nearly the trail to the mouth of Otter creek, and about one mile down the river is where the fort was built."

"There is not a tradition even that Boone was ever nearer Mr. Vernon than Brush creek. W. L. Brown, present county judge of Laurel county, was with a surveying party about 1857 that followed this trail from the southern border of Laurel county to Richmond. There are other old people along the trail that have had it pointed out to them by their ancestors. In the early days there were two roads leading from Central Kentucky southward, one known as the state road and the other as the Wilderness road, neither of which followed the Boone trail, the state road coming the nearer to doing so. The two roads, the Wilderness starting in the vicinity of Danville, and the State road from the section, come together at what is now Pittsburg, in Laurel county. From this point the road to Cumberland was on or near the Boone trail."

Handwriting Expert Is Witness.

The star witness in the trial of Thomas S. Byars, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, charged with appropriating $5 of the state's money, paid by Joseph Kurze, of Jessamine county, for an automobile license, promises to be William G. Pengelly, of Columbus, Ohio, handwriting expert, called by the defense to testify whether the figures "2" and "4" on the mutilated applications for automobile licenses could have been made by Mr. Byars. The prosecution was depending upon the identity of the person who made these figures with that of the person who stole the license fees.

Mr. Pengelly testified in the famous "Society of the Bana" (Blanche Hand) cases in the federal court at Cleveland; in the case against Broughton Brandenburg, charged with forging the famous Cleveland letter reflecting on President Taft; the Rice-Patrick will case, in which Lawyer Patrick, of New York, and a valet were charged with killing Millionaire Rice; and many federal prosecutions in which the mails had been used. In stating his case to the jury Robert Franklin, attorney for Mr. Byars, told the jury that this witness can prove the utter impossibility of Mr. Byars having made the figures.

Enjoins Insurance Commissioner.

The Maryland Casualty Co. has secured a temporary injunction in the Franklin circuit court, restraining Insurance Commissioner Clay from revoking its license to do business in the state. The petition recites that an Eastern Kentucky manufacturing company had a policy of $5,000 indemnity insurance in the company. A workman recovered judgment for $7,500 damages from the corporation. It states that the casualty company is ready to indemnify the company to the extent of $5,000 whenever it pays the judgment, but that Commissioner Clay has demanded that it pay the $5,000 to the injured workman or his attorney, who stand in no contractual relation to it and it asked for the injunction to prevent the commissioner arbitrarily revoking its license on account of its refusal to obey his demand. Commissioner Clay said the manufacturing company has become insolvent, and unless the casualty company pays the money direct to the injured workman there is a possibility of its failing to realize any compensation. The Maryland-Casualty Co. petition states, has fifty agencies in Kentucky and does $100,000 worth of business annually in the state.

State Health Officers Re-elected.

Twelve physicians have passed examinations entitling them to practice medicine in the state.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH! IT'S MERCURY AND SALIVATES

Straighten Up! Don't Lose a Day's Work! Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels With "Dodson's Liver Tone."

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. Take a dose of the vile, dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, causes it to break up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you feel sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, disheveled coat, tongue, if breath is bad, stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store or dealer and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour-bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable.

I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Modesty Rewarded.

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Dandruff Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Mite of Seven Years Had Worked Out Solution of Problem to His Satisfaction.

He is the merest mite, only seven and his widowed mother was married the other day for the second time to "daddy"—a really very nice person who had long been fast friends with the stepson-elect and had no idea of being an interloper.

There are problems to be figured out—even when you are only seven.

"Mother," asked the mite, "who are you going to marry when daddy dies?"

"Why, my dear," she replied, "what a curious question."

"Well," responded the mite, "when father died you married daddy—and now, when daddy dies, I know just who I want you to marry."

"Why, my little son!" exclaimed the perplexed mother. "You shouldn't speak like that. Daddy isn't going to die."

"Yes mother, I know, but he might die. Then, if he ever does, mother, I want you to promise me that you'll marry me—cause then—then, you see, we would never have to be separated."

Thus, even at seven, does a heart know its own sorrow.

Return of Walnut.

The wood of our fathers, the good old "black walnut" that was reckoned the supreme cabinet material of 50 years ago, has come back. True, they call it "American walnut" now, and give it a shiny finish and try to hide the deep, purplish brown which is the true glory of the stuff; but it is the same old wood in spite of all. May it soon get back its ancient name and more than its ancient popularity.

IN RACE FOR GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

HARRIS & WING
WASHINGTON, D. C.

CONGRESSMAN A. O. STANLEY.

STANLEY SHIES HAT IN RING

Announces Candidacy for Governorship at Primaries.

IS OPPOSED TO RING RULE

Will Also Turn Light On Activities of Legislative Lobbyists if Elected to High Office—Promises to Conserve Resources of State and Work for Better System of Highways—Opposes Convict Contract System.

Formal announcement was made in Washington by Representative A. O. Stanley that he will seek the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky at the primaries next August. In his statement Mr. Stanley promises that if elected he will rid the state board of valuation and assessment of all outside influences and that his administration will be absolutely free from all taint of ring rule. His statement follows:

Mr. Stanley's Statement.
"One of the greatest issues which will confront the Democracy of Kentucky at the ensuing August primary election will be the control of the state board of valuation and assessment and the tremendous powers inherent in it. The Democracy who is to be elected governor must turn a face of that toward every proposal to use this board for putting screws to any public service corporation which may refuse to do its bidding, or for rewarding with any character of privilege or exemption such corporations as may agree to become part and parcel of the political machine. For unless a governor of Kentucky can keep clean the board of valuation and assessment he can not give an honest, economical and efficient administration. He is in chains."

"I shall be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky, and I do not desire to be governor unless I can be free."

Rotation in Office.

"One of the vital issues which the Democracy of the state will be called upon to endorse or repudiate is the principle of endless rotation in office. I am convinced that the question of whether or not a single article of officeholders shall perpetuate themselves in power by rotating in different offices will be settled in August as overwhelmingly as the people adopted that provision in the present state constitution, which renders every state official ineligible as his own successor. That clause in the organic law was thus heartily endorsed by the people of Kentucky because they believed it would end ring rule in the state house. But there is better reason for keeping a state official in the same office indefinitely in the discharge of duties with which he has become familiar than to rotate him through a succession of positions in which he has had no previous experience."

"The Democratic party in Kentucky will no longer tolerate a political Wall at the head of a close corporation of officeholders who have twisted the old Democratic doctrine of rotation in office to mean that the same set shall rotate from one office to another and back again every four years."

True Function of Governor.

"It is known of all men that Percy Haly proposes either to nominate himself as governor of Kentucky or some respectable figurehead of his own selection whom he can own and control and that men shall be ineligible to position on the all-powerful board of assessment and valuation, whose names do not appear on his exclusive roll of honor (?). I shall fight with all the energy I possess and shall exert to the utmost all the authority vested in me to prevent the intermeddling by an officeholding trust or a petty political hierarchy with these or any other offices in the state, and I shall fight every concerted attempt to dictate nominations for national, state, district or county offices."

"The function of the governor and those associated with him is to transcend the business of the state in such a way as to redound to its credit and to that of his party and the security and prosperity of the people and not to construct an endless chain of officeholders, from street sweeper to chief magistrate, for the purpose of maintaining perpetually in power a political triumvirate and a pampered and protected lobby. I shall fight the Haly-Rhea-Shackelford triumvirate now in control as bitterly as I shall fight any other individual or combination which may seek to pillage the state."

No Invisible Government.

"I willingly surrendered a seat in congress to fight above all else that most heinous and abominable menace to the liberties and property rights of a free people—the invisible government—powers nominally vested in benevolent and respectable figures, actually exercised by covert and cunning emissaries of every favor-seeking and tax-dodging interest fortunate enough to have a friend at court."

"If elected governor of Kentucky I solemnly and earnestly pledge the people of the commonwealth here and now that I will turn the calcium light upon the lobbyist and upon all who seek to secure positions of honor or privilege by any secret or unholy alliance with him."

The Needs of the State.

"I shall earnestly endeavor, if made chief magistrate of my native state, to conserve and encourage every legitimate business and industry, whether large or small, to encourage the investment of capital in and the development of our unutilized resources; to promote the construction and operation of public highways to the end that our people may find a better and speedier access to the market, the mill, the school and the church. As means to this end, I favor the abolition of prison contract labor and the employment of the convicts on the roads of the state."

"I shall vigorously endeavor to protect the citizen from every form of lawlessness or confiscation to see that his person and his property are secure whether that property be invested in live stock, in lands or in manufacturing enterprises."

"I stand for the county-unit law as it now exists, and, will, if elected, do all in my power to make it effective. Believing that as governor of the state I can render my countrymen material service in carrying into effect the reforms I have mentioned, I respectfully solicit their support as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of governor of Kentucky in the ensuing August primary election."

EUROPEAN WAR SHATTERS KING COTTON'S THRONE

FLEECY STAPLE MUST PAY RANSOM INTO THE COFFERS OF WAR.

Nation Rings With Cries of Stricken Industry.

By Peter Radford
Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

King Cotton has suffered more from the European war than any other agricultural product on the American continent. The shells of the belligerents have burst over his throne, frightening his subjects and shattering his markets, and, panic-stricken, the nation cries out "God save the king!"

People from every walk of life have contributed their mite toward rescue work. Society has danced before the king; milady has decreed that the family wardrobe shall contain only cotton goods; the press has pleaded with the public to "buy a bale"; bankers have been formulating holding plans; congress and legislative bodies have deliberated over relief measures; statesmen and writers have grown eloquent expounding the inalienable rights of "His Majesty" and presenting schemes for preserving the financial integrity of the stricken staple, but the sword of Europe has proved mightier than the pen of America in fixing value upon this product of the sunny south. Prices have been bayoneted, values riddled and markets decimated by the battling hosts of the eastern hemisphere until the American farmer has suffered a war loss of $400,000,000, and a bale of cotton brave enough to enter a European port must pay a ransom of half its value or go to prison until the war is over.

Hope of the Future Lies in Co-operation.

The Farmers' Union, through the columns of the press, wants to thank the American people for the friendship, sympathy and assistance given the cotton farmers in the hour of distress and to direct attention to co-operative methods necessary to permanently assist the marketing of all farm products.

The present emergency presents a grave situation as ever confronted the American farmer and from the viewpoint of the producer, would seem to justify extraordinary relief measures, even to the point of bending the constitution and straining business rules in order to lift a portion of the burden off the backs of the farmer, for unless something is done to check the invasion of the war forces upon the cotton fields, the pathway of the European pestilence on this continent will be strewn with mortgage homes and famine and poverty will stalk over the southland, filling the highways of industry with refugees and the bankruptcy court with prisoners.

All calamities teach us lessons and the present crisis serves to illuminate the frailties of our marketing methods and the weakness of our credit system, and out of the financial anguish and travail of the cotton farmer will come a volume of discussion and a mass of suggestions and finally a solution of this, the biggest problem in the economic life of America. If, indeed, we have not already laid the foundation for at least temporary relief.

More Pharaohs Needed in Agriculture.

Farm products have no credit and perhaps can never have on a permanent and satisfactory basis unless we build warehouses, cold storage plants, elevators, etc., for without storage and credit facilities, the south is compelled to dump its crop on the market at harvest time. The Farmers' Union in the cotton producing states have for the past ten years persistently advocated the construction of storage facilities. We have built during this period 2,000 warehouses with a capacity of approximately 4,000,000 bales and looking backward the results would seem encouraging, but looking forward, we are able to house less than one-third of the crop and warehouses without a credit system lose 90 per cent of their usefulness. The problem is a gigantic one too great for the farmer to solve unaided. He must have the assistance of the banker, the merchant and the government.

In production we have reached the high water mark of perfection in the world's history, but our marketing methods are most primitive. In the dawn of history we find agriculture plowing with a forked stick but with a system of warehouses under governmental supervision that made the Egyptians the marvel of civilization, for who has not admired the wisdom of Joseph and applauded the wisdom of Pharaoh for storing the surplus until demanded by the consumer, but in this age we have too many Josephs who dream and not enough Pharaohs who build.

Excellent for Stomach Trouble.

"Chamberlain's Tablets are just fine for stomach trouble," writes Mrs. G. Dunn, Arnold, Pa. "I was bothered with this complaint for some time and frequently had bilious attacks. Chamberlain's Tablets afforded me great relief from the first, and since taking one bottle of them I feel like a different person. For sale by all dealers."

How to Guard Against Pneumonia.

In the Better Babies department in the February Woman's Home Companion there appears a new service offered to mothers, mothers-to-be, and social workers. It is filled with practical suggestions of great value and interest. From this service appearing in the February issue is taken the following advice as to how parents and others can guard against pneumonia both for themselves and for their children:

"February is the month when pneumonia is busiest and deadliest. In Chicago and New York last February more than one thousand persons died of pneumonia."

"Pneumonia is now classed by physicians as a preventable disease. It is an infectious dust-disease, due to germs which can be fought with pure air."

"Pneumonia germs thrive and multiply in unventilated school-rooms, stores, factories, homes, and moving-pictures theaters."

"Dry-sweeping and dusting put germs in circulation. Moisture on your broom and dustcloth when cleaning. Wash and dry both when your task is done."

"Dry air dries out the mucous membrane or lining of nose and air passages, leaving them susceptible to infection and exposed to colds. If you have steam heat or a hard coal burner in your home, always keep a pan of water on the radiator or back of stove."

"Pneumonia is sometimes the result of a neglected cold. Treat a cold promptly."

"When your children have colds do not dose them with soothing syrup, cough syrup or patent medicine of any sort. Give castor oil, and if the cold does not get better send for your doctor."

"Colds can be 'caught' from a kiss, a common drinking cup, or a handkerchief or towel which has been used by someone suffering with a cold."

"Adenoids or enlarged or diseased tonsils furnish a lodging place for germs. Children who are subject to colds should be examined by a physician—if possible by a throat specialist."

"If you have a cold, do not kiss your children. When nursing, bathing and dressing your baby, protect it from infection by tying a handkerchief or piece of old linen over your mouth."

"Teach your children to protect themselves from cold-contagion by avoiding their little playmates who cough, sneeze, have a rash, or a sore throat."

Stop the Child's Colds. They Often Result Seriously.

Colds, croup and whooping cough are children's ailments which need immediate attention. Don't take the risk—you don't have to. Dr. King's New Discovery checks the colds, soothes the cough, allays the inflammation, kills the germs and allows nature to do her healing work. 50c at your druggist. Buy a bottle today.

A Twelve-Year-Old Wonder Child.

In the "Interesting People" department in the February American Magazine appears an article about Winifred Sackville Stoner, a little girl twelve years old who it already an accomplished scholar. She speaks eight languages, and is already an author. She can also throw a ball better than most boys. Her mother attributes her unusual development to "natural education" which is briefly described in the following extract from the article:

"Perhaps nothing is more illuminative than Mrs. Stoner's account of how she taught the child mathematics. Winifred had failed to get any sort of grasp on the subject, she says, until her mother was in despair fearing the child's mind might be lopsided. At a Chautauqua meeting in New York, however, the mother met Prof. A. R. Hornbrook, a woman mathematics teacher, who soon put her on the right track.

"Prof. Hornbrook explained that Mrs. Stoner had been successful in teaching music, art, poetry, history and languages because she herself loved those studies, and had failed to teach mathematics because she had not brought the 'fairy interest' into it."

"Mother and child then began playing games with small objects, such as beans and buttons. These objects would be placed in a box and they would take turns drawing them out, to see which could get the most at a single grab. When helping the maid shell peas, they would try to see how many peas there were in two or more pods. In this way rudimentary lessons in addition were taught. To make greater progress they played pachisi with small dice and got practice from adding up the spots. In learning subtraction they would have battles with tin soldiers and marbles, and whenever a 'cannon shot' would topple over a given number of soldiers. Winifred was able to decide how many were left standing without stopping to count."

"There never were any quizzes, because Winifred was taught to get results and was not taught rules. She learned the values of money by the actual use of coins and the values of market products by going to market herself. And so it went through the whole subject, until at last the girl became fascinated with the funny doings of Mr. X and got interested in algebra. The things she could make with cardboard and scissors gave her a start into the mysteries of geometry."
