Fire Damages Chemistry Lab

Phosphorus Blaze Is Quickly Smothered By Students At High School
Quick thinking and prompt action by chemistry class pupils and their teacher, Mrs. Trevor Wayne, prevented what might have been a major catastrophe at Fulton high school yesterday afternoon.

A shelf in the back of the science room collapsed, spilling acid and phosphorus on the classroom floor. The phosphorus immediately burst into flame, but the students, under Mrs. Wayne's direction, smothered the blaze with sand before it could spread.

Total damage was estimated at $100. Some of the students, in their art fire extinguishers on the excitement, started to use standpipes, but were told by Mrs. Wayne that sand was needed instead.

The fire was under control so quickly that the fire department was not called to the school. All the chemistry class members were in the front of the room when the blaze started, and none was injured.

Other students were startled by the crash, explosion and smoke which poured from the science room and filled the building.
If the shelf had fallen when no one was in the room, it is possible that the resulting fire could have destroyed the building.

Railroaders Miss 'Grandma'

Mrs. W. W. Cull, Blufford, Died At Home Sunday; Services At Benton, Ill.

Last Sunday wasn't as bright as most Sunday's in Blufford, Ill. A story circulated among saddened flagmen, brakemen, firemen and engineers that "Grandma" was dead.

The story was true. Mrs. W. M. Cull, better known to her railroad friends as "Grandma," died quietly at 12:45 a. m. at her home in Blufford. She was 80 years of age.

Mrs. Cull made her home with Mrs. George Schunn, a daughter, who managed the Hoffman Hotel in Blufford.

Fulton railroad men and others on the Illinois Central have fond memories of her, recalling the times she had sewed on buttons and mended rips in their clothes as they waited in Blufford to be called. They remember the stories she related in her broken English of the "old country," Germany.

"Grandma" came from Germany 32 years ago last Christmas with her late husband. Only five of their children are still living. They are Mrs. Albert Haines of West Franklin, Ill.; Clarence Cull of St. Clair, Mo.; Mrs. George Schunn and Mrs. Rudolph Hoffman of Blufford; and Mrs. E. E. Toth of Fulton.

Funeral services and burial were held yesterday at Benton, Ill.

Thompson Aides Plan An Appeal To Higher Court

TALMADGE JUBILANT

McDonough, Ga., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Herman Talmadge was declared Georgia's legal governor today by Superior Court Judge Walter Hendrix in a suit brought by Lieut. Governor M. E. Thompson, who challenges Talmadge's right to the office.

Thompson's attorney announced immediately that they would appeal the decision to the State Supreme Court. A superior court in Georgia is similar to a United States District Court but appeals on matters concerning interpretation of the state constitution may be taken directly to the Supreme Court.

It was the second decision within a week on the controversial governorship. Superior Judge H. Porter had previously ruled at Rome, Ga., that Thompson was the acting governor. Talmadge was not a party to this suit, however. It was brought by Thompson to force members of the Pardon and Parole board to give him certain budgetary information as acting governor.

Talmadge charged that the Rome decision was "patently collusive" and that he had no knowledge that it was being called for hearings. It has already been appealed to the State Supreme Court and a hearing set for March 10.

Thompson himself, brought the case before Judge Hendrix here. Both he and Talmadge were represented at hearings which were concluded Monday.

In addition to the case already decided, another has been taken under advisement by Superior Judge Bond Almond, who promised a decision Saturday. This case brought by the Fulton National Bank asks the court to determine who is legally entitled as the state's chief executive to draw on executive department accounts in the bank.

Talmadge, who based his claims to the office on his election by the legislature to the term his father, Eugene Talmadge, was prevented by death from serving, was jubilant over today's court victory.

Thompson said the next decision remained with the State Supreme Court and "the people are entitled to the earliest possible decision."

In Salt Lake City, Ellis Arnall, who as governor first challenged Talmadge's right to the office, and later resigned turning the office over to Thompson, said the effect of the Superior Court decision "is not important." He added that he was still convinced the Supreme Court would uphold Thompson.

In a 2,000 word decision Judge Hendrix said the legislature was within its constitutional right when it elected Talmadge Jan. 15 to the four-year term of the late Eugene Talmadge, his father.

The judge said "It is clear that the General Assembly has the right to decide when there was no election by the people. It did decide that on account of the death of the governor-elect there had been no election by the people. In our opinion the constitution then put the duty and responsibility on it to elect and install a governor. This duty and responsibility it decided as it saw fit. When it (the legislature) acts within its authority, courts cannot interfere."

The Shoe Pinches

The victorious allied nations have dealt too harshly with us—our treaty should be revised, Italy told the world yesterday.

An Italian government note to the 20 nations which helped write the treaty referred to the piteous plight of 45,000,000 people living upon "a soil which cannot possibly nourish them," and asked for relief from the terms of the treaty.

All of which recalls the days when Fascism was in full flower in Italy. When Ill Duce, from his balcony, told cheering thousands of his ambition to make the Mediterranean Mare Nostrum, our sea; of his plans to restore the Roman Empire at the expense of the peace-loving nations that stood in the way of his conquest; of his son's widely-published views on the nobility and grandeur of aggressive war, about how exploding bombs looked like beautiful roses in bloom as he flew over relatively defenseless Ethiopia.

We recall Italy's entrance into the second World War as an ally of Germany and Adolf Hitler. We remember the Allied soldiers who were killed by the armies of Ill Duce—the boys who won't come home because of a power-mad Italian leader's dreams of conquest. We remember that the Italian people, by and large, went into the war on the side of the Axis because they felt they were on the winning side.

We remember what these same people said they would do if they won the war; how nearly they approached the opportunity to write the peace treaties on their own terms, and what that would have meant to the allied nations and to democratic government.

Remembering this, we cannot agree that the terms of the Italian treaty are too harsh. Many men who fought against the Axis feel that the treaty is far too lenient.

Airport Funds Available

The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced yesterday that it was recommending construction of a class I airport at Fulton, and another at Hickman, with the Federal government supplying almost one-half of the necessary funds.

As we have stated before in these columns, we believe Fulton needs an airport, because the air age is at hand. Other cities close to us, such as Martin, Mayfield, Union City and Murray, to name four already have accommodations for planes. The cities that do not have airports will, in the next few years, be in a class with those that do not have good highways and railroad facilities.

Since Federal aid is available now, it behooves all air-minded citizens of Fulton county to be investigating the possibility of obtaining aid in constructing a local airport. Money spent by the city and or county to build an airport would, we think, be wisely invested in future prosperity.

Taps Have Sounded For Private Childers

I don't know the man who came into the Leader office yesterday morning and handed me a letter. I took the sealed envelope thinking it was news. Breaking the seal I found that it contained a copy that would normally be published in the columns of the Leader as a memorial—and charged at two cents per word. After reading the poetry that was written there I didn't have the nerve to call the sender and ask for the money. He may be rich and she may be poor—I don't know. I only know that all of us who live in this land of America are forever indebted to her. Her loss cannot be measured in dollars and cents. She gave her son to us.

Private first class James Lee Childers died three years ago yesterday while fighting in Italy. He was a simple soldier of the line. The uniform he wore was the same ten million American boys put on when they went off to war. It was not decorated with the brass and medals of rank and heroism we grew accustomed to seeing as the war neared its end. I am sure that three years ago it was plastered with mud and stained with the sweat of long days and nights of combat. I believe I could describe it very much in detail. To share the feelings of his mother who may read this, I shall not. I don't know how Private Childers met death. I'm not even sure but that he welcomed it, so tired he may have been with carrying the weight of battle on his shoulders. I prefer to think that he died as so many others did—never knowing that he was going. One moment he was alive and living, full of the memories of a lifetime of freedom and happiness. Suddenly he found himself face to face with death. Without heroes he did his duty.

Then in another moment he was no more. The sun had gone out forever and night with peace and rest had come to stay. It is a simple thing to die. It is not so easy for the living to hold the trust that the dead have placed in them.

I join with Private Childers' mother, Mrs. Louise Childers, in mourning his absence. She is a heart-broken mother. My heart cries, too, for the awful sacrifice she has made. I humbly apologize to her for the liberty I have taken with the words she sent to us. The poetry she has written is not cased in the rhythm and feet of a laureate. Still, it is poetry in its truest sense. It is the yearning, crying, longing of a human heart striving for articulate expression. Reading it I am reminded of a story I once heard about the Twenty-third Psalm. A noted evangelist who was a master of elocution, noted for his letter-perfect renditions of scriptural passages, once visited in a little country church and heard an old man who stood in the position of elder recite the Twenty-third Psalm. The old man's English was not good. He spoke in the accent of his countrymen. He only opened his mouth and said the Psalm as it came out of his heart. When he was done the visiting evangelist paid him this compliment: "I have been praised up and down the length and breadth of the land for the way I recite the Twenty-third Psalm. I know now, after hearing you, that I only know the Psalm—you know the Shepherd."

Mrs. Childers knows the sorrow of sacrifice. She knows, too, the pride of a mother who raised a son to be a man. The world is full of soldiers, in a manner of speaking. Three years ago yesterday Private Childers met his

Disarming A Dead Issue

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Warren Austin, United States representative on the security council, has made it plain that this country has no intention of bargaining away its atomic secrets without the ultimate in safety agreements, disarmament or no disarmament.

His latest statement to the council, coupled with earlier factors pointing in the same direction, makes it appear that disarmament is a dead issue for the time-being, regardless of how much more talk may be expended in an effort to keep it alive.

The Russians have demanded establishment of a disarmament commission with full powers to investigate all armed forces and armaments.

The United States is adamant, will not permit this with regard to atomic weapons until air-tight controls have been established, including provisions for unrestricted international inspection and punishment of violators. The U. S. wants the atomic control commission to operate entirely independently, and to be specifically exempted from interference by the disarmament commission.

This factor alone would seem to indicate that, barring an unforeseen concession by the Russians, disarmament must wait until the Baruch plan has been adopted, something which seems no nearer of accomplishment now than when it was first broached months ago.

In addition, there is what amounts to a general understanding at Lake Success that nothing concrete will come of disarmament discussions until the United Nations is able to guarantee protection of any or all members with its own police force.

Organization of the police force seems to depend, completely aside from the solution of numerous technical problems which will prove extremely difficult, on what sort of peace with Germany, Austria and Japan is finally submitted for enforcement. The military staff committee will have to know, also, whether the force is to be used to halt the spread of flames from such events as the Spanish Civil War. This involves a decision on the amount of interference in internal affairs which the U. N. may attempt, if any. The Russians are demanding that no such interference shall be a cardinal principle.

Not even the fundamentals of these problems have been approached so far. They represent a puzzle which only can be solved step by step, yet in which each step must be taken with relation to another.

This has engendered the feeling among observers at Lake Success that nothing immediate could come of the disarmament discussions. It was realized that some progress might be made by including atomic control as one cornerstone in a general program, but never considered possible that the United States would reveal her atomic strength while there remained the slightest possibility that such revelations could be used against her.

Mayer Will Sell $5,000,000 Stable Because of Busher

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 11—(AP)—B. Mayer's fabulous $5,000,000 racing stable will be virtually dissolved at a Hollywood auction Feb. 17—and all sides say, because of Busher, the money-winning filly (334,045) of all-time.

Close observers declare that Mayer's heart went out of racing when Busher failed to come in, and the evidence points that way.

Mayer bought Busher from E. R. Bradley for $50,000 at end of her two-year-old season in 1945, as a three-year-old, she nearly swept the boards.

Park and Hollywood Park. She at Santa Anita, Washington became the darling of the turf and of Mayer's affections. The movie magnate was never happier than when standing in the winner's circle with the glistening bay filly.

Then, after clinching horse-of-the-year honors, Busher broke down in a prep for the Hollywood Gold Cup.

During 1946 while Busher was being nursed back to health at Mayer's model farm at nearby Perrie, the owner's gloom was lessened by the snappy showing of Honeymoon, another filly. But Honeymoon, as was quickly proved when she got back to midwestern tracks, was no Busher.

Texas Beckons Baseballers

Five Pro Leagues Will Field Over 30 Teams In 1947—From D To A. A.

By Harold V. Ratliff
AP Newfeatures

Dallas-Texas next spring should be the fans' and young baseball player's paradise. The players can break into almost any minor league classification.

ANGEL NOW A CITIZEN

Maurice "The Angel" Tillet, 43-year-old French wrestler grins happily in Chicago, Ill., as he gets his United States citizenship papers from Federal Judge Walter L. LaBuy.

The fans will see more teams than ever before.

Five professional leagues—the largest number ever operated in this state—will place more than 30 clubs in the field in 1947. They rank from D to A.A. with only A and A-1 missing.

Texas, in fact, will be pushing North Carolina for the largest representation in professional baseball among the 48 states.

Five members of the Class AA Texas League are in Texas. They are Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Houston and Beaumont.

The Class B East Texas League has six clubs definitely lined up with prospects of an eight-club circuit. In the league are Texarkana, Paris, Greenville, Sherman, Waco and Wichita Falls. Temple, Corsicana, Gainesville and Palestine are being considered for the other two spots.

There are two Class C circuits—the West Texas-New Mexico League and the Lone Star League. Six members of the former loop are in Texas; Abilene, Amarillo, Borger, Lamesa, Lubbock and Pampa. All of the Lone Star League clubs are in Texas. They are Bryan, Lufkin, Jacksboro, Henderson, Tyler, Kilgore, Longview and Marshall.

The newest league is the Longhorn, a Class D circuit with six members: Odessa, Midland, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Ballinger and Vernon. They're all in Texas.

Greyhounds Sign Bysco

Right-Handed Hurler Will Manage U. City's Baseballers During '47

Steve Bysco, right-handed pitcher who makes his home in Flint, Mich., has accepted Union City's terms and will pilot the Greyhounds during the 1947 Killy League campaign. This was made known by H. P. Moss, business manager of the Greyhounds after several days' conferences with officials of the Cleveland Indians who had recommended the 38-year-old hurler to the Union City club. Bysco was alternate choice of the Indians for Union City's manager after the deal to secure Paul O'Dea fell through.

In coming to Union City this spring, Bysco will be no newcomer to the managing part of baseball. Last season he led the Burlington club of the Carolina State loop to fourth spot but lost out in the first round of the Shaugnessy play-off. A change in working agreements caused him to leave Burlington as he wanted to remain in the Cleveland organization.

Fulton Teams Win Two From Cuba's Cagers Bulldogs Ahead 53-49, And Pups Win By 9-8 Score

WINGO HERE FRIDAY

Taking a slight lead in the second period and holding to a four-point margin through most of final half, Fulton's Bulldogs handed Cuba high school a 53-49 defeat in the new gym last night for their second triumph over the Graves' countians this season.

The Fulton Pups avenged a previous defeat at Cuba by winning the preliminary game 9-8.

Next on the Fulton schedule are the Wingo Indians, who will come here Friday night of this week. After that, the Bulldogs and Pups go to Hickman Feb. 18 for a return engagement.

Billy Joe Forrest's seven field goals and four foul throws gave him high-point position in the first team tussle. Danny Baird threw in seven two-pointers for 14 and second place.

The score was tied 12-all at end of the first quarter. Fulton scored 16 to 11 for Cuba in the second, and led 40-36 before the last frame began.

4 College Teams Lost Games With Out-Of-State Quintets

By The Associated Press

Four Kentucky college basketball teams which tangled with out-of-state teams last night lost their games while two other Kentucky teams gave their opponents trouncings. In the only game played between two state schools, Kentucky Wesleyan defeated Georgetown.

In a twin bill at the armory in Louisville, Manhattan College of New York defeated Eastern State Teachers 62-56 and Indiana State swept to a 61-44 victory over Morehead Teachers.

Manhattan won its game on the free throw line, sinking 16 out of 24 shots. The lead changed hands several times, with the score being tied four times 20-20, 26-26, 35-35 and 37-37.

Indiana State's ball handling in the first game of the twin bill was outstanding as the Indians beat Morehead. The Hoosiers were in command by a comfortable margin most of the way, holding a 13 point advantage three times in the first half.

Western State Teachers had an easy time of it in defeating Evansville College 58-23, at Bowling Green. Western took a 10-0 lead in the first four minutes and led at the half 28-7.

In a game at Georgetown, Kentucky Wesleyan went on a late scoring spree to defeat Georgetown 64-52.

Murray Teachers traveled to Cape Girardeau, Mo., to meet defeat at the hands of Southeast Mo. State College, 53-51. It was a nip and tuck battle, with Murray having the better of the argument in the first half. The Kentuckians enjoyed a 13 point lead at one time and were ahead 29-25 at the half.

The Missourians forced the battle, in the second half and tied the score at 51 all with less than two minutes to go. A field goal by Klosterman, Cape Girardeau, gave the Mo. team the margin of victory.

The University of Louisville played host to Hanover College of Indiana and coasted to an easy 85-42 victory.

Only game on tonight's schedule is the Berea-Eastern contest at Richmond.

New Tire Put On The Market

Firestone Ground Grip Tractor Tire's Merits Told By Fulton Dealer

The New Firestone Champion ground grip tractor tire, which by record-breaking performances in pulling power, endurance and cleaning tests assures farmers of shorter working hours and lower operating costs, has just been put on sale here by the Fulton store.

Unique in its patented curved, triple-braced traction bars and flaring shoulder blocks and spaces, the new tire in tests on all types of soil and surfaces cleans up to 100 per cent more effectively, delivers as much as 62 per cent more power at the drawbar, and gives up to 21 per cent longer life than tires having straight, open center traction bars. The shearing action of the curved traction bars in thrusting off mud and litter is a constant force as the tire rolls.

Farmers also will find that the new Firestone tire is versatile. While the extra-deep, wedge-shaped traction bars provide a firm "center bite" on soft ground, on paved roads the wide, continuous tread design gives smooth, comfortable riding. Since a greater tread area is in contact with the ground, stability is increased and wear is minimized.

"This tire has fully justified the years of research and development which our engineers have devoted to it," Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., president of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, said in introducing the new tire. "It will enable the farmer to do more work in less time at lower cost."

When Congressmen take the oath of office, they are eligible for $200 expense account money.

Religious ? Box

Charles L. Houser

More on the question of music in the worship. That you may know that the Church of Christ is not alone in its opposition to instrumental music in the worship, the attitude of the founders and leading scholars of various denominations will be quoted.

"Musical instruments in celebrating the praises of God would be no more suitable than the burning of incense, the lighting of lamps, and the restoration of the other shadows of the law. Some, therefore, have foolishly borrowed this, as well as many other things from the Jews. Men who are fond of outward pomp may delight in that noise; but the simplicity which God recommends to us by the apostles is far more pleasing to Him. Paul allows us to bless God in the public assembly of the saints, only in a known tongue (1 Cor. 14:16) . . . What shall we then say of chanting, which fills the ears with nothing but an empty sound?" (John Calvin, founder of the Presbyterian Church. Com. on Psa. 33).

"If the apostle justly prohibits the use of unknown tongues in the church, much less would he have tolerated these artificial musical performances which are addressed to the ear alone, and seldom strike the understanding even of the performers themselves." (Theodore Beza, friend and coadjutor of Calvin. Girard's Ins. Music, p. 166).
