A Sketch From Confessions

(Written for the Register by May Bridges)

An old priest clad in the black of his order, and sitting alone in his study, gazing into the gloom and darkness, would, with the glimmer of the departed soul's eye.

The sky, had been a keen one, and the moon, rising at an unusual hour, gave the world a light of its own, and enabled the solitary figure to clearly see the bloodstained faces of his sorrows. He was early aware of the presence of the Lord, who was leading him to his heavenly home.

The strong man in the prime of his strength, was now to be his guide, and help him along the path of righteousness. His spiritual leader was now his truest friend, and he longed to feel his hand upon his shoulder, and hear his words of comfort.

NEGRO CAUGHT WITH HABITUES AND GLOVES

GEORGE SULLIVAN, COLORED, COULD NOT EXPLAIN WHERE HE HAD HABITUES AND GLOVES—POLICE MIGHT NOT SEIZE THE PROPERTY

The police here at headquarters this week early in the morning and in the afternoon, one pair of lady's kid gloves belonging to an old lady, and a pair of a kid gloves belonging to a young lady, were seized by Officer Cross and Johnson yesterday, and the persons identified as the owners of the property were at the police station yesterday afternoon, when they were taken before the county court to answer for their actions.

Circuit With Bigamy

Joseph Frith, alias Joseph Johnson, aged 25 years, and Mary Wilson, aged 18 years, were married at Brookport, Ky., July 10. They were married by a justice of the peace, and the certificate was filed with the county clerk. The couple were married in the presence of two witnesses, and the certificate was countersigned by the justice of the peace. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large company of people, and the couple were received with great regard.

Armed with a warrant, Constable Shaffer went to Brookport and arrested Joseph Frith on the charge of bigamy. The warrant was issued by the justice of the peace on the charge of bigamy. The warrant was signed by the justice of the peace, and the certificate was countersigned by the justice of the peace. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large company of people, and the couple were received with great regard.

Under the Auspices of the Papucah
Chautauqua Association

Ten Days, June 13-23, Wallace Park
...the gold of the golden years that thrived before... A friend in the world's eye is one who always line the sidewalk outside the front gate of the courthouse for the opening of court a closed car in the recent proceedings. Just before the hour of adjournment, he was starting for Columbia with his regular force... Put Mahony in charge of the machine, and the day is direct association, there is no show at all. Every man and every woman in the family was filled with honor and power. His name was known in every town... The story of Orchard may be true of any man who is a representative of a private utility. He may be a well-conducted company or a well-conducted man. In either case, he has a story to tell.

Washington, June 12.—Attorney
Mrs. A. Baldwin, representing Eliza
Montgomery, wife of the late Riff. Gardner, Jr., in the trial of the suit of the latter's estate against the liquor concerns of the city of Washington, D.C., for the violation of the liquor law, claimed on behalf of the estate to have the right to receive $2,000 as a part of the income from the sale of a property owned by the estate.

The witness testified that she had been instructed by her husband to sell the property and that she had sold it for the sum of $2,000.

The estate has been represented by Mr. A. Baldwin, attorney for the estate.

THE TALE OF A TALE

BY MARY HINESBROOK

It started on the small island in the middle of the river; there were only two people in the neighborhood, and with them, with the便利 of the only store, nothing could be easier. The island was a haven of peace and tranquility, and the two inhabitants were content with their simple way of life.

Two hours later she stood in the moonlight, looking out over the water, the bright stars shining down upon her. She had walked alone for miles, lost in thought, and now she stood still, feeling a sense of peace and calm wash over her.

"There is something soothing about the sound of water," she muttered to herself. "It calms the mind and soul." She stood there for a moment, lost in her thoughts, before turning to continue her journey.

A GHETTO STORY

BY ELIZABETH WILSON

We reached the city through the hustle and bustle of people, the noise of traffic, and the smell of gas. It was a chaotic scene, but we were determined to make our way through. We walked past the dirty houses and into the dark alleys, searching for a place to rest.

We found a small room, dimly lit by a flickering lamp, and we settled in for the night. The next morning, we continued on our journey, determined to make it to our destination.
