

3-11-1915

The Murray Ledger, March 11, 1915

The Murray Ledger

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tml>

---

Recommended Citation

The Murray Ledger, "The Murray Ledger, March 11, 1915" (1915). The Murray Ledger. 584.
<https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tml/584>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Murray State's Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Murray Ledger by an authorized administrator of Murray State's Digital Commons. For more information, please contact msu.digitalcommons@murraystate.edu.

THE MURRAY LEDGER.

VOL. 36, NO. 51

MURRAY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, MARCH 11, 1915

$1.00 PER YEAR

SAYS THERE'S NO CHANCE FOR IT.

The Mayfield Messenger of recent date published the following article. Just how much the Messenger knows and the authority of its information is not ascertained but it assumes to speak knowingly. It says:

"It looks now like it will be some time, if ever, before the electrical railway is built from Paducah to Murray via Mayfield. It was indeed unfortunate for the country along this line that the European war came up, for as sure as fate almost, this important line would have been built last year and would have now been about completed.

"These wars, however, broke into many business schemes that were about ready to materialize.

"But after all, Mayfield will not be left out in everything for work on the much talked of 'cut-off' is now about ready to begin. It is said on good authority that the contract has been let for the building of this important addition to the I. C. railway system, and that it will be only a short time until the work will begin.

"It is said that work will begin at both ends at the same time, one at Gilbertsville and the other at Mayfield, and that the two forces will meet at the Salter hill, a short distance north of Benton, which is the only big cut on the proposed line.

"The work above the river will soon be completed, when the contractors will be ready to begin work between Mayfield and Gilbertsville.

"The building of this line will be of great value to the business of both Marshall and Graves counties, as over one million of dollars will be spent along this line before it will be completed. The filling in of this gap will add greatly to the business and prosperity of Mayfield and to the county, and it is now believed that the building of the route will be well under way before the summer is gone."

You're Wrong Judge.

One of the county judges down in Western Kentucky goes on record as saying that "the publication of the county's annual statement is a foolish extravagance." Not necessarily, Judge, not necessarily. It is true that some of these statements are prepared so fearfully and so wonderfully that the average taxpayer doesn't know any more about them after reading them than he does about the hieroglyphics on Cleopatra's needle. But if they are gotten up in the right way they contain information that is valuable to the people and information that the people ought to have. Publicity in public affairs is a good thing. In Kentucky there is not enough publicity of the kind. The lawmakers of the state never have believed much in advertising. Therefore there is not as much "official advertising" as there should be. By all means let the county statements be published and by some uniformity of plan by which they can be understood by the taxpayers after they are published. — Frankfort State Journal.

MEAT THIEF SHOT BUT GETS AWAY.

W. P. Carter, who lives a few miles west of town on the Carol Robertson farm, is willing to divide the last crumb with a hungry man, but insists that the fellow with a two-ham appetite go elsewhere for meat.

Last Saturday night between 12 and 1 o'clock Mr. Carter was aroused by a noise in his smoke-house. He got up and with a revolver in his hand went to the door just in time to discover a man making toward the road with a big ham in each hand. Mr. Carter called to him to halt and fired two shots at the thief who quickly dropped the two hams and ran. Investigation Sunday morning indicated that Mr. Carter aimed well and that the intruder was wounded, as was evidenced by many blood splashes leading from where he climbed the fence to where he evidently entered a buggy a few yards from the house. Some few weeks ago Mr. Carter lost a side and shoulder of meat.

Robinson-Dale.

A marriage of unusual interest to many was that of Miss Bertha Robinson and Ivan H. Dale, which was impressively solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, with Rev. W. E. Morgan officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Atkins. The bride is the daughter of J. Robinson, of Puryear, but who since infancy, at the death of her mother, has lived with her uncle Harris Robinson near Buchanan. The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. Emily Dale. He was formerly a photographer at Hazel, but is now the efficient deputy county clerk. — Paris Post-Intelligencer.

Don't Drench Horses.

Use Farris Colic Remedy. Simply drop it on the horse's tongue with the medicine dropper that is furnished with every 50c bottle. Cures fifty-nine times out of sixty, and the women can give it when you are away. Money back if it fails. — Sexton Bros.

Corn Stalk Paper.

The first paper mill to chew up corn stalks and spread them out into purely white sheets of paper will soon be built at Bloomington, Ill. Uncle Sam through his representative Geo. A. Stewart, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, has found out that corn stalks can be bought in unlimited quantities at $5 a ton, and the farmers are only too eager to supply them. The government has been experimenting with cornstalk paper, and on a recent visit here, Mr. Stuart displayed some excellent book and magazine paper that Uncle Sam had made from the stalks.

The proposition of turning in to paper the millions of tons of cornstalks that are annually burned in the corn belts is one of great interest to farmers, and it is predicted that the wood pulp industry will soon have a serious competitor in the cornstalk paper industry.

FASHION SHOW TO BE HELD 25-6-7.

Murray is going to "dollar up" on March 25, 26 and 27 and invite all her friends to call. It will be the first endeavor of Murray merchants to hold a spring fashion show, in which they will unite their efforts and place on display for the opening of the business year seas nable merchandise of every description. Murray business men have joined their endeavors in this undertaking and that the occasion will prove a success is not doubted.

Every character of merchandise, from the garden rake to the swellest and newest in the "Liz-zie lids," will be on display, and the visitors will be given full opportunity to inspect the various lines of merchandise of every description. It is to be hoped that every citizen of the county, man, woman and child, will avail themselves of the opportunity to see Murray merchants at their best, and come with a view of spending a pleasant time. Read the announcement of the show published elsewhere in this issue of the Ledger.

Hymon Highballs.

We are having some March weather and the roads are drying up fast. We have to depend on the weather for good roads in these parts, as we have no road hands or overseers. Think we will have soon.

Most of the people are through burning and sowing plant beds, and some few have made garden, but think they will be snowed under.

There has been several crops of tobacco sold and delivered at reasonable prices.

We hear that the mumps left Bowden Butler's jaws paralyzed. Bad isn't it? as he seems to be much interested in government affairs.

We are all for good roads and the bond issue. — Hill Billie.

Leona Wischart's baby died the 4th inst. and was buried the 5th in the Patterson cemetery.

Ask Bill Todd how much canvas he got for his bed if you want to.

Some few sowing oats.

The women folks are busy inquiring after eggs to set and looking after the garden. The "trying size" have begun billing and cooing. Sure signs of spring. — Goo Goo Eyes.

For the Stomach and Liver.

I. N. Stuart, West Webster, N. Y., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and liver off and on for the past five years and it affords me pleasure to state that I have found them to be just as represented. They are mild in their action and the results have been satisfactory. I value them highly." For sale by all dealers.

Every time a new American Venus is discovered and her proportions are published in the papers, an onery man always wonders who does all the measuring.

Fashion show March 25-26-27.

FIRST ANNUAL FASHION SHOW

MURRAY, - - KENTUCKY

MARCH 25-6-7

THE Merchants whose names are hereto affixed, extend you a most cordial invitation to visit Murray on the above dates, when there will be on display, and for sale, the most comprehensive stocks of Merchandise in all lines. This is intended as a gala occasion for all who attend.

EACH and every Merchant will be trying to out-do the other in the attractiveness of their stores, and the bargains offered. Come one---come EVERYBODY. Make it a day of pleasure as guests of the Merchants participating in this Fashion Show.

Dale & Stubblefield
H. B. Bailey
H. D. Thornton & Co.
Fulton Jewelry Co.
Joe T. Parker
J. M. Cole
Baker & Glasgow

W. W. McElrath
Robertson & Farmer
Broach & Fain
Bucy Brothers
Parker & Perdue
A B. Beale & Son
O. J. Jennings

Overby & Cleaver
E. S. Diuguid & Son
Murray Saddle & Harness Co.
W. T. Sledd & Co.
J. L. Martin
O. T. Hale & Co.

Wadlington & Co.
Ryan & Sons Co.
E. B. Holland & Co.
B. F. Schroader & Son
Johnson & Broach
Calloway Times
H. P. Wear

THE RUSSIANS AND GERMANS STRUGGLE

IN THE REGION OF THE PILICA FIGHTING HAS ASSUMED THAT OF GREAT BATTLE.

500 PRISONERS ARE TAKEN

Russian Offensive Continues on Left Bank of the Niemen—Berlin Says Operations Are Proceeding According to Plans.

Petrograd.—The Russian war office has made public the following official communication:

"Our offensive continues on the left bank of the Niemen and in the district southwest of Grodno. Our troops drove the Germans back behind the front of Sopotkin-Lyskov and then pushed on vigorously.

"In a similar manner in the Miawa district our attacks were crowned with success. We took about 900 prisoners, including seven officers and also three machine guns.

"On the left bank of the Vistula, in the region of the Pilica, the fighting is assuming the character of a great battle.

"In the Carpathians, between the Ondawa and San rivers, the Austrian attacks continue. Southwest of Lutovsk the enemy tried to cross to the right bank of the San, but in a counter attack the Austrian units which had crossed the river were annihilated.

Berlin.—(ByWireless to Sayville, L. I.)—German army headquarters made the following announcement:

"In the east: Our operations north-west of Grodno are proceeding according to our plans. A Russian night attack at Mocarce, northeast of Lomza, was repulsed, as were strong Russian attacks west of Przasnysz.

"Our attacks southeast of the Rawa river were successful. We took prisoners 3,400 Russians and 16 machine guns were captured."

FOURTEEN VESSELS SUNK

Reported That Germans and Allies Have Each Lost Seven During Blockade.

London.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam says:

"A correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt declares that since the beginning of the blockade, 7 British merchantmen have been sunk, but admits that according to news received in Berlin from neutral countries, more than 7 German submarines have been sunk during the same period."

The German admiralty, the Exchange Telegraph correspondent says, publishes no information concerning the loss of submarines.

SULTAN LEAVES THE CAPITAL

Panic Reported Reigning Among the Young Turks at Constantinople.

Athens.—According to a report which has reached here, the sultan has already left Constantinople and panic is reigning among the Young Turks, whose leaders are preparing to leave the city also before it becomes too dangerous to remain.

It is generally supposed that the reported return of Enver Pasha to his command in the Caucasus and the departure of Djemal Pasha for Berlin are both moves intended to cover their timely departure from the coming storm.

Austrian Official Statement.

Vienna, via London.—The war office issued the following statement:

"Attacks by the Russians on sections of our line east of Pietrkow, in Poland, were foiled by our effective artillery fire.

"There is no other news either on this front or in Western Galicia.

"In the Carpathians fighting continues for some ridge positions. Unfavorable weather conditions prevail.

"In Southeast Galicia temporary quietness has set in after the recent events."

Report English Trench Taken.

Berlin.—The official statement from the German general staff reports the capture of an English trench southwest of Ypres on March 6. In the Champagne district the French continued their attacks near Perthes and Le Mesnil, but were repulsed. The Germans made a counter-attack and occupied the small wood north of Perthes and the Piro trench of the French position near Le Mesnil.

Allied Fleets Make Progress.

London.—The allied French and English fleets are making progress in their attack on the forts of the Dardanelles, according to the British admiralty and unofficial reports. It is officially announced that an attack on the principal forts of the European side of the narrows was repulsed by three British war vessels. Two of the forts were damaged and the magazine of a third was blown up. These forts are characterized as the strongest along the entire waterway.

REPULSE ATTACKS OF ENEMY

Allies Active in the West—Continue Their Attacks in the Champagne and Argonne.

London.—There has been little change in the military and naval situation. While the Russians continue their progress against the Germans in North Poland, they are, according to their official report, pursuing and capturing many of the retreating Austrians in Eastern Galicia and are repulsing with heavy losses persistent day and night attacks of the Germanic allies in the Carpathians. They by no means have disposed of any of the forces opposing them.

Along the western front the French continue their attacks in Champagne and the Argonne, but beyond these the only movement of consequence has been made north of Arras, where the Germans captured a newly constructed French trench.

Battles in the east and for the possession of the Dardanelles are considered to have a marked bearing on the future of the war. Having pressed the Germans back from Przasnysz toward Miawa, the Russians are now exerting their efforts, and according to their accounts, successfully, to drive them back in the district further to the north, from west of Kovno to west of Grodno, and at the same time from the front of Lomza. These movements, if successful, might force the Germans to withdraw from in front of Osmolka, which fortress they continue to bombard with their heavy guns.

The Austrians continue their fierce attacks under most disadvantageous conditions, owing to the snow and cold, against the Russian entrenchments in the Carpathians, while another of their armies, confronted with strong Russian reinforcements, is falling back in Eastern Galicia.

ON VERGE OF STARVATION

Gen. Obregon Is Said to Have Refused to Permit Relief From Members of the Foreign Colony.

Washington.—President Wilson faced one of the most serious and perplexing developments that has arisen in the Mexican situation. Mexico City is on the verge of starvation. Gen. Obregon, the Carranza commander, refuses to permit an international relief committee, composed of wealthy members of the foreign colony, to succor the needy.

"Mexico needs no foreign aid," the general is reported to have said. All merchants who closed their stores have been ordered to reopen under threat of punishment. There are hundreds of them, Mexicans, have been imprisoned. The population is living in terror of another evacuation, since Obregon has announced he will not prevent looting or pillaging for food or money.

The Brazilian, British, Spanish and Italian ambassadors gave the state department pessimistic reports of the situation, which corresponded to reports already received. The foreign diplomats suggested no solution.

Secretary Bryan announced that he had telegraphed American Consul Stillman to lay the situation earnestly before Gen. Carranza, so that Gen. Obregon might be directed to accept aid proffered by foreign residents. Freight service is suspended between Mexico City and Vera Cruz and transportation facilities for relief purposes are being withheld by Gen. Obregon on the ground of military necessity.

BATTERIES ARE DESTROYED

Allied Fleet Reported as Having Penetrated Farther Into the Dardanelles.

London.—"According to dispatches received here from Mytilene and Tenedos Islands," says Reuters Athens correspondent, "the allied fleet has destroyed the batteries of Kild Bahr and Bunkale and arrived near Dardanelles."

There are more than 100,000 Turks on the Gallipoli coast under Isid Pasha. The village of Yenishahr is reported to have been destroyed by fire. A Reuters dispatch from Athens says:

"The bombardment was resumed, when 52 ships entered the straits. Four battleships bombarded the Turkish position on the Gulf of Saros. At noon the shelling was redoubled in violence for two hours.

"All detachments which landed at Kum Kale, on the Asiatic side of the strait at the entrance to the Dardanelles, met and dispersed the Turkish garrison. A British warship has bombarded Yenishahr about two miles south of the entrance to the Dardanelles on the Asiatic side."

Girl Given Hero Award.

San Francisco.—Miss Josephine Redding of San Francisco, a trained nurse in the Red Cross service of the French army, has been awarded the cross of the Legion of Honor by the French government, according to word received by her parents.

Bring Victims of Expulsion.

Vera Cruz (via New Orleans).—The Ward line steamer Morro Castle has come into Vera Cruz with between 120 and 130 survivors of the crew of the Mexican gunboat Progreso, blown up off Progreso, Yucatan, February 15 when it is believed, about 70 men lost their lives. The explosive is said to have been taken on board the warship in a barrel of rice. It is believed there was a revolution in progress at Progreso as the Ward liner tug Auxilius was seized by Yucatanians after being used to take wounded to Morro Castle.

FRENCH LINER LA TOURAINE ON FIRE

STEAMERS RECEIVED CALLS FOR HELP AND RACED TO AID OF BURNING STEAMER.

FLASH RECEIVED 200 MILES

French Newspapers Have Made Suggestions That Fire May Have Been Started by Spies Concealed Aboard Vessel.

Paris.—Fire which threatened the French steamship La Touraine has been controlled, and all the vessel's passengers are safe on board, according to a formal announcement issued by the Compagnie generale Trans-Atlantique, owner of the liner.

When the first call for help was flashed across the sea the French liner was 700 miles across the French coast. Steamers picked upon the flash and then began a race for her side, which has not been equalled since the news was flashed through the air that the Titanic was sinking. The rescue fleet included the Rotterdam, Swamore, Cornishman and Arabic.

The Arabic, 300 miles away, was nearest to the burning vessel. Her captain pushed the ship to her top speed in an effort to cover the distance in record time. It would have required 15 hours for the slow White Star ship to have reached the distressed liner. But the Rotterdam, picked up the message, and, although an almost equal distance from La Touraine as the Arabic, she was able by her greater speed to reach the burning steamer first.

With the arrival of the Rotterdam the other liners were notified that their assistance would not be required, and continued on their way.

La Touraine is proceeding under her own steam to Havre. Only the Rotterdam of the fleet which responded to wireless call for aid is standing by to give assistance should any be required. Commanders of other vessels which speeded to the rescue have been informed their services will not be required.

The statement given out by the steamship corporation said:

"The fire which broke out aboard La Touraine was less serious than was at first thought. It is under control and all passengers are safe."

"La Touraine has resumed her voyage to Havre under her own steam, but nevertheless, for further security, she is being escorted by the Rotterdam and probably will arrive at Havre March 9."

It was feared for a time that it might be necessary to transfer the passengers to another ship to avoid danger, but this plan evidently was abandoned when it was seen the blaze was being mastered.

Grave fears for the safety of La Touraine were felt in this city until the positive announcement was made that she was in no danger. Several newspapers suggested that the fire might have been started by spies, who had concealed themselves on board.

Havre, via Paris.—The agent here of the French line received the following wireless from Capt. Cassin of La Touraine:

"Sunday, March 7, 3:45 P. M.—La Touraine having a fire in one of its holds, asked for help, but is continuing her journey to Havre, escorted by the steamer Rotterdam. I hope to get control of the fire. There is no immediate danger. The weather is good but foggy.

"I hope to dock Monday evening if everything goes well."

TURN BACK HANDS OF CLOCK

Retiring Members Bid Good-Bye to Colleagues—Both Houses of Congress Close.

Washington.—The sixty-third congress adjourned March 4 sine die, with two bills of the administration program passed, but funds for both the post-office department and Indian affairs taken care of in joint resolutions providing an extension of current appropriations in each department for another fiscal year. The senate adjourned sine die at 12:04 p. m. In the house the hands of the clock were turned back 15 minutes to allow for the winding up of minor business, final adjournment in the lower branch coming at 12:18 p. m.

The total appropriations of the session were approximately $1,130,484,324, seven millions under the record of previous congresses.

The administration ship bill, the Philippine bill, the conservation bill, the rural credits provision of the agricultural bill and ratification of the treaties with Colombia and Nicaragua—all hard pressed administration measures, fell by the wayside.

In the senate several members, long prominent national figures among them, Senators Root, Aldrich, Burton, stepped back into private life as the curtain fell. In the house, Democratic Leader Underwood said good-bye, to sit in the next senate, and three score or more other members retired.

THE SHIP BILL SHELVED

Withdrawn by Its Supporters in the Senate When Unsuccessful in Having It Referred.

Washington.—The sixty-third congress, under high legislative pressure, worked its way toward its end.

In the fading hours the government ship purchase bill, which served as the vehicle for the most determined successful filibuster ever undertaken in Congress, died without a final struggle. The bill was withdrawn by its supporters in the senate when an effort to have it referred to conference a second time met with more filibustering by its opponents. Soon after this measure had been shunted into the discard, rural credit legislation, which at the eleventh hour had been attached to the agricultural appropriation bill, was abandoned.

Confusion, disorder and noise were the chief characteristics of the final legislative spurt in the House. Members and spectators kept up a hum of conversation that at times grew to a roar. It was hushed now and then by the frantic efforts of Speaker Clark, who pounded the members on the floor and roundly lectured the galleries in vain endeavors to preserve order.

While the House waited for the big appropriation bills and conference reports upon which action was absolutely necessary, the speaker directed the consideration of bills by unanimous consent. A continuous clamor of recognition resulted. Members called up a flood of bills of every description in the hope that they might get through without objections.

The great throng of men and women in the galleries sat through this confused legislative flood and outside of the gallery doors more spectators clamored for admittance.

An agreement on the postoffice appropriation bill, the last of the supply measures in conference, was reached by the conferees at a late hour.

OMNIBUS BILL IS PASSED

It Is Now Up to the President—Tennessee Gets Larger Amount Than Any Other State.

Washington.—The omnibus war claims bill, passed by both houses and awaits only the signature of the president to make it a law. It is the first war claims bill that has passed Congress in 10 years.

The House agreed to all Senate amendments except that relating to the traveling expenses of Union soldiers, from which the senate receded. An eleven-hour amendment provides that out of the claims to be paid claimants attorneys shall collect only 20 percent. The original bill allowed attorneys a fee of 50 percent.

Southern senators and representatives are greatly rejoiced. Senator Shields of Tennessee, Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Representative McKellar of Tennessee worked strenuously.

After a discussion running through five hours with numerous interruptions for consideration of conference reports, the senate passed the southern omnibus war claims bill, carrying approximately $2,000,000. Of this sum Tennessee will receive more than any other state, its claims aggregating $428,819. Virginia is second with $234,119, Louisiana is third with $201,359. Mississippi has $115,897 and Arkansas $70,208. The bill passed was practically the House bill, with a few amendments in the open senate. The largest individual claim for Tennessee is that of the heirs of Patrick G. Meath, late of Memphis, Shelby county, amounting to $27,287.

WILSON MAKES STATEMENT

"War Is Nation's Test of Character," Says President Woodrow Wilson.

Washington.—President Wilson dictated the following statement:

"A great congress has closed its sessions. Its work will prove the purpose and quality of its statesmanship more and more, the longer it is tested.

"Business has now a time of calm and thoughtful adjustment before it, disturbed only by the European war. The circumstances created by the war put the nation to a special test, a test of its true character and of its self-control.

"The constant thought of every patriotic man should now be for the country, its peace, its order, its just and tempered judgment in the face of perplexing difficulties. Its dignity and its strength alike will appear not only in the revival of its business, despite its abnormal conditions, but also in its power to think, to purpose, and to act with patience, without excitement, in a spirit of friendliness and enlightenment which will firmly establish its influences throughout the world."

Report Capture of Officers.

Berlin (via London).—The capture of trenches from the allies on the western battle front, the taking of French prisoners and cannon, is reported in the official statement issued here as follows: "On the heights of Loreto, northwest of Arras, our troops captured positions of the enemy 1,000 meters (nearly one mile) wide, capturing eight officers, 553 French soldiers, seven machine guns and six small cannon. Hostile counter attacks failed."

French Market Coffee is Southern Through and Through

Shipped from the coffee countries through warm summer seas to the Southern port of New Orleans, no cold climates affect, injuriously, the delicate coffee beans. Roasted and blended by Southerners, especially for use in the Southern climate.

Sold to Southern merchants for Southern trade, blended, roasted, packed and shipped in the South, Southern Through and Through. No wonder it outsells all other brands in the South.

French Market Coffee

The Wonderful Old Secret Blend

Endorsed by the best judges in New Orleans fifty years ago and by coffee drinkers daily throughout the South. It is now known as the National Drink of the South. There is a real treat in store for those who have not yet tried French Market Coffee. Buy a can today.

Send 10 cents for 12 cup sample and booklet of the Story of French Market

1 Pound Cans . . . . $ .25
4 Pound Pails . . . . 1.00

French Market Mills, New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

Overhead Charges.

Church.—The overhead charges in this country are something awful. Gotham—I should say so. I just read that American women yearly buy more than $10,000,000 worth of millinery supplies from France."

ELIXIR BABEK WORTH ITS WEIGHT

I contracted malaria in 1904, and after a year's fruitless treatment by a prominent Washington physician, you Elixir Babek entirely cured me. On arriving here I came down with tropical malaria—the worst form—and sent home for Babek. Again it proved its value. It is worth its weight in gold here. Brasie O'Hagan, Troop E, 4th Cavalry, Hawaiian Philippines.

Elixir Babek, 50 cents; all druggists or by Parcel Post prepaid, from Kloczewski & Co., Washington, D. C.

CANNOT BE MADE TO ORDER

Man Who Knows Points Out That Scientific Discoveries Are Not Manufactured.

"There is a widespread but erroneous belief in official circles, and among wealthy philanthropists," writes Sir Ray Lankester in the London Daily Telegraph, "to the effect that you can hire a scientific discoverer and then say to him, 'Discover me this or this, and I will give you a certain sum of money.' It is a discovery that (naming to him a possible and greatly desired piece of new knowledge) and that he will thereupon proceed right away to make the discovery which you want. . . . But valuable and important scientific discovery cannot be produced directly in response to orders given and money expended.

"You cannot manufacture scientific discovery like soap. The great difficulty, in the first place, is to catch that rare and elusive creature—a scientific discoverer—and when you have found him you have to humor him and let him do as he fancies. Then he will discover things, but probably not the things which either you or he wanted or expected."

Embarrassing Interruption.

Mrs. Twobble. "While the relief committee was holding an important meeting yesterday afternoon in my drawing room a ragged woman came to the house and asked for food. She had a baby in her arms, too!"

"What did you do?" asked Mrs. Gadson.

"Sent her about her business, of course! Was reading my report to the committee and had no time to bother with stray beggars."

Many a man who knows his own mind is not overburdened with knowledge.

Who meets his bills need not fear to meet collectors.—Albany Journal.

STRENGTH.

Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand.

He can't be alert with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast, requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it. A Calif. business man found a food combination for producing energy. He writes:

"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I had about decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts."

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet."

"I find that Grape-Nuts, with a little sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, makes a delicious morning meal, which invigorates me all the day's business."

Name street 22 Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Well-Being" in "Pills." There's a Reason.

Ever read the above article? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Too Long.

Bacon.—In a costly watch that has been made for exhibition purposes there is a wheel that makes a revolution but once in four years, operating a dial that shows the years, months and days.

Egbert.—Never do in South America. They could never wait four years for a revolution down there.

SAGE TEA DARKENS GRAY HAIR TO ANY SHADE. TRY IT!

Keep Your Locks Youthful, Dark, Glossy and Thick With Garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Adv.

Feeling of Security.

Bill.—Saw you out horseback riding today.

Jill.—Oh, did you? "I suppose you feel as safe on a horse as you would on a trolley."

"Safer. You are not expected to give up your seat to a lady on a horse."

"CASCARETS" FOR SLUGGISH BOWELS

No sick headache, sour stomach, biliousness or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken. Adv.

Up and Down.

"Do you believe that truth crushed to earth will rise again?"

"I do—to be floored the next minute."

The man who borrows trouble is always anxious to pay back in his own coin.

Sore Eyes

Granulated Eyelids. Eyes inflamed by exposure to Sun, Dust and Wind quickly relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. No Stinging, No Irritation. Look Eye Comfort At Your Druggist's 50c per Bottle. Murine Eye Salve in Tubes 25c. For Book of the Eye Remedy, Drugist, or Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago.

W. N. U., MEMPHIS, NO. 11-1915.

The Last Shot

BY
FREDERICK PALMER

(Copyright, 1914, by Charles Scribner's Sons)

SYNOPSIS.

At their home on the frontier between the Browns and Grays, Maria and Lanstron, a young man and woman, are living a life of peace and contentment. Maria is a beautiful girl, and Lanstron is a young man of noble character. They are both devoted to each other and to their home. One day, a group of soldiers, led by a man named Westerling, arrive at their home. Westerling is a man of a different nature, and he is determined to take Maria and Lanstron to his home. He is a man of a different nature, and he is determined to take Maria and Lanstron to his home. He is a man of a different nature, and he is determined to take Maria and Lanstron to his home.

CHAPTER XIV—Continued.

The subjective enjoyment of the declaration kept him from any keen notice of the effect of his words. Lanstron was right. It had been a war of deliberate conquest: a war in which Maria would be able to live over again the feelings of this moment. It was as if she were frozen, all except brain and nerves, which were on fire, while the rigidity of ice kept her from springing from her chair in contempt and horror. But a purpose came on the wings of diabolical temptation which would pit the art of woman against the power of a man who set millions against millions in slaughter to gratify personal ambition. She was thankful that she was looking down as she spoke, for she could not bring herself to another compliment. Her throat was too chilled for that yet.

"The one way to end the feud between the two nations was a war that would mean permanent peace," he explained, seeing how quiet she was and realizing, with a recollection of her children's oath, that he had gone a little too far. He wanted to retain her admiration. It had become as precious to him as a new delicacy to Lucullus. "Yes, I understand," she managed to murmur; then she was able to look up. "It's all so immense!" she added. "Your ideas about war seem to be a great deal changed," he hinted casually.

"As I expressed them at the hotel, you mean," she exclaimed. "The perplexity and indecision that, in a space of silence, brooded in the depths of her eyes came to the surface in wavering lights. 'Yes, again!' she said. The wavering lights grew dim with a kind of horror and she looked away fixedly at a given point.

He was conscious of a thrill; the thrill that always presaged victory for him. He realized her evident distress; he guessed that terrible pictures were moving before her vision.

"You see, I have been very much stirred up," she said half apologetically. "There are some questions I want to ask—quite practical, selfish questions. You might call them questions of property and money. The longer the war lasts the greater will be the loss of life and the misery!"

"Yes, for both sides; and the heavier the expense and the taxes."

"If you win, then we shall be under your flag and pay taxes to you?"

"Yes, naturally."

"The Browns do not increase in population; the Grays do rapidly. They are a great, powerful, civilized race. They stand for civilization!"

"Yes, facts and the world's opinion agree," he replied. Puzzled he might well be by this peculiar catechism. He could only continue to reply until he should see where she was leading.

"And your victory will mean a new frontier, a new order of international relations and a long peace, you think? Peace—a long peace?"

"Was there ever a soldier who did not fight for peace? Was there ever a call for more army-corps or guns that was not made in the name of peace? He had his ready argument, spoken with the forcible conviction of an expert.

"This war was made for peace—the only kind of peace that there can be," he said. "My ambition, if any glory comes to me out of this war, is to have later generations say: 'He brought peace!'"

"Though the premier could have heard this, might have smiled, even smiled, he would have understood Westerling's unconsciousness of the irony. The chief of staff had set himself a task in victory which had no military connection. Without knowing why, he wanted to win ascendancy over her mind.

"The man of action!" exclaimed Maria, her eyes opening very wide, as they would to let in the light when she heard something new that pleased her or gave food for thought. "The man of action, who thinks of an ideal as a thing not of words but as the end of action!"

"Exactly!" said Westerling, sensible of another of her gifts. She could get the essence of a thing in a few words. "When we have won and set another frontier, the power of our nation will be such in the world that the Browns can never afford to attack us. We shall be the arbiters of international decisions. We shall command peace—yes, the peace of force, of fact! If it could be won in any other way, I should not be here on this veranda in command of an army of invasion. That was my idea—for that I planned."

He was making up for having over-shot himself in his confession that he had brought on the war as a final step for his ambition.

"You mean that you can gain peace by propaganda and education only when human nature has so changed that we can have law and order and pedestrians from pickpockets without policemen? Is that it?" she asked.

"Yes, yes! You have it! You have found the wheat in the chaff."

"Perhaps because I have been seeing something of human nature—the human nature of both the Browns and the Grays at war. I have seen the Browns throwing hand-grenades and the Grays in wanton disorder in our dining-room directly they were out of touch with their officers!" she said sadly, as one who hates to accept disillusionment but must in the face of logic.

Westerling made no reply except to nod, for a movement on her part preoccupied him. She leaned forward, as she had when she had told him he would become chief of staff, her hands clasped over her knees, her eyes burning with a question. It was the attitude of the prophecy. But with the prophecy she had been a little mystical; the fire in her eyes had precipitated an idea. Now it forged another question.

"And you think that you will win?" she asked. "You think that you will win?" she repeated with the slow emphasis which demands a careful answer.

The deliberateness of his reply was in keeping with her mood. He was detached; he was a referee.

"Yes, I know that we shall. Numbers make it so, though there be no choice of skill between the two sides."

His tone had the confidence of the flow of a mighty river in its destination on its way to the sea. There was nothing in it of prayer, of hope, of desperation, as there had been in Lanstron's. "We shall win!" spoken to her in the arbor at their last interview. She drew forward slightly in her chair. Her eyes seemed much larger and nearer to him. They were sweeping him up and down as if she were seeing the slim figure of Lanstron in contrast to Westerling's sturdiness; as if she were measuring the might of the five millions behind him and the three millions behind Lanstron. She let go a half-whispered "Yes!" which seemed to reflect the conclusion gained from the power of his presence.

"Then my mother's and my own interests are with you—the interests of peace are with you," she declared.

She did not appear to see the sudden, uncontrolled gleam of victory in his eyes. By this time it had become a habit for Westerling to wait silently for her to come out of her abstractions. To disturb one might make it unproductive.

"Then if I want to help the cause of peace I should help the Grays!"

The exclamation was more to herself than to him. He was silent. This girl in a veranda chair desiring to aid him and his five million bayonets and four thousand guns! Quirky and the windmills—but it was amazing; it was fine! The golden glow of the sunset was running in his veins in a passion of personal triumph. The profit turned over so little. Now it was looking at the point where Delorme had lain dying. Westerling noted the smile playing on the lips. It had the quality of a smile over a task completed—Delorme's smile. She started; she was trembling all over in the resistance of some impulse—some impulse that gradually gained headway and at last broke its bonds.

"For—I can help—I can help!" she cried out, turning to him in wild decision which seemed to plead for guidance. "It's so terrible—yet if it will hasten peace—I'll know much of the Browns' plan of defense! I know where they are strong in the first line and—and one place where they are weak—and a place where they are weak in the main line!"

"You do!" Westerling exploded. The plans of the enemy! The plans that neither Bouchard's astuteness nor bribes, nor spies could ascertain! It was like the bugle-call to the hunter. But he controlled himself. "Yes, yes!" he said thoughtfully and guardedly. "Do you think it is right to tell?"

Maria gasped half inarticulately.

"Right?—Yes, to hasten the inevitable—to save lives!" declared Westerling with deliberate assurance.

"I—I want to see an end of the killing!"—She sprang to her feet as if about to break away tumultuously, but paused, awing, unsteadily, and passed her hand across her eyes.

"We intend a general attack on the first line of defense tonight!" he explained, his supreme thought leaping into words.

"And you would want the information about the first line to-night if it is to be of service?"

"Yes, to-night!"

Maria brought her hands together in a tight clasp. Her gaze fluttered for a minute over the tea-table. When she looked up her eyes were calm.

"It is a big thing, isn't it?" she said. "A thing not to be done in an impulse. I try never to do big things in an impulse. When I see that I am in danger of it I always say: 'Go by your own mind and think for half an hour!' So I must now. In a little while I will let you know my decision."

Without further formality she started across the lawn to the terrace steps. Westerling watched her sharply, passing along the path of the second terrace, pacing slowly, head bent, until she was out of sight. Then he stood for a time getting a grip on his own emotions before he went into the house.

CHAPTER XV.

In Feller's Place.

What am I? What have I done? What am I about to do? What are the shadows over the hot-lava-dow of Maria? The vitality that Westerling had felt by suggestion from a still profile rejoiced in a quickening of pace directly she was out of sight of the veranda. All the thinking she had done that afternoon had been in pictures; some saying, some cry, some, groan, or some smile went with every picture.

The sitting-room of the tower was empty to other eyes but not to hers. The lantern was in the corner at hand. After her hasty steps had carried her along the tunnel to the telephone, she set down the lantern and pressed the spring that opened the panel door. Another moment and she would be in the sitting-room. That little ear-piece became a specter of conscience. She drew back convulsively and her hands flew to her face; she was a rocking shadow in the thin, reddish light of the lantern.

Conscious mind had torn off the mask from subconscious mind, revealing the true nature of the change that war had wrought in her. She who had resented Feller's part—what a part she had been playing! Every word, every shade of expression, every tell-tale confession that he had made for his own ends had been subtly prompted by a purpose whose actuality terrified her.

Her hypocrisy, she realized, was as black as the wall of darkness beyond the lantern's gleam. Then this generalization passed, as a nightmare passes, with Westerling's boast again in her ears.

When war's principles, enacted by men, were based on sinister trickery called strategy and tactics, should not women, using such weapons as they had, also fight for their homes? Maria's hands swept down from her eyes; she was on fire with resolution.

Forty miles away a bell in Lanstron's bedroom—at the time he and Partow were seated facing each other across a map on the table of the room where they worked together. No persuasion of the young chief, no edict of the doctors, could make the old chief take exercise or shorten his hours.

"I know, I know myself!" he said.

"I know my duty. And you are learning, my boy, learning!"

Every day the stubby cheeks grew pastier and the pouches under the eyes grew heavier. But there was no dimming of the eagle flashes of his eyes, no weakening of the will. Last night Lanstron had turned as white as chalk when Partow staggered on rising from the table, the veins on his temples knotted blue whip-cords. Yet after a few hours' sleep he reappeared with firm step, fresh for the fray.

The paraphernalia around these two was the same as that around Westerling. Only the atmosphere of the staff was different. Each man was performing the part set for him. No man knew much of any other man's part. Partow alone knew all, and Lanstron was trying to grasp all and praying that Partow's old body should still feed his mind with energy. Lanstron was thinner and paler, a new and glittering intensity in his eyes.

When word of Feller's defection came, Lanstron realized for the first time by Partow's manner that the old chief of staff, with all his depreciation of the telephone scheme as chimerical, had grounded a hope on it.

"There was the chance that we might know—so vital to the defense—what they were going to do before and after the attack," he said.

Yet the story of how Feller yielded to the temptation of the automatic had made the nostrils of the old war-horse quiver with a dramatic breath, and instead of the command of a battery of guns, which Lanstron had promised, the chief made it a battalion. He had drawn down his brows when he heard that Maria had asked that the wire be left intact; he had shot a shrewd, questioning glance at Lanstron and then bent a tattoo on the table and half grinned as he grumbled under his breath.

"She is afraid of being lonesome! No harm done!"

A week had passed since the Grays had taken the Galland house, and still no word from Maria. The ring of the bell brought Lanstron to his feet with a startled, boyish bound.

"Very springy, that tendon of Achilles!" muttered Partow. "And, my boy, take care, take care!" he called suddenly in his sonorous voice, as vast and billowy as his body.

It was Maria's voice and yet not Maria's, this voice that beat in nervous waves over the wire.

"Lanny—Yes, I, Lanny! You're right. Westerling planned to make war deliberately to satisfy his ambition. He told me so. The first general attack on the first line of defense is tonight. Westerling says so!" She had to pause for breath. "And, Lanny, I want to know some position of the Browns which is weak—not actually weak, maybe, but some position where the Grays expect terrible resistance and will not find it—where you will let them in!"

"In the name of—Marta! Marta, what?"

"I am going to fight for the Browns—for my home!"

In the sheer satisfaction of explaining herself to herself, of voicing her sentiments, she sent the pictures which had wrought the change moving across the screen before Lanstron's amazed vision. There was no room for interruption on his part; no question or need of one. The wire seemed to quiver with the militant tension of her spirit. It was Maria adame who was talking at the other end; not adame for him, but with a purpose that revealed all the latent strength of her personality and daring.

"I shall have to ask Partow. It's a pretty big thing."

"Yes—only that is not all my plan, my little plan. After you have taken the first line of defense—and they will get it, won't they?"

"Yes, we shall yield in the end, yield rather than suffer too great losses there, that will weaken the defense on the main line."

"Then I want to know where it is that you want Westerling to attack on the main line, so that we can get him to attack there. That—that will help, won't it?"

"Yes."

"Of course, all the while I shall be getting news from him—when I have proved my loyalty and have his complete confidence—and I'll telephone it to you. I am sure I can get something worth while with you to direct me. Don't you think so, Lanny? I'll hold the wire, Lanny. Ask Partow!" she concluded. Of the two she was the staidier.

"Well," said Partow, looking up at the sound of Lanstron's step. Then he half raised himself from his chair at sight of a Lanstron with eyes in a daze of brilliancy; a Lanstron with his maimed hand twitching in an outstretched gesture; a Lanstron in the dilemma of being at the same time lover and chief of intelligence. Should he let her make the sacrifice of everything that he held to be sacred to a woman's delicacy? Should he not return to the telephone and tell her that he would not permit her to play such a part? Partow's voice cut in on his demoralization with the sharpness of a blade.

"Well, what, man, what?" he demanded. He feared that the girl might be dead. Anything that could upset Lanstron in this fashion struck a chord of sympathy and apprehension.

Lanstron advanced to the table, pressed his hands on the edge, and, no master of himself, began an account of Maria's offer. Partow's formless arms lay inert on the table, his soft, pudgy fingers outspread on the map and his bulk settled deep in the chair, while his eagle eyes were seeing through Lanstron, through a mountain of thought, into the heart of the matter and a general on the veranda of an enemy's headquarters. The plan meant giving, giving in the hope of receiving much in return. Would he get the return?

"A woman was the ideal one for the task we intrusted to Feller," he mused. "A gentlewoman, big enough, adroit enough, with her soul in the work as no paid woman's could be! There seemed no such one in the world!"

"But to let her do it!" gasped Lanstron.

"It is her suggestion, not yours? She offers herself?"

"Entirely her suggestion," said Lanstron. "She offers herself for her country—for the cause for which our soldiers will give their lives by the thousands! It is a time of sacrifice."

Partow raised his arms. They were not formless as he brought them down with sledge-hammer force to the table.

"Your tendon of Achilles? My boy, she is your sword-arm!" His sturdy forefinger ran along the line of front of Lanstron.

"There was the chance that we might know—so vital to the defense—what they were going to do before and after the attack," he said.

Yet the story of how Feller yielded to the temptation of the automatic had made the nostrils of the old war-horse quiver with a dramatic breath, and instead of the command of a battery of guns, which Lanstron had promised, the chief made it a battalion. He had drawn down his brows when he heard that Maria had asked that the wire be left intact; he had shot a shrewd, questioning glance at Lanstron and then bent a tattoo on the table and half grinned as he grumbled under his breath.

"She is afraid of being lonesome! No harm done!"

A week had passed since the Grays had taken the Galland house, and still no word from Maria. The ring of the bell brought Lanstron to his feet with a startled, boyish bound.

"Very springy, that tendon of Achilles!" muttered Partow. "And, my boy, take care, take care!" he called suddenly in his sonorous voice, as vast and billowy as his body.

It was Maria's voice and yet not Maria's, this voice that beat in nervous waves over the wire.

"Lanny—Yes, I, Lanny! You're right. Westerling planned to make war deliberately to satisfy his ambition. He told me so. The first general attack on the first line of defense is tonight. Westerling says so!" She had to pause for breath. "And, Lanny, I want to know some position of the Browns which is weak—not actually weak, maybe, but some position where the Grays expect terrible resistance and will not find it—where you will let them in!"

"In the name of—Marta! Marta, what?"

"I am going to fight for the Browns—for my home!"

In the sheer satisfaction of explaining herself to herself, of voicing her sentiments, she sent the pictures which had wrought the change moving across the screen before Lanstron's amazed vision. There was no room for interruption on his part; no question or need of one. The wire seemed to quiver with the militant tension of her spirit. It was Maria adame who was talking at the other end; not adame for him, but with a purpose that revealed all the latent strength of her personality and daring.

"I shall have to ask Partow. It's a pretty big thing."

"Yes—only that is not all my plan, my little plan. After you have taken the first line of defense—and they will get it, won't they?"

"Yes, we shall yield in the end, yield rather than suffer too great losses there, that will weaken the defense on the main line."

"Then I want to know where it is that you want Westerling to attack on the main line, so that we can get him to attack there. That—that will help, won't it?"

"Yes."

"Of course, all the while I shall be getting news from him—when I have proved my loyalty and have his complete confidence—and I'll telephone it to you. I am sure I can get something worth while with you to direct me. Don't you think so, Lanny? I'll hold the wire, Lanny. Ask Partow!" she concluded. Of the two she was the staidier.

"Well," said Partow, looking up at the sound of Lanstron's step. Then he half raised himself from his chair at sight of a Lanstron with eyes in a daze of brilliancy; a Lanstron with his maimed hand twitching in an outstretched gesture; a Lanstron in the dilemma of being at the same time lover and chief of intelligence. Should he let her make the sacrifice of everything that he held to be sacred to a woman's delicacy? Should he not return to the telephone and tell her that he would not permit her to play such a part? Partow's voice cut in on his demoralization with the sharpness of a blade.

"Well, what, man, what?" he demanded. He feared that the girl might be dead. Anything that could upset Lanstron in this fashion struck a chord of sympathy and apprehension.

Lanstron advanced to the table, pressed his hands on the edge, and, no master of himself, began an account of Maria's offer. Partow's formless arms lay inert on the table, his soft, pudgy fingers outspread on the map and his bulk settled deep in the chair, while his eagle eyes were seeing through Lanstron, through a mountain of thought, into the heart of the matter and a general on the veranda of an enemy's headquarters. The plan meant giving, giving in the hope of receiving much in return. Would he get the return?

"A woman was the ideal one for the task we intrusted to Feller," he mused. "A gentlewoman, big enough, adroit enough, with her soul in the work as no paid woman's could be! There seemed no such one in the world!"

"But to let her do it!" gasped Lanstron.

"It is her suggestion, not yours? She offers herself?"

"Entirely her suggestion," said Lanstron. "She offers herself for her country—for the cause for which our soldiers will give their lives by the thousands! It is a time of sacrifice."

Partow raised his arms. They were not formless as he brought them down with sledge-hammer force to the table.

"Your tendon of Achilles? My boy, she is your sword-arm!" His sturdy forefinger ran along the line of front of Lanstron.

"There was the chance that we might know—so vital to the defense—what they were going to do before and after the attack," he said.

Yet the story of how Feller yielded to the temptation of the automatic had made the nostrils of the old war-horse quiver with a dramatic breath, and instead of the command of a battery of guns, which Lanstron had promised, the chief made it a battalion. He had drawn down his brows when he heard that Maria had asked that the wire be left intact; he had shot a shrewd, questioning glance at Lanstron and then bent a tattoo on the table and half grinned as he grumbled under his breath.

"She is afraid of being lonesome! No harm done!"

A week had passed since the Grays had taken the Galland house, and still no word from Maria. The ring of the bell brought Lanstron to his feet with a startled, boyish bound.

"Very springy, that tendon of Achilles!" muttered Partow. "And, my boy, take care, take care!" he called suddenly in his sonorous voice, as vast and billowy as his body.

It was Maria's voice and yet not Maria's, this voice that beat in nervous waves over the wire.

"Lanny—Yes, I, Lanny! You're right. Westerling planned to make war deliberately to satisfy his ambition. He told me so. The first general attack on the first line of defense is tonight. Westerling says so!" She had to pause for breath. "And, Lanny, I want to know some position of the Browns which is weak—not actually weak, maybe, but some position where the Grays expect terrible resistance and will not find it—where you will let them in!"

"In the name of—Marta! Marta, what?"

"I am going to fight for the Browns—for my home!"

In the sheer satisfaction of explaining herself to herself, of voicing her sentiments, she sent the pictures which had wrought the change moving across the screen before Lanstron's amazed vision. There was no room for interruption on his part; no question or need of one. The wire seemed to quiver with the militant tension of her spirit. It was Maria adame who was talking at the other end; not adame for him, but with a purpose that revealed all the latent strength of her personality and daring.

"I shall have to ask Partow. It's a pretty big thing."

"Yes—only that is not all my plan, my little plan. After you have taken the first line of defense—and they will get it, won't they?"

"Yes, we shall yield in the end, yield rather than suffer too great losses there, that will weaken the defense on the main line."

"Then I want to know where it is that you want Westerling to attack on the main line, so that we can get him to attack there. That—that will help, won't it?"

"Yes."

"Of course, all the while I shall be getting news from him—when I have proved my loyalty and have his complete confidence—and I'll telephone it to you. I am sure I can get something worth while with you to direct me. Don't you think so, Lanny? I'll hold the wire, Lanny. Ask Partow!" she concluded. Of the two she was the staidier.

"Well," said Partow, looking up at the sound of Lanstron's step. Then he half raised himself from his chair at sight of a Lanstron with eyes in a daze of brilliancy; a Lanstron with his maimed hand twitching in an outstretched gesture; a Lanstron in the dilemma of being at the same time lover and chief of intelligence. Should he let her make the sacrifice of everything that he held to be sacred to a woman's delicacy? Should he not return to the telephone and tell her that he would not permit her to play such a part? Partow's voice cut in on his demoralization with the sharpness of a blade.

"Well, what, man, what?" he demanded. He feared that the girl might be dead. Anything that could upset Lanstron in this fashion struck a chord of sympathy and apprehension.

Lanstron advanced to the table, pressed his hands on the edge, and, no master of himself, began an account of Maria's offer. Partow's formless arms lay inert on the table, his soft, pudgy fingers outspread on the map and his bulk settled deep in the chair, while his eagle eyes were seeing through Lanstron, through a mountain of thought, into the heart of the matter and a general on the veranda of an enemy's headquarters. The plan meant giving, giving in the hope of receiving much in return. Would he get the return?

"A woman was the ideal one for the task we intrusted to Feller," he mused. "A gentlewoman, big enough, adroit enough, with her soul in the work as no paid woman's could be! There seemed no such one in the world!"

"But to let her do it!" gasped Lanstron.

"It is her suggestion, not yours? She offers herself?"

"Entirely her suggestion," said Lanstron. "She offers herself for her country—for the cause for which our soldiers will give their lives by the thousands! It is a time of sacrifice."

Partow raised his arms. They were not formless as he brought them down with sledge-hammer force to the table.

"Your tendon of Achilles? My boy, she is your sword-arm!" His sturdy forefinger ran along the line of front of Lanstron.

"There was the chance that we might know—so vital to the defense—what they were going to do before and after the attack," he said.

Yet the story of how Feller yielded to the temptation of the automatic had made the nostrils of the old war-horse quiver with a dramatic breath, and instead of the command of a battery of guns, which Lanstron had promised, the chief made it a battalion. He had drawn down his brows when he heard that Maria had asked that the wire be left intact; he had shot a shrewd, questioning glance at Lanstron and then bent a tattoo on the table and half grinned as he grumbled under his breath.

"She is afraid of being lonesome! No harm done!"

A week had passed since the Grays had taken the Galland house, and still no word from Maria. The ring of the bell brought Lanstron to his feet with a startled, boyish bound.

"Very springy, that tendon of Achilles!" muttered Partow. "And, my boy, take care, take care!" he called suddenly in his sonorous voice, as vast and billowy as his body.

It was Maria's voice and yet not Maria's, this voice that beat in nervous waves over the wire.

THE MURRAY LEDGER

O. J. JENNINGS, EDITOR.

Published at the postoffice at Murray, Kentucky, for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

THURSDAY, MARCH 11, 1915

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Commonwealths Attorney

We are authorized to announce
Hon. JAMES H. ALLEN, of Hopkinsville, Ky.,
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney of the Third Judicial District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

We are authorized to announce
Hon. Denny E. Smith, of Cadiz, Ky.,
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney of the Third Judicial District
of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

For State Senator.

We are authorized to announce
Hon. SELDON H. GLENN, of Eddy-
ville, Ky.,
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from the Third Senatorial District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

For Circuit Court Clerk.

We are authorized to announce
T. C. (CONNER) NIX
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Circuit
Court of Calloway county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

We are authorized to announce
COLMAN W. ADAMS
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Democratic nomination for clerk of the circuit court of Calloway county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce
Hon. J. T. HANBERRY, of Hopkinsville, Ky.,
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for judge of the Third circuit court district of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

For Representative.

We are authorized to announce
T. RAFF JONES
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative from Calloway county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August, 1915.

WORD OF EXPLANATION

Possibly some of the Ledger readers and business men who have been approached to patronize the special edition of the Ledger to be issued about April 1st, do not yet quite understand its object and we would fully explain. The entire proceeds of the special edition becomes the property of the missionary society of the Methodist church, in other words, the Ledger is going to let the ladies of that organization "try their hand" at editing a paper for one week and every dollar they make belongs to them. That's pretty liberal upon our part, isn't it? Now you business men be liberal in your patronage. You get advertising space in that issue at the regular rates charged by this paper and this edition will be 5,000, and every business house in the county should be represented in the paper. You certainly can afford to spend a few dollars, receiving full value for every cent expended, if we can afford to give them all the profits of a week's issue of the paper. Mighty few of you fellows would turn the profits of your stores for one day over to a similar cause. The Ledger makes no claim that it is giving anything towards missions, either me or foreign, in doing this, but the "dear things" in charge are welcome to what they make and can spend every cent as they deem best.

If you have contracted for space get your copy in the office next week early if possible, and if you haven't given your order for space send it in today.

Try an ad in the Ledger.

It looks to us like mighty poor business for Trigg county to pay about $1,700 to help build piked roads in other counties, while our people are compelled to continue pulling through the mud. Cadiz Record.

Feel mighty sorry for you fellows over 'cross the river. Calloway is making preparations to get some of that Trigg county money to build roads with over here. If you fellows don't want it we will use it all. Try and make it $2,700 next year if possible, boys. Calloway is going to vote bonds and get out of the mud in a hurry, and we'd like for you fellows to be just as liberal as you possibly can. You know we get half of the money we vote in bonds back from the counties that do not use their own money. So be liberal with us.

Just a few folks felt disposed to compliment the Ledger upon the editorial published last week regarding tax evasion. That's funny, isn't it? But we can't refrain from wondering just how many wanted to say something nice but were just a little backward. We are not unmindful of the fact that when we toy with a fellow's pocket-book that we are skating upon dangerously thin ice, but Calloway needs the taxes hidden wealth is escaping, and if there is some way to secure it the Ledger is desirous of finding out the way. Just a few more little sermons stored away in our cranium upon the subject and they will be delivered in due season.

If Calloway's pious citizens give one tenth to the Lord upon the same basis that cash on deposits in Calloway banks is listed for taxation the Lord is certainly getting a raw deal.

No, Maude! The balls now used by the allies are not wooden. Cadiz Record.

Prithree, what kind are they?

Recommends Chamberlain's.

"I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my customers because I have confidence in it. I find that they are pleased with it and call for it when again in need of such a medicine," writes J. W. Sexson Montevallo, Mo. All dealers.

Guessing at Land.

In Christian county a man bought a tract of land supposed to contain 154 acres. Later he sold it to another man and when it was surveyed it was found to contain only 126 acres. Whereupon the purchaser turned around and sued for reimbursement for the 19 acres shortage and got judgement. The vendor paid over the money and now is suing the parties from whom he bought the land in order to get even on the transaction. It does not pay to guess at the number of acres in a tract of land. The purchaser who wants to be on the safe side should always call in a surveyor to do the guessing.

Dr. C. O. Gingles recently purchased the Tabors building adjoining the Adams barber shop on the east and has remodeled the interior and converted the building into one of the most desirable business houses in the business section.

Ah! The Invigorating Whiff of the Pine Forest.

How it clears the throat and of its mucous ailments. It is this spirit of newness and vigor from the health-giving Piney Forests brought back by Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Anti-septic and healing. Buy a bottle today. All druggists, 25c.

FRECKLES

February and March Worst Months For This Trouble—How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly every body freckles in February and March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little at night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if not no fails.

Knight News Items.

The ground was white with snow last Sunday morning.

Bro. Hanley filled his regular appointments at Mt. Carmel Saturday and Sunday. A large audience heard him. Prayer meeting also and singing at 3 o'clock Sunday conducted by T. F. Marr. People are busy in this section and tie making the order of the day.

W. A. Patterson has between three and four thousand ties on hand.

We have been with out a school trustee ever since Hosie Hodge moved to Lax about Christmas. We think Mr. Tim Moody would make a good one.

F. L. Bailey shipped a nice lot of hogs to Paducah Tuesday of last week. One escaped from him and swam the river going to Stewart county, staying all night but the next day about noon he swam back and was ready for his feed. Felix is figuring on starting a ferry with him.

We have commenced graveling the road from Mt. Carmel to Patterson's store. Everybody is going to help. Joe Abb wears a No. 10 and he will be used to pack the gravel as fast as it is spread.

We are all behind the Ledger in its fight for good roads and will vote for bonds. River Rat.

Are You Rheumatic?—Try Sloan's.

If you want quick and real relief from rheumatism, do what so many thousand other people are doing—whenever an attack comes on, bathe the sore muscle or joint with Sloan's Liniment. No use to rub it in—just apply the liniment to the surface. It goes right to the seat of trouble and draws the pain almost immediately. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c, of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, lumbago, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

Bargains for March

Pay Cash and Save Money

1 barrel half patent Flour	$.75
1 sack patent Flour	1.00
Dry Salt Meat	.09
10 lb bkt. Spow Drift Lard	1.00
5-lb bkt. Snow Drift Lard	.50
2 large cans Tomatoes	.15
1 small can Tomatoes	.05
4 cans Hominy	.25
2 pounds good Coffee	.25
Arbuckle Coffee	.20
Luzianne Coffee	.25
3 boxes Matches	.10
3 boxes Soda	.10
7 bars Soap	.25
7 boxes Celluloid Starch	.25
Navy Beans, per pound	.05
White Peas, per pound	.05
15 cent can Salmon	.10
6 pounds good Rice	.25
5 gallons Oil	.50

We are headquarters for feed. We will meet any prices, quality considered. Yours for business.

Broach & Fain

Located on the east side of the court square.

Money to Loan.

Applications received for loans from $100.00 to $10,000.00, on improved and unimproved town property and farm lands. Interest 8 per cent straight. Interest payable annually or semi-annually. Time: One to ten years. Applicants for loans will please give description, location and valuation of property offered as security for loan. State improvements and valuation of same.

We want county representatives to receive applications for loans, appraise property, and serve as our exclusive representative. Attorney or real estate man preferred. Applicants for loans and applicants for agencies positively required to furnish at least two character references and forward postage, five 2-cent stamps, for application blanks, full particulars, and prompt reply. Write Southern Office, Southeastern Mortgage Loan Association, Fourth Nat'l Bank Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 2254

Oliver Wells.

Monday evening about 6 o'clock at the Baraca reading room on North Poplar street, Dr. Orvis Wells and Miss Marietta Oliver were happily married, the ceremony being solemnized by Rev. R. C. McElroy.

The bride is a very attractive young woman and a daughter of Rev. Hugh Oliver, of the Shady Grove vicinity. She is also one of Henry county's most popular and efficient young teachers.

The groom is a prominent optometrist, of Murray, Ky., and has many friends who wish for him and his bride a long and happy wedded life. —Paris Post-Intelligencer.

State of Ohio, city of Toledo, ss.

Lucas county } ss.
Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.
FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December A. D. 1886.
(Seal) A. W. GLEASON,
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Large Land Deal.

Dr. T. J. Henslee has sold his large farm near Newberg, the tract known in that section as the upper Tennessee river farm, to R. B. Holland and W. T. Wilkerson. This is a tract of 500 acres and is one of the finest sections of land in the county. Dr. Henslee still owns considerable property around Newberg and in Trigg county.

Feed Out Your Hogs Six Weeks Earlier

In every lot of hogs on feed two or three fatten quickly and actually eat less than others. If all would fatten like these, the entire drove would be ready for the market six weeks earlier and to save six weeks feed is an item that you fully understand.

The hog that fattens easily must be in prime physical condition. The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder is a conditioner for hogs. Keeps their system clean and healthy and enables them to fatten quickly without falling a prey to the usual diseases. The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder is not stock food. It's straight medicine, and we took the agency because it enables you to feed out your hogs much earlier. —Sexton Bros.

Mules. Fifteen choice two year old mules for sale. They are priced to sell. Come and look them over before you buy. J. A. Futrell & Son, one mile east of Almo. 3112

Itch! Itch! Itch! Scratch! Scratch! The more you scratch, the worse the itch. Try Doan's Ointment. For eczema, any skin itching. 50c a box.

CAN YOU USE ANY OF THESE?

WE are going to give you the greatest ONE DAY BARGAIN FEAST that we have ever attempted to offer you. They are mostly clean-ups, but if you can use anything in this list You Can Make One Dollar do the Work of Two.

One lot of Ladies' Skirts that sold from $2.00 to $3.00; your choice of these Saturday	$1.00
One lot of Ladies' Skirts that sold from $3.50 to $5.00; your choice of the Saturday	2.00
Ten yards Hope Bleached Domestic; Saturday	.79
10 yards good 8 1-3 Bleached Domestic; Saturday	.69
Good heavy Shirting; Saturday	.07
One lot of Dress Silks that sold from 75c to $1.00 (carried stock) your choice of the lot Saturday, per yard	.39
25c Figured Poplins, all new stock; to clean up Saturday	12 1-2c
Choice of any Fall Hat in the house that sold up to $5.00; Saturday	$1.39
Choice of any Fall Hat in the house that sold up to $7.00; Saturday	1.98
One lot Ladies' 50c Neckwear; choice Saturday at half price
25c Figured Ratine; choice Saturday, the yard	.10
7 1-2c to 10c Embroideries; Saturday	.05
Full 68-inch Table Linen, new pattern, our 75c quality; we will offer one piece Saturday at only 59c the yard
7 1-2c Apron Gingham, fast colors; Saturday at only	.06
Full 36-inch Silk Messaline, our $1.00 quality, colors black, navy and new blue; Sat. only, at	.73

THERE will be many other good things in this sale that we have not the space to mention. Come and trade where your money will do its best. We can use all your Eggs. Yours to lead,

WADLINGTON & CO.

For its wonderful accuracy, its safety and convenience, and its effectiveness for small game and target shooting, you should buy

The Marlin 22 pump-action repeater has simple, quick mechanism and strong, safety construction. Has sensible, visible hammer. It takes down easily. You can look through the barrel—it cleans from both ends. Its Solid Steel Top protects your face and eyes against injury from defective cartridges, from shells, powder and gases. The Side Ejection throws shells away to the side—never across your line of sight. Handles all .22 short, .22 long and .22 long-rifle cartridges, including the hollow-point hunting cartridges. Accurate to 200 yards. A perfect gun for rabbits, squirrels, hawks, crows, etc.

Model 20, as illustrated, 24-inch octagon barrel, 15 or 25 shots, $11.50.
Model 29, 23-inch round barrel, 15 shots, $9.25.

Send 3c postage for complete catalog of all Marlin repeating rifles and shotguns.

The Marlin Firearms Co., 42 Willow St., New Haven, Conn.

DR. A. V. McREE
PHYSICIAN
Office in Farmers & Merchants Bank Bldg
MURRAY, KENTUCKY

O. H. Clopton
PHYSICIAN
BOTH PHONES
KIRKSEY, KENTUCKY

Cook & Erwin
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW
General Practice, State and Federal.
Office Upstairs Citizens Bank Building.

B. F. BERRY
DENTIST
Office Over Postoffice in Citizens Bank Building.
Both Phones 26

T. B. House
Physician and Osteopath
OFFICE: McDaniel House.
Comb. Phone No. 102.

Z. T. Conner, Jr., Jas. Broadbent, Sr., Jas. Allenworth
Conner, Broadbent & Allenworth
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW
Murray, Ky.
Office in Citizens Building.
PRACTICE IN ALL COURTS

LOCAL and PERSONAL

J. F. Myers has been appointed postmaster at Crossland.

Thos. H. Stokes and wife, of Cleveland, Tenn., were in the county several days during the past week the guest of relatives.

Robt. Whitnell, of Fulton, was in the city this week transacting business and the guest of his brother, W. L. Whitnell and family.

Have your Easter suit made to measure. Tailor made clothing at ready-made prices. $15, $18 and up.—T. J. Stubblefield, up stairs over Adams' barber shop.

Crip Coleman, colored, died last Friday night of consumption. He was one of the few negroes of the city that had many friends among the white people.

Josh Holt was given a trial before Judge Langston the past week on a charge of breaking jail and was fined $75 and thirty days at labor on the roads. He was remanded to jail in default of payment.

"Uncle Billy" Wilson died the past week at his home in Paris of the infirmities of age, being 84 years old. He was a prominent mason and an ex-confederate soldier. He was a half brother of Tobe Wilson, of Mayfield.

Mr. Irvan Dunn returned the past week from Wetumka, Ok., where he has been located the past two years engaged in the insurance real estate and loan business, and is now at his father's in the northwest part of the county. Mr. Dunn sold his business and will possibly remain in Calloway this summer.

J. H. Brown, merchant of Browns Grove, last week made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Mr. Brown has been engaged in business at that point for many years and has a wide circle of friends who would be glad to know that his condition was only temporary. The amount of his assets and liabilities are not given.

T. J. Stubblefield is the first dealer Murray ever had to offer made-to-measure suits, backed with a strong guarantee, at the low price of $15. He has a splendid line of samples to select from, and long experience in taking measures equips him to such an extent that he is able to guarantee every garment sold. Read his advertisement on page five of this paper.

The eighteen months old child of Lawrence Crutcher, who lives on the Poley Lassiter place near Pine Bluff, fell into an open fire Wednesday of this week and was burned to death. Mrs. Crutcher, who is a daughter of Mr. Lassiter, had gone out to get wood when the terrible accident occurred. She is grief stricken.

"GETS-IT" a Sure-Shot for All Corns

Use Two Drops — and They Vanish. When corns make you almost die with your boots on, when you try to walk on the edge of your shoes to try to get away from your corns, you're way behind time if you have not used "GETS-IT." It's the "Murder! Everybody Tries to Step on My Corn!" Use "GETS-IT" and You'll Have No Corns to Be Stepped On. Corns are of the century, the new way, the sure, painless, simple way. It makes a fellow really feel foolish after he's used toe-biting salves, corn-biting ointments, toe-binding bandages, blood-bringing razors, knives, files, scissors, jabbers and what-nots, when he uses just a drop of "GETS-IT" and sees his corn vanish. The difference is divine. Just try it if you won't wince when you put on your shoes in the morning. "GETS-IT" is sure, gets! any corn, callus, wart or bunion. "GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, in a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Murray and recommended as the world's best corn cure by Dr. P. Wear.

McElrath's Cash Store wants your egg Saturday.

Irvan Kirk, wife and daughter, of Paris, were in the city the first of the week the guests of her parents, E. S. Diuguid and wife.

Miss Gracie Hughes left this week for Benton, where she will have charge of the millinery department of the H. P. McElrath dry goods store.

Tailor made clothing, tailor-made shirts, tailored to fit YOU and satisfaction guaranteed.—T. J. Stubblefield, up stairs over Adams' barber shop.

Instead of moving to the new home he built just west of the city Clint Broach sold the property the past week to C. B. Fulton and purchased the Fields residence on South Curd street and has moved to it.

Mrs. Inez Sale and family have moved into the Wells residence on North Curd street recently vacated by Clint Broach. Mrs. Belcher has purchased the place vacated by Mrs. Sale and together with her brother, Ethan Irvan, are now occupying same.

Wadlington & Co. make announcement of a one day special sale through the columns of the Ledger this week and tempting prices are made on a large lot of splendid merchandise. This is a comparatively new firm in Murray but has built a splendid reputation for fair treatment and honest merchandise. Read their advertisement on page four.

Mr. Madox, the representative of the treasury department, who was in Murray recently to select a location for the proposed federal building, did not give out any information while here regarding the site he would recommend. The Schroeder lot on the southeast corner of the square and the Sidney Roberts residence site were the two locations considered. A selection will be made at an early date.

A new street lighting contract between the city and the City Light Co., was entered upon the first of the month. The service is considerably reduced, necessitated we are informed by lack of funds to pay the cost under the old contract or to meet the cost of a better service. About thirty lights were dispensed with, and the size of the greater number of the remaining lights considerably reduced.

"Big" Joe Erwin and Miss Agnes Dodd, of Benton, daughter of Louie Dodd, formerly of Hardin, were united in marriage last Saturday in Paris and have come to Murray to reside. Mr. Erwin is a Calloway boy and for the past few years has been playing semi-professional ball, being connected with the Paducah team of the Kittle league. He is a very popular young man and is a son of Simp Erwin, of Mayfield. His bride is a splendid young girl and is well known in Murray where she has often visited.

Mrs. A. M. Savage died at the hospital in this city last Monday morning of cancer of the stomach. She underwent an operation some several days previous and at the time her condition was considered serious but hopes were entertained that the operation would prove beneficial. Mrs. Savage was one of the most splendid women that ever lived in Murray and her friends were numbered by the legion. In sickness she was an angel of mercy and many of our people feel that to her is due much credit for many lives and health of scores of our citizens. The remains were shipped to the old home near Nashville, Tenn., for burial. Several children survive.

Best Treatment for Constipation.

"My daughter used Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation with good results and I can recommend them highly," writes B. Babin, Brushy, La. For sale by all dealers.

I want your eggs. Bring them in Saturday.—McElrath's Cash Store.

F. P. Stum, of Madisonville, Ky., was in the city several days the past week on business.

A. R. Copeland has been appointed postmaster at Dexter to succeed F. M. Ernstberger who resigned.

Tom Bell has returned to Murray from Independence, Kas., where he has been located the past several months.

Called meeting Murray lodge No. 105, F. & A. M., Sat. night, Mo. 20. Work in the third. All masons are urged to attend.

Misses Laura and Gladys Jones of Paris, were in Murray the past week the guests of their sister, Mrs. G. O. Gatlin, and friends.

Mrs. Inez Brown Sale came in the latter part of the past week from an extended trip through the west in the interest of a lyceum bureau.

Miss Ola Edwards has returned to her home in this city after spending the past few months in Bedford, Ky., where she has been engaged as a teacher in the public schools.

Miss Ruby Barnett left the past week for Independence, Kas., where she will accept a position in a Coca-Cola bottling works in which her father, N. B. Barnett, is interested.

Charlie Rogers died Wednesday morning at his home on the Lynn Grove road a few miles west of the city, after a prolonged illness of consumption. He was about 38 years of age and one of the splendid citizens of that section of the county. The burial took place in the Sinking Springs grave yard. A wife and children survive him.

W. W. Connel, of Indianapolis, Ind., general organizer for the Knights & Ladies of Honor, was in the city this week in conference with the local organizer, E. A. Robertson. The local lodge recently organized started with a splendid membership and is growing under the care of Mr. Robertson. This organization is one of the strongest fraternal orders doing business in this state and its benefits and fraternal features are equal to any.

The Cambridge Players come the opera house Saturday night of this week as the final number of the regular lyceum course given during the winter under the auspices of the Eastern Star. This company comprises four artists of rare talent and there is a treat in store for those who attend. The organization in charge of the lyceum course deserves a liberal patronage, and those who would spend an evening of enjoyment and instruction will not fail to attend.

Hazel Ingram, colored, was arrested last Saturday upon a warrant charging him with robbing the Overby & Cleaver store. He is the negro the Paris blood hounds "treed" in the basement of the court house the day following the robbery. Since he was placed in jail he has made a statement charging Marvin Ethridge and Grate Gardner, also colored, with the robbery of the express office some several weeks ago when several gallons of liquor were stolen. They were arrested and lodged in jail.

Dr. C. N. Tyree, county live stock inspector, is in receipt of notice from the state veterinarian, advising him that the entire state of Kentucky was placed under quarantine on account of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease in widely separated districts. Under the present quarantine stock can only be shipped to points within the state after having been thoroughly inspected and disinfected, and inter-state shipments are confined to only a few states of animals for immediate slaughter. This ruling also applies to mules and horses in many of the states.

Medical Society Elects Officers.

The regular monthly meeting of the Calloway County Medical Society was held in this city Wednesday of this week and was attended by the majority of the practitioners of the county. It was the annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the year, and resulted as follows:

E. B. Curd, president; J. V. Stark, vice-president; A. V. McRee, secretary and treasurer; W. G. Johnson, delegate to state association; W. H. Graves, W. Grubbs, and A. V. McRee, censors.

A Texas Wonder.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism, and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Send for Kentucky testimonials. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2996 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo. Sold by druggists.

Will Join Carnival Company.

The Murray band has closed a contract to make the season with a leading carnival company of the south and expect to leave here about the 27th of the present month for Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will join the company, going from there to Cleveland, Tenn., for the opening date. About ten members will comprise the band.

The boys are in fine trim and have devoted much time during the winter months to practice and feel fully competent to make good.

To the Housewife.

Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when it has a cold. If you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you'll find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effectual, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all dealers.

Kicked by Horse and Killed.

Virgil Bland, aged 15 years and a son of Tom Bland, of near Pottertown, was kicked by a horse last Saturday and died from the effects of the injuries received within a few hours. The young lad was well known and had many friends who were grieved to learn of his untimely death.

Why wear clothes made for just anybody when tailor-made clothes cost you no more? See my line at $15, $18 and up.—T. J. Stubblefield, up stairs over Adams' barber shop.

Highest market price for your eggs at McElrath's at all times.

Have you Catarrh?

Is nasal breathing impaired? Does your throat get husky or clogged? Modern science proves that these symptoms result from run-down health. Snuff and vapors are irritating and useless. The oil-ford in Scott's Emulsion will enrich and enliven the blood, aid nutrition and assist nature to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membrane. Shun Alcoholic mixtures and insist upon SCOTT'S.

If Your Business is in the Spending of an Income —

You may pay $100.00 for a Suit.

If Your Business is in the MAKING of an Income —

Then you are helped in two ways by ordering your clothes from me:

FIRST:
Saving Money

SECOND:
Good Appearance

A man's appearance goes for or against him in every walk of life, so if you want "Miss Prosperity" to kneel at your feet and smile up into your face, wear clothes Made for You.

Tailor-Made Clothes
—AT—
Ready-Made Prices

$15.00, $18.00 and up.

Select Your Easter Suit NOW.

Tailor-Made Clothing
Tailor-Made Shirts

T. J. STUBBLEFIELD

Upstairs Over Adams' Barber Shop.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO CLIMB THE STEPS.

White Leghorn Eggs.—Pure strain at 50c for setting of 15, at my residence.—Lee Rowlett, 2254<sup>1</sup> Murray.

For Sale.—Thoroughbred White China goose eggs, by R. T. Cathey. Call Cumb. 1344, R. F. D. No. 6. 342<sup>1</sup>

Eggs for Sale.—From pure strain Ringlet Barred Rocks, none better, 50c for 15.—T. J. Howard, Murray.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep sound and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price, $1.00

For baby's croup, Willie's daily cuts and bruises, mamma's sore throat, grandma's lameness—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. 25c and 50c.

For Sale.—Three head of stock one mare 15 years old, two mules 2 years old.—W. M. Bryant 3 miles west of Alma, six miles north of Murray. 2188

For Sale.—One brood mare, in foal; and one horse. Both good work animals and in good shape. One two horse wagon, nearly new. Apply to E. R. Cherry, Murray, Ky. 344<sup>1</sup>

S. C. Rhode Island Reds. None better; fresh from the Island. Eggs for sale at 50c for 17. Packed and crated $1.—Mrs. Frank Beaman, Murray, Ky. Rt. 1. Phone Ind. 285. 344<sup>1</sup>

S. C. Rhode Island Reds, none better, fresh from the Island. Eggs for sale, 50c for 17; packed and crated, $1.00.—Mrs. Frank Beaman, Murray, Ky., Rt. 1. Ind. Phone 285. 344<sup>1</sup>

A lazy liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weaken the whole system. Doan's Regulators (25c per box) act mildly on the liver and bowels. At all drug stores.

New Mill at Cherry.

We have installed a new grist and feed mill, and will grind every Wednesday and Saturday. Meal and feed for sale. Will pay 95c for good corn. Will appreciate a trial.—McAllister & Hendon. 2114<sup>1</sup>

No Use to Try to Wear Out Your Cold. It Will Wear You Out Instead.

Thousands keep on suffering coughs and colds through neglect and delay. Why make yourself an easy prey to serious ailments and epidemics as the result of a neglected cold? Coughs and colds sap your strength and vitality unless checked in the early stages. Dr. King's New Discovery is what you need—the first dose helps. Your head clears up, you breathe freely and you feel so much better. Buy a bottle to day and start taking at once.

The Delinquent Tax List.

There are about 300 or 400 persons who have not paid taxes and are reported delinquent. Their receipts are now in the hands of the several magistrates for collection. The names of all those who do not pay by April 1st will be published in both county papers. Now get busy, see your magistrate and pay your taxes if you don't want your name published as delinquent tax-payer. Adv. 343<sup>1</sup>

Greet the Heavy Atmosphere.

Nat Putman, who left a short time ago for Denver, Col., for his health, returned Tuesday night, and says the place was too high and the atmosphere was too heavy for him. We greet Mr. Putman a hearty welcome back to our city.—Hardin Enterprises.

OFFICIALS GIVEN HARD PROBLEM

QUARANTINE ORDERS ISSUED BY STATES VEXING TO DEPART-MENT OF AGRICULTURE.

THE LAWS ARE NOT UNIFORM

Farmers Aid in Banishing Foot and Mouth Disease and Department
Depend on Them

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky.—The department of agriculture has been handling a knotty problem in disseminating the various quarantine orders issued by different states negotiated by the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease. Under the federal quarantine orders no cattle sheep or hogs may be shipped out of this state, for other than immediate slaughter, into any of the states south of the line between Kentucky and Tennessee and into any state west of the Mississippi river. So many notices of quarantine have been received by the department of agriculture that it is almost impossible to tell where animals may be shipped until after communicating with authorities in the states to which the animals are destined.

The state of Pennsylvania prohibits animals from Kentucky to land or even pass through that state, except from counties heretofore known as "free counties in Kentucky," but which have been closed by the federal authorities as restricted territory. Tennessee permits nothing from Kentucky except for immediate slaughter, as do Indiana, Ohio, Maryland and Virginia. Many of the western states will not permit the shipment of animals from this state for even that purpose.

Looking to the modification of the federal quarantine the department of agriculture is endeavoring to clean up the state and, with the assistance of the farmers, hope to accomplish this before long. A great deal depends upon the farmers and the vigilance committees which have been appointed by the different farmers' organizations. The department of agriculture is depending upon their co-operation in placing Kentucky on the free list from foot and mouth disease.

18 Counties Fail to Ask State Aid.
Only five counties outside a group in the mountains have failed to ask for state aid in building roads this year. This was the last day upon which, under the act of 1914, levying a road tax of 5 cents, fiscal courts could apply for their portion of the state fund, and three notified Commissioner of Roads R. C. Terrell that they desired to come in, making a total of 102 out of 120 counties participating in the distribution this year. Henderson and Crittenden counties are the only two in Western Kentucky which did not apply. Henderson has to spend $10,000 on a tuberculosis sanatorium, and is short of funds for 1915. No other northern counties in the state neglected to apply, and only three, Green, Metcalfe and Cumberland, in the southern part are left out. Thirteen mountain counties, all in a group, failed to apply. They are: Powell, Wolfe, Perry, Floyd, Owsley, Breathitt, Wolfe, Perry, Floyd, Magoffin, Morgan, Knott and Pike.

Encouraged Over Situation.
J. W. Newman, state commissioner of agriculture, has returned from Henderson, where he attended the State Farmers' Institute, and announced that he would lay information before the grand jury against alleged violators of quarantine regulations imposed on account of the foot and mouth disease. He held a conference with Lorraine Mix, assistant commonwealth's attorney, and decided upon delaying action. Mr. Newman said he felt encouraged over the situation relative to the cattle plague in Jefferson, Bullitt and Oldham counties, but expressed fear that the end of the scourge is not yet in sight. He is fearful of possible outbreaks in other counties, and asserted that the situation could bear close watching for some time to come.

Monthly Statement Issued.
The balance in the state treasury at the close of business February 27 was $673,349.01, as follows: General expenditures funds, $325,052.22; school fund, $211,503.77; sinking fund, $113,820.62; State University 1/2-cent fund, $19,962.40; outstanding warrants, $2,458,627.91; outstanding warrants February 1, $1,592,548.77.

Applied to State.
The city of Richmond has applied to the State Tuberculosis Commission for a district nurse. Funds have been raised for paying the nurse's expenses and one will be appointed.

Go Into Receivership.
Liabilities $100,000 in excess of assets are shown in a voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed in the Federal Court by the Mattingly & Moore Distillery Co. and the F. W. Walker & Co. operating large distilling properties in Nelson county. The companies are among the oldest in the state and were under the management of and ownership of the Edelen interests. About two months ago these concerns were found to have issued duplicated warehouse receipts which were posted on loans as collateral.

Trachoma in Eastern Kentucky.

The United States Public Health Service estimates that 33,000 cases of trachoma exist in the mountain section of Kentucky alone, according to a report issued. Seven counties in 1914 showed 12 1/2 per cent of the population to be suffering from this communicable eye disease, formerly considered as a foreign ailment not existing to any extent in the United States. This discovery led the Public Health Service to make further studies of the prevalence of the disease and in a recent survey of twenty-three counties, 15,616 persons were examined of whom 1,280 or over 7 per cent, were found afflicted with this mutilating eye disease. In some of these counties the percentage found infected was as high as 26.4 per cent, while in others it fell to 3 per cent. The majority of those examined were school children and the findings may be taken as representing fairly accurate conditions among adults. Almost all of those examined were whites, as the negro population is very small in the mountain section of Kentucky. So much as the bulk of the population in these counties comes from old American stock, foreign immigration can not be blamed for the prevalence of the disease. The Public Health Service regards its estimates of 33,000 cases in 25 mountain counties as conservative, though approximate, and has established hospitals at various points for the treatment of the disease and the education of the general public as to the means of its prevention. Trachoma undoubtedly exists in many other places in this country. It is certainly widespread among the Indian tribes and the Public Health Service is endeavoring to eradicate the disease and prevent its spread.

Building Associations To Meet.

During May the Kentucky State League of Local Building and Loan associations will hold its annual meeting in Louisville. Out of a total of 110 associations in the state to be affiliated with the league and will have representatives at the Louisville convention. Although Kentucky ranks 12th in the number and size of its building and loan associations, there being nine in Louisville and Jefferson county alone, the state is one of 20 which is not a member of the United States League of Local Building and Loan associations, which has more than 3,000,000 members in its 6,500 societies. At the meeting here the question of applying for membership in the United States League will be considered. Preparations for the entertainment of the State League are in the hands of a committee headed by Thos. A. Barker, of Louisville, attorney for the Avery Building and Loan association, the largest in Kentucky. Mr. Barker is first vice president of the Kentucky League. Plans are being formulated to secure as speakers on the program men of national prominence.

Liability of Owners of Infected Hogs.

Under Section 62 of the Kentucky Statutes, which makes the owner civilly liable for damages to any person whose stock is infected by reason of his allowing his cholera-infected hogs to leave an inclosure or go upon the highways, damages can not be recovered unless knowledge on the part of the owner of the diseased stock is averred and shown, said the court of appeals, affirming the Bath circuit court in an opinion by Commissioner Clay in the case of Wes. Alfred against Isaac Shouse and John C. Craig. Alfred alleged that Shouse and Craig drove 90 hogs infected with cholera on the highway and on to his place, infecting his hogs, for which he asked $500 damages. The Bath circuit court sustained a demurrer to his petition, because he did not allege knowledge on the part of the owners.

Cost of Comfort.

Efforts of L. E. Floyd, construction foreman for the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific, to drive mosquitoes out of the "box" cars of the crew at Lexington, resulted in the loss of Alvin Padgett's leg and a verdict for $5,000 damages against Floyd and the railroad in the Lincoln circuit court of appeals in an opinion by Judge Settle. A stick of dynamite had been carelessly dropped in a bucket of pitch, which was used for driving mosquitoes out of his car. He was informed of the presence of dynamite and threw the bucket out of the car. Padgett happened by just as the explosion occurred. Pargett recovered $7,500 damages at his first trial. A retrial was granted the railroad and the last one resulted in a verdict for $5,000.

Date is Set for Hearing.

The State Railroad Commission has set March 12 as the date for hearing the petition of the Clear Springs Distillery Co., which is seeking to be included in the Greenbrier Distillery Case. The Greenbrier Distillery is seeking restitution from the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co.

$12,000 for Good Roads.

The Fiscal Court of Livingston county appropriated $12,000 for road work under the new road law, and made application for state aid. For several days a campaign was made resulting in favor of good roads. Every man in the county is expected to contribute enough to bring back the state aid. And four out of seven voted for $12,000. There is more good roads sentiment in this county now than ever before.

COOKS MUCH RICE AT ONCE

Housekeeper Recommends Her Way
as Time Saving and Making for Economy.

In winter, owing to the low temperature, I cook a large supply of rice at one time, as much as four cupfuls. The wholemeal cooking saves fuel and enables me to have a constant supply on hand, which I use in the following way:
Some I use as a side dish with meat instead of potatoes, for I find it is cheaper and more nourishing, pound for pound, being in addition much easier to prepare. While the rice is still hot, I line a ring mold with about one cupful of it, and set away to shape and cool. At the same time, I set aside in a small pan enough for a small pudding on the following day and another portion I beat with eggs and at once shape as rice cakes for breakfast. Sometimes I save a portion to be used with croquettes. I serve the ring of rice with leftovers of any kind of meat, heated with a warm rich gravy, filled into the center of the ring, which makes a substantial second meal. Sometimes I combine it with a cheese sauce. Exchange.

SOUP LIKED BY JAPANESE

Has Fish as Foundation, but the Other Ingredients Are Many and Varied.

Procure a head of salmon or bass and place in a saucepan with a sliced carrot, a sliced onion, two branches of celery, two branches of parsley, one bay leaf, a sprig of thyme and a clove. Moisten with three quarters of a cup of water. Season with two teaspoonsful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper, one teaspoonful of curry powder and gently boil one and a half hours. Strain the soup through a cheesecloth into another saucepan, add three ounces of raw rice and gently boil 15 minutes. Pile up chop one branch of parsley and one small onion. Add to the soup, lightly mix and boil five minutes longer. Remove the skin and bone from a pound of fresh halibut, then cut in half-inch square pieces, add to soup and simmer 15 minutes. Dilute an egg yolk with half a cupful of cream and the juice of half a round lemon. Add to soup, carefully mix with wooden spoon when cooking two minutes but do not allow to boil.

In Making Salad.

If you take the heart of lettuce or the Romaine lettuce cut it into halves if it is small and quarter it if large. Wash the leaves well and dry with a cloth. There are twenty or more attractive salads, according to the way you combine fruits or vegetables. Though there are not the same number of dressings, there are a number made by adding different ingredients to the ordinary dressings. The best known and most popular of these are French dressing, mayonnaise, thousand island and Roquefort cheese. The simplest of these salads is the hearts of lettuce with thousand island dressing, or the Roquefort cheese dressing. The Romaine salad is good either with the French dressing or with the Roquefort cheese dressing.

Guinea Fowl Breasts Bearnaise.

Take the breasts from the bones and remove the skin of small guinea fowls, dust with salt and pepper and place in a buttered pan; cover with a buttered paper and bake for 15 minutes. Remove the paper, pour over them a little melted butter, finish cooking until they are slightly browned. Place each one on a piece of toast, cover with a very thin slice of boiled ham, pour over each a spoonful of bearnaise sauce and garnish the dish with artichoke fonds and small sweet red peppers, the fonds filled with asparagus tips and the peppers filled with chopped mushrooms.

Cream Puffs.

They are very nice and not very expensive. One cupful boiling water, butter size of egg. Melt in water. While boiling stir in one cupful stirred flour, stir thoroughly. When cool stir in two eggs, one at a time unbeaten, and a pinch of soda size of pea. Beat well and drop in tin far enough apart so they will not touch while baking. Bake in very hot oven. Makes nine puffs. Filling: One cupful milk, one egg, one teaspoonful flour or cornstarch, and sugar to taste. Flavor with vanilla.

Beans Spanish.

Soak overnight two cupfuls of pink beans, then boil them until tender. Boil three sweet red peppers and put them through a sieve. Fry three slices of bacon until brown, then add the pepper pulp and one green pepper that has been minced fine and one shredded onion. Then put in the beans, adding plenty of juice, a little salt and some grated cheese. Cook together thoroughly.

Poached Eggs.

Put some water in saucepan to boil, add a pinch of salt and a little vinegar; let it boil very hard. Break eggs on to a plate one at a time and drop them into the boiling water exactly where it bubbles. Take eggs out with a skimmer and trim them nicely, although there should be no trimming necessary if properly done. Place each egg on a piece of toast and serve while hot.

Dry-Cured Hams.

For one hundred pounds of meat take four pounds of fine salt, four ounces of saltpeter and one pound of brown sugar, mix well, and rub the hams with the mixture every other day until all is absorbed.

THIS SOLID GOLD-SHELL INITIAL RING GIVEN TO YOU

This solid gold-shell initial ring given to you

Cut out the coupon now and mail today

This wonderful introductory offer closes April 15, 1915. Send the coupon below today with a signature from a one-pound package of Arbuckle's Arosia or Arbuckle's Ground Coffee, and you will receive, in flavor and aroma, with the coffee you now serve. Learn why more Arbuckle's Arosia and Arbuckle's Ground Coffee is sold than any other packaged coffee.

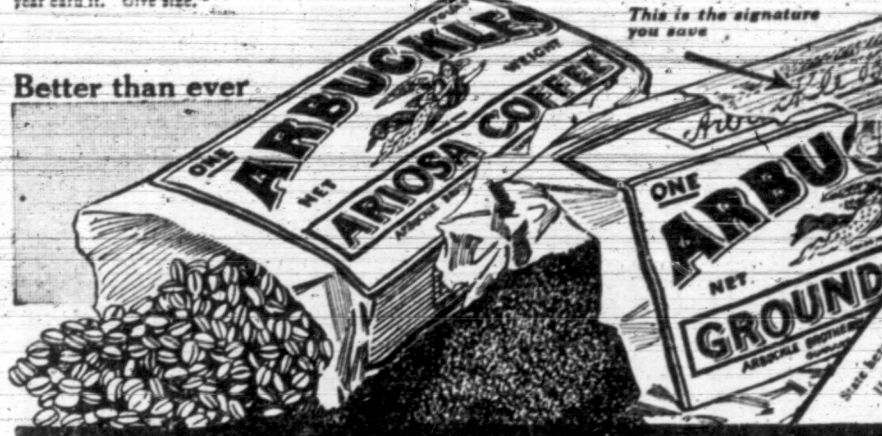

Get one of these beautiful initial rings with any letter that you may desire placed on the heart. Its value is remarkable. It is an absolutely solid gold-shell ring (not a washed or electro-plated ring) and we guarantee it to give excellent wear. If it does not, it will be cheerfully exchanged at once, without a question. You could not get a better guarantee if you paid many times the price.

How to determine the size you want. This ring is offered in sizes from 1 to 10. Be sure to give the ring size and initial desired. (Only one on each ring.) To determine the size you need, cut a strip of thick paper so that the ends will exactly meet when drawn lightly around the second joint of the finger. Then lay one end of the strip at one of the diagrams (shown below) and order the size the other end indicates.

Mail the coupon with the signature and 10 cents to Arbuckle Bros., 715, Water Street, New York City

Other wonderful rings you can get

No. 226, Wedding Ring. No. 228, Baby Ring. No. 222, Fancy Band. No. 227, Heart Ring. Mail the coupon below with nine Arbuckle signatures and a 2-cent stamp. This solid gold-shell ring is in good weight, and wears like gold. It is one of our most "Baby" emblems. Popular presents. Tens of thousands of men and women every year catch it. Give size.

Unchivalrous.
Two farmers, attired in corduroys and galsters, were strolling through a picture gallery, where they looked, and apparently felt, decidedly out of place. But at last they brought up before a picture which really seemed to please them—a portrait of a lovely girl with a particularly ugly bulldog.

"What is it called?"
Dick referred to the catalogue.
"Beauty and the Beast," he said.
The other man looked closer at the bulldog.
"Ah!" he sighed, appreciatively, "he is a beauty, too!"—London Tit-Bits

NEGLECT YOUR SCALP

And Lose Your Hair. Cuticura Prevents It. Trial Free.

Cuticura—Soap—shampoos—cleanses and purifies the scalp of dandruff while the Ointment soothes and heals the irritated scalp skin. Dandruff and itching are hair destroyers. Get acquainted with these super-eminent emollients for the skin and scalp.

Sample each free by mail with Book. Address postcard, Cuticura, Dept. XY, Boston. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Never marry a jealous woman. A woman who is jealous is almost as bad as one who isn't.

All men may be born equal, but they get over it before they die.

Nerve and ability work in the same direction—but nerve usually gets there first.—Macon Telegraph

W. L. DOUGLAS

MEN'S $2.50 '3 $2.50 '4.00 '4.50 '5 $5.50 SHOES

WOMEN'S $2.00 $2.50 $3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

BOYS' $1.75 '2 $2.50 '3.00 MISSES' $2.00 & $2.50

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY BY WEARING W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES

W. L. Douglas shoes are made of the best domestic and imported leathers, on the latest models, carefully constructed by the finest expert last and pattern makers in this country. No other make of equal price, can compete with W. L. Douglas shoes for style, workmanship and quality. As comfortable, easy walking shoes they are unsurpassed.

The $2.00, $2.50 and $4.00 shoes will give as good service as other makes costing $4.00 to $5.00. The $2.50, $3.00 and $5.50 shoes compare favorably with other makes costing $5.00 to $6.00. Whenever you live there are many men and women wearing W. L. Douglas shoes. Consult them, and they will tell you that W. L. Douglas shoes cannot be excelled for the price.

If you could visit the W. L. Douglas factory at Brockton, Mass., and see how carefully the shoes are made, you would then understand why they look and fit better, hold their shape and wear longer than other makes for the price.

If your dealer cannot supply you, write for Illustrated Catalog showing how to order by mail. W. L. Douglas, 210 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

Beware of Substitutes

To Club Raisers

How to get 15 signatures free and do your friends a favor

Send the coupon below, with one signature and 10c in stamps or coin, and we will send you at once one of these beautiful initial solid gold-shell rings. This will be your ring. Use it to show your friends what a remarkable offer this is. Get five of them (not already using Arbuckle's Coffee) to take advantage of this offer, just as you have. We will mail each of your friends direct the beautiful ring, when you send us the money and signatures for the five rings.

For doing this year you will earn 15 signatures free. When we send you your ring, we will send a special blank, giving full and clear instructions as to what you have to do to get these 15 signatures free. At the same time, we will send you our beautiful new catalog, showing the wide choice of wonderful gifts you can get for 15 signatures.

Then you can advise us what you want for the 15 Arbuckle signatures that you get free; or, if you so desire, we will mail you a credit for the 15 signatures, which you can count with signatures cut from our coffee packages for articles which require a greater quantity.

Mail the coupon now, with one Arbuckle signature and 10c

THE HANFORD BROS. CO. 715, Water Street, New York City. With this coupon 10 cents and one signature from Arbuckle Coffee and send me the above.

The Heated Kind.

"You say he's a famous German air man?"
"Yes."
"An aeroplane expert, eh?"
"No. He has charge of a publicity bureau."

A man with horse sense is the hard set—drive.

To Cleanse Rusty Nail Wounds

Always Get It to the Bottom

HANFORD'S

Balsam of Myrrh

For Galls, Wires, Cuts, Lameness, Strains, Bunches, Thrush, Old Sores, Nail Wounds, Foot Rot, Fistula, Bleeding, Etc. Etc.

Made Since 1846. Ask Anybody About It.

Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 OR WHITE

All Dealers O. C. Hanford Mfg. Co. SYRACUSE, N. Y.

CAUTION!

When buying W. L. Douglas shoes look for his NAME AND PRICE stamped on the bottom of the shoe. The shoe stamped are always worth the price paid for them. For 22 years W. L. Douglas has protected the wearer against cheap imitations by having his NAME AND PRICE stamped on the bottom of every shoe he makes. If you buy a shoe without the name and price stamped on the bottom, you are buying a cheap imitation and are not getting the best.

W. L. Douglas shoes are sold through 60 stores in the large cities and shoe dealers everywhere.

Rudy & Sons

Spring Opening

Thursday and Friday

March Seventeenth, --- Eighteenth.

You are cordially invited to attend the "Spring Fashion Show," and especially invited to attend our Spring Opening, during this Show on above date.

IN OUR READY-TO-WEAR DEPARTMENT ---

MISS WEAVER and MR. GLENN, of the
"STUDIO De DANCE" (Louisville)

Will dance all the newest Fancy, and Modern Dances. Miss Weaver, modeling during her dances our Ready-to-Wear Suits, Dresses and Hats.

A. M., 10:30 to 12:00 P. M., 3:00 to 5:00

RURAL CARRIERS WIN THEIR FIGHT

Washington, March 6.—The only employees of the postoffice department affected by the third session of sixty-third congress were rural carriers and letter carriers who have been demoted.

The rural carriers won their fight to secure a standardized route plan with a fixed pay basis. The new standard route of twenty-four miles pays $1,200 a year, regardless of the amount of mail carried. The second session legislated that rural carriers be paid "not over $1,200 on the standard route." The postoffice department took advantage of this phase to classify the routes with salaries based on length of routes and amount of mail carried. Under the action carriers get their salary if they travel the routes, regardless of the volume of mail.

The compensation of each rural letter carrier for serving a route of twenty-four miles and over, six days in the week, is made $1,200 per annum, payable monthly; on routes twenty-two miles and less, that twenty-four miles, $1,152; on routes twenty miles and less than twenty-two miles, $1,080; on routes eighteen miles and less than 20 miles, $950; on routes sixteen miles and less than eighteen miles, $840; on routes fourteen miles and less than sixteen, $720; on routes twelve miles and less than fourteen miles, $672; on routes ten miles and less than twelve miles, $624; on routes eight miles and less than ten miles, $576; on routes six miles and less than eight, $528; on routes four miles and less than six miles, $480.

After a man graduates he remembers all the things he learned at college except the things he learned out of books.

COOPER ENDORSES Y. M. C. A. WORK

Well Known Man Becomes More Thoroughly Identified With Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., March 11.—L. T. Cooper, the philanthropist who electrified Lexington by furnishing, at his own personal expense, the bread that is used in the Orphans' Homes in that city, who established a "Bread Line" for the indigent poor, and who is conducting an agricultural exposition to encourage the farmers, whom he considers the bone and sinew of the land, became more thoroughly identified with Lexington in particular, and Central Kentucky in general, when he became a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Mr. Cooper was waited upon by a delegation of some of Lexington's best known young men and invited to join the local Y. M. C. A. Mr. Cooper, a native Kentuckian, not only accepted the invitation to become a member, but he endorsed the work of one of Lexington's most deserving and commendable institutions.

The demand for Tanlac, the remarkable medicine that is now being introduced by Mr. Cooper to prove his theories on health, is now the biggest thing of its kind ever seen in this section. The preparation is accomplishing a powerful amount of good among the thousands who suffer from catarrh, stomach, liver and kidney complaints as well as rheumatism.

Hundreds of those who have actually used Tanlac talk enthusiastically about the astonishing results they obtained from the medicine.

Peter Geiser, living at 412 Clifton Avenue, Lexington, said: "While I haven't used an entire bottle of Tanlac so far, yet I consider it the most wonderful medicine I have ever seen. I suffer for years with stomach and kidney trouble. I also had headaches, indigestion, and attacks of rheumatism."

"My troubles have all disappeared, and I can trace my remarkable improvement to no other cause than Tanlac. It is fine."

Tanlac can now be obtained in Murray from Dale & Stubblefield.

LIV-VER-LAX

All the Effectiveness, Not the Effect of Calomel.

LIV-VER-LAX is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years. For a long time medical experts, realizing the harmful effects of calomel, have been striving to find a liver cleanser that would be just as effective as calomel, and yet be absolutely harmless in its action. Recently this remedy was actually put forth by L. K. Grigsby, in his LIV-VER-LAX.

LIV-VER-LAX is a harmless vegetable compound, designed solely for the treatment of liver complaints. The immediate favor it has met with in thousands of homes is proof positive of its real value.

If you feel worn out, tongue coated, and skin sallow, don't delay until it becomes dangerous nip the trouble in the bud with LIV-VER-LAX. Insist on the genuine, bearing the signature and likeness of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by druggists.

The old-fashioned boy who used to come home after school and do the chores now has a gun whose tango lessons lasts from the time school gets out until he gets good and ready to come home.

TWO NEW NAMES ARE PRESENTED

The Ledger this week presents the candidacy of Mr. L. C. Trevathan for the office of clerk of the Calloway Circuit Court. Mr. Trevathan is not a stranger to the people of the county, having been a teacher in the schools and otherwise engaged in business pursuits, bringing him in contact with many people. He is a native of the county and splendidly qualified to care for the duties of the office. He makes a strong appeal to the voters in the following card:

Friends and Fellow Citizens of Calloway County:

After having been strongly solicited by my friends in all parts of the county and having given the subject a very careful consideration, I have decided to announce myself as a candidate for circuit court clerk, subject to the action of the democratic party in a primary election to be held August 7, 1915.

Many of you will doubtless remember that two years ago I made the race for county clerk but went down with many other good men in defeat, but no one can say that I have ever murmured or complained at the verdict of the majority of the voters of the county. But when the nominees were named I declared myself in favor of them and supported each and every one of them in the November election.

Now I come to you again and ask for your votes, not that you owe me anything, or to gratify any cherished ambition of mine but pleading my own merits and qualifications for the position.

If after an investigation of my past life you believe that I am honest and that I am qualified, then vote for me and if I am elected I promise you that no effort on my part will be spared to make you a capable, efficient clerk. I was born and reared on a farm in this county and am familiar with the toils and hardships of the farmer. I have labored twelve years in the public schools of the county and I want to make a special appeal to the teachers to help me. Even the slightest favor will not be forgotten by me.

It is but natural and right that we should all try to better our condition in life. Therefore as this a better job than I have ever held in my life and being a poor man I am making this special plea for your help.

As to politics I have always been a democrat. I hope to make a thorough canvass of the county, to see every voter and present my claims.

Thanking you for all favors granted me in the past I beg to remain, Your friend, L. C. TREVATHAN.

Mr. H. Walk Grogan, possibly as well known as any resident of the county, makes his formal entry into the race for the office of circuit court clerk. Mr. Grogan served many years ago as county assessor and was later in one of the closest races ever made in the county for county court clerk. He has made many friends who will gladly support him in his present aspirations.

Bothered by Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Head or Chest Colds?

Try the "Vap-O-Rub" Treatment. Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Stomach Dosing.

No need to disturb your stomach with internal medicines for these troubles. Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve, combined by a special process—Menthol, Thymol, Eucalyptol, Camphor and Pine Tar, so that when applied to the heat of the body, these ingredients are released in the form of vapors. These soothing, medicated vapors are inhaled all night long through the air passages to the lungs, loosening the phlegm, soothing the inflamed membrane, and aiding the body cells to drive out the invading germs.

In addition, Vick's is absorbed through the pores, reducing the inflammation and taking out that tightness and soreness.

25c, 50c, or $1.00. At all druggists.

VAPORUB
this Trade Mark

VICK'S Group and SALVE

For the past two or three years Mr. Grogan has been quite seriously afflicted with rheumatism, incapacitating him for any manual labor, but regardless he expects to make a thorough canvass of the county and personally appeal to as many voters as possible for their support. He briefly presents his candidacy in the following card:

To the voters of Calloway county: I am a candidate for circuit court clerk, subject to the will of the democratic party to be expressed in the primary election August 7, 1915. My party loyalty, my availability as a candidate, my conduct as a private citizen, are respectfully submitted for investigation and consideration. I was elected in 1889 and filed the unexpired term of George Russell of three years as tax assessor; then in 1892, Galen Miller, David Dees and myself made the race for county clerk and there was only thirteen votes between the foremost and hindmost man, a vote I shall ever be proud of. In presenting to you my candidacy I do so with at least some little degree of embarrassment as I have always felt rather independent so far as making a living was concerned; but being afflicted as I am now, and have been for two years and not able to do any kind of farm labor it forces me to depend, to some extent, upon someone else for a support. Therefore, I feel like that if the people of Calloway county will give me the office of circuit court clerk it will place me where I can earn my own living and also place me where I can take better care of myself and may be regain my health. I feel that I am fully qualified to discharge the duties of the office and I assure you that I would not ask for any office if I was able to work on the farm. There is no one that could be more thankful for your vote and influence than myself.

H. WALK GROGAN.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Murray.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of evidence of their worth.

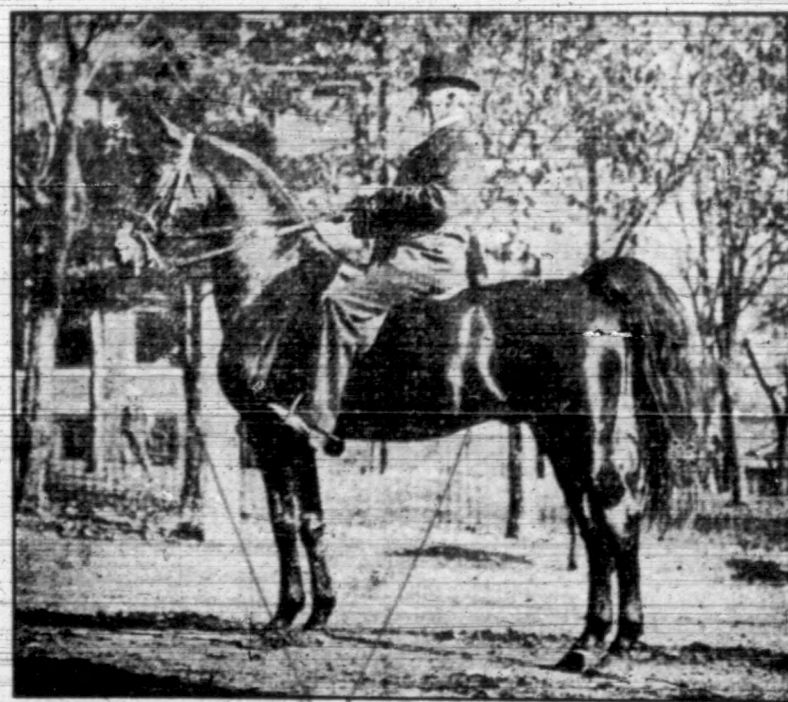

Mrs. J. S. Grosheart, 1231 Jackson St., Paducah, Ky., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family off and on and would not be without them. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of backache and other symptoms of weak kidneys a long time ago and there has never been a sign of the trouble since. Another of the family who does very hard work used Doan's Kidney Pills and thinks there is no other medicine in existence that can compare with them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Grosheart had.—Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Health Promotes Happiness.

Without health, genuine joy is impossible; without good digestion and regular bowel movement you cannot have health. Why neglect keeping bowels open and risk being sick and ailing? You don't have to. Take one small Dr. King's New Life Pill at night, in the morning you will have a full, free bowel movement and feel much better. Helps your appetite and digestion. Try one tonight.

Ledger $1 a year.—Worth $10.

ARTIST CHARMER 2391

This fine registered saddle stallion will make the season at my stable, 6 miles west of Murray, at $10. He never made the season for less than $25 before I purchased him. He and his colts have won more premiums at our county fairs than all the others combined.

MORTGAGE LIFTER 24110 This fine registered jack will be four years old next August. He is of good size, black with white points. He will make the season at $8.

BLACK JOE, JR. This jack will be at $6. I insure all colts eight days old from any of the above stock.

I have spent several hundred dollars for registered horses, jacks, cattle, hogs and sheep. My neighbors and friends helped me pay for them by patronizing them. That is why I can put them at this price. Breed to the best as the best is none too good. For Pedigrees Write to

I. T. Crawford, Lynn Grove, Ky.

A Draft—You Catch Cold—Then Follows

Coughs, Cold Stiff Neck Neuralgia

Especially in the piercing pain of neuralgia or the dull throb of headache is Sloan's Liniment wonderfully relieving. Laid lightly on the part where the pain is felt, it gives at once a feeling of comfort and ease that is most welcome to the overwrought sufferer.

Hear What Others Say:

"There are no Liniments that equal Sloan's. My husband has neuralgia very often, he rubs Sloan's on his face and that is the last of it."—Mrs. V. J. Brown, Route 1, Box 151, Hall, Tenn.

"I have used Sloan's Liniment for family use for years and would not be without it. We have raised a family of six children and have used it for croup and all lung trouble; also, as an antiseptic for wounds, of which children have a great many, it can't be beat. My wife sprained her ankle last summer and it was in bad shape. Sloan's Liniment applied enabled her to be as good as ever in a week. I have used it several times for sprains and rheumatism."—John Neuman, R. R. No. 2, Kenton, Iowa.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

It works like magic, relieving Lumbago, Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises. No rubbing—just lay it on. Price 25c. All dealers. Send four cents in stamps for TRIAL BOTTLE. Sent to any address in the U.S.

DR. EARL S. SLOAN, Inc. Dept. B, Philadelphia, Pa.